MEN IMPROVED DURING MARCH SAYS DEAN LIST

Duncan Cocke Leads Frosh; Williams Pulls 97 Average Topping Sophomore List; Other High Averages

DR. HODGES IS GRATIFIED

297 Out of 624 Men in College Passed Their Work; Thomas is Highest Rating Senior

According to the Dean's List, released this week by Dr. W. T. Hodges, Dean of Men, 297 out of 624 men in college succeeded in passing their work for March. Last month's record shows an increase in scholastic averages over February and the dean said that he is gratified by the showing made by the men.

In the Freshman class, 103 out of 294 members passed their work. The list is led by Duncan Cocke of Williamsburg, with an average of 94.05. According to the dean, 34.69 per cent of the class passed the requirements.

Ninety-two Sophomores out of 185 passed, making an average of 49.72 for the class. Phillip Sidney Williams of Fine Creek Mills, Va., tops the list with a 97 per cent average.

In the Junior class, 52 out of 109 members made the Dean's List, giving this class an average of 47.7. The class is led by Norris Halpern of Norfolk with an average of 95.88.

Upton B. Thomas of Troy, Ohio, leads the Senior list with a 96.87 average. Fifty out of 76 men in the Senior class passed their work.

Those honored include Lewis F. Brown of Detroit, Michigan; Robert Moses, Danville; Fay Le Compte, Disputanta; John Ward, Norfolk; Thomas Hart, Buenos Aires, Argentina, and J. Clark Samuel of Wilmington, Delaware.

Following the ceremonies, the group discussed plans for activities next year when an effort will be made to stimulate interest in literature in creative and appreciative fields on the campus as well as an endeavor to raise literary standards here.

The meeting was in charge of Norman J. Patterson, president; Robert Barrett, Edward A. Fales, Jr., and Boyd Carter.

Non-Fraternity Group Prepares For War As Day of Election Approaches

FOUR NOMINATED AS MAY QUEENS

Elizabeth Duke, Charlotte Miley, Virginia Smith and Phyllis Logan Are Nominees

Elizabeth Duke, Charlotte Miley, Virginia Smith, and Phyllis Logan have been nominated as May Queen by the Women's Student Government Association, and the winner will not be known by the public until May Day celebration on May 2, it has been announced. The festival will be based on Chaucer's Canterbury Tales, and will be staged as the Court of King Richmond.

The scene depicts the King and Queen giving a festival, and from the four shires of Surry, Essex, Kent, and Middlesex the May Queen will be selected. In honor of the visitors the Pilgrims of Canterbury have been asked to entertain by enacting the tales they told on their pilgrimage. The Knight's Tale, Wife of Bath's Tale, Clerk's Tale, and Nonnes Priest Tale will be presented.

Elaborate plans are underway to make this May Day the best of all the annual exercises held at the college.

DEBATERS FACE MERCER TONIGHT

First of the three debates still remaining on Schedule to Take Place Tonight in P. B. K. Hall

Three more home debates are scheduled for the remainder of the forensic season in this college, it has been learned through Richard D. Muldowney, president of the Debate Council.

The first debate will be held here tonight when Calvin Berry and Gordon Campbell debate against Mercer college, of Macon, Georgia. Tomorrow night at Wake Forest debaters will oppose Grover Clay and Melvin Fields. The last of the three debates will take place here on April 17 with Howard college of Birmingham, Alabama, Russell Collins and Milton Salasky will represent William and Mary.

Dr. Neibure Discusses Problems With Students

Dr. Reinhold Neibure, of the Union Theological Seminary, New York City brought here by the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A., spent an informal evening in the Y. W. C. A. room Monday, when the women students were given the opportunity to meet Dr. Neibure and to discuss questions which were uppermost in their minds. His lecture in convocation was discussed at the regular Y. W. C. A. meeting Tuesday night.

CLASS ASSESSMENT

Y. O. Kent, president of the Junior class, requests all Juniors to pay an assessment of thirty-five cents to finance junior teas and other functions, in paying this, junior men may see H. Ashby or Y. O. Kent, and the junior women, Virginia Turman or Genevieve Wyatt. Due to several outstanding bills Mr. Kent has urged the class to be expedient in the payment of the assessment.

SENIOR CLASS REHEARSES PLAY

Rehearsals for "Candida" Senior Class Play Start This Week. Tentative Cast is Chosen

Rehearsals are under way this week for the senior class presentation of Bernard Shaw's "Candida" in Phi Beta Kappa hall, May 14. A tentative cast for the production has been announced by Miss Althea Hunt who is directing the piece. This cast includes Phyllis Logan, Alnoel Motley, Edward D. Fales, Jr., Upton Thomas and T. C. Hardy.

The selection of "Candida" will bring to the campus one of Shaw's finest plays. The lines and action are typical of the famous British playwright and contain some biting satire for which he is noted.

When a dramatic group at Oxford University decided to produce "Candida," they wired Shaw: "Can we play 'Candida'?" His characteristic reply follows: "You can't play 'Candida' but you may."

PLANS COMPLETE FOR NEW SCHOOL

Plans were checked Tuesday for the new Williamsburg Public School by Acting President Hoke and C. M. Robinson, architect and Dr. Hoke announced that bids for the new school will be opened Thursday, May 2 at 8 p. m. in the architect's office at Richmond. Construction will begin immediately.

The school, which will contain elementary and high school units, is expected to cost approximately $350,000. It conforms to modern educational requirements, will be fireproof and will contain a large auditorium, gymnasium, shops and laboratories. The school, which will be situated on the old "Institute" property, is expected to broaden the scope of the educational courses at William and Mary.

C. H. EASON UP FOR PRESIDENT

Group Makes Nominations And Will Start Campaign In Near Future

The political pot on the campus has begun its annual boiling with the announcement that a non-fraternity group here is ready to place a ticket in the field, the night nominations for student body offices are to be made. This ticket, it is learned by The Flat Hat, will consist of Charles H. Eason, of Hickory for president; Emmett Frizzell, of Norfolk, for vice-president, and Lawrence Morscher, of Clarendon for secretary-treasurer.

With the provision in the constitution of the Men's Student Body, inserted last year, to the effect that nominations shall be made at a meeting at least ten days prior to the date of election, the group is ready to see that this is done, according to Mr. Eason. The election date this year is May 14.

Whether or not the same method of nominations will be used this year remains to be seen, as it has been the practice to change the constitution to suit the particular political feeling of the time.

Last year, when "no politicking" was the cry around the campus, nominations were made without any active support behind candidates. The year before, the campus witnessed as wild and radical campaign as it had seen, when the students were split in to three parties, the Marshall, Wythe and Wilson, and carried their election enthusiasm to such a point that aeroplanes flew over the campus, dropping "literature," parades and demonstrations were held, speeches by torchlight were made on the front campus, and buttons and ribbons were distributed galore. In 1926, as had been the practice for a period of years, the elections were run by opposing fraternity cliques.

What other political factions will get into action this year remain to be seen, but students with their ears to the situation, claim that something will break soon.

The purpose of the non-fraternity party, according to Mr. Eason, is "not antagonistic to social fraternities, but rather an attempt to place student activities and control, according to the wishes of the majority of the students on the campus."

The three non-fraternity candidates are well known on the campus, and are active in extra-curricular work. Mr. Eason, former principal of the Fox Hill School, Hampton, and now a student in the Marshall-Wythe School of Government and Citizenship here, is active in the Wythe Law Club at present, and was formerly a member of the track squad.

Mr. Frizzell is a member of the boxing and football squads, holds

NEW YORK PROF. MAKES ADDRESS IN CONVOCATION

"We Are Living In a Disillusioned Age" Claims Theological Seminary Speaker

"We are living in a disillusioned age," said Dr. Reibold Nieburh, nationally known theologian, in his address on "Disenchantment" to the students and faculty of the college in convocation Tuesday morning. Dr. Nieburh is a professor at the Union Theological Seminary of New York City and came to William and Mary through the courtesy of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A.

"Yes—we are living in a disillusioned age," repeated Dr. Nieburh, "and we know this is true by analyzing the way modern histories and biographies are written. Every biographer delights in revealing the fact that his subject has feet of clay."

In developing his subject further, the speaker gave reasons for this present day disenchantment. He did not lay the blame entirely on the recent world war, but pointed out other more immediate causes.

In summary, "The disenchantment of the modern age is due to the fact that we know human nature better, we have our eyes on the actions of individuals and groups, and our traditional virtues no longer fit the situation."

Dr. Nieburh closed his address with a poem written by the late Stoddard Kennedy.

FIVE NEW MEMBERS ELECTED TO SQUARE

Officers elected for the year are to membership and officers elected when the Square and Compass Fraternity met Tuesday night. Members initiated were Y. O. Kent, C. Q. Quisenberry, E. D. Newmann, T. L. Keiningham, and G. R. Jones.

Officers elected for next year are Y. O. Kent, President, C. G. Quisenberry, Vice-President, E. D. Newmann, Secretary, T. L. Keiningham, Sergeant-at-Arms, Prof. Gibbs, Treasurer, and Prof. Peebles, Adviser.

Members of the Square will be entertained by Dr. and Mrs. Hodges, at their home on Jamestown road at the next meeting of the organization the latter part of April.

ASSOCIATION MAN TO VISIT COLLEGE MONDAY, APRIL 15

Dr. R. E. Baber of the Y. M. C. A. Graduate School, who is a well known lecturer, will be a visitor on the campus next Monday, April 15. While here he will interview students on various problems confronting them in their college life.

Dr. Baber holds a Ph. D. from the University of Wisconsin. He has taught at the University of Illinois. At the present time he is teaching Sociology at the Y. M. C. A. Graduate School in Nashville, Tenn.

This is not a speech making tour Dr. Baber is making. He is visiting the various colleges and having private interviews with the students. Those desiring to have an interview with him should get in touch with Garland Johnson to enable him to make out a tentative schedule. It is important that this schedule be made out, for Dr. Baber will be here only one day.

ENGLISH TRIP ADDED TO TOUR

In addition to France and Germany Study Tour Adds English Trip to Itinerary

At the request of a number of members of the group, there has been added to the itinerary of the W. & M. Study Tour in Europe this summer a sight-seeing tour to England. With headquarters in London, this tour includes visits to principal points of interest in the city, excursions to the surrounding country, trips to Warwick and Kenilworth Castles, to Stratford-on-Avon, Shakespeare's home and the University of Oxford.

Registration for the Study Tour is progressing satisfactorily. The following professors and students will study and travel abroad with the W. & M. Study Tour this summer. Prof. W. A. Stone, Mr. J. A. Mort, Miss Isobell Brugada, Mr. J. A. Mort, Supervisor of Warwick Co. Schools, Mr. Edward Justis, Misses Kitty Dunlap, Rose Trueheart, Murilla Hix Marion Bonniwell, Leonore Hyman, Idella Horsey. Other members of the group are: Miss Elizabeth Nicholas, (Class of 1928) of Dayton, Ohio; Miss Harriet Jeffers of Schenectady, N. Y.; Miss Adelaide Oldfield of Washington, D. C.

Within the next two weeks there will probably be five or six more registrations so that the total membership of the group will be between fifteen and twenty.

The group will sail June 15th on the Holland-America Liner Rotterdam with Prof. A. G. Williams, Director of the Study Tour and Mrs. A. G. Williams as chaperon.

SPANISH FIESTA DATE APRIL 20

The second annual Spanish Fiesta sponsored by Los Quixotescos will be held Saturday, April 20, in Blow Memorial Gymnasium, with several outstanding features being arranged under the direction of De Ette Jones, president of the organization.

The presentation of a Spanish shawl to the wearer of the most typical Spanish costume, and awarding of prizes to the winners of a tango contest is expected to produce considerable interest. The committee explains that students are invited with or without dates.

Elaborate settings carrying out ideas of the country, and special color schemes will be observed. A popular orchestra is being procured by Jack White, it is said.

Mac Bridges Assistant Editor of "Richmond"

J. Malcolm Bridges, '25, former editor of The Flat Hat has accepted a position with the magazine, "Richmond" as assistant editor to John Archer Carter, it is learned here. "Richmond," official organ of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce, is one of the most well known publications of its kind in the country, and has been rated by a committee from the Congressional Library as the best in the field, it is said.

Mr. Bridges, after being graduated for several months was assistant to registrar here, then went to Norfolk with the Virginian-Pilot in that city, and later to Richmond with the Times-Dispatch.

W. & M. DEBATE TEAM RETURNS

William and Mary Debate Team Loses Three out of Four Debates on Trip

The debate team returned here last Friday after spending two weeks on its annual southern trip, which extended over approximately three thousand miles. The debaters were nosed out on three occasions by close two to one decisions. The fourth debate was a no decision debate.

The opponents of the debaters were Emory University, of Atlanta, Ga.; the University of Alabama, of University, Ala.; the University of Florida—through courtesy this debate was held at Florida State Women's College—of Tallahassee, Fla.; and Mercer College, of Macon, Ga. The first three debates were lost by two to one decisions. Because of a difference of opinion on the question it was decided to let the fourth contest be a no decision debate. The judges in each case seemed to think both teams were on a par, and it was a toss up as to who should get the decision.

The question debated in each instance was "Resolved: That the United States Should Have a Uniform Marriage and Divorce Law." The William and Mary debaters upheld the affirmative side on three occasions. They upheld the negative side against the University of Alabama. They were pitted against very strong forensic material on this tour. Some of their opponents were post-graduates who were working for their M. A.'s

The men making the trip were Gordon Campbell, John Swanson and J. D. Johnson. They left school on Friday, March 22. The trip was made by car.

Three One-Act Plays Written By Students To Be Presented

TRY OUTS WILL BE HELD TODAY IN P. B. K. HALL

Two Plays by Fales and Wertenbaker Have Been Chosen; Third Play Yet to be Selected

Try-outs will be held in Phi Beta Kappa hall at 2 o'clock today for the group of three one-act plays, written by students, to be presented late this month under the direction of Miss Althea Hunt's class in Advanced Play Production. There are parts for about twenty-five men and women.

Written exclusively by members of Mr. G. G. Clark's Dramatic Composition course, these plays will constitute the first bill ever offered on the campus containing undergraduate work entirely.

Two plays have already been chosen, "Sunrise," by Edward D. Fales, Jr., and "The Lady Older Than Time," by G. Peyton Wertenbaker. The former is a tragedy which takes place in Washington's headquarters after the battle of Yorktown. It will be directed by Romaine Safford, while Wertenbaker will direct his own play, which is a phantasy.

A third play is yet to be selected, but it will probably be one of two comedies by Robert Moses, according to Miss Hunt. Moses is also the author of a one-act comedy given this week, "Priscilla of Virginia," whose scene is Williamsburg during the seventeenth century.

ORATORS TO BE CHOSEN TONIGHT

Oratorical aspirants of William and Mary will vie for honors tonight in Phi Beta Kappa hall to secure a contestant to participate in the National Intercollegiate Oratorical Contest. The contest will begin immediately after the debate with Mercer. Dr. R. L. Morton, Dr. E. G. Fleming and G. G. Clark will act as judges.

The winner tonight will participate in the state meet to be held here later this month. The winner of the state meet will take part in the regional meet, the winner of which will go to Los Angeles to participate in the final contest to be held there on June 20. Seven prizes have been offered, making a total of $5,000. The winner will receive $1,500.

The rules governing the local preliminary are as follows:

1. The subjects from which to choose are.

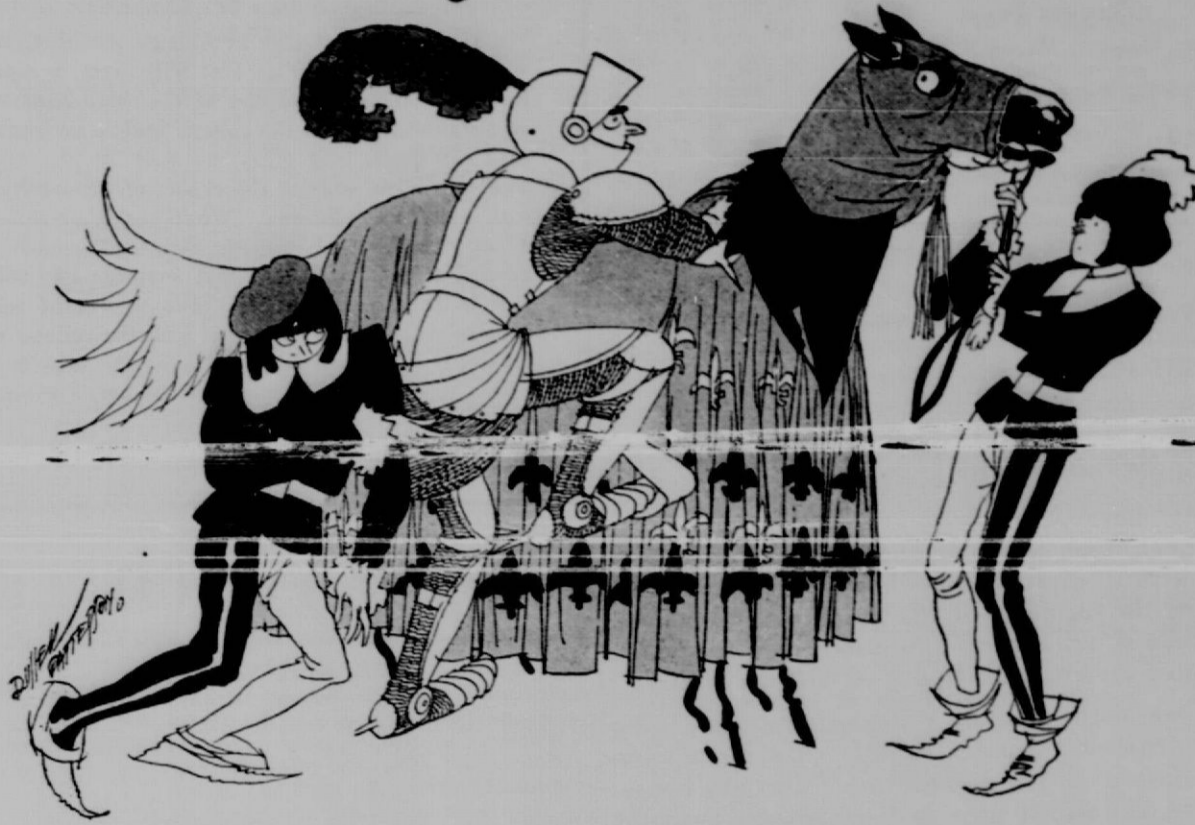

The Constitution
Washington and the Constitution
Hamilton and the Constitution
Jefferson and the Constitution
Marshall and the Constitution
Franklin and the Constitution
Madison and the Constitution
Webster and the Constitution
Lincoln and the Constitution

2. Any undergraduate of the College of William and Mary is eligible to enter the local contest.

3. Each speaker will be allowed not more than ten minutes in which to deliver his oration.

Several students have signified their intention to enter the contest. Some of them have had a great deal of experience in this phase of literary work, and an interesting contest has been promised by those in charge.

Whither away, Sir Knight?

There's a knightly warrior, immortalized by Mr. Stephen Leacock, who under the stress of intense excitement "mounted his horse and rode away in all directions." Whether he ever arrived is not recorded.

To us, this giddy hero is a perfect example of how not to make cigarettes. We hold that a cigarette is a smoke, and a good smoke is a blessing, so to that end alone have Chesterfields been ripened, blended and manufactured.

Mild as they are, not a jot of the true, rich tobacco flavor has been lost. When the best tobaccos on the market are bought you can be certain they'll deliver the taste. Chesterfields are as natural as a field of sweet clover; and they satisfy the taste superlatively well, always!

Once a man has checked up on the above pleasant news, there'll be no "riding away in all directions" for him!

Seven Weeks

It is only a relatively short time now to the day when the first taxi will tear up Jamestown road, or Richmond road, and roll back to the C. and O. station with the first students homeward bound; students homeward bound for the summer—or for the rest of their lives. Only seven weeks, but there is activity enough crowded in this short interval to satisfy the most fervent participant in campus affairs.

This is the busiest time of the year at Williamsburg, and, being the busiest, will pass the fastest. June is rapidly sneaking up unheralded. In almost no time at all the dormitories, fraternity houses and class rooms will have discharged their last occupants, until the summer session, at least. Meanwhile there are study courses to wind up, examinations to prepare for, banquets, dances, plays, and the senior class functions. Few students on the campus do not have their calendars for the next few weeks already fairly sprinkled with engagements. Days succeed one another in rapid order when each has its business.

In one sense it is unfortunate that the spring season, best of all seasons at Williamsburg, should be so given over to haste and preparation. From the standpoint of the seniors, particularly, and others who for one reason or another may not return to William and Mary next year, the ideal spring session would be one which is long in passing. Those who have been here four years will feel the swift ending of their college days keenly. To hurry through the final rush, to look upon each bright spring day as only another twenty-four hours in which as much work must be accomplished and as many duties discharged as possible—and then suddenly to confront June and commencement, is in effect to miss the best days of college.

For this reason the movement started last year to elect officers in various activities at the beginning of the second term is a good one, in that it will relieve seniors from the burden of activities in the last weeks of their stay in college. Eventually, perhaps, this will be the plan of all college groups.

It is not too early now, professors advise, to begin reviewing for final exams. Although few courses have progressed to that stage at which students can grasp a full perspective, a review now of the material that has been will lighten immeasurably the severe study and memory work that always comes the last week in May. Wise students will see the advantage in this.

Only seven weeks. But seven weeks in a college springtime when there is work to be finished, plans to be made and possibly long friendships to be broken, can pass almost overnight.

Williamsburg's Volcano

Pitt has her skyscraper classrooms, Penn her museum, Virginia her Rotunda and Yale her giant armory. Practically every school of note throughout the country has its curiosity or its freak, and many of them are quite diverting to the visitor, and the subject of a good deal of conversation.

It is doubtful, however, if any school has a spectacle to compare with William and Mary's own volcano. It is not, however, an attraction to visitors; as a matter of fact, because of the quantities of soot and cinders it belches forth at intervals, it is something to be avoided. At such times huge floating particles of the blackest smudge descend on the street, cover the sidewalks, fill pockets of white linen suits, smear the face and lodge in the hair. Students rooming near the volcano keep their windows shut in the hottest weather.

That is not all. Within the past few days the volcano's older and smaller crater has been noted in action, although it was thought extinct. It was, however, contributing a smudge worthy of its bigger brother.

Surely it will be a bright day when the steam plant uses up its present shipment of soft coal.

LIGHT ON THE COLLEGE STUDENT

Are college men and women of today better or worse than they were a generation ago? Can the modern college student be accused of enjoying a "four year loaf"? What are the standards of conduct of the 1929 student? What are the "collegiate" type?

These and a hundred other questions concerning the code of conduct, ideals, industry and dress of the modern American college man and woman are being answered at Washington this week-end at the annual convention of the Association of Deans and Advisers of Men. The basis for the answers are replies from three hundred colleges and universities to questionnaires sent out by Henry Grat-tan Doyle, dean of men at George Washington.

Next week The Flat Hat will carry a report of Dean Doyle's findings. Were the replies of the three hundred colleges favorable or unfavorable? Is the college individual improving or degenerating? William and Mary, as well as all American colleges, is awaiting with interest the report of this authentic study of American college conditions. Whatever it shows, it should prove of great significance. College men and women have been battered around a good deal. At last someone has sought a reliable answer to the college problem, the answer of college administrators themselves. If the answer is bad, the college will have to face the music; if it is good they will have the satisfaction of a support on which to stand in the midst of the battle raging about the student of today.

If There Must be Style to Get in Dining Hall, "Let's Find Style Inside" Opines 'Oscar'

Editor of The Flat Hat,
 Sir:

Two members of the Drexel baseball club were turned away from the dining hall door recently, when they attempted to enter while wearing clean white shirts without the customary coats or sweaters. If they were entering the Grill of the Ritz perhaps this rebuke on the part of the doorkeeper would have been justified but, here, I can't become reconciled to this "high-hatness."

Too often have I had water of milk pitchers empty their contents on my back with a little spoonful of mashed potatoes added for seasoning. Soiled tablecloths everywhere, in most cases done deliberately and maliciously, yet good manners and door keepers demand coats and sweaters to receive the drippings from dishes wildly passed over one's head. To my mind everyone should wear one of the waiters' aprons and firemen's helmets and let it pour.

About a month ago I sat down in a deposit of syrup which someone so graciously placed in one of the "mahogany Louis XIV" chairs. So kind of him. Needless to say I left the hall all stuck up and it cost exactly one dollar to get unstuck. Yet we must still wear our best finery and pose as Fifth Avenue bankers, while the cleaners do a pressing business at our expense! I would try to filch a coat-of-armor in some antique shop if I were certain some enterprising "gentleman" wouldn't pour ice water down the equipment to test the vulcanizing.

And then, with the coming of hot weather the men students must wilt under their heavy coats while the coeds get by in any type of garment that Dame Fashion happens to dictate. And women scream for equal rights! Is there no justice? I don't blame the women particularly, but I do believe we are a bunch of dunces to impose such stringent rules on our own persons and to attempt a strict adherence to a woman's book of etiquette.

Which is the weaker sex? There is something still very rotten in Denmark, in my opinion. If we must put on style to enter the dining hall, let us find the style on the inside. It's only fair.

Writer Protests Monroe Hall Going Exclusively to Incoming Freshmen Next Fall

Editor of The Flat Hat,
 Sir:

From all things that have been said and done, Monroe Hall is to be next fall for the exclusive use of incoming "ducs."

Why not give these Old Dominion and leave Monroe Hall for the upperclassmen as it is far better than O. D.?

O. D. is larger than Monroe and the Freshmen classes are becoming larger all the time and it is a possibility that next year the class will be so large that Monroe will not be able to accommodate all the "ducs."

May the administration think it over and decide to use O. D. rather than Monroe.

And Here is Another Plea—or is it Howl?—For Some More Tennis Courts

Editor of The Flat Hat,
 Sir:

Just when is work going to be started on those new tennis courts that have been promised to us by the powers that be? We have heard so much about them that we do not believe that they are ever going to be realized in the next three years any way, and if they are started this semester I believe the students will die of shock.

There is another reason that there should be more courts. It is this—the other, another person and myself went out to the faculty courts these being the only ones in condition at the time and for that matter only one of those was fit to play on. There were two on each court and none of them even offered us the use of the courts and we waited an hour hoping that we would have a chance to use them. They were all fraternity men and because of that fact they thought that we should wait until they were through. I need not name the fraternities because everyone on the campus knows that men belonging to these two particular organizations

"LORD BOTETOURT SAYS—"

By BILL

No longer, gentle reader, will you have to remain in doubt as to the identity of Mr. Crump. Pat Paterson, that "master" of American humor and drama has seen fit to give us the very low-down on our friend as well as other interesting members of the Crump family in his play, "Mr. Crump at Home." In reviewing this excellent production, this typewriter undergoes such a spasm of aesthetic appreciation, that it falters lest it damn the author with faint praise. He has done his best with the work—need we say more? Mr. Crump, once a mythical concept is now a most unique reality and we know him intimately, hear him speak, and realize most of all why he doesn't like it and why he isn't going to have it here. Once the vogue was "Mah Jong," later it was "Trader Horn," but now it is Mr. Crump. Read the play and become inspired.

William and Mary, ever the home of romance, and troubadours, has suddenly with the entry of Spring, become its old self again. Silver platters and gold-filled baritones can be heard almost any time sobbing their love-sick lyrics to their lady friends as they sport beneath the kindly old trees of the campus. Those trees who heard, perhaps, T. Jefferson telling his plans of a more perfect state than was ever dreamed of by Plato. And some of those to whom he told these dreams were perhaps not Platonic in their friendships—good old Thomas! The records say somewhere that he was asked once was he missing his classes and he is alleged to have replied, "No, I am only glad to get away from them." He may have also told George Wythe who asked him casually how many times he had cut class, "I don't know, I thought you were keeping score." But then he went on and became president of the United States and founder of the University of Virginia. So, then, why not sing to our loves if they will heed us, we are only following noble precedent.

The women's glee club will now sing, "My Man" while "Iskeets" Dunbar is seen standing in the wings.

Well, enough damage is done, so we will ramble on, and if all is well, we will see you in the comic strip next week.

GERMAN CLUB DANCES MAY 4

Co-ed dances, consisting of a dance followed by a formal dance, will be held in Blow gymnasium on May 4, according to final arrangements recently announced by Polly Veable, president of the German club. Ted Brownie's Victor and Columbia recording orchestra from Philadelphia will furnish the music. Officers of the German club state that this orchestra is the best that the club has ever secured for a co-ed dance. Frances Saunders will be in charge of the decorations.

think that just because they are what they are they are the kings of the campus.

Now for a suggestion as to the location for these new courts. The land around the present faculty courts is by far the best place as it is almost perfect and there could easily be from six to eight courts placed there.

A Tennis Devotee

THIS DEPARTMENT

One called "Buzz" has buzzed us this week with the following diatribe: "These Co-Eds are very amusing. Awfully amusing, in fact. They are indeed, a constant source of amusement to me in their little machinations and what not.

"For instance, have you ever noticed them when visiting teams are about? It is really funny. When the Nassau boys came down last Wednesday for the baseball game, our delicious little morsels of feminism were very much in evidence. It looked like Easter Sunday. All the more ambitious ones were dressed up fit to kill and made it a point to parade around so the Nassau boys would see them.

"A very nice custom. A very charming custom. True Southern hospitality, in fact. Make the visitors feel to home, say we, and go to it girls. You're only young and single once."

Well, Buzz, there doesn't seem to be much we can say to that. But your interesting communication does give us something about yourself for our own speculation. We don't know who you are, of course. Your letter, typewritten in light blue, was waiting for us on the spike. The big desk spike, you know.

We are quite satisfied, to begin with, that you are not a co-ed, Buzz. When we read your first paragraph we said, "Ah, Someone with a dining hall digestion—the girls' dining hall." We were quite sure, you see. But when we began the second paragraph and read about Princeton boys we saw our error. The sign was unmistakable. A co-ed would have called them Princeton "men."

So we've placed you as a male student. Furthermore you must be a northerner. You speak of the thing called Southern hospitality. Hospitable southerners do not believe, refer to it.

You're an easterner. "Morsels of feminism," you said, and thereby gave yourself dead away. Absolutely you're an easterner. A westerner, of course, would have said examples of feminism." Maybe you don't believe it? All right, we can't prove it.

Furthermore you're probably one of the chaps who socked up against one of those tough Princeton entrance exams and passed everything but Latin, on which you drew down a grade from 58 to 64. We'd almost bet good money on this point. You evidently have a certain amount of respect for Princeton. We might almost say you're a bit proud of her. That shows that at some time in your past you have wanted to go there. But there is, in your letter, a slightly harsh note—and this irrefutable proof that you busted the entrance tests.

Well, so far, we've managed to get along quite well without risking any trouble by committing myself to comment on your surprising letter, Buzz. Because really there's dynamite in it. We can see right now that what we ought to do is put a nice little italic paragraph at the top of This Department to the effect that "the management is not responsible for the views of its readers and does not necessarily . . . etc., etc."

So you see how it is, Buzz. But we're much obliged, anyhow, for the letter. Frankly it had us worried at first. We only hope, Buzz, that you'll be quite frank and admit all we found out about you. It would jar our tranquility badly if, for instance, you happen to be from Tuscon, Arizona, and never heard of Princeton, N. J., until this week's game.

Theme song for this week: "We know you come from Princeton, but you're Nassau hot at that." With chorus by Buzz. ED.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

What do you think of the idea of having the College band give concerts on the steps of the Phi Beta Kappa Hall in the evenings after dinner?

G. P. Callis, '29: "I think that the idea would be very good. It would afford a little recreation for all of the students."

Jerry Foster, '30: "In the spring the idea would be fine for one naturally turns to song."

William A. J. Bowen, Jr., '30: "Excellent motion! I do think a better place could be found for the concerts, though I can suggest none off hand and I believe that once or twice a week would be sufficient."

Jane Bagely, '32: "Great. It would draw some of the crowd and give me a chance to get in the College Shop."

Francis S. Thompson, '31: "Since it is very seldom that the student body has the opportunity to hear the college band, I think this an excellent idea."

Lou Baker, '29: "I thoroughly approve of this idea, as it will mean the employment to advantage of the after-dinner hour."

Sydney H. Kelsey, '31: "I think the college band should give a concert occasionally for those who appreciate music. But the band should be considered. It is work for them. Probably they would play if some 'consideration' was given."

Clare Hargrove, '31: "An excellent idea. This college needs more pep, especially in the springtime."

Norman J. Patterson, '29: "This idea, if carried out, should arouse some degree of interest among the students. At present, I believe, there are many who know of the band only as some secret organization whose activities are kept strictly from the student body."

Betty Douglas, '31: "I think the idea itself is all right, but I doubt the success of such a proposition."

By long odds the most brilliant social affair of the year took place recently when the Williamsburg chapter of the A. P. V. A. gave a colonial ball. The feature of the evening was a minuet, danced by eight couples attired in colonial dress. The costumes were made of brocade and lace in a variety of bright colors. The gentlemen wore knee breeches and stockings and carried swords. The dance was reviewed by President Tyler as Lord Botetourt and Mrs. Cox, president of the A. P. V. Relaxation and Proper Control of Nervous Effort Will Help Student in Performing More Efficient Work, Says Editor of Rochester "Campus"

"On edge" is the term which best describes the feeling before the start of a game. This same feeling is present at other odd moments throughout the play; for example, a batter is "on edge" when the count is three balls and two strikes on him. It is not precisely worry that prompts a person to feel tense, but rather the nervous strain to get started.

"Staleness" is the state just beyond the point of being "on edge." When a person goes stale, it means that he has been "on edge" too long. Under such conditions nervous tension becomes one of two things: either the person becomes unduly worried, or else he becomes somewhat disinterested. And neither type of "staleness" produces good work. Relaxation is the control valve for preventing "staleness." The method is to settle back when the "on edge" period gets too long and provide a moment of rest. This operation can be seen when a basketball player poises himself for a shot, or when the infield throws the ball around in order to give the pitcher a rest for a moment.

The way to get good work, then, is to develop the ability of having an "on edge" moment at the right time; this is accomplished by choosing the correct periods of relaxation, recreation or whatever one calls it. The result is to conserve energy until the moment arrives and then summon it all by the "on edge" feeling which is transfigured into smooth efficiency when the job gets underway.

throughout the contest, with the result resulting from exceptional base running.

Sport Fans to See All Varsity Teams in Action During Next Week

BRAVES TO MEET TEN OPPONENTS IN COMING WEEK

Varsity Nine to Play Five Games in Week; Two Meets for Harriers; Racketeers Have Two Frays

JUNIATA HERE TODAY

All Four Teams in Fine Shape To Meet Foes As Biggest Athletic Week of Year Approaches

Sport fans will see all the William and Mary varsity teams in action in various parts of the south this week. Ten athletic events are carded for the Braves during the coming week, beginning with a baseball game with Juniata College here this afternoon.

The varsity nine have the most opponents to face this week. Five games are scheduled for them in seven days. Beginning this afternoon they meet Juniata College from Pennsylvania. Neither of these two teams have ever met before and the strength of the visitors is unknown. Monday the Indians travel to Death Valley where they will meet the Hampden-Sydney Tigers. The Tigers have been going at a fairly fast clip so far this season and a hotly contested game is predicted.

The next day the Braves return home to meet the Bridgewater Eagles on Cary Field. Last year the Indians were able to defeat these boys and no doubt will repeat their victory this year. On Friday they travel to Bridgewater where they will meet the Bridgewater Eagles in a return game.

The varsity nine is in fine shape. Early in the week their playing was marred by many costly errors, but constant fielding practice has tended to round out the little rough spots in the Indian infield. The outfield, and batterymen are in good condition. Scott, Wallace, Callis, and Rux will do the hurling for the varsity in the coming frays with O'Ferrall, Chambers, or Farrell behind the bat.

"Scrap" Chandler's harriers also will have a busy week. Tomorrow they travel to Baltimore to meet the Johns Hopkins University trackmen in a dual meet. Last season the Hopkins men left the Indians on the short end of a 71-55 score, but with their increased strength and the showing made against the University of Maryland last week, an Indian victory is predicted tomorrow.

Next Wednesday they meet the Catholic University outfit on Cary Field. Last season the Indians had an easy time getting a 90-36 victory over the Cardinals; so they should have little trouble topping the Washington boys again this year.

Practically the same team will be entered in these two meets as participated for the Indians last week against the Old Liners. The weight men have been drilling on their event with the hope of bettering the showing they made last week. Kent, Willis and Taylor can be counted upon to get some points in the pole-vault. Baggett is the only casualty on the Indian squad. He pulled a tendon in the meet last Saturday and may be laid up for a while. When the week is over two wins are predicted for the varsity harriers.

Dr. Robb's tennis team will not be idle. Two matches are scheduled for them during the week. Monday they will meet the Hampden-Sydney team at the same time that the two colleges are meeting on the diamond. The next afternoon Davidson College will be the attraction. Both these matches are scheduled to be played on the home courts.

Joslin and Wiggins with Johnson, Cushing, Fink, and Lewis will probably represent the college in these matches. By this time the unexperienced members of the team have become almost veterans and all six members of the team will be out for a scalp when they meet their opponents next week.

Sunday the varsity golf team will take on the University of Virginia turf lifters at Yorktown. Both of these teams have been going at a fast rate this year and no prediction as to the outcome can be made. William and Mary will be represented by Captain Wilcox, Mulloney, Craven, Turner, and several others.

Miss Johnson is from Portsmouth, graduating from Woodrow Wilson High School in 1922. In 1926 she received her B. A. degree from North Carolina College for Women and during the next two years she was an art instructor at William and Mary. Last July she went to Paris where she is continuing her study of art.

Bill Scott, Indian hurler, pulled the hero role last Wednesday afternoon and cracked out a homer with the bases loaded in the ninth inning to knot the Tiger-Indian game at nine all, and in the thirteenth inning drove in the winning run to give the Braves a 10-9 victory over the visitors. Captain Bloxson received a broken arm in the first inning when a Tiger runner ran into him on first.

CO-ED COURT RULES

The tennis season for Co-Eds will start Monday. The old courts are now being fixed and new ones are to be built in the next few weeks.

There is no system of signing for courts and no co-ed will be allowed on the courts unless she is signed up for that time, it is pointed out. A schedule is to be posted in the Jefferson gym for practices. Women interested are asked to turn in their class schedules to Brownie Osmond of Helen Maffet.

PREACHERS TRIM REDSKIN NETMEN

Exhibiting one of the fastest examples of tennis seen on the Cary Field courts this year, the Union Theological Seminary team of Richmond severely trounced the William and Mary racquetees this afternoon by a 7-2 score.

The Indians were handicapped in playing, however, by the absence of Joselyn, ace player for the Williamsburg club.

BRAVES SHATTER RECORDS TO TRIM U. OF MARYLAND

Four Records Fall as Indians Leave Old Liners on Short End of Score 71 2-3-54 1-4

The William and Mary harriers shattered four records and turned in a victory over the University of Maryland last Saturday afternoon in their opening meet of the year. The Braves were in fine form and at no time during the afternoon was the outcome doubtful. When the meet was over the Indians were leading 71 2-3 to 54 1-3.

The Indians took everything in the running events but were weak in the field events. Bill Scott clipped the 100 yard dash off in 9.8 seconds, shattering the former record of 10.1 seconds. Again in the half mile, Captain Gresham broke the tape in one minute, 59.1 seconds, breaking the record established in 1922 by "Scrap" Chandler. "Kirby" Davis finished the 440 yard run in 50.2 seconds bettering the former college time by one and seven tenths seconds. Zabel did the mile in four minutes and thirty-five and three-tenths seconds, breaking the fourth record of the afternoon.

Freshmen Track and Baseball Teams to Be Busy in Coming Week

FOUR CONTESTS ON DUC'S CARD DURING WEEK

Maury, John Marshall, Woodrow Wilson, and Newport News High Schools Oppose Duc Harriers

TRACK MEET THIS AFTERNOON

Baseball Team to Meet Newport News Apprentice and Christ Church Outfits During Week

Freshmen teams will be kept busy this week with two track meets and two baseball games on their schedule. The yearling nine have had 2 games before and have made fine showings in each one, but as yet the track outfit is untried.

This afternoon John Marshall, Newport News, and Maury High will oppose the freshmen track team on Cary Field. These three high schools have some of the best athletes in the secondary school ranks and will no doubt give the Papooses sufficient opposition. Next Friday afternoon the yearlings will meet Maury High and Woodrow Wilson High in a triangular meet.

No prediction can be made as to the strength of the freshman track outfit, but from the showing that they made in indoor track, some of the best material in this part of the south will be seen in action for the freshman in these coming meets.

The Papoose baseball team will face the Apprentice School from Newport News here tomorrow afternoon in their third game of the season. From the showing that the Duc outfit made in its two previous games they should have little trouble topping the Ship Builders. Next Wednesday they go abroad to meet the Christ Church nine. This prep school usually puts good baseball teams on the field and the outcome of this fray is doubtful. Practically the same team will represent the freshmen in these games as did in the games this week.

JOHN MARSHALL BOWS TO DUCS

Little Indians Outplay Justices in Fast Game Here Saturday; Pettit in Form

The freshman baseball team opened their campaign Saturday afternoon with a 6-3 victory over the John Marshall outfit. The Little Indians showed fine form throughout the game and completely outplayed their opponents. Pettit was on the mound for the "Ducs" and pitched a fine game, never weakening the attack started in the first inning.

Historical Magazine to Be Out in Two Weeks

Announcement has been made that the May number of the William and Mary Historical Magazine will be out in about two weeks. The feature article of this issue of the magazine will be a map and plan of the two Berkeley houses at Queen's Spring which are at present in ruins. Some very interesting facts are said to have been disclosed when research was made among the ruins. This issue of the magazine is expected to be of an unusual historical and intellectual interest.

Method of Choosing Best Co-Ed Athletes Announced

The committee which selects the three leading athletes among women each year wishes to announce the way in which these awards are made. It has been the general opinion that they were chosen because of exceptional playing on the different teams of the college, according to the number of points scored in the contests and the like. This is, however, an incorrect assumption, it is pointed out. Candidates are selected on their ability as good athletes, their ability as leaders, their good sportsmanship, their ability to cooperate with the members of the team on which they are playing and their general attitude toward sports. Last year the three chosen were Lena De Shazo, Nancy Burke and Curle Sinclair. Women selected this year will be announced shortly.

Errors Costly as Harvard Takes Slow Game From Redmen Here Monday Afternoon

Scott started the game for the Redmen, but was relieved by Callis who in turn was relieved by Rux. Whitmore was on the mound for the visitors and allowed only nine hits in as many innings. ## WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB TO RETURN TONIGHT FROM FREDERICKSBURG

The Women's Glee Club, under the direction of Mrs. Kathleen Hipp, is scheduled to return tonight from Fredericksburg, where it entered the State Contest held yesterday. The group representing William and Mary College was made up of thirty voices.

The members of the Glee Club, together with Mrs. Hipp and Mrs. M. J. McCorkle of North Carolina, the accompanist, left for Fredericksburg Wednesday afternoon and were joined in Richmond by the Glee Club of the extension school.

Many interesting features were included in the club's program during its stay in Fredericksburg. Wednesday night each member of the Glee Club attended the John Powell Recital. The State Contest was held yesterday, followed by a very elaborate luncheon at noon. The afternoon was spent in sightseeing, and practicing for the massed choral concert which was given Thursday evening. All the Glee Clubs of the state, including the complimentary clubs, participated in the massed choral concert. The complimentary clubs present were Jean Trigg Club of Richmond, Hollins Choral Club, and the University of Virginia Glee Club.

The members of the William and Mary Glee Club were among the few to be in costumes. In the regular state contest the women wore the academic caps and gowns. The costumes worn in the local concerts given this year were used in the massed choral concert, and created much comment from the appreciative audience.

NEXT OF WYTHE LAW CLUB MOOT TRIALS ANNOUNCED FOR APRIL 16

The next of a series of moot trials given under the auspices of the Wythe Law Club will take place Tuesday night, April 16 in which a number of its members will take part. It is to be based on a criminal case in which "Sally Scrubber" is charged with practicing Osteopathy without a license.

Judge Frank Armistead of the fourteenth judicial circuit will preside. L. B. Maxey and Gordon Campbell will act as prosecuting attorneys, while Thomas Keiningham and Paul Everett, Jr., will serve as counsel for the defendant. Intensive interest in the outcome of this trial has been displayed by members of the Wythe Law Club.

Following this case, a trial based on a civil suit involving a will will be given. Some other local attorney will preside.

A criminal case was tried on Tuesday, April 2, which resulted in a hung jury. Vernon M. Getty of Williamsburg, judge of the Juvenile court here, presided. John Lewis and Herbert Ganter were prosecuting attorneys with the defense consisting of Walter Hoffman, Charles Eason, and Bernard Schwetz.

This series of moot trials are a part of a special work of the Wythe Law club and are under the supervision of L. W. Woodbridge and Dr. P. P. Peebles, of the Department of Jurisprudence.

GIRL RESERVES ADVANCE PLANS

Girl Reserves at High School Plan Camping Trip at Lingerbrook in May

Under the direction of Margaret Baughman, chairman of the Girl Reserves committee of the Y. W. C. A., the Girl Reserves of the Williamsburg high school are making progressive plans for April and May. The club meets twice a month on Thursday afternoon.

The annual camping trip of the Girl Reserves will take place May 10, 11, 12th. All members of the club will spend the three days at "Lingerbrook," a camp near Buckroe Beach. Plans for next year will be discussed at this time.

The Tidewater Girl Reserves convention will be held in Norfolk this year. Representatives from Newport News, Morrison, Williamsburg, Portsmouth and Norfolk will be present. The date of the convention will be placed sometime in May. More definite plans are to be arranged later.

One of the biggest features of the plans for the month of May is the mother-daughter banquet to be given during the last week of the month in the home economics room of the High School. This banquet will offer the mothers a chance of becoming acquainted with the various girls in the Girl Reserves, their work and their advisors. Elaborate plans are being made for the occasion.

INTRODUCTION TO BOOK PRAISED

Dr. Landrum Writes Introduction to "Boyhoods of the Presidents" Which Is Highly Praised

Dr. Grace Landrum recently wrote an introduction to "Boyhoods of the Presidents," by Mrs. Bessie White Smith, of Richmond. The introduction has been highly praised because of the complimentary value to the author and the interest it holds for the reader.

Fresh from the press, "Boyhoods of the Presidents," shows America as a land of opportunity where the lad in homespun is given the same chance as the boy in velvet.

Mrs. Smith's residence in Virginia has enabled her to secure many facts that are not generally known in regard to the early lives of Virginia presidents. She, however, studied so thoroughly the sources of information relating to the childhood of presidents from other states, that she has produced a book free from sectionalism.

After careful estimation, the historical matter of this new publication has been found faultless. Written in simple, didactic manner, this book begins with the life of Washington and concludes with that of Hoover. Color is added by the inclusion of portraits of the presidents and pictures of their homes.

NIEBUHR SPEAKS IN CONVOCATION

Well Known Theologian Visitor On Campus This Week; Nationally Known Writer and Speaker

Dr. Reinhold Niebuhr, of the Union Theological Seminary of New York City, was a visitor on the campus this week. He was brought here under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A.

Dr. Niebuhr is well known throughout the United States for his great religious work. He is a contributor to the Atlantic Monthly, and has written several books on religious subjects. At the present time he is a member of the faculty of the Union Theological Seminary of New York City.

A careful program was mapped out for Dr. Niebuhr during his brief stay at William and Mary. A tea was given for him in the "Y" room Sunday afternoon. He held an interesting discussion group with the two "Y" cabinets Sunday night. Monday was given over to sightseeing and having private interviews with the students of the college.

Convocation was called on Tuesday morning, at which time Dr. Niebuhr delivered the principal address. He spoke on "The Disillusionment of the Modern Age." He said, "We must first of all learn to know ourselves. We must also learn to respect the wishes of those with whom we are not so closely allied. America has the greatest economic strength of any country on the globe."

His talk consisted of a variety of subjects. It included History, Philosophy, Economics and Religion. It was interspersed throughout with a number of witty remarks that entirely won his audience.

GIRLS PRANCE AT MANLESS DANCE

The "Manless Dance," conducted in Jefferson gymnasium Saturday night, has been pronounced a decided success. Sponsored by the Y. W. C. A., this customary formal featured humorous entertainment for the co-eds, who entered the fun with real spirit.

A local orchestra rendered unusually good music, the gym was decorated with futuristic designs, and cards with cleverly painted backs added to the evening's success.

To onlookers, there were couples representing all walks of life: Uncle, who forgot to remove his derby while dancing, and Aunt, with her powdered hair and sweeping skirt; "Joe College" and his "Sweet Mama," who had learned the shagg to perfection. Little brother from the country, who had as good a time in his overalls as did the dignified fraternity member who boasted a new "tux"; Tennis champions, who rushed the best listeners to their scores; members of the gold club who had not planned to come—thus was their excuse for sport clothes; and other types.

The dance proved to be such a success that plans are under way to give a similar one next year.

MANLESS DANCE A SUCCESS

The manless dance, sponsored by the Y. W. C. A., was held in Jefferson gymnasium last Saturday night. Music was furnished by the college orchestra. Decorations consisted of many futuristic designs and curious costumes. All co-eds who attended the dance declared it a success.

INAUGURATED HERE

The first open forum no decision debate on the campus was inaugurated last Wednesday night between the debaters of John Hopkins University and William and Mary. The question for debate was "Resolved: That Trial by Jury Should be Abolished."

Earle Garrett, manager of the debating here, stated that he was well pleased with the outcome. He believes that this type of debating has bright prospects. The audience seemed very much interested in the subject and asked questions of both teams.

The debate was held in the Phi Beta Kappa hall with George Brooks, of the Public Speaking department, acting as chairman. John Hopkins was represented by Mr. Littlefield and Mr. McDorman, who upheld the affirmative side of the question. Grover Clay and Melvin Fields upheld the negative side for William and Mary.

Eureka!

"Ed," said sporting editor number one, "I'm stumped for a word to describe how Beefus made that winning touchdown—that play where he crashed off tackle. But I've used 'crashed'."

"How about 'slid'?" volunteered sporting editor number two.

"Naw, I used that: 'Halligan slid around end.' And I've used 'jammed'."

"'Breezed' might do."

"Used that too. 'Murphy breezed through center.'"

"Well, how about 'thundered'?"

"I used that twice—also 'slammed'."

"'Slithered'?"

"No."

"Maybe 'galloped'."

"No. That's out."

"'Tore' is a good word."

"Not when you've used it four times."

"H'm. Well—no. Perhaps—no, you've surely used that. Ah! At last! I've got it! 'Ran!'"

"By golly, Ed, you've hit it. It's the very word I've been trying to think of all season. How do you spell it?"

—Life.

Sky-Writer (to boss): Please, sir, I'd like to go home and stretch out. I just wrote "If it isn't a Pifflebristle it's hardly a toothbrush" ten times, and I have a bad case of writer's cramp.

Editor—"Look here, what do you mean by this? 'Among the most beautiful girls was Judge Horatio Bungle.' Bungle isn't a girl, you idiot! He's one of our principal stockholders."

END PLANS FOR SUMMER SESSION

 professor of English, University of Utah. While Dr. Erickson and Dr. Marshall come to William and Mary, Dr. Geiger and Dr. Gwathmey will go to the University of Utah to take their places as exchange professors.

Among the regular courses offered there are two features of special note. The first is Library Science, including courses preparing one for supervision of high school libraries, for library requirements of the State Board of Education, for training in principals and in the organization and management of small libraries, and also practical training in the use of children's books. The second feature is Dr. E. E. Dale's course in History of the West, which deals with the western front's activities in the development of the United States. Dr. Dale has spent much time on western ranches, and has written several books on cowboy life. As a result of his experiences and interest in the west, he has collected such material making possible several illustrated lectures which will be offered in connection with the course on frontier life. This element of personal contact is indeed of particular interest to the students of Dr. Dale, Dr. Hoke suggested.

As to the theatrical side of the social entertainment for the summer students, there will be plays presented by Miss Althea Hunt and I. H. White, of Harvard University. Along with the plays are other social features now being considered.

Those students planning to attend the summer sessions may make reservations for their rooms now, in the Dean's office. It is advisable to do so at this time in order to avoid the rush which usually comes, it is said. Summer school is a good way to make up back work, extra credits, and meet requirements, according to the director. It also affords one the opportunity to shorten the four years usually spent to receive a Bachelor's degree. Dr. Hoke voiced the opinion that the students of William and Mary are indeed fortunate in having their own college provide for them in this field.
