

Give Generously to The Campus Chest Goal $750

THE FLAT HAT

COLLEGE OF WILLIAM AND MARY

VOLUME XXXVI, NO. 18

COLLEGE OF WILLIAM AND MARY, WILLIAMSBURG, VIRGINIA

Tuesday, February 19, 1952

Charlie Spivak to Sound Trumpet For Midwinters

Co-captains Bill Chambers (right) and Joe Agee crown 1952 Basketball Queen, Helen Barber.

Helen Barber Captures 1952 Basketball Crown

The coronation ceremony of William and Mary's 1952 Basketball Queen was held Saturday night between halves of the William and Mary - University of Maryland game. Last year's Head Cheerleader, Bob Boyd, welcomed the spectators on behalf of the Varsity Club.

Boyd announced that the "penny per vote" contest had ended after two weeks with a count of 21,700 votes and that the $217.00 proceeds would be used by the Varsity Club for some worthy project.

Boyd added that from the fifteen candidates the twelve members of the Court, two Maids of Honor, and one Queen would be introduced in alphabetical order and escorted by members of the Varsity Club.

The twelve Members of the Court and their escorts were: Evelyn Abdill, Tom Lewis; Peggy Bunting, Bob Mitchell; Connie Cox, Tom Riennerth; Audrey Doll, Ed Aubin; Joan Farinholi, Hunt Brown; Marie Hasher, Jim Stone; Ann Parker, Tommy Boys; Sally Stoker, Julius Poms; Pat Thaden, Sonny Cowling; Alene Tracey, John Barry; Peggy Williams, Ted Filer, Mary Alice Woods, Jim Shatynski.

Donna Melnick and Caroline Young, escorted by Ed Mioduszewski and Scotty Petrequin, were announced as the two Maids of Honor.

As the members of royalty stood waiting, Her Majesty Miss Helen

TRI DELT SCHOLARSHIP

Delta Delta Delta urges that all students interested in the sorority's scholarship get applications at Dean Jeffers' office now. The applications must be returned to the Dean's office on or before Wednesday, February 27.

The Alpha Mu chapter of Tri Delt here at William and Mary biannually offers this scholarship of $150 to all women students.

Bob Hackler Announces Annual Dances Will Star Spivak, Clement, March 14, 15

By Carolyn Ash
Flat Hat News Writer

Charlie Spivak, "The Man Who Plays The Sweetest Trumpet In The World" and his top-flight orchestra will take the bandstand at Blow Gymnasium on March 14, to play for the annual Mid-Winters formal dance.

Spivak's eight-year old band has rocketed to topflight stature so rapidly that it now ranks among the kings in the entertainment world. They have appeared at such outstanding places as the Shamrock Hotel in Houston, the Meadowbrook at Cedar Grove, the Paramount Theater in New York, the Palladium in Hollywood, and have two movies, "Pin-Up Girl" and "Follow The Girls" to their credit. At the Cafe Rouge of the Hotel Statler, Spivak succeeded in breaking Glenn Miller and Jimmy Dorsey's records for capacity crowds.

Featured performers with the Spivak orchestra include: Lynn Roberts, lovely song stylist; Bobby Rickey, sensational young drummer; and Buddy Yannon, "The Gentleman from New Jersey."

Downbeat Magazine chose the Spivak group as the top sweet band in the country. The trumpet is featured in nearly all of his numbers, and he leans toward ballads and soft, darcible melodies.

Theme Chosen

A Paris theme has been chosen for the dance by the decorations committee, headed by Joyce Miller. Her committee promises a unique and atmospheric setting for the sweet music of Charlie Spivak.

Entertainment which will follow the Paris theme will be provided at the intermissions of the Friday night dance. Another added attraction this year will be free refreshments, to be served at the formal dance.

Saturday night Bill Clement and
(Continued on Page 12)

Chandler To Speak To Tidewater, Wythe Law Club Groups

President Alvin D. Chandler will address an open group of college students Thursday evening at 7:30 p. m. in Washington 200. The meeting will be sponsored by the Tidewater Student-Alumni Association and will be held in conjunction with the Wythe Law Club meeting usually scheduled at that time.

The president is expected to deal with several matters which have been ambiguous to the students in hopes of reaching a closer understanding of the college's present status and also to make known his plans for the future.

A question period will be held at the conclusion of the president's remarks. The meeting is open to anyone who wishes to attend.

Edwards To Speak

"Australia's Foreign Policy" will be the topic of a lecture by Dean Edwards, on Tuesday, February 26 at 8:00 p. m. in the Apollo Room. This is the first of a series of three lectures to be given by the Australian exchange teacher.

National Sigma Nu Reinstates Chapter At W & M Saturday

The Epsilon Iota chapter of Sigma Nu will be reactivated here on Saturday, February 23, taking the place of Sigma Rho, the only local fraternity on campus.

Activities this week end will include a smoker on Friday night at the fraternity lodge for members and visitors. On Saturday morning, pledging will be held in the Pagoda Room, followed by initiation in the afternoon. A big banquet will be given at 7:00 p. m. that night in the Cafeteria, in honor of the new initiates. State Senator Fenwick will be the principal speaker.

The new chapter will also be honored with a special church service in Wren Chapel Sunday morning, an open house is scheduled at the Sigma Nu lodge, with both faculty and students of the college cordially invited.

Many national officers of Sigma Nu will be on hand, as well as representatives from other chapters all over the United States. President Chandler will be a special guest.

Present officers of Sigma Rho are Jim Smith, President; Dave Smith, secretary; and Bill Ctrum, treasurer.

Sigma Nu is one of the largest national fraternities, with well over one hundred chapters.

Charlie Spivak

Students to Elect New Vice-President

Elections will be held Wednesday, February 20, in Phi Beta Kappa Hall for the office of vice-president of the student body. Balloting will take place from 12 noon to 6 p. m., and all classes participate in this election.

Because Larry Bell, who formerly filled this position has left school, it was necessary to call a special election at this time.

Candidates who have petitioned to run for office are George Emerson, Jerry Patterson, Robert Ses-Richard Hutchenson, Robert Ses-
(Continued on Page 12)

Omicron Delta Kappa Elects Eight New Members; Initiation Scheduled Thursday

New members have recently been elected to Omicron Delta Kappa, national honorary leadership society. Recently tapped for membership were Ronald Barnes, Bradford Besse, Joseph Cowan, John Dalton, Joseph Ferenczi, Gordon Mason, McCall Richey and Layton Zimmer.

This year ODK will tap twice, both now and in the spring, according to announcement by Harry

Wirth, president. The purpose of tapping new members now is so that deserving seniors may have the benefit of several meetings before graduation, and so that some juniors will have had the experience of membership when they return in the fall.

Initiation will take place Thursday, February 21, in the Wren Chapel, followed by a dinner at the Williamsburg Lodge.

Omicron Delta Kappa is an honorary society whose membership is elected from among the male student body on the basis of eminence in the fields of scholarship, social and religious activities, publications, dramatic, musical and other cultural activities.

Undergraduate members are Bob Hackler, Dick Hutchenson, Harry Wirth and Bernie Wittkamp.

Newly elected members of ODK, standing from left: Besse, Cowan, Zimmer and Richey. Seated are Ferenczi, Mason, Barnes and Dalton.

THE FLAT HAT

VIPA First Place Rating

"Stabilitas et Fides"

Member, Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for National Advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc.

A weekly newspaper published by the students at the College of William and Mary every Tuesday of the college year except during vacations. Entered as second class matter September 19, 1916, at the post office at Williamsburg, Virginia, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Subscription: $3.00 per year; $1.75 per semester, postpaid. Advertisements: 60c per column inch; classified, 3c per word, minimum 50c. Address Box 1445, Williamsburg, Virginia.

HALESTONES

By Jane Hale

For a while there it was touch and go with the Communists and me, but I haven't had any run-ins with them lately, so I'm hoping that I've seen the last of them.

I'm sure the whole melee started during the last war when I went to a progressive grammar school. (I should have gone to a decadent, reactionary place and learned some of the rudiments of education instead of learning to "express" myself. It would have made things a lot easier in this decadent, reactionary college.) These days it's pretty hard to remember back to the time when Russia was rosy, sweetness and light, and all that, but I distinctly recall a certain spring pageant which my sixth grade class produced. Each student represented one of the allies, and fate ordained that I would be Russia. For two weeks I practiced the tune of the Internationale, and on the appointed day, I paraded before assembled parentage to sing: "Arise ye prisoners of starvation!" My parents were pretty upset by it all, but at the time I thought it was because I hadn't been able to carry the tune.

Professor Shaveck was the first real, live Communist of my acquaintance. We were pretty happy when V-J Day came and school could resume without the shadow of war, but on the 5th of September in Civics class, Shaveck rose grandly behind his desk to say with most ominous and terrifying tones, "You haven't seen anything yet!"

Of course, we thought that he was joking, or merely trying to intimidate us on the first day of school—subconsciously I still attribute the wretched events of the Cold War to his person.

We never did know how the "alcoholics" man got into highschool; he just appeared one day during assembly. His speech was entirely marvelous; he described the evil and corrupting effects of liquor upon American youth and invited us all to join in a campaign against it. The speech must have been stirring, because though 75% of the students didn't even drink coffee (the wayward 25% — they liked coffee — always skipped assemblies), we all marched up to pledge our membership in the drive by signing a piece of paper, electing officers and promptly forgetting about it.

Three days later some brilliant student discovered that the organization was on the subversive list. It was quite exciting. We wrote letters of resignation demanding signed answers from headquarters. The plan was to deposit these in a safety box against the day when we would have state department jobs and somebody would surely try to attach us to the party line.

Really it was all a mistake, the brilliant student had confused two names, the alcoholics man wasn't subversive at all. He was connected quite legally with one of the churches in the neighborhood, and was completely unnerved by the experience. I understand that to this day the poor man has never volunteered for another civic duty.

Then, it so happened that when the Mundt-Nixon Bill was up before Congress, my grandmother chose to arrive at Union Station, my parents were away, and I set out to meet her alone.

Union Station looked like a stadium in the throes of homecoming. Bands were playing, little people were marching around with signs and sandwich boards. The Metropolitan Police was out in full force. The loudspeaker blared "Silver Star now leaving for Chicago on Track 166," and the shout, "Two four, six, eight! Who do we deprecate — Mundt-Nixon!" followed.

After such a rousing demonstration of spirit the band would start playing, and the party members would clap hands to show that it really was fun. The police stood and blinked as only policemen can. Everyone questioned the possibilities of a riot, so the passengers would not stand by the gates. Instead, they huddled near the doors of the waiting room, and when the train was announced, would burst forth from the doors like a flock of locusts. They looked neither to the left nor right; fixed stares clearly showed that nobody was going to identify them with politics.

(Continued on Page 11)

And now we'll hear Mr. Wolf's report "Alcohol and our Society."

W & M-Go-Round

By William Makelim

O. K., kids, get out your last week's Flat Hat. Yes, you can too find it. Remember—you wrapped a sardine sandwich in it to take to psych lab with you. And Dr. Bare gave it back to you after confiscating the sandwich. There, what'd I tell you? O.K., now turn to pages two and three. Glance over them quickly. Now read them thoroughly. Understand anything? Of course you don't. I didn't either—and I once read an entire Royalist!

The point is, kids, that The Flat Hat is going all to hell, and I feel that it is my obligation to pen another one of my characteristically shocking exposes of the whole business. We must face fact. The Flat Hat is well on the way to becoming a literary newspaper. The ever-eccentric Etaoin Hale, an obscure hack Makelim Shrdlu, and a complete unknown R. N. (Registered Nurse?) have banded together in a dangerous attempt to overthrow not only the enormous transcendental influence of The Royalist, but the very foundations of our beloved institution. Even the beloved president of our beloved student body, the beloved Dave Makeshift, has been affected by this radical movement. Ordinarily quiet and morose, Dave has been observed lately near the Kappa house, making wild, erratic laughing sounds, reminiscent of the suction of a vacuum cleaner. This can only be indicative of his worry over the present problem. Furthermore, the harassed Makeshift shocked 22 new students into nervous prostration in an address to them last week. Speaking on The Meaning of College, Dave found his notes disarranged, probably by his fun-loving roommate, Jimmy Loadsafun, who is studying here for the Trappist priesthood. At any rate, Makeshift had just accused education of deteriorating into intellectual prostitution. At this point he found his notes disturbed, and, forced to improvise, declared, his blue e'en twinkling, "What this college needs is less intellectuality and more prostitution!" The faculty members in the audience chuckled hugely, and playfully pelted Makeshift into unconsciousness with stones thoughtfully provided for such contingencies. Dave is now resting comfortably in the infirmary, and it is hoped by all that his recovery will be a speedy one. As his beloved roommate and bosom friend, Jimmy Loadsafun put it, in his inimicable fashion, "I hope he croaks."

Anyway, you can see what old William and Mary is up against. We students, intellectual prostitutes though we may be, must join to defeat this thing. We've all got to get in there and fight. Dickie MacFoy and his Hep Club are already taking action, and have come up with a couple of dandy new cheers, like:

Rickety rax,
Rickety rax,
What the Flat Hat lacks,
The Royalist packs!
Yeaaaaaaa, Prichard!

Or:

The Flat Hat, The Flat Hat,
We are hating,
Even if they do have
A VIPA First Place Rating!
Subst.—Aren't those Doozers? If you can think of any more as good, send them into Hep Club, Box 1632, Billsburg. They need them.

In my own little way, I'm trying to help the cause. I'm convinced that what we need most is more folksy literature. Along this line, I have written a little play which I plan to produce in rivalry to Shrdlu Marley's Varsity Show this spring. I call it Old Uncle Harum Scarum, the Homegrown Philosopher. It's about this old guy, see, who's got a heart of gold and a lot of good old horse sense which he picked up from his old man, who was a Percheron, by trade. Anyhow, Old Uncle Harum coasts easily through life, solving everybody's problems with his homely philosophy. Here's a selection from the third act, so you can see how effective it would be:

Alice: (his niece) Oh, Old Uncle Harum, what shall I do?
Harum: Do?
Alice: Yes. Herman has left me.
Harum: Yes.
Alice: He has broken our engagement.
Harum: Yes.
Alice: He has embezzled funds from your bank.
Harum: Yes.
Alice: He has set fire to your home—even now it is burning.
Harum: Yes.
Alice: He has threatened to murder us all—even you, Old Uncle Harum.
Harum: Yes.
Alice: Can't you do something?
Aren't you a homely philosopher?
Harum: (smiling cryptically) Am I?
Alice: Aren't you?
Harum: Oh, rowrbazze.

See what I mean, kids. This is what we've all been shouting for for months. This is what we need—what we must have. Students, arise! Are we sheep? Bah! We must overcome our apathy, and overwhelm The Flat Hat's adherents of symbolism, allegory and abstraction. Down with Hale! Down with R. N.! Down with Makelim! Yes—especially, down with Makelim!

Unnecessary

Before we go any further let's clear the air and get our facts straight concerning the Chandler, Eason, Bass triangle.

Contrary to newspaper and most public opinion, J. M. (Suey) Eason was appointed as athletic director with additional duties as football coach until a permanent successor to Marvin Bass is found. In fact Eason was originally contacted and asked to assume the duties of athletic director in mid-January.

This was done because George Oliver, the present athletic director, had asked President Chandler to relieve him of his duties as athletic director in order that he could again resume his position as chairman of the department of Education and head of the summer school session.

Eason was at that time to serve as athletic director with Bass as head football coach. With Bass's resignation, Eason was asked to temporarily assume this additional duty. However, his ten year contract is as athletic director only.

Eason comes highly recommended as a recreational and athletic leader by men in the peninsula area and by one of our administrative leaders, who first called President Chandler's attention to Eason's background along these lines.

When Eason assumes his duties on March 1, we are sure that many of the present ambiguities will become clear.

R. F. H.

All Clear

"Students may use the steps of the Academic buildings . . . Students may date in the dorms . . . Women guests, including students, are permitted to visit in the fraternity lodges . . ."

A topic of considerable interest among the students has been a few of the unnecessary rulings of the WSCGA; rulings which in effect actually do more harm than good.

The subject of most recent discussion is the ruling concerning the 10 p. m. deadline on women visiting the fraternity lodges on week nights . . . these same women are allowed 11 p. m. "lates" on such week nights. Just exactly where they're supposed to hibernate between 10 and 11 is unknown. Most couples take to the Sunken Garden steps, or walk down through Williamsburg for want of something better to do.

Certainly it would be more sensible for everyone concerned if women were allowed to stay in the fraternity lodges until 11 p. m. on weeknights. The ruling is a paradox.

Another bugaboo in the WSCGA rules, and a big one at that, is sexless Monday. Exactly what is hoped to be gained by such a childish restriction is unknown. At no other higher coed institution in this area is such an unnatural ruling enforced. Fraternity and sorority meetings are held during the early part of the evening, but there seems to be no real reason why Monday should not be regarded as any other week night with similar social privileges. We are adults or approaching adulthood, and as such should be treated as adults.

Let's hope that the WSCGA will reconsider these two rulings and either change them, or explain their logic.

R. F. H.

FLAT HAT STAFF

- Bob Hedelt Editor-in-Chief
- Jane Hale Associate Editor
- Dick Dallas Managing Editor
- Cynthia Cohn Business Manager
- Madge Cushing News Editor
- Arnold Lubasch Sports Editor
- Sara Wachtman Feature Editor
- Betty Zepht Make-up Editor
- Donnie Spotts Advertising Manager
- Widdy Fennell Circulation Manager
- Helen Barber Morgue Editor

Virginia Trust Company Announces Law Contest

Eight Virginia law students will share $675.00 in prizes to be awarded in the Virginia Trust Company's 1952 Will Draftsmanship Contest. Preston B. Watt, president of the Virginia Trust Company, announced the Richmond firm's sponsorship of the annual event for the fifth consecutive year in the interest of developing practical skill among coming young lawyers in the art of drafting wills.

The contest is open to the graduating students of the Law Schools of the University of Virginia, Washington and Lee University, the University of Richmond and William and Mary College.

The two best entries from each school will win an award of $50.00. These eight entries will then qualify for consideration for additional final awards of $150.00, $75.00 and $50.00 for first, second and third prizes respectively.

This year's judges, selected from among Alumni of the four Law Schools, include: Peter Otey Miller with the firm McGuire, Eggleston, Boccock and Woods representing the University of Virginia; Howard W. Dobbins of Wallerstein, Goode, Adamson and Dobbins representing Washington and Lee University; John C. Williams of the firm Williams and Gwathmey representing the University of Richmond and William R. Shands, attorney for the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, representing William and Mary College.

Watt explained that the primary purpose of the contest is to stimulate interest among future members of the Bar in the practical importance of accurate and adequate will drafting. The contest is also designed to acquaint students and the public with the importance of making a will and the naming of an executor competent to carry out its provisions.

The top award of $200.00 in 1951 went to Charles A. Somma, Jr., then a senior at the University of Virginia Law School. Last year's second prize winner was Francis Ceal Lee of the University of Richmond Law School (T. C. Williams) while the third prize went to Carroll Jackson Simmons, another University of Virginia Law School student.

Canterbury Club To Sponsor Novel Mardi Gras, Tuesday

A Mardi Gras Supper and Dance, featuring hot cakes, record music and masks for all, will be held next Tuesday evening, February 26, from 5 to 10 p. m. at Bruton Parish House.

Admission will be fifty-five cents and all students are invited to the gala event, which the Canterbury Club is sponsoring.

Traditional Mardi Gras decorations will prevail and a king and queen of Mardi Gras will be chosen by lot from among those in attendance.

C. J. Hodgdon, herself a native of New Orleans and long familiar with the spectacular celebration in that city, is general chairman.

Junior Class Plans Leap Year Dance

Last Tuesday, February 12, at a supper meeting, the junior class made plans for their annual dance, which is held each year for students of all classes.

This year the dance will honor leap year, and the girls are to invite the boys. John Dalton, junior class president, requests that the "boys do not ask the girls." Last year the girls had a similar opportunity to ask the boys to a Sadie Hawkins Day dance sponsored by the freshman class.

The Leap Year Dance will be on Friday, February 29, from 8 to 12 p. m. in the Pagoda room. All girls attending the dance will be given special late permissions. Music will be supplied by the Stardusters, and the dance is to be informal.

The tickets will be one dollar per couple unless one of the couple is a member of the junior class and has paid this year's class dues.

Lt. Colonel Miller Stationed In Japan

Lt. Colonel Phillip Miller, assistant professor of Military Science and Tactics for the past three years here, is now in Japan serving with the 1st Cavalry Division. Lt. Colonel Miller was on duty at Fort Bragg, N. C., with the William and Mary ROTC students last summer and then went to Fort Sill, Oklahoma, for an artillery refresher course. He flew to Japan and from there to Korea in the latter part of October, taking command of the 99th Field Artillery Battalion with the 1st Cavalry Division. The entire division was pulled back to Hokaido, Japan, just before Christmas.

Lt. Colonel Miller graduated from Colby College with a B. S. Degree and taught Chemistry and Physics in Caribou, Maine, for a number of years. He entered the service via the National Guard in 1940 and went overseas as a 1st Lieutenant in 1942. He served overseas for three years with the 43rd Infantry Division and participated in many campaigns including the Solomons, the Marshals, the Gilberts, New Guinea and the Philippines. He returned in 1945 with the rank of major and many decorations, including the Legion of Merit, the Purple Heart and the Bronze Star.

Symposium to Hear Kirkpatrick Speak Friday Afternoon

Dr. E. M. Kirkpatrick, Chief of the External Research Staff of the Department of State will speak at the Marshall-Wythe Symposium at 4 p. m. Friday, February 22nd in Washington 200.

Dr. Kirkpatrick is in charge of the research cooperation between the Department of State and the colleges and universities. He will talk on this cooperation at the Symposium.

Last Friday, February 15, Mr. Frank S. Hopkins, Associate Director of the Foreign Service Institute of the Department of State, spoke to the Marshall-Wythe Symposium.

The subject of his address was "The Kind of Foreign Service Required by the United States Ten Years Hence." Hopkins is an alumnus of William and Mary.

Students to Register Now for Pilgrimage

Students who would like to go on the Washington Pilgrimage scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, March 1-2, and who have been unable to obtain a registration card for this event, may use the one below, which is a reproduction of those given out by the presidents of the student religious organizations.

The $5 fee pays for transportation to and from Washington, D. C. by Greyhound bus and overnight lodging at the Hotel Ebbett.

WASHINGTON PILGRIMAGE
Registration Card
(To be turned in with fee—)

$5 to the president of your student religious organization or mailed to Miss Sue Thureau, Box 2075, City, not later than Sunday, February 24.)

Please Print:
Name:
Mailing Address:
Dormitory or Residence Address (if different from mailing address):

Student Religious Organization (if affiliated with none, please indicate religious preference if any):

LOST: Dark grey cat with silky fur, black and tan markings. Call 556-R.

LOST: Red and white Japanese silk scarf. If found, please return to Jean Carison, Brown 214.

LOST: One pair of tortoise shell rim glasses. Please return to Peggy Ives, Barrett 308.

Social Notes

Engaged

Betty Roberts, Kappa Kappa Gamma, '51, to Vito Ragazzo, Sigma Rho, '51.

Joyce Burroughs, RPI '52 to Greg Booth, KA, '52.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 33...THE SHEEP

They tried to fool him with the "quick-trick" cigarette mildness tests—but he wouldn't go astray! We know as well as he there's only one fair way to test cigarette mildness. And millions of smokers agree!

It's the sensible test...the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke, on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments. Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why...

After all the Mildness Tests...

Camel leads all other brands by billions

Sorority Pledges Give 'Sock Hop'

The main event for last weekend, at least for the sorority pledges on campus, was the "Sock Hop," a new idea originated by the collective pledge classes, which was held last Saturday night, February 16, in Jefferson Gym. It was a turnout affair in which the girls asked the boys. Both the girls and their dates were asked to wear brightly colored socks. A quartet from Fort Eustis furnished the music for the occasion.

As the last home basketball game of the season was played on the same evening, the dance began at 9:30 and lasted until midnight.

The gym was decorated with crepe paper streamers, paper argyle socks, and a construction paper replica of each sorority's pledge pin.

The pledge class of Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority suggested the idea of the dance, and they were soon joined by the other sororities. Several committees were organized and each pledge class sent a representative. Winkie Stover was head of the decorations committee and Pep McLaughlin took charge of refreshments.

THE INDIAN GRILL

GOOD FOOD SERVED

Try Our Famous Spaghetti

No. Boundary St.

Williamsburg

Consider Yourself Lucky, Girls!

Social Rules Restrict Dating During '20's

By Sara Wachtman
Flat Hat Feature Editor

Are you among the group which shares the opinion that social rules around here are too strict? Well, so were we until we ran across a few old student government handbooks dating back to 1925. Just be thankful you weren't born twenty-five years earlier.

The roaring twenties couldn't have been quite as gay as we are led to believe if everyone followed the rules laid down by the authorities. For upperclassmen, dating (or, to use the handbook term, "engagement") hours were from four p. m. until dinner, and after dinner until seven-thirty. Sunday night was gala — everyone, even lowly freshmen, could go to church with men. Apparently all the girls sat in the dormitory and knitted on Saturday night, for social hours stopped promptly at dinner time. Seniors were allowed two evening movie dates per week, and on Sunday afternoon they could go walking with men, provided at least two couples went and returned together. Once a week, the other classes, with the exception of freshmen, could go to the movies or entertain a man in the living room, but "at all times they are expected to conduct themselves like students of William and Mary." The handbook firmly declared that "there must be no loitering at the door when students return from engagements."

If you had graduated in the class of 1929, undoubtedly you would be horrified at the way students behave today. Luckily, there were no restored buildings to see at that time, for, if there had been, you would certainly never have set foot in them. No girl could leave the campus during social hours except to go to the drug store, candy kitchen, or theater on the first block of Duke of Gloucester Street.

Saturday Dances

At the occasional Saturday night dances, couples not desiring to dance were generously allowed to sit in the balcony. "Engagements" in the library were not tolerated. But the best rule of all was "No girl may leave her room after ten-thirty p. m. without permission from the house president."

Hidden over in the back of the book are several clever little gems, obviously ironical, which claim various things such as "Girls always report rules they have broken," "Students do not loiter around the stores on Sunday," and "Underclassmen show due respect to faculty and upperclassmen."

Very little change was made in the 1926 rules, except the rather startling announcement that no girl without an average of eighty percent on her work for the previous month was allowed any dates or attendance at any social functions. Also, lights-out rolled around every night at twelve. During this year, "Girls guilty of forging checks are dismissed from school," and no one could play tennis on Sunday.

At long last, in 1928, girls could go out on Saturday nights (until ten-thirty) to things other than college dances. Monday emerged as the black day we know with an explanation reading, "Monday is student activities day; there shall be no engagements except to attend college functions." Seniors went out six nights a week, juniors four, sophomore three, and freshman only on week ends.

Require Pledge

Girls did not play cards with men in 1930, if the handbook is correct, and they did not leave the campus alone after supper. But there was a bright spot — no longer did seniors have to go on their Sunday afternoon walks in groups of four. However, everyone was required to sign a pledge, swearing on their honor not to gamble, drink, keep automobiles or firearms, or eat at any place other than the College Dining Hall.

The Women's Student Government had become the Women Students' Cooperative Government by 1934, and Chandler Hall was lauded as having the "most up to date appointments." Men living in Taliaferro were probably very pleased with the tea room which was located on the first floor. Men and women could play bridge together on Saturday afternoon or night, and one rather bewildering rule announced that "Girls with parents may go anywhere in town." Did orphans stay in the dorm all the time?

Extended Social Hours

Brown Hall, in 1936 had "a home-like atmosphere," the new stadium was completed, and the Sunken Garden was formally opened in June with a graduation dance. Rules were almost the same, except that students were now allowed to play tennis and ride horseback after church on Sunday. Social hours on Saturday were extended to eleven p. m., and junior and senior women had the privilege of studying in the library until eleven any night if they signed out in the housemother's book. Persons who went walking were warned by the handbook to "keep absolutely to the trails."

"Women students may not smoke out-of-doors on the campus or in town, in classrooms or in halls of academic buildings, or in any public building other than inns and restaurants off the first block of Duke of Gloucester Street" reads the 1938 book. We also learn from this one that the steps of academic buildings and the steps of the Sunken Garden were definitely not used for after-dinner dates.

Even in 1941 eleven o'clock was the deadline for Saturday night, and there were no other late permissions given during the week.

'Common Glory' to Conduct Tryouts

Tryouts for the 1952 version of "The Common Glory," Paul Green's symphonic drama of Thomas Jefferson's Revolutionary War years, will begin at the College of William and Mary at 1 P. M. Saturday, February 23, officials of the Jamestown Corporation announced today.

The Williamsburg audition will be the first of a series of three preliminaries which will be followed by a final tryout, at Matoaka Lake Amphitheatre, on Saturday and Sunday, March 22 and 23.

Next week's auditions are designed to test prospective actors, singers and dancers and to provide the opportunity for interviews between officials of "The Common Glory" and applicants for technical jobs in the production.

The audition for actors will be held in Wren Kitchen (the basement of the Wren Building). Singers will be heard in the college's music department at the rear of Williamsburg Methodist Church, and dancers will be given a tryout in the women's gymnasium at Jefferson Hall.

Howard Scammon, 1951 director of "The Common Glory", will conduct the auditions for actors; Carl A. Fehr, music director, for singers, and Miss Lorna Burdsall, dance instructor at the college, for dancers. Roger Sherman, the drama's production manager, will interview technical applicants.

The Williamsburg auditions, although open to any interested person, were designed primarily as a preliminary test for new talent in the central and eastern sections of Virginia.

A second preliminary for actors, singers and technicians will be held at Minor Hall, the University of Virginia, from 1 to 3 P. M. Saturday, March 1, and a third for applicants in these categories will be held at the Troubadour Theatre, Washington and Lee University, Lexington, from 1 to 3 P. M. March 15.

Dance applicants from western Virginia will be given a tryout on March 15 at Randolph Macon Woman's College, Lynchburg.

Successful participants in the drama and dance preliminaries will be invited, along with cast members from former years, to attend the two-day final auditions at the theatre. The choir will be cast on the basis of the preliminary hearings.

In announcing the auditions, Mr. Scammon said every role in "The Common Glory" is open, and he made it plain that none would be filled except on the basis of the tryouts. The director pointed out that in the 1951 production, which he called typical, nearly 60 per cent of the cast was composed of Virginia student actors and actresses who had never before participated

'Be Happy' is our motto now—
'Go Lucky' is our creed;
And L.S./M.F.T. fulfills
Our every smoking need!

Roland D. Frazier
University of Kansas City

Be Happy-GO LUCKY!

LUCKIES TASTE BETTER!

It takes fine tobacco to give you a better-tasting cigarette. And Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. But it takes something else, too—superior workmanship. You get fine, light, mild, good-tasting tobacco in the better-made cigarette. That's why Luckies taste better. So, Be Happy—Go Lucky! Get a carton today!

They'll have a cozy little home
Where they can bill and coo.
The bridegroom is a Lucky man—
The bride smokes Luckies, too!

Peter F. Linde
Washington State College

I never won a wager till
That day I made the bet
That Luckies' taste is second to
No other cigarette!

Philip C. Norwine
Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute

BAKERS
DELICACIES

Party Cake Specialties

Salads
Made
To Order

Pet Ice Cream
Phone 298

PASTRY SHOP

PRODUCT OF The American Tobacco Company
L.S./M.F.T.-Lucky Strike Means Fine Tobacco

Tribe Cagers Engage VMI, Richmond In Key Tilts

Jerry Harris drives in for a lay up shot in the Tribe's 71-61 conquest of Maryland on Saturday night.

Tribe Downs Virginia Tech After Mastering Maryland

By Dave Heinrich
Flat Hat Sports Writer

The Indians of William and Mary moved one step closer to a Southern Conference tourney bid with an impressive 71-66 victory over a game Maryland squad at Blow Gym last Saturday night. This game avenged a setback the Indians suffered at the hands of the Terps two months ago at College Park, 54-53.

Maryland played its usual deliberate style of offense. The Indians started the game with the same defense they employed to good advantage against N. C. State. The two guards and the center played a zone, while the two forwards played a man-to-man defense.

Drake Stars

The first quarter was as close as possible with neither team enjoying more than a two point advantage at any time. The crowd, the largest at Blow Gym this season, was electrified by the inspired play of Ducky Drake who scored three beautiful baskets, two on long sets. The lead changed hands seven times during the quarter and was tied four times. At the end of the first ten minutes, the Terps led, 16-15.

The Terrapins opened up a six point lead midway in the second quarter on two baskets by Maurice Levan and a lay-up by Jim Johnson. At this point Drake put on a one man show, scoring four quick points, which brought the score to 30-29, in favor of the Terps at half-time.

The half-time ceremonies were marked by the crowning of Helen Barber as Basketball Queen by Co-Captains Joe Agee and Bill Chambers.

Terps Take Lead

The Terps, aided by a three-point play by Don Moran and a layup by Gene Shue, opened up a five point gap early in the quarter. However, the entire Indian team got hot at this point and scored 12 points in a row to move in front, 42-36. Here, Coach "Bud" Millikan of the Terps made a move which almost won the ball game showing his old form, drove under foot five inch sophomore, who had seen little action heretofore, was inserted in the line-up and gave as good a one-man performance as could be expected. Dunlap threw in basket after basket to put his team in front 53-50 at the end of the quarter.

Joe Agee, who had not shown too much due to his injury two games ago, took up some of the slack in the fourth quarter. After the lead had see-sawed back and forth several times during the period, the two teams were tied 63-63 with about five minutes left in the game. At this point, Joe, showing his old form, drove under the basket and put in a pretty one-hander. A moment later, Drake stole the ball, and drove down court with Agee at his side. On a pretty pass under the basket, Agee scored the basket and converted a foul shot. At this point, the Indians went into a freeze and exchanged fouls with the Terps for the remaining three minutes of play.

The game was a rough one, with seven players fouling out, five from Maryland and Chambers and Jerry Harris of the Tribe. Drake was high man with 20 points, followed by Harris' 15, Chambers' 13 and Agee's 11. Dunlap was high for the Terrapins with 15, while Johnson scored 14.

Late Bulletin

The Indians came from behind in the last half last night to whip Virginia Tech on the latter's home court for the first time in 10 years, 86-76, and moved closer to a Southern Conference tournament berth.

The Gobblers led 27-21 at the end of the first quarter, and 44-41 at half-time as Charlie Eaton, John Cantrell and Leonard Smith were hitting from all over the floor.

Coming back strongly in the third quarter, the Tribe moved in front, 63-61, and were never caught after that.

Jerry Harris of the Tribe led the scoring parade with 22 points. He was followed by Tech's Eaton with 20, while Bill Chambers and Smith, the latter of Tech, each canned 18.

It wasn't until the third quarter that the determined Techmen began to run out of gas. Joe Agee, Harris and Joe Hume poured in decisive baskets early in the final period which ended any hopes of a VPI upset.

Chambers fouled out in the final stanza after providing William and Mary with both his scoring and rebounding ability, but Howie Bollerman took over the backboard job and performed well.

The first time William and Mary was able to beat VPI on its home floor — ten years ago — Lester Hooker was in the W&M lineup as a star player. Last night, Hooker returned as William and Mary coach to break the decade-long jinx.

Spring Schedules For W & M Sports

William and Mary's 1952 spring schedules have just been released. A total of 10 track meets are set, including the annual Big Six and Southern Conference get-togethers.

March

- 28 Hampden-Sydney, Home
- 28 Hampden-Sydney, Home

April

- 15 Randolph Macon, Home
- 21 VMI, Home
- 26 Richmond, Away
- 28 VPI, Away

May

- 2 Washington and Lee, Home
 - 6 Big Six Met, Aaway
 - 17 Southern Conference, Away
 - 22 Virginia, Away
- In tennis, 17 matches are lined up along with the Conference Meet.

March

- 20 Brown, Home
- 26-27 Cornell, Home

April

- 7 Williams, Home
- 14 Washington and Lee, Away
- 15 VMI, Away
- 18 Virginia, Home
- 23 Maryland, Home
- 25 Richmond, Home
- 29 N. C. State, Away
- 30 Duke, Away

May

- 3 North Carolina, Home
- 5 Richmond, Away
- 8-10 Conf. Meet-Davidson, Away

- 12 George Wash. (pend.), Home
 - 14 West Virginia, Home
 - 19 Virginia, Away
- The Indian golfers won 10 out of 14 matches last year, but only Freddie Allen, who is this year's new captain, returns from that team.

April

- 9 George Washington, Home
- 14 VPI, Home
- 18 Virginia, Away
- 22 Richmond, Home
- 25 N. C. State (pend.), Away
- 28 VMI, Home
- 30 Washington and Lec, Home

May

- 6 Maryland, Home
- 9-10 S. C. Meet, Away
- 13 Richmond, Away
- 19 Va. Intercollegiate Tourney Away

Bass Dinner

In an unprecedented show of affection for their former head coach, Marvin Bass, the members of the football squad gave a banquet for the coaching staff, last Thursday night at Danny's Campus Grill.

With Jim Baber acting as master of ceremonies, the coach was presented a tray inscribed with the names of all of the players. All of the coaches spoke to the players.

Coach Bass, choked with emotion, thanked the players for the help they had given him in the past year and added that he felt sorry to leave the Reservation. He then asked them to put their confidence in the new coach, Suey Eason.

Basketball Statistics

Since the Flat Hat published the scoring totals of William and Mary's basketball team last week, we thought it might be interesting to give some of the lesser known statistics which so vitally concern a team. The men are listed in the order of the number of points they have scored this year.

Name	Foul	Lost	Per.	Out	Ball	Ass't
Chambers	78	8	41	62
Agee	54	2	73	69
Harris	76	7	39	15

Indians Set Eyes on High Position In Southern Conference Tournament

By Gil Parmele
Flat Hat Sports Writer

As the basketball season slowly draws to a close, the Indians find themselves faced with a pair of big games on the road this coming week. The initial contest pits the Tribe against unimpressive VMI, a quintet William and Mary trounced earlier in the season at Williamsburg, 80-53.

Although the Keydets have shown absolutely nothing thus far, having won but two games in their first 20 starts, it is conceivable that they might pull an upset, on their home court. Sophomore Charlie Byrd, a 6' 5" center, and Bill Ralph, a talented forward, figure to give the Indians a rough evening. Byrd, who scored 17 points in the first meeting between the two teams, should give the Tribe's dependable Bill Chambers a rough time under both boards.

Footballers to Vie In Basketball Tilt

Hal Bates, President of the Varsity Club, has announced that a special basketball game will be held in Blow Gym this Thursday evening at eight o'clock. It will pit the football team of William and Mary against the football team of U. Va. The encounter promises to be a roaring success. Admission for the game will be 25 cents, which is a paltry sum considering the galaxy of talent which will be on hand. Some of the biggest competitors in the game today will be at the festivities and plenty of good, solid basketball is in prospect.

Starring for the William and Mary Indians will be such stellar performers as Tom Feamster, Larry Fones, Paul Yewcic, Ted

Hal Bates

Filer, Moe Maddox, George Parazzo and Ed Mioduszewski. Added to this mighty list will be Big John Kreamcheck, Sam Lupo and a host of other well known performers.

U. Va. will have many of their players in action who smeared the Indians so badly earlier in the year. They will be led by Joe Palumbo, their All-American guard who is also pretty handy with a basketball, it is rumored. The proceeds of the contest will be donated to the Campus Chest Drive.

Since the 25 cents will be used for a worthy project by the Varsity Club, there is little reason why Blow Gym should not be packed. It promises to be the game of the year. As one player put it: "Just wait till we get them out on the court — we'll murder the bums!"

Chambers, who ranks tenth in the nation in total rebounds, together with a greatly improved Jerry Harris, may have to bear the brunt of the Tribe attack, should Co-captain Joe Agee be hampered by his injured ankle, sprained in the George Washington tilt a week ago and re-injured against Maryland this past week end.

On Saturday the schedule brings the men of coach Les Hooker to Richmond to engage a fighting Spider quintet in the Tribe's final regularly scheduled Southern Conference game. Although going nowhere in the conference race, the Spiders seem to always put up a stiff argument when playing the Indians on their home court.

Return Match

Led by big Don Rowe, the strapping Spider center, Elmo Stephenson and Jim Gahagen, Richmond will be striving desperately to turn the tide on the confident Williamsburg cagers, who conquered them last month, 86-70, in a wild game staged in the Blow Gym. The biggest problem for the Indians will be to hold down Stephenson and Rowe, an accomplishment which may prove to be easier said than done.

In the previous meeting between the two arch rivals, Rowe tallied 21 points against the fighting Indians, in addition to picking off a fair share of the rebounds. Warren Mills, the diminutive guard ad play-maker, will also bear watching, for the little fellow constitutes a tremendous threat from outside when he's given plenty of room. He also played a sparkling game against the Tribe last month.

With the Southern Conference tournament just three weeks away, William and Mary needs to win only one of these two games to insure herself of a berth.

Four Teams Certain

Thus far only four teams are certain of playing at Raleigh next month. They are Duke, West Virginia, North Carolina State and Furman. The remaining four slots will be occupied by George Washington, South Carolina, Clemson, William and Mary, or Maryland, with North Carolina virtually eliminated.

Should the Indians finish with a 9-7 mark, they probably won't be making the trip to Raleigh. The prospects of this taking place are extremely doubtful, however, especially since the Tribe began to show signs of playing good crisp ball in their last game against Maryland. In fact with any sort of luck, the Indians should wind up in fourth place with an 11-5 mark. The two games coming up, in addition to the game played at Blacksburg last night, will tell the final story.

It has been requested that all those men who were elected to the first or second independent or Frat Fall star football team, or who gained honorable mention on either team, drop by the gym and pick up the certificate that goes with the honor.

When the College of William and Mary was founded in 1693—the oldest college after Harvard in the English Colonies — Williamsburg was a little village known as Middle Plantation.

SPORTSWHIRL

By Arnold Lubasch

Flat Hat Sports Editor

After some careful sleuthing, we finally tracked down Suey Eason for an eagerly anticipated interview. William and Mary's new head football coach and athletic director is an extremely busy and harassed individual, who is in the complicated process of completing his obligations at Hampton and beginning his new duties on the Reservation. Although he does not go on the William and Mary payroll until July, Eason is already devoting a great deal of time and energy to his new assignment.

In regard to the College's athletic program, Eason stated "We are going to do our best to win, but we will abide by all the Southern Conference rules and regulations. I have agreed to come here under that policy. The policy that is set forth in the Southern Conference will be strictly adhered to—both in the letter and the spirit of the rules." Eason emphasized that he does not have control of funds or scholarships at the College and that the administration of athletics will be completely "open and aboveboard".

Commenting on his contract, Eason reported that his tenure as athletic director is for 10 years, but his appointment as head football coach "can be terminated any time the president and I get together."

Eason stated that every effort will be made to install a strong program of Spring sports at William and Mary. "We are going to do our best to build up Spring sports, but we are greatly hampered by a lack of funds. We have got to really cut down and economize! Right now, we are doing our very best to get a good track coach to come down in a full time capacity. One who will be able to remain on the campus and help out in other sports."

The Tribe's new assistant football coaches were announced by Eason. Ralph Hendrix of Maury High will serve as line coach and George Heflin of Warwick High will be end coach. Serving as the backfield mentors will be Eric Tipton and Johnny Clements, a former North Carolina University star. Hendrix and Heflin will probably assist in coaching track, while Clements is expected to aid Coach Les Hooker on the baseball diamond.

The William and Mary football squad began Spring practice yesterday afternoon in preparation for next Fall's gridiron campaign. Eason made it clear that the Indians will employ the double wing formation next season and expressed complete faith in its successful adaptation by the Big Green. "I have a great deal of confidence in this formation and I am confident that there are enough good boys on this campus to make William and Mary a good double wing team next season."

Eason will work out his personnel problems during the course of Spring practice and added "All I want is a chance to show the boys the new formation and I think they will really become sold on it."

Ed Mioduszewski and John Flanagan were elected co-captains of the football team during the squad's first Spring practice session, yesterday. The two Tribe backfield stars will lead William and Mary through its 10 game schedule next Fall. Nine of the Indians' 10 gridiron contests have definitely been set and the tenth is now in process of being scheduled.

Swimming Team Ends Winless Year

The William and Mary swimming team concluded somewhat of a disappointing season by dropping two meets this past week. The first loss came at the hands of VMI, 49-34, while the second reversal was meted out by Washington and Lee in a rather one-sided affair.

In the initial meet, the military academy began proceedings by capturing the 300 yard medley. They then went on to win the 50 yard event with the Indians' Scotty Petrequin finishing in second place. Captain Jim Stone took second and Don Little third in the 220, which was also won by a Keydet.

Hall Scores

Jim Hall added a good number of points to the Tribe total by winning the 150 yard medley with Skip Risjord finishing in the runner-up position. Hall then came back to win the 100 yard event with a time of 60.5 seconds. Winkie Wilde took second place for the luckless Tribe swimmers.

The 200 yard breast stroke resulted in a VMI triumph with William and Mary's Johnny Kris finishing a strong second. Stone captured the 440 in 6.05. The 400 yard relay was won by the Indian team of Wilde, Petrequin, Jack Percival and Brooks.

Wilde and Risjord

The Indians had little to talk about following their meet with W & L. Winkie Wilde managed to clinch the 150 yard medley in 1:48. Skip Risjord won the 200 yard back stroke in 2:33 and Jim Stone copped the 440 in 6:10. Outside of these results the Indians had little to cheer about.

William and Mary played its first football game against Richmond College in 1903 and lost, 23-0.

where to eat?

THIEME'S of course

Women Hoopsters Win Two, Lose One; Bebe Fisher Stars

The first and second teams of the women's basketball squad traveled to Sweet Briar College in Sweet Briar, Virginia for their games this week. The games were played on Saturday afternoon, February 16. This was the second game of the season for both teams.

Terrific Lead

Bebe Fisher gave the Squaws a terrific lead in the first quarter by scoring 12 points. In the second and third quarters Bebe's accurate shooting racked up 16 more points, bringing her score to 28 points. Liz Sacalis was runner-up on the scoring with 19 points. Liz is said to be one of the calmest players on the team and she certainly demonstrated this in her playing Saturday. Liz and Bebe were ably assisted by Shirley Haaberstad and Bebe Hammond, who did their share in bringing the team to an inspiring victory. Guards Clare Rankine, Captain Mary Lou Riggan and Sally Cronk beautifully held Sweet Briar to a quarter score of 14-4.

The half time score was 17 to 29 in favor of William and Mary. Few fouls were made by the Squaws in contrast to the many in last week's game with Longwood. The William and Mary forwards were really put to the test when they were put up against the quick, shifty Sweet Briar guards. One of these was Nancy McCray, daughter of the former William and Mary football coach.

The final score was William and Mary 56. Sweet Briar 30.

Heartbreaking Game

The second team game immediately followed the Varsity game. This can only be described in one word, heartbreaking.

Captain Julie Holms got the team rolling with 13 points in the first half. Close cooperation was shown her by forwards Barbara Bass and Peggy Hedrick. The half time score was 19-18, William and Mary's favor.

In the beginning of the second half Sweet Briar pulled ahead of William and Mary and the brilliant efforts of the squaw team were of no avail. The fouls in this game were very heavy. The final score was 37-41 in favor of Sweet Briar.

Fisher Tallies 53

The second team also had a game on Wednesday, February 13 at home. This contest was against the Norfolk Division of William and Mary. Unable to play in the first team game the week before, Bebe Fisher played in this game. She alone scored 53 points which was more than the Norfolk team scored all together. The final score was 69-50, the Squaws in lead.

HOW MANY TIMES A DAY DO YOU INHALE?

50?

100?

200?

IF YOU'RE AN AVERAGE SMOKER THE RIGHT ANSWER IS OVER 200!

Yes, 200 times every day your nose and throat are exposed to irritation...

200 GOOD REASONS WHY YOU'RE BETTER OFF SMOKING PHILIP MORRIS!

PROVED definitely milder... PROVED definitely less irritating than any other leading brand... PROVED by outstanding nose and throat specialists.

EXTRA! ATTENTION ALL COLLEGE STUDENTS

Every Sunday Evening over CBS

THE PHILIP MORRIS PLAYHOUSE

Presents an Outstanding College Student

Featured with Famous Hollywood Stars

in the PHILIP MORRIS Intercollegiate Acting Competition

LISTEN IN

CALL FOR

PHILIP MORRIS

ADVENTURE

35 Days - From $300

Offered by America's largest organization for educational travel. Scholarships available.

See More - Spend Less

Travel to MEXICO, The South West, Alaska, South America, Scandinavia or The Orient.

Our 19th Year

See your local representative or write us

SITA

540 FIFTH AVE., NEW YORK 17 - SU 7-6000

Lenny Drake, Most Improved Player, Shines As Outside Scoring Threat

By Nate Carb
Flat Hat Sports Writer

Doubtlessly the most improved player on the entire William and Mary basketball team is Lenny Drake. Starting off the season as a strictly mediocre third string guard, sophomore Drake has consistently improved until he now must be considered as the second best guard on the team.

Next to Joe Agee, Drake is the Tribe's most potent scoring threat from the outside. Unlike Agee, he is an expert set shot, but scores many of his points driving in with the ferocity of a tiger.

Last Saturday night, Drake electrified a crowd of 2,200 people in Blow Gym by playing the finest game of his career. He literally kept the Indians in the contest during the first half, as he racked up 15 points against a defense-minded Maryland team.

Len was a ball of fire throughout the game and sparked the Tribe on to victory. He continually drove all the way under to lay the ball up in sensational fashion.

Lenny Drake

He faked his man out of position on numerous occasions and promptly streaked for the basket, often putting it in underhand and drawing a foul to boot.

A quick look at the statistics will show how much Drake has improved in the past month. Since he "came into his own" on January 9 against Hampden-Sydney, Lenny has averaged about 10 points a game, in contrast with his former total of 15 for nine games!

Drake now has 111 points and his accuracy percentage is on the rise. In the Maryland game, he made eight out of nine tries from the floor, a sensational performance which has not been equalled by any other Indian all season.

Lenny comes from Bay Shore, Long Island, where he was a three letter man in high school. He played basketball for four years, football and baseball for two.

The 21 year old Drake was a late comer to William and Mary. After high school, he played ball for the Bay Shore town team for a year. "I didn't have much intention of going to college, but Don Jeffrey, who also comes from Bay Shore, told me that William and Mary was a swell place, so I decided to try it out. Do you know what? He was right!"

Drake was a starting guard on last year's fine frosh team. He scored 92 points to be the fourth highest man on the club. Although he was never sensational, Lenny was a good, constant player and was conceded by many to be the finest dribbler on the team.

At the beginning of this year, Drake seemed hopelessly stuck behind Agee, Pete Markos, Freddy Allen, Joe Hume, and Dick Savage. However, he got ahead of each, one by one, until he was given a starting assignment against W&L at Lexington.

Prior to the Maryland game, Drake had his best night against N. C. State in Norfolk. Although he only scored six points, Lenny did a terrific defensive job on Wolfpack captain Lee Terrill, holding him to two measly field goals.

Drake, a KA, is a physical education major. He is 5' 10", tall and weighs 165 pounds. "I don't find my height much of a disadvantage," he says. "Of course you don't get many rebounds, but if you hustle and keep on moving, it's not too hard to drive in."

JV's Whip Division As Bollerman Stars

Behind a 36 point scoring effort by High Howie Bollerman, the Indian J. V.'s trounced the Division by an 80-62 score on the losers home courts, Friday night. The Tribe led at halftime by 42-28.

Employing the fast break, the Tribe literally ran the Braves to death. Speedy John Pires and Tam Stubbs were the leaders on attack and were in complete command of the situation early in the first half.

Earlier this year the Indians whipped the Division here at Williamsburg. The Papooses now boast a six and three record.

Bollerman has shown continuous improvement all year long climaxed by this game. With his 36 points the 6' 9" sophomore scored the highest total attained by a single member of the JV's this year. Alex Harper, Andy Becouerakis, and Bob Hoitsma all contributed greatly to the victory.

The JV's have boasted a strong attack throughout the year. Their speed has been one of their best points enabling them to get a head-start on many of the teams that they met. Not a few of them will move up to the varsity next year.

SAE, Rhomen Set Pace in Basketball Ringers Lead Independent League

SAE and Sigma Rho continue to pull away from the rest of the field in the Fraternity Basketball League. The Rhomen won two games this week, beating Theta Delt, 62-48, and Phi Alpha, 75-30. Against Theta Delt, the Rhomen ran up a 11-3 lead at the end of the first quarter. However, Theta Delt, with Bill Twomey and Tommy Boys showing the way, cut the deficit to 26-25 at half-time. The Rhomen showed the superiority over Theta Delt in the third and fourth quarters and won handily. Moe Maddox, Al Kersey and Larry Fones scored 18, 17, and 15 respectively, for the winners while Twomey and Boys scored 16 and 12 for the losers.

SAE showed its superiority over Phi Tau, 40-31 and Sigma Pi, 75-25. The Phi Tau game was close for the first half as SAE walked off the court sporting a 15-12 lead. Led by the play of Joe Cardaci in the second half, they iced the game and went on to win by nine points. Cardaci and Danny Hopkins each scored 11 points for the winners. Don Jeffrey was high man in a losing cause, scoring 12 points for Phi Tau.

The Sigma Pi game was rout from the start as SAE outscored the losers, 36-11 in the first half of play. They scored 39 more in the second half to Sigma Pi's 14, and coasted in to their easiest triumph of the season. Jim Sood, 15, Danny Hopkins, 14, Bill Beard, 13 and Chuck Piluso, 10 all hit double figures for SAE. Aubrey Witherington was high man for Sigma Pi with 11.

In another game, KA nosed out Pi KA, 25-21. In this game, the closest one of the week, Jim Strother and Bruce Rhea, both of Pi KA, were high men with seven apiece. Bob Foxwell, Bob Sessions and Dick Stanley were high for KA with 6 each.

Kappa Sig completely overwhelmed an undermanned Phi Alpha team, 61-18. Holding the losers scoreless in the first quarter, Kappa Sig held a 23-2 lead at the end of the half. With John Wood, 24 and Dick Clark, 10, Kappa Sig piled it on and won easily. Arnie Conn was high man for the losers with 7 points.

Lambda Chi, led by Tom Hamilton's 13 points, eked out a 45-42 win over Pi KA. Harry Wirth added to his team's scoring with 10 points while John Risjord and George O'Neill scored 11 and 10 respectively for the losers.

KA overwhelmed Sigma Pi 95-41 with one of the biggest second half outbursts in many a day. After piling up a 33-10 lead at halftime, the KAs scored 62 points in the second half. High for KA were Bob Sessions and Harry Carver with 16 each, and Bob Foxwell and Dick Stanley with 14.

The standings are:

	W	L
Sigma Rho	5	0
SAE	5	0
Lambda Chi	5	1
Phi Tau	4	1
Kappa Sig	3	2
KA	3	3
Theta Delt	2	3
Pi Lamb	1	3
Sigma Pi	0	4
Pi KA	0	5
Phi Alpha	0	6

The clash between the two unbeaten leaders of the independent basketball league, Sigma Pros and Ringers, took place last week. The Ringers, led by George Parazzo's 23 points, won the game, 61-44. The Sigma Pro's, aided by Jerry Sazio, led at half-time, 27-25. However, the Ringers, paced by Parazzo and Bob Lusk, started to hit and piled up basket after basket to win the game easily, 61-44.

The standings are:

Team	Won	Lost
Ringers	3	0
Sigma Pro's	2	1
Underdogs	2	1
Purple Horde	1	2
Shooting Stars	0	2
Kappa Siggers	0	2

Bowling

The 1952 bowling league entered its closing stages this past week with seven matches held. Sigma Rho, by defeating Pi Lamb three straight times, has just about sewed up the championship. Sporting a fine 24-3 record, the Rhomen find themselves in the enviable position of needing but one more triumph in their final trio of matches against SAE to clinch the championship.

SAE, which is the sole occupant of second slot, edged by Theta Delt two games to one. The victory left SAE holding a mark of 13-5, which, although a good percentage, was just about eliminated them. SAE will not only have to sweep its three game set against Sigma Rho, but also every other match as well.

In other events played this last week, Theta Delt defeated KA and Lambda Chi by the same scores, 3-0. Lambda Chi won over Phi Tau, while Pi KA won two contests shutting out both Lambda Chi and Kappa Sig.

The standings thus far:

Team	Won	Lost
Sigma Rho	24	3
SAE	13	5
Sigma Pi	12	6
Pi KA	9	6
Pi Lamb	7	5
Theta Delt	17	13
Phi Tau	9	9
KA	5	10
Lambda Chi	4	14
Phi Alpha	3	15
Kappa Sig	0	15

Play begins in both the Handball and Ping Pong tournaments tomorrow. All those entered in either event are requested to check the bulletin board outside the supply room to find out whom you are to play.

THIS is the life

of the man who wears

Arrow Shorts!

Perfectly at ease in action...

perfectly comfortable at ease!

Arrow Shorts...Gripper fasteners or all-elastic waistband.

Arrow Athletic Undershirts

Arrow T-Shirts

ARROW

SHIRTS • TIES • SPORTS SHIRTS • UNDERWEAR • HANDBERGERS

Douglas B. Green II
Quality Photographs
For every occasion
Phone 649
761 Scotland Street

WHITE'S RADIO REPAIR
Williamsburg's only exclusive radio shop
Crosley
Radios and Television
Phone 879
507 Prince George St.

A clean face makes no impression when you have soiled clothes

phone 24

Band Box Cleaners, Inc.
517 Prince George St.

Danny's CAMPUS GRILL and RESTAURANT
"Where the Campus Meets"
Open 7 A. M. - 11:30 P. M. Dinner 5:00-8:00

Indians Commence 1952 Spring Football Practice Under Suey Eason

Under the watchful eye of Coach Suey Eason, the William & Mary football squad began yesterday one of the most important spring practices in many years, here at the Reservation. The Indians will work from their third formation in two years, the double wing.

With the return of Charlie Sidwell to the reservation, only one member of the squad has left school since Bass' resignation. He is Sig Howerton, who entered school in the spring, only to withdraw following the resignation.

Assistant Coaches

The coaches named to assist Eason during the practice were, Eric Tipton, long time backfield coach for the Tribe and the only holdover from Rube McCray's staff, Ralph Hendrix, the head coach at Maury High School of Norfolk and a former aide of Eason at Hampton, and Randy Heflin, assistant coach at Warwick. Both Heflin and Hendrix are William and Mary graduates.

Johnny Clements, former North Carolina University star, has also joined the William and Mary coaching staff under Eason.

The backfield of the double wing consists of a tailback, a blocking back and two wing backs. At the present time, Ed Mioduszewski seems to be the standout bet for the tailback slot, due to his ability to pass and run. It is essential that the tailback be proficient in both of these departments. Tommy Lewis, a former blocking back of Eason's at Hampton, looks like a possibility for that slot while Koller and Lipski may try their luck on the wings.

Tickets for the Cincinnati game which will be held at Norfolk on February 29, are on sale now and will be until noon of the 29th. Price $1.95.

Group 3 High School league will play here Friday and Saturday night 7:30. 2 games Friday. Run-off Saturday. Tickets are 35c.

THE COLLEGE OF WILLIAM AND MARY SPRING ROSTER

(Subject To Change)

Players listed alphabetically, by position played last year. Class status will be that of next Fall. Asteris denote number of letters earned. Age, weight and height are those figures listed at the close of last season. Further rosters will be issued later.

No.	Name	Class	Age	Ht.	Wt.	Hometown	Offense or Defense
29	*Bednarik, John	Jr.	24	6-0	205	Bethlehem, Pa.	Defense
	Brooks, Leland	So.	17	5-11	175	Diggs, Virginia
31	*Cowling, Sonny	Sr.	21	6-3	207	Newport News, Virginia
28	*Feamster, Tom	So.	19	6-7	230	Morrisson, Virginia	Both
25	Fones, Larry	Sr.	21	6-1	190	Fairfax, Virginia	Offense
	Hamilton, Tom	Jr.	19	6-2	195	Williamson, West Virginia
	Hoitsma, Bobby	So.	18	6-2	180	Paterson, N. J.	Offense
	Horner, T. J.	So.	18	6-2	200	Johnstown, Pa.	Defense
21	Ivanhoe, Dick	Jr.	22	6-0	190	Norfolk, Virginia	Defense
26	Jessee, Carl	Jr.	21	6-1	200	Big Stone Gap, Virginia	Defense
	Kittenger, Al	Jr.	19	6-3	175	Salem, Virginia
27	*Krog, John	Sr.	20	6-2	195	Ashland, Ky.	Defense
35	*Lewis, Jack	Jr.	20	6-0	185	Pittsburgh, Pa.	Defense
18	Maddox, Milton	Sr.	21	6-0	190	Lynchburg, Virginia
	McCann, Frank	So.	20	6-2	200	(In service all of last year.)
	Root, Jack	So.	21	6-1	180	Hampton, Virginia
75	Brodie, Walter	So.	19	6-0	180	Hopewell, Virginia	Both
49	Basket, Caroll	Jr.	20	5-11	205	Richmond, Virginia	Defense
	Copfield, Joe	So.	18	6-3	210	Johnstown, Pa.
57	*Copeland, Charley	So.	19	6-0	205	Hampton, Virginia
	Crow, Al	So.	19	6-5	235	Norfolk, Virginia	Defense
69	Kreamcheck, John	Sr.	24	6-5	240	Vestaburg, Pa.	Defense
90	*Parazzo, George	Jr.	19	6-3	220	Newark, N. J.	Defense
56	*Scott, Sam	So.	20	6-2	200	Big Stone Gap, Virginia
	Tardy, Jim	Fr.	18	6-2	190	Hopewell, Virginia	Offense
	Trout, Val	So.	18	6-1	210	(Entered in February)
65	Williams, Charley	So.	19	6-1	225	Roanoke, Virginia
64	Cardaci, Joe	Sr.	19	5-11	205	Petersburg, Virginia
61	Corbett, Lou	Jr.	22	5-11	186	College Park, Md.	Offense
54	*Cox, Linwood	So.	19	6-0	175	Norfolk, Virginia	Defense
	Hicks, Lloyd	Fr.	19	5-10	190	Hopewell, Virginia	Defense
38	Hornsby, Swanson	Jr.	20	5-11	200	Hampton, Virginia	(Entered in February.)
47	*Milkovich, Steve	Jr.	20	6-0	200	Newport News, Virginia	Defense
58	Poms, Julius	Sr.	21	5-9	200	Johnstown, Pa.	Defense
37	*Sazio, Jerry	Jr.	19	6-0	200	Washington, D. C.	Both
62	Shatynski, Jim	Sr.	21	6-0	195	Irvington, N. J.	Both
34	Vujevich, Tony	Sr.	20	5-10	195	Johnstown, Pa.	Offense
48	Filer, Ted	Sr.	21	6-2	225	Clairton, Pa.
53	Hines, Mell	Jr.	19	6-2	210	Richmond, Virginia	Both
39	Layne, Don	Sr.	21	6-2	225	Norfolk, Virginia
44	*Lusk, Bob	Jr.	19	5-11	195	Richmond, Virginia	Both
16	Calabrese, Dan	Jr.	21	5-8	165	Williamson, W. Va.	Defense
	Elzey, Bob	Jr.	19	5-10	170	Bridgeton, N. J.	Offense
	Freeman, Pat	So.	18	5-8	160	Salisbury, Md.
74	Keef, Larry	So.	19	5-10	175	Windber, Pa.	Offense
55	*Summer, Charlie	Jr.	20	6-0	185	Rutherford, N. J.	Offense
	Capitano, Sam	So.	18	6-0	175	Salem, Virginia	Both
33	Flanagan, John	Sr.	20	5-10	175	Pittston, Pa.
41	*Hornsby, Bobby	So.	19	6-0	195	Pittston, Pa.	Defense
10	*Koller, Tom	Jr.	19	5-11	190	Newport News, Virginia	Both
19	*Lewis, Tommy	Sr.	23	5-11	180	Trenton, N. J.	Offense
22	Mioduszewski, Ed	Sr.	19	5-10	180	Phoebus, Virginia	Defense
	Safko, Leon	Jr.	19	5-9	165	Cliffside Park, N. J.	Both
73	*Sturgess, Bruce	So.	18	6-0	205	Camden, N. J.
	Takesian, Roosevelt	So.	19	6-0	175	Glassboro, N. J.	Offense
	Sidwell, Charlie	Jr.	19	6-1	175	Hopewell, Virginia
51	*Bowman, Bill	Jr.	19	6-1	200	Portsmouth, Virginia
	Harding, Bob	Jr.	19	6-2	200	Emporia, Virginia	Offense
42	*Lipski, Frank	Jr.	20	6-0	200	Dunellen, N. J.	Both
87	Oliver, Brown	Sd.	19	6-1	200	Larksville, Pa.	Both
11	*Hines, L. Quinby	Jr.	19	5-8	135	Richmond, Virginia	Defense
						Suffolk, Virginia	Offense

Under New Management

BUDDY'S WILMAR COFFEE SHOP

Another Restaurant In WILLIAMSBURG

Owned and Operated by a
William and Mary Alumnus

For Quality Food, Our Prices Can't Be Matched

Complete Dinners Under One Dollar

Hamburgers 20c
Cheeseburgers 25c

Grilled Cheese 20c
B. L. T. 30c

For fine food, efficient service and fair prices;

COME IN AND SEE US

BUDDY GRADY

— February 20th through February 26th on the —
COLLEGE CALENDAR

WEDNESDAY, February 20
 Canterbury Club Communion—Chapel, 7:25-7:55 a. m.
 Scabbard and Blade meeting—Blow ROTC Office, 3-5 p. m.
 Wesley Foundation—Wesley Lounge, 3:30-5:30 p. m.
 Backdrop Club meeting—Washington 200, 4 p. m.
 Student Heads of Intramurals meeting—Jefferson Living Room, 4-5 p. m.
 Debate Council Forum—Apollo Room, 4-5 p. m.
 Judicial Council meeting—Wren 100, 4-6 p. m.
 Vespers—Chapel, 6:30-7 p. m.
 Kappa Delta Pi meeting—Barrett Living Room, 6:45-7:45 p. m.
 Colonial Echo meeting—Office, 7:00 p. m.
 Pep Club meeting—Washington 100, 7-7:30 p. m.
 Semi-finals of Women's Intramural Basketball—Jefferson Gym, 7:00 p. m.
 Concert Series Program—Phi Bete, 8:00 p. m.

THURSDAY, February 21
 Judicial and House Committee meeting—Dodge Room, 3:30 p. m.
 Royalist meeting—Office, 4-5 p. m.
 Colonial Echo meeting—Office, 7-8 p. m.
 Eta Sigma Phi meeting—Washington 304, 7-8 p. m.
 Orchestral meeting—Great Hall, 7-8:30 p. m.
 Swimming Club meeting—Blow Pool, 7-8:30 p. m.
 International Relations Club meeting—Dr. Chou's home, 8:00 p. m.
 French Club meeting—Barrett Living Room, 8-9 p. m.
 Wythe Law Club meeting—Apollo Room, 8-10 p. m.

FRIDAY, February 22
 Balfour-Hillel meeting—Chapel, 6:30-7 p. m.

SATURDAY, February 23
 Girls' Basketball, W&M vs. Westhampton—Jefferson Gym, 3 p. m.
 Installation of Sigma Rho into Sigma Nu.
 Mortar Board Trip to Richmond for Ballet, 6-12 p. m.
 Basketball, W&M vs. Richmond—Blow Gym, 8:00 p. m.
 Pi Beta Phi Dance—Pagoda Room, 9-12 p. m.

SUNDAY, February 24
 Varsity Club Tryouts—Phi Bete, 1-11 p. m.
 Baptist Student Union, 5:30-8 p. m.
 Canterbury Club—Parish House, 6-7 p. m.
 Wesley Foundation—Wesley Lounge, 6-7 p. m.
 Westminster Fellowship, 6 p. m.
 Newman Club—Dodge Room, 7-8 p. m.

MONDAY, February 25
 Kappa Sigma Initiation—Great Hall, 7-12 p. m.

TUESDAY, February 26
 Mortar Board meeting—Barrett 224, 4:30 p. m.
 Mardi Gras Supper and Dance—Bruton Parish House, 5-10 p. m.
 S. R. U. meeting—Chinese Room, 6:30-7 p. m.
 Flat Hat meeting—7-8 p. m.
 Pan Hellenic Council meeting—Dodge Room, 7 p. m.
 Balfour-Hillel meeting—Baptist Student Union, 8-9 p. m.
 Mortar Board Party—Dodge Room, 8-10 p. m.
 Gamma Phi Beta Pledge party—House, 8-10 p. m.

GWU To Present $750 Fellowship To Woman Student

The George Washington University of Washington, D. C., is offering a $750 Soroptimist Fellowship for 1952-53 to a woman student undertaking graduate or professional work in preparation for public service.

The annual fellowship established by the South Atlantic Region of the American Federation of Soroptimist Clubs, which is an international organization of executive business and professional women, is intended to provide training and develop leadership for service in the student's field.

Selection of the candidates will be based on previous academic records, probability of success in graduate or professional study, and personal qualifications. All applicants for the Soroptimist Fellowship are expected to be holders of the baccalaureate degree and prospective candidates for a graduate degree.

Applications should be filed before April with the Registrar, The George Washington University, Washington, 6. D. C.

Symposium Will Include Gardens of Williamsburg

Nearby plantation gardens as well as the colonial gardens of Williamsburg will serve to illustrate the landscape lessons and designs which will be under discussion at the Sixth Annual Williamsburg Garden Symposium, opening on February 25.

Registrations indicate that the interest in the Symposium is as broad as the subjects under discussion. The experts who will address the members at the first three-day session of the Symposium include Jan de Graaff, the world-famous authority on bulbs who will come from Oregon; R. P. Korbobo, specialist in Ornamental Horticulture from the College of Agriculture, New Brunswick, New Jersey; R. C. Allen of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, Secretary of the American Rose Society; and Harold Hume, Dean Emeritus of the College of Agriculture, University of Florida, who will come from Gainesville, Florida. The second session of the Symposium begins March 3.

While the chief emphasis during the Symposium will be on the practical problems of the small gardener, the landscape lessons to be learned from the 18th century will also be discussed by Alden Hopkins, Resident Landscape Architect of Colonial Williamsburg. According to Mr. Hopkins, the main features of the old Virginia gardens were the evergreens rather than the herbaceous flowering plants. The Virginia climate is such that green gardens have always been considered the most rewarding. Magnolia, cherry-laurel, live oak and boxwood, as well as the flowering Carolina sweet shrub, or "calycanthus," crape myrtle, althea and old roses, are indicative of an old garden.

During the Symposium, conducted tours will be made through the gardens of Williamsburg. A plantation tour will include the gardens of the James River plantations, "Westover," built by William Byrd II, and "Berkeley," ancestral home of the Harrison family.

At "Westover" the visitors will enter gates which, according to the diary of William Byrd, were hung in 1711. These gates were made by a London smith. The 12 tulip poplars across the river front of the house were there in 1782. Their tremendous size actually dwarfs the size of the mansion. To the right of the river door, through a gate in a garden wall, lies the garden, laid out in squares, and centered with the tomb of the builder, William Byrd II.

Registrations are still being received for the Symposium at the offices of Colonial Williamsburg at the Goodwin Building here. Inquiries should be directed to Mrs. Alma Lee Rowe, Registrar.

LOST: A grey overcoat over a week ago. If found contact Pete Giblin, Monroe 207.

Mortar Board Sponsors Ticket Sale For Sadler's Wells Ballet in Richmond

Mortar Board has been sponsoring sale of tickets to the evening performance of the Sadler's Wells Ballet in Richmond on Saturday, February 23. The ballet will be presented for one day at the Mosque Theater, giving a matinee and an evening performance.

Members of Mortar Board have been selling the tickets, which included in the sale price the cost of bus transportation to and from Richmond. Greyhound buses and college owned buses will be provided for the college students.

Informal Rushing Starts This Week

Sorority rushing is taking place this week and will continue through Sunday, February 24. Each sorority may have three or four parties, according to their preference. There will be no rushing tomorrow, Wednesday, due to the performance of the Metropolitan String Quartet.

There are no formal parties as during first semester rushing, and the rushees will have no scheduled time in which to visit the sorority houses. The individual sorority arranges its own parties and sends out its own invitations. Sororities having over 60 members may not take more than three girls, and all those with membership under 60 may fill their quota up to 60. Delta Delta Delta and Pi Beta Phi are not taking part in this rushing. They decided this because of their present large membership.

No formal parties will be held and no invitations will be sent out for fraternity rushing. The fraternities may rush at will and may pledge new members at any time.

The three-act, full-length "Coppelia" will take up the entire program for the evening program beginning at 8:30. This ballet is the one which brought Pavlova and Danilova to their greatest and most lasting fame. The ballerina role will be danced by Elaine Fifield. Miss Fifield and her partner, David Blair, will be seen in the many solos and pas des deux of the ballet, and Stanley Holden will portray the sinister charlatan and toymaker, Dr. Coppelius.

The entire corps de ballet also will be seen in the night performance, and the symphony orchestra will be conducted by John Lanchberry and Robert Zeller. For the matinee, beginning at 2:30 p. m. on the same day, the program will open with a new production of "The Nutcracker" in two acts.

National IFC Rates Council at Stevens Most Outstanding

According to the Intercollegiate Press Bulletins of February 4, the Interfraternity Council at Stevens Institute of Technology has been named the most outstanding IFC in the nation for 1951, in the small urban college and university classification, by the National Interfraternity Conference. Similar first place awards were made to the University of Maryland, Hanover College and Ohio State University, in the University of Maryland, Hanover College and Ohio State University, in the large non-urban, small non-urban, and large urban classifications, respectively.

The primary basis of the award was a brochure submitted by the Stevens IFC. The two thousand word document summarized the organization and activities of the local IFC in 1951. The National Interfraternity Council commended the Stevens IFC for its earnest work in two major fields: first, for its plan to improve local chapters through good programs in rushing, housing, social facilities, and interfraternity competition, and second, for its endeavors to improve local interfraternity activities as related to college objectives, to the community and to the general student body.

Especially commended was the council's sustained period of excellent relations with the college administration. The NIC also praised the unique method employed by the Stevens IFC in eliminating fraternity rivalry, so prevalent at most colleges and universities, by an "Open Door" policy at formals and parties.

FOUND: One grey drizzler jacket in the Capitol restaurant, the last of December. Contact Harry DeSamper, Tyler Annex 201.

Dr. Taylor Heads Arbitration Board

Dr. Albion G. Taylor of the Economics Department recently spent a two day period serving as chairman of a three-man labor arbitration committee. The committee was called to settle disputes of over-time at the Planters Nut and Chocolate Company at Suffolk, Virginia. The problem proved to be an involved one, according to Dr. Taylor, and the final decision, or "award" is to be handed down in two weeks time.

Dr. Taylor is a member of the American Arbitrators Association.

LOST: SAE fraternity pin. If found please contact Peggy Bunting. Chandler 3rd floor.

LOST: One Parker 21 green and silver, RFM on side. If found please return to Bob Mitchell, SAE Lodge.

GREEK LETTERS

Kappa Kappa Gamma held a Founder's Day party Monday night.

Pi Lambda Phi recently elected the following officers: Julius Poms, president; Paul Cahn, social officer; and Warren Weiss, lodge manager.

Gamma Phi Beta entertained its pledges with an informal party last Tuesday night. Janice Quick, '51, was a recent visitor at the house.

Phi Alpha announces with pleasure the coronation of Miss Sally Lee Cook as fraternity sweetheart at its annual Rho-Tau formal on February 8th.

Thirteen members of Pi Beta Phi were entertained last Thursday with a dinner given by their alums in Richmond.

For All Your
 Dry Cleaning Needs
Williamsburg Laundry
 &
Collins Cleaning Co., Inc.
 Williamsburg, Virginia
 Dry Cleaning Dept. Phone 48
 Laundry Dept. Phone 34

PENINSULA HARDWARE CO.
 Keys Made — Electric Supplies
 DU PONT PAINTS
 See "Peninsula" Today

The
 For Your Best Buy
A and N STORE
 Is The Place To Try
 Duke of Gloucester Street

Where Students Meet To Eat
WILLIAMSBURG RESTAURANT
 — College Corner —

Four Good Barbers to Give You Good and
 Prompt Service.
WILLIAMS
 BARBER SHOP
 421 Prince George Street
 Ground Floor
 Shoe Shine Service

Henry Bilups, Bell Ringer, Recalls Campus of 1888

By Marjorie Lee
Flat Hat Feature Writer

If you want the authentic side-lights on campus life at William and Mary since 1888, talk to Henry Bilups. Henry has been an employee of the college for 63 years, ever since the college was reopened under the administration of President Lyon G. Tyler.

There were only three college buildings and one hundred and four boys enrolled when Bilups took his post as maintenance man and college bell-ringer. The students slept at the Brafferton and on the third floor of the President's house. The Wren Building housed all classes and administration offices, in addition to a library and small gymnasium. The site of the present library was a hay field producing fodder for the college-owned cows, our predecessor's answer to the food problem.

President Tyler taught history, and it was Henry's task to remind him to meet his classes. The students paid Henry to forget so that when Tyler arrived in class late his students would already have gone. "The boys were more like high school or grammar school students than today's college men," Bilups said.

On April 1st it was a common practice to remove the clapper from the college bell and then to stand behind Brafferton screaming "April Fool."

Seven Wise Men

The faculty of seven was known as the "Seven Wise Men." Among them was a Professor Hall, who found in his classroom a large white horse labeled "Hall" on one side and "Tyler" on the other.

Our mischievous predecessors also kept Henry busy moving the large cannon out of the Wren Building hall after they carried it there during the night. On another occasion they filled the chapel with hay as a protest against compulsory services.

Even a Phi Beta Kappa dinner was not awesome enough to stop the pranksters. Henry was sent to a nearby restaurant to get the deviled crabs, ordered for the affair, but a vigilant group had stationed themselves by Lord Botetourt ready to intercept him on his return. The Phi Beta Kappas went without their crabs.

Commencement Exercises

Commencements were gala affairs. The Wren Building was illuminated by candles and the front strung with Japanese lanterns. A week of dances preceded the event, since each fraternity gave a dance. The double doors were opened between the chapel and the library to make a room large enough for the proceedings. Graduation exercises included a debate between the two forensic societies. The winning team was awarded a gold medal.

Football has always been a major concern at the college. The first games were held in the neighborhood of Rogers Hall. "Oscar Shewmake of the Board of Visitors was the first man to make a touchdown against Richmond College," Henry recalled. Bilups used to serve the team as water boy, and in his 63 seasons he has never missed a home game. Following a football victory the boys used to build a mammoth bonfire at college corner, stopping the horses and carriages just as a modern Pep Rally halts traffic.

In 1935 the alumni gave Henry Bilups a gold watch and a miniature bell to attach to his watch chain along with the college seal as a token of their appreciation for his 45 years of service. They also presented him with a scroll proclaiming the dates of his employment, a Bible and a large broom.

Bridge Tournament To Pick Champions From Four Couples

Out of the 40 people who signed up for the National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament, Raymond Kimbrough and Elinor Hanson, Doris Zuidema and Elaine Williams, Bud Jay and Warren Low, and Steve Diamond and Ira Levine emerged victorious from the primary tryouts. These were held last Thursday night, February 14, in the basement of Old Dominion Hall. These four winning couples will play hands prepared by a national committee some time this week. The scores will be sent to the committee and two pairs of finalists will be chosen from each of the eight divisions of the United States. William and Mary is one of about 200 colleges competing in the 1952 tournament. Mr. R. A. Hasemeyer of Williamsburg is helping in the direction of the tournament. John Dalton is college tournament chairman.

There is no fee for participation in the tournament. The National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament Committee pays for the expenses of the finalists, including transportation and subsistence costs en route to and from the campus plus meals and hotel accommodations in Chicago where the finals will be held to determine the 1952 champions.

Forum to Discuss Religion As Possible W & M Department

Three faculty members and a clergyman will be the speakers on a forum discussion of Should There Be a Department of Religion at William and Mary? tomorrow afternoon, Wednesday, February 20, at 4 p. m. in the Apollo Room.

Under the sponsorship of the Inter-Collegiate Debate Council, the affirmative speakers will be the Rev. Francis H. Craighill, rector of Bruton Parish Church, and Miss Elizabeth McClure, instructor in government; negative speaking will be Dr. Frank Broke Evans, III, associate professor of English, and Mr. Burton R. Wolin, assistant professor of psychology.

Following ten-minute talks by each of these speakers, the topic will be thrown open to the floor for discussion and questions by the audience.

A religion department at William and Mary has been increasingly discussed since its formal advocacy earlier in the year by the Canterbury Club.

Students and faculty members unfamiliar with the varying points of view concerning this topic should find the forum discussion both interesting and informative, according to a spokesman from the Debate Council.

Zimmer Will Speak At Chapel Service

Dr. Pierce Middleton, head of the Restoration, spoke last Wednesday night, February 13, at Chapel on "The Almighty of God." He stressed the importance of faith of men in God.

Beverly Simonton sang as a solo, "The Great Awakening," by Kramer.

Layton Zimmer, a student, will speak tomorrow night, February 20, at the Chapel service.

CLUB NEWS

The International Relations Club

The International Relations Club is to meet this Thursday night, February 21, at Dr. Chou's home to discuss Justice Douglas' article, The Black Silence of Fear. This timely article may be found in the January 13th issue of the New York Times Magazine Section, on reserve in the Periodical Room.

On Tuesday, February 26th, Dr. Allan Edwards, here on a John-Hay-Whitney Fellowship from Australia, will give a talk in the Apollo Room at 8:00 on Australia's Foreign Policy.

Philosophy Club

The Philosophy Club met tonight at the home of Dr. Miller. Mr. Ferris Dethlef discussed Toward a Theory of Meaning.

Chi Delta Phi

Chi Delta Phi, honorary literary society, met tonight for an election of officers and a continuance of the discussion of the works of T. S. Eliot. At the next meeting the group will move into a discussion of Gide's Counterfeiters.

Orchesis

At the meeting of Orchesis held last Thursday, pictures were taken for the yearbook, and the rehearsal schedules were given out for the spring recital. Orchesis is going as a group to the matinee performance of the Sadlers Wells Ballet in Richmond, Saturday, February 23.

Psychology Club

Thursday, February 14 was the date for the last meeting of the Psychology Club. Dick Dallas spoke, using the topic of Institutions, centering around one particular school for problem children.

Students Wishing April Draft Tests To Apply At Once

The announcement quoted below was received from the Selective Service Examining Section. Educational Testing Service:

"All eligible students who intend to take the Selective Service College Qualification Test in 1952 should file applications at once for the April 24 administration. Selective Service National Headquarters advised today.

"An application and a bulletin of information may be obtained at any Selective Service local board. Following instructions in the bulletin, the student should fill out his application immediately and mail it in the special envelopes provided. Applications must be postmarked no later than midnight, March 10, 1952. Early filing will be greatly to the student's advantage.

"Results will be reported to the student's Selective Service local board of jurisdiction for use in considering his deferment as a student, according to Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the College Qualification Test."

DECISION BEFORE DAWN!

Richard Basehart stars in the role of an intelligence officer behind German lines in "Decision Before Dawn." Playing at The Williamsburg Theatre Thursday & Friday, Feb. 21-22, the feature co-stars Gary Merrill and Hildegard Neff.

Draft to Give No Special Provisions To Students For Enlistment in June

Major General Lewis B. Hershey, Director of Selective Service, has announced that Selective Service will not make any special provisions to give students 30 days after the end of their academic year to enlist in the service of their choice. General Hershey explained that such arrangements are not necessary this year as the 1951 amendments to the Selective Service law provide that students are henceforth to be deferred instead of having their induction postponed. They will, therefore, have ample opportunity after the completion of their academic year to enlist in the service of their choice.

The Selective Service Act of 1948 provided that any student who, while satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course, was ordered for induction would upon presenting the facts to his local board have his induction postponed until the end of his academic year. At the end of the year, the student became liable for immediate induction. The 1951 amendments to the Act changed this, General Hershey pointed out, by providing that any student pursuing a full-time course who was ordered for induction would, if he had never before been deferred as a student, be deferred in Class I-S until the end of his academic year, but he could receive only one such deferment.

A student who is entitled to a statutory I-S deferment must be ordered for induction, General Hershey pointed out, before he can be deferred by his local board. The law says that he shall be deferred "upon presenting the facts" that he is satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course at the time the order for induction is issued. Enrollment, acceptance and registration do not count, actual attendance at classes is the prerequisite.

The Selective Service law places upon each registrant the obligation of keeping the local board advised of his current status. It would therefore be a wise move, General Hershey suggested, for each student to have his school send official notice to the local board as soon as the student has been notified that he has passed his preinduction physical examination. If the local board has been put on notice that the student is pursuing a full-time course, General Hershey advised, there will be little danger of a last minute mix-up which might result in the induction of a student legally entitled to the statutory I-S deferment.

LOST: One grey jacket several weeks ago. Believed lost in Pagoda Room or thereabouts. If found return to Bob Hedelt, Monroe 206.

CONGRATULATIONS

and

BEST OF LUCK

to

Eplison Iota

of

Sigma Nu

COLLEGE SHOP

Duke of Gloucester Street

AT THE SIGN OF THE KING'S ARMS

A dining scene at Williamsburg's reconstructed King's Arms Tavern, located on the Duke of Gloucester Street opposite the Raleigh. This unusual restaurant serves meals in the colonial manner with hostess and waiters in 18th century costume. Luncheon from 12:30 until 2 p. m. and dinner from 6 to 8 p. m. Reservations are taken by phone in advance . . . call 764.

NOW

Sealtest

Pic Nic Pac

Ice Cream

Take Some With You .

The Wigwam

WEST END VALET SHOP

607 Prince George Street

Telephone 43

Cleaning - Pressing

SUITS MADE TO ORDER

Expert Alterations

"Done right for your Delight"

Life Has No Dull Moments For Cynthia, Math Expert

By Andrea Thurander
Flat Hat Feature Writer

Sending out a stack of bills, soliciting subscriptions, keeping the books, and seeing to the paper's bank account are all in a day's work for Cynthia Cohn, the Flat Hat's new business manager. After a year's experience as advertising manager during which she handled jobs like collecting delinquent bills and arranging the weekly advertising, Cynthia took over the new one-man job two weeks ago. So far, her only qualms about it have come when she deposited the first week's funds in the bank. She claims she was afraid that she'd do "something very wrong and be charged with embezzlement of Flat Hat funds." What! It so happens that she's a junior and a math major. If nothing else, that latter qualification should have reassured her even if the part about her being a junior might . . . oh well, let's not be gross about this. Anyway, she's very happy about the whole thing since she's hoping to make a career of advertising and math combined in some way. As yet, her job experience consists of some very interesting clerical work she did for a company called "Planned Parenthood" last summer.

Cynthia Cohn

theory! But then, of course, I have so many activities . . . Champion of the Post Office Track Team . . . etc. etc.)

She also claims the distinction of being one of the few here who hail from New York. Born way up north in Massachusetts, her family has moved farther south every once in a while. They now live in Mount Vernon . . . suburb of New York City, that is. Two members of her family have just received their degrees in fields other than math. Mother just got her doctorate in ped . . . (nearly choked on that one) oh well, a chiropodist is what she just became.

At any rate, life never seems to get dull for Cynthia. If you should see a short, brown eyed, brunette running around campus with a stack of analytical geometry books in one arm and a stack of what looks like army requisition slips (those are just the notes she writes to remind herself of "Things to Do") in the other, don't jump to the conclusion that she's just trying to make it look like she's busy (old freshman trick) . . . she is . . . but not too busy to stop and have a good time, too.

Canterbury Club

All students are invited to a discussion of Why Do Only One Third of College Students Go to Church? at the Canterbury Club supper meeting next Sunday evening, February 24, at Bruton Parish House, 6 p. m.

Neil Zabriskie, assistant chaplain to Episcopal students, will be moderator, and discussion will center around the reasons why students do not go to church and why and wherein the Church has failed to reach this group.

Halestones

(Continued from Page 2)

The whole thing was too fascinating to ignore, so I circled around the demonstrators waiting, undoubtedly, to overhear a burning message from Moscow or perhaps to recognize Stalin, himself through a disguise.

As with most demonstrators, it turned out that the greatest number of them weren't Communists at all. They were people who had been approached on the street in New York that morning and told, "If you'll carry this sign, we'll give you a free ride to Washington, D. C." What bowery bum could refuse such an opportunity?

"Ze Revolution" came a bit unexpectedly, however. In fact, the special party train pulled out leaving 20 of its passengers behind, and since their origin was exactly as I have described it, they did not have a cent — not even a red one, with which to buy a regular ticket. The placards began to wilt and none of them seemed interested in yelling slogans. It was "After the ball", and they were behind it.

I was thoroughly enjoying their situation until I noticed one of the band heading toward me. Evidently he assumed that my interest in them had been a fraternal one.

"Are you a member of the Washington party?"

I was sure that I had not heard correctly and replied, "What?"

"What I was wondering—could you put us up for the night until we can contact the New York Party?"

I beat it into a phone booth murmuring, "Grandmother, what big eyes you have." It occurred to me that I never did tell him whether or not I was a member of the Washington Party, and I certainly hope that he did not judge the hospitality of his comrades in D. C. by my actions.

But, just in case, the answer is, "No, I am not."

Sunday School Class

Since her position on the Flat Hat doesn't seem to be enough to keep Cynthia busy, she also holds several offices. For one thing, she's House President of Barrett, which, incidentally, puts her on the Judicial Council automatically. Then, there are her activities in the Student Religious Union as representative of the Balfour-Hillel group. Her latest activity has been a Sunday school class which she and another girl started. Early every Sunday morning, you can find her busily instructing the five young'uns who come regularly. It's not unusual for the two "teachers" to have to answer questions much harder than any they've had to answer in any other class. One of the more precocious youngsters often will come up with something such as "What does God look like?" and a self-assured classmate will answer before teacher has a chance: "Why, he looks just like my daddy!" Cynthia's comment: "That's why it's worth it to get up so early on Sundays."

Scholastically, Cynthia hasn't done too badly. She's now one of the "upper crust" . . . just made Dean's List. (I keep telling myself that with a lot of activities, you can't possibly do it. A pox on those like her who explode that

CHESTERFIELD QUIZ

Pete Hino and Margaret Brad-dock each won five packs of Chesterfields this week for correctly naming Mr. Eason as William and Mary's new football coach. Questions are asked by Chesterfield representative Ken Hackler and are based on the previous issue of the Flat Hat.

The Cedars

616 Jamestown Rd.
Williamsburg, Va.

A Guest House of Distinction

A Perfect Strike
When
You Get Your Flowers
At

Claude Jones, Jr.

Phone 1598

Religious News

Baptist Student Union

A surprise birthday party for Mrs. Batchelder was given by B. S. U. on Saturday, February 16, after the basketball game.

The Baptist group is collecting money from the Baptist students in order to buy a set of encyclopedias, an atlas, and a globe to send to a day school at a Baptist mission in Africa.

Westminster Fellowship

George Belk read a pageant last Sunday night at Westminster Fellowship. The group will have as speaker next Sunday, February 24, Reverend William Anderson, who preceded Dr. Gray as minister of the Williamsburg Presbyterian Church and who is now minister of the Presbyterian church in Richmond. He will speak to the group on young people's work in the church.

Newman Club

Father Farrell of Saint Bede's Church in Williamsburg spoke to the group last Sunday, February 17, on The Importance of Religion on College life.

Next Sunday the Newman Club will hear Father Walsh of Saint Bede speak, at 7 p. m. in the Dodge Room on Cardinal Newman. Refreshments will be served.

Wesley Foundation

At their last meeting, February 17, the Methodist students heard John Daniels, Sunday school superintendent of the Methodist Church in Williamsburg, speak on missionary work in Brazil. This was the second in a series of discussions the students are holding on missionary work. The first discussion, held on February 10, was a round table on Why Missions?

Mr. Daniels is well acquainted with mission work as he was born in Brazil where his father established a school.

Next Sunday, February 24, the students will hear Mrs. Carr, a Czechoslovakian, speak on social, economic and religious aspects of Czechoslovakia.

At the end of the series the students will choose a missionary school abroad and send money to the school. The money will be raised by the students who will each receive a box to put their contributions in during Lent.

Last Sunday, February 17, Wesley Foundation held a Valentine theme dinner. The decorations were by Ronnie Miller and the dinner was prepared by Elsa Stromberg, Peggy Schleif and Florence DeHart. It is the plan of the students to hold various theme dances throughout the year, such as on St. Patrick's Day and Halloween.

St. Cyprian's Guild

There will be an informal meeting of St. Cyprian's Lay Readers and Acolytes Guild next Friday evening at 7 p. m. at Bruton Parish House, according to Dr. Andrew C. Haigh, adviser to the Guild.

Daily Morning Prayer

The Order for Daily Morning Prayer is read each weekday morning except Wednesday in the Wren Chapel from 8 to 8:25 a. m.

The Feast Day of St. Joseph of Arimathea will be celebrated by a service of Choral Matins next Friday morning at 8 a. m., according to Charles Colby, who will serve as precentor at this service.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

POOR PAUL was having a fowl time. Even his best gal didn't give a hoot for him. "Wise she hate me so?" he asked his roommate. "Simple, you stuffy old bird—because your hair's always ruffled up! Better try Wildroot Cream-Oil hair tonic. It's non-alcoholic. Contains soothing Lanolin. And does tree things: Relieves annoying dryness. Removes loose, ugly dandruff. Grooms hair neatly and naturally all day long. (Even limbers up your scalp. And helps you pass the Finger-Nail Nest-er, Test!) Paul got Wildroot Cream-Oil and now he's a 'owling success. So why don't you take a taxi-dermist to any drug or toilet goods counter to get a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil. It's your hair's best friend! And ask for it at your barber shop. Then there's no talon how the chicks'll go for you.

* of 131 So. Harris Hill Rd., Williamsville, N. Y.

Wildroot Company, Inc., Buffalo 11, N. Y.

Go Fly a Kite . . . But Play SAFE!

- never fly a kite near electric wires
- never use a wire or tinsel string
- never fly a kite that has metal ribs
- never use a wet string
- never climb a pole after a kite. Call us to help you get your kite back!

VIRGINIA ELECTRIC AND POWER COMPANY

Just like
George Washington
We cannot tell a lie.
For the most
Delicious Dinners
Visit the
CAPITOL RESTAURANT

Metropolitan Quartet To Present Puccini Opera

The highlight of the program to be presented by the Metropolitan Quartet in Williamsburg Wednesday, will be the full-length English version of Puccini's comic, one-act opera, Gianni Schicchi. The Quartet's concert will be presented at 8 P. M. Wednesday, in Phi Beta Kappa Hall under the auspices of the William and Mary Concert Group.

The artists who comprise the Metropolitan Quartet are: Miss Angelene Collins, soprano; Miss Sandra Warfield, contralto; Harold Borden, tenor; Paul Ukena, bass-barritone. Miss Collins, who appeared in Williamsburg just a few weeks ago in joint recital with Claude Monteux, flutist, has enjoyed a singularly brilliant concert career. In addition to her extensive appearances on the concert platform, Miss Collins recently starred as the lyric narrator for the New York City Center Ballet's production of Benjamin Britten's new work Les Illuminations.

The Metropolitan Quartet tours independently of the Metropolitan Association and is not affiliated with that organization. The early portions of Wednesday's program include the Liebeslieder Waltzes by Brahms, arias from

Sandra Warfield

Pagliacci, the Flower Song from Britten's The Rape of Lucretia, O Don Fatale from Don Carlos, and an aria by Lukas Foss and a quartet from the Verdi Requiem.

Election

(Continued from page 1)
The duties of this office are to be President ex-officio in case of the absence of the President, and to succeed to the office of President of the student body in case vacancy should occur.

'Merchant of Venice' Opens Here March 5

March 5-8 are the dates set for the production of William Shakespeare's Merchant of Venice by the William and Mary Theatre, directed by Miss Althea Hunt, the play will have a cast of 20.

As has been the custom of the William and Mary Players, this annual selection from the works of Shakespeare will be produced for high school students throughout Virginia. The general public is welcome to all four performances but on the nights of March 7 and 8 interscholastic groups will be especially invited and seated in a reserved section.

In recent seasons, the William and Mary group has presented such other Shakesperian efforts as A Comedy of Errors and The Taming of the Shrew with marked success, both from the production viewpoint and from the interest engendered in the high school drama departments.

The Merchant of Venice was originally printed in 1699, with subsequent printing coming in 1623 and 1637. The action takes place partly in Belmont and partly in Venice and deals with the money lender, Shylock, and his "pound of flesh" interest on an uncollected debt. David Friedman will portray the character of Shylock in the drama.

Backdrop Club To Hold Organization Meeting Tomorrow, Tryouts Sunday

A meeting of the Backdrop Club for all students interested in working on this year's production of the Varsity Show will be held at 4 p. m. in Washington 200 on Wednesday, February 20. At this meeting, plans and progress on the show will be revealed, and, as Dick Hutcheson, president of the club, stated, "It is important that all members of the club be present in order to transact some necessary business and elections."

On Sunday, February 24, from 1 p. m. to 11 p. m. tryouts for the Varsity Show will be held in Phi Beta Kappa auditorium. Since these will be held only one day, it is important that all students interested in trying out sign up for their ten minute auditions on a tryout sheet that will be posted on the bulletin board in Phi Beta from Thursday, February 21 through Sunday, February 24, the day of the tryouts. Director of the show, Bill Farley, urges all those who wish to try out for the cast—actors, singers, dancers—plus anyone with such special unique talents as juggling, tumbling, or even screaming, to be present then, and try out or tell the directors you are interested. Another list will be posted in Phi Beta for auditions to be arranged later, for those students who are absolutely unable to be present on Sunday. The show script is nearing completion, and the music committee is hard at work. Since Charles Grauer has left school, the music committee composed of Phil Struthers, Giles Quarles and Bill Farley, together with their new member, Al Richardson, is finishing the score. One song has been written for the show by Dick Hutcheson, who has written music for the show for the past two years.

Although information on the type of show and its name cannot be released as yet, Bill Farley assures the students that "it's going to be a slam-bang show, and I hope to see many students, freshmen as well as seniors, at the tryouts on Sunday."

Midwinters

(Continued from Page 1)
his orchestra, from Newport News will provide the music for an informal dance which will also be held in Blow Gym. This group has performed on this campus in past, and was received enthusiastically by all who heard them.

Bob Hackler, student chairman of the dance committee, has announced that tickets will go on sale Monday, March 10. Advance tickets for both dances will cost $6.00; at the door on Friday night, tickets will be $6.50; and at the door on Saturday night, $1.00.

CHESTERFIELD—LARGEST SELLING CIGARETTE IN AMERICA'S COLLEGES

AT ALABAMA 2 to 1

Bama Drug Co.
We certify that Chesterfield is our largest selling cigarette by 2 to 1
SIGNED H. J. McKee PROPRIETOR

because of MILDNESS Plus NO UNPLEASANT AFTER-TASTE

* FROM THE REPORT OF A WELL-KNOWN RESEARCH ORGANIZATION
.. and only Chesterfield has it!

Copyright 1952, LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.