FORENSIC PLANS PROGRESSING AT RAPID PACE

Team For Season Includes Men Back
From Last Year and Campbell,
Garrett, Kelsey and Morscher

AMBITIOUS SCHEDULE

Tentative Plans Have Been Made For Contests With Florida, Alabama,
Bucknell and Others

Debate plans for the season are progressing rapidly, according to announcements made by William Elliott, debate manager, and Weldon Thompson, debate council president. The schedule is being completed to allow for a number of good home debates, and two trips, one to the south and one to the north.

Try-outs have been held during the last two weeks, the result being that the debate squad for the present season has been completed. The members of this squad, remaining on from last year are William B. Bolton, William J. Elliott, George Hunt, Edwin Lammerth, and M. Weldon Thompson. The new members selected at the recent try-outs, which were judged by G. H. Felsing, G. E. Brooks, Hillis Miller, and George W. Reilly, are as follows: Gordon Campbell of Norfolk, Va.; E. J. Garrett of Danville, Va.; Arthur J. Kelsey of Norfolk, Va.; and L. N. Morscher of Clarendon, Va. All of these men are sophomores in college, and are well known on the campus. Mr. Campbell is a varsity track man, and an active member of the Phoenix Literary Society; Mr. Garrett is now treasurer of the Phoenix Society, and has been one of the outstanding members in that organization. He was one of the winning men debating in the freshman contest last year. Mr. Kelsey entered William and Mary last February, and at once became active in forensic work. He represented William and Mary in the state oratorical contest at Ashland last year, coming out fourth in the state, and he is now one of the officers of the Phoenix Literary Society. Mr. Morscher also has taken an interest in forensic (Continued on page eight)

WHERE ARE THE FILES?

The Flat Hat is taking this space to endeavor to locate the files for 1926-27. These files which were placed in the Flat Hat office in Citizenship Building recently, disappeared last week. As these files cannot be replaced and are needed by this year's staff, the editors are asking the person or persons who took them to return them immediately.

"YOU AND I" TO BE GIVEN SOON

Will Be Presentation of Dramatic Club; Date Announced
For December 17

Another evening's program will soon be offered in the Phi Beta Kappa Hall, when the William and Mary Dramatic Club presents "You and I," a three act comedy by Philip Barry. The date announced for the production is December 17.

Reports from the rehearsals are most promising as to progress. The play is to be under the direction of Miss Althea Hunt. Many students tried out for parts and the cast finally selected is indeed very well balanced. Nearly every one of them are experienced actors and some of them have proven their ability before William and Mary audiences. The cast:

Nancy White Mrs. Sarah W. Darling
Matland White Nathan M. Caffee
Ricky, their son George Synon
Ronny, Ricky's fiancée Phyllis Logan
Etta, the maid Polly Venable
Godfry Nichols Samuel Staples
G. T. Warren, business man
Stanley Fern

"You and I" is a social comedy concerning the choice between marriage and career in two different generations. Matland White gives up a career to marry Nancy. Ricky, their son, has to decide between architecture and Ronny. On the other side, Godfry Nichols, a friend of Mr. White's, jilts his little Kitty Nash for his typewriter.

GEORGE ROGERS CLARK PARTY AT WILLIAM AND MARY TODAY

When George Rogers Clark set out with a party recruited from the vicinity of Williamsburg for the wilds of Indiana with the purpose of making that territory subservient to the state of Virginia and finally returned triumphantly from Vincennes bringing the captured Governor-general of the captured Governor-general in his train, he little supposed, in a hundred-odd years thence a deed should be commemorated at Williamsburg, the place of his setting out, by a delegation from Indiana, the object of his march, which delegation would be making a pilgrimage in the interest of the memorial to be erected to his name. Those enthusiasts of Indiana, proud of the fact that Fortune elected that time that their state, with others, should be the daughter of Virginia. Such an expedition headed by prominent men of the middle north-west is in Williamsburg just such an event today and will visit the old "Public Gaol" where Clark imprisoned his captive governor, the Powder Horn, the ancient Capitol Site, and the College here.

The Clark delegation numbers more than 50 persons. They are headed by the Hon. Edward Jackson, Governor of Indiana, and include Hon. A. O. Eberhart of Chicago, former Governor of Minnesota; William Fortune, president of the Clark Memorial Commission; Congressmen Will R. Wood, Ralph E. Updike, and Arthur H. Greenwood; John C. Deelan, President of the Kentucky Historical Society; Mrs. Emma S. Backus of Ohio, a noted writer; and Ross F. Lockridge, biographer of George Rogers Clark. The party arrived at 12 o'clock, and was received in the Phi Beta Kappa Hall by Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, assisted by members of the faculty and the student body. While on the peninsula, they will pay visits to Jamestown and Yorktown.

SUMMER SCHOOL IN EUROPE WILL BE RUN IN 1928

William and Mary Travel Group,
After Year's Inertia Will Operate
Again Next Year

A. G. WILLIAMS DIRECTOR

Scholastic Work to be Connected
With University of Toulouse
As in Past

The William and Mary Summer School in Europe will be resumed this summer under the direction of Prof. A. G. Williams, Head of the Department of Modern Languages and Prof. J. D. Carter of the same Department. Professor Williams will precede the group to Europe in February, and plans to spend several months traveling in France and Germany before meeting the party at Paris in June.

Professor Carter will accompany the party to France. Mrs. A. G. Williams will accompany the party as chaperone. After spending several days in sight-seeing in Paris, the group will proceed to Bagneres de Bigorre where the University of Toulouse holds its summer session. Courses will be given to suit the individual needs of the students and college credit will be granted for work satisfactorily completed just as if taken at the summer session of the college at Williamsburg.

More detailed information about the Study Tour in Europe will appear in the Flat Hat in the near future.

CO-ED OPENINGS ARE TOMORROW

German Club Will Have Dansant
In Afternoon and Formal
Tomorrow Night

Co-ed promenaders will have their first dance of the season tomorrow in the Jefferson gymnasium. Following the plan inaugurated last spring, this year's program calls for a tea dance in the afternoon and a formal dance in the evening. The dansant will be a break dance but cards will be used for the night affair.

Music for the occasion will be furnished by the Bedouin Orchestra of Richmond. Elaborate decorations have been planned by the Decorating Committee under the chairman, Elizabeth Sexton.

K. O. B. and G. G. G. Ribbon Societies will again vie to furnish the most attractive "cozy corner." It is expected that each dance club will form a figure during the evening, as has been the custom at all German Club dances.

This is the club's first dance of the season. Another formal is planned for the spring. Many alumni will return for the week-end.

FLAT HAT BOX NOT MAIL BOX

Evidently all of the student body does not know that the box setting on the Main Building porch is for the Flat Hat and not for U. S. Mail. Early this week a member of the staff looked into the box and found in it a letter addressed and stamped. The student who "mailed" however need not worry for it was put in the postoffice.

FLAT HAT OUT WEDNESDAY

The issue of the Flat Hat for next week will come out on Wednesday instead of Friday. This is being done because of the holiday Thursday, both at the college and at the printers. This will be for next week only, however, and after that the paper will appear on Friday as usual. It is the custom to put the Thanksgiving week issue out immediately before the Thanksgiving game.

435 MEMBERS IN LOCAL YMCA NOW

Final Figures Released Yesterday
Indicate 252 Active Members and 181 Associate

Four hundred and thirty-four men became members of the William and Mary Young Men's Christian Association during the recent campaign put on here, figures released yesterday by LeRoy M. Ober, Chairman of the Membership Committee show. Of this number 252 signed up as active members while the remainder, 181 became associate members.

This is by far the largest number that has ever been associated with the local Y. M. C. A., the number of members representing over two thirds of the men's student body.

The campaign as staged by Chairman Ober was rather a silent one, the main methods of securing members being a canvass of dormitories and having a man at a desk in the lobby of the Main Building for two or three days. The drive started last week, ran until Tuesday of this week, and final results were released yesterday.

Chairman Ober states the results of the campaign are more than satisfactory to officials of the local "Y," both as to the number and to other things.

The campaign committee in addition to the chairman consisted of Gerard Farino, Thomas Higgins, Floyd B. Taylor, Cecil Hall, Sidney Williams, W. W. Renshaw, Francis Williams, Wilson White, Graham White and Richard Walden.

NEW BOOK ON ALASKA BY GEORGE WASHINGTON SPICER PUBLISHED

Credit for compilation of the first comprehensive work on the government of Alaska, America's "Empire in the Making" is being given Dr. George W. Spicer, professor of political science at William and Mary. Professor Spicer's book, "The Constitutional Status and Government of Alaska," has just been published by the Johns Hopkins Press at Baltimore.

While studying at Johns Hopkins for his doctor's degree, Professor Spicer undertook a detailed study of the development of Alaska's system of government, and compiled many facts of importance and points of interest hitherto overlooked by students of government. His new work treats these fully, and traces the growth of the territorial government, showing how full development was retarded by the reluctance of Congress to provide an adequate governmental system.

JAMES E. BECK LECTURES HERE TODAY IN P. B. K.

Address Marks First of Series Sponsored By Cutler Foundation

MR. BECK WIDELY KNOWN

Speaker Will Use as His Subject
For Address "Our Changing Constitution"

The first lecture under the James Gould Cutler foundation for study of the Constitution will be delivered in Phi Beta Kappa Hall today by James M. Beck of Washington, D. C., former assistant United States attorney general. A convocation of the student body has been called by President Chandler.

Mr. Beck, who is nationally known as an authority on American government, will speak on "Our Changing Constitution." The speaker is the author of several books on the Constitution, and is noted as a lecturer.

From 1921 to 1925, during the period when the United States was confronted with problems arising from post-war conditions, Mr. Beck held the office of solicitor general. He has served also as United States attorney for the eastern district of Pennsylvania.

The Cutler foundation which brings Mr. Beck to Williamsburg was established in 1926 by James Cutler of Rochester, N. Y. The main purpose of the foundation is to make possible frequent addresses by nationally prominent men and figures in public life on topics concerned with government.

The foundation is endowed by the same man who endowed the Marshall-Wythe School of Government and Citizenship at William and Mary. The latter endowment, of $100,000 is used to maintain the John Marshall Chair of Government, now occupied by Dr. John Garland Pollard, and to provide annual prize awards to the man and woman students in the senior class who prepare the best essays on the Constitution.

At present, Professor Spicer finds, the territory is laboring under the handicap of an inadequate police and protection system, except in organized municipalities. He recommends, as a result of his studies, the establishment of a federal police force under the department of justice.

Professor Spicer points out also that Alaska, having fought its way to the front politically, is undergoing a great struggle for proper economic development and resulting commercial importance. The failure of the government to grasp the fullest opportunities offered by Alaska's natural resources, he holds, is due to the lack of any centralized system of control over these government properties. He points out the need for vesting in the department of the interior full control over such economic resources.

FLAT HAT CLUB HOLDS BANQUET

Occasion Marks 177th Anniversary
Of Founding of Oldest College
Fraternity in America

On Saturday night, the home of the Misses Morecock was the scene of a delightful banquet given by the Flat Hat Club in honor of its one hundred and seventy-seventh anniversary. The society was founded Nov. 11, 1750, but the banquet could not be held Friday evening due to the fact that several of its members were away on the football trip.

L. W. l'Anson acted as toastmaster and short talks on various subjects were made by Nathan M. Caffee, William C. West, Jr., James Robertson, and Warfield Winn. The principal address of the evening was delivered by Dr. W. A. Hamilton. Dr. Hamilton gave a brief history of the club, tracing it from its founding in 1750 up to the present day.

Those present were Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Young, Dr. and Mrs. L. W. Lindsley, Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Hamilton, Rev. and Mrs. John Bentley, Misses Lois Wilson, Ruth Jones, Ernestine Renn, Irma Hall, Polly Hines, Mary Ribble, Catherine Cooke, Jeanne Miles, Elizabeth Duke, Esther Lowe, and Messers. Joseph C. Chandler, John Todd, George Reilly, Allan Cooke, Nathan Caffee, Kenneth Beatty, William West, Warfield Winn, James Robertson, and L. W. l'Anson.

STUDY GRADES OF SOPHOMORES

Committee Endeavoring to Find Out
Causes of Failures of Second Year Men

A study of the scholastic record of the sophomore class, similar to that of the freshman class grades which was announced two weeks ago, is being made by the sophomore committee. The survey is being made with an eye to determining how many second year men are passing all their work, and to trace the cause of most failures.

Special attention is being paid the quality of work done by sophomore men who were in the upper third of the freshman class last year, according to M. G. H. Gelsinger, chairman of the committee. The survey has not yet advanced far enough to reveal whether the same men lead the class scholastically this year.

Besides Mr. Gelsinger the committee includes L. Tucker Jones and A. C. Williams.

HAVE NOT CUT OUT WOMEN'S "SUPREME COURT" AT W. & M.

Women's supreme court has not been abolished at William and Mary, according to Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, and the article published in the Virginian Pilot of Norfolk, Va., recently, concerning the abolishing of the women's supreme court at William and Mary by the authorities of the college has absolutely no foundation.

Dr. Chandler was called by an alumnus of the college, who is in newspaper work and asked if the article was authentic. Dr. Chandler, however, was ignorant of the article and of the happening and was astonished that the affair should receive publicity. He stated that the article was not authentic.

The Virginian Pilot credited the news to the Associated Press but authorities claim they did not handle the story.

PLAYMAKERS OF CAROLINA UNI. HERE TUESDAY

Present Three One-Act Plays in Phi Beta Kappa Hall at That Time

ALL HAVE LOCAL COLOR

"The Scuffletown Outlaws," "Lighted
Candles" and "On Dixon's Porch" Titles

(By Edward D. Fales, Jr.)

Backwoodsmen of North Carolina lived and fought and loved for an enthusiastic audience in Phi Beta Kappa hall Tuesday night when the Carolina Playmakers, famed dramatic group of the University of North Carolina, presented three of a series of their own folk plays. The Playmakers, on their eighteenth eastern tour, were received warmly in Williamsburg.

The three plays were "The Scuffletown Outlaws" by William Norment Cox, "Lighted Candles" by Paul and Erma Green, and "On Dixon's Porch" by Wilbur Stout and Ellen Lay. The last named play was the only comedy of the group.

All were well done, but "The Scuffletown Outlaws," with its tense situations, its cruel, hunted men, and its rapid movement of events, drew particular acclaim. The seizing of the white prisoner by the Croatan outlaws and the free display of weapons and even a dagger lend a melodramatic touch not altogether unpleasing. The effect is heightened further by the threat of Henry Berry Lowrie, chieftain of the gang, to nail the captured man to the wall with wooden pegs. There is nothing artificial about the melodrama, however. The author and the players have succeeded in portraying the backward, struggling Croatans of 1870, in whose hardened lives such colorful events were common.

The casting of the author as the outlaw chieftain is a contributory factor to the success of the play. Not only does this enable him to work toward perfecting the play that he visualized, but it permits the audience a feeling of interest in the production that may or may not be sentimental.

"Lighted candles" is a tragedy, but the tragic element is skillfully lightened by the introduction of humor that does not hinder the march of the story. Helen Dortch, as a sunbonneted, pipe smoking dame, and Hubert Heffner, as Brother Wakecaster, the mountain preacher, perform admirably the duty of supplying comedy to a tragedy.

"On Dixon's Porch" is a comedy of country courtship. Charles Graham, boy actor cast as the "little brother," took the heart of the audience.

A play is not good if fault cannot be found with it, and these are real plays. So it may be said that in "The Scuffletown Outlaws" the action might have been a bit more deliberate at times, with a resulting gain in intensity. In the last play of the group, however, the reverse is true; at times action lagged. On the whole, though, the work was good.

William & Mary and Hampden-Sidney Clash In Norfolk Tomorrow

MUCH INTEREST MANIFESTED IN COMING BATTLE

Rivalry Between Two Colleges Started Over Thirty Years Ago But Has Lagged Since 1924

OUTLOOK FOR INDIAN WIN

Although Defeating Delaware U. and Centre Have Lost to Some Weak Teams

The interest attending the William and Mary—Hampden-Sidney game at Norfolk tomorrow is growing rapidly as the day of the battle draws near. Athletic relations between the two institutions began about 30 years ago and records show that Hampden-Sidney has a decided advantage over the Indians in games won.

Up to the present time this season the Tiger eleven has not shown the strength of previous years, having lost to Virginia, V. P. I., Randolph-Macon and Richmond. Statistics, however, have but little meaning in forecasting football games and Coach Tasker's warriors will face an experienced aggregation tomorrow that could give them plenty of trouble. Coach Bernier has not allowed his men any rest from the hard Richmond game last Saturday and practice has been exceedingly strenuous in Death Valley all week. New plays have been devised and much time has been spent in developing a pass attack to be used against the Indians. The Tiger offense centers around Ruffner, left halfback, who has proved to be consistent ground gainer all season. In the line, Jeter Scott, left end, is the outstanding player.

In all likelihood, Coach Bernier will rely on Montgomery, Jones, Ruffner and Peach as his starting backfield combination, and his line will no doubt consist of Hudson, center; Nance and Blanton, guards; Capt. Nyles and Worden, tackles; Scott and Turley, ends. The teams will line up practically equal in weight and are strongly backed by their respective supporters, with weighing the most recent performances of the rival elevens, the balance tips slightly in favor of William and Mary.

Hampden-Sidney scores for the year are: H-S 6, Virginia 38; H-S 0, V. P. I. 13; H-S 6, High Point 0; H-S 20, Delaware 0; H-S 20, Lynchburg 0; H-S 0, Randolph-Macon 6; H-S 20, Centre 0; H-S 6, Richmond 7.

PRELIMINARY BASKETBALL PRACTICE STARTS HERE

FIRST SESSION HELD MONDAY

Davis, Winn, Taylor, Kent and Macon Are All Back to Start Season Next Month

OUTLOOK FOR YEAR BRIGHT

Preliminary Basketball practice began Monday night when Coach Tasker issued a call for candidates to report to Blow Gymnasium. This was the first practice of the year although several of last year's squad have been working out for several weeks. Light workouts will be taken for the next two weeks. Heavy work will not begin until December 1 however.

The outlook for basketball this year seems very bright. Captain Davis, "Waffles" Winn, "Runt" Taylor, Yelverton Kent, Carlton Macon and others of last year's Squad are again with the squad. In addition to the above, Maister, Dunbar, Sauerbram and others of last year's freshman team will be available material for Coach Tasker. Many new men among the Freshmen of this year also seem likely candidates for the Indian tossers. Scott, Butler, Ferrandini and others have good prep school reputations.

The schedule has not been announced by Manager Linn but it is expected that it will be next week.

Linn Asks For Freshmen Managers to Report Now

Bill Linn, manager of the William and Mary basketball team has sent out a call for all freshmen who wish to try out for the freshman assistant managerial places. Those wishing to go out for this work are to report to Manager Linn right away.

Papooses Meet Hopewell High Eleven Here Today

Today the Little Indians will entertain the football team from the Hopewell High School on Cary Field at 4 o'clock.

Little is known of the Hopewell team. They won from Emporia and played a scoreless tie with Morrison High.

The Freshmen have shown up so far this year very well and their record is fair. Their best showing was against the Apprentice team which they trimmed 6-0.

INDIAN HARRIERS MEET JOHNS HOPKINS TEAM HERE TODAY

Today Coach Chandler will place his harriers against Johns Hopkins University. This will be the third meet of the year for the Indians and the second on the home course.

The Indians have had fair success this year. They lost to Maryland by a small score and last Saturday defeated Randolph-Macon, taking the first five places. Little is known of the visitors but the Indians are expected to give them stiff competition.

The usual course, starting at Jefferson and also ending there, is expected to be followed.

MACON, WILLIAM AND MARY BACK LEADS TASKERITES IN SCORING

Carlton Macon, Indian fullback, by making two touchdowns against Roanoke on last Friday has taken the lead in individual William and Mary scoring. He has tallied four touchdowns for a total of 24 points. Maister who was leading last week is now in second place as he failed to add to his total on Friday. There are now six local players who have scored, as Scott, freshman backfield man secured a touchdown against the Maroon.

Freshmen Drop Game to Wilson Presidents; 14-0

The William and Mary Freshman football team lost to the Woodrow Wilson Presidents Friday 14-0. This ran the scoring of games in which Wilson's goal line has remained uncrossed to 18.

The Presidents have a team which would represent easily a small college. They are clever and fast, clearly outclassing the Papooses.

The first score came in the first period when a pass, Rose to Casey, gave the Presidents a touchdown.

The Presidents scored again in the third quarter when Casey slipped around end for another touchdown.

In the final period Powell recovered a blocked punt behind the goal line for a safety. This brought the Presidents' score to 14.

For Wilson Captain Everett, Rose and Casey were the stars while Lankford and Malcolm looked best for the Papooses.

Score:

Wilson	6	0	6	2—14

INDIANS SCALP SALEM MAROON

Triumph Over Roanoke College Team 18-7 in First Collegiate State Game of Year

MACON AND TAYLOR SHINE

Playing their first game with a state collegiate opponent the Taskerites invaded Roanoke last Friday and defeated Roanoke College 18-7.

The Indians started the game off with a rush. Taking the ball at the kickoff they began a march which resulted in three first downs and finally a touchdown. Macon carried the ball over. The try for point failed.

In the second quarter Roanoke began a forward passing game which completely baffled the Indians. Williams after receiving a long pass from Deitrich crossed the goal line to even the count. Roanoke then went into the lead when Gilbert added the extra point. This extra point by Gilbert established a record for consecutive extra points after touchdown, giving him 17 in a row.

In the third period the Indians began a rush down the field which placed the ball on the six-yard line at the end of that quarter.

Opening up the fourth period, Macon crashed across Roanoke's goal line to put the Indians in the lead. The try for point failed.

The Indians continued their attack and near the end of the game Scott raced 41 yards for the final tally of the game. Again the try for point failed.

Tasker then began to send in his substitutes. The game ended with the ball in the possession of William and Mary on the 35 yard line.

This victory eliminated Roanoke from a chance at the college title of Virginia. Continuing their success in the next two games the Indians may lay claim to the State Collegiate football title.

William and Mary showed a weakness on defense against forward passing. Many of Roanoke's passes were good for long gains, one of them resulting in a touchdown.

For Roanoke Dietrick, Rutherford and Williams were the stars.

For William and Mary Captain Davis, Carmichael and the entire Indian backfield showed up well. Macon and Taylor especially were the shining lights when it came to gaining ground through Roanoke's team.

Keep On the Walks

Complaints have recently reached the Flat Hat concerning the unsightly paths that the students are making about the campus. A complete system of walks has been placed around the college grounds and between the buildings on the campus proper, and it is unfortunate that the students can not follow them.

Why the students insist on making the short cuts when the walks are so convenient is not known. It is attributed to that ever-blameful human nature. The Flat Hat hopes that in the future the students will take more pride in the appearance of the grounds, and think less about the few seconds that he will save by the short cut. Obviously, it is a matter of selfishness. Think of it as your own front lawn and we believe that you will feel differently about it.

The greatest offense has taken place around the Rogers Science Hall and Kincaid Hall where new grass has just been planted. If the college attempted to place walks everywhere the students walk there would be little terra firma left upon which to rest one's eyes. Let's try to keep on the walks and eliminate some of those unsightly "dog paths."

To Blow With the Dances

Once more the Flat Hat makes the plea that the Monogram Club dances be moved to Blow Gymnasium. The dance Saturday was more of a "struggle" than those preceding it. Despite the fact that the regular orchestra was away Jefferson Hall was packed. It reminded us of a crowded street car. However, we missed the straps upon which we would like to have swung.

Blow would furnish ample room for the dances and give a fellow a chance to stay out without stepping on someone else.

The conduct of the freshman was very poor at the dance. Many of them deliberately took off their ears and placed them in their pockets in hopes that no one would notice. Puffs, however, for they are easy to spot. Several had to be told the second time to replace them. Such actions do not become a freshman!

The Open Forum

If one is to judge by the number of letters received by the Open Forum of the Flat Hat this year, the student body is both well informed as to campus methods and well satisfied as to the way things are being run. We will welcome articles bearing on student activities which are of interest to our readers. Let the Flat Hat have your opinion on campus matters. They will give us an insight into students' reaction.

An Alumnus Speaks

Several times this year we have made mention in these columns of the lack of "college spirit" at William and Mary. We publish the following from a prominent alumnus:

"Your editorials on the lack of college spirit have interested me greatly. It is the general feeling among the alumni of my acquaintance that the one time 'Indian Spirit' has about passed away. We look back with pleasure to the time when the student body was solidly behind the teams, when good cheering was as much a matter of pride as a good team. Win or lose the cheering was always lusty.

"In contrast, the weak, defeated football teams of my day have been replaced by strong, winning teams, while the small singing, yelling, cheering sections of years gone by have been succeeded by bleachers full of roaring crowds.

"The upper classes are responsible for the cheering. They will have only the college spirit they have acquired since September. Should the spirit of the entire College be judged by the half-hearted efforts of the freshmen?"

"Cheerers, like players, should be at their best after two or three years' experience. The team is the best the College can produce; the cheering should be the same."

"LORD BOTETOURT SAYS"

By Bill

It was truly inspiring to listen to the well organized cheering of the crowd at the Yale-Princeton game Saturday as it came in over the radio, and when one considers that both of those schools represent two of the finest colleges in the country in which men are taught to be reserved, blasé, and indifferent to things which arouse the enthusiasm of the masses, it seems to us that our college could quicken its dying morale and support its team if the lack of support is due to attempt at being collegiate.

And, too, this should be no difficult task since our team defeated one of its sister colleges of the state in a well-played game on Friday and attracted the attention of everyone throughout the state of Virginia, which is a very large state and our boast of splendid colleges.

There is every reason in the world for the students here to shake off this lethargy of disinterest and snap into enthusiastic support of not only the team but the college as well. We can not only boast of golden traditions but we can boast of a still more golden present, and as the present is something we are thoroughly familiar with, it should be a vital consideration to us.

A team that is winning all the time isn't necessary toward making a student support his college more strongly. For then he is pinning faith upon the superior skill of his team and is not concerning himself with the vital qualities that should go toward making college football, sportsmanship, fair play and team-work. So Indians, all that is expected of you is to get in there and fight, and let the score take care of itself. For as long as you have done your best and you know you have done your best, win or lose, everything is going to be all right.

Success in the world is not measured by dollars and cents, nor in college by the emblems on your chest, or the A-grade you have pulled down, because the thing called "Life" is no easy job and you are just as liable to be a nonentity as not. The elements that put you through must be character, grit, and personality, and whether you are just an office-boy or the big shot that runs Wall Street, you have as much of an opportunity to be a success as he has. For a success comes to a man who enjoys living because of the consciousness that he has done no great achievement but is just a part of the general scheme of things.

"SPAIN" TOPIC AT MEETING OF HALL LITERARY SOCIETY

Taking as their topic "Spain," members of the Spanish Club, Los Quijotes, put on a program at the last meeting of the J. Leslie Hall Literary Society which is continuing its work this year. Spain being the fifth country visited by proxy. During the evening, Spanish music, literature, and heritage in America were discussed by members of the Spanish Club.

Miss Margaret Howie gave a synopsis of the famous opera "Carmen." Among the Spanish literature discussed were the national epic of Spain known as "Cid" and the life and work of the famous Spanish-American poet, Ruben Daro. These talks were given by Miss Miriam Silberger and Alice Carr, respectively.

The heritage of Spain in America was discussed in its more modern aspect by Miss May Kelly. The program for the evening ended with an account of several vital political current events by Miss Eva Atkinson.

A GLIMPSE INTO the COLLEGE WORLD

Here and There among the Exchanges of the Flat Hat

Columbia University begins this, its seventy-fourth year, with an enrollment of 35,000 students. Columbia has had the distinction for the past few years of being the largest educational institution in the country.

Reports from Randolph-Macon state that a strong horseshoe team is expected to be developed, although but one letter man has returned this year. Workouts are now being held.

The Brackety-Ack of Roanoke College says:

"The Flat Hat, published by the College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Va. One of the very best college papers in all our list of exchanges.

Freshmen in colleges throughout the United States are to have an opportunity to write about problems and chemistry and take a chance at earning prizes which total some six thousand dollars.

The prizes are to be offered by the American Chemical Society, with the endorsement of Mrs. F. P. Garvan, of New York City.

The contest is to close on March 1, 1928.

Since last commencement, Vassar has received gifts amounting to $63,713.

The manager of the Harvard football team recently resigned in order to have more time for his scholastic work.

A fake paper, resembling the Yale Daily News was printed and sold on streets near the University recently. The News Board denied that it had any part in editing or publishing the paper.

At the new John Wesley College dances, tobacco, athletics, fraternities, and liquor are taboo. Why not ban the college students as well and make a good job of it.

What the well-dressed football man should wear off the gridiron has been decided by the gridsters of Marquette University here, who have purchased for themselves heavy overcoats of blue corduroy with soft possum collars which will, when pulled up, cover the head. A large block "M" adorns the back of the coats. They were designed especially for the team.

North Dakota University defeated the University of Manitoba, 33 to 0, in the only international football game scheduled this year. The first half was played under U. S. rules and resulted in a 28 to 0 victory for the Nodaks. During the second half, which was played according to Canadian Rugby rules, the Flickertails beat the huskies from across the border at their own game by the score of 5 to 0.

WATERS WINS OVER FIELDS IN HONOR COUNCIL ELECTION

On last Thursday the election to choose a Sophomore member to the Honor Council was held. John Waters of Portsmouth, Va. was elected by a good sized majority over "Bill" Fields of Baltimore, Md. Mr. Waters, who will take the place of Marshall Baggett who did not return to school this term, is a member of the Alpha Psi fraternity and is at present assistant manager of track.

In the will of Mrs. Mattie Waller Johnson, which was probated in Washington last week, $10,000 was left to be devoted to the restoration of the buildings at the College of William and Mary, according to the plan of Sir Christopher Wren.

The paragraph making the money bequest to William and Mary reads as follows:

"To William and Mary College, situated at Williamsburg, Va., at which my people for four generations, beginning with Benjamin Waller, judge of the Supreme Court of Virginia, and including my father, Logan Waller, were educated, I give and bequeath the sum of $10,000 to be used in restoring the college buildings according to the plan of Sir Christopher Wren."

OLD CHEMISTRY BUILDING RAZED

Final Work On Destruction of Temporary Galvanized Iron Structure Completed This Week

The work of finishing the razing of the old chemistry building was pushed forward this week. Workmen started pulling the inside down sometime ago, but the old shell was left standing intact until Tuesday when work on the final wrecking was begun.

The building had not been in use this semester at all due to the completion of the William Barton Rogers Science Hall in which Chemistry is now being housed. It was put up several years ago merely as a temporary structure, and its purpose being served it was razed.

The ground on which it stood will be plowed up and sowed with grass for the present. A permanent building will be erected on the spot sometime in the future.

Coed Glee Club To Sing "Babes in Toyland" Here

"Babes in Toyland," the brilliant operetta by Victor Herbert, will be presented by the William and Mary Girls' Glee Club, on Wednesday and Thursday nights, November 30 and December 1, in the Phi Beta Kappa Hall. Saturday night, December 3, a performance of the operetta will be given in the Blair Junior High School auditorium, in Norfolk, Virginia.

THE OLD GRAD
Alumni News Column

Plans for a College of William and Mary Alumni Association in Washington, D. C., are rapidly being formulated according to an announcement from W. T. Hodges, Alumni Secretary of the College.

Heretofore there has been no alumni chapter of the College in Washington, and the rumor of the proposed association has brought forth much interest among alumni there. J. W. Sommerville, who has been placed in charge of the organization plans, expects to hold the first meeting on Monday November 21, at the University Club in Washington.

"Some fifty alumni have expressed their desire to become members," states Mr. Sommerville "including quite a few of the most prominent."

"The club will have a twofold purpose," says Dr. Hodges, "namely, to co-operate with the College, and, secondly, to advance the interests of the individual members of the club."

It is believed that 100 former students of William and Mary live in Washington, and it is expected that 35 will attend the preliminary meeting.

Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson class of '99, has been asked to become the first president of the association, but no definite answer has been received from him as yet. Representative S. O. Bland '96 of Newport News will probably address the first meeting of the club.

Among other prominent alumni living at the capital are Patton Kent '76, long famous in diplomatic service and now retired; Representative R. Walton Moore, who holds an honorary degree from William and Mary; J. W. Sommerville '22, who is the originator of the plan.

Rear Admiral Cary Travers Grayson, class of '99, who lives at Culpeper, Va., received a very unusual gift recently. Ibn Saud Husien, King of Hejaz sent to "Salubria," Rear Admiral Grayson's farm an Arabian stallion and a male Arabian slave.

Admiral Grayson gratefully accepted the stallion, but returned the slave with his respects.

Dr. Grayson, it will be recalled, was Woodrow Wilson's physician.

M. F. Hastings, Jr. Class of '27, received the Breaker Fellowship in Economics at Tufts College Medford, Mass. "Shorty" is teaching two classes in sophomore economics, and taking two classes as work toward his M. A., which he expects to receive next year.

Y Delegates Report At Informal Meeting Held

An informal 'Y' meeting was held Thursday night when the 'Y' delegates to the University of Virginia Conference gave an interesting report.

Dr. L. W. Irwin, faculty delegate to the Conference, reported that the faculty discussions were exceedingly interesting and fruitful. At the conference Dr. Irwin pointed out to the other faculty delegates assembled that the College of William and Mary had a unique arrangement along religious lines in that it encouraged a Department of Biblical Literature and thus offered as electives alongside of other electives definite religious instruction.

William Attkisson and Barraud Tankard, two of the student delegates, gave very enthusiastic accounts of the conference.

NEW FRATERNITY ON CAMPUS NOW

Phi Tau Sigma, "Suckers Club" Has Been Organized At William and Mary

Announcement has been made of the formation of a new organization on the campus known as the Phi Tau Sigma Fraternity. The organization is for the present local to this campus but it is believed from advices received from other campuses that it will soon be national in scope.

The name, Phi Tau Sigma, is derived in a rather peculiar fashion, but upon knowing the words for which the Greek letters of the name stand, the whole history and aim of the fraternity becomes known to many. The first two letters, Phi Tau, stand respectively for the words of a well known tailoring firm, while the last letter, Sigma, stands for the word Sucker, used in its slang sense.

The reason of the formation of this club seems to be for the purpose of binding together into one body, men who made purchases from this tailoring company of New York City, whose salesman spent a day on this campus recently.

Apparently another aim of the members of the order seems to be to have more people wearing the clothes sold by this concern, for any member will be glad to sell you a suit tailored by this concern for from three to five dollars, cash. This being an unusually low price for "finely tailored, collegiately cut clothes, painstakingly tailored by experts," it would seem that the members of Phi Tau Sigma would be swamped by orders, but strange to say, no member has yet succeeded in selling any of his wares! The club is planning some activities of an unusual nature, about which more will be announced later.

LOCAL SITUATION HAS COUNTERPART IN U. OF LA. CASE

The pledge taken by upper classmen at William and Mary early this fall to abstain from hazing freshmen is recalled by dispatches from the University of Louisiana, where 1000 students face expulsion. The students at Baton Rouge are alleged to have violated pledges similar to those taken here.

Dispatches quote Acting President Atkinson as favoring the dismissal of half of the student body because "it is better that we have 1000 men who will keep their word and be loyal to the university than 2000 who will not."

The cause of the threat was a raid on freshman dormitories by upper classmen armed with clippers. The following day 500 freshmen appeared on the campus minus hair. The hair clipping has been an annual source of trouble at Louisiana.

COLLEGE STUDENT CONVENTION NEXT MONTH IN DETROIT

The College Student Convention, which comes but once in four years—once in a student generation—is to be held this year at Detroit, from December 28 to January 1. From all over the United States 3,500 student delegates will assemble.

The College of William and Mary has been allotted the quota of eight delegates, according to Webster Stover, local Y. M. C. A. secretary. All must register before November 30.

Famous speakers will be brought to the convention from all over the world, each particularly fitted to deal with a specific topic. The aim of the Convention, however, is to keep the actual discussion in student hands.

Those interested in the Student Volunteer Convention should get in touch with the Y. M. C. A. secretary.

PRESIDENT TO ADDRESS V. E. A.

Doctor Chandler Will Make Three Speeches Before Virginia Education Assn.

Dr. J. A. C. Chandler will take an important part in the meeting of the Virginia Education Association which will be held in Richmond Thanksgiving week, November 21 through November 26. The headquarters of the association will be at John Marshall High School.

Richmond is very centrally located so that it is easier for the teachers to assemble there for this meeting than at other large cities and for this reason it has been decided to make Richmond the annual meeting place. There are between 3000 and 4000 teachers expected.

Dr. Chandler addresses on Tuesday, November 22, the Department of Trustees; on Thursday, November 24, the general meeting of the Virginia Education Association; and on Friday, November 25, the Kindergarten-Primary Teachers.

Put your pipe on P.A.

WHAT you get out of a pipe depends on what you feed it. Millions of contented jimmy-pipers will tell you that Prince Albert commands a pipe to stand and deliver. You suspect you are in for some grand pipe-sessions the minute you get a whiff of P.A.'s aroma.

The first pipe-load confirms your suspicions. What a smoke, Fellows! Remember when you asked for the last dance and she said "You've had it!"? P. A. is cool, like that. And sweet as knowing that she didn't really mean it.

Sweet and mellow and mild and long-burning.

Put your pipe on P. A. You can hit it up to your heart's content, knowing in advance that P. A. will not bite your tongue or parch your throat. That one quality alone gets P. A. into the best smoke-fraternities. And then think of all its other qualities!

affairs since his entrance. He has done some debate work before coming to William and Mary, and during the past year he has been active in the Phoenix Literary Society.

For the first time, William and Mary is to have this year a freshman debate team. The men selected for the first freshman debate squad are A. E. Cox of Spring Garden, Va.; Milton Salasky of Norfolk, Va.; and William Pretlow of Richmond, Va. All of these men have shown an active interest in literary society work since their entrance in September.

Although no definite announcement of the schedule could be obtained from Manager Elliott at this time, it is tentatively understood that local debates with several important schools are pending such as the Universities of Florida and Alabama, neither of these schools having debated here before; Bucknell University, American University, Fordham University, and several others. Schedules for the home debates and the two trips are expected to be published at an early date. A Freshman schedule is also being arranged.

ANNIVERSARY DANCE GIVEN BY PHI KAPPA TAU LAST FR. NIGHT

Alpha Theta Chapter of Phi Kappa Tau celebrated its first anniversary at William and Mary Friday night with a dance at the Colonial Hotel. There were about 100 guests present. Music was furnished by the Indian Serenaders.

The decorations were skillfully executed, featuring the colors of the fraternity, Harvard red and old gold. The decorations of orchestra platform were particularly good, being built around a replica of the Phi Kappa Tau badge, the jewels of which were replaced by electric lights.

Members of Phi Kappa Tau and their ladies joined in a figure, led by Edwin Lamberth with Dorothy Smith, at the end of which favors were presented to the guests in the form of silver bar pins carrying the Phi Kappa Tau crest.

The dance as a whole was a colorful and attractive affair, about 100 being present, including the chaperones, who were Miss Bessie Taylor, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Rowe, and Dr. and Mrs. J. Roy Geiger.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA TEA

The Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority gave a tea Saturday, from 4 o'clock to 6 o'clock for their chaperone, Mrs. Farker, and the visiting province president, Mrs. Smith.

GGG CLUB HOLDS FIRST INITIATION

35 Women Taken Into Organization
At Formal Affair Tuesday Afternoon

The first formal initiation of G. G. G. ever held took place Tuesday at 4 o'clock in the former "Y" room of Jefferson Hall. At that time, 35 girls had revealed to them the secrets of the green-banded order. They were taught, among other mysteries, the real meaning of the letters G. G. G., commonly known on the campus to be the "Green Garter Girls."

The following is a list of the initiates:

Elizabeth Duke, Nan Langhorne, Barabara Wyatt, Frances Shepherd, Gene King, Helen Bristow, Catherine Hunter, Peggy Hall, Elizabeth Amble, Hilda Miller, Clare Hargrove, Betsy Ross Nicholson, Dorothy Reese, Eva Atkinson, Elizabeth Griffen, Elsie Beebe, Louise Pilcher, Frances Burguynne, Ann Trent, Clarice Cooke, Mary Frances Rush, Elizabeth Price, Trixie Wimbish, Frances Griffen, Peggy Bailey, Lenore Schofield, Jane Worthington, Irma Hall, Ann Lindsey, Margaret Fuller, Elizabeth Trout, Betty St. Clair, Jane St. Clair, Marion Cheyne, and Lois Stone.

As a part of "horse play," the new girls were put to work on decorating for co-ed dances. They are not allowed to wear their G. G. G. ribbon around their ankles today as the old girls are doing, but will be permitted to do so beginning next week.

LOCAL DEPUTATION TEAMS IN NEWPORT NEWS NEXT SUNDAY

In the Orcutt Avenue Baptist Church of Newport News this Sunday three 'Y' Deputation Teams from here will have full charge. They will conduct the formal morning service, the meeting of the Baptist Young People's Union, and the informal church services of the evening. A goodly number of speakers, song leaders and musicians on the campus will make the trip to Newport News according to George E. Hunt, Chairman of the Y. M. C. A. Deputation teams.

WILLIAM AND MARY DINNER AT MURPHY'S HOTEL

The William and Mary dinner at the Annual Meeting of the State Educational Conference will be held at Murphy's Hotel at 6:30 P. M. Wednesday, November 23.

Plans for making the dinner a large and successful affair have been made, according to Dr. W. T. Hodges, Alumni Secretary. All faculty members and officers of the college are invited.

Dr. J. A. C. Chandler will be the principal speaker of the banquet.
