HOMECOMING DAY PLANNED FOR ALUMNI

November 2, Day of George Washington Game Is Set Aside by Guy and Hodges

PLANS NOT COMPLETE

Dr. W. T. Hodges, Dean of Men Says College Greatly Pleased With Interest Shown by Alumni

Plans for what is expected to be the largest homecoming celebration William and Mary has yet witnessed are being made by the Alumni Office, it was announced this week by George W. Guy, executive secretary of the Alumni Association. The date for the celebration will be November 2, the day scheduled for the George Washington game under the lights on Cary field.

Several hundred alumni are expected to return at this time. All former students, both men and women are invited to return. It will aid the committee in its work, Mr. Guy said, if all who can return will notify the Alumni office so the scope of the day's program can be determined in advance. The Flat Hat next week will publish a blank form that may be used for this purpose.

Dr. William T. Hodges, Dean of Men, and Dr. Grace W. Landrum, Dean of Women are co-operating with the Alumni office in making preparations. The Athletic association also is expected to join forces in making plans. "College is greatly pleased with the increased interest of the alumni," said Dr. Hodges, "the time has come for the college and the alumni board to plan for an annual homecoming with interesting features for old students. I urge that all of the former students of William and Mary try and return for this day."

It is hoped that the organ of a more closely-knit Alumni Association which has just been perfected will prove a factor in the return of a larger number of alumni than ever before for the celebration.

FIVE MORE ON LIT STAFF

Five associate editors have been added to the staff of the Literary Magazine, according to Fay P. LeCompte, editor. These are: Lewis F. Brown, Robert C. Moses, Patruchia Clarke, Elliott Healy and Thomas McCasky.

The 1929-30 Literary Magazine, which will shortly make its first appearance, has not been changed materially from last year's publication. The cover is the same except for substitution of the newly discovered original college seal. A number of minor changes have been made inside.

ADDITIONS TO FLAT HAT STAFF

The editorial department of The Flat Hat announces the following additions to the staff: Phillip S. Williams, of Fine Creek Mills; James Lucy, of Washington, D. C., Night Editors; Katrine de Witt, of Virginia Beach, Women's Staff, and Esther Lermann, of New York City, typist.

ATTENTION ARTISTS

All students desiring to try out for the position of staff artist on The Flat Hat, a new post to be filled this fall, are requested to confer with the Editor some time within the next three days. The competition is open to both men and women students.

Choice of a staff artist will be made by the Editor and Managing Editor shortly. Students competing are asked to turn in a number of sketches, preferably of scenes on the campus. Only high class material is desired, and no cartoons will be accepted.

Editor of Literary Magazine Wants Copy

A call for original contributions to the Literary Magazine, whose first issue will soon be off the press, has been issued by Fay P. LeCompte, editor. According to LeCompte, the magazine can use short stories, essays, translations, poetry and plays of merit. Due to the quantity of poetry ordinarily submitted, prose contributions are at present in demand. Copy may be left at the new Literary Magazine office in Citizenship building.

Here Is Authentic Coat-of-Arms Granted William and Mary in 1694 by King and Queen of England

William and Mary, only college in the country having an authentic coat-of-arms and charter from the British Crown, is changing its present seal to conform to this non-classical design, for which the original patent was lost when fire razed the College in 1705.

FILL STUDENT OFFICE VACANCIES NEXT MONDAY

Election of a secretary-treasurer of the student body and honor council representatives for the Junior and Sophomore classes will take place next Monday, October 14.

At a recent meeting of the student body three candidates for the office of secretary-treasurer were nominated. They are: John V. Bauserman of Woodstock; Robert Price of Martinsville, and Charles E. Eason of Hickory.

A meeting of the Junior and Sophomore classes was conducted last Monday and Tuesday for the purpose of nominating honor council candidates. Vacancies in the council were left by Joseph B. Bennett and Maurice W. Michaels who failed to return to college.

LARGE NUMBER SHOW DRAMATIC INTEREST

More than a hundred and fifty students turned out Monday to register their names and dramatic ability with Miss Althea Hunt, Director of Dramatics, who is trying to get in touch with everyone interested in stage work.

Miss Hunt welcomed the new people, most of whom were freshmen, and explained her purpose in calling the meeting as well as mentioning the different dramatic organizations on the campus and their programs for the coming year. She urged everyone not to become discouraged at failure to get roles immediately, and said that back-stage work such as costuming, make-up, lighting, stage managing and directing were as essential and as glorifying as being before the footlights. Truman Welling, President of the Dramatic Club expressed his delight at seeing so many students interested and remarked at the increase in drama interest since his freshman year.

RYAN NAMED JUDGE OF SUPREME COURT

Date to Be Announced Early Next Week; First Meeting of Senior Tribunal Last Week

Paul A. "Rosy" Ryan, of Lynn, Mass., has been named judge of the supreme court by F. Samuel Wilcox. Due to the absence of President Chandler from the campus no definite date can be set for the court until later.

The remaining judiciary body will be comprised of men appointed by the president of the student body. These appointments will be announced shortly.

The first meeting of the Senior tribunal took place Wednesday, September 25. About 35 freshmen were called up for various infractions of the rules. No paddling was administered, however, but the freshmen were severely warned and threatened, it was learned.

"MOLLUSC" OPENS DRAMATIC SEASON

Theta Alpha Phi Presents H. H. Davies' London and Broadway Success October 11

"The Mollusc", a three-act comedy by Hubert Henry Davies, will be the opening production in the William and Mary 1929-30 dramatic season, according to an announcement by the Williamsburg chapter of Theta Alpha Phi, national dramatic fraternity. The play, a treatment of English domestic life which has had long runs in London and New York starring Sam Sothorn, George Arliss and other noted actors, will be presented in Phi Beta Kappa hall under the direction of Miss Althea Hunt, director of dramatics.

The cast includes Patruchia Clarke as Mrs. Baxter; Bernard B. Wallack as Tom; DeEtte Jones as Miss Roberts, and Edward D. Fales, Jr., as Mr. Baxter. All have appeared before on the William and Mary stage.

The production of The Mollusc has aroused interest elsewhere than on the campus, and it is understood various societies in Virginia and even in northern states may invite the Theta Alpha Players to play in their cities.

CORRINE HANCOCK ELECTED TREASURER

Women's Athletic Association Elects Hancock to Fill Vacancy of Treasurer

Corrine Hancock was recently elected treasurer of the Women's Athletic Association to fill the place of Blanche Wood Pierce who did not return to school this year.

The point system was explained by Martha Barksdale. The requirements for a point monogram are 750 points to be made in two consecutive years, 100 of which must be in a single sport. The differences between the major and minor sports were explained, and the various monograms were displayed.

The President of the Monogram Club announced that monograms other than those of William and Mary could not be worn on this campus.

FRATERNITY MEN RATE HIGH IN ACADEMIC WORK

Fraternity Members Have Grades Superior to Non-Fraternity Men; Pi Lambda Phi First

MEN'S AVERAGE 78.61

Dean of Men Releases Grades of Greek Letter Men for Last Term; Phi Alpha Second

A scholastic average superior to the general average of the student body is shown for fraternity men at William and Mary, according to a statement released by Dr. William T. Hodges, Dean of Men. This announcement indicates that Pi Lambda Phi led the men's social groups in scholarship for the February-June term, with an average of 83.41 per cent. Thirteen fraternities were listed in the report.

The complete averages were published as follows:
Pi Lambda Phi, 83.41; Phi Alpha, 83.03; Alpha Lambda Upsilon (local), 81.93; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 81.36; Kappa Alpha, 80.89; Sigma Phi Epsilon, 80.22; Theta Delta Chi, 80.21; Sigma Nu, 79.56; non-fraternity men, 78.47; Phi Kappa Tau, 78.11; Pi Kappa Alpha, 76.10; Alpha Psi (local), 74.26; Lambda Chi Alpha, 73.89; Kappa Sigma, 72.23.

For what is believed to be the first time in the history of the college, the average of the fraternity men was higher than that of non-fraternity men. The 302 men in the former group maintained a grand average of 78.74 per cent, while the 344 men not in fraternities registered 78.47 per cent. The average for all the men was 78.61.

One hundred and eighty-two, or 60.26 per cent of the fraternity men passed all their work, while 178, or 51.74 per cent of those in the other group were on the Dean's list.

TRANSFERS TO MEET

A meeting of all new men transfers will be conducted Tuesday, at 8 P. M. in Washington 200. Dr. W. T. Hodges, Dean of Men, will address the transfers on the traditions of the college. F. Samuel Wilcox, Jr., President of the student body will discuss the purposes of student organization. The "transfer movement" is being conducted for the purpose of helping the university-minded man to orient himself to the spirit of William and Mary.

Unified Cheering Tried In First Rally of Year

A rally was held Friday night in Phi Beta Kappa Hall for the purpose of practicing songs and yells for the Saturday night game. This is the first time that any attempt has been made at unified cheering, and the students responded with more enthusiasm than at any former rally.

Tucker Jones, Head of the Department of Physical Education, made a short talk emphasizing the qualities of good sportsmanship, and the necessity of such qualities.

"Rosie" Ryan spoke briefly for Captain Bauserman on behalf of the team. All the members of the varsity team were introduced.

JOHN W. WRIGHT, '95 NAMED PROFESSOR

Alumnus Ordered to University of Missouri; Professor of Military Science and Tactics

John Womack Wright, 1892-'93-'94-'95, Colonel United States Army, who has been stationed at Fort Williams, Maine, for the past four years commanding a regiment, has been ordered to the University of Missouri as Professor of Military Science and Tactics. There are nine thousand students enrolled, with a military department of fourteen regular officers on duty, of whom Colonel Wright will be the Senior and in charge. Colonel Wright assumed his new duties at the University of Missouri last week. During the summer he had charge of a Citizen's Military Camp of a thousand boys.

Colonel Wright won the affection and esteem of the citizens and co-workers at Fort Williams and Portland and he was tendered a farewell reception before leaving the Pine Tree State. Praise for the military organizations over which Colonel Wright has had charge, including his regiment and the C. M. T. C., was voiced by several speakers, including Senator Frederick Hall, the Rt. Rev. John Gregory Murray, Gen. Preston Brown, Commander of the First Corps Area, Lester F. Wallace, Chairman of the City Council of Portland, Maine, Adjutant General, James W. Hanson, of the State of Maine, representing Governor William Tudor Gardiner, and Col. George E. Bragg, toastmaster.

Speaking of the military establishments of the United States, and particularly the reserve force which he characterized as the basis of the country's defense system, General Brown was hearty in his commendation not only of the C. M. T. C., but also the 103rd Infantry which he had renewed. General Brown declared that Colonel Wright had done yeoman work in bringing the army in accord with the civilian population. "It is not the purpose of the War Department to militarize the youth of the nation through the C. M. T. C. It does not want to militarize anyone. It wants to see that these young men shall receive a wholesome month's vacation, learn the fundamentals of citizenship and the elements of manhood, square dealing and law abiding citizenship."

Three hundred officials of the state, Army, and Portland, were in attendance at the farewell dinner in honor of Colonel Wright. A bust of Colonel John W. Wright, by Victor Kahill, was on view at the Farewell Dinner in the Colonel's honor.

SABRE CLUB FORMED BY ARMY RESERVE

Student and Faculty Reserve Officers Meet to Stimulate Interest In Army

The Sabre Club met last week in Rogers Science hall for the purpose of stimulating the interest in the various branches of the army.

Those men are eligible for membership who hold commissions in the Reserve, or certificates of eligibility for commissions, from the R. O. T. C.

The members of last year were: J. T. Campbell, president; J. H. Eversole, secretary and treasurer; Dr. D. W. Davis, Lt. A. W. Dearing, Dr. R. G. Robb, Mr. Bentley, George Burt, Larry Barrett, William Dignan.

Mr. Campbell is elected president, and Mr. Eversole secretary and treasurer, temporarily until a new organization could be formed at a later date.

The organization was formed to further the interest in the present regulations, and principles; and to study the tactics of military matters.

Officers from Ft. Eustis, Richmond, and the surroundings will lecture at the fall programs.

SPECIAL RATES TO BALTIMORE FOR GAME

Chesapeake Steamship Company Announces Round Trip Fare of $5.00 For Navy Game

The Chesapeake Steamship Company have announced reduced rates for students between Yorktown and Baltimore, for the game tomorrow. The round trip fare for those wishing to attend the Navy game is five dollars.

The boat will leave Yorktown at eight o'clock tonight arriving in Baltimore Saturday morning. At Baltimore those going to Annapolis can catch a bus direct to the football field. The round trip fare on the bus is one dollar. The return boat will leave Baltimore at 6:30. This arrangement gives the students ample time to attend the game and return to Baltimore to catch the boat. The steamer will arrive at Yorktown sometime early Sunday morning.

Any one desiring to do so can get a stateroom for an additional $1.25.

Three passengers can be accommodated comfortably in one stateroom. For further information and for stateroom reservations get in communication with J. F. Knowles, T. P. A. Chesapeake Steamship Co., 809 E. Main Street, Richmond. Tickets at the above round trip fare may be purchased from the purser on the steamer.

WOMEN MAY VISIT TEA ROOM WITHOUT PERMISSION

Under a provision of the women's Student Government Association, coeds are allowed to visit the Pocahontas Tea room at any time, without having to secure special permission, it has been pointed out.

It is understood that Robert P. Wallace, owner of the Tea room, which adjoins the College Shop, will arrange to serve salads, sandwiches, toast, cake, pies, and coffee during the afternoon and evening until 10 o'clock.

Just when this service is to be inaugurated will be announced in an early issue of The Flat Hat.

ALUMNI BOARD BEGINS ACTION

Officers of the Board Met Last Saturday to Discuss Plans For the Year

Members of the board of managers of the William and Mary Alumni Association met in the Alumni office in Brafferton hall Saturday and discussed the year's work of the association. The board was very desirous of enlisting the interest of every former student and graduate in becoming a member of the William and Mary Alumni Association. They hope to enroll a thousand members this year. Dues are $3.00 a year, which carries with it a year's subscription to the Flat Hat.

The board of managers approved the plan of the Alumni Association in organizing William and Mary clubs in certain centers of the state. These are scattering William and Mary groups all over the state and nation, and the board felt that the Alumni office should organize these units into functioning William and Mary Clubs. The following members of the board were present: President, R. M. Newton, Hampton; Vice President, Miss Lucy Mason Holt, Norfolk; Secretary-treasurer, Dr. W. T. Hodges, Williamsburg; Miss Cornelia Adair, Richmond; Mr. James W. Sommerville, Washington, and George W. Guy, Executive Secretary.

New College Song Meets Students Approval Here

Oscar E. Wilkinson, Detroit, Michigan, after nearly a year's work has completed and recently presented to the college a new school song, "Victory", which has met with unanimous approval of the students. Mr. Wilkinson, ex-'29, of William and Mary directed the Indian Serenaders when they toured Europe three years ago. The words are:

VICTORY

Rally and cheer the Indians here they come;
Loyal and fearless heroes every one.
Fighting to praise our name
And conquering for greater fame
With courage of old.
True warriors raise your crest,
To glory for the best,
With might and main we cheer, cheer, cheer, we cheer for—
William and Mary, march on to victory,
Tri colors down the field to win today.
Faith everlasting never to yield.
Our varsity will always fight, fight,
fight, fight,
Right on to victory!

"Victory" has been sung at rallies and student meetings already this year and has been accepted by the students as one of the best college songs ever written. Students say that "Victory" will be one of the most popular college songs in the south.

Joseph Chandler, of the Physical Education Department and head track coach, has been granted a leave of absence until February to complete his M. A. Degree at Columbia.

Eighteen Years of Service

Eighteen years ago The Flat Hat, student organ of the College of William and Mary, made its initial appearance on the campus. Put forward by The Flat Hat Club Society in a commendable effort to fill a long-felt need, its first issue came out more or less as an experiment.

The Flat Hat is no longer an experiment. Today it is a college news organ with an established place in the campus life of Williamsburg, and a recognized prestige among college newspapers of the country, gained through the earnest efforts of its editors and staffs during the eighteen years of its existence. It has grown in size and circulation, and in both respects this year's staff expects to see it surpass all previous records.

The time is not far off when The Flat Hat must cease to be a weekly of limited size. For no longer is it a mere campus news sheet printed for the convenience and amusement of a few score students. It has become the newspaper of close to 1,500 students; and added to this it has become the representative of William and Mary in Virginia to hundreds of alumni and members of other colleges throughout the country. Already its pages are overcrowded, and its staff members and business workers will testify that each issue shows an increasing bulk of news and advertising which is cut and edited and placed in its columns only by the efforts of its staff of close to forty persons, many of whom work over its pages until midnight or later three and sometimes four nights a week.

The Flat Hat must continue to grow. It cannot remain a weekly. Eventually, if members of the present staff are to judge by the quantity of news gathered on the campus, it must become a daily. Its size must be increased, with corresponding improvement in its facilities, its scope and the timeliness of its news content.

This year's staff—the eighteenth—will carry The Flat Hat as far as possible toward this goal. It cannot be achieved at one sweep, but must be accomplished gradually, by patient labor and earnest effort. So that in future years William and Mary, ancient among American Revolution, two attorney generals, twenty members of ing among American collegiate journals.

Four signers of the Declaration of Independence, three Presidents, and seventeen governors are among the graduates William and Mary has sent out in nearly two and a half centuries of her existence, according to records of the Alumni Office. William and Mary also has given the United States twenty-seven soldiers of the American Revolution, two attorney generals, twenty members of Congress, fifteen Senators, thirty-seven judges, one lieutenant-general, two commodores, twelve professors, seven cabinet officers and one chief justice.

INDIANS VERSUS FIGHTING VIRGINIANS

An Open Forum letter appears in the columns of this week's Flat Hat in which the writer objects to the use of the expression "Indians" in referring to William and Mary athletes. This word the writer points out, is used by other colleges, high schools and athletic clubs throughout the country, such as the Haskell Indians and Cleveland Indians, and is becoming overworked. "Sovereign" suggests more general usage of the term "Fighting Virginians." Some observers, however, do not think this quite distinctive nor expressive enough for college athletics. A term should be used which has some meaning and background behind it; one that will endure and not become stale with time. This is something for William and Mary to be thinking about.—F. H. B.

London—Two new $10,000,000 dirigibles built for Great Britain have been declared by a leading British journal, wholly inadequate to fulfill the duties for which they were designed. Aeronautical design progressed so fast that the ships, each of which is larger than the Graf Zeppelin and capable of accommodating 100 passengers, are already out of date, it is claimed. They make their trial flights next month.

Harrisonburg, Va.—Dr. Paul H. Bowman, president of Bridgewater College, declares that the youth of today are successes and not failures. He states that the country is safe in their hands, and that our Nation will be strengthened and bettered by our present and future generations.

London—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, of England, left last week for a historical mission to this country. Ambassador Charles G. Dawes bade him farewell.

Abilene, Texas.—Josephine Callaghan, armless woman aviator, flying an unlicensed plane, recently met death near here. Miss Callaghan had been warned several times about flying by W. P. MacCracken, Jr., Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Aeronautics. It is said that she had been flying several months.

Washington—Christy Mathewson, Jr., son of the famous New York Giant pitcher, has been designated by the War Department to commence training at the army flying schools in California and Texas.

Richmond—The State of Virginia has led the South in the production of paper for the past two years, according to Major Hodges, of the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce.

Moscow—The Russian government has sent a firm warning to China through the German foreign office that it would resist with its troops any further invasions of the Chinese army.

Lexington—One hundred and seventy-five students have been pledged to social fraternities at Washington and Lee University. Thirty-one of this number were Virginia students. It is understood that over $100,000 will be spent at W. & L. this year in the construction of fraternity houses.

Roanoke—On account of infantile paralysis the public schools of this city will not open until October 1.

New York—Miller Huggins, for the past eight years manager of the New York Yankees and one of the greatest figures in the professional baseball world, died recently after a brief illness.

Richmond—A new department store being built in this city contains twenty-eight different kinds of wood in its interior. The majority of this wood is being imported into this country.

New York.—Mayor Gustav Boess and Frau Boess, of Berlin, recently visited Mayor Walker of New York City. Mayor Walker visited the German mayor last year in Berlin.

Berlin, Germany.—The greatest combination of banks ever known in Germany took place last week. The combination has a capital of over 285,000,000 marks.

San Marcial, N. M.—After the overflow of muddy waters of the Rio Grande last week only three houses stood in this city. Fifty-four people were marooned in the three buildings. Hundreds were rescued by boats.

THIS DEPARTMENT

Eh bien, it's back to the old grind again, apparently, and here is half the editorial page staring us in the face and waiting to be filled. It wouldn't be so bad if there was something here to fill it with; but (we'll start out this year by being strictly honest) there isn't! Somehow or other there doesn't seem to be a worthwhile idea in our old grey head this week, which may or may not be an item of interest.

To tell the truth, we're disturbed again, only this time it isn't the weather that's to blame, nor the awful state of the modern dance, nor the horrors of the talking movie. This time it is something quite new: the various dusty and obstructing eruptions that have been taking place on the campus this fall. Have you noticed it? Everywhere one turns it is to plow through a dirt pile, or fall into a ditch, or find one's self talking to a stalwart, dirt-caked stranger with a pickaxe in one hand and a shovel in the other.

There's only one logical explanation. The Restoration fever is spreading like an epidemic. Now you see a building on the corner; now you don't. You go home at night past a red front grocery store and come to class next morning past a Colonial palace. No wonder the campus sewer diggers and tunnel operators have got the fever.

Extra! Extra! Extra!

Harry has just panted in with news of an accident. It seems a young woman was in such a hurry to get herself and her blue-enameled coupe into Williamsburg for a 2 o'clock class that she has just upset completely, bouncing the car over on its roof and right side up again; whereupon she calmly stepped out and surveyed the damage. Harry had it that the car turned two end on end somersaults, and if you will get any extra pleasure out of believing that, you may so far as we are concerned, and no questions asked.

The damage, Harry said, consisted of a badly nicked radiator cap, which he offered as evidence that the car actually did somersault end over end; and a bruised top. The windshield, he claims, was cracked all in chunks but none of the glass was out. They certainly are building these cars nowadays.

We would tell you what kind of a car it is that could thus withstand hard treatment, but we are waiting first for an offer from the advertising manager and the treasurer of the company that turns them out. If what we hear is promising enough we'll tell you next week.

Have you noticed the inrush of bicycles this fall? William and Mary will be getting as bad in this respect as Oberlin, or Princeton. Probably just some more of the Restoration influence, however.

You can hardly blame the Restoration for William and Mary's latest fad, though: flying. With one student already driving his own plane, and others actively interested, we have an idea there will be something interesting brewing in this field before long.

Yes, in this flying field, so to speak . . .

It is our private ambition, however, to go tearing around Williamsburg's broad avenues in a horse and buggy; you know, one of those barouche effects? To our mind there would be nothing so brilliant, etc., as driving down Duke of Gloucester Street in a barouche and a silk hat, which we would tip politely on occasion whenever we passed Al, the Greek or the town Sergeant.

And speaking of private conveyances, have you noticed Lloyd Williams' family car?

FOR SALE—One extra-good five-gallon cow.

It gives us great pleasure to announce at this time the resumption of activities of the S. B. society, following the tardy return of one Bill to school. Former members and friends of this club, which never does anything nor ever has meetings, will please rise and join in three jolly raws.

Bill, incidentally, is the only man in existence we ever saw with octogenarian glasses.

No, Wally. People who don't eat meat are not octogenarians.

Henceforth we are informed no infirmity excuses will be issued unless the excused has spent twelve hours or more in bed in the infirmity building itself.

We confidently predict an immediate crying need for a new and larger infirmary.

OPEN FORUM LETTERS

"Sovereigns" Suggested as Substitute for More Commouplace "Indian" Nickname
Editor of the Flat Hat,
Sir:

A few words in regards to the use of the term "Indians" for our athletic teams. This old slogan has served well, no doubt, but since its use has been so widely incorporated to apply to many smaller Colleges, High Schools, etc.; I believe it advisable to select a new slogan by which to identify our teams.

"The Fighting Virginians" was a good alternative that promised to give relief, but unfortunately it was short lived.

It has been suggested that we adopt, officially, the name of "The Sovereigns" as the authentic nickname for our various athletic organizations.

The University of Virginia has the title of "The Cavaliers", Washington and Lee has "The Generals", after its two founders. Is it not fitting that the William and Mary teams be called "The Sovereigns", after that King and Queen whose names the College bears?

To my knowledge there is no other school bearing this name, and therefore a title like "The Sovereigns" would be not only distinctive, but significant.

This change I offer to the student body, with whom a decision on this must rest, in hope of avoiding a commonplace, and to give the teams a title which they may be proud to carry into battle.

A Hopeful—"Sovereign".

"R. R. R." Lends His Protest to High Speed Music at College Dances

Editor of The Flat Hat, Sir:

I noticed in the Open Forum column last week the letter concerning more waltzes at our college dances. These are my "sentiments" exactly and those of a great number of other students also. It is true we like to "shag" and make "whoopee" but we like to talk to our dates or girls once in a while during the dance. We also like to have a little rest-period.

Isn't there some way that your paper can get the orchestra to play more waltzes. Many thanks!

"Soph" Likes Looks of First Issue of The Flat Hat; We Point With Pride

Editor of The Flat Hat, Sir:

I would like to express my appreciation of the Flat Hat that you presented to the students last week. It was neatly arranged and contained a great deal of news.

The students of this College should be proud to have a weekly of this type. It represents the "big-town" paper, and from every viewpoint compares with the best daily papers. Your staff members deserve a great deal of credit for their efforts. Let me sign-off wishing you the best of luck all during the year with your publication.

Yours for an unexcelled Weekly. "Soph."

"W. S. P. Wants Snake Dance by Frosh at Games

Dear Editor:

From the comments of alumni and others at the game last Saturday night it would seem, unfortunately, that the omission of the Freshman snake dance in the half was taken to mean but one thing—a further step in the decay of the college atmosphere that in former years has kept the school from being a mere fact-dispenser.

Doubtlessly there was some good reason for keeping the Freshmen in the stands. Certainly no one would do away with such a traditionally indispensable feature as the snake dance without due cause. But this reason was not at all evident, since no reply was made by the cheerleaders or others to the demands from the stands for the Freshmen, and as a consequence far too many people gained, what we feel is, an entirely erroneous impression of our school spirit and the status of the Freshman class.

"Southern Gentleman" Urges Congeniality

Editor of the Flat Hat, Sir:

Recently I was reading the Yellow Jacket, weekly paper of Randolph-Macon College. I find that freshmen there are required to take the initiative in campus greetings. In addition to the rules about campus cutting, frosh hats, attendance at all athletic contests, and so on, which are similar to ours, and the code contains the following:

All Freshmen must tip their caps when greeting a professor; speak in a cordial manner to each fellow student; and always speak first to upper-classmen.

Our rules this year contain no similar provision except to require "due respect" to faculty members and upper-classmen. The "due bible" does read that "it has been the custom for William and Mary students to greet each other on the campus," but this is not obligatory, and many freshmen have been ignoring it altogether. I ask isn't there some way that we can urge or force the "dues" to show more respect to the faculty, administration and upper-classmen? We want William and Mary to continue with its wonderful past, and in my opinion one of our greatest past assets has been congeniality toward our fellow students.

Yours for an even greater William and Mary.

Student Body Possesses Real School Spirit

Editor of the Flat Hat, Sir:

The school as a whole should feel mighty proud of the spirit shown by the student body at the rally last week. It appears that everyone responded with a zest that was truly significant of the "Old William and Mary fight". The freshmen have gotten into the swing of it by now and on the surface we have plenty of school spirit. When I say, "on the surface," I mean "on the surface," for the other day while stopping for refreshment at the College Shop, I heard men students talking of betting against William and Mary. To my mind this is one of the cases in which we are hypocritical. Betting against one's own team shows that there are some of us who value money above the virtues. Is it going to help our teams by betting against them? No, it is not; and such actions should be discouraged at this institution. However, I am sure that the boys who do this do not realize how serious this is. In our minds this school is the best college in the United States. Let's offer convincing proof.

FRANCES PERALTA AND NINO FUCILE WILL SING HERE

Grand Opera Stars Coming to William and Mary Soon; To Sing In Phi Beta Kappa Hall

Two grand opera singers of wide reputation will be brought to William and Mary this fall by the American Association of University Women, according to an announcement by Mrs. W. T. Hodges, in charge of arrangements. Both will sing in Phi Beta Kappa hall.

The first of the two artists will be Frances Peralta, prima donna, dramatic soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, who will appear October 21. Nino Fucile, baritone, of opera, concert and radio fame, will sing December 3.

In bringing the two artists to Williamsburg, Mrs. Hodges said, the A. A. U. W., feels fortunate in being able to provide concerts with such recognized stars. Both will sing at Richmond and at Norfolk in addition to their concert here.

Frances Peralta is remembered for her interpretations in the role of Aescia in the opera of that name and for her roles in "L'Oracolo," "Pagliacci," "Mefistofele," "Carmen," "Cosi Fan Tutte," "Cavalleria Rusticana," "Andre Chenier," "La Forza del Destino," "William Tell," "Don Carlos" and as Aida.

Said to have a voice of unusual warmth and color, with power and artistic intelligence, Miss Peralta has met with enthusiastic receptions in New York, Chicago, Denver and several Canadian cities during the past year.

Baron Nino Fucile, although not so well known as Miss Peralta, is said by critics to possess a remarkable voice and is regarded as one of the most promising young artists in the country.

Baron Fucile, born in Rome, was the scion of the well-known family of the same name in Sicily. He has sung fifteen leading roles in grand opera in Italy and in this country. Aside from his operatic and concert engagements he is now connected with WJZ and WEAJ as a leading baritone soloist in their concert and operatic hours.

At a recent appearance in Wilmington, Del., critics praised him as "one of the best baritones heard in Wilmington in many a day."

DEBATE ENTHUSIASTS HAVE MEETING NEXT TUESDAY

A meeting of all men interested in debating will take place next Tuesday night at 7:15 o'clock in Room 200, Washington Hall, according to a decision reached at a meeting of the Men's Debate Council Sunday. Full instructions will be given regarding the tryouts to be held later, and all Freshmen and others who wish to try out for debating are urged to attend.

Plans for a reorganization of the system and procedure of the men's debating organizations on the campus, were also discussed. It is predicted that these plans will, if made effective, do much in the interests of efficiency and perfection in debate training and competition and go far to insure the making of a still better record by this year's team. These plans are not far enough advanced as yet to permit of more detailed information concerning them.

The schedule of the men's debate team will be published as soon as the correspondence necessary to its compilation can be completed, it was announced.

Autumn of '79

WHILE Yale and Princeton were battling to a tie at Hoboken, New Jersey, a small group of scientists, directed by Thomas A. Edison, was busy at Menlo Park, only a few miles away. On October 21, their work resulted in the first practical incandescent lamp.

Few realized what fifty years would mean to both electric lighting and football. The handful who watched Yale and Princeton then has grown to tens of thousands to-day. And the lamp that glowed for forty hours in Edison's little laboratory made possible to-day's billions of candle power of electric light. In honor of the pioneer achievement, and of lighting progress, the nation this year observes Light's Golden Jubilee.

Much of this progress in lighting has been the achievement of college-trained men employed by General Electric.

INDIAN CAPTAIN

TEDDY BAUSERMAN

Who is completing his fourth year on the William and Mary Varsity eleven by captaining his team.

LIGHT CLADS TRAIN FOR SPRING CARD

Baggett and Gresham Grooming Runners For Campaign; Seven Veterans Lost

Out on Cary Field William and Mary's varsity trackmen, and others who aspire to run like Indians, are undergoing fall conditioning work in anticipation of the unusually hard schedule that Coach "Scrap" Chandler's men will be facing next spring.

The runners are in charge of Captain Marshall Baggett and "Granny" Gresham, last year's Indian leader, who are directing the track work this fall in the absence of Coach Chandler. Mr. Chandler being at Columbia University completing post graduate work in Physical Education.

Seven stars from William and Mary's heaven of runners, which shone so brilliantly last spring, are gone from the green, gold and silver ethereal regions. Bennett, Quesenberry, Davis, Justice, Stribling, Copenhagen and Graham are the missing constellations.

Runners from last year's freshman team will be counted upon to fill the shoes of the missing varsity men. Johnson, brilliant miler, whose record-breaking performances featured the frosh's season, and Smithers, a good dashman, together with Potterfield, Shipp and Pruitt, promising hurdlers, and Britton, quarter-miler are all expected to aid greatly in the performance of the 1930 edition of the William and Mary track team.

Gresham, the wonder runner, is back for another season and Zabel and Trice, varsity middle distance men are working out daily.

Cross-country runs will be started soon for the distance men. A three-mile course, taking in all the most historic points of Williamsburg and vicinity, was mapped out last year, and the distance men will be sent over this three times a week until cold weather sets in.

MIDDIES LAY CLAIM TO STRONGEST TEAM IN EAST; INDIANS IN SHAPE

OPPOSING FROSH COACHES ROOM MATES AT W. & L.

Coach "Cy Young may have a special reason for wanting his yearlings to trim the Washington and Lee freshmen tomorrow. Eddie Davis, the visitor's coach, and "Cy" went through Washington and Lee together. In fact they roomed together for four years. No wonder a keen, yet friendly, rivalry exists between the two coaches.

REDMEN TAKE OPENER FROM JOHNNIES, 19-0

Ryan and Scott Run Wild in First Play; Bocock Uses Fifteen Subs in Game

William and Mary's Indian gridmen tried the lid off their 1929 football season last Saturday night with a 19-0 victory over St. John's College of Annapolis.

Under the brilliance of the arc lights and the spell of enthusiasm wrought by a cheering student body, 1,000 strong, the Bocockmen displayed a fighting organization that surprised the Johnnies with its aggressiveness.

The Indians kept the visitors with their backs to the wall throughout most of the game, the Green, Gold and Silver offensive was led by "Bill" Scott, flashy halfback, and "Rosy" Ryan, glue-fingered pass-snatcher. "Brownie" Bauserman, at right end, and "Bill" Fields, in center, gave great defensive performances.

Two of William and Mary's three touchdowns came as the result of aerial heaves in the first half. A bullet pass from Scott to Ryan placed the ball within scoring distance in the initial quarter. It remained for "Red" Maxey to plunge through center for the first Indian touchdown of the season.

The high light of the game was the spectacular catch by Ryan of a 35-yard pass from Scott. Ryan, on a dead run, gathered in the oval with one hand, and eluded several would-be tacklers to complete the play for the second William and Mary score.

Ryan again demonstrated his tenacious ability in the third period when he snatched a St. John's pass out of the air in midfield and raced 30 yards through a broken field before being downed on the 20-yard line. Maxey broke loose around right end for 15 yards, and Scott scored the final six points on another wing flight.

Coach Bocock used many substitutes, fifteen men, besides the starting eleven, seeing action. The Indians made six first downs to the Johnnies four and completed three passes to the visitors one.

The line-up:

INGRAM'S SQUAD STRONG IN ALL POINTS OF GAME

Tars Present Strong Offense and Defense; Strength Shown Against Denison Last Week

INDIANS USE SAME TEAM

Fighting Virginians In Good Shape; Wrinkles In Line Ironed Out By Week's Practice

The William and Mary football team left this morning for Annapolis, Maryland, where they will meet the United States Naval Academy eleven tomorrow in their second game of the season. The Fighting Virginians went in the new bus that the college purchased this summer and expect to arrive in the Maryland City sometime this evening.

Middies Strong

The Middies present the strongest team that they have had in years. Newspapers all over the country claim that Coach Bill Ingram has developed the strongest team in the east for his 1929 campaign.

Last week against Denison the Tars opened up their big guns and gave some example of their strength by defeating the Ohioans, 47-0. The Middies had possession of the ball almost all the time and gained 26 first downs to their opponents one. They only allowed the visitors to gain 35 yards throughout the whole game.

The Annapolis boys are strong in every point of the game. They worked every kind of play in the game Saturday and substantial gains resulted in almost every instance. The most ground, however, was gained by line plunges with Spring and Kohlhas in the stellar roles. Navy worked several passes for good gains with Spring on the twirling end and Moret receiving.

Not only are the Tars strong on the offense, but are a true stone wall on the defense. Denison was stopped on every play before its backs had passed the line of scrimmage, and its total yardage for the first half was fourteen yards. The Navy during that time had chalked up fifteen first downs. Leo Crane, end, and Captain Koepke, mammoth guard, are the mainstays in the Navy's defense.

Coach Ingram has a wealth of material for every position on the squad and has found it hard to pick a first team. In the Denison game he used thirty men. The Navy will probably line-up with Crane, and Moret on the wing, Crinkley and Gray at tackles, Captain Koepke, Chapple, or Westhofen at guard and Hughes at center. The half backs will be chosen from Kohlhas, Toth and Spring, the full backs from Mauro and McCracken, President E. S. Barnard, of the American League, has announced that baseball's long drawn-out season will be shortened considerably next year. The season was practically over a week ago.

He goes on to say, "The World Series should be under way now or at least all set for the next day or two. The sporting game in general is demanding more action. There is too many competitions for any one sport to loaf along and attempt to pad out the menu."

"Baseball once had a big card from April to October, but those conditions have changed. There are too many other big cards now."

Navy scored twenty-five first downs against Denison last Saturday. The visitors only scored one. The Middies also only allowed the Ohioans to gain 35 yards.

Raymond Richard's football playing ability is not hampered by the fact that his heart and other vital organs are reversed from their normal positions.

The 200-pound tackle of the University of Nebraska's squad already has won two letters on the gridiron. Last year he was mentioned on several honorary Big Six teams.

A cabin plane service to out-of-town football games is available this fall to University of Missouri students.

For most of Missouri's games away from home, students may attend Saturday morning classes and still see afternoon contests in neighboring states.

Sauerkraut and beefsteak will have it out on the football field tomorrow when Colgate meets Wisconsin at Madison.

A number of the coaches have gone in for feeding their players sauerkraut juice as a bracer against fatigue, among them, Glenn Thistlethwaite, the Badger's coach.

Colgate is not among the sauerkraut brigade because Andy Kerr prefers to feed his wards a "He-man's fare"—rich, red beefsteak.

If a tie score should result maybe a dietitian should be called in to break the deadlock.

Following the plan of several institutions, Carnegie Tech will have its football captain appointed by the coaches, who may replace him should he fail to live up to expectations.

Grantland Rice says:

"The list of strong looking football teams is longer this season than it has been for years. With no intention of offering a complete list of those hard to beat will include Stanford, University of Southern California, Pittsburgh, West Virginia, Princeton, New York University, Army, Michigan, Illinois, Minnesota, Notre Dame, Georgia Tech, Florida, Tennessee, Harvard, Navy, and Carnegie Tech.

The first real upset of the 1929 football season in the south was served up at Athens, Georgia, Saturday by the scrappy Petrels of Oglethorpe University, when they defeated the Georgia Bulldogs, 13-7.

Tanner, Osmond, and Burke Chosen Best Co-Ed Athletes In 1929

EXTENSIVE SWIMMING PROGRAM PLANNED FOR WOMEN

ALL LEADERS IN ATHLETIC CLASS HERE LAST YEAR

All Three Serve As Captains or Managers of Co-Ed Sport While In College

TANNER WINS BLANKET

The Women's Athletic Association elected as the three leading athletes for last year, Bups Tanner, Brownie Osmond, and Nancy Burke.

Each year the committee selects three girls on the campus who have been outstanding as leaders in athletics. Bups Tanner had been one of the outstanding stars every since her entrance here in February, 1926. She was a member of the tennis team for four years, acting as manager in 1928 and the captain in 1929. As a forward on the basketball team she won her letters for three consecutive years. On the hockey team Bups played the position of left inside. In minor sports such as baseball and track she was equally outstanding. Miss Tanner was the only woman last year to receive the most coveted award given by the Athletic Association, the William and Mary blanket which is awarded to any woman acquiring a total of 1600 points as prescribed under the point system. Bups was the president of the Monogram Club for 1928-29.

Brownie Osmond, like Bups, served on the net aggregation for four years, acting as the manager in 1927. In hockey she held down the position of right fullback. As a member of the track team, Brownie claimed honors in the weight events.

Nancy Burke is remembered for her excellent work on the basketball floor. She held the position of guard for three years and captained the team of 1929. Nancy played the position of left inside on the hockey team. She was president of the Monogram Club for the term 1928-29.

At present we find Brownie connected with the Physical Education work in Hagerstown, Maryland. Nancy is an instructor in the same line of work at Juanita College, in Huntingdon, Pennsylvania. Bups is planning to continue her studies at Columbia University.

Cornick, King, and Wyatt to Conduct Instruction Periods; General Plunge Every Friday

Under the direction of Charlotte King and Sue Cornick, the Women's Athletic Association are forming plans for an elaborate swimming program this term. All women in the college are to be divided into four classes; non-swimmers, beginners, intermediates, and advanced. Those who can swim two lengths of the pool in good form with any stroke are beginners. Those who can do a plain front dive, know two strokes, and can swim four lengths with each stroke are intermediates and those who can do the crawl, side, and back strokes and surface and front dives may qualify for the advanced group.

There will be no life saving classes until next term, but those who wish to do life saving work must take advanced swimming now. The approved swimmers test was given last Friday under the direction of Miss Roberts and Charlotte King. Fourteen girls passed.

A general plunge period will be held every Friday night from eight to nine forty-five. One Friday night in each month will be set aside as stunt night. The dates for these stunt programs will be posted on the door of the pool. Three approved swimmers or one life guard and two unapproved swimmers are allowed in the pool. No one is allowed in by themselves.

The schedule for the various classes are as follows:

Monday and Wednesday—3:00-3:30 Beginners; 3:30-4:00 Intermediate; 8:00-8:30 Beginners; 8:30-9:00 Intermediate; 9:00-9:30 Advanced.

Tuesday and Thursday—12:00-1:00 Advanced; 2:30-3:00 Beginners; 3:00-3:30 Non-Swimmers; 3:30-4:00 Beginners; 8:00-8:30 Non-Swimmers; 8:30-9:30 Intermediate.

Sue Cornick will have charge of the classes on Tuesday and Thursday nights and Iola Wyatt on Monday and Wednesday afternoons. Charlotte King will hold all other classes. Every girl in college is expected to sign up for one of the respective classes.

SPECIAL RATES TO BALTIMORE FOR GAME

Chesapeake Steamship Company Announces Round Trip Fare of $5.00 For Navy Game

The Chesapeake Steamship Company have announced reduced rates for students between Yorktown and Baltimore, for the game tomorrow. The round trip fare for those wishing to attend the Navy game is five dollars.

The boat will leave Yorktown at eight o'clock tonight arriving in Baltimore Saturday morning. At Baltimore those going to Annapolis can catch a bus direct to the football field. The round trip fare on the bus is one dollar. The return boat will leave Baltimore at 6:30. This arrangement gives the students ample time to attend the game and return to Baltimore to catch the boat. The steamer will arrive at Yorktown sometime early Sunday morning.

Any one desiring to do so can get a stateroom for an additional $1.25. Three passengers can be accommodated comfortably in one stateroom. For further information and for stateroom reservations get in communication with J. F. Knowles, T. P. A. Chesapeake Steamship Co., 809 E. Main Street, Richmond. Tickets at the above round trip fare may be purchased from the purser on the steamer.

INDIANETTE POINT SYSTEM EXPLAINED

Monogram Given for Participation In Hockey, Basketball, and Tennis; Also For Points

There is a point system used in the athletic realm at William and Mary, which enables every girl in the college to get a monogram. This system was explained at the recent meeting of the Women's Athletic Association meeting, but for the benefit of those who were absent, it may be well to give the general idea of the system.

The W. and M. monogram is awarded to girls for making the various varsity teams, such as, hockey, basketball and tennis. The first two sports are considered major sports and the large letters are awarded. Tennis is, as yet, a minor sport and the smaller letters with the two small T's are given. A green sweater is given to every girl who wins a monogram. After receiving one monogram in a sport, a star is awarded for each year after that, that one serves on the team.

However, for those who are not so talented as to make one of these individual teams, a system has been devised which enables a girl to win a monogram after two years participation provided that she accumulates during two successive years a total of 750 points. These points are awarded according to the team one makes. A varsity player, or member of an honorary team receives 100 points. By this we mean all of those girls who have played with the varsity squad and who have in the coaches' opinion deserved the credit of 100 points. A girl does not necessarily have to play in an intercollegiate contest. As a member of a class team 75 points are awarded and for participation throughout the season 50 points. Points are awarded only to those who have attended practices regularly and have no more than three absences according to the records of the manager.

Points are given for hockey, tennis, basketball, baseball, soccer, hiking, swimming and track. However, in winning a point monogram you are allowed to count only three sports each semester.

One 100 points must have been received in some sport in order to get the monogram. For each additional 400 points acquired a star is awarded. Thus a girl can receive a monogram and two stars during her four years at college. For a total of 1600 points a blanket is awarded. In this case, a 100 points must have been received in three different sports.

arrange to serve salads, sandwiches, toast, cake, pies, and coffee during the afternoon and evening until 10 o'clock.

Just when this service is to be inaugurated will be announced in an early issue of The Flat Hat.

HOCKEY TEAM TAKES FORM IN PRACTICES

Daily Workouts Round Team Into Shape; Promising Material Discovered

The second week of hockey season finds an even larger enrollment than the first. Practices are being held every day, with beginners and experienced players reporting for separate workouts two days a week. Friday, games are played between teams made up of these groups. Fine playing is already evident, though team organization is incomplete. One outstanding feature of the game last Friday was the team-work of the forward line, composed of Sollenberger, Young, King, Payne, and Dunlevy. Time and time again the quintette would get the ball on the center bulge, pass it to the wings, dribble it down the field, center it, and shoot for goal. This year's material produces some exceedingly fast forwards, and the coaches will have a difficult decision in picking varsity players.

Only one varsity girl from the half-back trio returned. This necessitates the development of several new players in the ranks. Winn, as center half looks promising, but no definite decisions can be made. The full backs completely vanished with the 1929 graduation, but material here is very good. Cornick, Field, Seaman, and Roberts are fighting for the two berths in this division. Between the goal posts, Vivian Dreyer, is keeping up her good work. Forecasts for a good team of these would-be stars are promising.

KING AND QUEEN TO GRACE NEW GATE

Statues of William and Mary Will Be Erected at New College Gate

The statues of King William and Queen Mary which are to form a gateway to the campus have come into the limelight again with the announcement that architects are now waiting only the donor's approval to place them. Grading for the entrance is complete, and Mrs. B. B. Mumford, the donor, will inspect the work shortly. At her sanction, together with the approbation of the Board of Visitors, and the State Art Commission, the gateway will be erected this fall.

Old trees at the edge of the campus have made the situation a difficult one. The Board of Visitors has insisted upon their preservation, and the architects have had to devise a unique scheme of placement to protect them. Mrs. Mumford's absence during the vacation months has further complicated the work.

The statues are to stand as a memorial to the late B. B. Mumford, of New York City, whose widow, the present donor, is a graduate of the College. F. Burrell Hoffman, Jr., designer of the figures, is the architect acting for Mrs. Mumford. He is working with Mr. C. M. Robinson, college architect.

YOUNG'S CHARGES PRACTICE HARD FOR LID-LIFTER

Paposes Present Strong Defensive Machine; Offense Taking Form Slowly

HARD STRUGGLE EXPECTED

No Lineups or Predictions Given; First Contest for Both Elevens

Tomorrow afternoon, the William and Mary Paposes will open their season by playing the strong Washington and Lee freshmen on Cary Field. Coach Cy Young has moulded another duc team into fighting trim and the encounter ought to sizzle with action. Two or three scrimmages with the Varsity and outside teams have polished up a rather weak offense and tomorrow the frosh ought to provide plenty of opposition for the visitors.

Coach Young declined to give his starting lineup but several men seem more or less sure of receiving the starting assignment. Moffet, at center, has proven himself to be a reliable man around the middle of the line and his work to date has been little short of perfect. Meade, Walker, Harold and Hurst comprise the first string guards and there is little to choose between them. Walker very likely will be at tackle when the opening whistle blows as Hines is ineligible for the game. Bonwell will be at the other tackle. Halligan will be at one end as he has been playing quite consistently. His punts have measured up to Varsity calibre and his kicking will help the cause in no small way. Bueler and Reid will alternate on the other wing. In the backfield, Marks, Le Croix, and Hannel are good choices for starting positions with Beban and Christinson for reserve. Siminsky, Garber, Sorrell and Roberts are possible starters for quarter.

Despite the fact that Saturday's game is the first of the season for the yearlings, it is nevertheless considered the season's objective. Both teams are untried against other freshman teams and no prediction can be given as to the final result.

Palmer Wins Flat Hat Score Award ANOTHER LIST GIVEN TODAY

T. L. Palmer, with a perfect list of winners and an almost perfect list of scores, won the first of the series of Flat Hat football score contests. Mr. Palmer will receive as a prize a necktie from Rodger's College Men's Shop.

Over fifty men turned in their lists of probable winners and scores and seven of these predicted the winners of all ten correctly. Palmer was closest, however, in predicting the scores. Frank H. Taylor and Edward Yeatts were close seconds. One man had as many as five incorrect winners.

Last week's list was exceedingly easy, for nearly all of the games were "set-ups." This week's list ought to give a little more trouble. The winner will again receive a necktie.

Copy the teams on a paper and put down the probable scores. Several were successful in picking the winners last week but failed to put down the scores. Place your name on the paper, seal in an envelope, address to Paul W. Norton, Sports Editor, and put in the Flat Hat mail box in Citizenship. No scores will be accepted after noon Saturday. This contest is open to both men and women in the college.

This week's list follows:
U. of Pittsburgh at Duke.
V. M. I. at U. of Florida.
Washington and Lee at North Carolina State.

U. of North Carolina at U. of Maryland.

Hampden-Sydney at V. P. I.
Notre Dame at Indiana.

Amherst at Princeton.

Indians In Form

The Fighting Virginians are in good shape after their fray with St. John's College here last Saturday. No serious injuries resulted from last week's encounter and many of the wrinkles brought out Saturday have been ironed out. With these improvements over last week the Redmen ought to make a splendid showing against this much superior team tomorrow.

Coaches Bocock and Kellison will make no radical changes in the Indians lineup for tomorrow's game. Practically the same team that started against the Johnnies last Saturday will see service in the game tomorrow.

CHEERLEADERS NAMED

Head Cheerleader "Rip" Collins has announced that the cheerleaders for each game will be named from the following: Hofmann, Pleninger, Weir, Jurow, Taliaferro, Vince, Robbins, D. Brown, and Moss. From three to six men will be assigned to every game and the students are urged to cooperate with these men in getting the student body organized into a roaring cheering section.

RYAN HEADS MEN'S GLEE CLUB

WOMEN'S SOPH. TRIBUNAL ACTIVE DURING PAST WEEK

The Sophomore Tribunal began its activities last week when two "ducesses" were called to account for their misdemeanors. The next day one ducess was seen wearing a sign reading "Sleeping Beauty". The other miscreant wore a sign bearing her name and college address.

According to Lelia Chewning, chairman of the Tribunal, plans are almost complete for "ducess" week, which will probably be the third week in October. Freshmen caps are expected this week.

Y. W. MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN NOW ON

New Girls Will Be Enrolled Today and Tomorrow In Office of Barrett Hall

The Y. W. C. A. will conduct a membership campaign today and tomorrow. All new girls desiring to affiliate with the organization are requested to report at some time within these two days at the Y. W. C. A. room in Barrett Hall.

A detailed explanation was given of the purpose of the Y. W. last night at its regular weekly meeting at 7 o'clock in Phi Beta Kappa Hall. The advantage of membership, meaning and ideals of the organization were discussed especially for the new girls.

The cabinet has planned this year to divide the organization into small interest groups in order that more individual attention may be given to the various departments. On each Thursday night at the regular meeting of the society interesting points discussed in the groups will be featured.

Mary Stearns of Richmond, Va., was recently appointed as publicity chairman of the Y. W. This office was held last year by Mary Gray who did not return to school.

NUMBER OF WOMEN STUDENTS INCREASE

Dean Landrum Says Women Students Number 635; 355 Are Former Students

The enrollment of women students this semester is 635, which is within nine of the entire women enrollment for both semesters of last year, it was learned Monday at the office of Dr. Grace W. Landrum, Dean of Women.

Of this number 355 are former students, according to the estimates of Dr. Landrum, who considers this distinctly encouraging. The presence of a large percentage of old students makes for greater stability of student body, better work, a higher quality of school loyalty, and the creation of a strong alumni body, Dr. Landrum says.

The women's averages for last semester will be ready for the next issue of The Flat Hat, she said.

PAUSE AND REFRESH YOURSELF

IT WON'T BE LONG NOW. AND THE PAUSE THAT'S COMING MAY NOT BE SO REFRESHING AS SOME OTHERS WE KNOW OF.

The moral is to avoid situations where it is impossible to pause and refresh yourself—because whenever you can't is when you most wish you could. Fortunately, in normal affairs there's always a soda fountain or refreshment stand around the corner from anywhere with plenty of ice-cold Coca-Cola ready. LARGEST CLASS AT 1929 SUMMER TERM

Degrees Awarded Ninety-Two Students Who Finished Work In Last Week of August

The largest summer school graduating class ever turned out by a college in Virginia received degrees at the end of the William and Mary 1929 summer session, according to figures furnished by the new College Alumni and Information office. Ninety students were graduated, and the degrees were almost evenly divided among men and women, and the enrollment included seventeen married persons, records show. Students came from a large number of Eastern and Southern states.

The summer school graduates included: Bachelor of Arts Nellie M. Baker, Norfolk; Mary C. Buckner, Cartersville; Margaretta T. Blume, Hackensack, N. J.; Lucy M. SUMMER SCHOOL IN EUROPE IS SUCCESS

William and Mary Summer School In Europe Spent In Sight Seeing, Tours and Lectures

The 1929 William and Mary Summer School in Europe returned to the United States late last month after two months abroad. The party left June 15, on the steamship New Amsterdam. The first stop was made at Plymouth where the party remained a week. While there, time was occupied in sight-seeing and travel.

The group arrived in Paris, July 1, and remained until August 4. In Paris the students registered at the Sorbonne, which is the school of Arts and Literature of the University of Paris. Mornings were spent in lectures at the University. Afternoon and evening programs were filled mostly with sight-seeing, tours, and visits to points of interest. The students attended performances at the Grand Opera, Le Theatre Francais, and other theatre houses. Week-end trips were made to Versailles, Fontainebleau and historic points near the city. July 14, French National holiday was spent by the students on the streets of Paris where street dancing, illuminations, and fireworks were engaged in by the people.

On leaving Paris, August 4, the group made a week's tour through Germany and Belgium, visiting, Verdun, Heidelberg and Brussels. After seven weeks abroad, of which five were passed in Paris, the group left Rotterdam, Holland on the steamship Rotterdam and arrived in New York, August 24. Dr. W. A. Montgomery and Prof. C. A. Fryxell members of the faculty here last year accompanied the party for a time through England and Germany.

Plans are already being made for the 6th annual study tour of 1930 in Europe.

FLAT HAT OCCUPIES LARGER QUARTERS IN PRESENT BUILDING

New Office Affords Space For All Departments; H. S. Ashby Circulation Manager

Larger and more adequate editorial quarters for publishing the Flat Hat became available last week when the staff moved into its new rooms in Citizenship Building. The office is much larger than the old office and affords plenty of space for the various departments. Separate desks have been provided for the editors of the different departments.

The business department has taken possession of the old editorial and news office. The room has been newly painted and provides a larger working space for the business department.

The circulation department under the management of H. S. Ashby who was elected to the position at a recent meeting of the editors, has moved into Room 2 in the same building. A large circulation staff insures more efficient distribution this year.

GIRL SCOUT LEADER ON CAMPUS

Miss Adelaide Werner, Director of Region Three of Girl Scouts of Hagerstown, Md., arrived this week to conduct a course for training of Girl Scout leaders.

At the completion of the course a camping trip on the James river is being contemplated, it is said.

Series of Addresses In Policy of Philomathean

A change has been announced in the policy of the Philomathean Literary Society, whose members heretofore have delivered addresses so that they might attain ability as speakers.

This year however, an entirely new system is to be instituted. Instead of having the members themselves speak, they are to listen to a series of addresses given by trained men. In this way the members will have an opportunity of learning "how it should be done" by observing and listening to the abilities of experienced people.

The first address of the series is to be delivered by Dr. W. D. Guy, professor of Chemistry, of William and Mary. His subject will be "The Rayon Industry". All students are cordially invited to attend the address which will be given in Rogers Hall next Friday evening at 7:30.

NOTED THEOLOGIAN ADDRESSES STUDENTS

Emphasizing that every college student should select the work for which he or she is best suited and then prepare for the choice, Dr. Thornton Whaling, noted Virginian Theologian, addressed the student body at the second convocation last Friday on "Choosing a Life's Vocation". Dr. Whaling is former professor of theology in the Divinity School at Columbia, South Carolina, and Louisville, Kentucky. He has been rector and moderator of the largest Presbyterian churches in this state and is former National Chaplain of the Sons of the American Revolution.

Monroe Hall Now Used As All-Freshman Dormitory

Monroe Hall this year is being used as an all-freshman dormitory. Under this plan the Freshmen class has become a compact unit with Mr. George E. Gregory, of the English Department and Assistant Treasurer, W. G. Thompson as proctors. Mr. Gergory and Mr. Thompson are assisted by Jack Scully and Emmerson Gillenwater.

Quiet hour is enforced from 8 o'clock in the evening until 8 o'clock in the morning during which no loud talking, playing of musical instruments or unnecessary noises are allowed.

LITERARY SOCIETIES ACQUAINT STUDENTS WITH AIMS IN WORK

Philomathean and Phoenix Societies Conduct Smokers for Freshmen and Old Students

The annual business of the literary societies of acquainting freshmen and transfers with their branch of school activities got under way last week with smokers held by the Phoenix and Philomathean societies Thursday and Friday nights, respectively. At each, speakers made clear to the new men the nature of literary society work, the benefits to be derived therefrom, and its relation to the rest of college life.

Mr. Brooks, the debating coach, was the leading speaker for the Philomatheans, dwelling upon the values of college life in general and of literary society work in particular. Following him C. A. Turner, president, and M. O. Britten spoke briefly. The men present were asked to indicate which branch of the work they would prefer, and the annual Freshman contest was announced.

E. G. Frizzell, vice-president, and Ryland Nuckols, D. W. Brown, and A. K. Heyward talked at the Phoenix session, welcoming the new men and introducing them to the plans and purposes of the organization. Refreshments and smokes were served at both gatherings.
