

"CLEOPATRA" BURLESQUE

SET FOR THURSDAY NIGHT

EGGLESTON TO TAKE LEAD IN BURLESQUE

Men's Glee Club Acts As Sponsor To Opera "Cleopatra," Which Is Considered a Humorous Burlesque On College Life.

JOHN BRIGHAM IS AUTHOR

Howard Scammon, Herman Hofmann, Tom McCaskey, George Stewart Complete Cast.

Amid a riot of fun and collegiate color the burlesque opera, "Cleopatra," will take the boards on Thursday night at 8:15 in Phi Beta Kappa Hall, featuring Johnny Eggleston in the role of the sweet voiced, exotic Cleo who has all the college boys, William, Anthony, Caesar, Pompey, and others, madly enraptured with her beguiling charms.

Those supporting Cleo are Howard Scammon, as William; Herman Hofmann, as Pompey; Tom McCaskey, as Caesar; and George Stewart, as Anthony.

The story of "Cleopatra" as presented by John W. Brigham, author of the burlesque opera, involves William, a student, who laments because Cleopatra, his sweetheart, is receiving attentions from many other men. He decides to disguise himself as a Ghost in order to frighten her lovers away and when Cleo is making whoopee with Anthony, the football hero, the Ghost appears. One by one Pompey, Anthony, and Caesar are interrupted in their tele-a-tele with over-started Cleo. In despair the other suitors die in close harmony and Cleo herself almost resorts to the snake cure for repressed love.

Sparkling burlesque is maintained at a fever pitch throughout the opera and a steady flow of wise cracks is expected to keep the audience in an uproar. John Eggleston fits the part of Cleo to perfection and in his feminine makeup will give the co-eds a hard run for honors. His high tenor voice is suited to carry the heavy burlesque lead, while his Egyptian movements in a certain dance gives all the atmosphere of a well equipped harem.

MILNE DRAMA PLAYED HERE

The Little Theatre League of Williamsburg presented "Mr. Pim Passes By," a three act comedy by A. A. Milne, in Phi Beta Kappa Hall, Friday, November 27. The production was under the direction of Mrs. Mary T. Pyle. Miss Mary McCausland played the part of Anne; Dr. Frank McLean, Mr. Carraway Pim; Mrs. Elizabeth Stubbs, Dinah; Douglas Stackhouse, Brian Strange; Mrs. Winifred Southworth, Olivia Marden; Dr. John C. E. Fisher, George Marden and Mrs. C. E. Friend, Lady Marden.

The story revolves around the misadventures of Mr. Carraway Pim, who just "happens along," but who brings endless complications into the lives of the Marden family. The situations resulting from Mr. Pim's little visits afford Mr. Milne ample opportunity to display his usual whimsicality of humor and he wrote into the play some extremely clever lines. On the whole, the cast took full advantage of these lines and put Milne's humor across. Dr. McLean's and Mrs. Friend's characterizations were especially thorough. The whole production showed pains-taking direction.

MEDICAL APTITUDE TEST TO BE GIVEN

Medical Aptitude Tests for pre-medical students will be given in Washington 100, on Friday, Dec. 11, at 4 P. M.

Since the test is a normal requirement for admission to practically all the medical schools, and since it will be given only once a year, all students who expect to apply for entrance by next fall should take the tests at this time. Failure to take them will handicap the medical student by practically barring him from other schools.

Applicants should sign the sheet on the bulletin board of the Department of Biology or put their names in Dr. Davis' box in Ewell Hall.

THIS MATTER OF COCKSUREDNES

The William and Mary team played its last game of the season football game. It appears to us that the Braves themselves were as much surprised when they lost as were the rest of the student body. Judging from this surprise we immediately question whether William and Mary didn't need some set back to keep her from becoming entirely too cocksure for her own good?

Just as a person can become conceited when he has made good and everything has seemed to work toward his making a success of himself, so a college can become too puffed up over its own accomplishments. After all, a college is only an organization which is composed of people who are working toward the same end. It is necessarily composed of various types of people, but the difference in their personalities seems to make no difference since their goal is the same. We do not like to think that we are conceited and we do not care to associate with persons whom we consider conceited. It will be noticed, however, that we can never see this particular fault in our friends. And that is what has happened to William and Mary.

For eight years William and Mary has been undefeated in the annual game with Richmond on Thanksgiving Day. Each year the "Spiders" have fought to the finish, showing that indomitable will to succeed which is the key to all true success. This year their eight year struggle was not in vain and William and Mary ranks in football once more as it did before 1922—below the University of Richmond.

We are not criticizing our team. The showing which it has made this year has been one of the best in the history of the college. But we are criticizing the attitude of the student body. We are turning out to be a bunch of know it alls. It will take a few more setbacks such as this last one to bring us back to our former position of a college whose aim is the best whether that best be greater or less than someone else's.

When we were a smaller college we used to go down to the train to see our teams off. We supported them at games. We believed they would win. Why? Because they were the best teams in the country? No. Because the College of William and Mary was back of them and pulling for them. Within the last few years our attitude has changed. We felt William and Mary was capable of winning almost any game because it had a good team. It does take a good team to win. But what makes a good team? A fleet backfield, a strong line, an accurate punter—all these are necessary. But more important than these is student support.

William and Mary is destined to become one of the largest and finest colleges in the country. We sometimes laugh at our traditions, but they are some of the things which make W. & M. different from an ordinary college. The point is that we are losing sight of the fact that in unity there is strength. Not only do we need to pull together once again, but we need to lose some of this cocksureness which has been so much in evidence during the past few weeks.

Football is over for the year, but the lesson this last game has taught us can be studied even now. Let's pretend we are still a small group and throw off some of the cocksureness which we have gained during the past few years. Enter the fray Virginians and live up to your name. Fight—even though this time it is necessary to retrace some of our steps.

Editor of the Flat Hat,
Dear Sir:

As one who occasionally enjoys going to the Saturday night dances, I should like to know if the orchestra is really as completely disgruntled with the whole affair as they appear to be? If so, they have undoubtedly transmitted their feeling to most of the people there by the time they have finished. To those who have come to dance, the changes in tempo are most disconcerting. Is the orchestra looking for the Lost Chord, or are they working on the principal "for every chord a discord?"

With the really good work that is going on in the different phases of the Music Department, why is it that the orchestra is entirely overlooked? The dances are degenerating into half-hearted efforts to keep in time with

The Front Page

PARIS.—Ambassador Charles Dawes stated that the United States Government approves the League of Nations council resolution which demanded that Japan evacuate the Manchurian district as soon as conditions of security permit. It looks as if the League is getting desperate, after having failed to make Japan pick on someone her size, they have at last taken a definite step which will undoubtedly put a stop to all hostilities. The League sent a number of telegrams commanding Japan and China to behave themselves.

We hope that such drastic measures won't stop this war, just as it was getting interesting. Too, we can see a lot of good reasons why there should be a war. (A) We could put our unemployed to work, making guns, ammunition, battleships, etc. (B) We could make Calvin Coolidge a War Correspondent thus elevating journalism. (C) If either side loses it would leave the victor too weak to cause any more trouble for a while. (D) It might bring back light wines and beer. (E) Floyd Gibbons could write a new book.

We don't see how war between Oriental countries could bring back light wines and beer, but the idea is just as sensible and would probably be as effective as any of the measures taken so far in this country.

CZECH AND DOUBLE-CZECH

PLAGUE, CZECHOSLOVAKIA.—The people of Prague are in a state of high dudgeon (One of the Czechoslovakian provinces, no doubt) as the result of riot brought about by unemployment. It is alleged that municipal police fired into a mob that was forming to storm the House of Parliament and effectively czech-ed the onslaught. Deputy Strbrany was hurt from the speaker's platform by members of the communist party when he attempted to defend the action of the police. Minister of the Interior Slavic claims that "Agitators have left jobs to stir up this riot and was the duty of the state to resort to energetic measures."

WHY BRING THAT UP

OLD KINSALE, IRELAND.—The Lake-Railley expedition, under the command of Captain H. H. Railley has received official permission from London to salvage the Lusitania, the famous passenger liner which was sunk by the Germans in 1915, creating a large factor for use by the political propagandists of this country prior to our entry in the World War.

THE LION OF THE LOIN CLOTH

LONDON.—Mahatma Gandhi became peeved at the delay of the British Government and said that he was going home to start raising Old Ned in the southern part of the Orient. He claims that the British treatment of the Indian Nationalists is a "reign of terror, but that the children of India will dance with joy when the bullets fly around them." Gandhi stated further that "A reign of terror cannot kill the spirit of millions of Indians for independence. I must go back to India and invite its children to a new course of suffering." We have a sneaking hunch that if Mahatma starts yodeling the east Indian Love Call promiscuously in public places, there may be a bit more racket in the Orient. Well, if we have wars, let's have them all at once.

THANKSGIVING REVERSED

GALLUP, N. M.—Fifty white horsemen were dispatched to carry food to 1,300 Indians, who were near starvation after having been marooned by a severe snow storm near here. 310 years after the first Thanksgiving a group of Zuni Indians staggered into the town and told the plight of their tribesmen in the hills. The horsemen left Gallup, (at a gallop, no doubt) carrying sufficient provisions to sustain the Redmen until expeditions for further aid can be organized.

LATER NEWS FROM THE EAST

MUKDEN, MANCHURIA.—A report reached here November 27, claiming that Chau Hseuh-Liang has ordered a Chinese garrison to prepare for an attack upon the Japanese forces. This dispatch followed close upon the heels of an article stating that Japan and China had accepted the peace basis of the League. We don't know what to believe.

SPAGHETTI!

NEW YORK.—Dino Grandi, the shy and retiring gentleman from the realms of Mussolini, claims that he finds much encouragement in America's support of his disarmament plan. He stated that the Nation who entered the disarmament conference would sign a "solemn pledge" to disarm definitely. It has been our impression that all the Nations are for disarmament—the other nations.

FOR WHICH TO BE THANKFUL

WASHINGTON.—It has been reported that the abnormal increase in the unemployment rolls has ceased. The present increase is less than it has been in some years of prosperity.

Do you think Seniors should be allowed more privileges than lower classes?
Cocky Sundin, '32—It doesn't make any difference to me. I take 'em any way.

Deane Lindsey, '35—Sure, I hope I get some when I'm a Senior.
Marjorie Langston, '32—Yes! Absolutely! Now that the walks are fixed and the Seniors don't have to cut campus we have no more privileges than a freshman.

Don Douglas, '34—Senior girls should—that's enough.
"Bus" Coard, '35—Sure just as well "give 'em a break."

Tom Barkley, '32—Of course! Our childhood days are over.
Margaret Reddie, '32—Emphatically yes!

Rachael Black, '33—Yes, for when I'm a Senior I'll appreciate them.
Stanlie Nolan, '33—More? Have we any privileges now?

Dot Lafitte, '34—I certainly do, especially senior girls. The boys have enough anyhow.

10:30 is unreasonable in that it has nothing to do with being quiet, and it detracts from study hours.

In noisy hours there is no possibility of studying. When noisy hour is over we are obliged to turn off our lights. When do we study?

With the exercise of a little ingenuity we think it ought not to be hard to evolve a new and less irksome form of chastisement.

Sincerely yours,
Two Sufferers.

The Open Forum portion of the Flat Hat is supposed to be devoted to expressions of student opinion, without regard to its nature. Not only that, but the cry is constantly raised that more open forum letters are desired. The objection that I wish to raise is that students grow weary of writing letters and never hearing of them again. This is no idle complaint. More than once constructive criticisms of conditions have been written and have evidently been censored for the press. Furthermore letters that have been sent which may not have been pleasing to ears around the college have been entirely suppressed.

In this way much of the more active student opinion is blanketed, and a student publication is used to arbitrarily determine channels of thought in the minds of the student readers.

If the policy of the paper is to print its half of the story, then why the advertisement for more public opinion? Following the policy of the paper, I suppose that this letter will be classified as part of the "unprintable" material, but it is my wish that the opinion of a number on the campus be known to some of the staff at least.

Critical Observer.
Editor of the Flat Hat,
Dear Sir:

I have greatly missed the Column of Lord Botetourt and think it would be a good idea to persuade him to write some more articles, that is if the cold weather has not frozen his typing fingers. His weekly ditties were most enjoyable and his comments on the campus doings refreshing.

News written and happenings written with a bit of spice and informality are more readable and interesting than the ordinary articles. Of course things of this kind can become tiresome but used, or published, with discretion, should add to a college publication.

I know many who have like opinions and who would like to enjoy reading Lord Botetourt, so please inquire his lordship to design to write.

An Elf.
Editor of the Flat Hat,
Dear Sir:

I have just come in from the Annual Freshman Debate on the question on the adoption of a plan for selective admission to this college.

The decision was to be made only on the material offered by the debaters, but according to the results, I wish to say that the majority of the students present were so narrow-minded that they did not take into consideration that the points made by the affirmative were far more in number than those offered by the negative party.

I think it is a shame that credit is not given to those who are more deserving of it, and that the student body is unable to give decisions without the aid of personal feelings.

Dissatisfied.

Editor of the Flat Hat,
Dear Sir:

There has been forcibly impressed upon us, of late, the prevalence of the room and light campus system in Chandler Hall. We wonder why Chandler Hall doors show as many as ten campus signs when there are none at all in the other women's dormitories.

It seems as if this method of coercion were a little juvenile. In the first place it is an injustice on the roommate of an offender. Also the regulation of turning lights out at this music. We prophesy that in time this effort will be given up entirely, and that each couple will be compelled to supply its own music. Certainly each is now forced to supply its own interpretation.

Since William and Mary is debarred from having fraternity dances, it would appear that our Saturday night affairs are almost the only functions of the kind we are privileged to attend. Can't something be done to make the orchestra realize that they shouldn't take too much advantage of the monopoly they have?

SPIDERS UPSET BRAVES IN THANKSGIVING TILT

RICHMOND DEFEATS WILLIAM AND MARY

Braves Lose First Encounter In Past Nine Years of Competition Between Two Old Rivals.

A greatly surprised William and Mary football team went down to defeat at the hands of their ancient rivals by a score of 6-2 in the feature Thanksgiving Day encounter at Richmond before a packed stadium of over 15,000 fans. The largest crowd ever to witness a game in Virginia, including the presidents of the rival institutions, the governor of Virginia, and Secretary of the Interior Wilbur, saw the Indians outplay the Spiders throughout the fray though they lacked the necessary scoring punch to win.

To Vic Chaltain, Sophomore ace of the Spider backfield, goes the major credit for Richmond's first victory over the Indians in eight years. A few minutes before the end of the first period, Chaltain took the ball on his own twenty yard line and dashed off tackle for eighty yards and the necessary points for victory.

The second period found the Indians deep in Spider territory but Richmond's staunch defence more than met the occasion. Chalko's unfortunate fumble on the 2 yard stripe ended the first scoring threat while Chaltain intercepted two passes to save the Richmond situation.

The last half also found the Braves forcing the issue and jeopardizing the Richmond lead. Early in the final period with the ball in Richmond's possession on their own 4 yard line, Halligan broke through to block Chaltain's attempted punt which was recovered by Essex on his own 3 yard stripe. On the next play, fourth down, Syer and Halligan again broke through and blocked the kick so completely that the ball rolled over the end zone and Syer recovered for a safety and two points for the Indians. This was the final threat of the game although Chalko threw pass after pass, only to see the ball slip from the hands of the potential receiver. In all, Chalko tossed a total of 31 passes of which 14 found the mark for a total of 164 yards gained.

"Red" Maxey who has been out since the game with Randolph-Macon, encouraged the players, caught a prettily pass from Chalko for a gain of 28 yards. Palese did most of the ground gaining for the Indians, who piled up 18 first downs to 5 for the Spiders while Chaltain, Essex and Pierce were outstanding for the Richmond team.

The lineup: Richmond (6) W. & M. (2) Essex LE Henderson Fugate (C) LT Douglas (C) Hope LG Syer Slaydon C Ayers Pierce RG Ayers Lee RT Quirk Perowski RE Halligan Doley QB Chalko Chaltain LH Palese Joyce RH LaCroix Carson RB Constatino

VARSITY BASKETBALL MEN START TRAINING FOR NCU AND DUKE AGGREGATIONS

Four Lettermen Report to Coach Kellison for First Official Practice of Season; Schedule Opens January 2.

The football season having ended, the Indian Braves now turn their attention to basketball. Official court practice started yesterday with about a dozen men reporting. Two positions are left vacant by the graduation of Captain Mitchell Mozesleski and Johnny Sauerbrun.

Despite this loss, two varsity subs and two promising ex-freshmen are out to grab the vacant berths on the Tri-Color five. Captain "Corky" Sundin, guard, Frank Mozesleski, forward, and Larry Schaeffer, center, regulars on the team that won the Virginia Conference title at Ashland last winter, have all returned.

Coach Kellison will rely on Frank Whitehead, Les Litwin, Happy Halligan and Wally Lynn to round out his 1932 five. Whitehead was captain and star forward on the frosh five of last year. Litwin also starred on the frosh team while Halligan and Lynn subbed for the varsity last season. Lynn has won his basketball letter.

The schedule is not complete at this writing but will appear next week. There will be no northern trip this year, a southern trip having been substituted. This tour will take in games with North Carolina State and Duke. It will be the first meeting on the court between the Indians and the Blue Devils. The first game is scheduled with North Carolina State on January 8. The first home game is with Roanoke on January 11.

TANK TEAM HAS PRACTICE FOR APPROACHING SEASON

Casey Heads Squad of Promising Mermen; To Meet Teams From Numerous Schools.

Monday saw the first official practice of the William and Mary swimming team. With the football season at end, Coach and Captain Bill Casey put his men through their paces in preparation for an extensive series of meets this year.

The letter-men back from last year's team are: Bill Casey, Ed Meade, Jimmie Cuddihy, and Brooks Flickenger. The divers are Casey, Meade and Flickenger—all showing up "high, wide, and handsome." The breast-stroke boasts are Casey and Goldstein—latter holder of the tank record. Cuddihy, Flickenger, Freeman, and Stoehr are the dash men while Raminowitz, Klein and Munnell hold up the distance end. As yet Lebow is the only entrant for the backstroke honors.

Bill Casey, captain and star diver, is present holder of the South Atlantic championship. Former New England champion and holder of the New England interscholastic Diving Championship, Casey has been undefeated for the past four years and is training for the nationals this year.

After a few practice meets with neighboring "Y's", the tricolor mermen are to take on W. & L., U. of Va., George Washington U., Johns Hopkins, and Delaware. Arrangements are being made for dates on the schedules of Duke, U. of N. C., and Roanoke.

PALESE HIGH-SCORER; 3 NAMED ALL-STATE

Tricolor football representatives continued to gain recognition in high-scoring and state selection titles as they have in the past, Billy Palese gaining the former honor and Halligan, Douglas, and Maxey placing on the all-state outfit.

Although the bashy Palese failed to equal the marks set up by Red Maxey in the past two years, he nevertheless won the honor in easy style, finishing with 66 points to his credit, a lead of some twenty-five points over his nearest rival, Hess, of R-M having 41 points. Palese, who is playing his first year in varsity company, has played outstanding ball all season and with the experience gained this fall, should be able to keep possession of the laurels he has gained this year in the scoring department.

Two All-State combinations were offered football fans this season with Captain Douglas, Red Maxey and Happy Halligan being the William and Mary man honored. Halligan, star end, was the sole Indian man to be named on both teams, being named as captain of one outfit and co-captain of the other.

Syer, Ayres, Meade, Quirk and Palese were given honorable mention on both selections.

CLOSER SCORES WIN GRID GUESS CONTEST FOR KASS

Freshman Again Wins Due To More Accurate Predictions; Many Upsets Figure in List Selected.

In the closest football prediction contest of this season, as well as the last, Alvin Kass repeated last week's performance by winning again. The scores were so close that it was necessary to call a group of three men to decide the winner. The opinion was unanimous in favor of Kass. He won over Charles Frost by the close margin of five points. Both men had missed two games, the Notre Dame Army and the William and Mary Richmond games, but again Kass had the better scores. This is the first time in the history of the contest that the same man has won twice.

All the entrants missed the Army-Notre Dame tilt. Apparently, everyone expected the Hank Anderson's fighting Irishmen to come back on the bounce after the defeat administered by Southern California and predicted their scores in that manner. Over half the guessers had it that Dartmouth would hand Pop Warner's Indians a setback in the great inter-sectional contest at Boston Saturday. However, the men from the coast turned the tables and half the guessers were wrong.

The only game that was predicted one hundred per cent correct was the North Carolina-Virginia battle which the Tarheels won. Four men predicted the correct score on the Carnegie Tech-N. Y. U. game. Last week's contest closed the contest for the year.

MARGARET KOLB ELECTED TO LEAD HOCKEY SQUAD; 'BABE' WICKHAM MANAGER

Captain-Elect Has Played On Squad Since First Year; Both Active in Extra-Curricular Activities.

On last Monday Margaret Kolb was elected captain of hockey and Honore Wickham, manager for the '32 season. The other nominees for these positions were Maude Weaver and Alice Brown. Margaret Kolb has already served three years on varsity at right full-back, and has been chosen for the past two years on the All Virginia-North Carolina hockey team. Marge came to W. & M. from Baltimore Friends School where she played both lacrosse and hockey. Immediately after she was graduated, she was invited to play with the Mt. Washington Club team of Baltimore, but luckily for William and Mary decided in favor of college.

Beside Kolb's ability as a player she has already proved her ability as a leader. Marge was head of the Sophomore Tribunal and now is active on the Honor Council. She knows the answer to the Pi Phi whistle, and the German Club is open to others than those excelling in the German language.

Honore Wickham, otherwise known as "Babe", left Newark to manage W. & M.'s hockey team. She has capably served as Assistant Manager for the past two years. Babe is something besides a good prospective manager—tennis team and Senior Life Saver—show her athletic ability; Y. W. C. A. activity shows her home training; Secretary-Treasurer of K. O. B. means social standing. The Kappa Delta has her out for Flat Hat, and she is making good there.

The combination of Margaret Kolb, Babe Wickham together with Coaches Barksdale and Wymme-Roberts should make the '32 hockey season a big success.

SPORTS SHORTS By Vivian Dreyer

Margaret Kolb has been elected captain and Babe Wickham manager of '32 hockey season. Congrats.

Interfraternity basketball games start December 4. Japan and China may be having a big time, but December 4 will mean a real declaration of internal warfare for W. & M. No disarmament here, but finger nails and pins will be used as in the past.

H2E gave a tea Friday for Professor Wayman, head of Physical Education at Barnard College. Miss Wayman is one of the most outstanding personages in the physical education world today.

Babe Wickham has appointed Alice Brown, Harriet Talliaferro, and Ruth Personius as her assistant managers for next year.

The H2E water pageant will be given on December 5 at 3 P. M. Come dressed for wet weather.

Well, that final encounter with William and Mary's traditional rivals, Richmond, is over with, pass and done, and perhaps the best thing to do is to congratulate the victors, forget the upset, and look forward to another year. It's breaks of that nature which combine to make the game what it is and so here's to a year from now and a chance to prove by actual score that the Indians have the better club.

This Kid Chocolate is not only pretty nifty with the mitts but he is a pretty good all-round guy as well.

Black Bill, a Cuban lightweight, has become almost totally blind from what is described as an incurable eye infection and the Kid is donating his entire purse to Bill which he is scheduled to receive next Monday night as reward for a bout with Maxie Leiter.

Tulane is now the only unbeaten and untied major football team in the country and they sure have earned the honor.

Freddy Looser was center on the Yale team which lost three years in a row to Harvard.

Yale and Princeton don't agree in their records of games won and lost between the two teams. Princeton records show Yale, the victor 30 times, with 16 Tiger wins and eight ties. Yale claims 31 victories and only seven ties.

The disagreement came about as the result of a disputed game way back in the ancient days, a fray which was called on account of darkness with the Blue leading. Yale claims a victory and Princeton a tie.

It usually pays to be a regular on the football team but here's one guy who is beginning to doubt that statement, at least in some cases.

Henry Cronkhite, end on the Kansas State football team, stepped on the gas a bit too hard to suit a traffic officer a few days ago and as a consequence was hauled into court, which was being presided over by Judge Enos Hook, a Kansas U. graduate.

"Your school beat mine this fall," said Judge Hook. "Your fine will be $6.00."

The court however came to Cronkhite's rescue and the latter was let off with a $1.00 fine in costs.

In a battle billed as the "battle of giants such as never before has ever been seen in the history of the ring," Primo Carnera, the Ambling Alp, smashed out a two round KO win at the expense of Victorio Campolo in a bout in Madison Square Garden, New York, a battle which spells the knoll for the Argentinian.

The critics will now spread the well-known ballyhoo that Carnera is back in the running for heavyweight honors but he'll have to crash through with victories over opponents of a considerably higher class before he gains recognition in the racket.

Baseball news comes to the fore with the announcement that Al Mamaux has been given the reins so far as the management of the Newark club is concerned, Bob Shawkey to take his place, but Newark fans don't agree with the policies of the club officials.

Mamaux did a good job of it last year in the International loop, the fans of the city like Al and it might seem a fair prediction that Colonel Ruppert will make a still further shift in order to keep the fans satisfied.

Out of 443 touchdowns made by Ohio football teams in the past, but 193 points after touchdown have been made.

Frank J. Murray, coach of the Marquette outfit never played a game of football in his life.

Northwestern is in the same position in a certain sense as William and Mary.

All Northwestern had to do in its battle with Purdue was at least gain a tie but the latter crashed through with a 7-0 victory and as a result three teams now share the lead in the Big Conference with five victories and one defeat.

Not only do they lose undisputed leadership of their loop but they may lose the chance to engage the University of Southern California in the Rose Bowl fray.

This bird Campiglio of West Liberty sure did roll up the old touchdowns this fall, scoring 136 points in 8 games for an average of some 18 points a game.

Bucknell was the only unbeaten team in the East, scoring six victories out of nine frays but Tulane is still the best team in the country in our estimation. The latter didn't have such a hard schedule but they sure put the skids under the big teams which were scheduled.

"BERKELEY SQUARE" WILL BE PRESENTED BY W. & M. PLAYERS NEXT THURSDAY

Ideals and knowledge of the twentieth century. The clash of the ideas of the two centuries leads to many of the complications of the play and the prescience that Peter seems to exercise cause him to be regarded as having satanic power.

The play was first presented in London in the season of 1926-1927. It was not an instantaneous hit, but gradually built up an appreciative public until it was one of the most popular plays of the year. Its initial presentation in New York was received with acclaim and the critics were lavish in their praise.

J. Brooks Atkinson of "The New York Times" called it "a play that casts a spell" and Burns Mantle ascribed it "a beauty that lays over it like sunshine."

The presentation of this play calls for special music in keeping with the character of the production. Judson Wheeler has charge of this feature of the performance. The play is a fourteenth century costume of the play will be quite elaborate.

MR. G. W. GUY SHOWS PARTY W&M CAMPUS

The afternoon was spent going through the library and Phi Beta Kappa hall. Lunch was served in the dining hall after which a trip was made to old Bruton Parish. One of the features of the visit was the assembling of the group in John Leslie Hall's old lecture room.

The group had been making a tour of historic Jamestown and Yorktown. Gallant College is the largest school of its kind in the United States.
