JOHN TIGERT WILL TALK TOO

Davis While Not Able to Come Himself is Sending Solicitor From Labor Department

Cabinet Members from the seat of the United States Government in Washington will join hands with the William and Mary faculty in propounding the rudiments of governmental instruction when the plans which have been underway for some time by the local Department of Political Science are finally realized. Several of the officials have already accepted the invitation of the College authorities to speak to the Norfolk Extension class in government, while others probably will be drawn to the fold by Dr. John Garland Pollard when he makes his trip to Washington in a few days to close negotiations.

The class which is to receive the benefit of this innovation in classroom procedure is that in United States Government conducted in Norfolk by Dr. G. W. Spicer. Dr. Spicer, on the opening of the class in October has been taking up the essentials of American government in much the same way as he does in his classes on the campus. He has been preparing his students, however, for the lectures that are to come in the heads of the National executive departments by taking up the essentials of the subject that will be especially touched upon by these speakers. Lectures conducted by the department heads will be ten in number, no one man delivering more than one lecture, and will pertain to the various departments which the extension class has its work. There are 22 students in Dr. Spicer's unusual course of college credit and 12 or 14 who are taking the class quite regularly. It is expected that during the series of lectures by the government men the

Series of Articles on Biology by G. Glenwood Clark of Local Journalism Department Now Appearing in Hindustani Magazine

"Tiny Toilers and Their Works," by G. Glenwood Clark, head of the Department of Journalism at the College of William and Mary is now appearing in the Indian Magazine Bhanudaya, published at Neemuch, Central India. The stories are written in Hindustani.

The articles were first written in English and appeared in book form first in 1921. The London edition of the same came out a year later.

Bhanudaya, which translated into English means "Sunrise" circulates in practically all the mission schools of India and is used as a supplementary text book in some of the schools. The translation was done by Rev. F. Kilbey of Wallshamstow of England. Rev. Kilbey for 27 years was a missionary of the United Canadian Church in Central India.

After the complete series has run in magazine form, it will be published as a book. The publication will take place in March or April of 1928 in all probability.

"Tiny Toilers and Their Works" is a series of short sketches dealing with domestic habits of spiders, ants and other highly developed forms of insect life. It might be better described as biology in every day language.

Mr. Clark, in addition to this book has written several under pen-names. He has also written for practically all of the writers' periodicals, such as Writers' Digest, Writers' Monthly, Author and Journalist, The Writer, etc. He has also contributed to every juvenile magazine in America with the exception of Youth's Companion and St. Nicholas.

MEMBERS WILL BE ELECTED BY STUDENTS SOON

Elections Will Take Place At Meetings of Student Bodies Which Occur Next Week

TO HANDLE ALL ACTIVITIES

Five Members Chosen Will Audit Books of Publications, Literary Societies and "Y's"

The Committee for auditing the books of all student activities which have a share in the "student activities fee" collected at the beginning of each semester by officials of the college as stated in the catalogue, will be elected at the next meeting of the Men's Student Body and the Women's Student Body. These meetings are scheduled to be held next week although no definite date has been set yet.

Each of the two student bodies will elect two members and the two jointly will elect one faculty member to sit on the committee. This is in line with the agreement made at the joint meeting of the two student bodies last week.

This committee will have the authority to audit all books of the three publications on the campus, the Y. W. C. A., the Y. M. C. A. and the literary societies. When the question was first opened the matter concerned only the Flat Hat, the Colonial Echo, the William and Mary Literary Magazine and the Y. W. C. A. but before the meeting closed the committee was given authority to handle all the activities which live off the activities fee.

This step was made necessary by action of President Chandler and the Board of Visitors, according to an announcement made by J. Allan Cooke at the meeting last week. "These officials," Mr. Cooke stated, "are not questioning the honesty of any of the activities, but thought it best for officials of the college and the student body to know how the money was spent and if there was any surplus to know where it went."

PARTY TO VISIT W. & M. COLLEGE

Itinerary in Honor of George Rogers Clarke Will Stop Here While On Peninsula

Williamsburg and the students of the College of William and Mary are interested, with the rest of the Peninsula, in the forth-coming visit to the famous shrines of a party of distinguished sons of the States formed from one-time Virginia territory, on an itinerary in honor of George Rogers Clarke, on November 18.

On that day the party will be received in the Phi Beta Kappa Hall by Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, president, and members of the faculty and of the student body of the College of William and Mary, where appropriate addresses will be made by some of the members of the assembled celebrants.

While in Williamsburg, the party will inspect the College and visit a number of old landmarks, such as Bruton Parish Church and the old "Public Gaol" in which Clark confined the British Governor-general Hamilton, of Detroit, whom he captured at Vincennes, Indiana. The old Powder Horn and the old Capital Site, both connected with Patrick Henry's stirring movements during the beginning of the Revolution, will also be special objects of interest to the visitors.

After their visit here, the party will go to Yorktown.

CLASS MEETINGS NEXT WEEK

The usual bi-monthly class meetings will be held next week in the Phi Beta Kappa Auditorium. The schedule for the meetings is: Seniors, Tuesday morning at 8:35 o'clock; Juniors, Wednesday morning at 8:35 o'clock; Sophomores, Thursday morning at 8:35 o'clock; Freshmen, Friday morning at 8:35 o'clock.

LIT. MAGAZINE HAS APPEARED

Editor Van Wormer Has "Put Forth" Good Thing in Current Number Says Reviewer

By Edward D. Fales, Jr.

The November issue of the William and Mary Literary Magazine, the first of the session, made its appearance on the campus Monday. Donald K. Van Wormer, and his staff of editors and contributors have put forth a good thing in this number of the publication.

There is material for an evening's enjoyable reading in the issue; there are five short stories or sketches, a one-act play, half a dozen snatches of verse, book reviews and the Editor's Easy Chair.

Frank S. Hopkins heads the list of contributors with an admirable sketch, "Reincarnation," an incident of the Mediterranean seacoast. It recalls Ludwig von Lewishon's "Roman Summer." Mr. Hopkins, who was graduated with honors from William and Mary last June, is well known to readers of the magazine.

Samuel G. Staples has done a short story, "The Dilettante at Love," the sort of thing that one sometimes finds in Harper's. It is the story of a ruby-set Chinese love ring, which finds its way into the hands of—or, better, onto the finger of—an American gentleman of past middle age. The tale is unusual because the climax is in the very last sentence.

Edwin L. Lamberth wrote a play called "It's Coming," which, while it does not pretend to adhere to modern dramatic writing principles, is good reading.

Robert Arthur, who, by the way, is writing short stories for at least one

"Y" MEETINGS TO START SOON

Fireside Meetings as Held Last Year Will Again Be Conducted at William and Mary

The first of a series of fireside meetings will be conducted Thursday evening in the "Y" Room in the Blow Gymnasium. The subject for discussion will be: "How to Intelligently Choose this Vocation and Prospects in it." The meeting will be under way at 7:30 o'clock.

On that evening three members of the William and Mary faculty will discuss three types of vocation. These are:

- 1. Physical Education by L. Tucker Jones of the Department of Physical Education here.
- 2. Law, by Dr. W. A. Hamilton, Dean of the School of Economics and Business Administration.
- 3. Business, by Carl A. Fryxell, of the Business School.

The meeting will be under the charge of Robbie Yeatts, Chairman of the Fire-side Meetings for the local "Y."

In addition to the speakers there will be other things on the program. The Men's Glee Club will give a short concert and there will be some instrumental music in addition to this. The meeting will last only one hour according to Mr. Yeatts.

PLAYMAKERS FROM CAROLINA U. TO APPEAR HERE NEXT TUESDAY

Professor Koch and his Carolina Playmakers will stage several of their plays at the College of William and Mary in the Phi Beta Kappa Hall on next Tuesday night. Their repertoire for this season includes "The Scuffle-town Outlaws" by William Normant Cox, "Lighted Candles" by Miss Margaret Bland and Wilbur Staut's attractive comedy "On Dixon's Porch." Those students who were fortunate enough to attend their performance down at the High School several years ago realize the great opportunity offered again of the best amateurs in the collegiate circles of today.

This group of Chapel Hill students under the direction of Professor Koch, write, produce and act their own plays. The Playmakers also design and make their own scenery. The themes of their plays are chosen from traditions, historical incidents and customs well known in North Carolina. The scenes include N. C. mountain regions. After all the characters are real people and friends of the author. Using these themes and characters, the Playmakers have given to America a truly native drama which is significant in a true sense of the word.

Absolute familiarity and dramatic technique has been instilled in the students by Professor Frederick Koch, and their plays are a truthful portrayal of Carolina life, written beautifully and simply.

BECK WILL DELIVER INITIAL CUTLER FOUNDATION LECTURE

Mr. M. Beck of Washington, D. C., former assistant United States Attorney general, will deliver the first lecture under the James Gould Cutler Foundation in Phi Beta Kappa next Friday, according to an announcement by President Chandler. Mr. Beck will speak on "Our Changing Constitution."

Mr. Beck is holding the post of assistant attorney general, Mr. Beck was appointed to the position in 1925. He was formerly United States Attorney for the eastern district of Pennsylvania. He is noted for his essays and writings on the Constitution.

Announcement of the time of the address will be made later.

The Cutler foundation was established at William and Mary in 1926 by James Gould Cutler of Rochester, N. Y., who endowed the Marshall-Wythe School of Government and Citizenship at the college. The endowment consisted of $100,000 to be used to maintain the John Marshall Chair of Government, now occupied by Dr. John Garland Pollard, to maintain the Cutler lectures on the Constitution, and to provide prize awards to the senior man and woman who prepare the best essays on the Constitution.

OCT. HISTORICAL MAGAZINE COMES FROM THE PRESS

W. & M. Publication Under the Editorship of E. G. Swem, College Librarian, is Out

HAS INTERESTING FEATURES

"Documents of Sir Francis Wyatt" and Economic and Social Discussions Especially Good

William and Mary's Historical Magazine for October, published under the editorship of the Librarian, Dr. E. G. Swem, has recently come from the press with an interesting collection of data on historical and geneological matters. Discussions, based on cited facts, are carried on by contributors to the current issue concerning economic, social, and family affairs of the Old Dominion.

There is a discussion of the "Market Surplus Problems of Colonial Tobacco" by L. C. Gray, which savors more of modern economics than of history.

The fourth installment of the "Documents of Sir Francis Wyatt," like the previous installments, are indicative of the homely life of earliest Virginia. These documents were borrowed for publication from the collection in the library of the Earl of Romney.

More of the early connection between America's first three colleges, in point of years, is to be seen in the "Correspondence of Ezra Stiles, President of Yale College, and James Madison, President of William and Mary College." The letter of Ezra Stiles dated July 12, 1780, addressed to Madison, contains much of timely interest.

"We have long been sensible, that the New England Colleges have been beheld by our Southern and Western Brethren with ineffable contempt. But we hope that the time is now come, when all will unite in viewing things in a more liberal and generous light." Throughout these letters for the most part, there is a general undertone of prediction of the "future glory of America" and "rising Generations—wise and good—increasing in Knowledge and Virtue." All ages, it seems, predict.

The Historical Magazine has an extremely wide circulation. Copies of it are sent to all leading colleges, universities, and historical societies in the United States and to many prominent universities and scholars in Europe.

First Echo Photograph Proofs Ready Next Week

Proofs of photographs taken for the Colonial Echo last month will be ready for students in about a week, according to William Linn, editor in chief of the publication. Several hundred photographs has been made.

The photographers will submit several proofs, and students will have the privilege of deciding which one they prefer to have published.

SECOND DEBATE TRYOUT TONIGHT

Council Will Complete Team in Contest Tonight; No Results Announced Yet

Inter-Collegiate Debate Team try-outs were held last Friday night in Phoenix Hall for all men in college who wished to try out for the team. The judges of the try-outs were: M. G. H. Gelsinger, of the English Department; G. E. Brooks, Debate Coach; Hillis Miller, Pastor of the Williamsburg Baptist Church; and George W. Reilley, Assistant Registrar.

There were men to try out, including two seniors, one junior, seven sophomores, and three freshmen. The judges, however, have decided that because of the number of appeals from the announced time, and because of the fact that the time was changed three times, another try-out will be held tonight for all men who because of a valid reason acceptable, BEFOREHAND to the judges, were unable to get to the try-outs last week. Therefore, any men in college who for a good reason were unable to get to the last try-out are invited to try-out tonight.

No announcement has yet been made of those who were successful last week, but these will be announced next week.

Nine New Men Elected To Wythe Law Club Here

At a meeting of the Wythe Law Club, held last week at the Phi Alpha house, the following men were elected to the Club and were initiated yesterday: Dr. D. W. Woodbridge, C. H. Russell, G. C. Campbell, W. C. West, Jr., William Bozarth, R. C. Powell, R. C. Power, George Moriarity, and L. M. Ober. In addition to those men who were initiated yesterday, Mr. Ernest Evenson, who is instructor at the Loomis School in Windsor, Conn., was elected to membership, as a result of his very good work here in previous Summer Schools.

Yesterday, the men wore caps and gowns and carried very large law books to denote their desire and intentions to be lawyers.

Maryland U Runners Give Indian Harriers Setback

William and Mary's cross country team received a setback in their initial meet of the season last Saturday when they were defeated by the University of Maryland 18-37, over a 4 1/2 mile course.

Myers of the Old Liners finished first in 26m 4 2-5s, while a teammate, Gadd, came in only five yards behind. Gordon Campbell of William and Mary was third, some 25 yards in Gadd's wake.

The order of finish follows: Myers (Md.); Gadd (Md.); Campbell (W. & M.); Schrieber (Md.); Remsberg (Md.); Morris (Md.); Gresham (W. & M.); Vernon (W. & M.); H. Campbell (W. & M.) and Fentress (W. & M.).

Roanoke Has Something of Impressive Record For Season's Play So Far

Game is Opening of Series of Three For Taskerites With Virginia Elevens

The William and Mary football team will battle their first state collegiate opponent when they meet Roanoke College at Roanoke today. Roanoke has an impressive record to date and is now holding second place in state scoring with a total of 192 points to their opponents' 59. They were defeated early in the season by both V. P. I. and V. M. I. and were held to a scoreless tie by Randolph-Macon, but later in the season earned victories over Guilford, Atlantic Christian, Richmond, and Bridgewater.

The Maroons have a fast experienced team averaging about five pounds more per man than William and Mary. Coach "Pinky" Spruhan has developed a pass attack which is responsible for the heavy scoring done by his men this season. He has a quarterback above the average in Gilbert who broke football records last Friday when he kicked ten extra points from placement against Bridgewater College. Brilliant open field dashes of Gilbert and his accurate passes to Lutherford accounted for the 7-6 victory of the Maroons over Richmond in the preceding week.

Coach Spruhan's starting combination will probably be Bell and Ruthford, ends; Capt. Wilson and Givens, tackles; Morton and Fix, guards; Hank, center; Gilbert, quarterback; Williams and Jones, halfbacks; Diech, fullback.

The game of this afternoon marks the first of three engagements which William and Mary has with state elevens this fall. The other two games are with Hampden-Sidney and Richmond. If the locals defeat these three opponents they will have an undisputed claim to the state collegiate title. William and Mary has met the Maroons four times on the gridiron. Record of the previous games is as follows:

1922 W. & M. 14—R. C. 0
1923 W. & M. 7—R. C. 9
1924 W. & M. 7—R. C. 7
1925 W. & M. 23—R. C. 0

FRESHMAN IN PORTSMOUTH TODAY

Matsu's Charges Meet Strong Woodrow Wilson High School Team This Afternoon

Today Coach Matsu is leading his Freshman team to Portsmouth to play the Wilson High School of that city. The freshmen will buck up against what is undoubtedly the best high school team in the state.

For two years the Presidents' goal line has remained free from an opponents score. Last year they were undefeated, and unscored champions of the state. So far this year they have been undefeated and unscored on but have been tied 0-0 twice.

Woodrow Wilson has defeated Lynnhburg, South Norfolk, Newport News and Suffolk, but has been tied by Alexandria and Petersburg.

The Freshmen have defeated the Newport News Apprentice School and Oceana High, tied Fort Eustis, but lost to South Norfolk.

Maister Takes Lead in Local Players' Scoring

"Mike" Maister is now leading scorer at William and Mary as a result of the touchdown and point after touchdown he made against Chattanooga on Saturday. His total is now 16 points. Davis and Mozeleski are tied for second place with 13 points each.

'SCRAP' CHANDLER'S HARRIERS TO MEET JACKETS TOMORROW

Coach Chandler's harriers will meet Randolph-Macon College in the only athletic event scheduled here tomorrow. Bad weather has hindered the practice of the William and Mary runners most of this week but indoor work should make the Indians fit for the contest.

Last week the Indians were defeated by the strong University of Maryland harriers. Tomorrow Chandler's men will be on a familiar course and should give their ancient rivals from Ashland a lot of trouble.

Little is known of Coach Welch's team this year, however, the Yellow-Jackets can usually be counted on to give a good account of themselves.

The runners will begin on their jaunt tomorrow at 2:30 o'clock, and the finish will be on the track on Cary Field. The members of the William and Mary team have been working hard this fall and it is hoped that a large number of the student body will be on hand to witness the meet.

Game With Farmville Substituted In Place of Original Contest For November 19

OUTLOOK FOR EASY VICTORY

The William and Mary-South Western hockey game, which was originally scheduled for next week to be played here has been called off. No reason was given by Coach Barksdale for the cancellation of the game. In place of this game Indianettes will stack up against the Farmville Normal school eleven. The visitors promise to offer some serious obstacles in the way of victory for the W. and M. girls.

It is expected, however, that by reason of the superior experience of the W. and M. girls and the ability of such players as Miles, Zimmerman, Tanner and others, the Squaws have excellent prospects for a romp away from their rivals. In the lineup will be Hofmann, Zimmerman, Miles, Tanner, De Shazo, Wilkins, Chewing, James, Buston and in the positions they held in the play with Sweet Briar. The position of right wing has not yet been definitely decided upon, King, Gwalthney and Fielder both being considered for the role.

Later games in the Indianette schedule are with George Washington at Washington and New York University at New York.

Intra-Mural Hockey Season Ends for Year

With last week ending the intramural hockey participation the Senior-Sophomore first team romped to an easy victory over their rivals, the the Freshman-Juniors. During the three weeks in which the sister teams played their games the Sophomore-Seniors were successful in winning each of their three frays. The second team of this group, however, failed to score as high as the first, falling before the onslaught of the second team of the Freshman-Juniors in two out of the three combats waged. Coach Barksdale reports that some of the new women who made up the personnel of the "sister" teams, displayed excellent form and speed in this branch of sport and are to be commended for their work.

Jimmie Driver Former Coach is Visitor Here

Jimmie Driver, athletic coach at the University of South Carolina, and former coach at William and Mary, together with Mrs. Driver and President Douglas of the University of South Carolina, visited his Alma Mater last week. While here they were entertained at luncheon by Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, President of the college.

Chattanooga Squad Takes Indians Into Camp in Thrilling Game At Norfolk

MACON AND MAISTER STAR

In a game that proved to be thrilling in spite of its slowness, the University of Chattanooga defeated the William and Mary Indians 12-7 last Saturday. A large part of the student body along with the band witnessed the game.

The Indians lost an opportunity to score in the first quarter. Taking the ball at the kickoff they returned it to the 40 yard line. After making three first downs and getting within striking distance, the Indians lost the ball when it rolled over the goal line on an attempted pass. The Moccasins then kicked out of danger.

Chattanooga scored just before the quarter ended when Captain Lautzenhyzer who had been sitting on the bench most of the first period entered the game and immediately proceeded to circle the Indian team for the first touchdown of the game. Thompson failed to add the extra point.

In the second quarter the Indians began a drive which carried them down the field to the thirty yard line. Here Maister made a beautiful catch of a low pass and raced 20 yards for a touchdown. He then placed the Indians in the lead by drop-kicking for the extra point. The half ended with the ball in the center of the field.

In the third period Chattanooga again went in the lead when Overmyer took the ball across after a pass had placed it on the one yard line. He failed to add the extra point.

The last quarter was a battle in which the supremacy of the Moccasins over the Indians was plainly shown. The Indians were on the defensive most of the period. The game ended with the ball in the possession of the Indians on the 30 yard line.

For Chattanooga Overmyer, Thompson, and Captain Lautzenhyzer were the outstanding players.

For William and Mary Maister, Werblow, Paxson, and Mason showed up well.

Chattanooga had a well balanced team with a bag of tricks when it came to passing the ball. Their line, however was repeatedly off-side.

William and Mary failed to cover their plays and often they were telegraphed to their opponents.

Supreme Court

The action of the student body last Wednesday night in regard to the auditing committee meets with our approval. We believe that an account of the finances of the publications should be made public for the benefit of those who desire to know where the money is spent. However, the method of approach to the matter placed the officers of the publications in an extremely poor light. In bringing up the matter for discussion in meeting we fear that an impression of underhand dealings was gleaned by the students at large. The oft repeated "we are not doing this with any suspicion of crookedness" served, we fear to form in the minds of many of the students an idea that some great scandal had been revealed.

Those who have been on the campus for a time and have been interested in the workings of student affairs were aware that the money made by the publications was left in the hands of the editors and the business managers. This idea is nothing new. We believe that this system is a fair one. We state here what we believe to be the opinion of the present editors and business managers, and we feel that it is only just to state the other side of the question. Each year an editor and business manager is chosen for each of the publications. On them rests the responsibility of getting out their publication to the students. For this purpose they are paid by the treasurer a certain proportion of the student activity fee. Now if the officers of the publication are good business men and work faithfully, it is possible that they may be able to make a small surplus. Does it seem exactly unfair that this money should be turned over to them for the extra efforts? One should remember that it requires a lot of time to gather advertisements and copy for each issue of the publications. We see no reason why, if as a result of sound business ability, the managers are enabled to come out on top, they should not receive this money.

We wish that this matter had been brought before the editors and business managers of the publications before it was given into the hands of the students at large, who in many cases do not understand the workings of the papers. The matter we feel reflects more on the ones that have gone before than the present incumbents.

We also wish that the committee had been appointed rather than elected, for those chosen must have ability in accounting practice to be of any real service. What the committee will do with its findings, and what will become of the surplus, are questions that have not been cleared up yet.

Again let us state that we are in favor of the committee, that we feel no embarrassment, but that we do sense a bit of unfairness in the manner in which the question was approached.

The Auditing Committee

Both Faculty and upperclassmen combined in their condemnation of the action of the women of the freshman class and the transfers at the Women's Supreme Court last week. Prior to this, there was much praise of the freshman class as a whole. Their fine spirit in attending all college functions did not go by unnoticed.

It was consequently a surprise and a disappointment when such poor sportsmanship was displayed at Supreme Court. Such behavior has never been witnessed before in the history of the college, and the whole student body has felt that the lack of respect shown to upper classwomen by both freshmen and transfers at this time should not be ignored.

After due consideration of the Women's Student Body however, it has been decided to let sleeping dogs lie, and no drastic steps will be taken in this matter; but the high opinion of the class has been considerably lowered and it is hoped that the freshmen will realize the precarious position of their reputation and will try in the days to come to redeem themselves and prove that their first impression of cooperation, school spirit and good sportsmanship was not a false one.

"LORD BOTETOURT SAYS"

By Bill

If we are to give ear to the stories that are told to beguile the tedium vitae of college youths during the long winter evenings, hearken to this bit of gossip fresh from the lips of a prominent story-teller who by a sort of subtle necromancy transforms us with his wit from bored students into interested spectators. Thus runs the tale:

"One afternoon an embrocatedly clad individual faintly stepped from his small but liveried chauffeured car and appeared to fit over to the Phi Beta Kappa Hall where he fumbled for a few moments with the lock. Unable to open the door of the great mansion, with his gold key, for he was one of those who had achieved the high honor of belonging to the brotherhood of the "Chosen Few," he finally went to the rear and tried to crawl in from underneath, so anxious was he to view the architectural splendors of his Frat House. Some one discovered him and assured him that he might go to the office to find a prosaic iron key which would admit him. It was then he discovered he had been disillusioned and that the little gold key which hung from his chain wouldn't open a lock at all but rather that it was to symbolize that a great treasure house of knowledge had been opened unto him. Just another one of life's little dramas with an O. Henry twist. If he had attempted to force an entrance at night he would have been doubtless shot as a thief by that intrepid and vigilant detector of insignificant trivialities, Al, the Watchman.

The poet who said "The night has a thousand eyes, the day but one" was alluding, we are sure, to our brilliantly lighted campus.

Contrary to popular opinion, Tom Varney is still with the orchestra.

Some blase frosche observed the other day that W. and M. stood for water and mud. Most of the time he is right. IT strikes us that the campus overhead has received much more attention than the underfoot.

Byby, dudes, we'll meet again in the comic strip next Friday.

FRESHMAN CLASS TO PLANT TREES IN NEAR FUTURE

The class of '27's trees will be planted in the near future, as a result of a Freshman class meeting held a few days ago. Bill Scott, president of the class announced that very appropriate exercises would be held on the day that the trees are dedicated.

The class at a previous meeting decided to plant sixty-two trees on the campus, as a remembrance to the class of '27, and the trees would be watched in their growth during the four year stay of this Freshman class. Each member of the class was taxed a quarter for the purpose.

Dr. W. T. Hodges, Dean of Freshmen, addressed the class on several things of vital importance to them. He also announced the Freshmen that were on the Honor Roll for this month, and told them that they had a much better representation than last year's Freshman class.

Y Holds First Open House of This Year

On Saturday night in the Y room, "Open House" was well attended by those remaining on the campus. Many found pleasure toasting marshmallows with the fair sex around the fire-side. Games and music topped off a delightful evening.

THE OLD GRAD
Alumni News Column

ALUMNA ELECTED
N. E. A. PRESIDENT

Miss Cornelis S. Adair, who was graduated from William and Mary has been elected president of the National Education Association. In 1926 she was elected to this position. Miss Adair has the distinction of being the first classroom teacher and the first woman to ever hold this position.

Miss Adair has always been active in educational work. In the course of her career as educator, Miss Adair has been elected to numerous responsible positions. She has been president of the Educational Committee of the League of Women Voters and president of the Elementary Teachers Association of Richmond. In addition to the various executive positions Miss Adair has held, she has been a school teacher, having taught in elementary grades of the Richmond school system, and given special classes for retarded children. She has been engaged as teacher of English in Bainbridge Junior high school.

Present Miss Adair is making a tour of the country in the interests of the National Education Association. Beginning her tour in South Virginia, she intends to visit New York, Massachusetts, Rhode Island. While in New York she presided over the 63rd conference of the University of New York. During the month of November she will visit Charleston, West Virginia, St. Louis, Missouri, Dayton, Ohio, Terre Haute, Indiana, and Kansas City, Kansas.

With especial interest that the success of alumni or alumnae. It is with satisfaction, therefore, that we view the success accorded Miss Adair and hope that this marks the initial step in her career.

Women's Soccer Practice
Being Held Bi-Weekly

Soccer practice is being held twice a week during the periods not given to other sports. A large number of women are trying out in this sport and are being encouraged and trained along with the men. The purpose of this sport is mainly recreational, and several points toward a championship are allowed for in this branch of athletics and all students interested are to be present at the practice.

Tournament Now
Semi-Final Stages

The tournament was halted by rain which made the field unplayable for the matches. The fifteen players who were in the tournament remain in the city. The results of the semi-final matches were: Novich defeated Wiggins, Howard defeated Cross, Rhinestein defeated Cross. The match between Novich and Howard in the second elimination round was not played on account of rain.

The teams are in good shape and the tournament should be completed this week. The finals will be played on Saturday.

Local Deputation Team
"Typical," Says Booklet

Webster Stover, local YMCA Secretary, has just received from National YMCA headquarters official National YMCA booklet which is being mailed all over the country, giving the College of William and Mary credit for the "Typical YMCA Deputation Team, linking College and Community in Christian Service." A photograph of the College YMCA Deputation Team is reproduced in the booklet as an illustration of fine deputation work carried on by the colleges of America.

A GLIMPSE INTO the COLLEGE WORLD

Here and There among the Exchanges of the Flat Hat

The discovery of the will of a hero who died in a charitable hospital at Chicago discloses the fact that he left $40,000 to act as a loan fund for students of law and medicine at Northwestern University.

Music critic, Olin Downes, declares that American college songs are inferior because they are too sentimental. They should be more virile and symbolic of the life which undergraduates live, he says.

Insufficient enrollment has resulted in the cancellation of the proposed round-the-world cruise of the co-educational floating university, the Aurania.

Bertrand Russell, a leading British philosopher, mathematician, educator and author is making a lecture tour of American colleges this year.

Statistics at University of Wisconsin show that members of fraternities maintain higher scholastic averages than do the other students.

The Army football team has suffered unusually heavily this year by losing six men from the string squad because of classroom deficiencies.

The Repertory Theatre of Boston offers a prize of $1,000 to the student of any college who writes the best play upholding faith in life to the college student of today. The prize was offered because of the startling number of suicides within past year among college students.

Women students at University of Wisconsin no longer consider smoking a vice as is shown by a recent statistical report that 80 per cent of the girls smoke.

The College of Engineering at the University of Wisconsin admits the probability of offering a course in aviation within the next few years.

Three Fraternities Here Celebrate Founders' Day

Three fraternities on the campus observed founders' days last week. Members of these three could be seen about the campus on their respective founders' day wearing, in the case of Sigma Phi Epsilon, a red rose, in the case of Lambda Chi Alpha, a white carnation, and in the case of Theta Delta Chi, a pink carnation.

Sigma Phi Epsilon was founded at Richmond College in 1901. The local chapter, Virginia Delta, was established in 1904. Lambda Chi Alpha came a little later—1909. It was established at Boston University. The William and Mary chapter was installed in the early part of this year. Theta Delta Chi is the oldest of the three and was the first fraternity on the William and Mary campus, aside from Phi Beta Kappa, which has now become honorable. The local Epsilon, was established in 1853, not long after the organization of the fraternity in 1847 at Union College.

"ANVIL CHORUS" AT OHIO STATE CAUSES EDITORIAL COMMENT

Columbus, Ohio (By New Student Service) Ohio State University lost a football game to Michigan, by a 21 to 0 score. Almost before the players had reached the locker rooms, the anvil chorus of Ohio State alumni was well under way, and never was a chorus leader or more indicative of alumni importance in controlling alma mater's affairs.

A. W. Raymond, president of the Varsity "O" Alumni Association resigned his office at a meeting of the former athletes, who had just given the football coach, Dr. John W. Wilce, an ovation. Dr. insists that the team was as good as ever. Irreconcilables among the alumni charge that the players knew nothing of fundamentals, and have suggested that "two-thirds of the players who participated in the Michigan game turn in their suits and that Ohio State get a new head coach or that a decided shake-up of the team be instituted."

The New York World, in discussing the case in an editorial entitled "The Alumni Nuisance," points to the vicious circle whereby "the university, to get funds, must have bigger and better football teams; and the alumni, in return for the funds, demand still bigger and better football teams." It adds: If the alumni could get this simple proposition through their heads and cease to throw the whole university into a turmoil every time a game is dropped, things might ease off a bit. And if they could get through their heads that football is a very small part of the real work of their schools, university life might take on a pleasanter tone.

ANDERS' DAY CELEBRATED

C: Society, Oldest Campus Organization Honoring Date of Start Here

r's day for one of the oldest organizations in the new world in organization, is being celebrated by members of the F: Society, better known on the Flat Hat Club. Silver worn by the members will be of the occasion, these tokens served by the members for special occasions.

h the Club has had a history has been more varied than any other of the campus historical data is extant that prove the foundation of the November 11, 1750. Little of the early organization, as Jefferson in some of his letters to his membership in sent organization was several years ago, and elects six members of the Junior membership. Selection of a member of the Club is considered a on the campus will wear today, but, since the foot-clothes can not be present, the will be postponed until tonight. Those on the campus members are: Dr. W. A. Young, Dr. R. C. Young, Dr. W. C. Chandler, John R. Geo. W. Reolly, L. W. Allan Cook, William Linn, and Beatty.

WHARTON SPEAKS AT CONVOCATION

Seniors Don Caps and Gowns For First Time of Year Wednesday When Meetings Are Continued

Seniors, wearing their caps and gowns for the first time this year, and other students at the College of William and Mary met at Convocation at the Phi Beta Kappa hall on Wednesday.

An address was given by Dr. H. M. Wharton, of Baltimore, who was the principle speaker of the hour. Dr. Wharton is now conducting services at the Baptist Church of Williamsburg.

Special music by Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Jones of Chicago added very much to the convocation period, since they were enjoyed by all the students present.

Prize Committee Advises Students to Start Work

The committee in charge of the Cutler Foundation Prize wishes to advise that all seniors who are either majoring or minoring in History, Government or Jurisprudence must compete in the prize for the best essay on some phase of the Constitution of the United States. A prize of $25 in gold will be given to the man and woman who writes the best essays on the Constitution. The essays must contain not less than 2500 words and not more than 4,000.

These two prizes are among the highest honors that are awarded by the college. The members of the faculty of the Marshall-Wythe School of Jurisprudence will be glad to aid any student in the preparation of his or her essay.

"YW" CONVERSATION HOUR IS ATTENDED BY MANY STUDENTS

The first conversation hours of the Y. W. C. A., which met Thursday night, were fairly well attended in spite of the numerous other meetings on the campus that took away some of those who would have been present. The attendance averaged seven to each group, and there being eleven groups. Since these discussions will be held only twice more before Christmas, it is expected that there will be even better attendance at the next two.

The leaders of the discussions reported a great amount of interest was shown in worthwhile questions and real earnestness. The discussion on "What is my best chum like?" attracted 17 girls, which made the largest of the groups. "In what does real popularity consist?" was the next most popular with 13 girls.

Pipe paths lead to P.A.

YOU can take the long, circuitous route and come to P.A. by degrees, as you eventually will, or you can cut corners and start right with The National Joy Smoke. Open a tidy red tin of Prince Albert, drink in that rich, rare aroma, and you will decide on the quick route.

Your first taste of P.A. in a pipe will clinch the decision. What a smoke, honestly! Cool as a conference in the Dean's office. Sweet as getting back on unlimited cuts. Mild as tea, but with that tobacco-body that satisfies your most deep-rooted smoke-hankering. No matter how fast you feed it, P.A. never bites your tongue or parches your throat. Just cool contentment and solid satisfaction with this long-burning favorite of experienced jimmy-pipers. Ream out the old pipe and give it a brand-new deal with good old P.A.—today.

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tin, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and punch reserved by the Prince Albert process.

FOUNDERS' DAY IS CELEBRATED

F. H. C. Society, Oldest Campus Organization Honoring Date of Start Here

Founder's day for one of the oldest organizations in the new world in point of organization, is being celebrated today by members of the F. H. C. Society, better known on the campus as the Flat Hat Club. Silver medals worn by the members will be the sign of the occasion, these tokens being reserved by the members for use only on special occasions.

Although the Club has had a history that has been more varied than that of any other of the campus groups, historical data is extant that tends to prove the foundation of the society on November 11, 1750. Little is known of the early organization, but Thomas Jefferson in some of his letters refers to his membership in the Club.

The present organization was revived several years ago, and elects each year six members of the Junior Class to membership. Selection of a student by the Club is considered a high honor.

Members on the campus will wear the medals today, but, since the football players can not be present, the banquet will be postponed until tomorrow night. Those on the campus who are members are: Dr. W. A. Montgomery, Dr. R. C. Young, Dr. W. A. Hamilton, Joseph C. Chandler, John B. Todd, Mr. Geo. W. Reolly, L. W. P'Anson, J. Allan Cook, William Linn, and Kenneth Beatty.

WHARTON SPEAKS AT CONVOCATION

Seniors, wearing their caps and gowns for the first time this year, and other students at the College of William and Mary met at Convocation at the Phi Beta Kappa hall on Wednesday.

An address was given by Dr. H. M. Wharton, of Baltimore, who was the principle speaker of the hour. Dr. Wharton is now conducting services at the Baptist Church of Williamsburg.

Special music by Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Jones of Chicago added very much to the convocation period, since they were enjoyed by all the students present.

Prize Committee Advises Students to Start Work

The committee in charge of the Cutler Foundation Prize wishes to advise that all seniors who are either majoring or minoring in History, Government or Jurisprudence must compete in the prize for the best essay on some phase of the Constitution of the United States. A prize of $25 in gold will be given to the man and woman who writes the best essays on the Constitution. The essays must contain not less than 2500 words and not more than 4,000.

These two prizes are among the highest honors that are awarded by the college. The members of the faculty of the Marshall-Wythe School of Jurisprudence will be glad to aid any student in the preparation of his or her essay.

"YW" CONVERSATION HOUR IS ATTENDED BY MANY STUDENTS

The first conversation hours of the Y. W. C. A., which met Thursday night, were fairly well attended in spite of the numerous other meetings on the campus that took away some of those who would have been present. The attendance averaged seven to each group, and there being eleven groups. Since these discussions will be held only twice more before Christmas, it is expected that there will be even better attendance at the next two.

The leaders of the discussions reported a great amount of interest was shown in worthwhile questions and real earnestness. The discussion on "What is my best chum like?" attracted 17 girls, which made the largest of the groups. "In what does real popularity consist?" was the next most popular with 13 girls.

Pipe paths lead to P.A.

YOU can take the long, circuitous route and come to P.A. by degrees, as you eventually will, or you can cut corners and start right with The National Joy Smoke. Open a tidy red tin of Prince Albert, drink in that rich, rare aroma, and you will decide on the quick route.

Your first taste of P.A. in a pipe will clinch the decision. What a smoke, honestly! Cool as a conference in the Dean's office. Sweet as getting back on unlimited cuts. Mild as tea, but with that tobacco-body that satisfies your most deep-rooted smoke-hankering. No matter how fast you feed it, P.A. never bites your tongue or parches your throat. Just cool contentment and solid satisfaction with this long-burning favorite of experienced jimmy-pipers. Ream out the old pipe and give it a brand-new deal with good old P.A.—today.

PRINCE ALBERT
—the national joy smoke!

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

SPICER'S CLASS IN NORFOLK TO BE LUCKY UNIT

attendance of visitors will be greatly increased.

So far, four members of executive departments have definitely accepted this invitation of the Department of Government. Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, will no doubt make the first address of the series. William M. Jardine, Secretary of the Department of Agriculture, has decided to participate in the course. The exact date of his speech has not yet been set. Secretary Davis will, in all probability, not be able to attend. He sends his regrets, however, and is willing to allow his Solicitor from the Department of Labor deliver the speech in his place. John Tigert, Commissioner of Education, though not strictly a Cabinet Member, will have something interesting for both those interested in Government and those in Education. The forming of the National Educational Commission of which he is the head, is comparatively recent.

Other Cabinet Members will, quite probably, come forward in acceptance of William and Mary's invitation. When plans are complete, there will be ten Washington officials on the program. This is probably the first time in the history of education that a plan of such a character and magnitude has been entered into by any school, college, or university in the world. Last year, Dr. Pollard conducted in Norfolk a course of a similar character in which he secured the services of officers of the Virginia State Government. This year, he is planning to conduct the same course in Richmond. But Norfolk will be the first city to have a series of lectures from the National Governmental Officials in connection with college work.

LIT. MAGAZINE HAS APPEARED

monthly magazine in popular demand, has contributed a short story, "Flight," and a brief sketch called "One Dime." Boyd Carter has written three short, interesting paragraphs, captioned "Ephemeral."

Hannah Margolis is a major contributor, with several short poems and a colorful sketch of New York City, called "Night-Wandering." We should like to have Miss Margolis ride across Queens bridge with the sleepy Brooklynites on their way to work, early some morning; and then we should like to read what she writes about it.

Those who have sea-going inclinations, or who like to read Masfield's ballads, will linger over "Down by the Old Quay," by Arthur Kelsey, and "Hope." The latter bit of verse was written by one who signs himself "Monsieur." Edith Dodd writes "Rapture," and Catherine Cothran is the author of "Daffodils." The first poem in the issue is the selection "Barnes," by Guillaume de Chafeur, with a brief foreword.

Evidently the editors of the Literary Magazine have selected their material with care. There is nothing shoddy about the offerings. It is not surprising that the love-note dominates in the selections, and thus stamps the Literary Magazine as a thoroughly modern, awake organ, essentially a publication for collegiate tastes.

400 ADD NAMES TO YMCA ROLLS

Results of Membership Campaign Are Considered Gratifying By Officials

Although the final figures are not yet available, due to the fact that the 'Y' Membership Campaign has not yet ended, the results so far are exceedingly gratifying. Under the directorship of LeRoy M. Ober, a systematic whirlwind drive of two days was instituted which produced four hundred names for the 'Y.' Of this number 228, the largest in the history of the 'Y,' signed the 'declaration of purpose' showing themselves in sympathy with the efforts and purposes of the 'Y,' thus becoming active members. Of the remainder 172 signed up as associate members.

On Monday and Tuesday of next week a desk will be placed inside the Main Building where men students may register with the man in charge, and receive 'Y' membership cards, between the hours of 4 o'clock and 5 o'clock. Those who have not yet registered are asked to bear in mind that an active membership 'Y' card is necessary for voting in all 'Y' elections. In addition to this, active membership 'Y' cards alone are recognized in most of the city branches of the YMCA.

MUCH INTEREST IN NEW CLASS

Fine Arts Course in Stage Design Planning Sets for Forthcoming Dramatic Production

Much interest has been created on the campus by the results being attained by the new Fine Arts course introduced here this year on Stage Design. This course is known as Fine Arts 106, and carries three session hours credit, for a total of four hours work.

The class in studying stage design, emphasizes symbolism, as produced on the stage through the proper use of line and colour. In regard to practical work, the class is getting an abundance of opportunity to work in cooperation with the general play production class conducted by Miss Althea Hunt. The stage design class planned and executed the settings for the program of one-act plays produced recently by the play production class, one of their best pieces of work being the reproduction of a stone fireplace, the only materials for this besides the framework being a number of wet paper towels. This class also designed the Welsh dresser used in "The Soup and the Savoury."

The newest activity of the stage design class is the planning of the sets for the three act play "You and I" to be given here in December by the Dramatic Club. A model stage, built exactly to scale by Stanley Fien, has already been constructed in the Art Laboratory, and on this stage is being constructed in paper a complete stage setting. The stage model is electrically equipped, and all electrical effects will be worked out here before they are tried on the Phi Beta Kappa Stage.
