J. A. C. CHANDLER, JR. ACCOMPANIES DR. BRANCHI

PRESIDENT'S SON ADDED TO DARING EXPEDITION

Other Members Include Arnett, Hoyos, Brodney, Syfrit and Dameron

SEVEN IN PARTY

Dr. E. C. Branchi, accompanied by J. A. C. Chandler, Jr., son of Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, president of William and Mary College, and five William and Mary students left the college Wednesday morning, January 29, at 6 o'clock on his daring 12,000 mile automobile trip to South America. Last minute decisions caused a complete change in the personnel of the expedition.

Hughes A. Kistler, who was to accompany Dr. Branchi, was suddenly taken ill and prevented from making the trip. Mr. Kistler is now undergoing treatment in a Richmond hospital. This unexpected event made it necessary for Dr. Branchi to change his plans somewhat. He found no difficulty in finding other students who were willing to make the trip, however. The William and Mary students completing the group are Neil Arnette, Aibert Hoyos, Fred Brodney, Leon Syfrit and Charles Dameron.

Mr. Chandler, who was attending Hampden-Sydney, left school to accompany Dr. Branchi. He is driving one of the new Fords in the expedition. Dr. Branchi is also driving a new Ford, and Mr. Hoyos is driving a Chevrolet. Most of the equipment is being carried in Dr. Branchi's car.

The party hopes to arrive in Buenos Aires in about three months. Approximately 500 miles of the journey will be made through virgin lands without roads or paths. There will be treacherous swamps and sand-and-salt-peter deserts to cross. The American Automobile Association has predicted that Dr. Branchi will be unable to accomplish his ambition.

The first stop of the expedition was made in Washington, D. C., where Dr. Branchi endeavored to secure President Herbert Hoover's autograph in the book which he is carrying with him through the courtesy of Dr. E. G. Swem and the Library. Dr. Branchi was unable to secure President

MANY VACANCIES ON THE FLAT HAT STAFF

Due to the graduation of several members of The Flat Hat staff many vacancies now exist on the editorial staff. All students who have had any journalistic training are urged to report at The Flat Hat tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock. A college credit may be earned, as well as a very good training in newspaper work.

Any student who shows effort as well as ability will be considered for membership to the staff.

WOMEN'S DEBATE TEAM PLANS LONG ORATORICAL JAUNT

To Meet University of West Virginia and Hood College on Trip

OTHER SCHOOLS ON SCHEDULE

Debating the question of instalment buying, the women's debate team opens its season against the University of West Virginia, in Morgantown, February 13. As now planned, Julia Coleman and Louise James carry William and Mary's backing. They proceed from Morgantown, according to schedule, to Frederick, Maryland to debate Hood College on the same question, February 15. This second meet is to be a dual encounter, with Estelle Foreman and Virginia Arthur pitted against the team which Hood is to send here.

Of the four debaters, Miss James is the veteran. She has been a varsity member for three years and has met Temple, Hood, and West Virginia in

DISCIPLINE COUNCIL TO BE CREATED BY MEN OF COLLEGE

Men's Student Body Vote to Establish Committee of Seven to Enforce Probation

KEY AMENDS RESOLUTION

At a meeting of the men's student body Wednesday night it was voted to create a discipline council to act against those men students on probation. The resolution first offered by William C. Fields was opposed, but amended by Roger Keay. Upon Mr. Keay's amendment the resolution was accepted and reads as follows.

"I move that we, men students of the College of William and Mary create a discipline council composed of seven members elected in same manner as members of the honor council, and that the said discipline council shall have full authority to enforce probation rules, power to discipline violators and to dismiss from College frequent violators.

Signed,
Charles L. Eason,
Secretary of Student Body."

A special meeting will be called of the various classes, according to F. Samuel Wilcox, president of the student body, and they will nominate members of their class to be voted on by the student government just as the honor council members are. Mr. Wilcox informed the student body that Dr. Chandler was in favor of enforcing probation rules, and would take drastic steps unless the men's student body enforced them.

Mr. Wilcox also addressed the students on paying closer attention to announcements in the College Refectory, and that their co-operation would be appreciated.

"OP-O'-ME-THUMB" TO BE PRESENTED HERE BY THE W.&M. PLAYERS

One-Act Play By Fenn and Pryce; Given in Connection With National Drama Week

NO ADMISSION CHARGE

By Mary Parry

In connection with National Drama Week, February 9 to 15, the William and Mary Players will present "Op-O'-Me-Thumb", a one-act play by Frederick Fenn and Richard Pryce, in Phi Beta Kappa Hall, Wednesday, Feb. 12 at 8:15 p. m. There will be no admission charge. For the past three years it has been customary for the Players to celebrate National Drama Week by giving a performance free of charge to the campus. Last year's production was George Kelly's "The Flattering Word".

"Op-O'-Me-Thumb" concerns the make-believe romance of a poor working girl in a London laundry, and while there is humor throughout, pathos stalks in the background. The realistic effect produced by the laundry setting is augmented by the use of cockney dialect and of costumes peculiar to the rakishly attired inhabitants of Soho.

Miss Althea Hunt, director of William and Mary dramatics, has announced a cast which includes only familiar players. Mrs. Mary Pyle, who created such a favorable impres-

GLIDER CLUB TO PURCHASE GLIDER IN A FEW DAYS

U. T. Joyner, of Suffolk, Named President of Organization; F. J. Bailey, Advisor

CAPACITY OF CLUB THIRTY

The newly formed Glider Club of the college got under way successfully at its first meeting January 17, with the election of officers, the formation of financial plans, and the appointment of necessary committees.

The officers elected are: president, U. T. Joyner, of Suffolk; vice-president, Hugh Knerr, of Langley Field; treasurer, Samuel Freeman, of Williamsburg; secretary, Edward Leary, of Portsmouth; faculty advisor, Assistant Professor F. J. Bailey.

The formation of the club is an outgrowth of a lecture previously given by Professor Bailey in which he described the sport of gliding and explained its recreational and practical advantages, and displayed moving pictures of gliders in flight.

The club's glider will be purchased as soon as all the dues, more than half of which are already in, have been collected. Committees are at present drawing up the by-laws of the organization and searching for suitable flying fields.

The membership of the club is now twenty-five, with room for another five. When the number of members reaches thirty, no more will be admitted unless a new group of thirty can be formed, in which case another glider will be purchased.

FRATERNITY RUSHING AT W. & M. WELL UNDER WAY

Pan-Hellenic Council Makes Changes In Women's Rushing Season

ENDS TOMORROW NIGHT

Women's mid-winter fraternity rushing season began at 9 o'clock Thursday, January 30, and ends tomorrow at 7:30 p. m., February 8. Rushing Rules used in the fall have been changed slightly by a vote of the Pan-Hellenic Council.

There are two rushing periods, 4:30-5:30 p. m. and 6:30-7:30 p. m.

The rules have been changed to read:

1. Dates may be made by any fraternity after 9:00 a. m. only on the day for which the date is wanted.
2. A fraternity may have a 'Rushee' only once a day.
3. No money may be spent on 'Rushees'.
4. There will be no dancing in Jefferson Gymnasium during rushing season.
5. There may be no conversation with new women students outside of rushing hours except for making dates.

WORK OF STUDENT GOVERNMENT HEAD LOUDLY PRAISED

Mr. Ursel C. Narver, president of the National Student Federation Association, has written a letter to the Flat Hat commenting upon the excellent work that Alice Harwood did at the Congress held at Stanford University during the Christmas holidays. Mr. Narver states that Miss Harwood took a prominent part and made valuable contributions to the convention, and he feels that the students of William and Mary should know something about the work she did. The letter follows:

Editor of The Flat Hat,
William and Mary,
Williamsburg, Va.,
Dear Editor:

The past officers and executive committee of the National Student Federation of America want the students of William & Mary to know that your delegate, Alice Harwood, took a prominent part and made valuable contributions at the recent Congress at Stanford University.

In addition to presenting campus problems and finding their possible solutions in conference, delegates enthusiastically set up a program of expansion for the Federation. This program establishes a central office, an executive secretary and provides for the creation of a local N. S. F. A. committee on each campus. This action makes possible obtaining considerable outside support, the benefit of which will be felt on the campus of every member institution.

The new officers will appreciate your continued support.

Sincerely yours,
Ursel C. Narver,
1929 President, N. S. F. A.

Deferred Bidding Necessitates Many Changes In Men's Rushing

ENDS NEXT FRIDAY

Bids to men's social fraternities on the campus will be mailed at midnight on February 14, according to a recent statement issued by James E. Bradford, president of the Interfraternity Council.

Deferred rushing has necessitated new rushing rules for the coming season.

Mr. Bradford stated that the following rules will be in effect:

1. Rushing season opens February 1 and extends to midnight, on Friday, February 14th.
2. Saturday, February 15th, will be recognized as silent day.
3. New men will be pledged on Sunday, February 16th.
4. Bids will be mailed in the usual manner on Friday afternoon, not later than five o'clock.
5. Freshmen must have made ten hours of work before being pledged.
6. Dates of initiation will be left to the individual fraternities.

These rules are the result of a resolution offered by a committee consisting of Milton G. White, Chairman; Paul A. Ryan, and John L. Lewis.

Heretofore, the men's social fraternities have rushed freshmen upon their entrance to college but upon the opening of school last fall, Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, President of the college, issued a rule to the effect that no man could be pledged by a social fraternity until he had passed the required amount of work. This necessitated a deferred rushing season. It is reported that this action was taken in order that both fraternities and freshmen will be benefitted by being able to have a better understanding and knowledge of each other.

This system has proven itself to be effective at numerous other colleges and universities, and Mr. Bradford believes that it will be beneficial at William and Mary.

THE FLAT HAT MOVES TO LARGER OFFICES

The Flat Hat office has been moved to Citizenship Number Two. Students having open forum letters, news articles, or any kind of news are urged to leave them in this office on the editor's desk.

The paper is now being printed in Hampton, and will appear on Friday at noon instead of Thursday afternoon. News will be received as late as Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

"Boston Col. Stylus" Comments on Magazine

DECLARES W. & M. LITERARY MAGAZINE AMONG THE BEST

Praises Literary Magazine For Excellent Manuscript Contained On Its Pages

FEBRUARY ISSUE ALSO GOOD

By James T. Campbell

With the arrival of the February issue of the Literary Magazine comes also an important clipping from the "Boston College Stylus".

We have been loud in our humble praise of the magazine and it is with great joy that we find that other critics from afar are supporting the efforts of our magazine.

Under the title of "From Foreign Campuses" in the Boston college periodical we find the following:

"On the editorial pages of the 'William and Mary Literary Magazine' for October, we read, 'The Magazine hopes to hold its place in the line of literary activity in the college world.' From a reading of this first issue of the current year, one would not need a prophetic mind to predict the realization of that desire. For in its arrangement and printing, in the quality and variety of its contributions, it is a work of art. All of which sounds quite perfunctory, but it is indeed sincere.

"Too often poetry found in college publications lacks sincerity. One feels that the work is accomplished because the writer wishes to write a poem, not because emotion bade him. There is too much poeticizing and not enough poetry. It is, therefore a delightful and novel experience to pick up a college magazine in which all of the poems are poetry. Witness Miss Virginia Arthur's, 'To D—,' with its quiet emotion and evident sincerity;—"

The editors of the 'Lit' and the contributors should be indeed congratulated for their efforts and their achievement. This fine piece of criticism from Boston concerns the October issue and since that time our magazine has steadily improved.

PROSE

The philosophy of Fay P. LeCompte in "The Son of Adam" should be praised. The story is a fantasy on the beginning of mankind and sin. But is it really sin? We find a picture of not one but two gardens. It is well worth while reading.

With "I Say" Edward D. Fales makes a triumphant exit from the literary field of the college. During his college career at William and Mary, Mr. Fales has made an enviable record in literary circles and it is with a feeling of regret that we say, 'Adois' upon his graduation. "I Say" deals with an evening aboard ship. It is told in a remarkable style and we realize that the old saying, "the first man never has a chance", is true. Sometimes being under the influence makes us realize the foibles of society.

Three letters to 'Arnold' go to make a delightful story entitled "El Aqua Bendita" by Miss Julia Verner. A hate and a desire carried down through four generations, combined with native superstition and a spring develop a tale that we put down with regret. We look forward to seeing more contributions from Miss Verner in the future.

We enjoyed reading "A Corner In Oil", by Virginia Crawford. It marks the arrival of the Short Short-Story to the pages of the 'Lit' and we feel that their appearance in this country and in our pages is a big step in the rise of the American Short Story. Miss Crawford has dealt with the element of surprise very admirably.

Speaking of surprise we were surprised when we read "Omar Khayyam", by John Darmid. We expected it to be a long-drawn-out sort of an affair but this treatment of the poet and his works held our interest every minute of time it took to read it. It is done in a true literary style and deserves much credit.

Dr. Tucker, '93, Another Prominent Alumnus

Dr. Robert Henry Tucker, '93, acting president of Washington and Lee University, and for many years a professor at William and Mary is another of the school's outstanding alumni.

A sketch of Dr. Tucker's life as it appears in Who's Who follows:

Dr. Robert Henry Tucker, professor of Economics, born in Lunenburg County, Virginia, September 27, 1875; son of Henry Williamson and Louise Scott Nelson Tucker; A. B. College of William and Mary, 1893; A. M. 1897; studied Brunswick, Germany; University of Chicago, University of Wisconsin; (Assistant fellow in Economics); married Evelyn Page, Edmonds of Halifax County, Virginia, June 1918.

History, College of William and Mary; associate professor German and English 1899-1902, professor 1902-08, State Agricultural and Mechanical College, Oklahoma; associate professor Economics and Commerce 1915-19, professor Economics and Business Administration since 1919, Washington and Lee University; professor of Economics, University of Virginia Summer School 1922; manager employment and welfare for American Shipbuilding Company, Brunswick, Georgia, World War 1918; Chairman Industrial Commissioner of Virginia 1919; member Virginia Commission on Implication of State and Local Government; member American Economic Association, American Academy Political and Social Science, American Association University Professors, Royal Economic Society (London), Society of Cincinnati, S. R., Kappa Sigma, Phi Beta Kappa, Omicron Delta Kappa, Democrat, Episcopalian. Club: Westmoreland (Richmond, Virginia). Contributor to economics topics to periodicals. Home: Lexington, Virginia.

In 1926 William and Mary conferred upon Dr. Tucker the honorary title of doctor of laws. He was recently elected acting president of Washington and Lee University succeeding Dr. Henry Louis Smith who retired January 1st. Since the resignation of C. H. Morrisett as Tax Commissioner, Governor John Garland Pollard has offered this position to Dr. Tucker.

SAUNDERS HONORED

Governor John Garland Pollard has recently appointed Joseph H. Saunders of Newport News, a member of the State Board of Education. Mr. Saunders graduated at William and Mary in 1896 and is a Phi Beta Kappa. He holds his M. A. degree from the University of Chicago. Mr. Saunders has served the public schools of this state for many years. For years he was conductor of the summer school at Covington, and was principal of the rural schools in Bland and Norfolk counties. He has served as principal of the Portsmouth schools and was also principal of one of the Norfolk schools before going to Richmond where he served as principal of the Binford Junior High School and the City Normal for a number of years.

Mr. Saunders has brought the Newport News schools to the first rank in the state. He is an officer of the National Educational Association and a past president of the Virginia Teachers Association. Governor Pollard made no mistake in selecting for the State Board of Education a man as well trained as Joe Saunders.

DR. CHANDLER ADDRESSES ROANOKE ALUMNI CLUB

Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, President of the College of William and Mary has just returned from Roanoke where he addressed the William and Mary Club there. Dr. Chandler referred to the progress in the expansion program of the College both materially and in the field of education as well as the work now being done through the munificence of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., in the restoration of Colonial Williamsburg. Dr. Chandler told of the orientation in the freshman class composed mainly of a study of American life including history, geography, literature, and arts which would enable the young student and determine the course which would actually take the remainder of his college course.

Dr. C. J. Smith, President of Roanoke College, and Ex-Governor E. Lee Trinkle, who has recently been appointed to the new State Board of Education, also delivered addresses. About seventy-five graduates and former students of William and Mary attended the club meeting which was held in the green room of the Roanoke Hotel. Rev. H. H. Young of Bluefield, President of the Southwest Virginia William and Mary Club, represented his chapter at the Roanoke meeting.

The following are the officers of the William and Mary Club of Roanoke:

NEW ALUMNI CLUB TO BE ORGANIZED

By Geo. W. Guy

Mr. M. Weldon Thompson of the Petersburg High School is calling together William and Mary alumni and former students at the Petersburg Y. M. C. A. this evening, for the purpose of organizing the Southside Virginia William and Mary Club. There will be a representative of the College present to explain the work of the Alumni Association and it is expected that a large and enthusiastic delegation will attend.

The Alumni Associations are doing a great thing today in stimulating interest in the college and the cause of education in general and the William and Mary group are especially proud of their achievements that have been made. There are now over fourteen hundred students at the College and when we take the summer school and extension work into consideration the numbers will run up to thirty-nine hundred.

It is urged that every William and Mary man and woman attend this meeting.

GEORGE W. GUY ATTENDS AMERICAN ALUMNI MEETING

Geo. W. Guy, Executive Secretary of the Alumni Association recently attended the Regional Conference of District III of the American Alumni Council at Charleston, South Carolina. District Three includes the states of Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, and Alabama. Mr. Guy told of the alumni work at William and Mary and had a William and Mary alumni exhibit at the Francis Marion Hotel. Other Virginia alumni secretaries on the program were Miss Carrie Taliaferro, State Teacher's College, Farmville; George L. Walker, Hampden-Sydney College; William H. Wranck, University of Virginia; Miss Mary Stokes, Randolph - Macon Woman's College, and H. P. Redd, Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

Through the courtesy of the Charleston Chamber of Commerce a trip to Fort Sumter was given the alumni secretaries. Col. Bond of the Citadel was host of the conference Friday evening. Capt. D. S. McAlister, alumni secretary of Citadel invited the conference to attend the game of basketball between Citadel and Woffolk College.

President John McKee of the American Alumni Council was present and addressed the conference on "Tendencies in Alumni Work."

ALUMNI NEWS

Payne Terry, '28, and Julian Chase, Jr., '29, are both in the General Accounting Department of the Western Electric Company.

Charles M. Hailey, '29, of Ontario, was a visitor on the campus the past week-end.

Miss Pauline Hines, '29, is head of the English Department of Carson High School, teaching all four years of English and one year of Spanish. She coached basketball in the fall and is now giving dancing lessons as a supplementary aid to physical exercises.

A very interesting letter was recently received by Dr. Hodges from Paul A. Moore, Orchard View Manor, Boscawen, New Hampshire. He is now one-third owner and manager of the largest fruit orchard in that county and has a fine business. Mr. Moore is looking forward to a visit to the College in the summer.

John H. Culver, '29, is now connected with the General Motors Acceptance Corporation of Washington, D. C.

Dr. Oscar H. Fulcher, '22, is specializing in surgery at the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minnesota.

R. H. Owen, '21, (Pinkey) is principal of the High School at Crewe, Va.

Eldon Christopher is principal of Heathsville High School.

E. T. Justis, '29, member of the Board of Managers of the William and Mary Alumni Association, is athletic director and teacher in the Chester High School.

S. H. Greene, '20, is principal of the Chester High School. E. S. H. has promised us a good delegation of William and Mary folks at the Petersburg meeting, February 7th.

COLONEL WOODS AT CONVOCATION

The faculty and students of the College of William and Mary were addressed by Colonel Arthur Woods, of New York, at the last convocation. Colonel Woods delivered a very interesting address. Colonel Woods won a distinguished service medal in the World War; is a member of the General Education Board of New York, and financial representative of Mr. John D. Growth

The College of William and Mary, now in its two hundred thirty-seventh year of existence, has reached the hey-day of its growth—both in size and value as an educational institution—in the past decade. A student here today accepts its new buildings, new courses and modern facilities without the realization, that if he had attended William and Mary ten years ago, he would have been a component of a student body on a campus entirely different from the one of today, and with entirely different advantages. A phenomenal advancement has been witnessed since the session, 1920-21 when the college enrollment was 495 and the aggregate total, including summer school and extension students, was 1,094. In the 1928-29 term just passed, 1,428 students were registered for regular attendance while 831 summer students and 1,197 extension students brought the total to 3,632. These statistics show an increase of 332 per cent. since 1920. The percentage increase from 1919, when 763 were enrolled, is even greater.

Meanwhile William and Mary has matched strides with the most progressive of American colleges in the addition of new buildings. Eleven structures have been erected in the past nine years. These include practically all the buildings which comprise the various departments and schools of William and Mary: Blow gymnasium, Jefferson and Barrett, dormitories for women; Monroe and Old Dominion, dormitories for men; Washington and Rogers, academic buildings; Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall, the dining hall, which has been trebled in capacity; the power house, and the $100,000 addition to the library. The new college laundry is nearing completion and rapid advancement is being made on the foremost of the enterprises, the restoration of the Old Main Building. In addition one new fraternity and four new sorority houses have been added. The erection of a new woman's dormitory is contemplated for the ensuing year.

Courses have been added in the languages, social science and government and citizenship schools.

Famous as an educational institution during its unprecedented history, William and Mary is stepping into the foreground today as a rapidly growing college. Already emerged from the small college classification the future holds great promise for even more extensive development.

Yo-Yo's in Mexico

No better example than the "yo-yo", or "jo-jo" as it is called in Mexico City, can be offered to prove that the average man is a fadist. Not long ago the "yo-yo", as have many other fads, took the campus by storm. Participation was extensive in both sexes. Gradually it died out after a prosperous existence not only in college but in general life in Virginia. However, the "yo-yo" is still holding its own in foreign lands. It is reported from Mexico City that men of all ages and classes are being fascinated there by this modified top. Young business men, street boys, bus drivers and even foreign capitalists are seen at play with this toy, the handling of which demands considerable dexterity, it is said. And so, the "yo-yo" will go down in the ever increasing list of fads which have dominated the fanciful vagaries of the American mind.

THE FRONT PAGE

Canon City, Col.—While National Guardsmen and penitentiary guards manned guns on the prison walls to prevent the possibility of a break for liberty, firemen conquered a fire which started in the tailor shop of the Colorado State Penitentiary, scene of a bloody convict mutiny last October which cost thirteen lives. Warden Francis E. Crawford announced that he was investigating reports that the fire was set by convicts, but declared that there had been no attempt by prisoners to escape during the confusion attending the blaze.

Washington—Miss Margaret Couzens, aged 19, daughter of Senator James Couzens, of Michigan, eloped to Baltimore, where she was married to William Jeffries Chewning, aged 26, a teller of the Washington Loan and Trust Company. Senator Couzens, who is one of the wealthiest men in the country, was taken utterly by surprise, as was his wife. The Senator received his first intimation when a newspaper man informed him that a marriage license had been issued in Baltimore.

Budapest.—So fiercely did young working girls in a carpet factory in Szeged resist the efforts of a bailiff and his four assistants to seize the factory equipment for non-payment of taxes that three of them were seriously injured, while the bailiffs did not escape scotfree. When the latter appeared, the girls, most of whom were about 14, asked them to wait until the owner, named Gabor, appeared. The officers refused and a melee ensued. The bailiffs had their hair pulled out and their faces badly scratched, while three girls were taken to the hospital after having been badly kicked and trampled.

Chicago — Rum-runners along the northwest Canadian border have introduced into their illegal operations the airplane refuelling stunt which became popular last Summer at different cities throughout the United States. Reports that gypsy pilots and airplanes have engaged in this unusual form of liquor smuggling along the border have just been brought to Chicago.

Lisbon.—"Everybody must wear shoes," says a government decree, "because the sight of an unshod foot and leg is repulsive to many foreigners, is unhealthy and unesthetic. It furthermore suggests backwardness in the country." The barefoot custom is so strong, especially among peasants, that the enforcement is difficult.

New York.—Ninety-nine persons out of a hundred have the ability to peak musically and, to a certain point, beautifully, Mrs. Patrick Campbell, the noted English actress, declared at the Martin Beck Theatre in her lecture, "Beautiful Speech and the Art of Acting." Mrs. Campbell said that to speak well was simply a matter of choosing and controlling the vocal pitch and learning to pronounce the five vowels purely. The actress supplemented this information with a warning. Those who speak well, she said, must in England take the risk of being called "affected" and, in this country, of being known as "Anglo-maniacs."

London.— An American-Japanese baseball game, whereby the Americans hope to regain the prestige in their national sport lost to the Japanese during the 1927 conference at Geneva, will be an out-standing sidelight of the London naval conference. A group of American delegates and officials, including a number who were at Geneva when the Americans were trounced at their own game, formed themselves into a "policy-steering committee" to plan the game.

THIS DEPARTMENT

Now, there is another person writing this column—no good, but trying to give his readers an interesting column. We have changed the stock-holding this being because DAN carried his name with him. Dan was a good editor and one of the best editors The Flat Hat has ever had. In fact, we think is one of the best that we will ever have. Dan is now located outside of old college grounds, and in the big world working for himself. May he have all the success possible!

A few days ago we received another letter from Silent C. He wrote two or three pages, but now that exams are over it is a little out of date, we will just quote his last few words.

TO BILL

Brush it up Bill if you can use it. Some co-ed may see the humor in part and die laughing. Letting us have one less female to contend with would be better for us all.

Next week I will send you an idea that may start a Civil War but you should worry, just blame it on me if you care to, and nobody will know except you and S. C. himself.

Hoping I'm of some value, I remain,

SILENT C.

We appreciate the letter Silent C, and will expect from time to time a letter from you. It will be greatly appreciated.

Now that fraternity rushing is progressing, both men and women would like to give you non-greek letter boys and girls a little advice. Don't let them kid you, just go ahead and take the one you like best. Yes, I know it is hard to choose, but go easy, and don't forget we hope you the best of luck in your choice.

Say, why don't you ask my girl for a little advice?

She belongs to the Women's Missionary Society and has led several programs for them.

She lives just around the corner, about three and two-thirds miles.

Gosh, she would be glad to help you. I belong to the Bosh and Bosh, Inc. and would also be glad to aid.

See me at the Flat Hat office or the hardware store down on Lover's Lane.

A little poetry to the rushees should be sufficient:

MY CHOICE

Every frat man tells me I am the best, but I'm not much different from the rest: They think I'm right dumb, but I know Exactly the way I think I will go.

We'll take the one that has the most fun So we can jump right in and spend their mon, I will soon be a pledge, and put on a hedge Just to say that I am a true and lively pledge.

Oh boy, I must be a poet! By the way, have you received your seed? Congress knows your needs and if you do not get them in the next mail, just take it as a manifestation against unfriendly disposition.

THE MAILS MUST GO THROUGH!!!!

Next we fall to my girl and her room-mate. No, they tell me I shouldn't write that, because it would cause one of those embarrassing moments. They are nice girls though, and let me tell you I know three or four who could love them.

Then J. D. came along and said, "who did that—let's step aside."

The printer just told me to go easy with this bunk as the paper is about filled up, but Mrs. Jackson, with her saxon says keep up the boloney!

I'll write just a little more, and let it go to press with the rest. Really, I didn't know this column was so darn long. I've been writing for "omteen" hours and have only got three typewritten pages.

I bet those boys on that South American expedition find mosquitoes so big that we'd think they were horses! Maybe they'll help the party through the marshes. No foolin' tho', I wish my mamma would have let me hit those wide open trails, 'cause they sure will have fun when they get back in dear old Williamsburg.

We will never hear the end of that story, but we hope Judy has a good time, because he is one of The Flat Hat's best friends.

Recently Bob went on a hunting trip!

An old man was explaining to all the men the good qualities of that country. The men passed a cotton patch, and Bob asked the man a very simple question.

Bob says, "Pop, have you ever seen any boll weevils?"

Pop says, "Listen here, gentlemen, we have bears, squirrels, wildcats, all kinds of birds, and a lot of rabbits, but I have never heard of the boll weevil. In fact, I have never been hunting for any of them, and don't believe you will find them in the woods either."

Now, laugh, because that is supposed to be funny. I thought it was.

Look out, Irish! Don't fall down those steps for the third time. Go easy, old man, and stay down on the first floor with us.

Well, that is all I know, but just be good, and we will promise to have a better column next week.

Be good, and may your pies not come too hard this week!

BILL.

OPEN FORUM LETTERS

"Duc" Wants Less Interruption From Fraternity Men

Editor of The Flat Hat, Sir:

I would like to take this opportunity of commenting on the manners of some of our fraternity men on the campus. I am sure that this is not done intentionally but is merely a 'slip' on the part of certain students. I am a freshman who is being rushed by several fraternities on the campus and I have noticed that if I am standing in the College Shop talking to the boys of one fraternity some members of other fraternities will interrupt the conversation and try to take me to their houses. This has not only happened to myself but also to other freshmen who have spoken about it. I am sure, as I said before that this is only a slip, but still it is bad form and should not be done. Several of us think that if we are being held in conversation by members of a fraternity other men should not interfere or try to take us up 'to the house'. If upperclassmen will recognize this condition and make attempts to correct it, I feel positive that better feelings will be held by all.

"A Duc."

"A Pedestrian" Wants More Stores On Clay Walks

Editor of The Flat Hat, Sir:

I have noticed that now during the rainy season the peninsula dormitories, fraternity houses and boarding houses are filled with mud. Mud that accumulates on shoes of students who traverse the walks of the college. Of course some of this is gathered by people who 'cut' campus. This should not be. Still on the other hand several of our walks—I say our because this college belongs to the students who have it in their power to make it something of which to be proud—are not in condition. Most of them are made of brick but some of the clay walks do not have enough crushed stones in them to prevent them from becoming muddy. It would not take much of this stone to correct this condition and it would improve the looks of our campus and our college homes.

Yours for better walks,

A Pedestrian.

DOWN THE LINE

By CURLY

We have often wondered what sports celebrities do in their "off seasons", so for the past few weeks we have been scanning the newspapers for information, and here are the occupations of some of the shining lights of the sport world when they are not busy making material for sports page headlines:

Bob Zuppke, Illinois head football coach, paints pictures.—Young Stribling heavy weight boxer, flies his aeroplanes.—Burleigh Grimes, Pirate pitcher, has a stock farm.—Gar Wood, speedboat racer, makes motorboats.

Lou Gehrig, Yankee first baseman, works in Wall Street.—William T. Tilden II, tennis star, is an actor.—Dazzy Vance, Brooklyn pitcher, sells real estate.—Lou Magnolia, noted fight referee, runs a sports enterprise in Florida.

Benny Bengough, Yankee catcher, is a musician and a politician.—Waite Hoyt, Yankee pitcher, runs his undertaking establishment and appears in vaudeville.—Primo Carnera, heavy weight boxer, is an amateur cartoonist.—Bobby Jones, golfer extraordinary, studies law.

Eddie Roush, Giant's outfielder, pitches hay in southern Indiana.—Frank McLaughlin, wrestler, is a Washington cop.—Knut Hansen, heavy weight boxer, is an artist.—Burt Shotton, Phillies manager, is a champion marksman.—Stanislaus Zbyszko, wrestler, manages his real estate properties.

William Muldoon, New York boxing commissioner, runs a health farm.—Charley Gehring, Detroit infielder, works in a clothing store.—Knut Rockne, Fighting Irish mentor, makes speeches.—Charley Grimm, Cubs' infielder is a painter.—Art Shires, White Sox infielder, fights (make that past tense).—Biff Jones, 1929 Army football coach, is a captain of artillery.—Babe Ruth, Yankee home run artist, takes life easy.

Rumors and reports that baseball is on a decline have brought an earnest and convincing denial from Cullen Cain, publicity director of the National League.

Every fact and figure, he said "utterly refutes" such assertions.

Cain points to some cold statistics:

"During the past three years the National League drew 15,000,000 paid attendances to its ball games. In the previous three year period it drew less than 12,000,000. In the three year period of ten years ago it drew less than 9,000,000.

"The same growth applies to the American League."

The American Legion baseball tournament was cited as an example of the hold on boys enjoyed by baseball.

"In this tournament, which was held all of last summer for the junior championship, more than 300,000 boys took part in the games," Cain said. "This was an increase of three to one over the tournament of three years ago."

In the last issue we summed up the varsity's athletic record for 1929. This time we are concerned with the freshmen. Their record is exceptionally good, for out of thirty-eight starts, they only lost one athletic contest. This gave them a percentage of .974 for the year.

The year at a glance:

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Basketball	16	0	1.000
Track	4	0	1.000
Baseball	13	0	1.000
Football	4	1	.800
Total	37	1	.974

The varsity and freshmen basketball teams left yesterday for their annual invasion of western Virginia. On this trip each of the teams meet five opponents in six days.

Beginning tonight and continuing until next Wednesday the varsity plays Washington and Lee, V. M. I., V. P. I., Roanoke College, and Bridgewater in the order named.

During the same time the freshmen meet the Washington and Lee, V. M. I., V. P. I., and Roanoke College first year quints, and end their jaunt next Wednesday with a clash with Augusta Military Academy.

This week's athletic card is quite full. During the week, there are eleven basketball games scheduled. One of them is to be played in Blow Gym. In addition the wrestlers have two meets, and the swimming team meets Washington and Lee, and Catholic U.

At a recent gathering of oldtime football players they were telling each other how rough the game was in the golden '90s. "I remember in one game," said an old tackle, "I came out of a scrimmage and half my mustache was missing."

"If I had been in that game," replied one of his old opponents, "it would have been all missing."

The New York Times prints some news which supports a pet opinion which we have held for some time.

"Ten out of seventeen football officials fail in examination on rules." The questions weren't tricky, but the rules involved were so foggy with words that the officials couldn't decide the questions rightly.

William and Mary may have new bleachers, or rather a steel and concrete grandstand some time in the near future. This is just a rumor, but we hope it proves to be true.

So far this season the varsity basketeers have won four frays and lost an equal number. Their wins include victories over Delaware, Richmond and the University of Virginia.

INDIANS DEFEAT

SPIDERS, 31-22

Tribe Outplays Richmond To Win Easily Over Ancient Rivals

Saturday, January 18, the William and Mary Indians defeated the University of Richmond Spiders here, 31-22. This was the first of a series of two court games between the two ancient rivals.

The visitors were outplayed from the opening whistle. Light scored first for the Indians with a free throw. Eacho followed shortly with another. Frank Mozeleski broke this tie with a pretty shot from under the basket. From then on the Indians held the lead, although Richmond threatened several times in the first half. At half time the score stood 12-9 in favor of the tribe.

The Indians entered the second half a rejuvenated team, and in this period completely outplayed their opponents. The final score was 31-22.

Silverman was high scorer for the Indians. Sundin was outstanding at guard for the Indians, although every man on both teams played fine ball until the final whistle. Eacho, with five points, lead the scoring for the Spiders.

Tentative Schedule For Turflifters Show Nine Matches; Three at Yorktown

Golf, the newest of William and Mary's intercollegiate sports, will have a schedule composed of nine matches with various colleges in southern United States according to the schedule released by Manager "Dick" Mallowney yesterday.

The team this year is composed of four men, veterans from last year's undefeated team. They are Captain Graven, Wilcox, Mallowney, and Haspel. Practice sessions are scheduled to get under way in a few weeks, weather permitting. Every student with golfing ability is urged to report for these practices, for it is hoped to increase the personnel of the team to six.

The season starts early in April with a match with Georgetown on the Yorktown links, and closes sometime in May with a match with Georgia Tech in Richmond. Other schools included on the schedule are North Carolina State, University of North Carolina, Duke University, Washington and Lee, and Virginia.

The complete schedule follows:

- Apr. 5—Georgetown, here.
- April 10—North Carolina State, there.
- Apr. 11—University of North Carolina, there.
- Apr. 12—Duke University, there.
- May 3—University of Rich., here.
- May 4—George Washington, here.
- May 16—Wash. and Lee, there.
- May 17—University of Va., there.
- May 24—Georgia Tech, Richmond.

CHI DELTA PHI ELECTS

Jean Newkirk, '32, of Philadelphia, Penn., formerly vice president of Chi Delta Phi, national literary fraternity, was elected president of the club last week. Miss Newkirk succeeds Lucy Nottingham, of Norfolk.

Edwina Carver, of Alexandria, was elected vice president. Initiation was held Tuesday night in the Chi Omega rooms. Those initiated were: Lyndell Pickett, New Haven, Conn., Mary Pyle (Mrs.) Richmond, Mary Parry, Scranton, Penn., Ann Brewer, New Haven, Conn., Georgia Belle Bennett, Richmond, Clare Hargrove, Mountclair, N. J.

Other members of Chi Delta Phi include Mrs. William Hodges, Miss Althea Hunt, DeEtte Jones, Ree Garrett, Elizabeth Lawder, Julia Coleman, and Patruchia Clarke.

FLYING KEYDETS OPPOSE INDIANS TOMORROW NIGHT

Fighting Virginians Play Techmen Monday Night at Blacksburg In Annual Fray

FACE ROANOKE TUESDAY

End Jaunt With Game With Bridgewater Eagles Wednesday; Five Games In Six Days

Yesterday afternoon the varsity basketball team, accompanied by the freshman quint, left for Lexington where they will open their annual invasion of western Virginia against the Washington and Lee Generals tonight.

The Generals are at present leading the state and the Southern conference in basketball standing and have been traveling at a fast clip all season. Williams, the present high point scorer in the state, will probably oppose the Indians at center for the Generals. Cox, Wood, Barasch, and Smith may be the other starters for the Washington and Lee team.

Tomorrow night, the Fighting Virginians, remain in Lexington for a game with the Flying Keydets from V. M. I. The Keydets have a fast, well-developed team that will undoubtedly give the Indians some opposition. Coach Raferty will probably start Scott, Dunn, McGlone, Brown, and Mergenhausen against the Williamsburg team.

After a rest over Sunday Coach Kellison's outfit travels to Blacksburg where V. P. I. will act as hosts Monday night. The Techmen, after getting off to rather a poor start, have picked up considerably, but the Indians have a fairly good chance to get even for the defeat handed them by the Gobblers on the gridiron last fall. Coach Warren has quite a wealth of material to send against the invaders and Looney, Spear, Owens, Jenkins, Amole, Baker, and Moore may see service against the Redskins before the fray is over.

Tuesday finds the local quint in Salem where they will be the attraction in Roanoke College's new gymnasium. The Maroons present a team that is fast, well balanced, and well coached, and a few weeks ago dedicated that same new gymnasium with a victory over the V. P. I. Gobblers. The Maroons have a varsity squad of fifteen players with seven of this number rating the title of "veterans". Rutherford, Bell, Williams, Goode, Hundley, Gallands, and Banner, who have all faced the Indians before, will undoubtedly see service in the game Tuesday night.

The Bridgewater Eagles are at home to the William and Mary quint in their last game of this western jaunt Wednesday. The Eagles are right up among the first in the state court circles this season, and the tribe can expect plenty of opposition from them.

Daily practice sessions during the exams have kept the Kellisonmen in shape, and many deficiencies, noted in early games have been ironed out and the team is working together like one smooth machine. It has been weakened, however, by McMennamin, varsity center, leaving school at mid terms.

CORNICK IS IMPROVING

Sue Cornick, versatile athlete, is recuperating from a broken ankle sustained in a recent basketball practice. The mishap occurred when Sue, shooting a basket, twisted her ankle and fell.

Indianettes Open Season With Fredericksburg Here On Tuesday

UNDEFEATED SQUAW TEAM OUT FOR WIN IN OPENING FRAY

Varsity to Face Strong Foe In Jefferson Gym Here Tuesday

HARD GAME EXPECTED

No Predictions or Lineups Available; Meet Sweet Briar February 15

On Tuesday night, February 11, the sextette from the Fredericksburg State Normal School will invade Williamsburg to open the girls' varsity basketball season. The game is scheduled for Jefferson gym at 7:30 p. m. Last year on their trip, the William and Mary team stopped over in Fredericksburg and the "Teachers" there nearly got the best of them, losing by only two points. This year they come to our campus with the determination to halt the long row of victories that the co-eds have added to their credit during the past four years. Everything points to an exceptionally hotly contested fray.

William and Mary, captained by Agnes Winn, is just as determined to continue their list of victories as Fredericksburg is to halt them. The girls have been working hard since Christmas, practicing every day and keeping strict training rules. They are all in prime condition.

The center position will probably be held by Vivian Dreyer. She is an experienced athlete and is a capable player. On the hockey team she is to be remembered as stalwart goalie. Others who are making a strong bid for that same position include Edith Ford, and Dunleavy, a freshman.

Side center will be filled by either Charlotte King or Lee Chewning. Ford plays well at side center, too. In the guard position Agnes Winn and Lois Roberts will probably bear the brunt of the game. Chewning and Avery Bibee are working well in this same position.

Pearl Young, Anne Sollenberger, Barbara Wyatt and Avery Bibee will try their hand at tossing the ball through the basket.

On February 14 the girls leave for Sweet Briar where they will play the Briarites the following day.

MAURY DOWNS DUCS

On January 17 the Little Indians dropped a hard-fought game to the Maury High outfit by a score of 31-25. It was the initial loss of the season for the frosh, they having won three straight before the Maury reverse.

Wally Lynn again proved to be the star of the game, he accounting for 17 points by means of eight baskets and one foul. Johnson was outstanding for the visitors.

The lineups are as follows:

PAPOOSES ACCOMPANY VARSITY ON WESTERN JOURNEY

DUCCESSES FACE ST. CATHERINES

Co-ed Freshman Team Opens Season In Richmond Tomorrow

The first girls' basketball game will be played by the Freshmen against St. Catherine's of Richmond, on Saturday, February 8 in Richmond. This is the first basketball game that has ever been played between the teams representing these two institutions. In the fall, however, St. Catherine's hockey team met the second team and were defeated.

Although the final line-up for the team has not been definitely decided the positions will be filled by some of the following candidates: forwards, Hall, Thomas, Cubberley; guards, Booth, Weaver, Thomas, Otis; center, Dunleavy; side center, Stutz, Wilcox, Levinson.

The freshmen seem to have a strong team and a victory is expected.

Other games for the freshmen are being scheduled, with Hampton High School and the William and Mary Extension School.

GRAPPLERS LOSE LAST TWO MEETS

Matmen to Meet Medical College of Virginia and Richmond Y This Week

Several weeks ago, the V. M. I. necktwisters took the William and Mary grapplers into camp by the score of 32-0. The Indians lost every event, four going by the fall route and four by time advantages.

Last Saturday in Blow Gym both the varsity and freshmen teams gave the University of Virginia matmen a hard tussle before each of them yielded to them. The score of both matches was 21-13.

The green, gold, and silver wrestlers showed their most strength in the lighter weights, but as a team exhibited some of the best wrestling ever witnessed in Blow Gym.

In the freshman fray, Beal in the 115 pound class won his event by a fall, as did Murphy in the 155 pound class. Mitchell, another yearling, added the three additional points by a time decision in the 165 pound class.

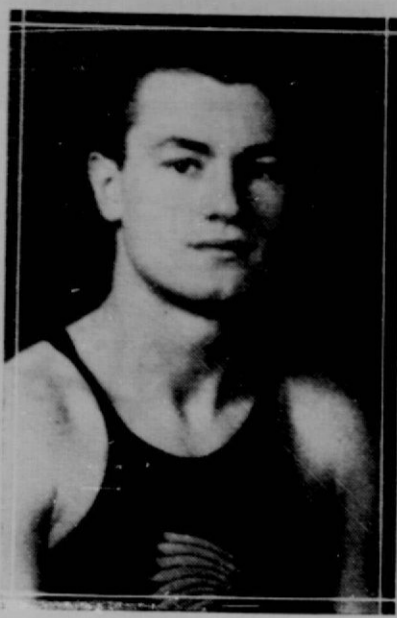

Both Cuddihy in the 125 pound class, and Grover in the 145 pound class won for the William and Mary varsity by falls. Pennington in the unlimited event won his match by a time decision.

Tonight in Blow Gym the college necktwisters are scheduled to meet the Medical College of Virginia Grapplers in the second home match of the season. This is the first time that the Indians and Sawbones have met on the mat, and the outcome cannot be predicted. This meet is scheduled to begin at 8:00 p. m.

Next week two meets are scheduled with the Richmond Y. M. C. A. The first comes on Wednesday and is to be held in Richmond. The other is scheduled for Saturday night in Blow Gym. Last season the Y boys defeated "Red" Wilson's outfit 20-6, but with the added strength this year, the visitors may find a difficult task before them when they meet the Indians next week.

London.—Lord Riddell's newspaper, The News of the World, announces that a cut of 10,000 men in the size of the British Army is being demanded by the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Philip Snowden, who hopes to save £2,000,000 by the reduction.

WILLIAM AND MARY CAPTAINS

MITCHELL MOZELESKI
Captain of Basketball

Introducing to those unfortunate few who as yet have not made the acquaintance of this Philadelphian—not a descendant of one of the victims of Samson's jaw-bone massacre—but a Camden, New Jersey Philadelphian—Captain Mitchell Mozeleski, William and Mary's 1930 basketball leader.

"Mitch" was born November 25—two days before Thanksgiving—1908; all of which goes to make him just arrived upon the ripe age of twenty-one. He is unmarried and free, also. The majority of his life at present is spent either upon the basketball floor at Blow Gymnasium, or upon the davenport listening to the new Kentwater-att at the S. P. E. residence near Toano. He smokes Lucky Strike cigarettes (if you happen to have that kind), and doesn't drink—making up for the latter deficiency by the unusually collegiate cap which he wears on rainy days.

Seriously though, our hero, after going through the usual existence of a city youngster, entered high school in Camden. At that moment his great athletic career started. In his first year at high school he made the football, basketball and track teams; and in his junior year added to these accomplishments by getting on the baseball team, to make him a four-letter man. All together he garnered fourteen letters while preparing for his collegiate career, which he is now in the midst of.

Entering William and Mary in 1927, he assumed the usual green tie and duc cap—other reports to the contrary—and then proceeded to make the varsity football team, basketball five and track squad in his frosh year. He repeated the performance last year, adding the varsity nine to his list, and has been running on schedule so far this year. He, in the mean time, has made Omicron Delta Kappa and Kappa Phi Kappa, besides being a full-fledged, dyed-in-the-wool S. P. E.

He likes to read exciting novels, smoke a corn-cob pipe, drive an old Ford, talk to good-looking girls, and listen to Coon-Saunders over the radio. He dislikes long skirts, low grades, static, flat tires, losing basketball games and the amount of Easter vacation given us this year.

All-in-all, "Mitch" is one of the most popular men on the campus (both men and women included here), and is certainly deserving any and all honors that have been conferred upon him. Our best regards to Captain Mozeleski and may he and his basketballers win the remainder of their court contests!

TANKMEN BOW TO U. OF VIRGINIA

Swimmers to Meet Washington and Lee Mermen in Blow Pool Tomorrow

Last Friday both the varsity and freshman swimming teams traveled to Charlottesville, to be defeated, the former 43-23, and the latter 37-28.

Although defeated, the tankmen made a fine showing against their stronger opponents, and the results of both meets were not known until the last event was finished.

Captain Phillips coped first for the Indians in both the 50 and the 100-yard dashes. In the 100-yard event he lowered the university's pool record one second. His time for the century race was 59.3 seconds.

Munnell finished second for the green, gold, and silver in the 440-yard swim, while Van Schiver and Leech placed third in the back stroke and the breast stroke respectively. Virginia copped the relay, and Leech, and Cuddihy gained a few more points by placing second and third respectively in the dives. The final score was 43-23.

The freshman meet was even closer than the varsity. Messer took first for the yearlings in the 50-yard dash, and Christenson placed third in the 100. Casey, a new arrival, copped third in the 220-yard swim, first in the breast stroke, and first in the dives. In the latter he score a total of 104.34 for his dives, an almost perfect record.

In the backstroke, Christenson finished third for the Ducs and Messer took third in the breast stroke. Meade placed second in the dives. Virginia freshmen won the relay. The final score of the freshman meet was 37-28.

Tomorrow the tankmen, under the leadership of Captain Phillips are scheduled to meet the Washington and Lee Generals in the initial meet in Blow pool this season. The Generals defeated the Redskins last season, and are said to have even a stronger team this year.

Next Thursday, the swimming team leaves for Washington where on Friday night they swim at Catholic University. From there they travel to the University of Delaware, who will be hosts to them the following night.

DUCS MEET LITTLE GENERALS TONIGHT

Yearlings Meet V. P. I., V. M. I. and Roanoke Yearlings; Also Play A. M. A.

TEAM IN GOOD SHAPE

Freshmen Start Yesterday On Longest Trip Ever Taken By First Year Team

"Cy" Young's freshman hard wood artists left with the varsity for an invasion of the western part of the state. The team will be gone a week and meet five foes in that time. This is the longest trip that any William and Mary Freshman team has ever taken, and the yearlings run up against some of the hardest games of the season on this jaunt.

Beginning tonight, the first year men play the Little Generals in Lexington. The V. M. I. Rats will be their opponents tomorrow night in the same city.

Following a rest on Sunday, they travel to Blacksburg where they meet the Little Gobblers from V. P. I. Tuesday night they will be in Salem. Here they will either play Salem High School or the Roanoke College freshmen.

While the varsity are engaging Bridgewater in Harrisonburg on Wednesday, the yearlings meet the Augusta Military Academy varsity in Staunton.

The first year quint will have plenty of difficulty with all of these teams and will be very fortunate if they return to Williamsburg with five scalps under their belts.

The team has been weakened somewhat by the loss of several promising young court artists, but constant drill and new recruits have brought it back to its old strength. This is the first time that a William and Mary freshman basketball team has played any other college freshman team.

Next Saturday, the Boys' Club of Richmond, will be the attraction for the Papooses in Blow Gym.

DR. WILLIAMS MAKES ANNOUNCEMENTS IN REGARD TO TOUR

Party to Depart from U. S. About
Middle of June and Return
In August

Students of the college are showing great interest in the William and Mary Study tour in Europe, according to Professor Arthur G. Williams. A large number of people are expected to make the trip, several already being registered.

The trip is planned not only for pleasure but also for those who wish to study languages in Europe. The group will consist of carefully selected, congenial members who wish a well planned trip. In general the trip will consist of about a week in England during which London, Eton College, Oxford University, and the Shakespeare country will be visited. In order to give an opportunity for study, five weeks will be spent in Paris. The students will be registered at the Sorbonne, the College of Liberal Arts in the University of Paris under the personal supervision of the William and Mary Director. Credit will be given for work of college grade successfully completed in France. Special arrangements will be made for those who do not care to spend so much time in France. A tour through Germany, Belgium, and Holland including stops at Verdun, Heidelberg, Frankfurt, Cologne, Brussels, and Rotterdam will consume about ten days.

Although no college credit will be given, members of the party will have the opportunity to study French and German on the steamer. The aim of these lessons is purely practical, the teaching of a number of words and phrases useful on a first visit to France and Germany.

The group sails from New York about the middle of June and returns about the middle of August.

Students who are interested in attending summer school in Europe should confer with Arthur G. Williams during the next two weeks.

H2E CIRCUS TO BE GIVEN ON MARCH 7

March 7 has been definitely set as the date for the annual H2E Circus. The circus, remembered from last year as a screamingly funny, three-ring affair with animal acts, ballet dances, trapeze performers, and gymnasts, is said to be already well under way. A host of new acts have been devised to compete with the old favorites, and huge fun is rumored. Side shows will operate; pop-corn men will go their rounds; and a fancy swimming meet will serve as grand finale. Nancy Johnston, as president of the H2E Club, is directly in charge of the plans.

MID-WEEK SERVICE HELD BY Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A.'s first mid-week service last night in the "Y" Reading Room at 7 o'clock. Professor H. C. Krebs, of the Education department, spoke on "A Red-blooded Religion". During the talk Mr. Krebs showed that the Christian faith is not a religion of weaklings but the faith of strong, red-blooded men.

These mid-week meetings will be held each Thursday night in the "Y" room, at which time some well known man will talk. Mr. M. T. Hipps has already secured several prominent business men from Richmond to come down. All men students are invited to attend these meetings.

Virginia Arthur whose works were praised in 'The Boston College Stylus' contributes a thoughtful 'bit of verse in her poem, "Message".

We find a new writer in Jeanne Rose who has written two pieces for this issue, "Far Off" and "The Temple". Beauties of nature as well as philosophy are very well expressed.

Although Peter Craven, that mythical author, has not sent us the Essays of Marcameron we find a title "Des Mots" which by the way must be pronounced the French way and not according to the spelling. I take the privilege of reproducing it here because of our own feelings about love.

Over the Horizon

HERE they come—the nucleus of an all-electric merchant marine. Yesterday, they were a dream. To-day, they are well over the horizon, linking the ports of the east and west coasts with fortnightly service. The goal of the Panama Pacific Line is to build three more turbine-electric ships, thus enabling weekly New York-Frisco sailings.

Even now, the three liners, California, Virginia, and Pennsylvania, constitute the largest fleet of turbine-electric commercial ships in the world.

Besides propelling these ships, electricity hoists freight, raises anchors, mans pumps, turns rudders, drives winches, and warps the vessels into their berths. It lights lamps, spins fans, operates elevators, cools and cooks food. Its magic touch is apparent on every deck.

The planning, production, and distribution of such equipment has been largely the responsibility of college-trained men who are working with General Electric and who have aided in bringing these ships over the horizon.

 sion in Barrie's "The Twelve Pound Look", given here last fall, holds the leading feminine role as Amanda Afflick. George Diggs returns to the William and Mary stage this year as Horace Greensmith in "Op-O'-Me-Thumb". As Petruchio in "The Taming of the Shrew", Mr. Diggs was enthusiastically received last spring and his success was repeated during the summer school when he held the lead in "The Youngest". Patruchia Clarke, who scored in "The Mollusc" and as Katherine, in the "Taming of the Shrew", is cast as Celeste; Harriet Smith as Rose; Betty Hugo as Madame Jeanne Marie Napoleon de Gallifet Didier; and Jean Upsall as Clem (Mrs.) Galloway.

Assisting with the direction is Eugene Pleninger and those in charge of the various committees are: properties, Harriet Smith; make-up, Mildred Matier; costumes, Mary Parry; settings, Catherine Hasseltine; business manager, Marshall Baggett assisted by Truman C. Welling.

 previous seasons. Estelle Foreman, who will be remembered as last year's fiery freshman, has one varsity debate to her credit—that with the University of South Carolina, held last April in Richmond. Julia Coleman and Virginia Arthur, though both upperclassmen, are making their debuts as William and Mary speakers.

The team for this year, for the third season, under Helen Maffett's managership, includes eight members.

Pipes save no midnight oil

IF PIPES made the man, anybody at all could rise in the world just by smoking a few pounds of Edgeworth. But pipes do not make the man.

Men make the pipe—most men do. Somewhat depends on the individual, more on the pipe, and the tobacco is most important of all. Things must be congenial.

Edgeworth is a congenial tobacco, cool, slow-burning, fully flavored. Edgeworth has poise, kindly good nature, real tobacco personality—Edgeworth welcomes new friends. Many a good man has been pledged to pipes by Edgeworth alone.

Like to meet Edgeworth? Just ask with the coupon—and the postman will bring your first few pipefuls of the genuine, three years seasoned if it's a day. Our treat, if you please.

Others have found Edgeworth and quit their discontent.

So may it be with you!

EDGEWORTH

Edgeworth is a careful blend of good tobaccos—selected especially for pipe-smoking. Its quality and flavor never change. Buy it anywhere—“Ready Rubbed” or “Plug Slice”—15¢ pocket package to pound humid-dor tin.

among them Margaret Morris and Sylvia Margolis, who returned to school this past week after a term's absence. Miss Morris, for the fourth year a varsity debater here, has represented the school against Temple, Hood, Westhampton, and Farmville, and is forecast to take an active part in this year's schedule. Miss Margolis, of last year's freshman harvest, is remembered for her work against Farmville and the University of South Carolina.

These girls, with their colleagues, are slated for the following schedule:

Temple University, in Philadelphia, March 8.

Westhampton, dual here and there, March 14 (Pending).

University of South Carolina, in Columbia, April 4.

ADDITION TO STAFF

Clare Hargrove, '31, of Montclair, N. J., and a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma, has been added to the Flat Hat staff. Miss Hargrove will serve on the staff as a typist.

REGISTRATION INCREASES

The February registration at William and Mary has brought seven four new students, thirty-seven men and thirty-seven women. Of the women, nineteen are transfers from other colleges and eighteen are freshmen. Of the men twenty-three are transfers and fourteen are freshmen according to H. L. Bridges, Registrar.

This is the largest number of new students admitted at the February registration in the history of the college.
