Women's Student Government Will Sponsor May Day Program

May Queen to Be Nominated Next Monday At Open Meeting

REHEARSALS BEGIN SOON

Committee Consists of Stevens, Sargeant, Wilkerson, Storch, Hasseltine, Butterfield, Hawthorne

May Day, which will take place Thursday, May 7, will be sponsored for the first time by the Women's Student Government Association. Heretofore the May Day festivities have been in charge of the Physical Education Department. When it was made known recently that this Department would be unable to assume the responsibility this year, the Women's organization voted to take charge of the pageant. The Association also voted to vest the power of appointing a committee to plan the festivities in its president.

The members of the Committee appointed include a representative of each department of the college. They are: Edith Stevens, chairman; Physical Education Department; Marian Sargeant, Fine Arts; Annis Wilkerson, Music; Catherine Hasseltine, Dramatics; Hazel Storch, Dancing; Mary Butterfield, Home Economics; Virginia Hawthorne, English.

The idea to be carried out in the decorations and activities has not been definitely decided upon by the Committee in charge. The May Queen will be chosen by the members of the Women's Student Government at its next meeting. Her name will not be disclosed until May Day. As in past years, the May Queen will be chosen from the women students who are members of the senior class.

Last year the May Festivities took place on the front campus. An

MR. CHARLES HURREY SPEAKS TO SOCIETIES

Y. M. C. A. Chairman Addresses Joint Meeting of Three Literary Societies

Mr. Charles Hurrey, internationally known speaker, addressed a joint meeting of the J. Leslie Hall, Philomathean and Phoenix Literary Societies, Friday, March 6 in Washington Hall.

The subject of Mr. Hurrey's speech was "America As Others See Us". He spoke on the opinions expressed to him by a fairly representative group of citizens in the leading countries of Europe and Asia. Some of his statements were not pleasing to hear but their veracity is not to be doubted.

The speaker emphasized the important part played by the American tourist abroad, especially the student, in forming these opinions. He mentioned the false impression the Motion Pictures were giving in neighboring countries. Films censored here are exported as representative of American culture. Because of these many foreigners believe us to be a nation of law breakers, corrupt politicians and

DUAL LEAD WINS OPERA SUCCESS

Gilbert-Sullivan Operetta Given Last Week By Combined Glee Clubs

LARGE AUDIENCE FILLS HALL

Presenting the "Pirates of Penzance", the combined glee clubs scored one of the outstanding musical hits of the season on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, March 4 and 5, in Phi Beta Kappa Hall. The operetta, a Gilbert and Sullivan hit, carried an appealing plot, delightful lyrics, and clever choruses. As the initial effort of the majority of the performers, it represented a real achievement in the field of music here.

In the leading masculine role, Bill Scott surprised the student body with his lyric tenor voice, and had his manly beauty set off to greater advantage than in any previous campus appearance. In his first dramatic showing, he gave promise of excellent potentialities as a budding hero.

Opposite Mr. Scott, Miss Hazel Storch was cast as Mabel, the leading lady, in a part which offered excellent possibilities for her trained voice. She exhibited a coloratura soprano which rose to fine sweet qualities in several instances. As a dancer, and an actress of experience, Miss Storch possesses qualities to enhance her appearance in any musical performance of the caliber selected in "Pirates of Penzance". This was not her first appearance on the William and Mary stage; her interpretation of Naughty Marietta being a pleasant memory here.

Arthur McLawhon, as the blustering pirate king, gave a convincing exhibition of his usual full, rich baritone, and displayed delightful enthusiasm in his role. George Stewart, as the pompous major-general, shared honors with Mr. McLawhon, and deserves special mention for his excellent performance in a difficult dramatic characterization. He carried a large share of the Gilbert-Sullivan humor.

Page Johnson's dramatic abilities were brought out to advantage in the very difficult characterization of Ruth, the piratical maid of all work. Tom McCaskey displayed promising

Funds For Debate Trip Go to Women's Council

At the conclusion of the joint meeting of the men's and women's literary societies on March 6th, a special meeting of the J. Leslie Hall Literary Society was called by Alice Miller, President.

The purpose of the meeting was to take up the question of donating $175 instead of $150 to the Women's Debate Council, the extra $25 to go toward a trip for the freshman Women's Debate team. It was decided to appropriate this extra amount, thus enabling a freshman team, consisting of Louise Lang and Eleanor

ANNUAL MANLESS DANCE SCORES BIG SUCCESS

Jefferson Gym Is Scene of Festivities; College Orchestra Furnishes Dance Music

COSTUMES ARE NUMEROUS

Monday evening, March ninth, at eight o'clock, the annual Y. W. C. A. Manless Dance took place in Jefferson Gymnasium. The college orchestra furnished the music. The gymnasium was decorated in a color scheme of green and lavender with the end of the floor fenced off by lattices upon which were banked pine boughs. Between these lattices was a drop of black with large white rabbits in the foreground. A refreshment booth decorated in the predominant colors of green and lavender had been set up in one corner, and refreshments were served at intermission.

The costumes occupied a wide range of choice. In men's costumes there was everything from the Bowery outfit to the Annapolis uniform, and for the women there were gowns dating from the Victorian era to the present day.

The committees for the dance were as follows: Frances Harvey, publicity; Helen Chase, Grace Leitch, Sophie Croxton, and Vinna Ferrell, decorations; Eleanor Buchanan, Betty Sargeant, Mertie Cutherell, and Harriet Pittard, refreshments; and Helen Bell and Mary Jean, tickets.

According to the members of the senior cabinet of the Y. W. C. A. this Manless Dance was the most successful one given in several years. The decorations, costumes, and spirit in general were good this year.

WILLIAM AND MARY PLAYERS TO ENACT MERCHANT OF VENICE

Shakespeare's Play Will Be Presented March 27 and 28 Under Direction of Miss Althea Hunt

"The Merchant of Venice" will be presented by the William and Mary Players Friday, March 27, and Saturday, March 28, under the direction of Miss Althea Hunt. Each year the players have enacted one of the Shakespeare's dramas, and they are continuing their custom this year. According to present reports, the "Merchant of Venice" will be one of the most attractive plays of the year. It is expected to attract a large crowd from Williamsburg and vicinity.

Martin Jurow is taking the male lead as Shylock, and Mary Jane Aude is taking the female lead as Portia. Lee Rubin is portraying Bassanio. The remainder of the cast is as follows: Antonio, William A. J. Bowen; Duke of Venice, Ernest A. DeBorde-

MUSIC STUDENTS TO GIVE CONCERT

Selected Group to Present Dinner Concert At Floating School At Jamestown

SOUTHERN MELODIES FEATURE

A selected group of young artists from the Music Department will give an hour's dinner concert at the Raymond Riordon School on Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock under the direction of Professor George M. Small.

Included in this group will be several leading characters of the opera "Pirates of Penzance". Hazel Storch, William Scott, Arthur McLawhon, Agnes Downs and Tom McCaskey will appear on this program by the special request of the Floating School, which attended the opera last Thursday en masse. The William and Mary male quartette, composed of Murray Harrison, John Eggleston, Tom McCaskey and Arthur McLawhon, will render a group of six numbers and the College instrumental quartette, composed of Francis Hull, John Arminio, William Glazier, and Howard Scammon will give four or more selections.

Miss Storch, Mr. Scott, and Mr. McLawhon are scheduled to sing two solo numbers each and Mr. Hull will be heard in two selections on the saxophone. Mr. Scott has been requested to give "Mother Machree" as one of his numbers, a selection with which he won widespread popularity as a radio artist last year on a William and Mary program at Norfolk. Mr. Hull, who was connected with one of the country's leading orchestras recently, has prepared two very beautiful renditions. He, too, has appeared on several radio programs in Storch and Mr. McLawhon, both representatives of this school at the Atwater-Kent Audition contest, will select appropriate numbers from their large repertoires for the Sunday night concert.

The male quartette, which has recently found much favor via the radio route, will give a program of Southern melodies and negro spirituals, "Kentucky Babe", "I Got Shoes", and rather novel arrangement of "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia", and "Alma Mater" will feature their group. Distinctly Southern tunes were asked for

Dean of Women Compiles List of Favorite Studies

Dr. Grace Warren Landrum, Dean of Women, recently compiled a list of the favorite studies of the class of 1934. This list was based on statements made in admission blanks, and was prepared for comparison of choice of majors and minors to be made by students in the sophomore year.

Out of 245 freshmen women in the first semester, 179 made replies definite enough for tabulation. English seemed to be the most favorite study. 91 women expressing their preference for it. History was second with 63;

Vinna Ferrall In Position of Sophomore Member to Council

ELECTION HELD AGAIN IN APRIL

Secretaries of Judicial and Executive Councils to Be Voted On Again

Margaret Baughman was chosen chairman of the Honor Committee and Vinna Ferrall, Sophomore member of the Honor Committee, March 9, at an election held by the Women's Student Government Association. Owing to a misprint on the ballots, the Executive Council has declared the voting for the Secretary of the Executive Council unofficial. It will also be necessary to vote again for the office of Secretary of Judicial Committee on account of a tie.

Margaret Baughman has been serving as Junior member of the Honor Council, which well prepares her for her new duties. She is also Secretary. Treasurer of the Women's Athletic Council and was manager of this year's hockey team. Vinna Ferrall, who is now a member of the Freshman Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, has played hockey and basketball on the Freshman teams.

The ballots were printed with Mariana Thomas's name as a nominee for Secretary of the Judicial Committee, whereas she was really nominated for Secretary of Executive Council. This error will be remedied at a meeting of the Association on March 16 when the assembly will vote by ballot on the three nominees: Mary Butterfield, Margaret Chamberlin, and Mariana Thomas. The tie between Rachel Black and Minnie Mae Shreves for Secretary of the Judicial Council will be voted off on the next and last

SCHOOL CONFERENCE HOLDS CAMPUS MEET

Superintendents, Supervisors and Principals Will Be Present; Dr. Ernest Horn Will Speak

The seventh annual conference of the public school superintendents, supervisors, and principals of Tidewater Virginia will take place here Friday and Saturday, May 1 and 2, according to recent announcement from the education department. The featured speaker of the conference will be Dr. Ernest Horn, of the University of Iowa. Delegates numbering approximately 75 are expected to be present.

Meetings will continue for two days opening Friday night with a banquet at the college dining hall, presided over by President Chandler. Following the banquet an informal smoker is planned in Blow Gymnasium. Saturday will be concerned with round-table discussions led by Dr. Horn and various prominent local figures whose names are not yet available. It is expected, according to educational authorities here, that numerous problems in the field of public school adminis-by the Riordon authorities since they are attempting to give their student body contact with the South in every way possible. These numbers will all be given without musical accompaniment.

The instrumental quartette has a very large list of numbers to select from and will render four to suit the occasion. This group of young musicians has appeared in concerts several times this year and have achieved quite a reputation for themselves. It is composed of two violins, a saxophone, and piano.

The ten William and Mary artists will be entertained by the Riordon School at a dinner preceding the concert. According to the business manager of the school elaborate preparations are being made to make the visit of this group as pleasant as possible.

Midway the program, Professor Small will teach the members of the Floating School the William and Mary Victory Song. Music and words of this song and of the Alma Mater are now being printed for distribution among the boys at Jamestown so that they might not only learn the William and Mary songs but may also keep them after they leave this vicinity. Mr. Riordon, president and founder of the school, made a special request that some of the William and Mary airs be taught his boys, and the "Alma Mater" and "Victory" were selected by Mr. Small as the most representative of this College.

possibilities in his part of the pirate lieutenant. His voice was clear and well suited to the role. Jimmy Littlepage was convincing as the little police sergeant who feels that a policeman's lot is not a happy one. He and the chorus of policemen gave a picture of England's very stupid and very scared constables.

The extreme difficulty of the Opera and the short time spent in rehearsing made it hard for the play to be properly staged. However the scenery designed by William Wellons gave a colorful background to the operetta which added a great deal to the performance.

The chorus work was not smooth in places, but this may have been attributable to the small amount of time which was spent in practicing together. The play which is one of the most outstanding musical performances given on the campus this year was characterized by the extreme subtle humor of the author. Considering the difficulties in the lack of time which the cast had the department put on a performance which entertained large audiences both nights, it was the best performance of its kind this year.

formal ballot of this year.
At the next meeting the following officers will be nominated: Chairman of the Judicial Committee, two Senior members of the Honor Committee, house presidents of the larger dormitories, Sophomore members of the Judicial Committee, two representatives-at-large to the Executive Council. The nominees for these offices will be voted on by Australian ballot on March 23 in the four dormitories. On the first Monday in April, a meeting of the Association will be held in which the new officers will be formally installed in their offices.

Los Quixotescos Holds Banquet For Initiates

The members of Los Quixotescos were entertained at a banquet in honor of the new initiates, Friday, March 6th, 8:30 P. M., at the White Heron Tea Room. The club colors, red and yellow, were carried out in the decorations. Rachel Black, the new president of the club, succeeding Emmett Riddick, acted as toastmistress, and gave the opening welcome to the new members. Elsie Ford responded in behalf of the initiates, speaking of their happiness at becoming members, and desired to cooperate in all the club activities. Both speeches were given in Spanish.

Dr. Fisher, of the French Department, was the guest of honor. He congratulated the club on its splendid record and many activities. Two interesting talks in Spanish on the founding of the club by Senor Costello, and the Spanish language, were given by Miss Brugada and Professor Iturralde. The program was brought to a close by a talk by Professor Toglia.

F. H. C. SOCIETY HOLDS MEETING

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the Flat Hat Club Society was held Wednesday, March 4 at the home of Dr. Swem. Besides the undergraduate members present there were several members of the faculty, including Dr. W. T. Hodges and Dr. P. P. Peebles.

As part of the program Thomas Ayers read a thesis on "Mussolini and the Fascist Government", which he prepared for the occasion. Following this, the meeting was turned into a round table constructive discussion with current problems facing the college as the general subject. Dr. Peebles then gave an informal talk about the history, policies, customs, purposes, and traditions of the Flat Hat Club Society.

The meeting was concluded with a humorous talk by Dr. Hodges in which he related incidents pertaining to the student bodies and members of the faculty of former times. After Earl Swem and Lawrence Shaffer served refreshments, the meeting adjourned.

divorcees. The press, he stated, tends to substantiate these impressions.

Another factor he discussed was the opinions formed by the many foreign students in this country. They do not have the opportunity of seeing the smaller institutions of learning but usually go to the Universities for their degrees. He said it was our duty to make known the advantages of a college of the size and standing of William and Mary. He suggested the possibility of its becoming a center for foreign students specializing in history. He said we should receive these visitors cordially and encourage their attendance here.

He next touched upon the opinions held by the people of South America, Mexico and the Philippines which were none too favorable.

Mr. Hurrey balanced his statements by telling the things which the foreign people appreciate in Americans; their philanthropies, support of popular education, and improvement of labor conditions.

ALUMNI DINNER IN STORE FOR WASHINGTON

Event Will Take Place March 16 At The University Club

SPEECH BY DR. CHANDLER

Secretary Edward C. Johnson, of the Washington, D. C. William and Mary Club has sent out the following letters to the alumni of that section regarding the dinner to be given on Monday evening, March 16th, 1931 at the University Club, Washington. Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, President of the College will deliver the leading address at this time:

Washington, D. C.
March 3, 1931

Dear Alumnus:

A form letter—wastebasket it goes—but READ FURTHER. The Spring meeting and dinner of the Alumni Club will be held at the University Club, 15th and I Streets, N. W., Washington, D. C. on Monday, March 16th, at 8:00 P. M.

Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, President of the College will be here and have something of particular interest to say to all who are interested in William and Mary (and who isn't?).

We pledge you solemnly that we are going to have a bigger and better dinner—shorter and better speeches.

The officers of the club have this to say—the success of our dinner is totally dependent on your response to this letter. We are asking that you return the enclosed post card at once, stating just whether you prefer a regular dinner at $2.00 per plate, or a buffet supper at $1.00 per plate.

We are trying to get a "full house" and simply because this letter is mimeographed to you it does not in the least indicate a lack of personal interest. Mail your card back to us at once, and we'll arrange a "ringside" plate for you.

Cordially,

Edward C. Johnson,

Secretary.

The officers of the Washington Club are as follows: President, Walter B. Clarkson; First Vice-President, Doctor Edson L. Whitney; Second Vice-President, Hon. S. Otis Bland; Third Vice-President, F. Shields McCandlish; Treasurer, Cecil R. Heflin; Secretary, Edward C. Johnson.

Panhellenic Plans For Library Shelf Next Year

Panhellenic announces that, starting in September, 1931, there will be a shelf in the College Library on which will be placed the monthly publications of each woman's fraternity on campus, as well as a filing system, containing specific information concerning each fraternity.

This plan, made possible through the co-operation of Dr. Swem, will enable new girls entering school to obtain any desired information by referring to this shelf.

LAWRENCEVILLE WAS SCENE OF ALUMNI MEET

Greensville - Brunswick Club Meeting Took Place Last Week

DR. HODGES MAKES ADDRESS

Wilson E. Somers, President of the Greensville-Brunswick William and Mary Club staged a brilliant alumni meeting at the Lawrenceville Parish House last week. Rev. and Mrs. F. A. Sapp made all the local arrangements for the banquet. Mr. T. R. Witten headed the musical program which consisted of college songs and concluded with Alma Mater. Dr. W. T. Hodges, Dean of Men of the College of William and Mary made the alumni address in which he outlined the progress of alumni activities and gave the club a very interesting account of the restoration and growth of the college. He represented Dr. J. A. C. Chandler who was unavoidably detained. Geo. W. Guy outlined the progress made with the William and Mary Clubs and complimented the local organization on their success in bringing together so many of the alumni from the two counties.

Miss Lucy Mason Holt, Vice-President of the General William and Mary Alumni Association, Dr. C. L. Palmer, A. Z. Williams and R. H. Owen, of Crewe, were introduced and made short timely addresses on the wonderful spirit exhibited at William and Mary. Each of the alumni was introduced and gave a brief account of himself since his college days. President Wilson Somers appointed Miss Willie Lee Rogers of the Lawrenceville High School as historian of the club who will collect all the data regarding the members.

The following attended the banquet: Wilson E. Somers, of North Emporia; Colin Neal, Clayton Watkins, of Emporia; Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Elmore, of Alberta; H. W. Sanford, of Alberta; Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Palmer, of Lawrenceville; Rev. and Mrs. F. A. Sapp, of Lawrenceville; W. J. Temple, of Lawrenceville; T. C. Harrison, of Warfield; Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Witten, of Brodnax; S. P. Darden, Jr., and J. R. ## BROADER HORIZONS

A college situated in a town as small as Williamsburg is always confronted with the danger of narrowing its interests to the point of provincialism. For this reason it is always gratifying to find on the campus adequate discussions of world-wide problems and current happenings. One of the best presentations of this type for many weeks occurred during the past week-end, with the discussions led by Mr. Charles Hurrey, Chairman of the Committee on International Relations of the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Hurrey had not only a broad outlook on world affairs, but also the student point of view. His lectures, stressing particularly the opportunities of William and Mary to interest foreign students, were a joy and inspiration to all who heard him, and were thoroughly appreciated by a grateful student body.

CARRY ON

A few days ago, five members of the college debate team slipped quietly away from the campus. True to the traditions of the art, there was no band to see them to the station, no milling and cheering array of excited students,—just a few friends wishing them success.

Probably no team ever left Williamsburg and headed north burdened with greater handicaps or confronted by a harder schedule. One man had been in the infirmary for a week previous to his leaving, and soon a change of climate ran temperatures on two other men.

As the wires relayed the news, the campus learned that Gettysburg, Pennsylvania State, New York University, and even mighty Fordham had been overthrown in the decision debates. Only the College of the City of New York was able to hold the southerners to a tie. At Rutgers and Columbia, two split teams cemented cordial relations between the institutions and carried the good will of William and Mary beyond the confines of our State.

That our teams won a few debates is not sufficient justification for the use of this editorial space, for the mere winning of debates is dependent too often upon the happy selection of a side or upon the presence or absence of dyspepsia in a judge. But that our men undertook the hardest schedule in years and proved to the satisfaction of impartial judges that they were the best men on the platform is a tribute to the men and their accomplishment.

Debate at William and Mary has had an uphill battle. At last it has arrived. With almost the same personnel available for next year's teams, the future seems bright indeed. But it will be a distant day before the campus forgets what this year's teams have accomplished through industry and courage. At last the obstacles have been overcome to prove our place in debate among the foremost institutions of the country.

What man has done, man can do again.
Carry on.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

He asks ten people every week some question on college life. If you have any problems you would like to see discussed in this column, send them to "The Inquiring Reporter," in care of THE FLAT HAT.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

What columns in the Flat Hat do you like best? This Department, Outstanding Student, Column by Bud, Baldheaded Row or Inquiring Reporter?

Mamie Adams, '32: "I never read the Flat Hat so I wouldn't know."

Pearl Young, '31: "Outstanding People gives you an opportunity to know who is outstanding and what they are doing."

Ruth Stevens, '32: "I don't like the general attitude of the guy that airs himself in the Baldheaded Row. He knows too much to be writing for an amateur paper."

Preston Ellet, '32: "This Department seems to me one of the good columns in the Flat Hat, if I didn't say this Lucy would shoot me."

Wally Lynn, '33: "I like the Inquiring Reporter best. Why—"

Marshall Baggett, '31: "I don't think there should be so much destructive criticism in the Baldheaded Row column."

Randolph Hardy, '31: "The First Page usually has the most important events so I like it best."

Herbert Leach, '32: "I do not think their is any outstanding column in the Flat Hat; the First Page interests me most of all."

Tommy Lollard, '32: "I read the column by Bud most, but I don't think any of the feature columns are particularly good."

Margaret Reddie, '32: "I like the First Page the best, because I can read the headlines and get the gist."

FRONT PAGE

Los Angeles—Billy Sunday socked Communism squarely on its chin in the course of a fiery sermon at the Philharmonic Auditorium. The evangelist, in Los Angeles for only a few hours, was speaking under the auspices of the Temple Baptist Church at the request of the Rev. John Snape. He was accompanied by "Ma" Sunday, who occupied a seat on the stage, almost within reach of her husband's active elbow.

"No man has the right to wave a red flag in the United States!" thundered the two-fisted preacher. "If he doesn't like things as he finds them in the United States let him go back to Russia, or wherever he came from! Boats are sailing every day, and the sooner these agitators leave our shores the better!"

Ashbury Park, N. J. 8—Dr. Clarence True Wilson said today that a wet candidate for the President on either major political party would be sure of defeat in 1932. He is general secretary of the Methodist Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals, and spoke before the New Jersey Methodist Conference.

He predicted that President Hoover would be re-elected if the Democrats name Governor Roosevelt, but that a Democratic victory is possible "if the party behaves itself"

He condemned John J. Raskob for his efforts to commit the Democratic party to a wet platform and also flayed attackers of the Wickersham report, and Judge Clark, of New Jersey, who recently ruled the Eighteenth Amendment unconstitutional.

THIS DEPARTMENT

It happens to be Sunday afternoon and as usual there is nothing to do so I'm going to try and have a good time with myself. Women make you sick anyway, none of them are old enough to know how to talk to a young gentleman—they always want to do something. And speaking about the fairer sex, every male, of course, has the vain idea that he knows something about the "more deadly of the species" and perhaps we are among them. For a long time we have been itching, so to speak, to unearth and describe the ideal co-ed—to find out just what she eats for breakfast, if anything; how she behaves in public; how she amuses herself; just why she was put here; and finally, to discover of what ultimate value she is and why. And so not very long ago and up to the present time we have been choosing some of the characteristics which we should like the modern girl to possess and these are they:

1. FEMINITY. She must be wholly feminine; she must not affect things which are strictly male qualities. She must be a master of all the wiles and artifices of her sex, without necessarily being a vamp or flirt.

2. NEATNESS. To see a frowsy, slovenly-dressed girl is a disgusting sight. She must have a flair for clothes—in so far as neatness of appearance goes. Also, she must be neat and clean mentally as well as physically.

3. TOLERANCE. We should like a girl who was understanding; whose nature it was to forgive rather than to accuse and to whom nagging was an unknown quality. Patience and self-control should be included under this head.

4. CHEERFULNESS. No one can help feeling attracted to the girl who has a sort of philosophic cheerfulness about her—however, not a pale "Pollyanna", though.

5. INTELLIGENCE. The modern young girl should be intelligent. The point is that she should be wise as well as intelligent and then she will conquer her vanity and never purposely display her braininess too prominently, which would frighten men away from her forever.

6. COMPANIONABLENESS. This could be interpreted to mean accomplished in the art of being a "good sport".

That's about all of the desirable characteristics. Physical attractiveness is more or less taken for granted. There is one physical attribute that should be mentioned—the eyes. The man who uses his head when searching for an ideal will look into the eyes and more than likely will see just what is hidden by clothes, make-up, and affected mannerisms.

And now we come to the other side—the qualities of the young lady that we do not admire. Indeed it would take a long time to give all of them, but here are the chief ones at any rate:

1. PRUDERY. This is especially abhorrent. Prudery is no sign of virtue. The self-righteous girl is a comical object in a world such as this and wins no sympathy from those whom she encounters.

2. SOPHISTICATED. This is being carried too far today. The sophisticated usually attempts to go a little too fast. She forgets that nature has fixed a speed limit and those who exceed it generally crack up. Sophistication is tiresome.

3. PETULANCE. A particularly vicious quality that will probably keep friends away from an otherwise attractive girl. The spoiled girl is not worth wasting one's time nor thoughts upon.

4. TALKATIVENESS. The overly talkative girl gets on one's nerves just as surely as the dumb girl who never says anything. Under this head, we should also list catfishness. The young man never likes to feed the kitty nor listen to it purr.

And now that we have summed up all the desirable and undesirable qualities, we come to the point of value, and though we hate to admit it, it behoves us to report that after a long and tiresome search, we have been unable to find of what ultimate value a young girl is. We hate, indeed, to make this concession, but it is about the only thing for us to do, since it took us weeks and weeks through the files in both the public and college library.

And we hope every member of the fairer sex of this college will read that study and take heed.

And also remember that anyone can have love affairs, but very few can write poetry.

Too, do not think your girl is a lemon because you can squeeze her.

And now the curtain falls. You have finished reading. But just a minute, I have found something. I heard that in Sunday School the other day that the teacher asked all the little boys that wanted to go to heaven to raise their hands. All but little Johnny did so. The teacher then asked him why didn't he want to go to Heaven? He said he did, but his mother told him to come home right away.

Now that must be all. In fact that is all, for it's time to go and eat. Three weeks till spring vacations. Ah!

JIM.

High Prices Is Reflected Here Claims Minus Five

Editor of The Flat Hat,
Dear Sir:

Just recently I suffered with a severe cold on the chest and found it necessary to go to the infirmary for aid. Unfortunately I stayed there for two days, consumed a few pills, had six meals, and received a bill for five dollars. I appreciate the value of the new infirmary and realize that it must be paid for but why a few students, not eating in the dining-hall, must bear the weight of it, I cannot see that it is fair. Those taking their meals in the college dining hall may go to the infirmary free of charge, but for others eating in sorority or fraternity houses or in town, they must pay two-dollars and a half a day. Even though I think this is an outrage, one cannot help but be amused at the idea of paying two-dollars and a half a day for dining-hall food. Something must be wrong somewhere.

Although the current catalogue of the college does very specifically state that this fee will be charged for those eating outside of the dining-hall,

ON THE BOARDS: "The Merchant of Venice" in Phi Beta Kappa Hall produced by the William and Mary Players under the direction of Miss Althea Hunt on March 27 and 28.

BECAUSE of the regretted and unfortunate illness of lead George Diggs, the Hampton presentation of "Just Suppose" has been temporarily postponed. We are reminded of the lines addressed to him in the play, "His Royal Highness who has been suffering from a slight bilious attack was unable to make his scheduled visit at the . . ."

FOR THE THIRD consecutive season the William and Mary Players are to give its patrons a bit of Shakespeare. Last year it was "Twelfth Night," the year before it was "The Taming of the Shrew". With the training behind the Players in those two comedies, they now turn to the more serious with the tragi-comedy, "The Merchant of Venice". The William and Mary Players has and is capable of presenting a performance well acted and faithfully done so that not the most persnickety of Shakespearean scholars would make a single wry face during the reading of any passage. Director Althea Hunt is most particular in adhering to traditional Shakespeare and in seeing that the lines are accurately and intelligently rendered.

MARTIN JUROW, the "Sir Toby Belch" of last year, is the "Shylock". Mr. Jurow has long made a study of the role and has a definite conception of the part; that, coupled with his natural artistic ability, promises an interpretation more than satisfactory, more than gratifying,—a reading of the lines that could offend none. People are particular about their Shakespeare and are on their guard lest some part, some word, or some phrase be "slaughtered" by the actor. It is thus that Shakespeareanism is the first lesson to actors who interpret the master's lines.

PATRUCHIA CLARKE has taken part in every William and Mary Players' Shakespearean production; this time it is "Jessica". Her reputation speaks for itself.

MARY JANE AUDE makes her debut with the Players as the famed "Portia". A real treat is in store for William and Mary audiences when they behold her excellent characterization and listen to her superb, melo, articulate voice.

WATCH THE bulletin board in front of Washington 200, all you who seek to take part in William and Mary Players activities. There is an equal chance for everybody and every year more than a hundred and fifty students participate with the Players. All notices of tryouts are to be found on the bulletin board and the usual tone of them is "come one, come all". The Play Production Class has just completed the casting of a half a dozen one act plays. There is the best opening for those wishing to work their way into Players activities.

OUTSTANDING STUDENT

FRANK BEARD

A promising young fellow - Frank Beard by name - is receiving the Flat Hat's method of campus honor, as it is known to some. Certainly, it is fitting that his success on the campus should be marked by this as the end of his collegiate career draws near with graduation in June . . . Still this Tri-color supporter had a merry and industrious side, and we take occasion to review the evidence of it in this issue. It may serve as a character reference for that young gentleman as he goes over the horizon (graduation) to big history for his place in the world, together with a cup of coffee and a place to sleep.

Somewhere back in history, a page reads that Frank was graduated from the Newport News High School and there held two high honors, editor of the paper "The Beacon" and sixth in rank of a class of eighty-four.

Now as to business, religion, and his world, Frank served as employment manager in the Y. M. C. A. Cabinet for two years. His name was on roll of the Phoenix Literary Society during his first year here. He was pledged to Phi Kappa Tau, national social fraternity, as a freshman.

As to journalism, he followed up his high school work by serving as a reporter on the Flat Hat in his sophomore year. At the end of that year, he was promoted to night editor. In his third year, Frank continued to serve as night editor, and later as assistant managing editor. Promotion to Managing Editor came at the end of that year. He was associate editor of the Indian Handbook.

Frank was elected Treasurer of the Y. M. C. A. in his junior year, and he now serves in that capacity. Preceding his election to treasurer, he was publicity chairman of the cabinet.

He became a member of the Spanish Club in his Junior year, and was a candidate for the boxing team until it disbanded.

During his senior year in the fall, Mr. Beard was tapped by Omicron Delta Kappa for his achievements on the campus. He heads his fraternity this year.

He is an applicant for the Bachelor of Science Degree in Business, majoring in accounting. The recent stock market crashes, disturbed financial conditions of the country, and general poor state of affairs have not hindered his achievements. Credit that much to his natural abilities!

Wink Johnson made his third indoor track appearance of the year last Saturday at the Catholic University Games, taking second place to Ray Conger in a special 1000 yards run.

Conger, who represents the Illinois A. C., Johnson, Kennedy of the Newark Athletic Club, and Christenson of Lafayette were the four starters.

Kennedy sprang into the lead at the start of the race, Christenson taking second and Conger and Johnson running third and fourth respectively.

The time, 2.22 was somewhat slow but it may be attributed to the poor condition of the track.

In the middle of April, the team takes a northern trip, meeting Lehigh Lafayette and the University of Pennsylvania in that order.

Last year, the U. of North Carolina administered the sole defeat of the year to the Indians, pulling out a 12-8 win in the opening match of the season.

The schedule is as follows:

- April 9—Boston College, here. April 14—Lehigh, there. April 17—Lafayette, there. April 18—U. of Penn., there. May 9—Washington and Lee, here. May 15—Duke, here. May 16—U. N. C., here.

OPENING MEET TO BE WITH MAURY IN EARLY APRIL

Meets With John Marshall, Newport News and Woodrow Wilson Are Pending

The William and Mary frosh tracksters are scheduled to engage in five meets with the likelihood of two more meets to be added in the near future.

One new team has been added to the list. Washington and Lee makes its first appearance here, coming down with its varsity club.

Maury High has scheduled a meet with the frosh on April 3rd, but due to the fact that that day is a holiday for the schoolboys, an attempt is being made to shift the date a week later.

Last year's frosh defeated all the teams on this spring's schedule, Maury and Woodrow Wilson being defeated by 69-19 (Maury) and 20.

Despite the cold weather, the freshmen have been working out on Cary Field. A good number of men have reported and although it is pretty early to make a prediction, chances for a good season seem ok.

- April 2 or 10—Maury High School April 15—Washington and Lee April 18—Navy Plebes April 23—Richmond May 2—Newport News Apprentice May 9—Open

There is a good likelihood that two of the three high schools mentioned will either engage in a triangular meet with the frosh on May the ninth with the third school being included in the Maury date.

College Debating Team Uses New Debate Method

The William and Mary debating team, consisting of Merrill Brown and Russell Collins debated the University of Pittsburgh, Friday, March 6 in Hampton.

Charles Eason was the presiding officer. No decision was rendered, but according to reports of those who attended the debate, both teams made a credible showing.

'COLUMN BY BUD'

Last Tuesday one of the Richmond papers came out with the story of agitation of several of the Virginia Conference Schools against the three-year varsity rule.

There are mighty few schools in the country of any size and importance which do not have this rule and if other members of the conference persist in complaining, its about time that William and Mary gets out of the Conference and lets these schools have their four year varsity rule.

Wink Johnson doesn't need any bum sports writer to attempt to commend his great race of last week for everyone here at school is making nice remarks about him.

In case anyone thinks that just because Conger was beaten by Carl Coan recently in the Baxter mile, he is slipping, listen to the remark made by Jimmy Connolly, intercollegiate indoor mile recordholder.

And if you'll recall, Coan did beat the record. All of which speaks well for Wink's cause.

Squaws Meet Fredericksburg and Savage Normal On Northern Trip

SAVAGE GAINED 29-10 DECISION IN LAST GAME

Will Meet Fredericksburg and Savage On Saturday and Monday Respectively

Tomorrow morning the Squaw basketball team will board the rattle for their Northern trip, playing Fredericksburg on Saturday and Savage Normal on Monday.

Although in previous years William and Mary has defeated Savage on local court, they have never performed this feat on the Savage Normal court.

In Savage game last year, the Indianettes lost to Savage 29-10. The Savages still have four of last year's varsity, all of which naturally points to a hard tussle.

Although the 39-19 score resulting from the game here against Fredericksburg on February 17th indicates a walkaway for this return game this is by no means the truth.

Twelve people will make the trip. Manager "Wicker" Dunlap has planned departure on trip at 10:33 tomorrow morning with game against Fredericksburg at 7:30.

On this trip Agnes Winn and Lois Roberts will be representing William and Mary for the last time.

Tomorrow afternoon when the Varsity is away on the trip, the Indianette second team will oppose Richmond William and Mary Extension on the local court.

CO-EDS REPORT FOR BASEBALL

Sixty Come Out For Honorary Varsity Ball Club; Squad to Be Cut Soon

Last Thursday sixty co-eds reported for practice tryouts for Honorary Varsity baseball.

Captain Dabney will not pitch for the Juniors until basketball season is over, but she was on hand to do some heavy hitting.

As it was the first outdoor practice of the season, the pitchers were a bit wild, and their support was rather weak.

SPORTS SHORTS

By Vivian Dreyer

Tomorrow morning the Squaws board the choo choo for their northern trip. They will stop the train long enough to play Fredericksburg.

Outdoor baseball practice got off to a fine start last Thursday with 60 candidates out for Honorary varsity.

Tomorrow afternoon in Jefferson Gym the Squaws second team plays the sextette from Richmond William and Mary Extension.

Pat Lowry, Junior first baseman knocked the first home run of the season. The ball bounded between the legs of the shortstop, to the right of the fielder, and on the throw in, the ball went over the head of the third baseman, and the catcher dropped the ball.

FRESHMEN CO-EDS BEAT HOPEWELL

Twelve Duccesses See Action In 23-13 Game; Holliday and Hoyt Score Twenty Points

The duccesses proved their ability for the second time this season last Saturday when they defeated Hopewell High by a score of 23-13.

Elsie Hudak, Captain of the W. & M. Sextette did excellent work as left guard. Holladay was high scorer with five field goals and one foul shot to her credit, while Hoyt came in a close second with nine points.

This is the second victory of the season for the Papooses. Their first triumph came when they snowed under St. Catherine's with a score of 39-21.

COLUMN BY BUD

Vincent Richards was recently approached by promoters for a series of nine tennis matches with Bill Tilden who recently turned pro, for the world's tennis championship and pretended to be amazed at Richard's demand for $50,000.

ceived a flat guarantee of $100,000 and at the time, he wasn't any ten ton rock for Gentleman Gene to push around.

There are a good number of people who would like to see Tilden and Richards in action and if these thriving promoters would take a few other cases into mind, they might realize that fifty thousand wouldn't cause a financial panic by any means, but would turn out into a very profitable venture after all.

Mexico has its share of boxing fans, 30,000 of them packing the bull ring in Mexico City to see Tommy Freeman, world welterweight champion defeat Alfredo Ganoa in a ten round non-title contest. It was the largest crowd ever to storm the ring, which might be taken as a bum sign for the bull throwers.

In a recent issue of this paper, the writer made a comment about "building up" wrestlers. One might be right in selecting Joe Salvodi, former Notre Dame fullback, as a typical example of a wrestler being built up for a nice little skirmish with one of the world's wrestling champions.

Which is wider, the gate or the opening? Maybe your eyes fooled you that time.

What the NEW HUMIDOR PACK means to Camel Smokers*

COMPARE a package of Camels with any other cigarette and note the difference in the technique of packing.

Note that Camels are completely enclosed in an outer transparent cover of moisture-proof cellophane and sealed air-tight at every point.

We call this outer shell the Humidor Pack. It differs from the ordinary cellophane pack and while it is egg-shell thin, it means a lot in terms of cigarette enjoyment.

It means, for instance, that evaporation is checkmated and that Salt Lake City can now have as good Camels as Winston-Salem.

While Camels are made of a blend of the choicest Turkish and mellowest domestic tobaccos, it is highly important, if you are to get full benefit of this quality, that these cigarettes come to you with their natural moisture content still intact.

The Humidor Pack insures that. It prevents the fine tobaccos of Camels from drying out and losing any of their delightful flavor.

Aside from cheap tobacco, two factors in a cigarette can mar the smoker's pleasure:

Fine particles of peppery dust if left in the tobacco by inefficient cleaning methods sting and irritate delicate throat membrane.

Dry tobacco, robbed of its natural moisture by scorching or by evaporation gives off a hot smoke that burns

We take every precaution against these factors here at Winston-Salem.

A special vacuum cleaning apparatus removes dust and now the new Humidor Pack prevents dryness.

Camels and other ordinary dry cigarettes.

First of all you can feel the difference as you roll the cigarettes between your fingers. Camels are full-bodied and pliable. A dry cigarette crumbles under pressure and sheds tobacco.

If you will hold a cigarette to each ear and roll them with your fingers you can actually hear the difference.

The real test of course is to smoke them. And here's where the new Humidor Pack proves a real blessing to the smoker.

As you inhale the cool, fragrant smoke from a Camel you get all the mildness and magic of the fine tobaccos of which it is blended.

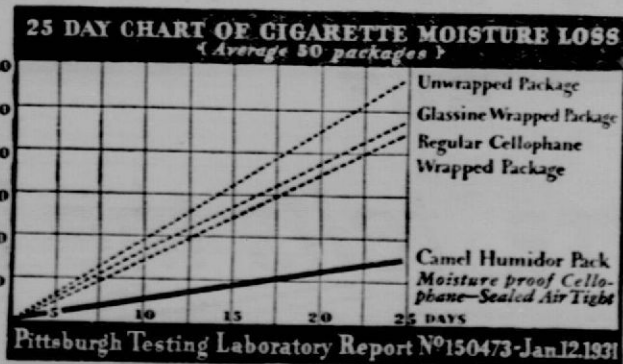

But when you draw in the hot smoke from a dried cigarette see how flat and brackish it is by comparison and how harsh it is to your throat.

If you are a regular Camel smoker you have already noticed what proper condition of the cigarette means.

But if you haven't tried Camels in the new Humidor Pack you have a new adventure with Lady Nicotine in store.

Switch your affections for just one day, then go back to your old love tomorrow if you can.

R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO COMPANY, Winston-Salem, N. C.

The Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory chart above graphically shows you that only the Camel Humidor Pack delivers cigarettes to you in prime condition

More Liberty Desired For Dates

Editor of The Flat Hat,

Dear Sir:

I have been wanting to write you for a long time about things in general around this college. I do not want, however, to give the impression that I am a proverbial kicker, but I do want to express myself along certain lines.

In the first place I think that something should be done in regard to pleasure and entertainment for the students. Just recently I happened to have a date on a Saturday night at one of the sorority houses and without exaggerating a bit there were at least twenty dates. It seems that every girl had a break that night. And here's the point—it was raining, therefore no one could take perch on the porch, consequently there were forty people in two small living rooms. There was no dance; the movie was reported terrible, and what was there to do? Nothing!

One may say that you could talk, but I ask you how can you talk when you have a dozen people sitting on both sides of you and all trying to say something at the same time? There was a whole dining room empty. Why couldn't half the crowd taken seats there and played bridge?

I understand we have a student body here, but what do they accomplish? Nothing! Why can't we have a spring vacation—because the students haven't got spunk enough to raise the question. Just what is the student body organized for, I ask you? I want to see something done and a few people snap into it and quick.

Wera Lotta Saps.

Last year, besides making his letters in basketball and baseball, he was elected president of the Athletic Council. He was also made a member of Alpha Kappa Psi. This fall, he was one of three men to make Omicron Delta Kappa in his junior year. Sundin is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Washington, 8—The eagerness of some Republican drys to capitalize the Democratic division over prohibition as the major 1932 campaign issue today met a challenge from Representative LaGuardia for a pre-convention stand on the liquor question.

Warning that a dry candidate may lose 138 electoral votes in addition to the Solid South to a Democratic anti-prohibitionist, LaGuardia, demanded open discussion of the question by a special meeting of the Republican National Committee.

"Republican leaders rather than chuckle over the apparent division in the Democratic ranks had better take inventory in their own party," said LaGuardia, an anti-prohibitionist. "It would seem to me that the least they can do is to call the National Committee together and take up the prohibition question."

Praising the courage of Democrats in openly meeting this issue, the New Yorker added: "Voters are entitled to know just how the parties will stand on the prohibition issue in 1932."

It isn't a very unusual happening when a man makes a parachute jump; but when he uses three chutes to do it, it is unusual. After Frank Brooks, of California, with 3 parachutes attached to his body, had taken his initial jump, he cut the cord loose and pulled the second string. After he had floated awhile, he cut this cord and pulled the third string to safely float to the ground.

"There rolls my floating palace, the finest in the world"—words attributed to a ruling monarch of ancient days—might well be used by Mrs. Richard M. Cadwalader, of Philadelphia, who is the owner of the largest yacht ever built.

The craft, launched at the Blohm Voss Shipyards at Hamburg, February 25, is a sensation among yachtsmen. There is some comment as to why the owner saw fit to have the craft built in a foreign country instead of the United States.

The New York Maritime Register, commenting on this phase, says: "Bath, Maine; Newport News, Camden and New York, were too near Philadelphia, probably, to build such a vessel, but the Corsair, built at Bath, has no peer."

The new yacht will be named Savarona and is the second of that name owned by Mrs. Cadwalader. It will have a displacement of 4,600 tons, will be propelled by turbine engine and will make an average speed of knots.

She will be ready for service next summer. The vessel was designed by Gibbs & Cox, of New York, and resembles a small ocean liner, with equally racy lines set off by tacks.

The length of the vessel is 407 10 inches, or 65 feet longer than Morgan's new yacht, Corsair.

She is to be furnished throughout in the most luxurious manner and will have accommodations for 40 guests. The riding quality of the yacht will be greatly enhanced by the installation of a gyro-stabilizer to keep the vessel on a practically even keel under all kinds of weather conditions.

The services of 100 men will be required to man the vessel. That number is four times the number found on a good many freight vessels of tonnage equal to the Savarona.
