INDIANS MEET CRUSADERS ON CARY FIELD TOMORROW

Holy Cross Holders Intercollegiate Title

William and Mary Expects to Put Up Fight Against Northern Opponent; Broke Even Last Year, Defeating Them on Their Home Field, 11-8.

With a very good record behind them in their opening games, the Indian nine are expecting a hard game with Holy Cross here tomorrow afternoon. The Indians have scored two victories, one tie and two defeats thus far, while Holy Cross has played only one game, with Randolph-Macon, and their southern tour, marking the beginning of their season.

It will be remembered that the Crusaders won one game from William and Mary last year by the score of 6-2. Later the Indians evened matters by decisively defeating the Holy Cross aggregation 11-8. As a result, both teams will probably be on edge to make up for their respective defeats, and an unusually tight contest is being looked forward to.

The Holy Cross squad has only recently been cut and picked for their southern trip, and nearly all of the men are being tried out for their positions in practically every game. Last year the northern team romped away with the title of collegiate champions, and they are hoping to keep up their good record this year also. The Indians, on the other hand, are very anxious to be a stumbling block in the path of the Crusaders in their ambition.

On the thirteenth and fifteenth of April the Indians will meet the Medical College of Virginia and Wofford College, respectively. Although little could be learned regarding the strength of either of the teams, it is probable that the Indians will win both these contests.

Debaters Win From Carolina State Team

Adam and Andrews Receive Two to One Decision Over Wranglers from North Carolina in Debate on Restriction of Light Wines and Beer.

William and Mary won its second forensic victory of the season on Monday night, March 29, when F. O. Adam, Jr., and M. Carl Andrews received a two to one judges' decision over the team from North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering. The subject for discussion was: "Resolved, That the Necessary Steps Should Be Taken to Abolish the Federal Restriction of the Manufacture, Sale and Consumption of Light Wines and Beer." The affirmative was upheld by the visitors, while the William and Mary team took the negative.

The main argument of the affirmative

"Y" Officers for 1927 Elected At Banquet

Ruth Yeamans Will Head Y. W. C. A. Next Year; Red P'Anson New President of Y. M. C. A. Elections Held at First Annual Joint Banquet.

Miss Ruth K. Yeamans, of Richmond, was elected president of the "Y. W." and Lawrence W. P'Anson, of Portsmouth, president of the Y. M. C. A. at the first annual banquet of the active members of the "Y. M." and Y. W. C. A.'s held in the college dining hall Wednesday, March 24. The other officers of the two organizations were also elected at this time.

L. Shell Jones, the college steward, prepared a very attractive dinner for the members of the two Y's. About four hundred students, all active members of one of the organizations, attended. Dr. Thompson, of the Union Theological Seminary, was the speaker of the evening, while Dr. Hamilton acted as toastmaster.

The new president of the Y. W. C. A. has served for three years in as many capacities on the Y. W. C. A.

Princeton U. Hands Indians First Loss

Heavy Hitting and Costly Miscues Mark Loss of First Baseball Game to Northern team 9-8; Large Holiday Crowd Present for Struggle.

Before an exceptionally large holiday crowd which filled Cary Field to overflowing, Princeton gave the Indian nine its first taste of defeat for this season by annexing from them a 9-8 victory. Ability to hit in the pinches accounted for the margin of victory which the Tigers enjoyed. The game was one of heavy hitting and costly miscues.

McGrath, ace of the Indian staff, was touched for five runs in the fifth before being replaced by Gregory. The latter gave way to Taylor after allowing two runners to cross the plate. The Indians fought stubbornly to regain the lead but found themselves one run short of victory when the final count was called.

Thompson and Smith each drove out triples, the former scoring two runners and the latter one. Le Beaume of the visitors poled out a four-bagger in the initial frame, scoring Rhees ahead of him.

Goeltz went the whole route for the visitors, allowing eleven hits.

Two Home Debates Two in N. Carolina

Elliott, Born and Andrews Meet Pittsburgh and Gettysburg in Chapel; Marston and Stewart Meet Wake Forest and N. C. State on Foreign Platforms.

William and Mary will see its greatest week in the history of intercollegiate debating next week, when teams representing the Men's Debate Council engage in four contests, two of which will be held in Chapel and the other two on the road trip through North Carolina. Five of the six men on the local team will go into action during the course of the week.

The week's schedule opens here on Tuesday night, when W. H. Elliott, L. L. Born and M. Carl Andrews meet the team representing the University of Pittsburgh. All three are engaged in the first year of debating, although the latter was a member of the team that defeated North Carolina State on March 29. The visiting team is composed of Fred Hamlin, editor of the Pitt Weekly; Leo Shapiro, and Norman K. Mattis, both of whom are veterans of the Pitt debating team. Hamline was recently elected to Omicron Delta Kappa. The team is on an extensive tour of the South, covering Virginia, North and South Carolina in its itinerary. The subject of the debate here on Tuesday night will be, "Resolved, That the Government Should Control and Operate the Coal Mines." William and Mary will uphold the affirmative and Pitt the negative.

Coach Siersema, Manager Stewart and Squad of Eighteen Men Are Making First Trip of Season; Grove and Lund Expected to Feature.

Both the William and Mary and V. P. I. trackmen are anticipating a hard clash at Blacksburg tomorrow when both teams meet for what is the second contest for each of them this season. The Indians, heartened considerably by their victory over George Washington last Saturday, are expecting strong opposition from the Techmen; and the men from V. P. I. are still smarting under their defeat by Virginia's Cavaliers the same day. This is the first time that William and Mary has ever taken the track against V. P. I., and both teams are

George Washington Harriers Fall Before William and Mary 78-48; Tom Yates Lowers Record for 440 Set by Coach Scrap Chandler.

The Indian track team handed the George Washington Hatchetmen a 78 to 48 drubbing last Saturday on the local track in the opening outdoor meet of the season. The meet disclosed several strong points of the William and Mary team as well as some comparatively weak ones.

The sensation of the meet was the running of Tom Yates, Indian quarter miler. Yates ran a beautiful race, finishing well ahead of Green who led the field by four yards. In winning the 440 Yates lowered the College record, set several years ago by Coach Chandler, to 51.5.

Captain John Loehler, of the George Washington team, was the high point man of the meet. He captured four first places and one third for a total of twenty-one points. Aaronson, also of George Washington, performed excellently, entering seven events and placing in five of them.

Summary:

Hundred-yard dash—Hooff, W. & M., first; Aaronson, G. W., second; Sheild, W. & M., third. Time, 10 1/5.
Mile run—Willett, G. W., first; Mapp, W. & M., second; Anderson, G. W., third. Time, 4 minutes 47 4/5 seconds.

Two-mile run—Willett, G. W., first; Hudson, W. & M., second; Caplan, W. & M., third. Time, 10 minutes 28 3/5 seconds.

220-yard dash—Hooff, W. & M., first; Sheild, W. & M., second; Brown, G. W., third. Time, 22 7/10 seconds.

Oratorical Contest In Chapel Tonight

Preliminaries to determine who the William and Mary representative shall be at the State oratorical contest to be held at Emory and Henry College on May 7 will take place in Chapel tonight at 7:30 under the auspices of the Men's Intercollegiate Debate Council. There will be no regular meeting of the Phoenix and Philomathean literary societies, but both will meet jointly with the try-outs for orator serving as the evening's program. It is expected that at least six men will enter the contest. The entire Student Body is invited to attend.

THE OLD GRAD

A Column Devoted Exclusively to William and Mary Alumni

J. MALCOLM BRIDGES, Alumni Secretary

China Now Represented.

Rev. T. L. Sinclair, a member of the class of 1904, now serving as a missionary in Kiukiang, China, is the last graduate of William and Mary to enroll as a paid-up member of the William and Mary Alumni Association. The Rev. Mr. Sinclair writes:

"I am enclosing six dollars for two years' dues in the association. One finds it somewhat hard to keep up with his college when so far away. However, I have no desire to forget William and Mary and want to keep in touch with her as far as possible. I had a very good time at the Hartford, Connecticut, School of Missions last year, but had to leave before completing my thesis for my Masters' Degree."

Mr. Sinclair has served as a missionary in China for a number of years, and was last year granted a leave which allowed him to undertake graduate work in this country. He has recently moved from Anking to Kiukiang, China.

Jimmie Jenkins Now Teaching.

J. S. (Jimmie) Jenkins, '23, who has been with the Imperial Tobacco Company in North Carolina the past year, is now teaching English in the high school of Oxford, North Carolina, during the lull in the tobacco business.

Two-thirds of the one hundred and eighty students who have automobiles at Perdue received one or more conditions in their studies last year. And yet there are some who do not understand why officials at William and Mary have placed a ban on the auto here.

From the Boston Evening Transcript comes an interesting account of a movement recently launched at Brown University, which promises to bring alumni and student into closer touch, to the benefit of both.

According to the Transcript, the idea is this: "Each freshman, not living in Providence or its immediate neighborhood, now has a responsible alumnus on whom he may call for advice and consultation whenever problems arise pertaining to college or outside life. Many of the freshmen—the are approximately 280 with advisors—have already availed themselves of the privilege; and their advisors are enthusiastic over the opportunity of meeting them and discussing with them questions of the moment."

Dartmouth thinks that the best time to give an alumnus an intelligent interest in his college is before he is alumnus. A course designed to instruct the student in a manner that will result in a more intelligent participation by future alumni in the control and support of their alma mater, is offered as a special course listed in their regular catalogue.

Chandler Will Tour Va. For Williamsburg

President of College Will Make a Speaking Tour of the State During Month of May, Representing Chamber of Commerce of Williamsburg.

Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, president of the College of William and Mary, has been chosen by the Williamsburg Chamber of Commerce to represent the city on the all Virginia tour which will begin on May 19.

The object of this tour is to sell Virginia to Virginians as well as to bring representatives of Virginia cities together so that they may affect a closer contact and understanding with the business men of all sections of the Commonwealth. The tour will be made in motor buses which will be furnished by the Virginia Electric and Power Company.

Among the prominent men of the State who will make the tour with Dr. Chandler will be Governor Harry Floyd Byrd and Henry G. Shirley, State highway commissioner.

INDIAN SPORTS

NINE BREAKS EVEN IN THE EASTER HOLIDAY SERIES

A WORD ABOUT SPORTS

Tomorrow brings the Holy Cross nine to the Indian pasture for its annual clash with the William and Mary warriors. Holy Cross needs no introduction to the local fans. They well remember that last year the Tas-... divided honors with the Crusaders in their two-game series, even when the Massachusetts lads won the title of Collegiate champions, and it is also remembered that "Gooke" Gregory was the conqueror of the Barry crew. In all probability he will take the mound against them tomorrow.

The Indian trackmen are meeting V. P. I. in Blacksburg tomorrow. Their decisive victory over George Washington gives rise to great hope regarding their prospects. It is evident that the coaches have patched up very capably the holes left by the absence of several of the former mainstays.

It is a very regrettable fact that the Student Body was away during the interesting contests which featured the Easter holidays. Not only was the loss theirs, but the loss of the team also since nothing is missed more than the support of the students.

Mike Smith gives promise of being the greatest slugger seen in collegiate baseball in many a day. During the last three games he has maintained an average of about .900. We are watching Mike's future with a great deal of interest, since such hitting is bound to result in success as a great ball player.

Three victories, one defeat and one tie in five starts is not so bad for the early season's record. A continuance of this form and Richmond's chances will fade into nothingness. What could be greater as far as William and Mary followers are concerned?

Dartmouth Defeated In First Ball Game

Home Run in Ninth Inning by Rats Kahn Puts Indians in Winning Column; McGrath Pitches Fine Game in First Col- legiate Appearance.

Rats Kahn broke up the first game of the season when his home run in the ninth inning enabled the Indians to defeat the Big Green team from Dartmouth on Cary Field Monday, March 29. The game see-sawed from one nine to the other until Kahn sent the winning ball over the center- fielder's head for a circuit drive.

Gregory started for the William and Mary team, but was relieved in the third by Mike McGrath, who made an impressive debut as a member of the Indian hurling staff. Mac sent seven of the Dartmouth hitters to the bench and held the others to a few scattered hits. Three Big Green curvers were bombarded for fourteen hits, while Gregory and McGrath held their opponents to eight safeties.

W. & M. Wins and Ties Syracuse In Series

Mac McGrath Pitches Wonderful Ball in First Game While Gregory Holds Big Orange Team at Bay in Second; Bats Swing Freely.

The William and Mary Indians met the nine from Syracuse University in a two-game series last Thursday and Friday on Cary Field. Both games were well played, the teams being very evenly matched with excellent form exhibited by each.

McGrath, freshman star hurler, performed on the mound for William and Mary in the first game, allowing only one safety in the eleven innings and eliminating seventeen batsmen by the strike-out route. Two walks followed by two errors in the first frame accounted for the visitors' only tallies. The game was called on account of darkness in the eleventh with the score tied.

ON ENTERTAINING GUESTS

William and Mary, in many instances, has been cited as an outstanding example of the ideal in consideration of the manner in which the College receives and entertains its visitors, and we have recorded several of the expressions in these columns. We are proud to be able to say that William and Mary has made a name for hospitality and courtesy. But we feel that we must call attention to one detail in which a few of the students are lax. That is the habit of commenting audibly—or, colloqually, "razzing"—visiting players, officials and spectators.

There are occasions on which unrestrained expression of disapproval is warranted by the action of an impetuous opponent. At least two cases of a player's becoming discourteous and, even threatening, have occurred in the games played at the College this season. Disapproval, however, should come from a disinterested third party, not from a student. The test of a real gentleman, or a real sport, is his ability to undergo insult or discourtesy, maintaining at the same time his own equilibrium. An unexcusable form of "razz" is that elicited by a misplay on the part of an opponent.

We feel that the students at William and Mary are essentially courteous and that they are not aware of the appearance that the oversight of this detail creates. We call attention to this matter in the hope that visiting athletes, or visitors on any mission, may not have reason to receive false impressions of the College or its Student Body.

CLOSER CONTACT WITH ALUMNI

Several time recently the fact has become strikingly apparent that there is a very loose bond between the alumni of the College and their Alma Mater. Many of the old grads seem to lose connection with the institution as soon as they receive their degrees, while others have only an occasional interest when some particular event attracts them.

Greater good for both alumni and the College could be realized if the relation were more intimate. Alumni can assist in many of the College activities, and the College, for its part, can do much to help the alumni. Exchange of plans and suggestions for services of many kinds would be mutually beneficial.

The Alumni Association now has a permanent secretary with an office established on the campus. The secretary has been able to draw the ex-students closer to the College in his short tenure of office, but there are many details yet to be arranged. Students can help by supplying the alumni office with information concerning alumni, by getting in touch with alumni, and by placing alumni in touch with the alumni office. Members of the alumni body should investigate more closely the affairs of the association and of the College and learn how the two can best work together for the advancement of both.

A Glimpse Into the College World

Here and There Among the Exchanges of The Flat Hat

The Y. W. C. A. of Hood College conducted the first Easter Communion Service in the history of that college. The service formed a fitting ending to the Lenten season and the beginning of the holidays.

The Technician, published by N. C. State College, ran an "All Fool's" number on April 1. This was in the form of a Yellow Journal (printed on green paper, however.)

The Law School of Georgetown University, Washington, is the only law school boasting a United States deputy marshal, George C. Twohy, who recently proved his bravery by attacking an armed banditess bare-handed.

The co-eds of Adrian College are 100 per cent prohibitionists. Ten boys who attended the Kappa Kappa Gamma dance were reported by the girls as having been drinking, although it could not be detected. The men were suspended. One of the entrance requirements used to be that a man drink "like a gentleman." How times do change!

Monogram goats' day at Hampden-Sidney lasts from Saturday to Thursday. A man has to make a spectacle of himself in more than one way to gain his letter there.

The athletic field of Lynchburg has been named after their athletic director, R. C. Day, who has done much for this branch of college activities since he became a member of the school faculty.

colleges in throwing the discus and it is safe to say that both men are looking forward to the championship before the season is over. In the shot, discus and javelin, Grove is probably the most valuable man on the Indian squad this year.

In the dashes Captain Shield and ex-Captain Hooff for the Indians, and Montague for the Gobblers, have been doing the prettiest sprinting this year. Hooff was high point scorer in the annual field day a few weeks ago and made first places in both the 100 and 220 against George Washington here last week.

In the quarter, Yates, who bettered the college record formerly held by "Scrap" Chandler by slightly less than one second, is regarded as the likeliest winner in this event. In the hurdles, high and broad jumps, and pole vault, also, the Indians appear to have about an even chance against the Gobblers.

Following is a list of the men who will most probably make the trip: Captain Shields, Hooff, Yates, Green, Doughtrey, Mapp, Thomas, Smith, J. K., Hudson, Caplan, Taylor, Grove, Cardwell, Smith, C. M., Durham, Manager Stewart and Coach Siersema.

cabinet, and was one of William and Mary's delegates to the Blue Ridge Conference last summer. She has filled exceptionally well the various duties of her offices and has been active in all other phases of college activities. Last year Miss Yeamans finished among the first three in scholarship for the whole college, while she has also been president of the Whitehall Literary Society, a member of the Debate Council, intercollegiate debater, and editor of the Women's Student Government Handbook. She is a member of the Les Quixotescos and Iota Mu Pi.

Miss Clare Louise Miller was elected vice-president; Elizabeth Lamb, secretary; Eugenia Portlock, treasurer; and Margaret Holman, undergraduate representative. Because of the limitations imposed by the point system, Miss Holman was unable to accept this office, and Miss Minnie Robb Phaup was elected to fill the vacancy.

L. W. I'Anson, better known as "Red," has also been very active in the campus activities. He has served this year as secretary of the Y. M. C. A. and has been active in the Phoenix Literary Society, and in debating. He has been assistant manager of track for two years, and is at present circulation manager of The Flat Hat. Mr. I'Anson is a member of the local chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha.

The other Y. M. C. A. officers elected for next year are: Alan Cook, vice-president; Garland Talmage, secretary, and Carl Andrews, treasurer. William G. Thompson, who has assisted in preparing the publication before, was appointed editor of the next handbook.

Notice

During the past week-end some one broke into the laundry room back of the Deanery in order to get their laundry. The laundry is always given out at the following times:

Friday: After lunch and supper.

Saturday: After every meal.

Monday and Tuesday: After lunch.

If you do not come at this time you cannot get your laundry until it is given out for the next week end; do not ask for it.

Anyone caught breaking in will be reported to the proper authorities.

P. A. throws pipe-peeves for a loss

AND the bigger they are, the harder they fall, as Shakespeare or somebody said. You can prove this beyond question with a jimmy-pipe and a tidy red tin of Prince Albert. Anytime. Anywhere. As a matter of fact, tackling pipe-grouches is P. A.'s regular business.

Cool and sweet and fragrant, P. A.'s wonderful smoke comes curling up the pipe-stem, filling your system with a new brand of pipe-pleasure. You smoke—and smile! For the first time in your life, you've found the one tobacco that scales to your blueprint of bliss.

Slow or fast, no matter how you feed it, P. A. never bites your tongue or parches your throat. Those important items were taken care of in the original plans by the Prince Albert process. Get yourself a tidy red tin of this friendly tobacco today.

PRINCE ALBERT —no other tobacco is like it!

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

HOLIDAYS
Final Dissertation

(By Collegian)

Holidays are something that every student looks forward to throughout the year, but very seldom gets unless the vacation is purely voluntary on his part. Holidays are few and far between, and when they are allowed, the college must needs attach various and sundry reservations that will keep the poor stude as busy obeying them as the proverbial hen with one chick. The only difference here is that the stude generally has more than one chicken on the string for the holiday.

The great question for the brief period of respite is where to get the money to go home? Most of the year is spent in thinking of some way to get the dough, which never materializes, and the final results of this are two in number: (1) Either the stude leaves or (2) he don't. In the first case, he hops a ride in a car, crawls under the train, or walks. The latter class does not, however, number very high (unless someone gives them a drink). In the second case we mentioned, the stude stays here and "cusses" his luck, the town, the food and anything else he happens to think of.

Holidays are something that the stude's parents look forward to with misgivings. Sometimes they actually see him for five or ten minutes while he is supposedly "at home for the spring vacation." The rest of the time is divided between the dances, parties and sleep. Figure for yourself the percentage for these classifications. Personally, we like more of the latter, since that is what we get least of while in residence at this venerable old institution of learning. Holidays are of great benefit to the teams that have to stay in the old home town and meet the foe. They, too, can sleep or get part of the rest they have been expected to get all along during the season. They can also catch up on any back work they may have (?) Of course, you understand, they all do this without exception. Ask any prof. and make sure in case you doubt our word.

Speaking of profs. reminds us of something else. They always try to make the holidays cheerful and bright by giving extra assignment in parallel, etc. This, to be sure, is not done with any malice aforethought and is expected to keep the stude from many of the pitfalls that otherwise might beset his wayward path of vacationary glee. The stude, for his part, is always very careful to do all the work assigned and without question enters the classes on the first day after return to college fully prepared and ready to beard the prof. in his den.

Well, dear reader, there must always be an end to everything, even holidays, and so there must be with these brief sketches with which we have been torturing you. The author, having returned from the holidays with nothing on his mind (except the problem of making seventeen hours along with about a million other things), must needs lay his pen, or rather his typewriter, aside. If, in these articles, we have unwittingly done someone physical or mental damage, we assure them it was done in the best of spirit. However, we will not retract anything we have so carefully prepared for statement and, in case some poor stude will want satisfaction, he may get it in the following manner: Send all challenges for duels to the editor of this paper, who will conduct them to him, and then meet his seconds behind the grandstand next Monday morning at six o'clock sharp. The author will probably be in bed recovering from vacation, but if the seconds can't handle things, he will be forced to get up earlier than the usual hour.

Pennsylvania Wins Slow Game Tuesday

The Indians suffered their second defeat of the season Tuesday afternoon at the hands of the University of Pennsylvania by the score of 8-1. The game was a listless, drawn out affair marked by many miscues and slow playing on the part of both teams. Strickle made his debut with the William and Mary staff and went the whole round, though touched lively by the visitors in the seventh frame. Long, renowned in college baseball, took the mound for the visitors and pitched spectacular ball.

The first tallies of the game came in the second, when, with two down, Kahn booted one, and two hits by the Pennsylvania lads, and a miscue by Stickle, accounted for three runs. After this the game turned into a pitcher's duel until the seventh, when a single, followed by a walk, and two more singles with a wild heave by Delk, accounted for three more runs. William and Mary marked up her first tally in the eighth when two singles and a scratch hit by Thompson brought in the lone run. Pennsylvania scored again in the ninth. The game was featured by the pitching of Long and the hitting of Shag Drewry and Mike Smith.

The Ox Woman

On an East Indian farm, where the crop is tea, a wooden plow turns up the rich black soil. A woman drives, another woman pulls—and a black ox pulls beside her.

Six hours under a tropical sun, a bowl of cold rice—and six hours more. Then the woman goes to her bed of rushes, and the beast to his mud stall. Tomorrow will be the same.

The American home has many conveniences. But many American women often work as hard as their Oriental sisters. They toil at the washtub, they carry water, they churn by hand—all tasks which electricity can do for them at small cost, in half the time.

The labor-saving possibilities of electricity are constantly becoming more widely recognized. And the social significance of the release of the American woman from physical drudgery, through the increasing use of electricity in and about the home, will appeal instantly to every college man and woman.

The electric light, the electric iron, the vacuum cleaner—the use of electricity on the farm for pumping water, for milking, and for the cream separator—are helping to make life happier. General Electric research and engineering have aided in making these conveniences possible.

A new series of G-E advertisements showing what electricity is doing in many fields will be sent on request. Ask for booklet GEK-18.

DEBATING TEAMS IN FOUR CONTESTS NEXT WEEK

Mary team will meet a three-man team from Gettysburg College, of Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, an outstanding college in forensics in the eastern part of the United States. The debating team is also making an extensive tour of the South, which will include several Virginia institutions. The subject of the debate is the same as that for the Pittsburgh meet with the home team taking the affirmative. At press time the names of the Gettysburg team could not be learned although it is understood that the team have been active in intercollegiate debating for two or three years. The Pittsburgh and Gettysburg are being met by the University of Richmond team before they arrive in Williamsburg.

The road team, consisting of W. F. Johnston, Jr., and R. E. B. Stewart, will leave Williamsburg next Wednesday for North Carolina to engage in a series of two debates, returning Saturday or Sunday. The first meet will be with Wake Forest on Thursday night, the subject being, "Resolved: That the United States Should Recognize the Soviet Government of Russia." William and Mary will take the affirmative.

The following night the team will meet the representatives of North Carolina State in the auditorium of the Richard J. Reynolds High school, Winston-Salem, on the negative side of the Russian question. This will be a return engagement to the Carolinians, who came to Williamsburg last month. The debate is being sponsored by the Twin City Sentinel, Winston-Salem, and much interest has been aroused over the coming clash. Mr. H. F. Dwire, editor of the paper and chairman of the city school board, will present a handsome silver cup to the winning team. State will be represented by J. E. Tiddy and J. D. Conrad, both juniors and experienced men in forensics.

With two wins to their credit and two defeats against them thus far, the William and Mary team is expecting to put up hard fights in the coming debates, but the character of the opponents warrants no easy struggle. Names of the chairmen and judges for the home debates have not been announced by the Debate Council.

...tive centered about the arguments for State rights and individual right of choice, while the negative maintained that the sale of light wines and beer would re-open the liquor traffic, recall the old saloon, create unequal conditions between the States, and that such a law would not be enforceable as a police measure.

The North Carolina State team was composed of H. H. Rogers and C. L. Straughn, both sophomores of that college. They presented a very creditable debate and apparently give much promise for the future. Professor C. C. Cunningham, of the department of English, accompanied them on the trip.

Adam, who appeared in his last home debate for William and Mary, will close his college debating career against Roanoke College at Salem on May 7, when the local affirmative team upholds one end of the home-and-home series on the question: "Resolved: That the United States Should Recognize the Soviet Government of Russia."

Judges of the debate, which was held in the Y. M. C. A. room, were Lewis I. Jaffee, editor of the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot; Paul Scarborough, editor of the Franklin Tidewater News, and Mr. Hamilton, business manager of the Portsmouth Star. The Rev. Mr. H. E. Cromer, pastor of the Methodist church, presided.

SYRACUSE IN SERIES

Van Lengen, Andersen, Moss, Kahn, 2, Thompson; struck out by McGrath, 16; by Van Lengen, 4; umpire, Kroger; time of game, two hours, thirty minutes.

The second game was a victory for the Indians, although not so well played as the first. Kresner was easy for the William and Mary hitters who found him for eight safeties and as many runs, while Gregory, the Indians' diminutive iron man, held the Orange wrecking crew to two hits and allowed only three others. The game was called at the end of the sixth inning to allow the Syracuse team to catch the train.
