DEBATE TEAM WILL MEET OXFORD HERE OCTOBER 20

English University Begins its Fifth Tour of the United States

COUNCIL CHOOSE THREE DEBATERS

Stewart, Elliott and Andrews Named to Meet Visitors in First International
Debate of W. & M.

For the first time in the history of intercollegiate debating, William and Mary will engage in an international contest when a picked team meets the representatives of Oxford University, England, here on the night of October 20. The debate was secured this summer by Dr. Chandler for the Debate Council during the absence of the officers in vacation. The college is cooperating with the debate council and the team in arranging for the meeting.

The Oxford team composed of Messrs. Gyles Isham, of Magdalen College, Patrick Monkhouse, of Trinity College, and Michael A. E. Franklin, of Queen's College, will arrive in New York on October 15, and will meet William and Mary five days later at the beginning of their tour through the South and southwest. The local debate council in a recent session, decided that inasmuch as the meeting is out of regular season there could be no time spared for tryouts and named as representatives of William and Mary, R. E. Bruce Stewart, W. H. Elliott, Jr., and M. Carl Andrews, all veterans of last year's debating squads.

Frank S. Hopkins, Editor-in-Chief of the Literary Magazine at a meeting of the staff last Monday evening announced the appointment of the following associate editors for the coming year:

E. Cotton Rawls, business manager and Edward Nicholson, circulation manager, have not yet appointed their assistants since both managers are awaiting the outcome of try-out contests. All freshmen and upper-classmen desirous of a place on next year's staff should apply to one of these managers for work.

This year the staff plans to publish six issues as compared with last year's four. All material for the first or November issue must be in the hands of the editors on or before Monday, October 10.

The staff of the Magazine wishes to announce the following prizes for the coming year: The James Barron Hope Scholarship for the best poem; a fifty dollar prize for the second best poem; a fifty dollar prize for the

Prominent Visitors

Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson, and Buck Langhorne, sister and brother of Lady Nancy Astor, the Virginian Member of the English Parliament, and Miss Elizabeth Tree, niece of Mrs. Gibson, visited William and Mary and Williamsburg last Sunday while on a brief automobile tour of Tidewater Virginia.

Mrs. Gibson is the original "Gibson Girl," the pictures of whom helped to make her husband famous as one of America's great artists. The Langhorne family were at one time residents of Warwick county, the first of the line having settled on the Virginia Peninsula.

W. & M. TO MEET ORANGE TEAM

Indians Leave Wednesday for Northern Jaunt; Syracuse Looms as One of the Country's Big Teams
for Season

Tasker's Indian warriors are running up against their first real competition tomorrow when they encounter the powerful Syracuse eleven at the latter's home stadium. Twenty-two of the squad, accompanied by Coaches Tasker and Todd and Manager Marston, left Wednesday for the New York city, where two years ago their stellar brand of football earned them the title of "Those Fighting Virginians." This year marks the fourth of athletic relation between the two schools.

Syracuse this year is looking forward to the best in its football history and most critics predict for it a great season's record. The Indians however, are in excellent shape and can be expected to give the big Orange Eleven a hearty tussle and to keep the outcome in doubt throughout the entire contest. Each year the Green, Gold and Silver has made a slightly better showing and this year should prove no exception to the rule. The New Yorkers have been most successful so far this season and last week administered a 62-0 drubbing to the Vermont University, an aggregation which last year held them to a 20-0 margin. William and Mary prospects have increased in proportion, however, so this outcome throws no damper on the spirits of ardent Indian fans and supporters.

Three years ago Syracuse defeated the local eleven 61-3, yet it can be remembered that papers all over the North praised the Indian spirit and lauded them as the only team scoring against the Orange during the entire season. A year later, William and Mary returned to the Northern stronghold to obtain a virtual victory by holding the opposition to a 24-17 score. Last year in the depths of a heavy slump the Braves suffered a 33-0 setback, but the dope says that this will only inspire the Red-men and give them the necessary punch to put across a great battle.

The game tomorrow will be the first of a series of hard contests that the Indians have this year and the college watches with interest the outcome of the first invasion of the North.

RUSH SEASON ENDS TONIGHT AT 8 O'CLOCK

Members of Inter-Fraternity Council and Must Be Returned by Sunday Noon

FRESHMEN TOEING THE MARK

General Delivery Expected to Do Heavy
Business in the Morning; Silence
Will Prevail Between Frat
Men and Rushees

General delivery windows at the local post office are expected to do a "rushing" business tomorrow morning, for fraternity rushing season ends at 8 o'clock tonight when all bids are to be sent out at the same time by members of the Inter-fraternity Council. Anxious freshmen will call at the post office tomorrow morning for the expected bids and then the shouts of joy, back-slapping, weeping and wailing will begin.

From the time bids are mailed tonight until Sunday noon, no fraternity men may speak to freshmen rushees unless the latter accept bids, in which case the freshmen assume the same position toward other freshmen as do the upper classmen. Sunday noon the lucky ducs will appear with their respective pledge buttons, which will be the signal for much handshaking and congratulations.

The following fraternity rules have been announced for the session '26-'27.

1. The Board of Visitors considers that in permitting fraternity houses to exist at William and Mary and students to live in fraternity houses, that said fraternity houses are by this permit in the nature of dormitories and that all rules and regulations applying to dormitories as to drinking, fire-arms, gambling, and other conduct apply equally to the fraternity houses.

2. Fraternity houses are subject to the same inspection by the College authorities as the dormitories, and the President of the College, Superintendent of Grounds, and Buildings, night watchmen, and others in authority have the same right of access to

LOYOLA FALLS VICTIM TO DRIVING INDIAN ATTACK

Attention

All charges against heinous ducs should be written, signed and handed to one of the following members of the Tribunal: "Spud" Murphy, Mac O'Farrell, Red Evans, Ted Hughley, "S. P. E." Smith or Van Wormer.

The Tribunal asks for the cooperation of all upper-classmen in its endeavors to make this freshman class the best behaved group of yearlings ever seen on this time honored campus.

After Hard Fight, 19 to 0

GAME WAS ROUGH AND TUMBLE ONE

Reserve Material Given Many Chances
by Tasker; Backfields Continue to Show Better Form

Making three times as many first downs as their opponents, the William and Mary football team defeated Loyola, of Baltimore, Saturday afternoon on Cary Field by a 19-0 score. Several arguments and near fist fights served to mar what would have otherwise been a pretty battle.

The Indians started things off with a rush in the opening quarter of the game. Loyola kicked off and by a series of line plunges, the William and Mary backs carried the ball 40 yards down the field before they lost it. After an exchange of punts, Bauserman received one of Matsu's passes and made a 30 yard run for the first tally. Matsu added the extra point.

Things were pretty near even in the second period until near the end when the Taskerites carried the ball to the visitors six yard line, only to be denied a touchdown by the whistle.

The Baltimorians looked better in the third quarter than in any other period of the game, holding the Indian line successfully and threatening to score by a series of passes.

In the last quarter Bauserman added his second touchdown of the day by making a fifteen yard run around

ENROLLMENT IS NEAR THOUSAND

Twenty-Four States and Four Foreign Countries Are Represented. Large Majority Are Virginians With
New York Second

The College of William and Mary opened its fall session this year with a registered enrollment of nine hundred eighty-six students, with the expectation that this number will very soon pass the thousand mark. Of this number five hundred and sixteen, or about fifty-two percent are men. There are four hundred and seventy women registered.

By far the majority of this number are Virginians; only a little over seventeen percent are from out of the state. This number of outsiders represents residents of twenty-four states and four foreign countries. There are students here from China, Panama, Porto Rico, and Cuba. Curiously enough, the three states that are the greatest contributors from out side the Old Dominion are three Northern states, New York, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey. North Carolina, West Virginia and Massachusetts are next in line. Each year, William and Mary is drawing on a larger and larger territory for its student body.

The figures for the numbers in each of the four classes as yet have not been prepared by the office, but will be ready for the next issue of the Flat Hat.

COLONIAL ECHO STAFF IS NAMED

Editor James Barnes Makes Announcement of Assistants for 1927 Echo.
Many Departments to be Improved and Enlarged

F. James Barnes, Jr., editor-in-chief of this year's Colonial Echo has made formal announcement of the appointments to the staff of the annual for the session. He also made the announcement that the photographer will be here for the first time during home-coming week and urged that as many students as possible should have their pictures early in the season.

William Linn, who was Athletic Editor last year, has been appointed Associate Editor for this year. Bill is a Sigma Nu and well-known as a minstrel end-man.

Virginia Ayres who was appointed as the other Associate Editor, was Organization Editor last year. She is a member of Pi Beta Phi, the Edith Baer Club, the German Club, and G. G. G. She was also a member of the Pan-hellenic Council.

Two of the three Athletic Editors have been appointed. They are Bill West and "Dauba" Green. "Dauba" is also Sports Editor of the Flat Hat. The editor yet to be appointed will be a girl.

Polly Hines and H. D. Whitney will be Activities Editors this year. "Jit" served as Assistant Organization editor on the Echo last year. The Fraternities and sororities will be given separate editors this year. Cornelius deWitt, Assistant Photographic Editor last year, and Lucy Barrow, Wit and Humor Editor last year, will fill these offices.

The Wit and Humor section will be edited this year by Norma Patterson, Anne Chenery, and Polly Venable; while the Art Department will be under the editorship of three experienced artists; Martha Claibourne and Maxwell Brockenbrough, who were assistants to Sarah Berkeley last year; and Sewell Hopkins, staff artists for the Flat Hat. Hayden Russell and Lloyd Williams are this year's snap-shot Editors. Jennings Rich is Feature Editor and J. Edward Zollinger, Photographic Editor. Anthony Britton, who served as Advertising Manager last year, is Business Manager; and his last year's assistant, Kenneth Beatty, has taken his place as Advertising manager.

PAMPHLETS ARE OF GREAT VALUE

College Library now in Possession of Pamphlets, "Choosing a Profession," Which are Free to Any Student Desiring One

The College Library is now able by the efforts of Dr. E. G. Swem to present to the student body a number of free pamphlets entitled, "Choosing a Profession," which are reprints of a series of articles on vocational possibilities, from the New York Herald Tribune, for the benefit of college students who have not yet decided upon their career.

The articles represent contributions from the leading business executives and professional men and women, in response to requests for informative material from students, parents, employers, parents and employers. They explain the opportunities and requirements of a number of occupations in a way designed to be helpful to those hesitating in making the choice of a profession.

In addition to articles on the qualities needed to break into the business world, it touches on Stenography, Finance, Electricity, Advertising, Banking, Motion Pictures, Law, Accountancy, Commercial Art, Architecture, Journalism, Social Reform, Engineering and scores of others.

This pamphlet should be of immense value to all those who have not yet made definite plans for a future occupation, and students are requested to make use of this opportunity to gain information which may be so useful in choosing a life work.

GLEE CLUBS MAKE RAPID PROGRESS

Music Department Makes Plans for Opera Here; Mandolin and Ukelele Club Organized

Mrs. Hipp, instructor of music, reports that the two glee clubs are making rapid progress and that over one hundred women and forty men have signed up for work in these clubs. These clubs which were formed during the latter part of last year have been steadily growing under the able leadership of Mrs. Hipp.

Among the plans for the winter are a number of concerts by the clubs and a Gilbert and Sullivan Opera, which Mrs. Hipp hopes to give shortly after Christmas. The Monogram Club in conjunction with the Glee clubs will give a musical show next spring which will take place of the usual minstrel.

There have also been organized a Mandolin club and a Ukelele club, which have about twenty members each. It was announced by the administration that one college credit a semester would be given for membership in any of these organizations.

Dark Mystery Shrouds W. & M. Chess Club

Mystery! Deep, foreboding and impenetrable mystery shrouds the doings of the William and Mary Chess Club. Its membership is as secret as the secrets of the grave. It is whispered about, however, that the requirement for eligibility is to have defeated one of last year's high men in at least one out of three games. Of course, it can't be said for sure, but that is what the Flat Hat heard. It is also being gossiped about by the campus gossip-mongers that a meeting will be called to organize all the men who might be interested in this sort of an organization, and to discuss plans for a tournament.

Last year during the tournament a large number entered the contest which was finally narrowed to just two men, Manley Mallard, and D. K. Van Wormer. After a series of matches, the former proved his superiority. The game between Mallard and Buck Young, faculty champion, for some reason failed to materialize.

AM. MECHANICAL ENGINEERS COME TO VISIT COLLEGE

Members of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, in session in Richmond for a few days last week were last Wednesday guests of Williamsburg and of the College of William and Mary. They came late Wednesday afternoon after closing their Richmond session. They were brought here by means of a bus train furnished through the courtesy of the Virginia Electric and Power Co.

The Engineers were the guests of the College at dinner after spending the afternoon making a tour of historical points of the city. The entire group was taken through Bruton Parish Church and while they were there Dr. W. A. R. Goodwin, rector of the church and director of the Educational campaign of the college, delivered a short address covering the outstanding points in the history of old Bruton. The group was also taken to Yorktown and shown there the many old historical spots. Dr. Rowe, head of the Department of Mathematics, is a member of the Association.

Kappa Alpha Gives Tea Following Saturday Game

Megaphone Club To Choose New Members

One of the most spirited organizations on the campus is the Megaphone Club. The members are present at every inter-collegiate game with their real W. and M. spirit, and with their megaphones which are not only seen but are heard. The present number of members in this club is twelve but new men will be chosen from the new Freshman class until the total membership reaches thirty. The following men have been chosen as officers for the year of '26-'27.

W. A. Porter, President; Sewell Hopkins, first vice-president; H. Clyde Smith, second vice-president; Marjion Joyner, secretary; Layne Simmons, treasurer.

COLLEGE BAND TO REORGANIZE

Regular Instructor for Musicians to be Secured by College; Organization Makes Good Showing at Loyola Game

Great interest is being aroused in the college band which is in process of reorganization under the direction of William Bozarth. Announcement has been made that all those wishing to try out for the band are invited to give their names to any of the officers, William Bozarth, being president, M. T. Malard, vice-president, and Rufus O. House, secretary and treasurer.

The band was organized two years ago by William Bozarth and a great deal of credit for its rapid growth and development is due him.

It is understood that this year the college is going to secure an instructor who will reside on the campus and who will have the supervision of the band. College credit will be given to those taking part in the band and also the college will furnish instruments to all members.

It is hoped that as many as can will take advantage of this splendid opportunity to show college spirit as well as to avail themselves of the musical instruction which will be given them.

The band made its first appearance at the Loyola game on Saturday and gave signs of great possibilities. Mr. Bozarth explained that the band was in better shape than it had ever been and that he felt confident it would be able to make an even better showing in a few weeks.

FIRST PROGRAM OF Y. W. GIVEN

Many Delightful Features Presented in First Meeting for Freshmen Given by Girls of the Upper Classes

Singing, dancing, reading, and pantomime comprised a delightful program of the weekly Y. W. meeting. Its purpose was merely the entertaining of the new members with various stunts by the upperclassmen.

As chairman of the evening, Kitty Myrick introduced the various participants. Ruth Burton gave a reading entitled "The Trials of a Soda Clerk," and Polly Hines exhibited some of the varied and intricate contortions of the Charleston. Jane Phillips pantomimed the agonies experienced by a man in the process of sewing on a button. The "Serenade" from "The Student Prince" and "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise" were charmingly rendered by Norma Fuqua. The new girls will be given a chance, at an early date, to try and outdo their "elders."

A somewhat novel use of Committees is being attempted this year by the Y. W. At the time when she accepts membership every girl will be asked to signify her preference among various committees. The entire membership will thus be divided into these smaller groups. On alternate Wednesdays, the Committees will meet in their groups discuss plans and problems connected with their specific work, and once during the year, prepare a program for the whole association. It is intended, through this plan, to bring every member into more intimate relationship with the Y. W. and so greatly increase the active membership.

Vesper Services will be conducted in the various dormitories every Friday night at 10 o'clock. Leaders will be appointed by the Devotional Committee.

Art Matsu may not be able to play tomorrow against Syracuse. At the time of writing the wily little general is in the hospital as a result of the injury he received last Saturday against the Loyola aggregation.

Loyola's shift plays resemble very much the war stomp used by the Haskell Indians before each of their plays. The effect of the little dance is very good, seemingly, for it is a legitimate way of getting added momentum and drive that sums up considerably during a game.

Teddy Bauserman exhibited some great line smashing Saturday. He accounted for two touchdowns and gained considerable ground through his ability to plough under. A year's experience should develop him into a veritable ramrod and one of William and Mary's most consistent yard gainers.

John Harvard suffered a 17-6 defeat last week at the hands of "Bo" McMillan's Geneva College team. It was the first opening game that the Crimson has ever lost in its long football history. The Massachusetts lads are apt to suffer further reverses next Saturday unless they watch themselves very closely.

The Indians continued to play air-tight football and Saturday ran their season's shutout record to three games. Loyola presented the stiffest opposition that the locals have met with this year and Tasker's men had the opportunity to find out just what they could do. Prospects look better now than at any stage of the training season. Most of the boys are striking their true stride and fighting their way to a berth on the varsity crew.

The Memorial Association of the dean of football authorities, Walter Camp, has formulated a plan whereby a fitting tribute to that great sportsman may be paid. Throughout the country the various universities and colleges have agreed to set aside the times of their biggest football games as Walter Camp Day. Thus can the game he loved and gave his life towards improving, pay homage and do honor to him and his memory.

Among Our Opponents

While the most interesting thing to William and Mary fans is Harvard's defeat, the outcome of the Richmond-Duke struggle is worthy of some thought. Richmond's victory classed it as a more dangerous rival than most fans thought. The Spiders clinched the decision with the most uncommon play in football; the safety. The two points instead of six came as a result of a new ruling in grid circles which covers touchdowns made behind the ten yard safety zone.

Columbia defeated Union College 26-0. George Washington took C. C. of N. Y.'s measure by a 10-7 count. Wake Forest trounced Wofford 27-9, and Lynchburg played St. Johns to a scoreless tie.

Swimming is becoming very popular at William and Mary and many men are passing away the time in that particular line of sport. The pool in Blow Gym is continually being used and the sport will probably be more popular than ever this winter.

Much interest is being shown in preparation of the many aquatic meets arranged by Coach J. C. Chandler. A class has been formed for advanced swimmers which meets every Monday and Tuesday at 7:45 to 8:30 P. M. A class also has been formed by beginners which meets on Tuesdays and Thursdays 2:00 to 3:00 and 3:00 to 4:00 o'clock. All men who wish to learn to swim and cannot arrange to be there at that time are asked to see Coach Chandler. The schedule of meets is as follows:

- October 7—Demonstration of Red Cross Life Saving.
- October 21—Freshmen class meet.
- November 4—Inter-class meet.
- Nov. 18—Inter-Fraternity meet.
- Dec. 2—Inter-Dormitory meet.
- Dec. 16—Individual open meet.

H2 E. Club Entertains at Delightful Bridge Party

Miss Marguerite Roberts was hostess at a very attractive bridge party given at her home in Williamsburg in honor of the H2 E Professional Physical Education Club on Thursday Night, September 30th.

Miss Anna Wilkins won high score prize, Miss Elizabeth Watson being awarded the booby. Very delightful refreshments were served during the game.

Besides the sixteen original members of the Club, six new girls, invited as guests were present. Miss Martha Barksdale and Mr. Tucker Jones, members of the faculty, were also among the guests.

The H2E Club, through hard work has made itself very well known and deserves much credit for the success it has attained.

Girls' Monogram Club to Have Banquet October 7

Several meetings have been called by the Girls' Monogram Club to discuss plans for the coming year. Any William and Mary girl that wears a Monogram, whether it be a point Monogram or one for participation in a particular sport, is entitled to membership in the Club.

The first social feature that the Club plans this year will be a banquet given in honor of the girls that made their letters last year. The banquet will be given at the Colonial Hotel, October 7.

The wearers of the William and Mary Monogram on the campus are: Anna Wilkins, Marjorie Carter, Nina Trevett, Mary Mears, Pat Riley, Billie Shelton, Harriet Zimmerman and Laura Whitehead.

Monday, October 4, saw the opening of a new and better intra-mural athletic contests when eight teams of the freshman basketball league played their first scheduled games in the Blow Gymnasium. The games Monday were the first on the schedule, which calls for one battle each day over a period of three weeks, according to information given by the athletic officials. Following the freshman league games, the inter-fraternity basketball league will begin. Next in line of play will be the inter-dormitory and then the inter-class basketball league games.

For diversion during the late winter and early spring there will be a series of foul shooting contests for freshmen. Although this form of exercise will not require special athletic ability it will require a skilled eye and a strong nerve.

"Helene is two-thirds married to Bob."
"Really."
"Yes, she's willing and the preacher is willing."

William and Mary will open up a new branch of athletic activities this year when the swimming team makes its initial appearance. Many of the leading colleges throughout the country take an active interest in aquatic sports and with the facilities offered by the tank in Blow Gym there is no reason why a good team could not be formed here. Regular meets will be arranged and all those who are interested are urged to come out and help to make the new branch of sports a success.

A Red Cross demonstration of swimming was given here on Thursday night and it is planned to have some kind of exhibition every week during the winter. There will be a Freshman meet next Thursday night and an inter-dormitory meet will be seen during the following week. Much interest is being shown in the water activities and the entire student body is invited to witness the weekly exhibitions.

Four Years in College are Wasted!

Such is the startling statement which heads an article by H. G. Wells recently appearing in Hearst's Cosmopolitan and International for September, 1926. Mr. Wells attacks the modern colleges and universities as being places for attracting, boarding and amusing the adolescent, in which athletics have entirely subordinated the acquisition of knowledge. He refutes the idea of degrees and that a man who holds one is educated. The four year period in college he describes as a four year holiday in which the best years of the young man and woman are wasted. He sums up his attack on universities in the statement of belief that the halls of the great colleges will reach a time when they stand empty and a "World Literature" is substituted for the education of all the people.

With such arguments totally unsubstantiated, Mr. Wells is, for a large part, writing words only. Some of his complaints are justified, it is true. Athletics are tending to a point of over-emphasis but that can be remedied. That college is a four year loaf for a good many is true, for there are two classes of students, those who are sent and those who go. We are not inclined to believe that the first class outnumbers the second.

It would seem that Mr. Wells makes hasty statements. He does not consider the fact that leaders in almost every field are college and university men, that the standard of scholarship is increasing every year, and that the college man is more in demand than ever before.

We would like to know also from whence this "World Literature" will come. There must be some starting point and it is common knowledge that all the great literatures of history have grown from and out of just such institutions as he would condemn. To be sure, Mr. Wells is right in stating that a man is not educated because he possesses a degree. Far from it. A college or university training merely opens up extensive fields and prepares a man for them in a general way. Schooling is but the beginning of an education.

The great colleges and universities are the centers in the growth and progress of civilization. They are the first voice in the thought of the times and the barometer of social and educational progress. We refuse to believe that they are useless. With all their faults they are essential parts of our civilization.

Mr. Wells has given us something to think about.

A Debate With Oxford

The peak of interest in inter-collegiate debating will be reached here within the next two weeks when William and Mary will meet the University of Oxford team in the first international contest the former has ever secured. That the debate is to be on home grounds should add a great deal more interest while the enthusiasm shown by the student body in the Arizona debate of last spring should be surpassed.

The Oxford men are the best in English university circles. For this reason it is evident that the debate council and the college administration are very fortunate in securing the debate here. William and Mary will be one of the few southern colleges to meet the Englishmen and will also be one of the first, since the debate will take place only five days after the visitors land in this country.

Interest in debating is due to take the ascendancy here and this first debate, although out of the regular season, will mark what the council hopes to make the greatest and most successful year of debating in the history of the college.

The College Band

The reorganized college band made an excellent showing at their first appearance last Saturday and it is to be hoped that the good will go on under the leadership of Billy Bozarth. It is hardly necessary for us to point out that music at the games increases the spirit one hundred percent. It puts vim and snap into the cheering corps and gives the team a new feeling of confidence. The Flat Hat heartily commends the band to the student body and hopes that they will render their full cooperation.

The Old Grad

News of Alumni Activity will be welcomed by the Alumni Office

J. MALCOLM BRIDGES
ALUMNI SECRETARY

The airplane crash of June 12 that resulted in the death of Herbert S. ("Specs") Fentress, '20, of Norfolk, took from William and Mary one of her most loyal alumni, one who had made an enviable record as a student and been twice elected as the most popular man in attendance at the College.

"Specs" was one of the alumni who kept in constant touch with the college following his graduation here in 1920. He was, perhaps, better known to the present student body than any other graduate of recent years. It is with deepest sympathy and sincere regret that the Alumni Office records his untimely death.

To make the planned "Home-Coming Day," a success it is necessary that each of the members of the Association make an effort to talk the matter up in their respective communities. This is a new venture for William and Mary, but, we believe, one containing wonderful possibilities for an annual gathering of alumni at the College. The date for this initial attempt has been selected with care, for it stands as the most attractive week-end found on the activity program of the year. The strong George Washington football team will swing into action against William and Mary; cross country track event will be featured between halves; and the Cottillon Club of the College will hold sway both Saturday afternoon and evening. Surely the attractions appeal to all, and likewise we appeal to you to put it across. All roads should lead to Williamsburg on the 23rd of this month, and, incidentally, these roads are among the best found in Virginia. From the Valley section to Richmond, from Richmond to Williamsburg, and entire eastern Virginia is connected with hard-surface roads. Take out that old road map and determine the route to meet your particular need, and we will offer a program that will meet your particular demands.

The conduct of the students at the last home game prior to the annual northern invasion is to be commended. One remarked that the finest display of spirit since Thanksgiving was apparent on Cary Field, and though it was a "time to try men's souls" the students realized that more than a game, more than the mere winning was at stake. There was a reputation for clean sportsmanship to be preserved, and it was.

Saturday will find Tasker's charges again pitted against the best offered in the east, and unless we miss our guess the big Orange team of Syracuse University will find the "Fighting Virginians" a dangerous band of invaders.

And then comes our big brother, John Harvard, to do battle with the local outfit. We venture to say that the Crimson eleven has not for a moment forgotten the scare thrown into their ranks last fall, when the Indians battled them to a standstill to retire at the small end of a 14-7 count.

The wise sages last fall who felt that no safe predictions could be made prior to the Harvard game because of the uncertainty of a Mary, no doubt realize now that the female of the species is more deadly than the male, and that the two—William and Mary—get along remarkably well.

William and Mary 15 Years Ago

From Vol. I. of the Flat Hat

Volume No. 1, of The Flat Hat made its appearance from the plant of the Old Virginia Gazette on October 3, 1911 under the direction of the following staff:

Wm. Kavanaugh Doty, Editor-in-chief.

Board of Directors

Robt. Bruce Jackson, Wm. Elliott Dodd, Wm. Mortimer Harrison, and Alan Fred English.

Herbert W. Vaden, business manager.

Arthur Wilson James, Assistant business manager.

That the college has experienced an increase in enrollment during the past few years may be seen from the following extract.

"William and Mary, the time honored alma mater of so many illustrious men, began its two hundred and nineteenth session on Thursday morning, September 21, under circumstances the most auspicious in its history. Until Saturday noon the total number of registrants was 175, an unusually large number so early in the session. The 175 students included those enrolled in the Academy."

The football schedule for 1911 included games with Georgetown, University of Virginia, University College of Medicine, Fredericksburg College, Medical College of Virginia, Randolph-Macon, Richmond College and Hampden-Sidney.

The first issue contained an account of a game between the varsity, named the "Invincibles" and the scrubs. The battle was hotly contested and ended 0 to 0. Quarterback Tommy Geddy of the varsity lost a chance to win the game when he missed a drop kick while left half "Dippy" Rowe came near scoring through the line for the scrubs.

The opening issue also contained an editorial on the source of the paper's name together with a history of The Flat Hat Club.

October 2, 1911 saw the publication of number 2 of volume 1, in which the feature story concerned a visit of Sir Edward Boyle, a descendant of Sir Robert Boyle, to the college. Robert Boyle, it is recalled was the one from who's estate the building of the Brafferton building for an Indian school was made possible. The British peer was greatly pleased with his visit to the college.

University of Virginia triumphed over the Orange and Black team in the first game while Georgetown ran rough shod over the Williamsburg eleven, 66 to 0 in the second.

Lack of patronage was the reason assigned for the closing of the dancing school. This fact shows that the introduction of co-education should have been much earlier, according to some.

A bit of humor is found in the second issue, which states that "Dippy" Rowe avers that in the game of football between the scrubs and the "Invincibles," he tackled English, of the Varsity and brought him to earth. Feeling a squirming under his right arm, he looked under said arm and found that he had brought Tommy Geddy down also.

J. LESSLIE HALL TEA

J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society welcomed the Freshmen girls at a tea given in Jefferson Hall living room last Friday afternoon. They were received by the officers of the society and spent a pleasant afternoon enjoying the music given by Bill Lawrence. Refreshments were served and the guests were invited to become members of the society.

THE DUC RULES FOR GIRLS ARE HARD

Sophomores Plan Misery for Ducesces and Seniors Look Forward to Supreme Court; Will Wear Caps Later

A meeting of ten sophomore girls was held Saturday, October 2, to decide upon rules for the ducesses, although Dr. Chandler and Miss Taylor had already approved rules for Duc Week which were submitted to them by a committee from the Sophomore Class.

It was decided at this meeting that girls who entered in February should follow the Duc rules just as those who entered in September. The upperclassmen who have been transferred from other colleges will attend Supreme Court only.

A committee of Sophomore girls, who were appointed by the president of the student government, formulated rules and submitted them to Dr. Chandler and Miss Taylor for approval. After their sanction, these rules, some of which had alterations were voted by the class.

According to custom, Supreme Court will be held at the end of the week to judge the ducesses for the offenses committed during the preceding weeks. It is thought that court will be held Monday night. This court has been held annually by the students for more than three hundred years. The senior girls elected the following officials to preside in court this year; Judge, Max Brockenbrough, Attorney for defense, Kitty Myrick, Prosecuting Attorney, Anne Chenery, Clerk, Chippie Barrow, Sheriff, Sally Coagle, and foreman of the jury, Mary Via.

The rules for Duc Week are:

Tuesday—Every Duc girl must wear a yard of green ribbon tied around her arm every day except Sunday until the caps come. On this day books must be carried in a paper bag.

Wednesday—From 9 A. M. until 10 P. M. every duc must obey every reasonable command by an upperclassman woman, such as shoes shined, etc.

Thursday from 9 A. M. until 10 P. M.—Upperclassmen and women shall be addressed as "Mr" and "Miss" respectively by ducs. They shall also say "ma'am" and "sir" when speaking to their superiors. The ducs must give upper-class women right of way in the halls, and hold all doors open for them to enter. Ducs shall rise when upper-class women enter the room.

Friday—On this day the Ducs shall use absolutely no make-up and wear no jewelry. If a bar pin is needed use a large safety pin.

Saturday—Duc girls must walk entirely around Lord Botetourt and then run around him, instead of just passing by him. They must do this at least twice. Supreme Court will be held on this night and the Duc girls will have to answer all charges brought against them.

Madden's Delawareans to Play for Opening Dances

George Madden and his Delawareans who were so favorably received last year at the finals will furnish the music for the Opening Dances to be held in Blow Gymnasium on October 22nd and 23rd.

Because of their being a part of the Home-Coming Celebration they are expected to be the largest dances of the year and, in that a large number of the alumni are expected to be here to enjoy them with the other attractions that Home-Coming will afford.

The committee is putting forth every effort to secure the best in decorations and entertainment, the last named of which will be greatly added to by the number of new features which George Madden has added to his repertoire since he was here last. These will undoubtedly add much to the making of the dances a truly gala occasion.

With the hemispherical integrator the illuminating engineer measures light intensities and distribution. These laboratory findings are practically applied to improve our everyday illumination.

When the sun goes down

More than 350,000,000 incandescent lamps, with a combined light of nine billion candlepower, make city streets, stores, and homes brighter than ever before.

In bungalow or mansion, workshop or factory, dormitory or auditorium, there is no excuse for poor illumination. We have cheaper and better lighting in the electric lamp than ever before; for the dollar that bought 1,115 candlepower-hours of light with the carbon-filament lamps of 1886, now buys 16,200 candlepower-hours of light with the MAZDA lamps.

Not only more light, but correctly applied light, is the order of the day. The electric lamp, with its flameless yet highly concentrated light source, lends itself ideally to reflectors, shades, and screens. It is controlled light—safe light. And illumination becomes an exact science.

During college days and in after life, correct lighting must ever be of paramount importance to the college man and woman. Good lighting is the worthy handmaiden of culture and progress.

The General Electric Company is the world's largest manufacturer of incandescent lamps. And behind the G-E MAZDA lamps are vast research laboratories dedicated to cheaper and better electric illumination, and to the conservation of eyesight.

A series of G-E advertisements showing what electricity is doing in many fields will be sent on request. Ask for booklet GEK-1.

A GLIMPSE INTO the COLLEGE WORLD

Here and There among the Exchanges of the Flat Hat

Instead of a "Megaphone Club," Carson-Newman, of Tennessee, has a "Pep Squad" which is the combination of a "Megaphone Club" and a "Jazz Band." This lives up to its name in getting up enthusiasm for rallies and games.

The Sophomores at Westhampton decided to be easy on the "Rats" this year and had only one day of hazing instead of the usual prolonged period. The main feature of the day was the comic costumes the freshmen were required to wear.

The honor council at Roanoke College has formed a committee to work upon the matters concerning the Honor System outside the College. This will include investigation of cases in which bills with town merchants have run up without intention of payment.

Sophomores at North Carolina State paint numerals on the walls and "request" the "Rats" to scrub them out with bricks.

The student band of North Carolina State College recently participated in the Raleigh Good Will tour through eastern North Carolina and Virginia, playing in about thirty towns and cities.

Four students have recently entered North Carolina State College from Orange Free State, South Africa.

The U. of North Carolina has a thoroughly organized cheering unit of 250 men to lead the student body in cheering at the games and to be known as the "Cheers." This is only another part of the seemingly universal movement toward more cheering in the college.

An over abundance of nuts on the campus of Albright College has caused the administration to request the state game department for a supply of squirrels. It is hoped that the squirrels like only the nuts that grow on trees.

Vernon Crozier and Charles Lake, of Ohio walked and bummed 5000 miles about the country in order to reach Duke University this fall. They were three months on the way.

There are 106 men on the freshman football squad at the N. C. State College this fall.

Franklin Field at the University of Pennsylvania is being materially enlarged and a new gymnasium is being constructed at one end of it. When completed Penn can boast of one of the largest and best equipped athletic plants in the United States.

Civilization has not quite destroyed man's desire for the adventure as well as learning. This fact can well be illustrated by a 1400 mile ride taken by two students of Forman University. These two youths who happen to be football stars, left the state of Oklahoma a little early in order to be in time for football practice, with only 25 dollars in their pockets. They arrived a little bit late, sold their car for 30 dollars and had five left to spend.

The Sophomore Class will give a tea Sunday afternoon for the faculty and students at 4:30 o'clock in the "Y" room. Miss Elizabeth Duke will be hostess assisted by Miss Polly Venable. The guests will be received by the officers of the class, McLain O'Ferrall, William Bickers, and James Robinson; and by Dr. Bruce and Miss Cummings of the Faculty.

BARRETT HALL FIRST MEMORIAL

New Girls' Dormitory will be First Building on Campus to be Named for a Woman; Dr. Barrett on Board of Visitors

The first building on the campus to be named for a woman will be the Kate Waller Barrett Memorial Dormitory adjoining Jefferson Hall on the Jamestown Road. It is to be dedicated to the late Dr. Kate Waller Barrett, well known educator and humanitarian.

Dr. Barret always loved to come to William and Mary. She was a great advocate of co-education, believing that it helped both men and women. She was appointed to the Board of Visitors by Governor Westmoreland in 1918, and later was reappointed by Governor E. Lee Trinkle, during which time she was made a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Shortly before her death, there appeared an article in World's Work about her work as a sociologist, which stated that it would take more than a page of their issue to name the commissions on which she had served. When she died, February 23, 1925, the flag on the Capitol was placed at half mast. She is the only woman on whom this honor has ever been conferred.

President Roosevelt once said of Dr. Barrett when he appointed her to represent the United States in an educational conference, that she was "the most useful woman in America."

Phi Kappa Tau Will Be Installed In November

Pledge Chapter of Phi Kappa Tau, formerly Pi Epsilon Beta, will be installed as Alpha Theta chapter of the national fraternity on November 11, 12 and 13, according to an announcement by the local chapter recently. The local was granted a charter last May by the Grand Council and the entire chapter was pledged just before the close of the college session in June.

The local chapter was sponsored for Phi Kappa Tau by Rev. H. E. Cromer, pastor of the Methodist church, of Williamsburg, and a member of Beta Chapter at Ohio State University, as well as one of the founders of the national fraternity. Plans for the installation have not as yet been completed but will be announced at an early date.

Twenty active members include the following: G. Dewey Grove, A. Scott Noblin, T. W. Gayle, Edwin L. Lamberth, J. Heywood Bell, C. H. Marston, C. M. Smith, A. R. Simmons, Jennings Rich, C. L. Simmons, S. Nelson Brown, M. Carl Andrews, Linwood Lawson, Ernest Neale, Welton Blossom, J. B. Hornbarger, D. B. Daughtrey, Robert L. Hendren, E. P. Simpkins, and Joseph T. Ecker.

The chapter has about forty alumni, many of whom are expected to return for the installation exercises.

Nine Men Are Elected to Membership in B. B. Club

The B. B. Club, a social organization of upperclassmen, recently held its first meeting for the purpose of reorganization and the election of new members.

The old men of the society are H. B. Frazier, Jr., L. B. Todd, R. B. Turnbull, J. W. Irvin, W. C. West, Jr., and W. E. Bull.

Pledges are Payne Terry, "Art" Matsu, Wallace Murphy, Louis Rueger, "Nubby" Whitlock, "Mike" Britton, "Mac" O'Ferrall, Bill Linn and Dave Hillegas.

Philomatheans Hold a Business Session

The Philomathean Literary Society met on Friday evening at seven o'clock in Philomathean Hall for the first regular meeting of the year. There was no program, and the only business was the election of a vice-president. Oscar Cordle was elected to this office. Short talks were given by the officers, mostly about the Freshman contest. Four members applied for admission and were duly initiated, after which the meeting was adjourned until this Friday evening when there will be a regular program.

"13" Club Pledges

The Thirteen Club, a somewhat mysterious organization well-known here on the campus pledged six men at their annual election last week. They were Pat Patterson, well-known as head cheer-leader; Bill West; Jack Irwin; Doc Turnbull; Nubby Whitlock, of College Shop fame; and Meb Davis, who has made a name for himself on the gridiron and on the basketball floor. The old members of the club are: Art Matsu, president, Scott Anderson, Payne Terry, Hen Frazier and Dave Hillegas.

Former Student Calls French Education Cheap

That Boyd G. Carter, former student of William and Mary and Associate editor of the Flat Hat elect for this term, has matriculated in the University of Toulouse, France, was the word received by friends of his on the campus in a letter received this week. Mr. Carter who was a Freshman at William and Mary last year has joined his brother, J. D. Carter, also formerly of William and Mary, in resuming his education this year.

Besides verifying some of the wild things reputed to exist in France, and especially in gay Paris, Carter comments also on the tremendous value of his dollars in that country. In this connection he mentions the fact that his expenses amount to approximately fifteen dollars a month in American money.

Carter sailed from New York early in September and is at this time a regularly entered student at the French university.

"Y" PROGRAM IS FAR REACHING

Cabinet Under Direction of Mr. Cassidy Outlines an Ambitious Program for the Session; Each Department to be Strengthened

Under the leadership of Mr. Cassidy the cabinet of the Young Men's Christian Association have formulated a policy and program for the '26-'27 session which will more completely meet the increasing needs of the student body than ever before. It is not the great accomplishments of the past but the opportunities of the present and future that the Y. M. C. A. is concerning itself about.

The general objective of the Association is to make the will of Christ intelligible and effective in the lives of the students and thus to lead them to faith in God. This goal is to be reached in three steps. First, to conserve student interest for essential things and moral elements in the students education for life. Third, to place responsibility of Association work on more shoulders.

Departments

In order to make possible the realization of its aims the Association has organized its workers into departments. In the department of religious education, or the publicity and cooperation department, or the social department, or the extension department there is a place for every student to fill. Moreover the filling of this position by the student will be beneficial to both society and himself.

Of the departments, religious education is the ranking one. In the words of Mr. Cassidy, "The aim of this department is to develop students' religious nature. Not to departmentalize religion but to make it an integral part in every phase of the young man's life."

Besides that work which is usually carried on by this department there will be two special evangelistic campaigns of three days each. These will be conducted by Dr. J. Stitt Wilson, who was here last year, and other men of renown. In addition to this the department of religious education will secure ten speakers of note to bring world view point and understanding of great problems, with special reference to missions, sex education, industry, and the development of personality. This will be accomplished through the Southern Division of the Y. M. C. A. and already a number have been secured including Rabbi Edward N. Calisch, of Richmond, Henry Lewis Smith, president of Washington and Lee College, Dr. Sherwood Eddy of New York and Dr. Swan who was presented to us last Wednesday.

Publicity Changes

Among the innovations in the department of publicity and cooperation one will be to conduct information booths at all public gatherings of consequence at the college. To keep for the convenience of the students at the "Y" headquarters in Blow Gym the following: a directory of the students, various facts about student life and students activities compiled from the questionnaires, book catalogue, information as to employment of spare hours, stamps, stationery, string, wrapping paper, etc. To keep on file all reports of the General Secretary and various Committee chairmen. To have a "General Information Contest" open to entire student body and with prizes for the two highest grades made.

The social department will endeavor to make the "Y" room a social center of the highest type for an increasing group of men by whatever means the "Y" room committee can devise. Beginning to-morrow night the social department will cater particularly to those students who do not care for dancing by the plan of having "Open House" for both men and women on Saturday night when there is dancing in Jefferson. Beginning Sunday afternoon, with the Sophomore class as hostess for that date, teas will be held on Sunday afternoons by various campus groups.

Extension Projects

The extension department has planned for this session to send "Gospel Teams," on the order of the one leaving Sunday to all the nearby churches on the peninsula. To train a class in Boys' Club work and place them in positions of service in Williamsburg and the community. It was in this connection that Mr. Fred Thompson, the boys work secretary for the state spoke to some of the ambitious students last week. Besides these projects the extension department feels that its greatest work is to bring the entire college community to realize the value of William and Mary students representing their school in religious and social service throughout this peninsula and finally in eastern Virginia.

GOOD PROGRAM IS HELD BY PHOENIX

Full Program at Second Meeting Senior Literary Society; will Concentrate on Freshman Contest

Phoenix Literary Society met on last Friday evening in Phoenix Hall. A full program including a debate, on the question: "Resolved: That co-education should be abolished," had been advertised, so there was a large attendance. About twenty men applied for admission and were initiated, after which D. S. Mitchell, president of the society spoke briefly to the Freshmen, urging them to try out for the Freshman Contest, as the Phoenix Society had lost the banner only once since 1922, and intended to get it back from the Philomatheans this year.

The program was as follows: Current Events by L. L. Born; Oration by Frank Hopkins; Reading by Marion Nolly; Declamations by Stanley Fein, and Russell Liverman; Debate, Affirmative by Melvin Fields and H. W. Ramsey; Negative by M. W. Thompson and Louis Rotgin.

A similar program will be given tonight at 7:15 in Phoenix Hall. All members, and also visitors, are assured a welcome.

CLAYTON-GRIMES BIOLOGICAL CLUB BEGINS ITS WORK

On Thursday night of last week, the Clayton-Grimes Biological Club held its first meeting of the session. Dr. Davis, head of the department of Biology, and Sewell Hopkins, president of the club, talked on plans for the organization this year. It was proposed that the annual trip of the club to the Dismal Swamp be taken this fall instead of waiting until spring as has been the custom heretofore. At the next meeting pictures of the swamp will be shown and a program on things of interest there will be given. The question of whether the trip will be made the latter part of this month or sometime in the spring will be definitely decided at this time.

Ten semester credits in Biology are no longer prerequisite to membership in the club: anyone who is interested in the subject may join.

The only officers-elect who returned to college this session are Sewell Hopkins, president, and Francis Healey, secretary. The other officers will be elected at the next meeting.

list this under "major sports"

THERE'S no other sport on the calendar to compare with smoking a jimmy-pipe packed with P. A. Indoors and out. Any season. You win even when you draw, if you get what we mean. And how you will draw, once you know the wonderful taste of Prince Albert!

Cool as an over-cut notice from the dean. Sweet as the thoughts of a holiday. Fragrant as woodland flowers after a spring shower. P. A. never bites your tongue or parches your throat. The Prince Albert process fixed that the day P. A. matriculated.

Come out for this major sport. Get yourself a tidy red tin at that nearby smoke-shop where they hand out P. A. sunshine. You and Prince Albert are going to be great buddies right from the start. Because there just never was another tobacco like Prince Albert!

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

PRINCE ALBERT

Y. M. EXTENSION TEAMS ARE BUSY

Team of Extension Division Will Make Tour of Churches on Road to Richmond Sunday; Much Interest Aroused

Leaving by car Sunday morning and returning the same evening, a "Y" extension team with a distinctly religious purpose will visit three churches between Williamsburg and Richmond. On this first trip a program which will take the place of regular church services will be rendered in the morning at Providence Forge, in the afternoon, at Highland Springs and in the evening at Meadow.

The team making this trip will be composed of six students who have proven themselves both willing and capable of doing work of this nature. Included in this six will probably be William Morrow, L. A. Williams, and George Hunt. The expenses will be paid by the churches.

The program will consist of short talks on religious subjects intermixed with special music. There will also be some kind of attraction of special interest to the young people.

The aim of the extension department of the Young Men's Christian Association is to have teams to represent the religious side of College as much as its athletic and literary branches. It plans to send during the year such teams to all of the churches on the peninsula. This, of course, will give the public a chance to see that the religious progress of the college is keeping stride with the great material development.

Besides these "Gospel Teams" the extension department will arrange educational trips to visit the Hampton Normal Institute, the shipping yards at Portsmouth and other places of similar interest.

CANVASES ON DISPLAY

Mr. M. G. Nardini of Richmond, has on display in the College Library a collection of lithographed canvases in imitation of original tapestries. Each canvas is a reproduction of a famous painting and the collection has attracted a great deal of attention on account of the perfection of the process, recently invented which makes an exact reproduction possible.

Several players looked especially well in action yesterday. Blossom drew much comment from the stands by his broken field running, and Cook staged several end runs that gained the Indians a good many yards.

Lee Todd had to be removed from the game on account of further injuries to his nose which was hurt badly the week before.

ALPHA CLUB IS COVETED HONOR

Oldest Women's Honorary Organization on Campus Selects Ten Seniors Each Year. Plans Are Made for the Coming Session

The initial meeting of the women's honorary organization, the Alpha club took place last Tuesday at which time definite plans were made for the coming year. The club, which was founded in 1918, each year contributes some gift to the college. This year the club intends to have a subscription card party in addition to its annual tag day for the purpose of raising funds. The small living room in Jefferson Hall has been secured for the exclusive use of girls, and Alpha plans to redecorate it and supply it with magazines and books for their use.

Alpha Club is the oldest women's organization on the campus, and the members are elected to the society in recognition of four years of leadership on the campus. Each year ten outstanding girls are selected from the senior class on the basis of scholarship and capability and participation in activities. It is purely an honorary organization and corresponds in a general way to the men's O. D. K.

The present members of the Alpha Club are: Max Brockenbrough, president, Ruth Yeamans, Anna Withers, Anna Wilkins, Mary Hurt, Margaret Holman, Kitty Myrick, Carolyn Ribble, Virginia Ayers, Minnie Robb Phaup, and Mae Muir and Lucy Jessup, alumnae, and the Misses Barksdale, Hall, and Barney of the Faculty.

DEBATE TEAM MEET OXFORD HERE OCT. 20

The English team is made up of some of the most experienced and best trained debaters in British University circles. This year marks the fifth tour taken by Oxford in this country, all of the debates being arranged by The Institute of International Education, of New York.

"Resolved, That Monarchy is the Best Policy," has been chosen as the subject for the debate, a question not only well balanced but one which will afford plenty of room for discussion and at the same time maintain the interest of an audience.

Since the college Chapel proved itself entirely too small at the Arizona debate last year, the council and their advisors are making every effort to secure a larger auditorium. It is hoped that the new Phi Beta Kappa auditorium may be finished in time for such a purpose or that the new Methodist Church auditorium may be used. Further announcement will be made within the next few days. It is hoped that one of the most prominent men in Virginia may be secured to act as chairman of the debate.

Oxford prefers a vote of the audience on the merits of the question, it is understood this being of practically the same nature as the method used in the Arizona debate of last season.

The debate council together with Dr. Morton and other advisors are extending every effort to make this debate a fitting beginning to what is expected to be William and Mary's greatest year in intercollegiate debating.
