Rock 'n Rollers All

Soleau, Westlake and Davis Cast in Leads For 'Bye Bye'

From 126 students who auditioned, a cast of 41 has been selected for the Backdrop Club's spring production of Bye Bye Birdie. Denny Bing will direct the play to be presented May 16, 17 and 18 at Phi Beta Kappa Hall.

In the title role of "rock and roll" star Conrad Birdie will be Bob Soleau. Richard Westlake will play Albert Peterson, his manager. Judy Davis is to portray Albert's sweetheart-secretary, Rosie. Sharon Bieler has been cast as Mae Peterson, Albert's mother.

Harry MacAffee will be played by Bob Gaines, Mrs. MacAffee by Sue Ronner, and their daughter, Kim, by Marie Fridenstine. Ed Johnson is Hugo; Tom Ward, the Mayor; Cathy Day, Mayor's wife; Marsha Ballard, Gloria Rasputin; and Bobbie Mulcahey, Ursula Merkle. Rosalee Johnson will portray Mrs. Merkle, and Randy Fazar, the conductor.

In the chorus of teen-age girls are Judy Hein, Libby Gebhardt, Beth Via, Freddie Dudley, Charlotte Edmonds, Susan Romans, Penny Plummer, Katie O'Hara, Claudia Tucker, Julie Watkins and Nino Allen.

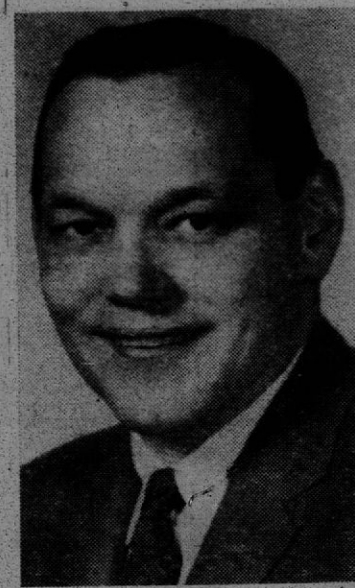

Joe Gunnels, John Sadler, Tom Baker, Bob Mullis, Bill Collins, Dick Ascoli, and John Kirkpatrick compose the chorus of teen-age boys.

Others in the cast include Ursula Riddick, Betty Smith, Nancy Combs, George Dupuy, Richard Shepard, Keith Taylor, Elvin Byler, Tom Haley and Gary Andres.

Director Bing announced at short cast meeting for Monday, March 18 at 7 p. m. in Ewell 200.

Bye Bye Birdie satirizes the rock 'n roll craze of the 1950's, and it concerns one guitar-strumming hero named Conrad Birdie.

Taft to Speak on Politics At YR Confab Tomorrow

Taft

Robert Taft, Jr., representative-at-large from Ohio will speak tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in Phi Beta Kappa Hall. The topic of the public lecture will be "A Study of Contemporary American Politics."

Representative Taft, son of the late Sen. Robert Taft, was first elected to Congress in 1962. At present there is considerable talk that he will run for his father's former seat in the Senate in 1964.

In Williamsburg as the guest of the Young Republicans Region III Convention which is being held this weekend, his appearance Saturday morning is being sponsored by the William and Mary Young Republicans. Because the William and Mary Young Republicans feel that Taft's speech will be of general interest, his lecture will be open to the public.

Attending the Region III convention will be representatives from college Young Republicans in Maryland, District of Columbia, Kentucky and West Virginia. All of the convention activities are being conducted at the Motor House with the exception of Taft's public lecture at

Ballet to Jazz: '63-'64 Series

THREE ATTRACTIONS OF 1963-64 CONCERT SERIES

BY GRETCHEN VAN DYCK

Grace Bumbry, mezzo-soprano; John Browning, pianist; the National Ballet of Canada; the Fine Arts Quartet; and Charlie Byrd and his Trio—this is the line-up of events for the 1963-64 William and Mary Concert Series. Dr. C. R. Dolmetsch announced this week.

Patrons will have the choice of subscribing for all five at $10.00, or only for the first four at $8.50.

The fifth and final event in next year's Series, unavailable in subscription, without the others, will be a jazz concert by The Charlie Byrd Trio. Apr. 10, 1964, Byrd, noted guitarist, and his trio will play a wide repertory ranging from J. S. Bach to Bossa Nova.

Next season's opera, Grace Bumbry, is a 28-year-old Negro from St. Louis who created a sensation last year and this in the major opera houses of Europe and who will appear here on Oct. 23, 1963.

She made her American debut at the White House before President and Mrs. Kennedy in Jan., 1962, and has since won unanimous acclaim in a coast-to-coast tour, and as the first American of her race to perform lead roles at the famed Wagner Festival in Bayreuth, Germany.

John Browning's program at the College on Nov. 22 will precede by three days his appearance as soloist with the Richmond Symphony.

This young (28-year-old) American has won every major musical competition in the U.S. and Western Europe and is recognized as one of the foremost virtuosi of what Life Magazine last September called "The Take-Over Generation," in which they included him.

On Feb. 14, 1964, the National Ballet of Canada will be the first full-fledged ballet company (and it is one of the three leading troupes in the world) to appear on the stage of Phi Beta Kappa Hall.

With renowned principal dancers (Julie Smith, David Adams, Galina Samsova, Earl Krauß) and David Scott, corps de ballet, pit orchestra and full staging, the Canadian ballet will provide an evening of dances from its wide repertory, which includes classics as well as modern dance works.

The Fine Arts Quartet, which will perform here on Mar. 20, 1964, has been chosen by the State Department for the past two seasons, as it will be again next year, to be one of our "musical ambassadors" groups to Europe and the Soviet Union.

Started in Chicago in 1957, this string ensemble, composed of Serkin and Sopkin, violins; and Tiner and Loft, viola and cello, have forged for

Colonial Echo

The Colonial Echo will be distributed during the middle of May this year.

This Echo is the first in years to meet the publisher's deadline. The Rosinke Engraving Company announced that the William and Mary yearbook was the second to send all the material needed and would have been the first if two pictures had not been delayed. After the engraving is finished, the Colonial Echo will be sent to the Stone Printing and Manufacturing Company where the annual will be completed.

Young English Prof Promising as Writer, Basketballer, TJ Alumnus

As Dabney Stewart, who might easily be mistaken for one of our law school students, leaned back in his chair and answered the interview questions, this reporter became increasingly convinced that he was deserving of the kicker attached above this headline.

A native of Virginia and an alumnus of Thomas Jefferson High School in Richmond, Stuart did his undergraduate work at Davidson College. After his sophomore year, he spent a month walking through the Lake Country of England "just talking to people and eating cheese and bread from knapsack, and sometimes nothing."

cr; presently he sports an eight point average on an intramural basketball team called "The Team."

"I'm much more excited about this year's crop of students," he noted. "They seem to be less satisfied with generalizations and a surface treatment of things. This makes my job more rewarding."

After getting his M.A. from Harvard in '61, he came to William and Mary to teach introductory English courses. However, he supplements this dual role of teacher and writ-

As far as finding subjects for his poetry, Stuart paraphrased Winnie the Pooh in that one can't make plans for poetry; one has to leave it up to poetry and not to himself.

Second in Series

Recently, he was one of four W&M professors to receive the Willett research grant — to finish a book length collection of poems during this summer. The book, which will be entitled "The Fair," will be composed of individual poems linked by a theme of walking down a midway. Students might already be acquainted with his writing through reading Synthesis, the pick-up poetry pamphlet to which he contributes.

On May 1st, Dr. Jenkins, Mr. French and he will take part in a faculty poets' recital in the Campus Center Ballroom.

FELLOWSHIP FINALISTS

Three William and Mary seniors have been elected as Woodrow Wilson Fellows for the 1963-64 school year. They are philosophy majors Raymond G. Frey and Valerie J. Simms, and economics major Stephen S. Skjel.

Karen P. Stenbo, senior sociology major from Harrison, N. Y., and Joan Lee, senior philosophy major from Williamsburg, received honorable mention in the competition.

Financed by grants from the Ford Foundation, the fellowships cover tuition and fees for the first year at the graduate school of the Fellow's choice, plus a stipend of $1500 and dependency allowances. The Fellows were chosen as "good bets" for college teaching but there is no firm commitment to teaching according to the foundation president, Sir Hugh Taylor.

Frey is from Norfolk and is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, honorary fraternity, Pi Delta Phi, the Philosophy Club, the Christian Science Organization, the Student Religious Union and the Pre-Legal Society. Frey plans to study ethics of some sort in graduate school and then attend law school.

Val Simms from Springfield holds the Mary Minor Light-foot Scholarship from the college. She is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Marmettes, Women's Dorm Association and the Philosophy Club. She is president of Clearing Forum and Barrett dormitory. Some phase of philosophy will be her study in graduate school.

Steve Skjel, who has been also named the next Draper scholar, is from Norfolk and a member of Eta Sigma Phi, honorary classics fraternity, and Sigma Phi Epsilon, social fraternity.

Crowning of the Battalion Queen To Highlight Annual Military Ball

All over campus Cadets are polishing brass and shoes to a mirrored finish and adding last minute touches to ribbons and medals.

All this preparation is being made for the annual Military Ball that will be held this evening in the Campus Center from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m.

During the evening the Cadets and their dates will dance to the quiet music of Howard Devron and his band in the ball room while other couples enjoy the rock 'n' roll music of Grant Reed and his combo in the lobby.

Highlighting the evening's entertainment will be the presentation of the Battalion Queen and her court. The girls who will be presented during the evening are Carolyn Birch, Cathy Carr, Marcia Compton, Jean Freeman, Laurette Harvey, Leslie McAneny and Maynard Williams.

The girl who is crowned queen this evening will represent the ROTC Battalion while the remaining six girls will each represent one of the companies.

Escorting the Queen down the guard of honor, formed by the Queen's Guard, will be Cadet Col. Tom Richardson. Each Company Commander will escort the girl who will represent his company. Lt. Col. Thomas Duke, PMS of the College, will crown the Queen.

Chairman for the Military Ball this year is Bob Butler. Assisting him are Doug Berryman and Jim Bennett.

South Americans Visit; See W&M College Life

Nine South Americans under the sponsorship of the Experiment in International Living will arrive on campus this Sunday.

The four women and five men in the group range in ages from 18 to 34. The experimenters will spend two weeks on campus visiting the restored area, participating in activities and attending classes.

Five members of the group are high school students: Jorge Belloio, Francisca Cerda, Eduardo Lizama, Luis Bernstein and Aquiles Acosta. Another of the Latins, Margarita Castaner, is an industrial designer for a textile manufacturer in Santiago, Chile. Sonia Castro is a librarian in the University of Chile.

From Concepcion, Chile is Margarita Belmar who is the secretary for the Engineering Department of Acero del Pacifico. Perdre Munoz who also comes from Santiago is a surgeon.

All of the South Americans are from Chile with the exception of Bernstein who makes his home in Buenos Aires, Argentina.

Although they are not all college students they will be housed in the dorm and eat in the cafeteria to get a better idea of American College life while they are here.

Summer Jobs

C&P Telephone Co. will be interviewing junior class men for summer employment on Tuesday and Wednesday. Anyone interested please sign up with Mr. Bright's office.

A Social System

It has been at least two decades since William and Mary was recognized as one of the top social campuses in America. Granted, the loss of such a dubious distinction has its definite merits, but along with the loss of this distinction the student body has lost the advantage of one aspect of college life. We would be foolish not to acknowledge that the main purpose of the college is academic, but just as concerts, lectures and outside activities add to a general broadening of the college experience so too does a social system accent the academic flavor.

In effect, there are now only two big weekends a year sponsored by the college and open to the entire student body. Shortly after the close of World War II a Mid-winter formal dance was scrapped because of poor attendance and the lack of financial backing to put on anything near the present Spring Finals. For a time the Military Ball replaced the need for the mid-term break, but now through a desire to develop a corps unity and a need for space, the ROTC Department has decided to close the dance to non-corps members. We do not question the right of ROTC to restrict their dance, because it is their function, but the fact remains that there is now a noticeable gap in the social calendar between October and May. The obvious conclusion would probably be the re-establishment of the Mid-winter formal. Although such a dance would not interfere with the Military Ball, we feel that it is best for the Dance Committee to expend their efforts and funds to strengthen Homecoming and Spring Finals. We do not advocate such a risky measure as the re-establishment of Mid-winters, but in light of a lack of social activities between October and May, we do advocate what we call a social system.

The social system would simply be a monthly dance with a combo in the ballroom of the Campus Center. Such a dance could easily be coordinated by the Campus Center and could be financed by charging a nominal admission fee at the door. The obvious need here is for those who have no Greek affiliation, for without it there is virtually nothing offered by the town of Williamsburg. True, the fraternities are open to those who wish to visit them, but they are suffering from a growing space problem and it is hardly fair to ask the fraternities to foot the bill for a campus social calendar. We feel that a social system set up under the auspices of the Campus Center would gain support from those who are looking for a place to go.

In essence what we want is a strengthening of Homecoming along with the now popular Spring Finals and the establishment of a social system which would co-exist with the Greek activities.

Welcome Delegates

Region III, of College Young Republicans across the country, is composed of four states and the District of Columbia. This weekend delegates from these four states and the District—some 300 strong—are in Williamsburg for their annual convention.

We welcome the delegates, and are glad that they have come, for they bring with them an opportunity for William and Mary students to see first hand how Republican politics or, more accurately, politics in general operates. They also bring with them top flight political figures—like Congressmen Robert Taft, Edward Gurney of Florida and Catherine May of Washington. And they bring the verve of a real political convention, the likes of which very many of us at William and Mary have neither seen nor may ever have the opportunity to see again.

The W&M Young Republicans have extended an invitation to all members of the College community to come out to the convention this weekend and look around; they will be in a suite at the Motor House (rooms #1 and 2) and will be prepared to guide visitors around.

We hope that members of the College community (be they Republicans or Democrats) will go to Phi Beta Kappa tomorrow morning and to the Motor House this weekend, and take a look at politics in action. The Region III Convention brings a singular opportunity to study politics to Williamsburg and the College.

Discusses WDA

To the Editor:
In reference to the proposed constitutional change of the Women's Dormitory Association concerning the election of dormitory officers, there are several difficulties which may arise. As is stated in Article VII, Section 2, dormitory officers are elected in the spring for the following year. According to the proposed amendment concerning this section, the Vice-President and Secretary-Treasurer would be elected in the fall of the year in which they would serve.

We feel this would result in unnecessary confusion at the beginning of the year as there are numerous tasks which must be performed by the officers at this time. If the Vice-President and the Secretary-Treasurer were elected in the fall, they would have to be instructed in their duties by the House President who already has a heavy burden of her own.

Under the present system each newly-elected officer is aided in performing her duties by the out-going officers in the spring.

It is also desirable for efficient management of the dormitory that these officers have resided in their respective residence halls for the previous year as each dormitory has its own regulations.

This does not mean that the women students new to the dormitory will not have an opportunity to hold an office in the dormitory. The Hall Proctors are elected in the fall and serve on the House Council.

Sincerely yours,
Chandler Dormitory Officers

Phyllis Rightmire, Secretary-Treasurer

MARKING ON THE CURVE—AND WHAT TO DO ABOUT IT

Twonkey Crimscoot was a professor. Choate Sigafos was a sophomore. Twonkey Crimscoot was keen, cold, brilliant. Choate Sigafos was loose, vague, adenoidal. Twonkey Crimscoot believed in diligence, discipline, and marking on the curve. Choate Sigafos believed in elves, Julie London, and thirteen hours of sleep each night.

Yet there came a time when Twonkey Crimscoot—mentor, sage, and savant—was thoroughly outthought, outfoxed, outmaneuvered, outplayed, and outwitted by Choate Sigafos, sophomore.

"You and your ideas!"

It happened one day when Choate was at the library studying for one of Mr. Crimscoot's exams in sociology. Mr. Crimscoot's exams were murder—plain, flat murder. They consisted of one hundred questions, each question having four possible answers—A, B, C, and D. You had to check the correct answer, but the trouble was that the four choices were so subtly shaded, so intricately worded, that students more clever by far than Choate Sigafos were often set to gibbering.

So on this day Choate sat in the library poring over his sociology text, his tiny brow furrowed with concentration, while all around him sat the other members of the sociology class, every one studying like crazy, every one scared and pasty, every one looking sadly at their stricken faces. "What a waste!" he thought. "All this youth, this verve, this bounce, chained to dusty books in a dusty library! We should be out singing and dancing and cutting didoes on the greensward! Instead we are here."

Then, suddenly, an absolute gasser of an idea hit Choate. "Listen!" he shouted to his classmates. "Tomorrow when we take the exam, let's all—every one of us—check Choice 'A' on every question—every one of them."

"Huh," said his classmates.
 "Oh, I know that Choice 'A' can't be the right answer to every question," said Choate. "But what's the difference? Mr. Crimscoot marks on the curve. If we all check the same answers, then we all get the same score, and everybody in the class gets a 'C.'"

"Huh," said his classmates.
 "So why should we knock ourselves out studying?" said Choate. "Let's get out of here and have a ball!"

So they all ran out and lit Marlboro Cigarettes and had a ball, as indeed, you will too when you light a Marlboro, for if there ever was a cigarette to lift the spirit and gladden the heart, to dispel the shades of night, to knot up the ravelled sleeve of care, to put spring in your gait and roses in your cheeks, it is filtered Marlboros—firm and pure and fragrant and filled with rich, natural, golden tobacco. And, what's more, this darlin' smoke comes in soft packs that are actually soft and flip-top boxes that actually flip.

Well, sir, the next morning the whole class did what Choate said, and, sure enough, they all got 'C's, and they picked Choate up and carried him on their shoulders and sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" and plied him with sweetmeats and Marlboros and girls and put on buttons which said "I DOTE ON CHOATE."

But they were celebrating too soon. Because the next time shrewd old Mr. Crimscoot gave them a test, he did not give them one hundred multiple choice questions. He only gave them one question—to wit: write a 30,000 word essay on "Crime Does Not Pay."

"You and your ideas," they said to Choate and tore off his epaulets and broke his sword and drummed him out of the school. Today, a broken man, he earns a living as a camshaft in Toledo.

At the top of the curve of smoking pleasure, you'll find Marlboro Cigarettes, available at every tobacco counter in all fifty States of the Union.

ROTC's Scabbard and Blade Celebrates Units' Anniversary

This weekend the William and Mary chapter of Scabbard and Blade will celebrate with the 160 Scabbard and Blade chapters across the nation the 58th anniversary of the Society's founding. Scabbard and Blade is a national military honor society for students enrolled in the ROTC.

Dedicated to preserving and developing "the essential qualities of good and efficient officers" and to spreading "intelligent information concerning the military requirements of our country," the 14-year-old William and Mary Scabbard and Blade chapter, Company K of the Eighth Regiment, will mark its founding day this Sunday. The date of the Society's founding, Mar. 17, has been named Scabbard and Blade Day.

The William and Mary Chapter of Scabbard and Blade is more than an honor society. Its members, chosen from the upper half of their Advanced ROTC class, work with the juniors in the Corps, training them for summer camp and for the positions of leadership in the Corps which they will assume as seniors.

This spring, members of Scabbard and Blade will demonstrate the firing of the M-1 rifle to the juniors.

The juniors will also go to Ft. Eustis under the tutelage of the Scabbard and Blade members, where they will receive a general orientation to post life.

Later in the spring the juniors will go on an overnight problem which Scabbard and Blade will supervise. This problem will allow the juniors to apply a little of what they have been learning in their classes.

This year Scabbard and Blade is composed of twelve members of the senior ROTC class.

Under the advisorship of Maj. James M. Clark of the Quartermaster Corps, the William and Mary chapter of Scabbard and Blade is this year commanded by Cadet Lt. Col. Tom Richardson.

Student of the Week

Marilyn Sterner

Dancer Sterner in Spotlight; Serves in Numerous Activities

BY JODI RUSSELL

In the spotlight this week is senior Marilyn Sterner, a Gamma Phi Beta from East Stroudsburg, Pa.

Having served as head sponsor during the 1961-62 school term, Marilyn numbers among the many activities in which she has taken part during her four years at William and Mary the vice-presidency of Alpha Lambda Delta, membership in Mortar Board — of which she is treasurer, the secretary-treasurership of Phi Alpha Theta honorary history fraternity, and the presidency of Orchesis.

Trained in dancing since she was a young child, Marilyn has studied modern forms since her sophomore year in high school.

She is primarily interested in "exploring archaic and primitive (pre-classic) forms in modern dance" and hopes to continue her studies at the Louis Horst Studios in New York after graduation.

Of the Orchesis recital to be held on Mar. 27 and 28, Marilyn says that the girls have been working exceptionally hard and that the audience can expect to see a good variety among the compositions.

The show will be divided into two sections: a short lecture-demonstration, aimed at increasing the audience's understanding of the compositions to follow, and the dances themselves.

The former portion will include a rehearsal scene and a technique demonstration to point out some of the elements in the making of a dance.

Marilyn's own selection is entitled "The Hardships of Winter" and will depict winter toils as contrasted with the joys of spring.

Marilyn's particular scholastic interest is history — primarily that dealing with the political and diplomatic development of Russia and the Balkans — and to aid her studies she is also learning the Russian language. She hopes, someday, to do graduate work in this area.

More immediate plans for the future, however, include marriage on June 29 to Don Keat, a graduate student in psychology at Columbia University.

WDA to Vote Changes

Voting for Women's Dormitory Association constitutional changes proposed at the last meeting will be held Monday, Mar. 24.

The articles to be voted upon include Article VII (A) which requires that candidates for the office of president and vice-president shall have served for a year as a member of the Dormitory Council or of the individual house councils in order to run for office.

Under the proposed change the offices will require only a scholastic qualification. Also the new president and vice-president will be given a list of rules which provide automatic penalties, regulations and the past records of the judicial council.

A period of two months will be allowed for the training of the new officers.

The proposals call for Article VII (B), which states that nominations for offices will be taken from the floor in individual house meetings, to be changed so that those interested in running will petition for the office.

Petitioning will begin two weeks prior to the election primaries and will end one week before the primary. All petitions will be approved by both the Dormitory Council and the Faculty Advisory Committee.

Article V section 2, which requires that the president and vice president live in Landrum Barrett or Chandler during the fall and spring following their election, would be changed so that there would be no restrictions on where the officers live.

The final proposed change deals with Article VII section 2 (A) which requires that House Council elections shall immediately follow elections of the Dormitory Council.

Under the proposed change only the presidents of the dorms would be elected the spring of the year before they are to hold office. This change was suggested because so many of the girls voting will not be in that dorm the next year and therefore, the officers are not a true representation of the girls who will live there the following year.

In order to be valid these suggested changes must be passed by two-thirds of the women students.

All girls are reminded to pay their WDA dues which were due on Mar. 12. Also girls must see their hall directors to notify them whether they attended the last meeting. This is a $5.00 fine for missing the meeting.

"If I had it to do over again, would I take Army R.O.T.C.?"

Look at it this way. I like the idea of doing challenging work. That's why I volunteered for Special Forces. So you can see why I felt pretty good when the Army assigned me to Europe! Here I really feel I'm doing something for the cause of my country in these important times. How many jobs can you think of that start you off with this kind of responsibility? My wife's here, too, and she loves it. We get a chance to travel. We meet the people, learn new languages, customs. And there's a pretty active social life on post, too. But above all, I'm an officer with a job to do and with responsibilities to shoulder. I like it that way, and I have a hunch that my leadership training and experience will help me out whatever I do. Take it from me, if you're already half-way towards your commission, see it through. It's a good deal. I know."

Experienced Indians Seek Improved Diamond Results

By GARY CHOCKLETT

According to Varsity Baseball Coach Joe Agee, William and Mary fans can expect to see a vastly improved squad on the diamond this spring.

Agee emphasized that the mental attitude of the team is all important. The desire to win is, thus far, a part of the team and the effort put forth has been good.

The Indian baseballers have had organized workouts for a week now — most started tossing a ball two weeks before practice began.

The Tribe will face their opponents with much the same team as last year. Only four players will not be returning. This experienced squad should better the unimpressive 4-12 record of last year.

Giving the team an added boost will be a collection of six, maybe more, sophomores from last year's frosh squad. Infielders Jeff Nickel and Mike Sopchak can expect to see varsity action along with catcher Kenny Williams.

Yerkes Addition

Tom Yerkes and Sam Miller are counted upon to strengthen the outfield. The only addition to the mound staff at the moment is John McCarthy.

Coach Agee stated that with the sophomores and veterans the Indians should "keep their heads above water" at most positions.

Catching is by far the brightest spot on the team. Last year's receiver Roger Hardy and Williams are both dependable ball players.

The other half of the battery will depend on veterans John Findlay, Bob Sizemore and Irish O'Hara. These three, who compiled an earned run average of 3.25 last year, are expected to carry most of the load. Jim Hunter and Roger Miller round out the pitching department, where definite improvement is expected this year.

Defense Improving

Last year's poor showing by the Indians can be attributed to a large extent to 78 walks allowed by the pitching staff and over 60 errors committed in fielding. More experienced moundsmen and a greater team effort should correct this.

In an effort to work out any problems that might arise, squad members are relinquishing part of their Spring Vacation to play several non-league games in North Carolina before their conference opener on April 6 at Davidson.

Southern Conference baseball, always tough as far as the Indians are concerned, will be so again this year. Conference leaders West Virginia and Richmond will not be as strong as last year, but will be formidable. George Washington and VPI will be improved.

If anyone is interested in playing baseball who did not attend the meeting Wednesday night, he is urged to contact Coach Joe Agee as soon as possible.

Cricket Team Begins Practice; Slates Tryouts

Spring cricket practice began Wednesday for returning team members. Practice for those men interested in trying out for the William and Mary Cricket Team will be held Monday on the Women's Athletic Field at 3 p. m.

All interested men should report at that time. No previous experience in cricket is necessary.

With a full schedule of five games the cricket team hopes to finish with a perfect winning season. Contributing to this season's expected success will be the batting of Chris Reiss and Dave MacDougal, and the bowling of Reiss, MacDougal, and Tom Kirkup.

Other returning players and part of the team's strong fielding team are Bill Thach, Jay Rivest, Jerry Saunders, Lloyd Stableford, Bob Audley and John Tudor. Co-captains this year are John Gette and Gordon Pehrson. Field coach is Dave MacDougal.

All home games will be played on the Courthouse Green beginning at 1 p. m. Colonial Williamsburg has prepared what visiting players have called "the best pitch on the east coast" for W&M games. The games will be interrupted only for the traditional "tea break" at Chowning's.

The schedule of games for 1963 is as follows: Apr. 13, Home vs. University of North Carolina; Apr. 21 - Washington vs. British Commonwealth Cricket Club; Apr. 27 - Home, vs. Chesapeake Casual Cricket Club; Apr. 28 - Home vs. British Commonwealth Club; May 5 - Home vs. British Commonwealth Cricket Club.

Squaws Finish Season; Clobber Swarthmore

BY CAROL ANNE WYLIE

William and Mary women's basketball team posted a 55-32 victory in their final game of the year Saturday at Swarthmore College.

An unusual predicament caused the game to be played for one half under the new rules, with the roving player, and the other half under old rules with stationary guards. It was a close game until the fourth quarter when Lynda Walker and Cam Buchanan each scored eight points.

The essentially tight defense presented by Swarthmore was broken down through the effective scoring of Cam who was high scorer for the Squaws with 23 points.

Lynda tallied 15 points and Mar-C Milona had nine for the Squaws. Other scorers were Judy Bryan with six and Betty Coffman and Beth Chiles with one point each.

Unfortunately luck wasn't with the JV's, as they lost 44-42. The JV's showing strong teamwork, led throughout the game until the last 10 seconds when Swarthmore got control of the ball and scored the winning basket as the whistle blew.

Neider added six points for the Squaws.

Also on the road trip last weekend, William and Mary received a 43-36 loss at the hands of Notre Dame of Maryland.

The Squaws lacked accuracy from both the floor and the foul line. Three players, Lynda Walker, Mar-C Milona, and Cam Buchanan, fouled out in the third and fourth quarters, forcing the use of some members of the JV team.

Lack Stamina

It was another close game, but William and Mary, lacking stamina and having poor ball control, was unable to overcome the lead established by Notre Dame in the first quarter.

This game again showed even scoring as Cam had 10 points, Lynda had nine and Mar-C had seven.

These games completed the basketball season and left the varsity with a record of 1-6 and the junior varsity with a 3-3 record. Next season however, looks good for the Squaws since all of this year's players will return.

Record Net Turnout Forecasts 'Victory'

BY STAN ROTHANBERG

March is just about the season for everything — and tennis is no exception. With the good weather, the courts have been mobbed by W&M tennis fans, and both the men's and women's tennis teams have had record turnouts of hopeful candidates.

Steve Parker, men's varsity captain has listed six returnees for this year's varsity netters. Returning with Parker are Chico Herrick, Jim Delaney, fresh graduates Mickey Taylor and Craig Carlson.

Dave Hunter is returning after a one-year absence. Other promising candidates for varsity playing are Doug Wood, Dave Thomas, Ed Wilmerding and Pete Richardson.

Like all pre-season optimists, Parker can visualize a high ranking team, and with the talent already displayed, he may not be far from wrong. Strong down the line Parker has hopes that numbers 4, 5 and 6 men will be as good as any in the SC.

Switching to the freshmen bracket, over 25 boys have shown up for tryouts. Although it is still early, six or seven candidates have appeared impressive. Among these are Allen White, Scott Hershey, Dennis Shea, Wally Bembenista, Dave Parker, Bill Berghaus and Delko Simpson.

Official Practice Soon

Official practice will begin Tuesday.

On the lighter side of tennis, Mrs. Elizabeth Barksdale, women's tennis coach, has named seven returnees for the women's division. Included are Elizabeth Hitchens, John Evans, Barbara Wampler, Sally Wells, Lynda Walker, Kevin Farley and Mary Ann Dalton.

The girls' junior varsity team is still being organized. According to Mrs. Barksdale, last year's team showed a greatly improved this season. The potential looks good and she also mentioned, "We have all good tennis players."

LOSING EFFORT

Henry George of the Kappa Sig basketball team, connects for two points against Theta Delt in Greek League action earlier this week. Following up, a possible miss are Dave Rogers (11), Arnie Jones (30) and Roger Miller (14). Theta Delt went on to win 41-40. (Bob Gatten Photo)

Theta Delt, PiKA Pace Frats In Intramural Cage Action

F-L-A-S-H

BY LLOYD STABLEFORD

Last night Theta Delt's surging basketball squad was able to contain an equally ardent PiKA contingent and thereby take over sole possession of first place in the Greek League. John Findlay's 22 points paced the streaking Delt's to the 45-41 victory. The Delt's, with two games remaining, are now 8-0, while PiKA falls to a 6-1 mark.

Findlay broke a 24-24 tie with five seconds remaining in the second period, and from then on Theta Delt was not to be denied: PiKA came from seven points down to close the gap with thirty seconds left, at 43-41, but, Findlay clinched the hard fought contest with successive free throws.

Dave Maytnier tallied 11 points in support of his team's victory. PiKA's Bob Sizemore and Tom Conners fired 10 markers apiece to head their squad.

As intramural basketball action moves into its final two weeks, four teams can boast unblemished records.

In the tri-divided leagues, Theta Delt (7-0) and PiKA (6-0) pace the fraternities; the Suave 5 (6-0), holds the Independent League lead, while the Faculty (7-0) controls the top spot in the dormitory division.

Kappa Sig (2-3) was the latest victim of Theta Delt, 41-40, even though Dan Driscoll bombed in 21 points. The winners were led by Dave Maytnier's 14 and Arnie Jones' 13 tallies.

PiKA kept its win streak going by besting Lambda Chi, 43-32. Bob Buckley was true with 15 markers for the former, while George Chappel shot for 12. The loss was the seventh for the winless Lambda Chi squad.

The Suave 5 belittled the Pikers (3-3), 67-43. Bill Lott of the winners topped all scorers with 23 points. The Faculty just got by Yates 1 (3-4), 62-59.

Don Engelken's 24 buckets and Charlie Woolum's 19 headed the winners. Bob Schoenhut and Andrew Jacobs topped the scoring for the losers with 18 and 17 points respectively.

Phi Tau (3-4) showed its potential as it picked up two successive victories. Sig Ep (4-3) fell 48-43, as Roger Hardy found the range for 17 and Mike Patterson dumped in 15 points for the victors. Jerry Ward had 18 and Mike Sopchak followed with 12. Sigma Nu was victim number two 59-34. Phil Van Kirk led all scoring with 20, while teammate Hardy had 13.

Swiggers Win

Other Independent results found the Whippers (5-1) shellacking the Misfits (0-6), 102-48. Fred Meyers zeroed in with 31 markers, supported by Steve Bishop, was good for 22. Jack Allison poured in 21 points for the hapless losers.

The Misfits also failed to win against the Kappa Swiggers (2-3), 49-35. Ash Woolridge was high for the victorious with 14 buckets, while Allison again was tops for the losers with 19.

Dick Hagan, Ralph Hancock and John Moyer all sank 15 points, as they led the Untouchables (2-3) to victory over the Theta Dunkers (0-6), 69-30. Dave Rector got 12 in the losing effort.

The Legal Beagles and the Knads (Yates, 2) each remained in contention for the Dormitory League crown with victories to place them in a second-place tie at 4-1.

The former stunned Brown-2 (2-4), 58-39. Johnston Brendle and Roland Dodson chalked up 13 and 12 points, respectively, for the winners. Jon Gabel pushed through 18 in the losing cause. The Knads credited their win over the Morris House Packers (2-4), 66-60.

Handball and Ping Pong conclude today with finals in both departments. Larry Paccatiello, of the Physical Education Dept., assured himself of a finals berth with a hand-

Sorority Circuit

The New Look

by Laura Youngblood

So that I won't waste another two hours wondering how to introduce this column's "new look" in deathless prose, I suppose I should tell you all the truth. I don't know what the "new look" looks like.

In previous years, Greek columns have been nothing more than a conglomeration of social notes and as such were accepted as valid gossip media. I do not propose to do away with this entirely, since I don't think anyone would read the column if I did, but I believe that there is a very real need for a Pan-Hellenic voice, an instrument through which Greek women can examine problems and voice opinions of interest to every sorority. There certainly has been enough talk about such topics as first semester rush and pros and cons of raising membership quotas to justify examining issues like these in print.

Obviously, the success of this column is up to you, fellow soror. I say this partly to excuse my lack of creativity, but mostly because I really mean it. Every sorority has a publicity chairman of some sort who is responsible for keeping me informed of your opinions and ideas as well as your social capers. Put her to work! This column's "new look" is going to be your creation.

Judy Liddle, Kappa, turned over the Pan-Hel gavel to Pi Phi Sue Roache, and Judy Moore, Phi Mu, stepped into the vice-president's shoes last Tuesday. The offices of secretary and treasurer will be filled by an Alpha Chi and a KD, neither of whom have been elected. Installed last Monday were Theta president Jo Anne Arnett and Gamma Phi's new gavel-wielder, Tricia Lee. Joey Krider of Kappa and KD's Susan Stitt will be installed on Monday, while Linda Lawrence has just been elected president of Chi O.

Faculty Concert

Dr. Andrew Haigh, Professor of Music, Emeritus, will give a concert at the Campus Center Ballroom Sunday at 4 p. m.

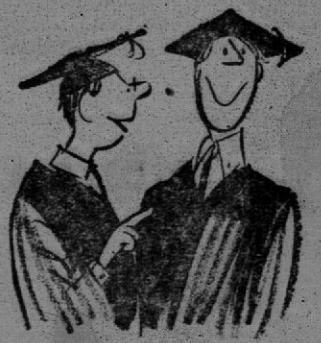

Dr. Haigh will play selections from Beethoven, Chopin, Bartok and several other well-known composers. The program, another in the series of faculty recitals, will be brief and informal, lasting 40 to 45 minutes.

Dr. Haigh, former head of the music department of William and Mary, retired in 1960 and now resides in Warrenton.

1. According to the Department of Labor, you're worth over $350,000 as soon as you get your sheepskin. That's theoretical, of course.

I didn't even know the Department was thinking about me.

2. The way they figure it, that $350,000 is how much the average college graduate will earn by the time he retires.

I'll take it right now in a lump sum. Would I live! Penthouse. Yacht. Homburg. The works.

3. As an Eco major, I feel obliged to tell you what would happen to that bundle. First, Uncle Sam would help himself to about 290 Cs. With the going rate for penthouses, your life's earnings would disappear in one year.

You've ruined my day.

4. Since you'd be only 22, you couldn't qualify for Social Security. You'd have to go back to your dad for an allowance.

I never could handle money.

5. Fortunately, there's a way out for you.

Tell me - tell me.

Well, you won't be getting all that money in one year. You'll be getting some of it each year, at a much lower tax rate. What you should do is put aside a certain amount of it.

6. Put some money into cash-value insurance, the kind they call Living Insurance at Equitable. It gives your wife and kids solid protection and it saves for you automatically - builds a cash fund you can use for retirement or any other purpose.

You Eco guys have all the answers.

Dr. Abbot Mainly Thinks Self Teacher; Feels 'Out of Water' With Quarterly

Abbot

BY DICK RUTHERFORD

Dr. William W. Abbot is an historian whose concern with the past is strongly oriented to the present.

Dr. Abbot, an Associate Professor of History here at the College, is editor of the William and Mary Quarterly, an historical journal published by the Institute of Early American History, which is sponsored by the College and Colonial Williamsburg.

Special Field

Since Dr. Abbot's special field of interest is early American or colonial history, he is uniquely fitted for his position with the Quarterly. "The Quarterly is concerned with the period of American history before 1815," Dr. Abbot said, "and it is one of the most distinguished historical journals in the world."

Dr. Abbot was born in Louisville, Ga. He did his undergraduate work at Davidson College and the University of Georgia. He received his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Duke University. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, World War II service as a naval officer and teaching assignments in public and private schools completed his training.

First coming to William and Mary in 1953, Dr. Abbot remained here until 1958, then took his sabbatical as visiting professor of history at Northwestern. Returning to William and Mary, he was here until 1961, when he went to Rice to edit the Journal of Southern History.

"I'm very attached to the school and to the Williamsburg area," Dr. Abbot said, "and I enjoy the combination of the teaching and editing posts, although I could hardly count journalism as one of my prime interests. I consider myself to be basically a teacher and an historian."

Dr. Abbot does not fit the conventional picture of an historian, surrounded with moldy tomes and crumbling papers. He sees the value of history as a matter of personal interest and pleasure.

"I refuse to argue the practical value of history. It is an academic discipline and should be of interest to the educated man. I would argue that the liberal arts curriculum is historical in orientation to a large degree — literature, sociology, philosophy."

Dr. Abbot is married and has two sons, ages four and two. His advice to young men? "Marry early, while you have the strength to cope with two such complex and vigorous beings."

Cesare Valletti to Perform For W&M's Concert Series

Cesare Valletti, leading tenor in opera houses on four continents, will be appearing on the Phi Beta Kappa Hall stage Friday evening, Mar. 22, at 8 p. m.

The native Roman is also internationally recognized as among the leading vocal recitalists of our day. He will be the last participant of this season's William and Mary Concert Series. There are approximately 70 single admission tickets on sale now at Schmidt's Music Shop for $2.50.

Having recently appeared in Washington's Constitution Hall, critic Paul Hume of the Washington Post says of this renowned tenor, "Cesare Valletti came to Constitution Hall yesterday afternoon to show us, and gloriously, that which we have long known of him only by reputation and through records and radio: that he is one of the supreme vocal artists of our time."

Continuing, Hume praises,

"His art is, for various reasons, unique in our time, and in certain aspects, unique in the history of song. Today Valletti is without equal in the sound of the pure Italianate lyric tenor 'di grazia.'"

"He produces every note in his extensive range with complete ease, so that its lowest tones emerge clear and solid while the top, wholly unforced, has a richness and round quality that marks the few perfect vocalists. On top of all this, however, are these musical insights and linguistic gifts that place him in a class completely his own."

From his wide repertory, Valletti and his accompanist, Leo Taubman, will perform the following program: "Where e're You Walk" and "Silent Worship," Handel; "La Violette" and "Chi vuole innamorarsi," A. Scarlatti; "Che Faro Senza Euridice" (from Orfeo ed Euridice), Gluck; "Auf dem wasser zu singen," "Nacht und Traume" and "Der Musensohn," Schubert; and "Il mio tesoro" (from Don Giovanni), Mozart.

Following the intermission, the Metropolitan tenor will continue with "Le Reve (from Manon), Massenet; Una furiva lagrima" (from L'Elisir d'Amore), Donizetti; "Tres Morillas," "Del caballo Mas Suro" and "El Vito," Obra-dors; "De mei bollenti spiriti" (from La Traviata, Act II), Verdi.

Visiting Scholar Holton To Lecture on Science

"Absolutism and Relativism in the Rise of Modern Science" will be the topic of discussion for Visiting Scholar Gerald Holton, Mar. 22, at 4 p. m. in the Campus Center.

Holton is professor of physics at Harvard University and editor of Daedalus, a journal of ideas published by the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

In the Sept. 12, 1962, issue of Life Magazine, the Visiting Scholar was chosen as one of the 100 Leading Young Americans of the "Take-Over Generation" (between the ages of 25 and 42).

The physicist was also honored in November, 1961, for distinguished service as a teacher and scholar by Wesleyan University and in January, 1962, he received a distinguished service citation from the American Association of Physics Teachers.

Besides his work as an educator Holton is the author of two widely used texts: Introduction to the Concepts and Theories in Physical Science (1952) and Foundations of Modern Physical Science (1958), as well as a text on Experimental Physics (1964). He is presently working on a monograph on the history of the special theory of relativity.

In his own research Dr. Holton studies ultrasonic propagation in materials under high pressure and the history and philosophy of physical science. During World War II he did research in physics for ISRD and for the Office of Naval Research.

The Austrian born scholar is a member of the Council of the New England Section of the American Physical Society and the Council of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. He is also affiliated with the National Commission on College Physics, which is developing a new physics curriculum stressing relativity and quantum theory.

Notes on the News

by Roger Swagler

JACKSON, MISS. — Reliable sources here indicate that Prime Minister Verwoerd of The Union of South Africa will not keep his scheduled speaking date at the University of Mississippi. Apparently, Verwoerd's race policies are too liberal for the tastes of Mississippi Legislators.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Jackie Kennedy, who has been featured in nearly every major U. S. magazine, has copped another honor. She will be Playboy's "Playmate of the Month" in April.

NEW YORK, N. Y. — The Society for the Indecency of Naked Animals has received a bitter setback. SINA's president was severely mauled when he attempted to put a pair of pantaloons on a Bengal tiger in the Bronx Zoo. Also, a movement is developing to clothe all SINA members — in strait jackets!

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIF. — At its annual awards dinner the John Birch Society announced that it had named William McKinley as man of the year. McKinley was not present to receive the award.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Freshman Senator Teddy Kennedy denied that he had broken a photographer's camera without provocation on a recent ski weekend in Vermont. Said Kennedy, "He accused me of using grassy kids stuff. If that isn't provocation, I don't know what is."

PARIS, FRANCE — President Charles DeGaulle denied accusations made by the head of the Christian Atheist Party that he was trying to be another Napoleon. "The only reason I had my hand inside my coat was because my ulcer was acting up," commented DeGaulle.

CHICAGO, ILL. — Mayor Daley of Chicago had this to say about the recent gangland murder of Democratic Alderman, Ben Lewis: "We've started our investigation of the matter by putting through a call to Eliot Ness."

BOSTON, MASS. — The "Protestants and Others for the Separation of Church and State" have come out against the inscription In God We Trust on American coins. As a substitute they proposed either Don't Tread on Me or Lunatics of the World Unite. The latter is the motto of the POSCS.

WILLIAMSBURG, VIRGINIA — The Board of Visitors of The College of William and Mary met today and announced that it had set a definite limit on the expansion of The College. The Board's statement read, "The College should not be too big, but big enough. That may mean making it bigger, but not too much bigger, for then it might be too big."

LISBON, PORTUGAL — President Salazar answered his critics who said that Portuguese colonial policy was cruel and dictatorial. Said Salazar, "The natives in our colonies have as much freedom as do our citizens in Portugal."

Third Speaker At Symposium

"A Comparison and Contrast of the Economic System of Latin America and the United States" is the topic to be discussed by the Honorable Armistead Ingle Selden, Jr. at the Marshall-Wythe Symposium today, Washington 200, 4 p. m.

The Honorable Mr. Selden, Jr. is a Democratic representative to the House of Representatives from Alabama. He was first elected to the Alabama House of Representatives in 1950.

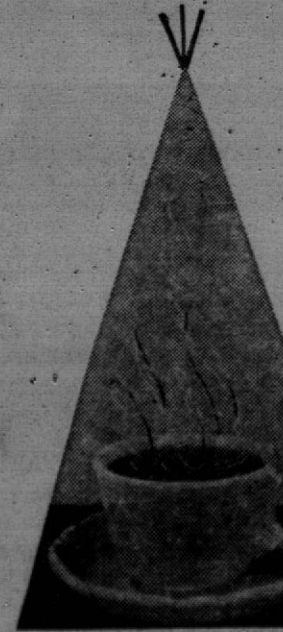

After being elected to the 83rd Congress in 1952, Mr. Selden was reelected to the 84th, 85th, 86th, and 87th Congresses. He is a member of the Committee of Foreign Affairs and chairman of the Inter-American Affairs Subcommittee.

Congressman Selden graduated from the University of the South in Seaford, Tenn., with an A.B. degree in 1942. Upon being discharged from the United States Navy with the rank of lieutenant in 1946, Mr. Selden entered the University of Alabama, where he received his LL.B. degree in 1948.

A lawyer by profession, Selden practiced in Greensboro, Ala., and is a member of the Alabama and American Bar Associations.

Other organizations to which Congressman Selden belongs are the Phi Delta Phi legal fraternity, the Blue Key and ODK leadership fraternities, Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity, and the American Legion.
