MATSU TO DAVIS PLAY IS DEADLY

William and Mary Loses Golden Opportunities to Score; Captain's Toe Counts for Season's
First Field Goal

In a game featured by long runs, William and Mary lost to Columbia University Saturday afternoon in New York City by a score of 13-10. Dutch Rieger, Columbia half, scoring two touchdowns, was the big factor in the Blue and White victory.

Meb Davis and Captain Matsu, by their pass combination and individual play were big noises in the game and continually kept the Columbia goal in danger. Matsu early in the fray started the scoring with a field goal, and Davis late in the last quarter ran nearly the length of the gridiron for a touchdown. In addition to these two plays, the pair threatened to score at other times.

Matsu's field goal, his first of the season, came at the end of the first quarter after Norris, Columbia back, had fumbled and Eason recovered in William and Mary territory. The ball was carried up to Columbia's 35-yard line from where the Indian captain booted it between the goal posts.

The Green, Gold and Silver lead was short-lived, however. After Columbia kicked off, Matsu fumbled on the 40-yard line, and after one or two line plunges, Rieger got off for his first long run of the afternoon and scored. Madden added the extra point. The ball seasawed for the rest of the half.

In the third quarter, Rieger received one of Matsu's punts, and ran seventy-two yards through a broken field for his second touchdown. Madden kicked goal but the point was not counted on account of an offside play.

After the scoring was apparently over, the two teams exchanged a couple of forward passes, and Columbia fumbled within ten yards of the William and Mary goal line. Davis scooped up the ball, and with a group of Indians forming a protection around him he ran 90 yards for the final

Miss Ribble Will Attend Student Govt. Conference

At a called meeting of all women students in Jefferson Gymnasium last week, Margaret Holman was elected to represent William and Mary at the conference of the Women's Intercollegiate Association for Student Government which is being held at Trinity College November 11, 12, 13th.

It was later found that a report has to be made at this conference from the southern conference held last year at Wesleyan College, Macon, Georgia, which was attended by Carolyn Ribble, now president of the Women's Student Government of the college. This makes Miss Holman ineligible and necessitates Miss Ribble's going in her place.

O. D. K. TAP DAY TO BE TUESDAY

Men Elected to Eta Circle of Omricon
Delta Kappa Will be Announced in Chapel; Dean Prince of Richmond asked to Speak

One of the most impressive ceremonies ever witnessed at the college will be carried out next Tuesday night in Chapel when Eta Circle of Omricon Delta Kappa holds its formal Tap of the men who have been elected to membership. Election to O. D. K. is considered the highest honor that can possibly come to an undergraduate, and the announcement of the elections here will be looked forward to with great interest by the entire student body.

Exercises of the evening will be in charge of Herbert L. Ganter, president of Eta Circle, who will make the opening address. Old members of the circle will then in turn walk among the audience and tap the men who have been chosen. Their names will be announced by the president as they follow their tapman to the platform.

This will be followed by an address by some prominent member of O. D. K. from another Virginia College. It is hoped that Dean W. L. Prince, of University of Richmond, can be secured

SOCIETIES WILL USE FORUM PLAN

Phoenix and Philomathean Societies
Agree to Plan of Phi Delta Gamma Providing for Session as Parliamentary Body

William and Mary Chapter of Phi Delta Gamma, National Forensic Fraternity, realizing that literary societies here are not as active as they should be, and feeling that the promotion of this side of college life is part of their work on the campus, have suggested a plan to the Philomathean and Phoenix Literary Societies which is designed to raise enthusiasm and promote a better spirit among the societies, and to stimulate them to better work.

The suggested plan, as outlined to the two societies last Friday night by Carl Andrews is that on alternate Friday nights the two societies meet in joint session as a Parliamentary body. A debate will have been scheduled, one or two members of each society upholding the opposite side of the question. After the formal presentation of the question by the speakers of the evening, the floor will be thrown open to discussion, and all men present will be free to present their views on the subject. At the end of the meeting a vote will be taken to decide which way the majority of men present believe. The advantages of this plan are that the regular set program of the societies will be done away with two nights of the month, and questions of interest to the students can be thoroughly threshed out.

In order to have the societies see

PHI KAPPA TAU IS INSTALLING NEW CHAPTER

Eighth National Fraternity to Come to William and Mary Now Install
Chapter Here in Three Day
Ceremony

PROMINENT MEN ATTENDING

Dance Tonight to Be Biggest Social Function; Banquet Tomorrow Night After Return From Game in Norfolk

Phi Kappa Tau becomes the eighth national social fraternity to have a chapter at William and Mary with the formal installation of its pledge chapter, formerly Pi Epsilon Beta. The formal exercises which began yesterday morning will continue throughout today and tomorrow.

Yesterday was consumed largely with individual initiations, which will be completed today with the formal installation exercises, when Alpha Theta chapter is given its official existence by the degree team. Perhaps the outstanding social event of the program will be the formal installation dance at the Colonial Hotel tonight, which will be attended by members of the fraternity, the installation team, and a number of invited guests. Music for the occasion will be furnished by the college orchestra, "The Indian Serenaders."

Tomorrow afternoon the fraternity with its guests will make the trip to Norfolk to witness the William and Mary-Wake Forest football game, returning to Williamsburg immediately afterwards for the installation banquet at the Colonial Hotel. Sunday morning the new chapter will attend the Methodist church to hear the morning services conducted by their Brother Horace Cromer, pastor of the church, and sponsor for the fraternity to Phi Kappa Tau.

Led by Grand President Harry A. Taylor, of Lincoln, Nebraska, the installation team is composed of some of the most prominent men of the fraternity. They include Grand Secretary R. K. Bowers; Dr. E. E. Brandon, Ph.

INDIAN RUNNERS TO MEET SPIDERS

Cross Country Team Matches Strides
With Ancient Rivals on Foreign Course This Afternoon. Have Defeated Them Once.

With the full strength of the squad again in the line-up, the William and Mary cross-country team will meet the University of Richmond this afternoon in a dual meet at Richmond. The two teams have met before this season in a triangular meet with George Washington, and at that time the Indians were victorious by a score of 23-41-56, with the Richmond squad placing last.

Captain Hudson, who was unable to run against Maryland University last Saturday on the local course because of injuries, will again be able to take his place at the gun. Baggett and Campbell, star freshman members of the squad, who were barred last Saturday on account of Maryland being a member of the Southern Conference, an organization that does not play

Ten Prominent Students

Ten men were honored by election to membership at the first meeting of the William and Mary Chapter of the National Professional Forensic Fraternity of Phi Delta Gamma, held at the Sigma Phi Epsilon House last week. F. James Barnes, president of the local chapter, was host to the fraternity.

Men elected to membership include Professor Harwood L. Childs, Chris Sommers, Frank S. Hopkins, Cornelius deWitt, Robert Corstaphney, Douglas Mitchell, Donald K. Van Wormer, Fairfax M. Berkeley, Wilfred Lambert, and Allan Cooke.

Mr. Childs was an active intercollegiate debater during his undergraduate period at Dartmouth and while here has been in charge of public speaking classes. He is on the advisory committee of the Men's Debate Council and coached the team which recently defeated Oxford.

Chris Sommers is a leading law student at the College and is considered a gifted speaker. Frank Hopkins, who was formerly president of the Phoe-

FROSH CONTEST TO BE DEC. 14

Annual Freshman Literary Contests of Phoenix and Philomathean Set for December. Ku Klux Klan
Will be Debate Subject

Committees representing the Philomathean and Phoenix Literary Societies have finally agreed on a time for the Freshman Contest, and announce that it will be held in Chapel at 7:30 p. m., Tuesday, December 14. It will consist of an oration, a declamation, a reading, and a debate. The first three of these will count one point each, and the debate will count two points. The question for debate is: "Resolved, that the Ku Klux Klan should be abolished." Judges of the contest will be chosen from the faculty, and Mr. Horace Cromer will preside.

The two societies will begin at once to hold elimination contests to select their respective representatives. The Philomathean Society will uphold the affirmative side of the debate, while the negative falls to the Phoenix Society. All Freshmen in college are eligible to the contest, whether they have joined one of the societies yet or not. Medals will be given to the individual winners, and the winning society will be given the Annual banner which is now held by the Philomathean Society, who won it last year. For the two years previous to that it was held by the Phoenicians. Any Freshman who is interested, or has ability, in the activities mentioned is cordially invited by the two societies to come out tonight at the regular meeting in the respective halls of the societies.

Carolina Baptists Have Impressive Record For Whole Season

TWO TEAMS ARE NEARLY MATCHED

Indians Have Made Most Respectable
Showing in Games Played and Won; Opponents Faced
Southern Schools

Tomorrow marks William and Mary's 1926 clash with Wake Forest College when the Indians meet the Baptists in the Virginia League baseball park in Norfolk. Judging from past records for the season, the two teams will be nearly matched, but backers of "The Fighting Virginians" are looking for a victory.

The Indians, fresh from their game with Columbia University in New York last Saturday, and with practically all of the players back in the game, are expected to put up one of the best exhibitions of football that they have displayed this season.

Wake Forest, while they have not piled up the record that the Indians have against larger colleges, have displayed some mighty fine football. In seven games played the Carolinians have come out victorious in four, losing two and tying one. In the five games that they have scored, they have amassed a total of 117 points, but a few short of what the Taskerites have. Thirty-five have been scored against them.

William and Mary, although losing last Saturday added to the enviable record. Securing ten points against Columbia they brought their total up to 133, sixteen more than Wake Forest. The Indians, however, playing against such schools as George Washington, Loyola, Harvard, Columbia, and Syracuse, make their standing a little better than that of Wake Forest who has played only Southern colleges and universities.

A special train will carry a large portion of the student body tomorrow to see the game.

Brothers Head Freshmen Men's Scholarship List

Norris E. and William Halpern, brothers, of Norfolk, Virginia, hold the distinction of leading the men of the freshmen class in scholarship for the first month's work of the present semester, according to a report issued from the office of Dr. William T. Hodges, a member of the freshman advisory committee for men. The Halpern brothers lead the list of thirty-eight students with averages of 92.2 and 95, while Lawrence Morscher, of Clarendon, Virginia, and Swain Wool, of Canton, China, one of the six foreign students in attendance at William and Mary this year, follow in the order named.

The report further disclosed that twenty-four of the thirty-eight students were from Virginia. Of the fourteen from other states who were awarded places on the list, New York leads with six names, followed by New Jersey with two.

Announcement

TO THE STUDENT BODY:

I want to call your attention to the Miriam Robinson Conservatory on the south campus. This building is a memorial to the memory of a little girl who loved flowers and has for its object a deeper interest in things beautiful and a more practical knowledge of how to propagate, care for, and utilize flowers and plants as a step towards higher culture.

The love of flowers is inherent in the human race. No sooner are the absolute necessities of life satisfied than man's (and woman's) thoughts turn to the improvement of the mind and the enjoyment of beautiful things around about them.

The College of William and Mary was probably the first institution on this continent to recognize the importance of floriculture and to encourage it. I find in the Virginia Gazette of a hundred and ninety years ago, "Thomas Crease, gardener to William and Mary College, advertises 'garden peas, beans, and other seeds, and also a choice collection of flower seeds and plants'."

There you have it, nearly two centuries ago this college had appointed a gardener—landscape architect we would call him in these days—who produced flowers and trees beautiful enough to plant in gentlemen's gardens. We shall simply revive this ancient department and in this splendid plant, made possible by generous contributions from friends of the college, give an elective course in Practical Floriculture to sophomores and advanced students, for which college credit will be allowed.

This course, No. 207, will be conducted by Mrs. C. M. Robinson, whose plants and flowers now in the conservatory have evidence of her skill and efficiency, and that she is an artist of recognized ability no one who saw her dining hall decorations when President Coolidge was our guest will deny.

I am hopeful that many students, particularly those who expect to teach in rural communities or are interested in household arts, will avail themselves of the opportunity. No fees will be charged, the department being maintained by the sale of plants and flowers.

Another important matter, you have noticed we are now making an attempt to improve our grounds; we expect to plant flowers and blooming plants on the campus unprotected except by the honor of those for whose enjoyment they are so placed. The blooms are not the property of the college. The plucking of the blossoms will not only injure the plants but jeopardize the success of this undertaking by destroying the income necessary for its maintenance.

J. A. C. CHANDLER,
President

CHRISTMAS PLAY WILL BE GIVEN

"The Goose Hangs High," First Play
Presented in Phi Beta Kappa
Building Planned for Pre-
Holiday Performance

"The Goose Hangs High," sponsored by the Dramatic Club, is beginning to take shape under the direction of Miss Althea Hunt. The play will be given just a short while before the Christmas holidays, and, incidentally, will be the first presented from the stage of the Phi Beta Kappa building. Proceeds from the play will be used to buy equipment for the stage.

Appropriately enough, the play deals with the return home for the Christmas holidays of four college students; a love story is cleverly interwoven with domestic and financial troubles. However, the "tangled skeins" are disentangled, and all the complications banish. "The Goose Hangs High" should prove of especial interest to college students.

Those most likely to be in the final cast are Truman Welling, Fairfax Berkeley, Kitty Myrick, Upton B. Thomas, Jr., Polly Venable, Mary Via, Phyllis Logan, "Bill" Morrow, Sam Staples, Jane Phillips, Frank Hopkins, Carolyn Borders, and Jimmy Barnes.

MEMORIAL DAY

Memorial Day for brothers who lost their lives in the World War, was fittingly respected last Sunday by Epsilon Iota Chapter of Sigma Nu. The fraternity attended the morning services at the Methodist church, each man wearing a white rose in memory of the dead brothers.

Notice

All material for the December issue of the Literary Magazine must be in the hands of the editors by November 15.

ENG. DEPT. HAS OVER THOUSAND

Department Now Offers Thirty-four Classes in English; Extension Classes in Richmond, Newport News and Norfolk

Including extension work offered in Richmond, Norfolk, and Newport News, one thousand and sixty-nine students are enrolled in the department of English of the college, a report issued from the office of Dr. E. W. Swain, of the English faculty, discloses.

Thirty-four separate classes are offered by the department this semester, including four in Richmond, and one each in Newport News and Norfolk. Of the thousand-odd students taking advantage of work offered in this department, the largest in the College, only two hundred and twenty seven failures were reported for the month of October, or 21.2 per cent of the total enrollment. It was pointed out that in view of the fact that fourteen classes contained a total enrollment of four hundred and forty students in their freshman year, that the per cent of failures was small.

Eight hundred and twenty-three students are enrolled for English courses offered at the College in Williamsburg; eighty students are taking advantage of the English courses offered in Richmond; thirty-three are enrolled in the Norfolk division of extension; and ten in Newport News.

Under the direction of Dr. John Lesslie Hall, dean of the faculty, the English department is regarded as among the strongest found in the college. Including the head of the department, who entered upon his thirty-ninth year as a member of the faculty of William and Mary this fall, two full professorships in English are held. The department contains two associate professors, four instructors, and a librarian.

An Error

Through some error in listing pledges of the sororities last issue, the name of Miss Dorothy Lankford, of Cuba, pledge to Gamma Kappa Chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma, was omitted. The Flat Hat takes this opportunity of correcting the mistake.

Philomathean Society Giving Good Programs

Interest in the Philomathean Literary Society is being stimulated by the contest which is now being held in the weekly meetings of that society. As has already been announced in the Flat Hat, the Philomatheans are offering to the student who makes the best single appearance at one of the meetings from October 29 to November 19 inclusive, a prize of five dollars; to the second best, three dollars; and to the next best two dollars. Any member of the society is eligible.

The program on last Friday night was considered to be the best of the year so far. The program was as follows: Oscar Cordie, Oration on the subject of the Ku Klux Klan; Reading by C. Jasie and George T. Morecock; and a debate on the subject, "Resolved that a college course should be three years." The affirmative was upheld by C. A. Turner, and the negative by Carroll Brooks.

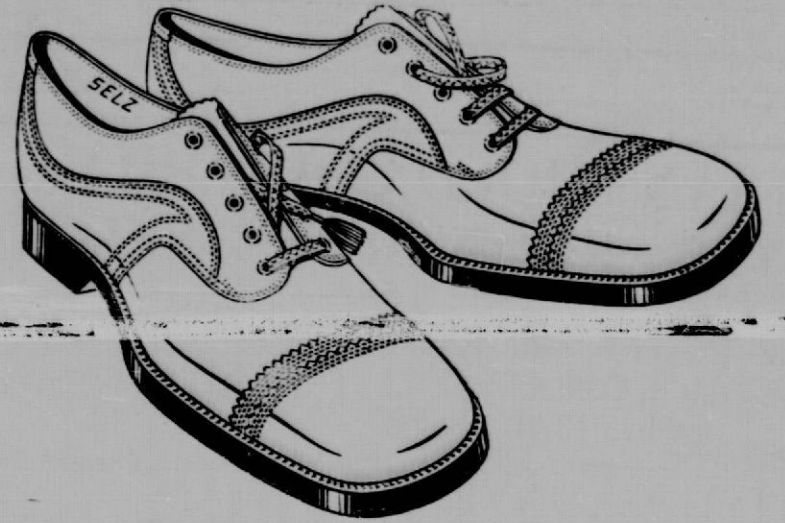

Tonight will be the third meeting of the contest, and on Friday, November 19, the winners will be picked. All members are urged to be present tonight in Philomathean Hall at seven-thirty, and visitors are also cordially invited.

Just A Word About Sports
 By "DAUBA"

In losing to Maryland last Saturday the Indian cross-country team tasted the first bit of defeat since the year of its inauguration as a sport. The defeat was not entirely due to the superior ability of the Old Liners, however, for the Braves were weakened by the absence of several mainstays who were out either on account of injuries or the freshmen rule under which the meet was held.

Football is a strange and hard game to judge. It seems you can never tell exactly what is going to happen when leather and moleskin meets leather and moleskin in a grid encounter. For instance we can cite the game last Saturday which dopsters had conceded to Columbia by several touchdowns. That same team which had found the Cornell combinations so easy, struck in the Virginia aggregation a spirit and fight which compelled the New Yorkers to go the limit in order to eke out a narrow margin of victory. Was it Voltaire or Jonah who remarked that "you can't keep a good man down!"

The followers of the pigskin are apt to be mourning the fact that the season is so near over. Only two more games and the curtain will ring down on William and Mary grid warriors for the year 1926. But the most lacrymos of the indulgent will find solace in the thought that these two remaining games are to be mean struggles of the first water. Wake Forest is emerging from a very successful season and will be found in their best fighting mood tomorrow in an effort to add more stars to their crown. Richmond, though her record has not been such an impressive one, never failed to give the Indians a good tussel and any admission to the annual Thanksgiving classic is money well spent.

Last Saturday was a day chock full of upsets in the world of football. South Carolina's win over Virginia Tech gave dopsters the greatest surprise that they have received this year and Virginia's big win over W. & L. Maryland's defeat of the Yale eleven, and Princeton's win over Harvard all gave the sporting world a jolt and shock. While the Techmen were being blanked the Indians were adding ten more points to their lead over the Blackburgers. There is no reason why the Braves cannot lead the state this year not only in scoring but general team standing.

Numerous complaints have reached this department regarding the inadequate supply of tennis courts. Tennis is perhaps the most popular form of exercise employed by the students here at college, yet participation in the game is discouraged by the fact that only one tennis court is in any condition to be played on, and with one thousand students to play and only one court to play on is apt to mean that some poor stude is going to get left out.

FRESHMEN TAKE SWIMMING MEET

Lowly Frosh Splash Water in Faces of Upperclassmen for Sweet Revenge; Sops Fight, Juniors and Seniors Rest

In the inter-class swimming meet which was held last week in Blow Gymnasium, the lowly ducs triumphed over their more fortunate classmates. Putting forth every bit of their skill in an effort to subdue their inferiors, the sophomores struggled to take the meet away from them, but all of their efforts were in vain for the freshmen were determined to take advantage of this one opportunity of seeking revenge.

- Results of the Inter-class Meet
 40-yard (free style)—1st, Van Putten, freshman; 2nd, English, freshman; 3rd, Chase, sophomore; time, 22.7 seconds.
 60-yard (free style)—1st, Van Wormer, sophomore; 2nd, Sexton, freshman; 3rd, Hopkins, S. H., senior; time, 40.6 seconds.
 40-yard back—1st, Van Putten, freshman; 2nd, Hurt, sophomore; 3rd, Hopkins, S. H., senior; time, 29 seconds.
 Diving: 4 required, 2 optional—1st, Justice, sophomore; 2nd, Sexton, freshman; 3rd, Beatty, junior.
 Relay (each man swims 40 yards)—1st, Van Putten, freshman; 2nd, Justice, sophomore.

DORMITORY MEET NEXT THURSDAY

Inter-Dorm Swimming Meet Scheduled for Next Week While Fraternities will Fight it Out on December 2nd

Next Thursday evening in the swimming-pool of the Blow Gymnasium, at seven-thirty, there will be held an inter-dormitory aquatic meet. Teams will be formed by each of the men's dorms and men living in town will swim with the Institute team. No freshmen or fraternity men will be eligible to participate in this meet. Only one man from each dormitory will be allowed in each event except in the relay, in which teams of four will be entered.

The events will be as follows: 40-, 60-, and 100-yard free style; 40-yard back-stroke, relay, and diving. In the relay, each man will swim 40 yards. In the diving, four dives will be required and two optional. Three places will be counted, giving five, three and one points respectively, except in the relay in which the awards will be ten, five, and three points.

On December 2 an inter-fraternity meet will be held. Further announcement of this will be made next week. The same rules as in basket-ball eligibility will hold. Pledges will not be permitted to participate.

We often wonder if it was Evelyn Byrd that wrote "I'm sitting on top of the world."

DUCS LOSE LAST FOOTBALL GAME

Apprentice School, of Newport News Succeeds in Snatching Narrow Margined Victory By Virtue of Gimple's Field Goal

Unable to withstand a driving attack, the William and Mary Frosh went down in defeat before the Apprentice School at Newport News last Saturday by the count of 3-0. After battling toe to toe for two periods, the Apprentices started things humming in the second half when Rust ran the ball back from the kick-off to the little Indians' 7-yard line. However, the Frosh braced and held their ground until a drop kick from the 25-yard mark sailed neatly between the goal post and accounted for the only score of the game. The ducs had the ball in Apprentice's territory during the first quarter but were forced to resort to a defense throughout the rest of the game. In the third period it looked as though the enemy would surely push a touchdown across since they were fighting under the very shadow of the goal. They were turned back however with a field goal to their credit.

Captain Meister, William and Mary quarter, was the outstanding star for the freshmen. He made a nice run for twenty-five yards in the last period which placed the oval on their 43-yard line. A twenty-yard pass from O'meara to Justice put the ball on the 15-yard mark, and after two line bucks had failed, O'meara passed over Apprentice's goal only to be knocked down by one of their backs.

This closes the season for the little Indians. Due to some tough breaks the Frosh have not had a very successful year, but this is not so bad when it is considered that some of the strongest prep teams in the state have been met.

LEAD IN SCORING HELD BY INDIANS

Taskerites Retain Lead Among Teams With 133 Points; Gobblers are Runners Up With 120;

Coach Tasker's Indians still lead the other Virginia teams in scoring. Gaining ten points in the contest with Columbia last Saturday although she lost, William and Mary still maintains a comfortable lead as the runner-up, V. P. I. was held scoreless by the Gamecocks. The Taskerites have scored 133 points against their opponents during the season as against 120 for the Gobblers, the next highest in scoring honors.

Virginia and the Hampden-Sidney Tigers both boosted their score, Virginia unexpectedly upsetting Washington and Lee for a 30 point score, while the Tigers' 12 points garnered from the Davidson lads was a help to the Death Valley boys.

Washington and Lee now has a total of 70 points, 35 of which were garnered from Lynchburg as were 38 of the Cavaliers and 48 of the Indians. The Roanoke Maroons have 112 points since their lacing of Bridgewater 68 to 0 last Saturday.

The Hampden-Sidney Tigers and the Cavaliers have the edge in defending their own goal line which has been nicked for 33 and 47 points respectively. V. M. I., the Maroons, and the Indians are tied for third place with 78 points scored against them, although the Indians have met such teams as Syracuse, Harvard, and Columbia.

HOCKEY TEAM TO TACKLE G. W. U.

Squads Working Daily in Inter-class Games to be Followed by Selection of a Varsity Team for Match

Hockey practice is being held every day of the week now that the time for choosing the varsity is at hand and the team is preparing to meet George Washington on the local field November 20. There has been a good deal of rivalry among the girls for the various positions on the field. In the hard-fought games between the Senior-Sophs and Junior-Freshmen it is evident that there has been a marked improvement in the speed and technique of the game.

Misses Barksdale and Roberts, accompanied by Nina Trevett, Marjorie Carter, Alice Chewing, Harriet Zimmerman, Billy Shelton, Polly Hines, Genevieve Hoffman, Lelia Stringfellow, and Charlotte King, went to Richmond Tuesday to see the game between the classes at Westhampton. A game with Westhampton later in the season is pending.

"A Momentary Stir"

Only a week ago we were the recipients of a copy of The New Student, containing a most interesting and astounding article on William and Mary, its history, traditions, and student body under the above quoted heading. To say that we were shocked at the general content of the article would be putting it mild. First the staff laughed heartily at the ability of any one to present such a warped view of the college—at the evident one-sidedness of the author. Then we became indignant as we read what was said about the student body.

An article such as this will, no doubt, be read throughout the country. Our contemporaries will read and perhaps some will believe a great deal—others will give us the benefit of the doubt. Perhaps we should ignore the article for its comical misinformation and perhaps we should let it pass as a "momentary stir" of hot air—which indeed a great part of it is. We are not going to deny the whole but we should like other colleges to know that we crave justice.

"Poor whites of Virginia" is the term applied to the student body and we ask in reply if the learned lady and authoress knows that twenty-seven states are represented here, among them almost every Northern state. The editor of this publication happens to be an Oklahoman by birth while among his assistants are men and women from New York, Ohio, Washington, and other places. Yet we would not remove ourselves from the student body, for we are a part of them and we resent such obviously ignorant and uncalled for criticism.

It is a strange thing that most widely read articles on almost any subject are always of the sensational variety—written by those who know their subject superficially by scratching the surface of information. Our distinguished critic is much like the person who would write a history of Rome after a journey through the forum. Maybe we should not tell it, but she really spent part of a summer term on our campus two years ago while we were away for the vacation.

We do not know what The New Student thinks about the article which it printed but we do believe that it should allow us to defend ourselves and our Alma Mater from such slanderous criticism.

A Student Parliament

Some time within the next few weeks the men's literary societies will try a plan for the betterment of literary work in their respective organizations. They will meet in joint session as a parliamentary body for the discussion of some popular subject after the open forum style. The plan works admirably at other colleges and universities and if it can be used here in the proper manner it will do much to revive interest in the society work. Meeting every week to hear current events, reading, declamations, orations and debates is not enough. There must be some common ground where each member will be given an active interest in the program. There is no better way of doing this than by allowing open discussion following adequately presented addresses on each side of some popular question of the day. We believe that the new plan will work and heartily commend it to the men students of the college.

A Good Fight

Last Saturday a "Fighting Virginian" team went down to defeat in one of the greatest battles of football at William and Mary. Columbia won by a narrow margin but the team that turned back the Red wave of Cornell was extended to the limit. The Indians put up their usual brilliant game which is characteristic of Northern trips and left old New York with a vivid impression of Southern fighting qualities. We are proud of them and of the showing they made. They were beaten—yes, but it was a good fight and a great game.

Tomorrow in Norfolk William and Mary meets Wake Forest in the last battle before the Thanksgiving encounter. In many respects it will be the best game of the year for the Indians as the two teams are almost evenly matched, according to all indications. The team deserves the support of the entire student body and everyone who can make the trip should take the special for the seaside city.

INITIAL ISSUE OF LITERARY MAGAZINE IS WELL EDITED

This is a review of a magazine—if such a thing be possible. The November issue of the William and Mary Literary Magazine was distributed among the students of the college last Saturday. It contains sixty-four pages and has the same cover design as the magazine of last year. With the possible exception of the "heads" to the various departments, which are in old English letters, there have been very few external changes. It is true, however, that the size of the magazine has been appreciably reduced in view of the fact that the magazine is to be published six times this year as compared to the four issues of last year.

Of the material within the magazine much that is good could be said; but here it is necessary to confine our remarks to the work of exceptional worth. Everyone on the campus knows "Speed" Hopkins; but only a few know his ability as a writer. However, no one need take our word for it. Just read either of the two articles in the Literary Magazine by Sewell H. Hopkins and then judge. "On and Old Picture of the College" is one of the best essays printed in the magazine for some time; and the review of the "Microbe Hunters" far outranks the average college or newspaper standard of book-reviewing. Both of these articles have a style of their own and should be read if not reread by every student in the school.

"Qu'en Sabe," which means "Who Knows" in Spanish I am told, while undoubtedly dramatic, is almost too much so. The concept of a beautiful young woman leaping from a hotel balcony because of her dislike for Christmas, while startling and highly entertaining is not positively refreshing. We do not recommend this sort of thing to our Co-eds. "Serenading My Soul" contains a gem of an idea which is unfortunately hidden in too great a display of words and their uses. Perhaps the present writer was a bit inconvenienced by such diction, yet he feels much of the beauty of the thought has been covered by the words which enclose it.

St. Michaels and the little boy who wondered why the great church chimes never rang thirteen! Shades of Dickens come to life! H. C., whoever he be, has lent his contribution the fresh atmosphere of the little child who lives with his day dreams and runs from night phantoms.

Poetry? Yes, there is plenty of it here; but Carl Andrews' "I Will Sing of the Far-off Places" must be given special mention. Perhaps it is bad etiquette to praise the work of one's editor-in-chief, but here is an unusual bit of college poetry. How many times have we all drifted away to the far-off places! And how loath are we always to leave them! But after all, there's no place like home! So much for that.

Editor-in-chief Hopkins is to be congratulated upon this, the first issue of the Literary Magazine; and the Flat Hat takes this opportunity to wish him and his staff continued success in the next issue.

Sorority Pledges Guests At Pi Phi Pledge Tea

On Thursday, November 4, the pledges of Pi Beta Phi fraternity entertained at tea the pledges of other fraternities at the Pi Phi House.

The parlor was attractively decorated with chrysanthemums, and wine and blue candles flamed brightly. Each fraternity was well represented and, which is unusual at teas, conversation was not allowed to lag. Anne Garrett danced and recited.

After tea had been served, each group of pledges was asked to sing one of its fraternity songs. The Pi Phi's led by singing their "Sweet-heart Song" and the others followed.

Here and There among the Exchanges of the Flat Hat

The fraternities at the University of North Carolina rounded up 240 men this season. There are 32 fraternities there and the greatest number of pledges taken by any one fraternity was 14 pledged by Sigma Chi. Sigma Nu ran a close second with 13, and there were two fraternities that took in twelve each.

To show that sports other than football may bring fame to a university, a genius "prof" at the University of Utah, has brought everlasting fame to his institution by his horse-shoe throwing proficiency. The professor is it that the professor will soon match his skill against the flower of the state to determine the state championship.

The University of Wisconsin is the first university to offer dancing as a major course in its curriculum. The course entails four years' work, sciences and cultural studies being included as well as dancing. The aim of the course is to develop personality and appreciation of art through the knowledge of dancing.

A recent announcement comes from the Walter Camp Memorial Committee that "Walter Camp Day" is to be celebrated in every section of the country as a signal mark of respect to the memory of the man who did so much to make football the pre-eminent American College game. The observance of Walter Camp Day is a part of the plan whereby the colleges and universities of the entire nation are uniting under the auspices of the National Collegiate Athletic Association with alumni of Yale to raise a fund of $300,000 for the erection of a monumental Walter Camp memorial gateway as an entrance to the Yale bowl and other athletic fields at New Haven.

Students at the University of North Carolina recently asked the faculty to provide a course in the social, economic, and psychological aspects of marriage.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Dr. Albert Sidney Johnstone, of the Federal Reserve Bank, of Richmond, spoke on "The Choice of a Life Work" at the Fireside on November 3. His address dealt more with the principles involved rather than with the choice of the work. Three steps, he said, which everyone must take are (1) Surrender, (2) Discovery and (3) Adventure.

The attendance, while good, was not as great as might be expected from the number of students who named "The Choice of Life Work" as the one most interesting in the questionnaire sent out by the "Y" some time ago.

The faculty reception on Friday night was given by the cabinets of the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A.'s together with their Faculty advisors. A distinct improvement on Friday night, the meeting was the first time that the faculty have come together in such a manner. The reception filled a much needed place in the program, and, needless to say, it was a success.

The extension division of the Association is busy arranging a schedule which will keep the deputation teams busy until Christmas. This will include a visit to the nearby convict camp.

On Saturday night in the "Y" room, "Open House" was well attended. Several of the fair sex who had lost their social privileges found pleasure in toasting marshmallows.

YOUTH PROBLEM IS DISCUSSED

Two Hundred and Fifty Young People Meet in New Church to Discuss Things which Concern America's Youth of Today

New York (by New Student Service)—What should concern Youth? Two hundred fifty young people with that question uppermost in their minds

New York (by Student Service)—What should Concern Youth? Two question uppermost in their minds

They met under the auspices of an organization, formed last May to foster social concern in young minds: the American Federation of Youth. The Federation's purpose is: "To unite group of young men and women, to interest them in local, national and international problems, to secure an expression of youth opinion, to quicken response to the needs of humanity, to develop in youth a sense of responsibility and to instill a spirit of fellowship and tolerance among all youth irrespective of race, creed, nationality, social condition, and political affiliation."

The fourteen affiliated clubs, for a large part local groups, include the Fellowship of Youth for Peace; the League for Industrial Democracy, and the Social Problems Club of Columbia University.

Before thinking about their own situations the conference-goers listened to accounts of foreign youth movements; to the Secretary of the German Student Cooperative Association in America, the Secretary of the Chinese Student Association and two members of the student delegation to Russia.

Discussion followed under the guidance of Dr. Goodwin B. Watson, of Teachers College, Columbia University. The consensus of this discussion was finally expressed in a resolution, adopted by a vote of 54 to 33, as follows: "The fall conference of the American Federation of Youth, desirous of seeing the building of a youth movement which will embrace all youth organizations in a struggle against militarism, imperialist and child labor, recommends to the Executive Council of the Federation that it carry out a program of enlightenment on youth problems through debates, mass meetings, forums, and publications, in order to further effectively its fight for youth rights."

STUDENTS STAR IN COMIC PLAY

"The Flapper Grandmother," Directed by Miss Hood, will be Presented Tonight Second Time; Students Have Major Parts

"The Flapper Grandmother," a play being directed by Miss Hood, a representative of the Wayne-Sevell Producing Company of Atlanta, Ga., is being presented last night and tonight at the Williamsburg High School.

Referring to the play, Miss Hood states, "Our play is one that will keep any audience interested. It has proved successful in many cities and we hope to insure such success here by producing a play that will be perfect in every detail. "The Flapper Grandmother" portrays character and caricatures. It tends to show the vanity of all people, be they young or old."

The story centers about an old grandmother who inherits a huge sum of money. She, accepting the advice of friends abroad, goes to Paris in order that she may have her facial characteristics rejuvenated. Returning home, all the "boys" fall in love with her, and so the thread of the story goes.

The cast is mostly made up of college students, and is as follows: Andrew Spriggins, Vernon Geddy; Mat Spriggins, Pocahontas Holmes; Lena Spriggins, "Pat" Riley; Belindy Spriggins, "Chippy" Barrow; Maggie Pepper, Margaret Bowen; Dick Tate, Billy Bozarth; Jimmy Swift, "Shorty" Hastings; Bobby Smith and Count Seekem Rich, Russell Liverman; Dr. Joy, "Doc" Turnbull; Rastus Jones, "Chris" Timberlake; Lilly White, Julian Chandler.

Besides these main characters, there are six matrons, eight flappers, four "jelly-beans," an elf, and numerous children.

HOME ECONOMICS TEA

Last Friday afternoon, the Misses Leone Reeves, Martha Holliday, and Lillian Cummings, of the Home Economics Department, were hostesses to all the girls in the Home Economics classes at an informal tea at the Practice House. From all reports the best description of the tea would be the conventional phrase of small-town style, "A good time was had by all." No more need be said.

HARRIERS LOSE FOR FIRST TIME

University of Maryland Cross-Country Team Hands Indian Runners First Defeat of Season by 19 to 36

Crippled by the absence of Captain Hudson, and of the freshmen members of the squad, William and Mary's cross country team suffered the first defeat of the season Saturday when the University of Maryland triumphed over them, 19 to 36. Neuman, Maryland's captain, was the first man to cross the finish line, his time being twenty minutes and thirty seconds.

Gresham, crack W. and M. man crossed the tape third, while other Indians placed sixth, eighth, ninth and tenth.

Saturday's results brought the local harriers' points to 80 while 150 have been scored by their opponents. The men finished in the following order: Neuman (U of M), Hill (U of M); Gresham (W&M), Gadd (U of M) Caplan (W&M), Whiteford (U of M), King (W&M), Arranow (W&M), Hainie (W&M).

Blue Ridge Conference Discussed by Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. held its weekly meeting in chapel Thursday night. A very interesting program had been worked out in which those girls who had attended Blue Ridge Conference last summer, took part. The time and setting was a night in the cottage at Blue Ridge just before bedtime. The girls were telling their varied experiences of the day.

The purpose of the program was to put across the idea of the delights, amusements, and the spiritual as well as practical and social benefits received upon spending six weeks at the Blue Ridge Conference.

CHI DELTA PHI

Chi Delta Phi, the girls' honorary literary sorority, held its initiation and banquet on Tuesday, November 2, at the Waverly Tea Room. The initiation was held at six, and a very formal and sumptuous banquet followed at eight o'clock. Miss Minnie Rob Phaup, the president, announces the following initiates: Miss Carolyn Borders, Miss Margaret Bowen, and Miss Constance Jamieson.

No other cigarette ever had so many millions of friends

WHEREVER you travel, by sea or by land, in places of work or palaces of pleasure, you find the friends of Camel. And since the art of increasing life's comfort through smoking was discovered, no other cigarette ever made and kept so many friends.

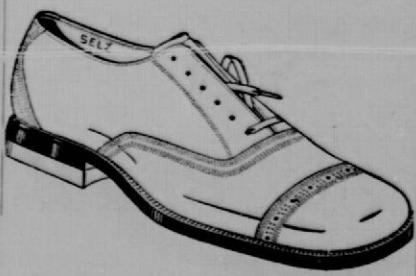

Why does Camel lead the world? Because only the choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos are bought for Camels. Because Camel is given a blending that, regardless of price, can be found in no other cigarette. Because the world's largest tobacco organization spares neither cost nor effort to make Camel the utmost in cigarettes.

Camel rewards its friends with never-ending peace and satisfaction. Through the day and into the night, it's simply impossible to smoke enough Camels to tire the taste. We invite you to answer, now, the world's most popular smoke invitation—Have a Camel!

for the occasion. Immediately after the address, the fraternity will adjourn to the Y. M. C. A. room where the formal initiation will take place. An informal reception will be held immediately after the formal ceremony.

Omicron Delta Kappa, founded at Washington and Lee in 1914, now has nineteen circles at some of the leading institutions of the country. Its purpose is to bring together in one body the leading men of the campus represented in the various fields of scholarship, athletics, publications, social activities, and other non-athletic activities. Every man elected must possess certain specified standing before he is eligible to election. Only Juniors and Seniors can be elected, which makes the honor even more coveted. O. D. K. is also an active organization on the campus, taking the lead in many of the recognized movements for the good and progress of the college. Each circle numbers among its members, several active faculty members, as well as associate and honorary members.

William and Mary entertained the last national convention of O. D. K. at which Professor A. G. Williams, Head of the Modern Languages Department, was elected National President of the Fraternity.

Active Members, Dr. W. A. Hamilton, Dr. J. R. Geiger, Mr. J. Wilder Tasker, Mr. A. E. Nilsson, Herbert L. Ganter, Henry B. Frazier, Lee B. Todd, M. Carl Andrews, Art Matsu, and Fairfax M. Berkeley.

Whitehall Society Gives Very Interesting Program

Whitehall Literary Society held its regular meeting last Friday night in chapel, the program consisting of a seance in which three William and Mary students called up the spirit of Dr. James Blair to ask his advice about literary societies. Dr. Blair, impersonated by Miss Laura Colvin, gave the desired advice and also told some interesting experiences that he had when he was president of William and Mary over 200 years ago.

After the program there were devotionals led by Miss Virginia Harper and reading of the minutes by the secretary.

TEN ELECTED TO PHI DELTA GAMMA

Douglas Mitchell is President of the Phoenix Society. Donald Van Worman is Associate Editor of the Flat Hat and Literary Magazine and a member of the Philomathean society.

Fairfax Berkeley, in addition to his work on the Literary Magazine for the past three years, has been an outstanding figure in the dramatic life of the college and has played many leading roles. Wilfred Lambert and Allan Cook are both active members of literary societies and speakers of note.

Phi Delta Gamma is a National fraternity for the recognition of attainment in forensics, dramatics and literary work, numbering among its members at William and Mary most of the outstanding men in these fields of endeavor.

Coach Chandler has stated that all members of the squad will make the trip to the Spider College and will participate in the meet.

On the following Saturday the Indian harriers will meet the cross-country squad from the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md.

SOCIETIES WILL USE FORUM PLAN

the advantages of the plan before they definitely accept it, the members of Phi Delta Gamma will take charge of the first meeting in December, and personally conduct it. If the meeting is deemed a success by the two societies, it will be accepted and will be held every other Friday. The plan is similar to that used in the Oxford Union, the most famous debating society in the world.

Seven New Members Are Initiated by E. B. Club

The chief feature of the Edith Baer Club program last Wednesday evening was the initiation of seven new members. Those awarded the green and gold ribbons at this meeting are Dorothy Chalkley, Eliza Hunter, Katherine Watson, V. Elizabeth Duke, Virginia Bundy, Alice Crutchfield, and Mildred Dudley. The Edith Baer Club scholarship was presented at this time to Page Drinker for taking the most prominent part in college activities and having the highest scholastic average. Then followed a social hour during which refreshments were served.

The officers of the club for this year are Grace Miller, president, Madeline Walton, Vice-President, Julia Sanders, treasurer, and Oleta Martin, secretary.
