Night

Next Wednesday, the Phi Beta Kappa Hall will again be the scene of a series of one act plays, this time being presented jointly by the Little Theatre League of Williamsburg and the William and Mary Dramatic Club.
The plays to be presented are "The Jest of Haha'aba," by Lord Dunsany,
"The Boor," by Anton Tchekoff, and
"The Neighbors," by Zona Gale. The three plays are of widely differing variety, and have all been selected with much care by the directors of the organizations concerned.

The first two plays will be presented by the Little Theatre League while the last will be by the Dramatic Club.
The evening program will be opened by "The Jest of Haha'aba," a curious riser in Lord Dunsany's popular style. The theme will be one of mystery and magic throughout, as shown by the following program:

NO "DUC" RULES SAYS CHANDLER

President Officially Notifies Handbook
Editor That There Will be No Rules
Published to be Enforced by Sophomores; Action Comes as Result of Freshman "Revolt."

There will be no rules for freshmen as promulgated and enforced by the sophomores at the College of William and Mary next year. This ruling has been passed down by Dr. J. A. C.
Chandler, president of the college as a result of the "revolt" staged last week by the "duc" class of this year.
The freshmen, two nights before the day for removing freshman caps and freshman rules officially, staged a parade over the campus and in the course of the evening many of them burned their headgear.

The first official notice about the abolishment of freshman rules was given M. Welden Thompson, editor of "The Indian Handbook" for 1927-28.
The portion of the letter relating to the excluding of freshman rules from that publication reads as follows:

"In the meantime, however, please eliminate all rules from the handbook for freshmen. No rules applicable to "Ducs" are to be printed therein, in view of the fact that the freshman class of this year revolted against these rules, therefore, when they become sophomores they do not desire that the policy of having freshman rules shall be continued."

This ruling does not apply to "Supreme Court" however, according to a statement issued by Dr. Chandler when interviewed by a Flat Hat representative. The custom of staging a supreme court for the "benefit" of the erring first year men has always been in the hands of the seniors of the college and the sophomores have nothing to do with it. Whether this is continued depends altogether on circumstances next fall, Dr. Chandler stated.

"The freshman class had no idea or intention of having duc rules abolished at the college," Robert Gamble, president of the class of 1930 stated when questioned concerning the matter. "The rumor had been spread that there would be no cap rush as sched-

May Queen Attends New

Miss Mary Fairfax Griffith, of Em-

Day Festival held at the College on Tuesday. The Queen elected by the girls' student body about a month ago had been kept secret and was disclosed only after the heralds, Marion Harrison and Elizabeth Tanner, announced the coming of the queen.
Miss Griffith is a member of the Kappa Alpha Theta Fraternity. The fact that she was chosen queen is evidence of her popularity and beauty.

The setting for the May Fete was on the front lawn of the campus with the old Christopher Wren Building as a background. The girls and boys taking part in the festival were chosen entirely from the Physical Education Department.

The classic ideas of old Greece were represented by Greek maidens clothed in flowing robes, athletes and Greek warriors in full armor; girls in pastel shades entered and took places on either side of the lawn until the festival began. Charlotte Miley, crown bearer, Mattie Rountree, scepter bearer, preceded the queen regent Mrs. George Baskerville Zehmer, who was formerly Miss Virginia Smith, of the college. The queen then enter-

WALLACE TAKES SWEET REVENGE

Little Hurler Helps Win His Own Game by Driving in Tying Run and Scoring Extra One for Good Measure; Tyler Hits Well

In a game in which the score sawsawed back and forth until the last of the eighth inning, the William and Mary baseball team triumphed over the University of Richmond, Thursday afternoon on Cary Field by a 6-4 score. Wallace, Indian hurler was in great form and weakened but once, in the eighth, to let runs drift across, the Richmond tallies coming in the first being made on errors.

The scoring started in the initial frame after Wallace had sent both Robins and T. Sanford back to the bench via the strike-out route.
Creath waiked, Fary reached first on an error and both scored before the inning was over, Creath sliding in at home as O'Ferrall dropped the ball and Fary reaching the plate on a hit.

William and Mary started their fireworks in the last half of the same frame. Eason, walked after two were down, stole second, came home on Tyler's single who also romped across the fourth station a minute later on an error.

Things were quiet after this until the fifth canto when Captain Thompson lost the ball in the woods for a four bagger to put the Indians ahead.

Richmond again grabbed the lead in the eighth when McCary trotted to first via the error route and second shortly afterwards ahead of Lacy who secured a home run. William and Mary started their run making combination to work again in the eighth and scored three runs to ice the game. Tyler after one was down, doubled, Zien went to first on an error, Wallace singled, scoring Tyler,
Ryan sacrificed, scoring Zien and O' Ferrall went to second on an error by R. Sanford, Wallace romped home before the ball was retrieved.

Camel attracts the quality smoker

CAREFUL observation will reveal that men of quality demand quality in a cigarette—smoke Camels. A Camel smoker goes straight to the point in cigarettes and demands enjoyment.

For there are no better tobaccos or blending than you get in Camels. There is no other cigarette taste and fragrance that can compare with Camels, because they are rolled of the choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos grown. In a cigarette, as in the smoker, there is nothing that can substitute for quality.

If you want to know what experienced smokers like, just try Camels. Each year new millions try them all and find in Camels enjoyment realized. Camels never tire the taste. To test the quality of Camels, compare them with any cigarette made regardless of price. "Have a Camel!"

INDIAN SPORTS

INDIANS DOWN ANCIENT RIVALS IN TWO SPORTS

Just A Word About Sports

By "DAUBA"

A bit of interesting dope has been brought to light regarding a quaint custom employed during the last few months by Indian athletes. It appears that members of the football and track teams have been more or less making a prayer to Dame Fortune, and that some of the tracksters and tossers have made this prayer more realistic by just before each meet or game, placing a four-leaf clover in the toe of their right shoe. We would not be so bold as to attribute to this little fancy the fact that the teams have experienced successful seasons, however we are indeed glad that the little lucky tokens so abundant in the patches of new grass around the campus, and who knows but what the little sprites of the great Universe of the Imagination have not been on hand to cheer the boys on when the contest became close?

Followers of the great sport of track can wish for no better meet than the one last Saturday in which the Indians downed the Spiders and carried off state honors for Class B competition. The events were all well fought and the meet was in doubt until the last race was run. The same can be said of very few track meets held in this section in the last decade or so, and no contest within that same time can boast of as many records broken for an annual affair of such established antiquity.

William and Mary now holds the decided edge on the Spiders for athletics during the 1926-27 seasons. With wins in football and track and ties in basketball and baseball, the score in major sports stands at two to nothing in the Indian's favor. Then if minor sport is to be considered the advantage swells towards the local's cause. In cross-country and relay the locals were successful and also a one match tennis series can be claimed by the Indians. The co-eds are determined that the bigger half of the student body cannot outdo them and they proved their mettle by trouncing the Westhamptoners on the court for womens basketball honors. Each year the Indian cause grows more successful as far as Richmond is concerned and it won't be long before—, well we'll just wait and see.

With sports just about over it will soon be time for the author and designer of this notorious column to cease firing and end the weekly broadcasts from this station. It is with a great deal of regret that we sign off, for the associations formed through this page have become dear to his fancy and we feel that ending this weekly one-sided conversation is like cutting off from one's friends. But like all other near-great men he must move on, "like ships that pass in the night."

Ryan Takes Batting Lead; Team Hits .267

Rosey Ryan, Indian shortstop, with seven hits out of 19 official trips to the plate in seven games is leading the William and Mary baseball team in batting with an average of .368. Eason, centerfielder is second with .348, while Blossom, Wallace and Thompson are next in order with .315, .312 and .312 respectively.

Blossom is leading the locals in getting with 11 to his credit. Thompson and Eason are tied for second place with 10 each while Zion is fourth with eight.

The team as a whole is batting .267, an increase of .003 since the Harvard game.

TENNIS MATCH TODAY

The William and Mary tennis team will meet the Lynchburg College netmen here this afternoon in the next to the last match of the season.

The game of the year will come off on the courts adjoining Cary Field Tuesday afternoon with their ancient rivals, the University of Richmond, as opponents.

The match this afternoon marks the second time that the Indians and the Hornets have crossed racquets this year, the locals emerging victorious the first time by a score of 4-3.

The Green, Gold and Silver have not met Richmond previously this spring, but when the two met last fall the Indians triumphed by a 7-1 score. Rumors from the capital city, however, have it that the Spider ball knockers have improved considerably.

The usual lineup of Howard, Crossfield, James, Ober, Rhinestine and Lewis will start for the locals in all probability.

HITTING LOCALS SWAMP JACKETS

Indians Collect 16 Hits off Ashland Moundsman, While Stickle Holds Opponents to Two Bingles; Ryan and Thompson Swing Big Sticks

Hitting the offerings of Pitcher Brown hard and often and aided by several Yellow Jackets errors, the William and Mary baseball team triumphed over Randolph-Macon Friday afternoon in Ashland to the tune of 13 to 1. Stickle pitching for William and Mary was in excellent form, giving up but two hits and passing but four men.

William and Mary started the scoring in the first frame by checking one tally across the plate, went scoreless until the fourth when Ryan walked and then stole from first base to home before the next batter was retired, gathered seven more in the fold the following frame, three additional in the eighth and as a final threat sent another man home in the ninth for the thirteenth run. Randolph-Macon got a whiff of the home plate but once, in the sixth when Sandy scored on Indian errors after he had reached first via the fielder's choice route.

Ryan and Thompson were the hitting stars of the afternoon, the former gathering three singles in out of four trips while the latter got two triples. Stickle and Tyler both got home runs.

HOWARD DEFEATS McMAINS

Locals Down Lynchburg Star for Second Defeat in Collegiate Tennis; Second Doubles Team Makes Excellent Record

Two victories and one defeat marked the success of the William and Mary tennis team on the trip through the middle part of the state last week. The Indians triumphed over Roanoke and Lynchburg but lost before the onslaught of the Hampden-Sidney netmen.

The scores of the three matches were as follows:

Wm. and Mary 0; Hampden-Sidney—7.
Wm. and Mary—4; Lynchburg—3.
Wm. and Mary—7; Roanoke—0.

Playing against the strongest team in the state, the locals did not go down into defeat as ignominiously against the Tigers as score might indicate. Two of the singles in this affair went to three sets while one of the doubles did likewise.

In the Lynchburg fray, Captain Howard rose to new heights of fame when he defeated McMains, 6-4; 4-6; 6-3. This set marked the second time in his collegiate career that McMains has been defeated. James and Crossfield also played good ball in this match, both of them taking their singles and the two working together, one of the doubles.

Against Roanoke, the Indians ran wild, only two of the singles going to three sets and neither of the doubles doing so.

The individual scoring:

Hampden-Sidney-William and Mary

Singles: Smith (HS) defeated Rhinestine (W&M) 6-1; 6-4. Grover (HS) defeated Howard (W&M) 6-4; 6-2. Alexander (HS) defeated Crossfield (W&M) 6-4; 6-3. Rochelle (HS) defeated Ober (W&M) 5-7; 6-4; 6-3. FOUR CONTESTS WILL COMPLETE INDIAN'S CARD

Today and Tomorrow on Trip; Local Fans Expect Comeback at Them

PLAY GUILFORD WEDNESDAY

South Carolinians Will be Battled on Cary Field by the Taskerites After Their Return from Northern Struggles; Go North to Princeton Again Saturday

The William and Mary baseball team is now on the home stretch of the season. The Indians will meet Harvard today in Boston, journey over to Worcester tomorrow to cross bats with Holy Cross, entertain Guilford here Wednesday and again go north next Saturday to Princeton where they will play the final game of the season with the Tigers as opponents.

The games with Harvard, Holy Cross and Princeton are all return games but the locals on Wednesday will meet the South Carolina lads for the first time of the season.

When Harvard was here Easter Monday, they handed the Indians a defeat by a 11-9 score in a game which did not show what either team was capable of doing. Both aggregations tried to give the game away several times until the final innings when both started a desperate effort to retrieve the runs lost earlier in errors, Harvard, at this time showed more punch than William and Mary to nose out.

Holy Cross has also scored a win over the local crowd this season taking the game 6 to 1. Errors however lost this game as Charley Stickle pitching for the Green, Gold and Silver gave up but three measly bingles. The Tigers were also victorious over the Taskerites in a game marred by many errors. William and Mary scored enough runs to win any two ordinary ball games, but Princeton secured enough to win three and consequently went home with a 10-7 victory under their shirts.

The affair with Guilford will give local fans a last opportunity to view the Indians in action until football season gets under way in the fall. Guilford is bringing one of the strongest teams in the south here, one that has a good record and should give the Indians one of the snappiest games of the year.

No Freshman Rules?

Announcement from President Chandler that there will be no freshman rules next year as far as Sophomore promulgation and enforcement is concerned, comes as a surprise to most of the students, although action on the part of the freshman class last Wednesday night was the direct cause of the whole affair. It is probably true that the men who led their class in breaking restrictions two days before the scheduled time in defiance of the rules made by the student body did not intend to be setting a dangerous precedent. However, the fact remains that the rules were broken, custom repudiated and the dignity of the upper classes violated. That the old men had no power to enforce the rules was obvious and we take the stand that unless power can be granted to tribunals to enforce the rules by appropriate punishments, there is little need of having them.

The present freshman class may take the stand that they wish to have freshman rules next year but they will be put in the same position by the dues of next year as they put the present sophomores in this year. If the students of the college really wanted freshman rules and desired to enforce them they could do it, but hitherto they have not been interested enough to try.

There are some who question the value of freshman rules. To these people we say that such regulations tend to show the man entering for the first time that he is not the only one in college, that there have been a good number there before him and that he is but a small frog in the puddle. In other words he is made to respect seniority, he learns to appreciate some of the ideals and traditions of his college that can be instilled in no other way. This is a topic which might be discussed at great length but there is not sufficient room here. The question is now squarely before the students and it can not be deferred. What are we going to do about it?

Shall We Keep the "Y"?

Although no official announcement has been made to the student body it is generally understood that the Board of Visitors will no longer allow the college to pay for a man to do the secretarial work of the Y. M. C. A. This means, of course, that unless money is raised in addition to student activity fees, there will be no means of paying a secretary.

The Y. M. C. A. has been an active organization on the campus for many years but it seems to have reached a critical point at this time. This year it has been increasingly active in all fields as the financial report printed in this issue will show. Every student should read it and draw his own conclusions as to the usefulness of the "Y." The work of Maynard L. Cassady in charge of the secretary's duties has been excellent for the past two years and he has succeeded in attaining a new standard of usefulness and service to the college.

Is the Y. M. C. A. worth keeping alive? Do the students of the college appreciate its work enough to put forth new efforts in its behalf? Here is another problem that must be settled within the next few weeks before the end of college.

THE FLAT HAT takes this opportunity to congratulate the successful candidates of the recent election. They are all worthy of the positions to which they have been elected and the student body is certain to go forward under their guidance. The campaign and the election were unusually clean and devoid of poor sportsmanship. Another goal has been attained.

OPEN FORUM

Editor Flat Hat.

Dear sir:

In the May issue of the Atlantic Monthly there in an article entitled "The Revolt of the Middle-aged Father." It is a sincere stinging criticism of the modern American College. Unless it is all wrong, and it does not seem so to me, some great change is necessary in the colleges. Possibly some member of the faculty or student body can explain away the faults of this college, as described in that article, in this column next week. There certainly does seem to be a great percentage of the students here who treat college as a summer resort and merely go to classes to pass the time away between week-ends, and dances, and other so called activities. It is quite possible that if they concentrated their energy upon things they are supposed to come to college for, so many seniors would not be confessing at this late date they don't know what they are going to do next year, and worst of all they have no idea what they are going to make of their lives! But few of them confess any definite goal other than "Some business, I guess." How like children they must spend their lives in the present not realizing that there is a long future ahead based upon preparation for a vocation, not an avocation. These men are excellent material for the industrial Mammon which pays well for the few best years of a man's life then throws him on the human junk heap to shift for himself. Isn't the point of view of these men all wrong? If not, the present day colleges fulfill their function. If it is wrong, how much of the fault lies in the college that can be corrected by mere administrative action? If it is wrong for a young man (or woman) to waste his or her four best years, and if the colleges are in a position to do something about it—why don't they? Are they suffering from mental inhibition or lacking intellectual integrity? or don't these conditions exist?

Respectfully yours,
Querulous.

CO-ED DEBATERS DEFEATED TWICE

Duke University Women Down Indianettes Twice; Corlyn Borders and Kathryn Topping Argue Here While Minnie Rob Phaup and Ruth Yeamans Make Trip to Carolina

Defeats were sustained by both the William and Mary visiting team and the William and Mary home team in the dual debate last Friday with Duke University. Minnie Rob Phaup and Ruth Yeamans represented William and Mary at Duke, meeting Maud Brown and Ann Harberson. The visiting team was opposed here by Kathryn Topping and Caroline Borders. Both debates were on the question: Resolved, that the United States was justified in the Intervention in Nicaragua. The visiting team of each college upheld the negative.

The audience here was small but those attending found the debate interesting and instructive on a subject of great importance at present. The participants in both debates showed a thorough study of the question. Stronger arguments with proof for all statements, familiarity with their material, and forceful delivery made inevitable a decision in favor of the Duke representatives in both debates.

Honor students at Williams will now have the option of passing next year studying in France instead of the regular college year. It is estimated that the cost of a year abroad would be considerably less than that spent by the average man at Williams.

 their credit. The Indians were able to grab firsts only in the high hurdles, the shot, the discus, the javelin and the mile.

Some of the prettiest running of the year was staged in the meet of Saturday particularly in the mile and the half mile where competition was especially keen. In the mile Gresham and Martin see-sawed back and forth with the lead for almost three-fourths of the way when the Indian runner suddenly stepped out to run away from his opponent.

Individual high scoring was not especially high in the meet. Hamilton, Cale and Thorpe, all of Richmond each tied for first in the individual scoring with 10 points each. Hamilton was first in both dashes, Cale in both jumps, and Thorpe in the quarter and the half.

Grove and Gresham were high-point men for William and Mary with eight points each to their credit. Todd putting the shot 41 feet, 4 1/2 inches took first place in that event to beat Captain Grove in one of the few times of his collegiate career.

Summary:

100-yard dash—Hamilton, Richmond; 2, Hood, Richmond; 3, Davis, W. & M. Time 10 seconds flat.

220 yard dash—Hamilton, Richmond; 2, Green, W. & M.; 3, Davis, W. & M. Time 22.7.

Quarter-mile—Thorpe, Richmond; 2, Hood, Richmond; 3, Yates, W. & M. Time 0:50.9.

Half-mile—Thorpe, Richmond; 2, Gresham, W. & M.; 3, Fleming, Richmond. Time, 1:59.2.

Mile—Gresham, W. & M.; 2, Campbell, W. & M.; Fleming, Richmond. Time 4:35.2.

2-Mile—Martin, Richmond; 2, Campbell, W. & M.; 3 Caplan, W. & M. Time 10:13.4.

Broad Jump—Cale, Richmond; 2, Hundley, Richmond; 3, Daughtery, W. & M. Distance, 21 feet, 2 inches.

High jump—Cale, Richmond; 2, Davila, W. & M.; 3, Taylor, W. & M. Height, 5 feet, 8 1/2 inches.

Pole vault—Yeaman, Richmond; Kent, W. & M.; Davila, W. & M. Height 10 feet 9 inches.

Shot—Todd, W. & M.; 2, Grove, W. & M.; 3, Trimmer and Cooper, both of Richmond tied. Distance 41 feet, 4 1/2 inches.

Discus—Grove, W. & M.; 2, Smith, W. & M.; 3, Cooper, Richmond. Distance 125 feet, 3 inches.

Javelin—Justis, W. & M.; 2, Taylor, W. & M.; 3 Anderson, Richmond. Distance 169 feet, 2 inches.

120-yard high hurdles—Davis, W. & M.; 2, Baggett, W. & M.; 3, Fleming, Richmond, Time 16.5.

220 low hurdles—Miller, Richmond, 2, Baggett, W. & M.; 3, Davis, W. & M. Time 25.8.

Sophomores

Marshall Baggett 266
 Jimmy Wallace 239
 Percy Warren 189
 Robbie Yeatts 169

Of the winning candidates, Justis is a Wythe man and Messrs. Hurt, Thompson, Baggett and Wallace are Marshall representatives.

F. O. Clarke defeated A. Z. Williams for the presidency of the Athletic Council by a count of 262 and 173. Both Mr. Clarke and Mr. Williams are Wythe men. The other results for Athletic Council offices were:

For Vice-President

Carlton Macon 247
 Logan Hudson 188

For Secretary-Treasurer

Robert Barrett 224
 L. G. Todd 212

Mr. Macon is a Wythe man while Mr. Barrett received the backing of the Marshall Party.

Bill Thompson with a vote of 299 was elected manager of baseball over W. C. West with 136. W. J. Blackwell went into the office of track manager over L. W. P'Anson by a count of 264 to 172. Both of the winning candidates are Marshall men.

Lloyd Williams was named Head Cheerleader with no opposition.

Considering the election as a whole it can be claimed a Marshall victory. The winning party placed men in all three student body offices, in four of the six places on the Honor Council, in one out of three places on the Athletic Council and took both managerships that were voted on Tuesday.

The largest individual vote received by any one candidate, exclusive of Williams who was unopposed, was 299 by Bill Thompson in the baseball managership balloting.

The election this year was the most hotly contested in recent years at the college and brought out the largest vote ever polled among the men students in any one election, a total of 436 slips being dropped through the slit in the ballot box. More means of advertising were tried this year than has been the policy heretofore, among the stunts being a parade at the Richmond game at which the Wythe candidates were presented, airplanes circling over the campus dropping propaganda, stump speeches by candidates, and the like.

uled, and so rather than just discard the caps, the freshman decided to make an occasion of the affair, burn the caps and get the spirit up for the game which was to be played with Richmond the next day." Beyond this Mr. Gamble had nothing to say.

The freshman rules as laid down in the Handbook are not very old, having first come into existence some six or seven years ago. Supreme Court, despite the much cherished expression of 231st session, 232nd session, 233rd session, etc. was founded no longer than sixteen or seventeen years ago.

A GLIMPSE INTO the COLLEGE WORLD

Here and There among the Exchanges of the Flat Hat

Students of Washington and Jefferson College have revolted against the rulings on absences which continue to become more severe. At a student meeting held recently, a petition was drawn up, voicing the general opinions in favor of abolishing the faculty committee on absences, and was submitted for adoption. A favorable adjustment of the matter is expected soon, especially since the administration has communicated with other colleges and universities to determine their policies concerning absences.

A. J. McIntosh, who organized the "floating university" now in progress, has arranged for a trip to Europe in competition with the Grand Steamship Line. The steamer "Aurania" has been furnished for the cruise. Gov. Henry J. Allen, who is in charge of journalism with the "university," reports that "Not to study is unknown because the class-work and lectures are enthusiastically interesting."

A recent Associated Press article says: "An organization, the Hippolytus Club, has been formed at Cambridge University to reassert the supremacy of the male." A statement of policy says: "Convinced that feminine influence is eating like a cancer into modern civilization, the Hippolytus Club will blaze the trail toward an era of uncompromising masculinity. It will shatter the domination of Eve and restore the initiative of Adam."

The Phoenix, humorous publication of the University of Chicago, has become too snappy and so it must die—to rise no more—at least under that name.

Prof. H. O'Hara of the English department, director of student activities, announced the magazine would cease to be printed because its humor had become of a rubber stamp variety typical of "college humor magazines," but not typical, in his opinion, of real student life.

At Columbia over two thousand students are registered in special courses short story writing, play writing, article writing, photoplay writing, novel writing, and verse writing. Seven hundred of these students are members of the Writer's Club.

Students of San Diego State College have abolished the tradition of hazing as a practice "unbecoming to an institution of higher educational learning."

Birmingham-Southern claims to be the largest liberal arts college in the South. It is said that it has more students enrolled in this department than such institutions as Vanderbilt, Sewanee, Tulane, University of Alabama, and the other state universities.

A bewildering paradox has occurred in the senior class at Auburn University, Alabama. Only five men in the class pledged themselves to 'turn up' any classmate he saw cheating on an examination, and yet the majority wished to maintain the honor system. In an effort to ascertain the real feeling on the Auburn campus, the senior class has submitted the following questionnaire to be signed by those individuals who wish to signify their support of the system: "I hereby pledge myself to support the honor system to the extent that I shall report any violations of its constitution that come to my attention."

Because he permitted his class to read "What I Believe" by Bertrand

Russell, H. J. Chambers, instructor in the English department at the University of Washington, has been placed on probation. Parents objected to religious discussion in freshman composition sections, Chambers will not be re-appointed at the end of the quarter, it is announced.

This from Edsel Ford: "I wanted to go into business and not, as I thought at that time, to waste time in college. I had my own way, and I think it was a mistake, for, whatever else college may or may not do, it helps one to meet a great many different kinds of people and also it helps one to get more enjoyment out of life. I hope that my own boys will go to college."

One-tenth of what he hears, three-tenths of what he sees, and five-tenths of what he sees and hears, is what the average man remembers, according to the Carnegie Bureau of Science.

University of Minnesota probably will soon become the mecca of prospective undertakers. A short course in embalming has been added to the extension courses given by the western college.

A course in "War: Its Causes and Cure," is one of the recommendations embodied in the Wesleyan Undergraduate Report which is now available in pamphlet form. "The purpose of such a course," the reports says, "would be to give a background for facts on the subject of war as a method of settling international disputes, so that educated men would be able to recognize the various factors making for conflict when they appear on the horizon of current events, and could more confidently take steps to eliminate them."

When the Normal Liberal Club denounced President Coolidge's Nicaraguan policy, the local legionnaires of West Chester (Penn.) post pricked up their ears. They said that the students were being encouraged to disrespect the President and the government by radical professors. Denunciations of the club were dispatched to the governor and a committee was appointed to investigate. As a result of the investigation three professors who had spoken to the Liberal Club were dismissed from the college. Student supporters of the ousted professors held a mass meeting, at which a resolution was adopted confirming their faith in the professors.

Because he failed to make a passing grade in English, L. T. Poe, 60-year-old high school teacher-student, has filed suit against Emory University for recovery of $25, representing matriculation in the college extension department. He was unable to hear the instructors distinctly during their lectures, he averred, and his failure to make a passing grade partly prevented him from obtaining a teacher's certificate in Kentucky. Two law students of the university will represent the school in the litigation.

THREE PLAYS TO BE GIVEN HERE

J. Flint Waller.
 Scene: The Smoking Room of Sir Arthur's London House.
 Time: The Last Moments of 1926.
 The next play will be of an entirely different type. "The Boor" by Anton Tchekoff is a typical bit of Russian comedy. The program follows: Helena Ivanovna Popov, a young widow—Miss Marguerite Wynne-Roberts.
 Gregori Stepanovich Smirnov—William G. Guy.
 Luka, servant of Mrs. Popov—C. M. Faithfull.
 Scene: Mrs. Popov's country house in Moscovia.
 Time: The present.

It is interesting to note that the plays made up almost entirely of members of the faculty. The members of the faculty have attended most of the productions given at the college this year, and have seen what the students can do—it now remains for the students to attend these plays in order that they may get an idea what the faculty members can do under the same circumstances. The production committee of the Little Theatre League is composed of Mrs. George P. Coleman and Mr. T. J. Stubbs.

The third play of the evening, this one being given by the William and Mary Dramatic Club is an American comedy entitled "The Neighbors" by Zona Gale. The members of the cast of this play have all appeared here this year in various other productions. Among this number will be several seniors, playing their last time as William and Mary students. Mary Via has already appeared this year in "The Goose Hangs High," where she was considered to have one of the most difficult roles in the play, although she played it with an ease and talent that was unusual. Another senior who will be missed by the Dramatic Club is Marguerite McDaniels, who played one of the leading parts in "Joint Owners in Spain" presented a few weeks ago by the Play Production Class.

The third senior to play for the last time next week is Jimmy Barnes. Barnes has played in every production this year, and although he has not been the star of any of them, he has always been dependable for a well executed role, either serious or comedy.

The complete cast of "The Neighbors" is as follows:

- Grandma—Phyllis Logan.
- Mis' Diantha Abel—Marguerite McDaniels.
- Ezra Williams—F. James Barnes.
- Peter—Truman Welling.
- Inez—Polly Venable.
- Mis' Elmira Moron—Carolyn Borers.
- Mis' Trot—Mary Via.
- Mis' Carry Ellsworth—Polly Hines.

Scene: Kitchen.
 This play will boast of what is perhaps the most experienced cast of any production this year, and should be well played accordingly.

The Club is receiving the usual courtesies from the Art Department preparing their scenery and sets. William Morrow is in charge of the sets; Preston Craws will handle the lighting effects; Sam Staples will again supervise the make-ups; Polly Hines is in charge of costumes; while the properties are being handled by Lucille Parker. The Business Management of this production is in the hands of Donald K. Van Wormer assisted by Robert Brewer, the same who so efficiently managed the production.

A polite stranger (coming to rescue man pinned beneath overturned car): "Could I assist you? Er—my name is Jones."

Man below (extending hand): "Thanks, my name is Brown. Pardon me for not getting up."

SCIENCE BODY ELECTS DAVIS

Virginia Academy of Science Picks Head of William and Mary Biology Department as President; Jantz, Weeks, Warren, Anness and Mason Also Attend Meetings

Dr. D. W. Davis, head of the Biology Department at William and Mary was elected president of the Virginia Academy of Science which held its fifth annual convention in Blacksburg at Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State Teachers College of East Radford last week on May 6 and 7. While attending the convention Dr. Davis delivered three papers, "The Inheritance of Doubling in the Garden Balsam," "The Inheritance of Linkage when the Number of Ploidy Types Exceed Four." Concerning the last named subject, it is worthy to note that Louise Anness, a student of William and Mary was joint author with Dr. Davis and the person who delivered the paper. This is one of the few times that a student has ever appeared before this learned society, and his advent was particularly in harmony with Dr. J. Shelton Horsley, the retiring president, who in his address declared that Colleges should encourage individual research work among the students.

The Virginia Social Science Association also held its second annual session in a joint convention with the Academy, on whose program appeared several members of the faculty of William and Mary. A report on "Providing Teachers for New Education" was given by Miss Helen F. Weeks, associate professor of education. Dr. John G. Pollard, Dean of the Marshall-Wythe School of Government and Citizenship, gave a report of the Public Opinion Committee of which he is chairman. Dr. Richard L. Morton, head of the History Department, also gave a report on "Historical Research in Virginia." Besides these speakers, the college was represented by Dr. Paul A. Warren, Prof. J. S. Jantz, Prof. Russell Winborne, and A. H. Mason.

"Burning the Midnight Oil"

IN the days when the student body believed in the Patriarchal Theory of Whiskers, and the Undertaker's Local No. 1 attended foot-ball games en masse, the college student went to seek light divertimento to while away dull evening hours. And the town wag with his inimitable badinage coined "Burning the Midnight Oil."

But fate with true irony has made this phrase a reality. Endless classes during the day—long, weary hours of study at night—leave hardly time for a thought of those removed from your college world. But they are there—waiting. Mother and Dad not quite understanding how your time is crowded—are waiting. Let them hear your voice.

Give them a ring over Long Distance.

ELEVEN INDIANS ENTER S. A. MEET

Coach Chandler is very optimistic over his team's chances of running up a nice score in this meet. All the men he is carrying are in the best of condition, and although some of his freshmen stars will be missed in the affair of this afternoon and tomorrow, with the condition that his veterans are in for turning out star performances the team will not be handicapped as much as they otherwise would be.

The South Atlantic meet will finish up the Indian track schedule for the year. The locals this year have met Dartmouth, Washington and Lee, Randolph Macor, George Washington, Richmond and Wake Forest. In four of these William and Mary won, losing only to Washington and Lee and
