"DUC" RULES TO BE ENFORCED BY CLASS OF 1930

No Change of Code from Last Year; To Expire First Friday In May

ANNOUNCED BY WILCOX

Senior Tribunal Composed of Seven Men; Appointed By Act of Dr. J. A. C. Chandler

No change from last year is evident in the 1929-30 rules for Freshmen which were announced this week by F. Samuel Wilcox, president of the student body, and which already are being enforced. Chief among the regulations are those requiring first year men to wear green ties and caps, carry matches and refrain from conversation with co-eds before 4 p. m.

The rules, as usual, are to be enforced until early in May. The complete code follows:

1. Freshmen shall wear a regulation cap of green, gold and silver on all days except Sundays and holidays. This cap shall also be worn inside at all indoor sports, and all dances except private and formal.
2. Freshmen shall wear a standard green four-in-hand tie on every day except Sundays and holidays.
3. Freshmen shall stay on sidewalks at all times when they are on campus. Old men have no power or authority to take freshmen across campus with them.
4. Freshmen shall carry matches at all times except holidays.
5. Freshmen shall not converse with co-eds before 4 o'clock except on Sundays and holidays. They shall not attend any athletic contest accompanied by co-eds.
6. Freshmen shall attend all home games and shall stay in the grand stand, bleachers or other places designated for them during the entire

TRYOUTS TONIGHT

All students wishing to try-out for the Flat Hat circulation department will report to the officers in Citizenship building tonight after dinner.

Students who make the staff are given one college credit.

Three Handbook Workers Named to Staff by Editor

Due to an error of the printer, several names were omitted from the staff of the Indian Handbook, issued at the opening of school, it has been announced by William F. Rountree, editor of the publication. These names include Dorothy M. Reese and Elizabeth B. Griffin, associate editors, and John H. Waters, Jr., circulation manager.

In addition to Mr. Rountree and the officers listed above, the staff included the following:

Assistant to editor, Frances Butler; Associate editors, William R. Savage, Alan M. Graff, James Lucy and Edwina Carver; Sports editor, Paul W. Norton; Business manager, Meredith H. Powell.

DEFER FRESHMEN PLEDGING UNTIL NEXT SEMESTER

Action of the Administration Explained by Dr. W. T. Hodges, to Members of Inter-Fraternity Council

ADVANTAGES CLAIMED

Rushes Given Longer Time to Make Their Choice; Must Pass Ten Hours

Men's fraternities at William and Mary henceforth will not be permitted to pledge freshmen until the second term, under a new rushing rule advanced by the College Administration and passed by the Inter-fraternity Council last week. The new plan was put forward to assure fraternities of new members who will start their college career with good scholastic records the first term, it was explained.

Dr. William T. Hodges, Dean of Men, explained the new system, which he said the Administration was desirous of putting into effect, at the Council meeting. Heretofore rushing has started in the fall and men have been pledged before Christmas. The original requirement that they pass ten hours of work the first term in order to be eligible for initiation now has been changed to apply to eligibility for pledging. This does not apply to transferred students in good scholastic standing and with twenty credits from other schools.

New Greek Women to Be Bid Tuesday, October 21

As has previously been the custom, women's fraternities will continue open rushing this year in spite of recent agitation for preferential bidding in the Panhellenic council last spring.

Sorority pins were seen for the first time this term Monday, the date set for the first rush affair of the eight national women's fraternities on the campus. The dormitories and smaller houses have been assigned to certain fraternities by floors, for the different days and nights. There will be two sets of collective rushing for every fraternity besides two social parties which will take the place of the rush banquets that were given last year. No fraternity girl may go to see a new girl at any time except to make a date or during the time appointed for her particular house. Silence day will be Monday October twenty-first, and bids will be sent out Tuesday, October twenty-second.

KEYA NAMED PRESIDENT OF NEWLY FORMED ORGANIZATION

Roger A. Keya was elected president of the Indian Society for Improvements, newly formed organization on the campus, a few days ago. The purpose of the society is threefold: to promote and advertise the College; to better conditions on the campus; and to promote the welfare of the students, especially those not belonging to any social organization on the campus.

The other officers of the society are A. D. Johnson, vice-president; Wilbur Bailey, secretary; H. G. Ashby, treasurer; and Dwight G. Brown, sergeant-at-arms.

U. S. GOVERNMENT PLACES POST OFFICE HERE

The United States government will establish an official post office at the College of William and Mary, in Citizenship building, starting October 1, according to an announcement received from the Postal Department by Herbert L. Bridges, Registrar.

For a long while the need for a more adequate post office on the campus has been felt, and the establishment of the new branch office will be a big step in that direction, Mr. Bridges said.

Since the second session of last year, the college has operated a post office in Citizenship building. The new system will require larger facilities, it is thought, and it is probable that walls on the first floor of the building will be torn down to give increased space.

Coat-of-Arms Granted to College In 1694 Uncovered

The original coat-of-arms granted to the College of William and Mary by King William and Queen Mary of England in May 1694 was recently discovered by Dr. J. A. C. Chandler in the Herald's College in England. The original patent was lost when fire swept the college in 1705. The Insignia differs from the one previously believed to be the original in that the building on the escutcheon is not classic. This is said to be due to the fact that at the time of the grant, college buildings in England were not classic. The seal and coat-of-arms of the College of William and Mary will be changed to conform to the Original since college seals consist of the coat-of-arms in a shield with the college name written in Latin. William and Mary is the only college in the United States having an authentic coat-of-arms and charter granted by the Crown of England.

INCREASE SHOWN IN STUDENTS AS 1387 REGISTER

Total of 764 Men and 623 Women Enrolled to Date; Men Lead In Numbers

1350 TOTAL LAST YEAR

All Dormitories Completely Filled and Outside Rooms Are at A Premium

A total of 1387 men and women registered in the college for the fall session, 1929-30, it is announced from the office of Herbert L. Bridges, Registrar. Of this number, 764 are men and 623 are women. These totals are compared with the 745 men and 605 women enrolled last year.

Dr. William T. Hodges, Dean of Men, estimates that there are 65 more students registered now than at a corresponding period last year. With all the dormitories completely filled, rooms for students have been secured in practically every available home in Williamsburg, it is said. The Davis house, formerly occupied by the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, is now being used as an auxiliary dormitory for freshmen, since Monroe hall is not large enough to accommodate them all.

The process of registering students was greatly facilitated this year, it is said, since all enrolling was done in the new Washington building. Through the use of signs and like devices, students, and freshmen especially, had a considerably easier time registering.

The influx of women students was so heavy that the Registrar's office was unable to accept any after July 31. Approximately 150 women are on the waiting list, and more than 100 others were discouraged from matriculating.

MANY NEW HOUSES FOR FRATERNITIES

New Homes In Richmond Road Show New and Improved Designs; Dining Rooms Installed

With the opening of the fall session at the College of William and Mary many men and women students entered new fraternity houses.

Three new brick structures built during the spring and summer are occupied by the Kappa Delta, Pi Beta Phi, and Alpha Chi Omega fraternities. These new houses are located in a new court just north of Richmond road, back of the Phi Mu and Kappa Alpha Theta homes. They are of late fraternity house designs with several reception rooms, dining rooms, and brick wall porches.

Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity has moved into its new home in West Williamsburg Heights near the Kappa Alpha House. The house is modern with two reception rooms, a lobby, dining room, kitchen, and well equipped bed chambers. Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity has moved into a larger home in Jamestown road.

Phi Mu, Pi Beta Phi, and Alpha Chi Omega have installed a new feature in women's fraternity life with the opening of dining rooms in each house.

Where Indians Fight Tomorrow Night

A new photograph of Cary Field under the night lights which will illuminate the St. John's College game tomorrow night. William and Mary holds the distinction of being the first college in the South to play night football. Night playing was inaugurated here two years ago and proved to be so popular and successful that a number of colleges and universities now are following suit and have installed night lighting equipment of similar sort. Tomorrow night will be the first night game of the William and Mary 1929 football schedule.

EXPLAINS WORK OF HONOR CODE

John C. Swanson, President of Council, Discusses All Phases of Honor System

The following is a statement issued to The Flat Hat by John C. Swanson, president of the Men's Honor Council. Mr. Swanson has been explaining the system to the incoming students for the last few days.

"No Honor System can be successful unless campus sentiment is overwhelmingly in favor of it. The Honor System at the College of William and Mary rests upon the basic assumption that every student is endowed with that fundamental quality known as honesty. Therefore, the honor code merely requires that a student act honorably, no more, no less.

"The Honor System, as a reality and not a pretense, rests upon two essentials, first, the student body as a whole and as individuals must feel that they are definitely responsible for the promotions and successful en-

LIBRARY OPENS JANUARY FIRST

Shelving Capacity of New Library to Be Three Hundred and Fifty Thousand Volumes

The newly renovated library of the College of William and Mary will be ready for occupancy about January 1, 1930. It is said by the administration that this is the most complete library in any southern college or university. At present the walls are up, the roof completed, and the entire exterior finished with the exception of the cornice.

The impressiveness and dignity of the new first floor reading room is game unless called upon to participate in demonstrations.

7. Freshmen must attend all meetings of the student-body, class meetings and meetings called by the President of the College, proper notice having been given.

8. The foregoing rules are to be enforced until the first Friday in May when appropriate celebration shall mark the passing of the freshman class from its period of training.

9. Freshmen shall attend supreme court to be held at a time and place designated by the senior tribunal.

10. Freshmen shall not wear belts or monograms of other schools; this rule also applies to upperclassmen transfers.

11. Freshmen entering college at the beginning of the second semester shall observe the foregoing rules until the end of the college year.

12. Freshmen shall show due respect to the members of the administration and faculty, and upperclassmen.

Any infractions are to be turned in to the Senior tribunal, which will hold meetings every two weeks. Members of the tribunal are: F. Samuel Wilcox, Jr., Teddy Bauserman, Frank B. ...

Supreme Court will be held in Phi Beta Kappa Hall about the third week in October. The exact date not having been set as yet.

NEW LIBRARY TO OPEN IN JANUARY

enhanced by the long expanse which extends the full width of the library and the huge arched doorway that replaces the old windows and serve as an entrance to the old reading room. The white columns in two rows down the center convey the essential atmosphere of stateliness.

Another striking feature of the new building is the grand marble staircase erected in the center of the former front reading room. A bust of George Washington and Robert E. Lee will be placed in niches on the sides of this stairway which leads up to the reading room on the second floor. Directly above this is a third study room perhaps not as magnificent in structure, but which is large and airy and may be appreciated more by those who seek silence and seclusion. Together these three new rooms will seat four hundred and fifty students.

The shelving capacity of the new library is in the vicinity of three hundred and fifty thousand volumes. The back part of the old building will be used entirely as a stack room, and new shelves will replace the part formerly filled with tables. In the basement is a packing room and an enormous reserve stack room in order to house the many books which are only infrequently used. The entire basement is lined with fire-brick and is completely fire and water proof. An unusual feature is the two-foot thickness of the vault which insures absolute security and safety for the many valuable manuscripts and documents to be stored there. In the extreme rear of the building is an addition which forms ample room and modern facilities for the office and also allows room for extra shelves in the old stack room.

TURNER FILLS VACANCY AS PHILOMATHEAN HEAD

C. A. Turner of Norfolk, was elected President of Philomathean Literary Society at the first meeting of the year Friday night. He was elected to fill the vacancy left by Connie Quisenberry who is now attending the Medical College of Virginia. After the election Mr. Turner appointed a committee composed of Rudy Zabel, Harold Craig, and Elliott Heally, to make preparations for a smoker to be held tonight in Rogers 212.

diately after the football rally. All Freshmen and transfers are urged to attend the smoker and become acquainted with the old members of the society.

Other officers of the society elected last Spring are Lee Trotter, Vice-President, and Elliott Heally, Secretary-Treasurer.

Brooks to Speak Tonight At Smoker After Rally

George E. Brooks, Associate Professor of Government and English will be the speaker at the smoker given by the Philomathean Literary Society in Rogers 212 tonight immediately after the football rally. All Freshmen and undergraduates are invited to attend.

Every Former Student A Member of Association

In a statement to The Flat Hat, George W. Guy, executive secretary of the William and Mary Alumni Association has outlined the campaign for creating a larger organization comprising all graduates of the college of William and Mary in Virginia.

"The purposes of the Alumni Association are 'to aid, strengthen, and expand in every proper and useful way the College of William and Mary and its work, and to develop, strengthen and utilize the bonds of interest, sympathy and affection existing between the said College and its Alumni and among the Alumni themselves.' We want to create an interest in the college and mobilize that interest in helpful channels.

"We are all proud of the old as well as the new William and Mary. We are holding on to the rich history and hallowed traditions of the past, as well as utilizing the things worthwhile in the present. The happy blending of the old and the new is well illustrated in the history of William and Mary. The phenomenal growth of the College in the past decade challenges our renewed interest and admiration.

"William and Mary has a list of Alumni of which we are justly proud, and I know that you will want to affiliate yourself with our Alumni Association which is working hard to maintain the high standards that are being upheld today. The College cannot rise above the ideals and aspirations of the men and women that it has sent out into the world.

"The Alumni dues are $3.00 a year which carries with it a subscription to The Flat Hat. This keeps you in touch with the former students and the activities of the College.

Yours for a greater William and Mary,

GEO. W. GUY.

Executive Secretary Alumni Association.

Director of Religious Activities Due Soon

The Rev. M. Teague Hipps, of East Gastonia, N. C., will arrive October 20 to serve as Director of Christian Activities on the campus. He will work directly in connection with the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. and with other religious organizations on the campus.

Mr. Hipps is a graduate of Duke University and holds a B. D. degree from Yale. He has had several years experience with student work and is at present Pastor of the Methodist Church in East Gastonia.

ALUMNI NEWS

Athletic Director Gooch is very anxious that a large delegation of Alumni be present at the William and Mary-V. P. I. game Saturday, October 19, in Richmond. This is to be a great game, and it is hoped that a large number of the graduates will turn out for the contest.

Judge H. L. Hooker, president of the William and Mary Alumni Association of Richmond, has called a meeting of his group for Friday evening, October 4, for the purpose of re-organizing the local chapter.

Dr. Joseph E. Healy, Norfolk, is planning a meeting of the Norfolk Alumni group on Friday, October 11.

Barton D. Battie, of Waynesboro and a member of the class of '29 who has been connected with the Richmond Times Dispatch has been promoted to Assistant Sports Editor of that paper.

H. E. Charles, of Patterson, N. J., visited his friends and relatives in Williamsburg.

Margaret P. Venable, '29, will be a graduate student of Smith College, Northampton, Mass., this winter.

F. James Barnes, Jr., '27, taught in the William and Mary Summer School.

The Reverend H. H. Young, '08, B. S., M. A., Dean of The Associate Missions Diocese of Southwestern Virginia came to William and Mary to enter his daughter, Pearle M. Young. Mr. Young called at the Alumni Office and discussed plans for organizing a William and Mary Club in Southwest Virginia. His headquarters are in Bluefield but his mission work includes the Counties of Tazewell, Buchanan, Bland, Giles, Dickenson, Russell, Scott, Lee, Wise, and Washington. It is always an inspiration to have Alumni with real visions call upon us.

Ray E. Reid, of Norfolk, is principal of the Cople District High School in Westmoreland County.

George E. Bennett, of Richmond, was a visitor in the Alumni Office recently. He entered his daughter, Miss Georgie Belle Bennett, at William and Mary this semester.

W. C. L. Taliaferro, prominent Hampton attorney, called on the Alumni Secretary while entering his son William Lyons at William and Mary. Mr. Taliaferro has a great vision of what the William and Mary Alumni Association can accomplish.

C. H. Williams, of the classes of '75 and '76, was at William and Mary last week. Mr. Williams had not been back to the College for a number of years and was very much surprised at the great progress that had been made at the institution. Mr. Williams is living at Virginia Beach.

Ida M. Butcher, of Richmond, who holds her Bachelor's degree from William and Mary is working on her Master's degree at Columbia this winter.

Hodges Sets Forth Purpose New Alumni Organization

The following statement from Dr. William T. Hodges, secretary and treasurer of the Alumni Association, outlines the plans of the Association which has established a permanent office in Brafferton under the direction of a full-time secretary:

To the Alumni:

It is a great pleasure to tell you that the Board of Managers of the Alumni Association with the assistance of the College has recently been able to establish an Alumni Office on the first floor of Brafferton Hall. As you well know this is the first time in the long history of the college that the Association has been able to undertake the operation of such an office apart from some other executive office of the College.

All who are genuinely interested in the growth and progress of William and Mary should see in this innovation splendid opportunities for better Alumni service on the part of the Association and equally fine opportunities for stronger support of our Alma Mater.

In seeking a suitable man for this office the Association has been very fortunate in securing the services of Mr. George W. Guy, a native of Hampton, a faithful alumnus, who has had wide experience in organization work. Mr. Guy will undertake to keep in closer touch with you and give you information about the more important activities of the College. He expects to do considerable field work for the purpose of reviving interest in the local alumni chapters and to organize new chapters when conditions are favorable.

As a step to the Alumni Publication, which will come in time as our whole-time Alumni Office has already come, the executive secretary will undertake to give you more Alumni News in the columns of the Flat Hat than formerly.

As the Secretary-Treasurer of the Corporation I shall continue my own genuine interest in its program, especially in the work of its Executive Secretary.

I commend Mr. Guy to you very highly and I earnestly ask your most loyal support in his efforts to serve you and our Alma Mater.

Faithfully yours,
W. T. HODGES.

Two Hundred and Thirty-Seven Years

William and Mary, or more properly, the Ancient College of William and Mary in Virginia, has started its two hundred and thirty-sixth year with an enrollment that again breaks all previous records. Approximately one hundred more students have registered this fall than a year ago, and the total number of undergraduates is in the neighborhood of fourteen hundred. This means that the College has definitely grown out of the small-college class, and now ranks among the large educational institutions of America.

Last year was a big year for William and Mary. A heavy increase in enrollment over the previous year was recorded, new facilities were provided and scholastic standards were raised. Washington Hall, newest and finest of the group of academic buildings was opened. But if last year saw notable changes in the College, this year ought to be even more productive of achievements. The new library is nearing completion; the Main building restoration is well advanced; a new gate to the main campus is under construction, and plans are being prepared for further improvements.

Size and properties, however, are not William and Mary's goal. These, the incoming student as well as other undergraduates should bear in mind, are merely outward manifestations of a more substantial growth which is taking place in the College, a growth that cannot be defined, but which is a thing of intellect, culture, reverence and serious purpose. The finest buildings architects can build, the greatest endowment wealth can bestow cannot create a fine college when this underlying and vastly more important consciousness is lacking.

The New Men's Rushing Rules

The system of rushing to be followed by men's fraternities on the campus underwent radical changes with the adoption last week by the Interfraternity Council of a second term rushing rule. Under the new arrangement no chapter may formally entertain prospective members nor may membership be discussed with candidates.

Although financially the new plan undoubtedly will cause financial hardships in most chapters, it ought eventually to prove a great benefit to William and Mary's fraternal life. In deferring the pledging of new members until their first term's work has been satisfactorily completed, fraternities will profit by the firmer scholastic standing of their new men. Not the least of advantages will be that there will be less tendency for men to drop out of college after their freshman year if their record is good. In recent years one of the problems of Williamsburg fraternities has been the failure of too large a percentage of men to return to college a second year.

The success of the new plan of rushing depends mainly on an honest endeavor by all fraternities to uphold the agreement. Freshmen and other new students should hesitate to affiliate with any group of men who should so far forget their duty to their own fraternities and others on the campus as to violate the restricted rushing rules.

A Finer Library

Within a few weeks William and Mary will have an opportunity to see what the Library staff, working all summer with contractors, carpenters and a small army of bricklayers, has been able to give the College in the way of better and more adequate reading facilities. Thus far the heralded New Library has meant to campus observers only an imposing brick edifice set as a background to the old Library building.

Members of the Library staff will testify that it is no easy task to maintain satisfactory reading and studying quarters for fourteen hundred students, nor is it a light summer job to transfer a library of fairly limited size into a thoroughly modern and complete institution several times as large. Students will cooperate with the Library staff in using the facilities soon to be offered them in such a way as to permit the new organization to function at its highest point of efficiency.

Note of Interest for Freshmen

It should not take the newcomer to Williamsburg long just at present to realize that green ties are the order of the day at William and Mary. Nor should it take the newcomer who arrives with the definite intention of enrolling as a first year student in the College long to realize that he is expected to fall in line and follow the throng of green-tied, green-capped fashion-plates. For green is the color motif, so to speak, of the scheme of conduct outlined for the benefit of incoming students on the campus.

It will be to the advantage of all Freshmen to note closely, listen carefully and follow precisely the code of rules so prescribed. Occasionally there are a few who are so remarkably and commendably individual that they overlook the advisability of the said freshman conformity, but such negligence usually brings its own sad reward in due course of time. A second time, then, it should be noted: green ties are in order. And just a whispered word of advice: Supreme Court is coming.

Other airships, including the Graf Zeppelin are reported to have discovered bullet rips in their fabric covering after recent trips over the United States.

Havana, Cuba.—The international highway from Canada to South America is nearing completion. The last leg of the highway has been assured by Cuban authorities. This leg extends south by way of Florida, Cuba and Yucatan, and will reach from Havana to Cape San Antonio. If Congress approves a $12,000,000 bill, the highway will only have two ferry connections, these being from Key West to Havana and Cape Antonio to Yucatan, each of these being about 100 miles.

Much Enthusiasm Shown By Successes at First Game

William and Mary successes showed excellent spirit at the football game last Saturday afternoon, when the college eleven met the Army post team. Wearing gym shirts and jersey with a large green bow at the back of the neck the freshmen girls added greatly to the spirit displayed by the students and added no little color to the game.

PHOTOGRAPHERS BEGIN ON COLONIAL ECHO PICTURES

A total of 442 pictures of seniors, juniors, and sophomore fraternity and sorority members were taken by photographers of the White Studios for the Colonial Echo here last week, it was announced by F. Samuel Wilcox, business manager of the publication. The photographers will return to the college in several weeks, bearing with them proof from which selections will be made. At that time, also, they will take football and activities pictures.

Meanwhile, Editor William R. Savage is drawing up his "dummy" book and narrowing down to a fine point his original ideas for the 1930 Annual.

OPEN FORUM LETTERS

"Joe" Looks at Deferred Rushing Editor of The Flat Hat:

Sir: I have recently learned of the new rushing rules adopted by the fraternities on the campus of the "Old and Ancient College of William and Mary". Of course this will be a big step in the promotion of fraternity pledging in time but as an interested bystander I can only see retardation for the local chapters of Greeks during the present term. I know that many of the fraternities are dependent on the pledge fee extracted from each pledge, and it appears to me that this money, previously used for new furniture and such, will be sorely needed. But again, on the other hand the men of the class of '33 will have a chance to know the members of the fraternities better by the end of the first semester. Also the same will hold true with the fraternity men.

"JUST JOE."

Bigger and Better Dances

Editor of The Flat Hat:

Sir: What a deplorable state are the Saturday night dances coming to? Where are the waltzes and tangoes of by-gone days? The orchestra this year is showing plenty of pep, but it must remember that there are a few of us left on the campus who still enjoy an occasional slow time dance. I do not necessarily mean to be a Blue Nose reformer as I thoroughly enjoyed the dance held in Blow Gym last Saturday night. If necessary, why not hold a special dance for the ultra-modern Shaggers, and let the more modest dancers have a night of their own. It has not been so long since the strains of the beautiful Blue Danube Waltz floated softly o'er the campus. Even in those days the curfew did not ring until midnight. Do modern times call for an eleven-thirty limit? An accordian and a four string fiddle would offer more variety.

FACULTY RECEPTION LARGELY ATTENDED

Professor H. C. Krebs and Lillian Cummings In Charge; Six Events Planned for Year

About one hundred and fifty persons attended the annual faculty reception in the Y. M. C. A. room of Blow Gymnasium last Friday night. The committee in charge consisted of Professor H. C. Krebs and Lillian Cummings, assisted by Alma Wilkins, Jean Stewart, Beulah Russel, Professor George O. Brook and A. G. Williams, Mrs. E. G. Swem and Mrs. H. C. Krebs.

The President and the Deans of the College received other members of the faculty, after which there was a vocal solo by Lillian Cummings and a reading by Professor Brooks. The rest of the evening was devoted to refreshments and socialibility. The social committee is planning a series of six faculty events for the present year.

Professor Small Named New Director of Music

Professor George M. Small, Director of Music, comes to William and Mary with quite a reputation. Mr. Small has already organized the largest band in the history of the college.

He is a graduate of Hanover College, and a holder of B. M. degree from Indiana College of Music. Professor Small has been connected with several large bands, among them being Bellamy in Cleveland, Ohio, the Sousa Band, and the U. S. S. Pennsylvania band.

Mrs. Kathleen B. Hipp, formerly connected with the music department, will resume glee club work in February when she returns to college after a brief leave of absence.

LIBRARY NEARLY READY

One of the three new reading rooms in the Library, on which about $120,000 has been spent by the State for improvements, is nearing completion and Dr. E. G. Swem, librarian, hopes that by October 1, students will be able to use it. Overhead on the second and third floors the other two reading rooms are being built, to relieve congestion.

DR. IRWIN REPORTS ON CHAPEL SURVEY

Finds Faculty Attendance Influences Student Interest In Services; Y. M. and Y. W. Make Plans

Interest by students in chapel services at the College has been found to be proportional to interest shown by faculty members, in a survey completed by Dr. L. W. Irwin, religious advisor of the Y. M. C. A. Dr. Irwin found that a recent increase in chapel attendance by faculty members has been accompanied by a similar rise in student attendance, and his report to the Y. M. C. A. cabinet states that the faculty has strong influence over the student body in this respect.

The faculty chapel committee has recently turned over responsibility for chapel exercises to the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. Robert Price, President of the Y. M. C. A. said that the new committee had been greatly encouraged by the regular attendance on the part of such a large number and that the committee will endeavor to make the services as beneficial as possible.

PIANO AND VOICE SECTION ADDED TO MUSIC DEPARTMENT

A new feature of the music department is the Piano and Voice section presented through the generosity of Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, president of the College. Undergraduates taking these courses will be presented in recitals several times during the year.

Concerts will be presented at the College and nearby cities this year by the men's and women's glee clubs. Practically all of the old members of the clubs have returned to school, and it is understood that the clubs are assured of a very successful season.

FLAT HAT STAFF ASPIRANTS MEET

Embryonic Journalists Get Instructions In Newspaper Reportorial Try-Outs

Tryouts for editorial positions on the staff of The Flat Hat have been in progress for two weeks. Members of the editorial staff explained to the newcomers at a recent meeting the values of journalism and the entire plans of The Flat Hat for the session of 1929-30.

The editor explained that each candidate for a position must write a news article on any subject of news and of interest to the student body. This article will be the first of a series of assignments to be given them during the course of the next four or five weeks, at the end of which time the editors will have a good idea of the students' ability to write.

The quantity and quality of the work will be graded on a bulletin board. Also the number of times a candidate comes to the office will be noted. Those who visit the office most often and show the most interest in the Flat Hat will be given more consideration than those who merely do the work assigned.

Each student was asked to sign a paper stating on it any experience or qualifications he had along journalistic lines. This will also be considered in the selection of staff members.

Members of the staff who have already been chosen were introduced to the assembly. Mr. Fales also gave a few explanations about the work for the benefit of those who had little or no experience in journalism.

About fifty students attended the meeting. Those who are selected from the group will be used first as reporters and later promoted as they deserve.

Mortar Board Arranges Club Meetings on Campus

The first meeting of the year of Mortar Board took place Monday with the purpose of arranging a schedule of meetings for all the large student organizations on the campus. This is a new plan and will eliminate the conflicts in club meetings. The completed schedule will be printed in the Flat Hat each week.

DOWN THE LINE

By CURLY

Forty changes occur in the new 1929 football rule book, but the spectators will see little change in the game this fall. Most of these alterations are in phrasing, since the rules committee has attempted to clarify disputed points.

Great emphasis has been placed upon the changes in the game made by the new rules covering the fumble. The new rule reads: "If the side in possession of the ball fumbles it and the ball, after striking the ground is then recovered by an opponent, it is dead at the point of recovery and cannot be advanced". This revision applies chiefly to returning punts, to intercepted forward passes and, what is more to the point, to fumbles in lateral passes. Blocked or partially blocked punts are not considered fumbles.

Under the new rules the ball after a touchdown is placed on the two yard line instead of the three. This change has been made to encourage the number of attempts to gain the extra point by rushing instead of passing and punting.

This year's rules also specify that the ball shall be of leather "natural tanned color," shall be inflated with a pressure between 13 and 15 pounds and shall weigh from 14 to 15 ounces. Its measurements are also specified.

School teams may be allowed to waive certain restrictions covering substitutions practiced during the game, except that no disqualified or suspended player may return to the game. This section has been added to aid the smaller secondary schools.

While a touch of the spectacular has been removed in extracting some of the teeth from mistakes of the hands for those who are ever carving emotional upheavals, the feeling is more or less general that the game will be better balanced than in the past.

Nearly all William and Mary's opponents are in the same fix that we are. They need experienced linesmen. In fact the line seems to be the outstanding weak spot of teams all over the country this year. Georgia Tech needs linesmen, Pitt needs them, Penn State needs them, Southern California needs them, and William and Mary needs them. Duke seems to be the only team in the country that has plenty of experienced linesmen. They have ends "who can go get 'em, who can handle passes, and do whatever else an end can do. There are tackle's who know their stuff and can be depended upon. There are guards who can come out of the line and help the offense, and guards who are whales on defense. There is a good center and other boys to understudy him". Now, that is our idea of a perfect line.

More stress than usual seems to be given to tackling at the early training this year. The coaches are striving to teach the players to attain form in this important feature of the game. For this purpose large dummies generally are being used. The form of tackling which has come into general use at the camps is not the old fashioned leap for tackling dummies hitched to pullies, but a new form of tackling machine.

Columbia's new contraption is about the most outstanding. This affair is built to present a defense which will be a suitable substitute for a scrub eleven. The machine has two steel cables from which are suspended dummies arranged in order of an opposing line. In the middle of the dummies is a lining of rubber and the bottom of the dummy is hooked to the bottom of the machine. The dummies offer a resistance very similar to that offered by players. Back of the line are other dummies arranged in the order of the secondary defense.

John F. Meehan, New York University coach, who is a pretty close student of football conditions offers an explanation for the growth in the popularity of the game during the past few seasons. He says it is because women have become interested in the sport. The Violet coach points out that in the old days a college football game was something of a reunion of college men. Nowadays these men take their wives, their daughters, their cousins and their aunts to the game.

"You see more women at football games now than any one ever expected. They have reached a point of interest in the sport where they know the game and enjoy it. The women spectators have swelled the attendance and they have given a dignity to the sport that it never could have acquired any other way."

Davis and Elkins have announced a new policy in college athletics. Instead of having one man to captain their 1929 varsity eleven, four seniors will share the honor of leading the team. Concerning this, Coach Cam Henderson said: "We have decided not to elect a captain for this year's team. There are four outstanding seniors on our football squad. They are Wagner, Rengle, and Warren, all stellar backfield players and Miller, reliable tackle. These boys are all deserving and each game during the season I shall pick a captain, and the honor will largely be distributed among these four lads who have been performing with real ability and spirit for Davis and Elkins College".

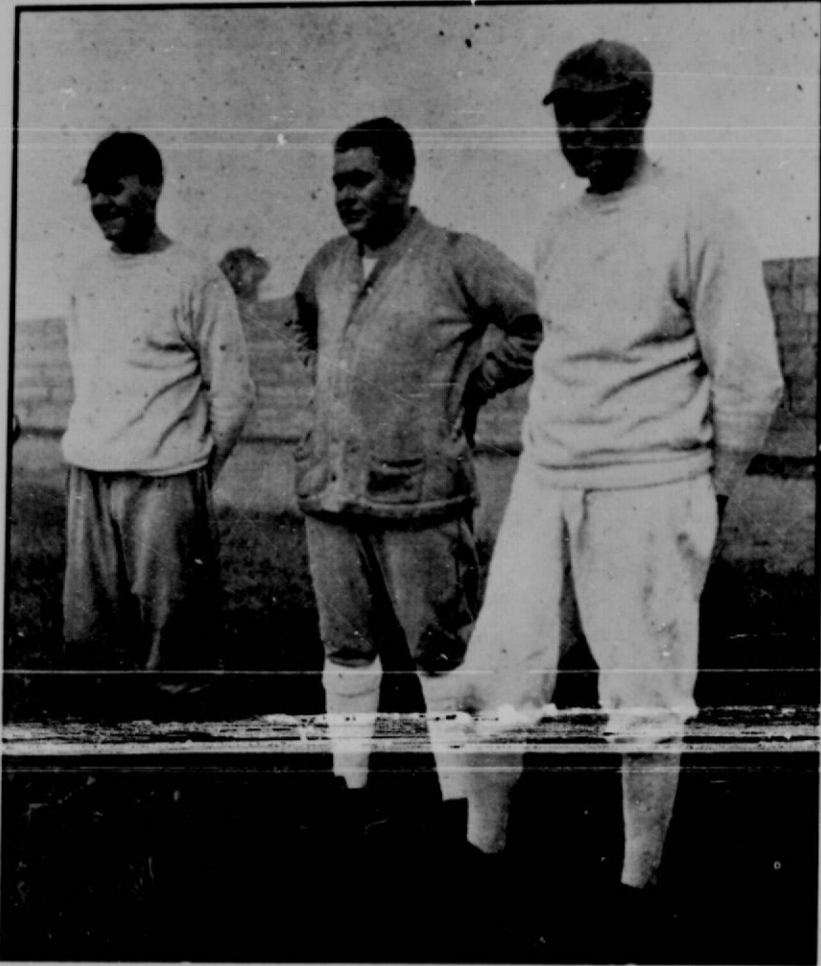

Clipped from a Washington paper: Asheville, N. C., Sept. 14.—The first Japanese football coach will make his bow this fall. Ari Matsu, who starred for the William and Mary College team for three seasons, has signed at Asheville High School.

For the old students here, Art needs no introduction, but for the new ones let us say that Art was on the passing end of the famous Matsu to Davis passing combination which was known all over the country and was captain of the 1926 Fighting Virginians.

The fad of night football started at William and Mary in 1927 has fast been spreading over the country. The latest addition to the ranks of those

FALL BASEBALL GETS UNDER WAY HERE

"Cy" Young Prepares Charges for Their 1930 Campaign on Cary Field

Fall varsity baseball practice which is analogous to spring football training, has been started here at William and Mary this year. Under the supervision of Coach "Cy" Young, whose Indian nine won the state championship last spring, and directed on the field by Captain Jimmie Wallace, approximately twenty men are working out daily.

Practice now consists chiefly of hitting and base-running with signal work thrown in. The pitchers are getting good workouts by tossing them over to the batters, and the practice with the stick should go a long way toward making Babe Ruth's out of all the boys by next spring.

Sundin and Griffith, of last year's freshman nine, and White, a newcomer from Fork Union, comprise the fall pitching staff. McBride and Scammon are functioning around first base, and Sauerbrum, Silverman and Simikoski are working in the other infield positions.

Annapolis Eleven to Put Strong Team On Field Against Indians In Tomorrow's Game

Tomorrow night under the lights the William and Mary varsity eleven will open their 1929 campaign with St. Johns College from Annapolis. Both teams are as yet untried against college teams of their own strength and no prediction can be made as to the outcome.

Ten Veterans Back

Since September 2, Coach Bocock has been constantly drilling the varsity team in the fine points of the game, and has now rounded them into fairly good shape. Deficiencies in the line have been ironed out by Line Coach Kelison, while Bocock has been running his backs through sufficient signal drill.

With the opening of practice only ten lettermen from last year's squad were on hand around which Coach Bocock has centered the nucleus of his 1929 team. These included Captain Bauserman, Moseleski, Roach, Fields, Smith, Ryan, Constantino, Murphy, Baldacci, Scott, Willis and Ferrell. The other material has been recruited from the ranks of last year's undefeated freshman team.

Line Weak

A fairly strong array of backs reported for early practice, and are filling births on the team. Captain Bauserman, linesmashing full back, is at his old position. Ryan, quarter, and Scott, Baldacci, Constantino, and Light, half backs from last year's team, are on hand. Willis who played on the wing last year has been shifted to a half back post and is showing up fairly well. Frank Moseleski, Shipp, Maxey, Tutthill and Sheff of last year's Papoose team are showing up well on the varsity.

Coach Kelison had a much more serious problem with his line. Fields, all-state center, Murphy, Roach, Ferrell, and Smith were the only veterans to report. Mitchell Moseleski, has been shifted from the backfield to end, and is making his presence felt in the wing position. All the other line positions are to be filled with green material, chiefly recruited from the freshman team of last year. Brownie Bauserman is holding down the other wing nicely with Englebert, Swentzel, Broderick, Sykes and Lindsay for the reserve. Barclay, Diggs, Kaufman, Waffel and Syer are helping Murphy out at tackle. Darden, captain of last year's yearling outfit, Trieber, Douglass, Eversole, and Ayers are fighting over berths at guard. Benton and Smith are alternating with Fields at center. Paxson, guard on last year's varsity, and McMiniman, sophomore back are out of the lineup for the time being due to injury.

St. Johns Strong

In several practice scrimmages the Indian team has not come up to its reported strength. Against the Army post team last Saturday several weaknesses could be noted, but constant practice this week has done much to remedy these deficiencies.

Little is known about the strength of the Redmen's opponents tomorrow night, except that they will put a strong team on the field against the

Many Indianettes Report for Hockey Practice Here Last Week

OVER 65 CO-EDS TRY OUT; FOUR VETERANS BACK

Team to Be Centered Around Captain King, Johnson, Dreyer, and Maffett

MANY FRESHMEN OUT

No Complete Schedule Out Yet; Sweet Briar to Be Met in Williamsburg Early in Season

Hockey season started last week with 65 candidates reporting for practice. It is encouraging to note that 40 of these girls are freshmen.

Among the letter girls who have returned are: Captain Charlotte King, left wing; Nancy Johnston, left half-back; Vivien Dreyer, goal and Helen Maffett. Others who were on the squad last year who have returned include: Sollenberger, Wyatt, Irving, Payne, Slough, Roberts, Seaman, Cornick, Field, and Young.

The team suffered a great loss through graduation and the failure of several players to return. Even with this in view, the coaches expect to put out an eleven from which can be expected great things.

The only game which is certain is the one with Sweet Briar College to be played in Williamsburg. The complete schedule will appear in a later issue.

CLASSES ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Upperclassmen Select Officers to Take Helm for Coming Year

Acting upon the request made by President Chandler in convocation last week the senior, junior and sophomore classes met earlier than usual this fall and elected officers for the coming year. The freshman class will wait until its members know each other better before electing officers.

John H. Waters, Jr., of Norfolk, was elected President of the senior class. Other officers elected were: Sarah Anne Everett, of Holland, Vice-President; Eleanor Williamson, Vivian, West Va., Secretary and Treasurer; Fay LeCompte, of Urbana, Poet; Robert Price, of Mortinsville, Chaplain.

The junior class election resulted as follows: William Scott, of Portsmouth, President; Mitchell Moseleski, of Camden, N. J., Vice-President; Wallace Smith, of Norfolk, Secretary and Treasurer; Viola Barrett, of Alexandria, Poet; Catherine Lam, of Norfolk, Chaplain.

The sophomores elected George Diggs, of Norfolk, as their president. His associates for the year will be Lawrence Shaffer, Cumberland, Md., Vice-President; Benford Sykes, of Danville, Secretary and Treasurer; John Henley Eversole, Newman, Ill., Poet; Grover Clay, of Portsmouth, Chaplain.

NEWLY FORMED SIXTY PIECE BAND TO PLAY AT ALL GAMES

A sixty piece band will be on hand at all of the football games on Cary Field and Indian contests in nearby cities this year, it has been announced by Professor George M. Small, Director of Music.

In accordance with this plan, Professor Small has issued an appeal to all of the campus musicians to bring out their instruments and give William and Mary the "largest and finest college band in the south".

FRESHMEN WORKING HARD; TO FACE HARD SCHEDULE

Prospects Favorable for Successful Swimming Team Here This Winter

Captain Lester Phillips and Yel Kent form the nucleus around which it is hoped that a successful swimming team will be built. In two seasons of intercollegiate swimming Phillips has an undefeated record in the 50 yard dash and has only suffered one loss in the 100. He has also done fine work as anchor man on the relay team. Kent, who participates in the dive, also has an enviable record in two years of collegiate competition.

As a result of heavy losses caused by graduation extra men are needed in every event, especially in the 220, 440, backstroke, breast stroke, and relay. Among the most promising material are Cudybae, Caplan, Munnell and Leach, from last year's freshman team, Butler and Murphy from the 1928 team, and Brodney, Lypit, Eilers, Payne, Marks, La Croix, Alexander, Nelson and other freshmen who have come here with excellent school boy records.

Practice will officially commence about the middle of December, but Captain Phillips urges all men to take advantage of the opportunity to work out in the pool any afternoon from four to five.

Manager Milton White announces that the season will open about the first of February and that meets have been scheduled with Fortress Monroe, Catholic University, the University of Delaware, the University of Virginia, Johns Hopkins University, and Washington and Lee.

NEWEST ADDITION

COACH KELLISON

Latest addition to the William and Mary coaching staff. He came here during the basketball season last year and assisted Mr. Jones with his basketball team. In the spring he coached the undefeated freshman team and is now assisting Coach Bocoock as line coach. He is considered one of the best football scouts in the country.

Girls Get New Courts

Two new tennis courts are being built for the girls on their athletic field in back of Barrett hall. These courts were started late in August and will soon be given a final surfacing. The entire section in which four courts are laid out, has been completely enclosed.

With these additional courts the girls hope to get in some fall practice. It is probable that the annual college tournament for the singles championship will be played off his fall. In this case there will be a doubles tournament next spring in place of the usual singles event.

Those girls interested in tennis are urged to take careful notice of all announcements concerning tennis.

J. Leslie Hall Literary Society Entertains Girls

The J. Leslie Hall Literary Society entertained new girls of the college at a "wennie" roast at Lake Matoaka last Friday afternoon. After the roast a general introduction of the officers took place and an invitation issued to them to attend the meeting of the society tonight in the Activities room in Barrett Hall.

PAPOOSES HAVE FIVE CONTESTS ON FALL CARD

Little Indian Team Working Out Daily Under Direction of Coach "Cy" Young

Coach "Cy" Young has 60 men practicing daily on his freshman football squad, all seeking positions on the eleven that will represent William and Mary in frosh engagements this year. The majority of the men are former high and prep school stars, and Coach Young should be able to put another victorious freshman team on the field this fall.

The little Indians showed up well in a long scrimmage with the varsity last week, giving the regulars some unlooked for opposition. Moffet, from Camden, New Jersey, in the center position, and Mack, who hails from New York, in the line, were particularly unusually good. Halligan, a giant end, has the earmarks of a good wingman. His height being of great advantage in the reception of passes. The papooses worked several nice passes against the varsity, with Marks doing the heaving and Halligan comprising the reception committee. Harrell, of last year's freshman team, and Walker are showing up well in the line.

However, despite the favorable prospects, the team that takes the field this fall will be hard put to even equal the enviable record hung up by last year's papoose eleven. The 1928 team having the distinction of being undefeated and unscored on. Added to that this year's freshmen are facing a much harder schedule than last year's. In 1928 Washington and Lee was the only college frosh team played, whereas, this fall first year elevens from V. P. I. and V. M. I., as well as Washington and Lee will be met.

- The schedule to date is:
- Oct. 4—Washington-Lee, here.
 - Oct. 12—Apprentice School, Newport News.
 - Oct. 26—V. P. I., Blacksburg.
 - Nov. 1—Emerson Institute, here.
 - Nov. 9—V. M. I., here.

Frank Graven to Lead 1930 Golf Aggregation

Frank B. Graven, of Port Washington, N. Y., was elected captain of the William and Mary golf team at a meeting held at the end of the 1929 season. Graven succeeds F. Sam Wilcox, Jr., who led his team through an undefeated season. With all except one member of this team back in school and with a wealth of material available among the new men, a very successful season should result.

Graven is a member of the Sigma Nu social fraternity and the Omicron Delta Kappa honorary society. He is also secretary-treasurer of the Men's Student Body.

R. D. Mallowney, of Brookline, Massachusetts, was elected manager for the coming season. This is the third year that Mr. Mallowney has filled this position.

FLAT HAT TO HOLD GUESSING CONTEST

Weekly Contest to Be Conducted Again This Year; Rodgers to Donate Tie

The Flat Hat will again run a weekly guessing contest during the present football season. As in previous years the William and Mary student picking the most winners in the football games listed below will receive each week a necktie as a prize. These ties are being donated by "Chunky" Rodgers, proprietor of Rodger's College Men's Shop.

Rules for this contest are simple. Copy the games listed below on paper, indicating the winner and possible scores, write your name on same, place it in a sealed envelope and deposit it in the Flat Hat mail box. This box is located just inside the side door in the Citizenship building. Address the envelopes to Paul W. Norton, Sports Editor, The Flat Hat.

This feature will appear in the Flat Hat each week during football season, and is open to both men and women students in the college. Winner for this week will be announced in the next issue. Your list must be in the Flat Hat box by noon Saturday to be accepted.

The list for this week is as follows:

- Boston U. at Army.
- Dennison at Navy.
- Vermont at New York U.
- Richmond at V. M. I.
- Lynchburg at Washington and Lee.
- Catholic U. at Boston College.
- Johns Hopkins at Lehigh.
- Roanoke at V. P. I.
- Franklin and Marshall at U. of Pennsylvania.
- St. Johns at William and Mary.

Y. W. C. A. HOLDS LANTERN FESTIVAL

The Y. W. C. A. held its annual Lantern festival last night. A festival of this type was held last year for the second time and it is understood that the association wishes to make it an annual affair.

All girls were divided into groups according to the sections from which they come. The sections were as follows: New England; Western States; Middle Atlantic States; Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia; Southern States; Piedmont Virginia; Tidewater Virginia; Southwest Virginia.

These groups met at various designated places on the campus and at the ringing of the bell they walked with lighted lanterns to the Main building. After the promenade each group sang its state song.

RALLY TONIGHT

There will be an important rally tonight in the Phi Beta Kappa Hall in preparation for tomorrow night's game. In addition to cheering, speeches will be made by Coaches Bocoock, Kellison, and Young, Captain "Teddy" Bauserman, and other members of the football squad. All upperclassmen are expected to be there and all freshmen must be there.

"HEADQUARTERS FOR COLLEGE MEN"

HONOR SYSTEM EXPLAINED

forcement of the honor system, and second, mass sentiment must be decidedly in favor of rigid, impartial, enforcement.

"When a person enters this college he definitely pledges himself to support and abide by the Honor System. A man unwilling to believe in, and abide by the rules and regulations of William and Mary should not enter.

"I should like to impress especially upon Freshmen or men entering the College of William and Mary for the first time, that they will be given assignments from time to time which will require only their own individual efforts. This work may be in the nature of classroom or outside work. Regardless of where the work is to be prepared, remember that you are to abide by the instructions given you by your professors. If this work is to be done without any aid, be sure that you do not give or receive help. If you do give or receive assistance, you will be guilty of a breach of the honor code and consequently subject to expulsion.

"Stealing, cheating, the violation of a pledge, the cashing of worthless checks, and the failure or refusal to report such offenses are breaches of honor, the penalty for which, if the student is found guilty by the Honor Council, is expulsion from college. All students should remember that any student who knows of a violation of the Honor System and does not report it is himself guilty of a violation. I therefore trust," continued Mr. Swanson, "that every student will feel that it is his responsibility and duty to his Alma Mater to report any and all breaches of the Honor Code.

"The best policy is to report all irregularities. Failure to do so casts suspicion upon those having knowledge of such violations. Students should not hesitate to report violations simply for fear that their names will be revealed. No names will be exposed by the Honor Council. The idea is to remove from college all men who are not capable of living under the code.

"The members of the Men's Honor Council are the representatives of the Student Body. Their purpose is to see that each man gets a fair, square, and honest deal. You may feel sure that we will always be open-minded and reasonable. We will not take final action until after we have made a careful and thorough investigation. I say emphatically," concluded Mr. Swanson, "that if a person is found guilty of a violation of the Honor System, there will be no course open other than expulsion. Above all else, remember that the College of William and Mary is no place for the liar, the thief, or the cheat."

JOHNSON, LUCY AND CLAY ADDED TO Y. M. C. A. CABINET

Officers were elected at the last meeting of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet to fill the vacancies left by Gordon Campbell, vice-president, and Rawlins Williams, treasurer, who failed to return to school. The Vice-presidency was filled by Garland Johnson, Benson, N. C., former secretary. James B. Lucy, Guinea, Va., succeeded Johnson as secretary. Grover C. Clay, Portsmouth, Va., was elected treasurer.

institutions playing their games at night is Syracuse. They meet Hobart in their first game under the lights in Syracuse, September 28.

The Fighting Virginians meet ten opponents on the gridiron, this year. Four of these games will be played on Cary Field under the lights, three in Richmond, and the remainder on hostile fields. There is one post season game with Hampden-Sydney at Richmond on December 7.

Some fifty girls reported to Coaches Barksdale and Roberts for early practice in hockey. Prospects seem exceptionally bright for a good season this fall.

Let's all get out and back our team in their opening game tomorrow night. Even if they do make misplays, remember that this is their first game and try to think what you would do if you were in their place. And let's not hear any criticism of our team, for both they and the coaches are doing the best they can.

Sixteen of the forty members of the Westminster College football team, last year's Tri-State Conference champions, captained their high school team before coming to Westminster.

College Humor predicts that William and Mary will beat St. John, 7-6.

Looks like the Philadelphia Athletics and the Chicago Cubs will be the principal characters in the World's Series this year.

Now we want you all to come to the game tomorrow night and yell your heads off. And don't forget to bring your athletic ticket.

DIGGS, SHAFER AND SYKES NEW SOPHOMORE OFFICERS

George Diggs, of Norfolk, was chosen president of the Sophomore Class at the annual class election last week; Lawrence Shafer, of Cumberland, Md., was elected vice-president; Binford Sykes, of Danville, secretary and treasurer; John Eversole, of Newman, Ill., Class Poet; Louise Hansbrough, of Salem, Class Historian; and Grover Clay, of Portsmouth, Chaplain. Diggs is a member of the Glee Club and Dramatic Club, and took the male lead in the production last spring "Taming of the Shrew". Lawrence Shafer is a member of the basketball team. Binford Sykes is on the football and basketball squads. John Eversole is on the football squad. Clay is on the Y. M. C. A. cabinet, belongs to the Men's Debate Team and The Wrangler's Club.

tomorrow night. Of the ten contests four are to be played on Cary Field under the lights, three in Richmond, and the remainder on hostile fields.

Next Saturday the Redmen travel to Annapolis to meet the eleven representing the United States Naval Academy. This is the first time in several years that the Indians have tackled the Middies. Following that on October 12, the Bocoekmen face the Emory and Henry Wasps, last year's champions of the Virginia Conference, at Emory, Va.

On October 19 the V. P. I. Gobblers play the Indians in Richmond. This is another addition to the William and Mary grid schedule. The next Saturday the college team returns home to play the Bridgewater Eagles. On November 2 George Washington University will be the attraction on Cary Field and on Armistice Day the Redmen meet Roanoke College at Roanoke.

They return to the home field next Saturday to oppose Catholic University. As usual the Indian and the Spider will fight it out in the annual Turkey Day classic. A post season game will be played with Hampden-Sydney in Richmond on December 7.

BOCOCKMEN GET FORM

Bocoekmen. The Annapolis team lost twelve lettermen from their 1928 squad by graduation last June, but have recruited a very strong team from green material. Last year they severely trounced Johns Hopkins, 46-0 and from what can be learned about them they will present an even stronger team here tomorrow than the one that met the Blue Jays last season.

No lineups or predictions as to the outcome of the game can be given, but the Fighting Virginians hope to hold the Maryland eleven to a small score.

DR. J. G. POLLARD OPENS CAMPAIGN WITH ADDRESS

Williamsburg Scene of Opening Speech By Former William and Mary Professor

BACKS BYRD'S PROGRAM

*Outlines Party Platform Against Forces Headed By Dr. William J.
Brown, Opposing Candidate*

Dr. John Garland Pollard, Democratic nominee for Governor of Virginia by an 80,000 vote plurality and until last year a professor at William and Mary, opened his campaign in Williamsburg, September 14, at the formal notification of his nomination, with an address in which he made clear his position on state questions. This speech outlined the party platform for the coming struggle with the forces headed by Dr. William J. Brown, opposing candidate, and was the occasion for an impressive party rally of the Democrats.

Dr. Pollard, until his retirement last year incident to his primary campaign, has since 1922 been Dean of the Mershon-Wythe School of Government and Citizenship and Professor of Government and Citizenship in this college, and is well known to many present and former William and Mary students.

Dr. Pollard has served the state in various capacities, having been attorney-general, 1913-1917, and a member of the Virginia Commission on Economy and Simplicity in Government, 1923-1924. He was a member of the State Board of Education, 1913-1917, and was a delegate to the State Constitutional Convention of 1901. He has also had experience in national affairs, having been a member of the Federal Trade Commission, 1920-1921.

Much of Dr. Pollard's address was given over to approval of the various reforms and progressive measures carried out by previous administrations; and he especially endorsed Governor Byrd's plans for the re-organization of the state government, citing the extremely favorable comment they are attracting throughout the nation.

Other points of his talk were that he would in every possible way further the movement of the new industries into the state, that he was opposed to any cut in road funds until the present program is completed, and favored the pay-as-you-go plan of highway construction, and that he would appreciate more for public education, health and general welfare work.

Dr. Pollard's opponent, Dr. William J. Brown also is an educator, having been professor at Washington and Lee before his gubernatorial candidacy. Dr. Brown is also national secretary of O. D. K. college honorary organization.

STUDENTS EXPRESS SYMPATHY

Students of the college have expressed sympathy for Emile D. Neumann, '30, of Tuscaloosa, Ala., who was called to his home this week because of the death of his father. The funeral will take place in Phoenixville, Penn., it is thought.

ZETA EPSILON NOW
PSI CHAPTER OF PI
LAMBDA PHI ORDER

A new men's social fraternity is added to the ranks of those already in existence at William and Mary this fall, with the installation on last June 8th of the Zeta Epsilon local fraternity, as Psi chapter of the Pi Lambda Phi national organization. The initiation ceremonies were culminated in a formal banquet at the Chamberlin-Vanderbilt hotel, at Old Point Comfort.

The local fraternity was established last March, and has enjoyed a steady growth since its inception, maintaining a home on upper Richmond road, and having in its membership men prominent in campus activities and in scholarship.

The William and Mary chapter marks the first time Pi Lambda Phi has come below the Mason-Dixon line, although the fraternity's other chapters range throughout the major schools of the north and east.

Members of Pi Lambda Phi at William and Mary include: Emile D. Neumann, of Tuscaloosa, Ala.; Lester M. Phillips, of Brookline, Mass.; George F. Burr, and David Eastman, of New York City; Orrin Levin and William B. Kaufman, of Brookline, Mass.; Bernard B. Wallack, of Hartford, Conn.; Edwin M. Kaufman, of Boston, Mass.; Ellis K. Reinach, of Petersburg, and Alan M. Graff, of Newport News.

In addition to outstanding members of the national fraternity, guests at the banquet included: Dr. Jerome Alexander, famous research chemist; Dr. Franklin P. Graves, Commissioner of Education of the State of New York; Dr. Kermit J. Hoke, Dean of the College; Dr. William T. Hodges, Dean of Men, and Ellis J. Graff, of Newport News.

Women Students Hold
First Meeting of Year

At the regular monthly meeting of the Women's Student Government Association, Miss Bessie P. Taylor, Social Director of the College emphasized the fact that self-esteem should be the basic training in the life of every woman student and is a vital point in the making of a successful college career.

Dr. Grace W. Landrum, Dean of Women, welcomed the women students to the college and pointed out

DONOR OF BLOW GYM DIES

Mrs. George Preston Blow, whose generosity made possible the Blow Memorial gymnasium and who owned the historic Nelson house at Yorktown, was buried Wednesday, Sept. 18th, in the Arlington National cemetery, following her death Sunday evening in a New York City hospital, according to word received at William and Mary. She was the widow of the late George Preston Blow.

Mrs. Blow had restored the Nelson house at Yorktown and was a frequent visitor there. She gave the gymnasium as a memorial to her husband, whose father and grandfather were alumni of William and Mary.

that by registering in the college each student had taken a responsibility upon herself to receive the most benefits offered by the college. Points were stressed about absences, changing of courses and the value of attending strictly to work in the next two weeks.

Irene Valentine was elected House President of Jefferson Hall and Martha Burrow, Secretary of the Executive Council. Changes in social rules were explained and the announcement was made of the regular meeting of the Freshman commissions each Wednesday night.
