ELABORATE PLANS MADE FOR BRYAN INAUGURAL ROOSEVELT, PEERY TO SPEAK AND RECEIVE DEGREES

PARK DEDICATION WILL BE FEATURE

Will be First Official Act Performed by John Stewart Bryan as President of College;

Following the induction of Mr. John Stewart Bryan as nineteenth president of the College of William and Mary, on October 20th, one of his first official acts will be to receive and dedicate Matoaka Park and Forest, adjoining the college campus. The presentation to the College will be made by Conrad L. Wirt, Assistant Director of the National Park Service. This ceremony will take place in Players' Dell the open-air amphitheater which has been constructed in the park. Several hundred people can be seated on the split-chestnut log seats and many more can stand on the slopes behind the tiers of seats.

A phantasy entitled "The Ghosts of Windsor Park" by Harold Brighouse, will be given by the William and Mary Players, directed by Miss Althea Hunt. The theme of the play is the departure from England of ninety maids who have volunteered to come to Jamestown to become the brides of the settlers there. London's historic Windsor Park appears in the play.

SENIORS APPLY FOR DEFINITE PRIVILEGES

Invitations and Entertainment Committees Appointed by Class President Newton.

The committee appointed by the president of the Senior Class at a meeting held September 26 has drawn up a list of definite privileges which were presented to the Administration this week for action. As yet the Administration has not acted on these privileges but the indications are that they will be endorsed. However, the president of the Senior Class prefers that the list of privileges should not be published until they have received the final approval of the administration. Action will probably be taken and the list of privileges will appear in the next edition of the Flat Hat. The committee is composed of John Mapp, Ernest Goodrich, Harrell Pierce, Harriet Council and Parker Buck.

A senior invitation committee was also appointed at the meeting of the class. The committee, composed of George Bishop and Joe Howerton, have already taken up the matter of Senior invitations to commencement and several companies are now making bids.

The Senior entertainment committee is composed of Ruth Cobbett, Ralph Ladd, Bill Harmon, Wilson Crump, Kittie Chiswell, Ed Hessian and Ruth Robinson. At present the committee is merely considering a

DUKE OF GLOUCESTER STREET IS RESTORED TO 17TH CENTURY GLORY

With the completion and dedication of the Duke of Gloucester Street set for next Saturday the Williamsburg Restoration has passed another mark in the restoration of Williamsburg to its Colonial splendor. Cobblestones, grassy curbs, reproductions of the old oil lamps, hitching posts, flag stones and brick pavements are all in order. More than two hundred men have been at work transforming the appearance of the street during the last week, with carpenters building fences, painters whitewashing them, while at the same time electricians have been busy removing the last vestiges of overhead electric and telephone wires.

Job Started in January Restoration of the three-century-old street began Jan. 1 of this year. The first step of the project was the removal of the modern concrete sur-

LITERARY MAGAZINE WILL APPEAR SOON

Those Who Have Written Stories Still Have Time to Turn Them In.

The William and Mary Literary Magazine will make its first appearance for this semester at the end of the month. It was supposed to be in circulation about the fifteenth of this month, but due to the lateness with which the stories have been turned in, the publication had to be postponed.

There will be several new features of the magazine this month. The final plans have not yet been released, but it is believed that much will be added to the appearance and general content of the magazine. One of the added features is the exchange system. This system will give the staff the opinions of other college publications about the William and Mary Magazine, and in turn the local staff's criticisms of the other publications. The other new features have not yet been announced, but probably will be out within the next week.

There is still time for those who have not written stories to turn them in for approval by the staff. Anyone intending to submit a story, poem, or any other literary work must do so before the end of the week.

JOINT MEETINGS TO BE HELD BY MEN AND WOMEN DEBATE GROUPS

On Wednesday, October 10, the weekly meeting of the Women's Debate Council was held in Washington 200. In the early part of the meeting general business was transacted. Miss Hallowell stressed the importance of promptness. A sufficient number of absences of a member will necessitate her being dropped from the council. If this occurs that particular member will not receive an activity credit from this club.

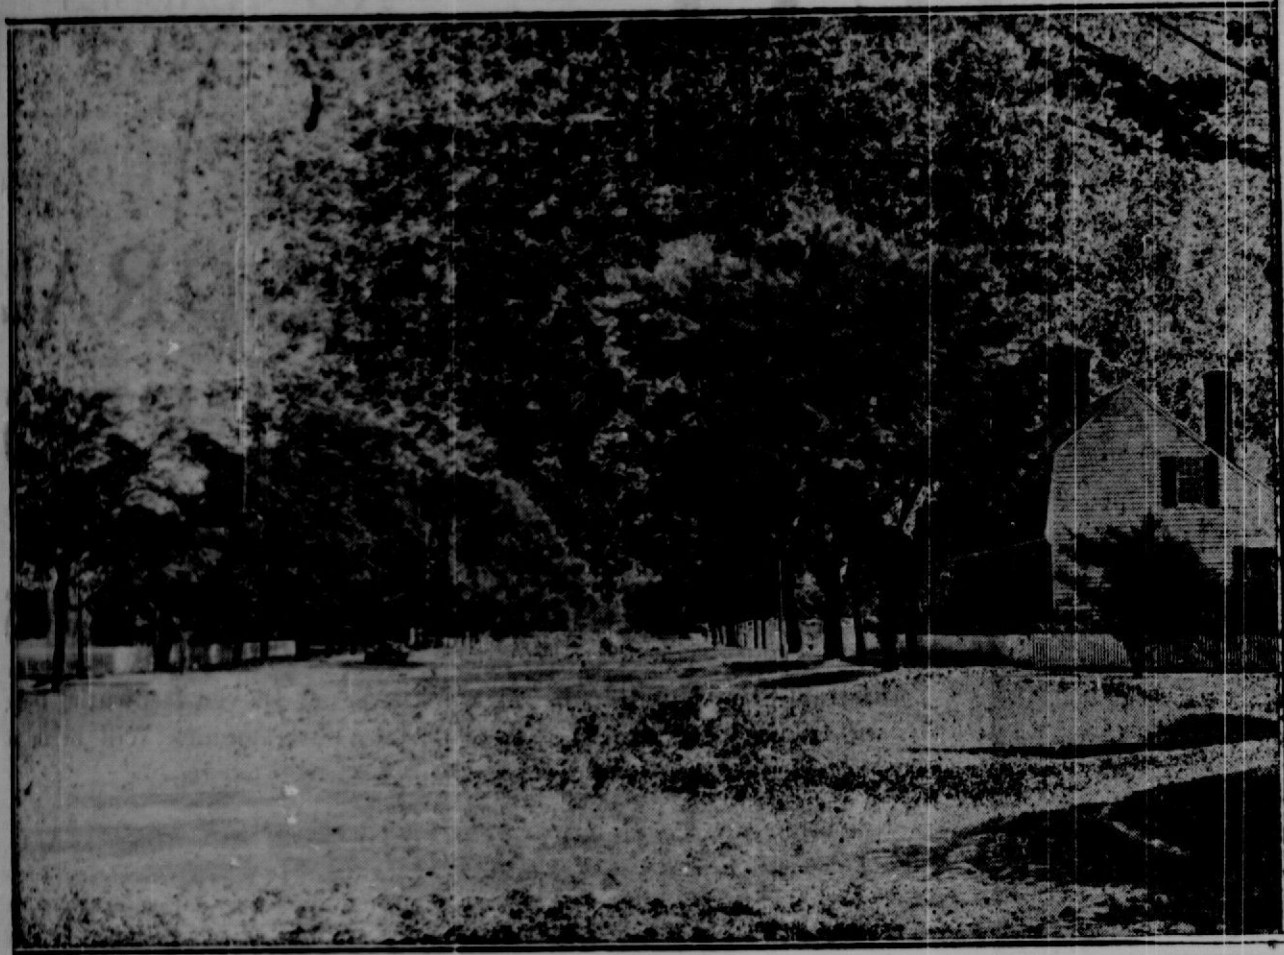

To Meet Jointly Frances Moreland, was appointed representative to meet with a representative of the Wrangler's Club concerning the arrangement of joint meetings between the two societies.

If this arrangement is successful there will be two joint meetings before Christmas. One of these will be held at five o'clock, the regular meeting of the Woman's Debate Council; the other, at seven o'clock, which is the meeting time of the Wrangler's Club.

New Members To Debate Following this the subject of the speeches for the next meeting was announced. It is as follows: "Impromptness. A sufficient number of absences of a member will necessitate her being dropped from the council. If this occurs that particular member will not receive an activity credit from this club." 8 minutes was decided upon as the time limit for the speeches. The speakers, who are to be new members of the council, will be Greta Grason and Phoebe Eppes for the affirmative, and Margery Croft and Janet Snyder for the negative.

Merrill Brown Speaks After the business had been transacted, Merrill Brown, the coach, gave a thirty minute constructive talk on the art of debating. For the benefit of the prospective new members he explained the method which is now used by the varsity debaters.

MORTAR BOARD WILL HONOR OUTSTANDING SENIORS THIS YEAR

Women's Honor Society to Have Plaque for Seniors; Leading Sophomores Also get Award.

Two new awards were discussed at the Mortar Board meeting on October 11. The members have decided to have a plaque for outstanding Senior women and an award for the leading sophomore women. Mortar Board awards and membership are on a basis of scholarship, leadership, and personality.

At the student government meeting in November, the members of the society will be introduced to the women's student body and an explanation will be made of the significance of Mortar Board.

In addition to the plans for the service program of the year, a discussion was held as to the methods for money-making this year. Mortar Board will sponsor a co-ed dance as it has done in the past, but the date is not as yet decided upon. Other suggestions mentioned were bridge parties, and a rummage sale.

The petitions of three universities applying for membership in Mortar Board the University of Maryland, the University of Louisiana, and Michigan State, were looked over. It was also decided that the society will have a double page and individual pictures in the Colonial Echo this year as they had last.

NOV. 1 IS DEADLINE FOR PAYMENT OF FEE

Fees Must be Paid to Board of Control by First of Month at Latest.

The Board of Control has decided on November 1st as the deadline for payment of Student Activities Fees. The reason for this is that the Board must know how many Colonial Echoes to order by that date. Those who have not paid by that time will not receive a Colonial Echo.

Activities Fees may be paid to Roland Hall, Ralph Stambaugh, Frank Manning, Dot Duniap, "Babe" Brown and Dave Rutledge. The office, in the South Smokehouse, will be open every day from 9-10 a. m. and 4-5 p. m.

Figures compiled recently show that the Freshmen have the greatest number of paid fees and the Seniors, Juniors and Sophomore follow in the order mentioned.

The percentage of paid fees is some what over that of last year, but that is far from 100 per cent.

The money which is paid in Activities Fees is for the support of Student Activities which are not fostered by the College. The Debate teams, The Flat Hat, The Literary Magazine and The Year Book all depend upon payment of the Student Activities Fees.

HENRY G. SEYMOUR, EDITOR

V. P. I. Defeats Indians in Hard Fought Game at Richmond Saturday

Woofin' Along

Ho, hum. Another week, another column. What's happened lately, anyway? Anybody having any good ideas as to how to write this is cordially invited to contribute.

Well, we lost the V. P. I. game, but the Indians did their stuff and outplayed the cadets by all accounts.

The Sports Department pooled its capital, coming to a grand total of fifty cents, and bet on Detroit to win the series.

Once again V. M. I. took it on the chin, this time from Columbia, the Rose Bowl Boys. I'm afraid the Lexington lads picked out a schedule that was a little too tough for them.

Emory & Henry, 13; Richmond, 0. Heh! Heh!

The Indians travel up to Washington Saturday to play Georgetown, which hasn't been very active so far this year.

The Papposes, which I suppose is the right name for young Indians, play Oak Ridge here Friday.

William and Mary students certainly had to sit in some lousy bleachers at the game Saturday.

A couple of week ago we made a crack about the Phi Tau "lawn" needing a little elbow grease, as it was asking for a haircut or a dog collar.

The Dean brothers are playing baseball the way we would like to play it. Not referring to their ability, but to their earning capacity.

This intramural sports program ought to take the excess off of some of youse guys and youse gals.

'Tis indeed surprising, and we can even say gratifying, to see how well the rallies have been attended this year.

I can't think of anything else to write except more baloney, so I guess maybe I stop.

V. P. I. SCORES ON PASS TO BEAT INDIANS, 6-0

William and Mary Outplays V. P. I. in Second Half; Turned Back at Goal-line

9,000 WITNESS CONTEST

Seven First Downs Made by William and Mary Team to Five for Tech.

The William and Mary Indians lost a hard-fought game to the Techmen of V. P. I. at the Richmond Stadium last Saturday by a score of 6-0 before a crowd of 9,000.

In the last half William and Mary outplayed V. P. I. to run up six first downs to none for Tech.

V. P. I. kicked off to start the first quarter, Woodward carrying the ball back to the Indian's 43 yard line.

V. P. I.'s touchdown drive started when Bryant punted out of bounds on Tech's 23 yard line in the second quarter.

A pass by Dickerson was incomplete and on the next play Holsclaw broke through left tackle for a run of thirty yards to the Indian's 13 yard line.

In third period there were no more touchdown threats as both teams seemed to be about evenly matched.

The final period found the Indians making their most serious scoring threats. They drove as far as the Tech 1 yard line but just as the winning or at least tying score seemed certain they were penalized five yards because the backfield was in motion.

The Indians outplayed the Techmen in that they made seven first downs to five for V. P. I.

INDIANS MEET HOYAS SATURDAY

Will Attempt to Raise Season's Average to the .500 Level at Washington.

In an attempt to raise their season's average to the .500 level the Indians will meet Georgetown's Hoyas this Saturday afternoon in Griffith Stadium, Washington in the second of a series of games which was started last year when William and Mary topped Georgetown 12-6 in the Capitol City.

Fourth W-M Game

The Indians will be making their fourth start of the season Saturday. In their opener they tangled with the Naval Academy and came out on the short end of a 20-7 score.

Little is known of Georgetown's strength or success so far this season but the Hoyas are expected to present just as powerful a team as the one which pushed the Indians to the limit last season in a game which was won when Junie Smith intercepted a lateral and raced 85 yards for the deciding score.

No W-M Injuries Yet

Coaches Kellison's and Dowler's charges have emerged from all three games without serious injuries, and, barring any accident in scrimmage this week, should be able to throw in their full strength against the Washingtonians.

William and Mary's starting lineup will consist of Captain Joe Bridgers at center, Frank Livesay and Joe Marino at the guard posts, Waddey Stewart and Brute Murray at the tackle positions, and Al DeGutis and Walter Zable in the ends.

RALLY TO BE HELD BEFORE NEXT GAME

The Student Body will hold a rally Friday evening of this week as a send-off for the football team which will leave for Washington to play Georgetown on Saturday.

Last Friday night a rally was held in front of the dining hall for the team which left for Richmond on Saturday for the game with V. P. I.

Much more enthusiasm has been shown at the rallies which have been held so far this year and the Student Body has attended them in much greater numbers than in previous years.

SPORTS PROGRAM TO START SOON

Rules and Personnel for Intramural Sports Already Decided; Schedule to be Announced

The intramural program for 1934-35 is almost ready to be launched. The rules and personnel have been decided upon, and as soon as schedules can be arranged, the leagues will go into action.

The personnel includes the Professor of Physical Education, Mr. Tucker Jones, Assistant professors, Scrap Chandler and Miss Barksdale; Supervisors of intramurals, Otis Douglas and Lucille Lowry; student general managers and assistants; student managers for each organization; student publicity agent; and the Executive Council. It is the duty of these officials to promote the success of the program in regard to student participation and observance of rules.

The activities will be selected by the manager of a division in conjunction with the managers of the organizations within the division. They may select any sport of activity which they consider suitable to their group and the season of the year.

There are a number of rules dealing with eligibility, which are as follows: All undergraduate and graduate students are allowed to participate except: (1) Those who have been members of a college freshman or varsity squad in the sport considered (this also applies to professionals) (2) fraternity pledges may not represent their fraternities; (3) a player may be declared ineligible by the Executive Council for unsportsmanlike conduct; (4) players may represent only one organization in a particular sport at one time.

The method of scoring points for teams and individuals is according to the activity participated in. There are three divisions; 100 point, 75 point, and 50 point activities.

The facilities for carrying on the program of intramural activities are still incomplete, but complete paraphernalia will be available in the near future.

NOTICE

All students are requested to attend a rehearsal of the inauguration ceremonies on Thursday, October 18th, at 4:00 p. m. in rear of the Wren Building.

HOCKEY UMPIRE TEST SCHEDULES CHANGED

William and Mary Entrants in Rating Tests Coached by Barksdale and Lowry.

Word was recently received by the Department of Physical Education that tests in Hockey umpiring would not be given at the Lynchburg tournament this year.

The state has been divided into three districts: one near Lynchburg for Sweet Briar, Hollins and Randolph Macon Women's College; one for George Washington University and Harrisonburg; and one around Richmond for Westhampton, William and Mary and Farmville.

Coach Harriet Rogers, head of the Department of Physical Education at Sweet Briar and National "A" umpire of Virginia stated that the cause for the change in the schedule for umpire rating was due to the fact that the colleges represented at the tournaments sent teams to play games and when several of its members were taking tests they were kept uneasy through the matches.

William and Mary is planning to send several members this year to Richmond for the tryouts which are scheduled for some time in November.

DELTA PSI KAPPA TO PLEDGE EIGHT

Delta Psi Kappa, Honorary Physical Education Fraternity, will hold informal pledging, Wednesday, October 17, at eight-thirty.

The ceremony will take place in the Wren Building. Peggy Yeaman, president, will conduct the pledging.

The active members are Peggy Yeaman, Aubrey Holliday, Nancy Horne, Anne Edwards, and Jane Whittaker.

PAPOOSES TO MEET OAK RIDGE TEAM

Other Games Scheduled Include V. M. I., Washington and Lee, Norfolk - Richmond

William and Mary's freshmen eleven will clash with the strong Oak Ridge team Friday afternoon at three o'clock on Carey Field in their second start of the season.

In their opening game three weeks ago the Papposes gave some indication of their strength by trouncing the Louisburg College Trojans 25-6.

Coach Bill Scott will choose his starting backfield from Motley, Bunch, Sheehan, Zumagili, Guidetti, Doyle, Ames, Simpson, and others.

Oak Ridge Military Academy which is located at Oak Ridge, N. C. has a reputation for putting out strong teams in all sports, especially in football and thus should furnish the Scottmen with a real struggle.

Other games remaining on the Freshmen schedule are those with Richmond, Washington and Lee, V. M. I. The Spider frosh encounter will take place on Carey Field while the others will be on foreign soil.

ATHLETIC COMMITTEE HOLDS FIRST MEETING

Bob Wallace is Elected Junior Representative to Athletic Committee.

The Athletic Committee held its initial meeting of the school year on Wednesday, October 10.

The purpose of the meeting was to elect the Junior Class representative. Bob Wallace, stalwart center on the football squad was elected, thus completing the rank of officers.

This body is better known as the 333 committee, gaining its name from the fact that three members of the faculty, three alumni and three students compose the club.

The purpose of the club is to create interest among the students showing athletic ability. The interfraternity and non fraternity events have aroused much interest on the campus and this year expects to be greater than before.

WELCOME TO OUR CITY

With the Restoration fast finishing the principal tasks of rebuilding Williamsburg to its former glory the city has taken on a new air. This Saturday will be a momentous one in the history of the old City, and one which will long be remembered.

The College has much in common with the City, both as to history, and the spirit of fellowship which has been a traditional part of the College-City relations for years. This rebuilding of a city is a tremendous task, and, as we have watched it grow from year to year, we have taken unto ourselves an interest in what has been going on about us. To us the completion of the task means much, and we are deeply grateful for being able to have spent our College days in such an historic shrine, and to have watched it be transformed into the glory which was old Williamsburg.

Saturday will be truly a big day for us all. To the Restoration it means the fulfillment of dreams, for part of their work is done. The dedication of the Duke of Gloucester Street will be the climax of their work. Tourists will now be able to see what a colonial city looked like in the days before the Revolution. To the College student it means much too, for our new president will be installed. Mr. Bryan is following in the footsteps of many great Americans who have been connected with William and Mary, and he truly is fit for the position. We are glad indeed to welcome Mr. Bryan to William and Mary as a true friend and counselor. His inauguration as president of this, the second oldest institution of higher learning in the nation, will mark a new era in the history of the College. Welcome to President Bryan. To our distinguished guests from near and far we extend our hearty greetings, and a sincere wish that you will return again to visit with us.

Thousands of people will visit the city on that day, and the student body will be on display. We may perform a great service by helping these visitors to feel that they are at home in Williamsburg. Give them a friendly greeting and help them all you can, for this is known as a friendly College. We can do much to make this the biggest event which has even taken place in Williamsburg. Let us put Saturday over in the old William and Mary style.

TULANE JOINS THE RANKS

Of interest to the student body of the College of William and Mary is the announcement that Tulane University has given up the honor system in the college of arts and sciences. Here at William and Mary we have come to regard the Honor System as a part of the institution. And most of us have never taken college work under any other system. Thus we do not know what a privilege we really have in being treated as men and women rather than school children. The following editorial appeared in the Richmond Times-Dispatch this week seems to us to sum up the situation in short order.

"Tulane University has dropped the honor system in its college of arts and sciences, thus following a course previously adopted by Cornell and several other institutions.

The student governing body at Tulane urged this action upon the faculty. What makes this action of general interest, rather than a local incident, was the reference of a faculty committee to "circumstances which make it almost impossible for them (many students) to comprehend the import of an honor system."

The public will wonder why students able to pass matriculation tests are so deficient in 'comprehension.' When a student is told he must not cheat or receive help from another in taking his examinations, there is no reason why he should regard this as an abuse declaration. When a student, after completing his examination, signs a written pledge that he has neither given nor received aid during the quiz, he should understand, if he has normal intelligence, the significance of that action.

Where does the fault lie? Does the fundamental responsibility rest with the preparatory or high schools, or with the students' home environment, the New Orleans Times-Picayune asks. College instructors and administrators in many institutions will desire an adequate answer to that question.

Here in Virginia, where the honor system had its birth, there have been instances of violations of the honor pledge, but the great majority of students in Virginia institutions of higher learning respect and observe this precept of conduct.

The professor points to the written questions on a blackboard, and requests the last student leaving the room to place all of the papers in the teacher's mail box. During his absence, the students are expected to observe the rules of honorable conduct down to the most scrupulous detail.

This system is in marked contrast with that which calls for snoopers of one sort or another pacing up and down between the desks and spying on the pupils. Such a plan is a direct incitement to the student to cheat, for, under it, cheating becomes a game, and the "best" player is the one who can outwit the professor with the greatest ease and frequency.

This, presumably, is the system which has now been installed at Tulane. It is a sad commentary on the personnel of that institution's student body that it was incapable of comprehending the meaning of the word "honor." It has replaced a system which appeals to the highest qualities of the student and influences his whole future outlook, with one which invites him to cheat and encourages him to lie."

The Dispatch is entirely correct in making the assertions which they do, and we cannot but add our small voice in saying that the Honor System is best. No matter what may be its faults it is decidedly better than any system which prejudices a student to be a cheater. May the College of William and Mary long maintain the Honor System which it inaugurated in America in 1779.

WHISPER, BROTHER, WHISPER

A visiting student who once tramped through the College Library on a Monday evening was heard to remark that the noise was comparable to a boiler factory in the dark dead days of prosperity (with apologies to the New Deal).

Even with an augmented force of librarians this situation still exists, although to a lesser degree. The real student finds it hard to concentrate among those who are seeking a social evening. Perhaps this trouble would be eradicated by the erection of the new Student Activities Building, which is to provide a place for students to get together. We hope that having a meeting place will make it unnecessary for students to carry on their social engagements in the Library, but until such facilities are provided silence should be the rule in the Library, for it is primarily a place for study. The Librarians make every effort to aid the students in finding their books, and in trying to preserve order and peace in the building, but without the co-operation of the students little can be accomplished. Please do your part in making the Library a real place to study in instead of a social hall.

AN OPEN APPEAL

For two years the Flat Hat has run a student opinion column, and has asked for letters from the student body on matters of interest to them. This column was intended as an expression of the students likes and dislikes. We want to make this a students paper, and to print only that which is welcome to the students. If you like something about the campus, or about the administration—or if you dislike something—tell us about it. We'd like to help you, and the editor would be glad to receive honest criticism on anything concerning the College: its doings, or its members.

Letters may be dropped in the Flat Hat box in the administration building, or mailed to the Flat Hat, Williamsburg. Letters do not have to be signed. Please help us to make this a better College. We'd like to hear from you, and the administration is always glad to hear suggestions concerning constructive criticism.

'ROUND CAMPUS

By I. C. M.

And so we have a new set of writers, we've looked around for weeks and this is what we find, not bad, eh what!

Have you heard, or haven't you, that Roger is Mapp-ing out sorority court and has been elected the best all around panhell man on campus. We need more nine sorority men to give the girls a break.

Connie seems to have Land-ed her man and Fred is now Lessner the other sixty-four, how about it number three?

Big bad McCutcheon is out after unwary girls again, look out Alice he's a nasty man. Hackett McGuire is often seen riding around with the Alpha Chi from Carter's Grove. How goes it Mac, are you serious?

Cotton Walker was back last weekend, come again Cotton—we miss you a lot.

Several fem's hearts skipped a beat when Dick Conlen blew into town Wednesday night—Glad to see you back, Dick.

By the way, try calling Lennie Graves, Canfield—It's a good old Graves dig.

We hear that Waddy has been mopped out of the Chi Omega house. Margaret Vass was heard to say that Blake Newton is the sweetest boy she's ever known. "Vass you dere, Blake?"

Sally Pevear found him in the rain and when she and her man get together its always Stormy Weathers—Virginia Chesson says she likes a Farmer's life—See sil?

There are a couple of pretty cute little frosh girls who haunt the College Shop. They say is R. Pinch esq. Up to your old tricks Reggie?

The Robins are now being Yerked around Swedely.—and Baby Elmore has one eye on a transfer student and the other on any cute ducces.

Another freshman who is that way is May Fielder. Bud Sheehan's the lucky man, or maybe it's May who's lucky.

Is it really true Jack Hodson is a woman hater? Come on Hodson the Co-eds are all jacked up about you.

We hear that Mary Hoffman is tired playing around and she's going to settle down with one of the K. O. Halls. Which one is it Mary, Big K. O. or little K. O.?

For June Pete Christian's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love—Are you respeculating Miss Ackerman?

Didja hear the one about the young aviator who flew all the way from some where to nowhere only to crash the Kappa door with bag and baggage thinking it was the Williamsburg Inn?

Speaking of doors the Fieser Kelly revolving door has started up again—and Speedy Mercer had his fortune told the other day or was it his misfortune—anyhow he was informed that a blonde woman was to come into his life—but we'd hardly call Ellen a blonde—Is your palm red, Speedy?

Jack Lewis says indifference doesn't count and he'd still walk a mile for a Campbell—Cecil and Sally are broadcasting from station Kappa Delta on The Harper Nesbitt hookup—are you listening?

Have you heard that new song called "Judy"? Well Bob Ramsay has. Isn't that Peachy?

We heard some Co-ed say that she had a crush on Buddy Smeltzer. . . . You'd better find her Buddy, she's a beautiful blonde. . . .

John B. McFall bought a bracelet for a little girl who only told him to go fly a kite. Also at the Phi Kappa Tau house Gordon Shinnars says that the Hull thing is Jeanne. And we also know some things we won't print, by gum.

Helen Simpson is getting wealthier by the minute in fact there seems to be quite a Diamant in her life.

We hear that little Stuart Hall received a mysterious telephone call one night from the Kappa House. . . . Isn't that right now, you Sigma Nu's and Kappa's? Didn't think anyone could give old Nero any competition, Stuart, but more power to you!

Why was little Bobby Hoke so griped this week-end? Maybe it was because he wasn't given the opportunity to do the little brother act on Bland and Anne at the game.

It didn't take long for sleepy Ootie to get out of bed one morning when she heard that Don Horder was in town. . . . guess Beth Robinson's happy again now with Jimmie Warner around awhile.

CAMPUS LEADERS

DAVE RUTLEDGE

Dave, and has a good word to say for him.

Dave's main activities until this year have been in the Y.M.C.A. In his Freshman year he was a member of the committee on chapel services, and as a reward for his work on this committee he was made chairman of it in his Sophomore year. He also had the responsibility of taking charge of the Morning Chapel Services. He was a member of the Men's Senior-Junior Sophomore Tribunal in his second year, and provided law and order among the ducs.

As an aftermath of Dave's active part in the Y. M. C. A. during the first two years he was elected Vice President of this organization in his Junior year. His popularity among the students was even more clearly revealed when he was elected to the Presidency of his class in this same year.

It was during his Junior year that the first Student Religious Council on this campus was founded and Dave became a member of this organization, Later he was elected to the Presidency of this Council and again took over the Chapel service.

Dave was one of the cheer leaders who led the Indian followers throughout last year, and this year he was elected Head Cheer Leader. In order to round out the numerous activities of his Junior year he was elected to membership in the International Relations Club.

Last spring Dave was also elected Treasurer of The Board of Control. This job is a tough assignment, but it is just child's play to him, and one can see him over in the Board office almost daily signing checks, and singing his song, "Pay Your Activity Fees."

He is a member and President of the Phi Kappa Tau Fraternity. And after his College days are over Dave hopes to find a position in the government.

Dave has been a worthy member of the Student Body for three years and the campus will feel a distinct loss when he leaves for Ventnor City.

Fare thee well, Dave—

Student Opinion

Dear Editor,

Inasmuch as a criticism of female fashions was set forth in last week's Flat Hat (evidently written by a man) we wonder if it is possible for several average co-eds to express their opinions regarding the "style" of the men around here.

In response to a suggestion that the girls acquire a natural bloom in their cheeks, may we suggest that a razor is a very handy and convenient instrument to have—and use? That House of David air may be quite the thing on the campus of some of the Northern schools for boys, but in an institution where the female element is so profuse, the least the male population might do is show deference to their presence by appearing reasonably beardless.

Have you seen those smart combinations of short knickers and short socks? A manly calf may be very attractive to the trained observer but remember that we girls are quite native and have to be "edicated" up to such things, and it seems to be a sort of learning without which we would still be able to exist.

Then there are shirts; clean ones and dirty ones (mostly the latter), whole ones and torn ones (ditto), and those which are too obviously tailed—we can stand all these, but it is the absence of attire which is most annoying. Of course those "he men" who appear sans shirt generally cover themselves with a heavy sweater, even so the effect is anything but esthetic.

It was suggested that the ironing board is a "woman's best friend." We wonder why the male element is so absolutely hostile to it. We scarcely expect you all to be tailors, however keeping a crease in your trousers would require only a few minutes of your precious time, and would be well worth the effort expended, even if it does keep you from assuming an attitude of manly grace on the College Corner, for ten or fifteen minutes. Then too, we have heard of flattening the good old trousers by putting them between the mattress and springs thus pressing while you sleep.

A few years ago, at the opening of the College fall term, a slender youth presented himself at the registration desk and gave his name as J. David Rutledge, and his home as Ventnor City, New Jersey (that's near Atlantic City, in case you didn't know). He attended the Atlantic City High School, where he was very active in politics. In recognition of his ability in this field he was awarded a medal during his senior year. Dave is the "Black Sheep" of the Rutledge's from South Carolina.

There are numerous reasons for Dave's popularity on campus, but the chief among them is his personality—just in case you co-eds haven't seen that pepsodent smile you should watch for it. There is scarcely a student on the campus who doesn't know

Dave, and has a good word to say for him.

Dave's main activities until this year have been in the Y.M.C.A. Connie's Column

Dear Connie,

One of your most consistent contributors again asks for your advice. Last year you got me out of a lot of jams and maybe you can help me now.

Its' this way, pal. There is a girl in school here from my home town who's a pill. But my folks write and ask me why I don't date her like I did last summer. Now I ask you, is it my fault that I live in a small town where all the other girls are sewed up or have big husbands?

I get h-l from home for not running around with this girl. It's practically broken up the community. But I don't want to even see her. There are plenty of swell co-eds around here, so why should I date her?

DISPIRITED.

Dearest Dispirited:

Your problem is a very unusual one and I don't know exactly how to give you advice. But since you're in such a predicament, I would suggest that you do one of two things. You might talk her up to a gullible friend and arrange a meeting. If the boy friend's dumb enough, he might fall for her and if he doesn't, why you've done your duty by the ole home town and the girl too. If this doesn't work the only thing I can think of is for you to leave school.

CONNIE.

Dear Connie:

I went to the football game in Richmond Saturday. Now I have some thing for you to straighten out for me. I don't come from this part of the world and didn't know whether V. P. I. meant Very Poor Individuals or Welcome Punks Incorporated. I asked a bell hop at the game what it meant and he was so mad. In fact his language was awful. What was wrong, Connie?

ANXIOUS TO LEARN.

Dear Anxious:

Don't go to Richmond again in a hurry—you'll probably be mobbed. And be secret about all this. Pretend you weren't even at the game. You asked a cadet from V. P. I.—not a bell hop. And something else—learn all the fifty-five million colleges within a radius of a hundred miles.

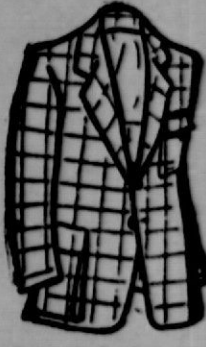

CONNIE.

WHAT TO WEAR TO FOOTBALL GAMES

FASHIONS for Women

Since the Intra mural Sports Campaign is simply forcing everybody into sports—and we like it—it is probably a snappy idea to throw out a few gentle hints about sports costumes.

Tennis has finally forced shorts on the courts, and they are a swell idea, too. As long as they are O. K., why not make them the thing. There's the simple little three-piece white outfit that is absolutely intriguing.

If you prefer golf to tennis, then the answer to a maiden's prayer for a stunning golf ensemble is a strictly tailored viyella flannel dress with plenty of pockets for tees, and is at its best in a soft pumpkin shade with brown buttons.

If you intend to inhabit the grandstand at all the football games, then, of course, you'll be interested to know what makes the players pick up in their game when they see you.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE BOARD OF CONTROL

Williamsburg, Va.
June 16, 1934.

Miss Dorothy Dunlap, Chairman,
Board of Control,
College of William and Mary,
Williamsburg, Va.

My dear Miss Dunlap:

We beg to submit attached Comparative Balance Sheets of the various student organizations operating under the Board of Control for June 8, 1933 and June 8, 1934 showing the increase or decrease in each item during the year. We also submit a statement of receipts and disbursements of each organization from January 13, 1934 to June 8, 1934.

The past year has been the worst year for these organizations since the Board of Control was formed. By referring to the Consolidated Balance Sheet you will see that the surplus declined $1,148.06 during the year. This decline is due to the Women's Student Government withdrawing from the Board of Control and also the College Morale Fund. Also during the year the following organizations operated at a loss:

|-----------------------|-----------------|
| The Colonial Echo | $724.52 |
| The Literary Magazine | 182.97 |
| The Board of Control | 40.52 |
| Total | $948.01 |

Also during the year the Board of Control was asked by Dr. Chandler to take over the debt of the Cotillion Club. While the Board of Control has operated the Cotillion Club at a profit during the year the Cotillion Club is still indebted to the Flat Hat and Colonial Echo for $400.00. The Cotillion club has a cash balance of $19.35 now in comparison with a cash balance of $12.48 at the beginning of the year which makes their deficit for the year $393.13.

The following organizations operated within their income during the year and increased their surplus by the following amounts:

|------------------------|-----------------|
| The Flat Hat | $117.89 |
| Men's Debate Council | 15.08 |
| Women's Debate Council | 77.05 |
| Total | $210.02 |

The $1,148.06 is therefore accounted for as follows:
By withdrawal of the Women's Student Government $ 12.00
By withdrawal of College Morale 4.94
By assumption of debt of Cotillion Club 393.13
by loss of organizations as detailed above 948.01
$1,358.08

Less organizations operating at a profit (detailed above) 210.02
$1,148.06

The cause of the large loss by the Colonial Echo and the Literary Magazine is due largely to the decline in the sale of activity tickets. During the first semester 1932-33 846 tickets were sold compared with 754 the first semester 1933-34. This is a loss of 102 tickets which at $9.75 amounts to $986.50. During the second semester 1932-33 764 tickets were sold compared with 581 for the second semester 1933-34. This is a loss of 183 tickets which at $9.75 amounts to $1,783.25 or for both semesters a loss of $1,685.75. It is our opinion that something must be done to increase the sale of activity tickets.

By referring to the Consolidated Balance Sheet you find the surplus at June 8, 1934 to be $4,366.74 belonging to the following organizations:

|------------------------|-------------------|
| The Flat Hat | $2,939.82 |
| The Literary Magazine | 464.87 |
| The Colonial Echo | 1,258.64 |
| Women's Debate Council | 73.66 |
| Board of Control | 41.96 |
| Total | $4,778.95 |

Less deficits of:
Men's Debate Council $ 31.56
Cotillion Club 380.65 412.21
Surplus $4,366.74

We also wish to call your attention to the fact that the Board of Control for 1933-34 and the Auditing committee feel that there should be an adjustment of the salaries for the coming year.

Respectfully submitted,
Wayne F. Gibbs,
Waiter G. Trow,
Dallas Entsminger,
Marion Holl,
Virginia Russell,

NEW SOCIAL DEAN ADDRESSES WOMEN ON MONDAY NIGHT

Miss Roberts to Speak to Women Students Cooperative Government.

Miss Marguerite Wynne Roberts, the Social Dean, will address the Women's Students' Cooperative Government on Monday night, October 15, at 7 o'clock in Phi Beta Kappa Hall.

The list will be read of those who failed to pass the Women's Student Government examinations. Re-exams will be given those girls.

Marjorie Croft, Jane Steele, and Roberta Brittle have been nominated by the Senior Nominating Committee for Junior representative to the Honor Council. The Freshmen nominees to the offices of the Judicial Council and of the Executive Council are: Olive Nestor, Betsy Christian, Pheobe Eppes, Elsie Stover, and Charlotte Johnson. These will be elected by the Freshmen women students.

WOMEN FORM CLUB IN ECONOMICS DEPT.

During past years there has been no club for the women students of the Economics Department. This year the situation is being taken in hand and a club is to be formed. Action has already been under way and the approval of Dean Landrum and Dr. Taylor has been obtained. With the approval Dr. Marsh is to be the faculty advisor of the newly organized club.

Membership to the club is to be restricted to those women students who are majoring in economics. Beside this qualification those wishing membership must have a high scholastic standing.

It is the purpose of the new organization to secure speakers from various sections of the country, who are specialists in their respective fields of Economics. The discussions will cover the possible locations and future of women in the field of Economics.

The formation of the club is in the hand of a committee whose members are Elizabeth Robinson, Hanna Severn, and Mary Elizabeth Allison. According to this committee the first meeting will be held in Brown Hall on Thursday afternoon, October 18, at 4:30. At this time chairman and committeemen will be appointed for the drafting of the constitution. All majors in Economics are expected to be present.

FASHIONS FOR WOMEN

Bring out your particular type of beauty, but make 'em tricky.

If it's shivering cold, then a thick wool dress of any color looks well under a fitted, pressed lapin fur coat. This is, naturally, exclusive to those who like lapin. You may choose your fur coat according to father's bank account and his generous hand. However, don't forget to select accessories to match. This goes for whatever outfit you wear.

Next week we'll go to teas, dances and other parties with our fashions. Until then — so long.

ate a good impression upon the girls around here—that, of course, is purely a personal matter, but if you do, you would evidently be surprised to learn what a whale of a difference several extra minutes taken in dressing will make.

Then, there are the "little things" beginning with stringy neckties (excusable in the case of freshmen), sloppy, garterless socks, dirty hands (water is free), that "uncombed look;"—but then we have gone too far. Enough is enough!

PARK DEDICATION WILL BE FEATURE

 pears on the stage of Players' Dell with Windsor Castle in the background.

With the acquisition of the twelve hundred acre tract of land surrounding Lake Matoaka, the College of William and Mary has expanded to something of its Colonial status. In the past this wooded tract was a tangle of underbrush and vines. It was not frequented by students or the public because it could not be penetrated. Under the direction of the National Park Service, a project of forestry, construction, and landscaping was begun in November 1933 and today a lovely park, comprising five hundred acres on the east side of Lake Matoaka, has just been completed by the Civilian Conservation Corps. The seven hundred acres on the west side of the lake is to be a managed forest; an excellent laboratory for a class in forestry which is being discussed as an addition to the curriculum at William and Mary. With this extension of the campus, William and Mary can vie with Stanford University, Vassar, and Middlebury College in the encouragement of extra-campus activities.

Players' Dell is one of the most ambitious undertakings in the program of reclaiming Matoaka park in its simplest form it is a smooth slope with a proscenium of fifty feet running back to a sodded stage about forty feet deep, framed by tall poplar, oak, birch, pine and sycamore trees. The location is quite near the campus and in a perfect setting for plays and pageants.

Several miles of bridle paths and foot trails thread the Park, and will be opened to the public and students with the sanction of the new administration.

Long noted among scientists for its botanical specimens, particularly for three varieties of a rare orchid, pogonia, the tract has been visited by some of the best students of the east. Besides these orchids, which are carefully protected, there is an unusual list of other species to claim the attention of classes on field trips. Geological deposits are listed on the Peninsula but this park has many of interest. In cutting one trail through the forest a piece of coral weighing nearly fifty pounds had to be taken out.

Matoaka is the family name of Pocanontas, the latter being a nickname meaning "tom boy."

 plaques, two and three-fourths inches in diameter. One side bears the inscription, "College of William and Mary in Virginia." Beneath this is an impression of the Wren building, the ancient seal of the college, and the motto, "Wise And True And Just." On the other side is a wreath decoration and the words, "Alumni Award to . . . for service and loyalty." The board of managers appointed H. L. Bridges, Dr. W. T. Hodges, and R. M. Newton to select alumni for this award. After this year presentations will be made on Alumni Day in June.

The tentative program for Homecoming Day has been drawn up as follows:

The Alumni will register at the Alumni Office up until 11 o'clock. At 11 o'clock there will be a mass student body meeting in front of the College, at which time the College Band, the Drum and Bugle Corps from Newport News, and the Marine Band from Yorktown will take part in the program. The students will also sing a number of the College songs and yells. At 11:30 there will be a parade of cars and floats representing thirty-five college organizations, seventeen Civic organizations, also the City of Williamsburg and Restoration, and twelve business firms. There will be separate prizes given for the best floats in the separate groups entered by the college and the civic organizations. The first prize is $25, the second prize, $15, third prize, $10 and the fourth prize, $6. There will be two of each prize for the separate groups. At 1:30 an outdoor barbecue and oyster roast will be given to all the Alumni, Faculty and students. The football game between William and Mary and Washington and Lee will start at 2:30. During the half the Drum and Bugle Corps will play. After the game the Freshman-Sophomore rush may take place. A special meeting of the Alumni will be called at 5 o'clock at which time the Alumni Medallion will be presented to twenty-five of the most loyal Alumni. President John Stewart Bryan will be requested to present the awards. That night the Williamsburg Alumni will give the visiting Alumni a buffet supper lasting from 7 to 11 o'clock at Toppings Tourist Camp thus bringing to a close the day's program.

DUKE OF GLOUCESTER STREET RESTORED TO 17TH CENTURY GLORY

 at Jamestown had been burned, a city was staked out in Middle Plantation for a new capital, to be called Williamsburg, in honor of the reigning king, William III. Six years later the former horse path had been broadened and straightened into a "handsome great street six poles (99 feet) wide," named Duke of Gloucester in deference to the eldest son of Queen Anne.

Duke of Gloucester street is seven-eighths of a mile long. At its western terminus stands the main building of the College of William and Mary, built in 1693, the only building in America designed by the noted British architect, Sir Christopher Wren. Opposite the Wren building, closing the eastern end of the street, is the duplicate of the colonial capitol building, which has been reconstructed on the foundations of the original building which was first completed in 1705.

On the tree-shaded street between these two monumental buildings is Bruton Parish church, the court church of the Virginia colony; Raleigh tavern, the cradle of the Revolution in Virginia; the Powder Magazine, built in 1714 and used as an arsenal in four wars; the old town and county court house; and about 26 historic buildings, most of which have been restored to their colonial appearance.

As the avenue by which these buildings are approached, the Duke of Gloucester street became a thoroughfare on which most events of importance in colonial Virginia transpired. On it walked, or rode every Virginian of note in the 18th century; George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Patrick Henry, Peyton Randolph, Dabney Carr, George Mason, Benjamin Harrison, Thomas Nelson and George Wythe were familiar figures there. Among the five or six thousand who thronged the city during "public times" as the meetings of the general assembly were called, were the royal governors, the councillors, the burgesses, the planters, the gentry, and scores of doctors, tradesmen, and craftsmen.

In its three centuries of existence, the street has seen the passage of many armies. Rebels under Nathaniel Bacon in 1676; the five companies of red coats; the British guard sent to quell the rebellion; soldiers in the French and Indian wars; minute men; armies led by Washington, Rochambeau, Lafayette, Cornwallis; troops in the war of 1812; Federals and Confederates have marched the Duke of Gloucester street.

Red letter days on the calendar of Duke of Gloucester street are red letter days on the calendar of American history.

Fair enough—

FROM time to time we tell you facts about Chesterfield Cigarettes. We say that Chesterfields are different from other cigarettes—that the tobaccos are different, the paper is different, and the way they are made is different. Everything that modern Science knows about or that money can buy is used in making Chesterfield a milder, better-tasting cigarette—a cigarette that Satisfies.

You can prove what we tell you about Chesterfield. May we ask you to try them—that would seem to be fair enough.

Strictly on their merits
