Williams Is President Omicron Delta Kappa

Professor in Department of Modern Languages Elected to Head the National Honor Fraternity; Expansion One of Main Subjects Convention.

The Omicron Delta Kappa National Honorary Fraternity held its sixth annual convention at the College Friday and Saturday, February 20 and 21, the first session being called to order Friday afternoon by the national president, Dr. W. M. Brown, of Washington and Lee. Mr. James Campbell, Jr., a member of the local circle, was appointed convention secretary, and a number of committees were entrusted with the task of planning in detail the work of the convention.

Friday night the Eta Circle of the college was host at a banquet given for the convention in the college dining hall. Professor A. G. Williams presided as toastmaster, and introduced the two speakers of the evening, Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, president of the college, who welcomed the guests on behalf of the College of William and Mary, and Dr. W. M. Brown, who expressed appreciation on behalf of the visitors for the hospitality extended to them.

W. & M. Claims Two Highest Scorers

"Rats" Kahn and Louise Love Show the Way to All Corners in Basketball Scoring; "Rats" Has 219 Points in 16 Games; Love 108 in Four Contests.

With the men's basketball season almost over and with the women's schedule half played, William and Mary seems to have a corner on high scoring honors in the State for this year. "Rats" Kahn is leading all contenders for scoring honors with no chance of being overtaken, while Louise Love, forward of the Indianettes, heads the list of women high pointers by a good margin.

In sixteen games played (including Bridgewater), "Rats" has hit the basket for 85 field goals and 49 free throws for a total of 219 points and an average of more than 13½ points a game. He still has one game left in which to raise his total number of counters and establish a higher average.

Louise Love, in the four games played by the Indianettes has counted for 48 field goals and 12 throws from the foul line, making a total of 108 points for an average of 27 points a game. In the contests with George Washington University and Adelphi College she made 37 and 36 points respectively. In each game she shot 17 field goals. With four more games to play and by maintaining her present pace, Love should also go over the 200 mark.

New England Educators Visiting Here Today

A large party, numbering between 150 and 200, representing the New England Association, Department of Superintendents, of the National Education Association, which has been holding its convention in Cincinnati this week, will arrive in Williamsburg today and will be the guests of the college at a dinner given in the college dining hall.

The visitors will arrive by way of Richmond on a special train, the trip being made as a side trip before their return to Boston. They will be shown various points of historical interest in and about Williamsburg and will later proceed to Hampton to visit the Hampton Institute.

Bridgewater Goes Down In Defeat, Score 43-20

Indians Take Lead Early in the Game, Bewildering Eagles by Scoring Ten Points in Seventy Seconds; Second Team Gets a Chance To Show Wares.

Sweeping their opponents off their feet with a ten-point lead, in the first minute of play, the Indians swept to a decisive victory over the highly touted Bridgewater quint in the Blow Memorial gymnasium last Saturday night. Kahn, with four field goals to his credit, and Marshall with one, scored ten points in the first seventy seconds of play, only one Bridgewater man touching the ball during this time.

Bridgewater had been hailed as the Final Game of Season Tomorrow Afternoon

Indians Meet St. John's, of Annapolis, in first Cage Game Ever Played Between Two Institutions; Strength An Unknown Quantity.

The basketball season will close at William and Mary tomorrow afternoon, when the Indians, wearing their uniforms for the last time this year, meet St. John's College, from Annapolis, Maryland, in Blow gym, at 2:30 p. m.

The St. John's team is somewhat of an unknown quantity in this part of the State, but report gives it that they have a quint that can display a formidable brand of basketball on any court. The St. John's team has been enjoying more than an even number of wins during the season. St. John's has been turning out good teams for the past few years and there is no reason to believe that tomorrow night will not see a hard-fought finale.

The St. John's team comes south to meet William and Mary in the first basketball relations that have ever existed between the old Maryland college and an Indian five.

The Indian quintet will be at the very height of their ability tomorrow, making good their final chance to raise their berth among Virginia collegiate quints, and to enable Kahn to mount to the highest peak possible as the leader in the high scoring column of the Old Dominion.

Game In Doubt Until Last Moment of Play

William and Mary Unable to Maintain Pace They Set in Opening Minutes and Lead See-sawed Throughout the Entire Contest; Peterson High Scorer.

Before a crowd of fifteen hundred people which included the Honorable John Crim, Assistant Attorney General of the United States, the Indian quint lost a hard fought battle to Richmond University in the Blow Gymnasium Wednesday night by the score of 27-26. Many friends and alumni of both institutions, together with the entire student body of William and Mary, crowded the new Blow Gymnasium to its utmost capacity.

Richmond took the ball from the tip-off but failed to tally. John Todd dribbled the ball down the floor and shot the first goal for William and Mary following it closely with another one from the middle of the floor. Sexton and Kahn added three points to the Indians' lead, and then as the

DR. KATE WALLER BARRETT, MEMBER BOARD OF VISITORS, DIES AT HER HOME IN ALEXANDRIA

One of the Most Prominent Women in Virginia, She Was Initiated to Phi Beta Kappa Here Last December; Would Have Finished Four Years Service to William and Mary in March.

Dr. Kate Waller Barrett, of Alexandria, member of the William and Mary Board of Visitors, died at her home Monday evening following a short illness resulting from an attack of acute indigestion.

Dr. Barrett was connected with William and Mary for four years, being appointed in March, 1921, as a member of the Board of Visitors of the college, and serving in this capacity until her recent death. In addition to her connections with William and Mary, she was a prominent figure in Virginia political and social circles for many years. She was the national president of the Florence Crittendon Missions and Virginia State Regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution at the time of her death. She was also past president of the American Legion Auxiliary and was widely known throughout Virginia for her sociological activities.

In 1914 Dr. Barrett was appointed by the United States as a special representative to investigate conditions in Europe surrounding alien women, and was the only woman appointed by the governor of Virginia to serve as a member of the commission on training camp activities.

Dr. Barrett was born at Widewater, Va., in 1858, and received her early education at Arlington Institute, of Alexandria. She later completed a course in Nursing at Florence Nightingale Training School and at St. Thomas Hospital, London, and received her M. D. degree from the Medical College of Georgia in 1876.

She was initiated into Phi Beta Kappa at the founders' day celebration held at William and Mary last December.

W. & M. Rifle Club Receives I. R. A. Bid

An invitation to join the Southern Colleges League of the Intercollegiate Rifle Association has been received by the William and Mary Rifle Club from Brigadier General F. H. Phillips, secretary of the National Rifle Association of America, according to Lieutenant Wain, military advisor of the local organization. The matter of affiliation will be discussed at the next meeting of the club.

Four Southern States are at present represented in the Southern College Rifle League: Maryland, by the University of Maryland, and the College of Western Maryland; Virginia, by Virginia Military Institute and Virginia Polytechnic Institute; North Carolina, by North Carolina State, and Georgia by the University of Georgia. The schedule this year will be fired by telegraph; next year, it is proposed to establish a shoulder-to-shoulder intercollegiate gallery match, where the college riflemen may get together and shoot it out on a common firing line.

Lectures On Mexico Concluded Last Night

Last Two Lectures on "Aztecs" and "Mexican Sports" by Professor Castaneda Prove Very Popular; Dances and Songs Attract.

The second of the series of three lectures sponsored by the Spanish Club proved an attractive affair. Perhaps the features of the second program were the well arranged musical numbers, which supplemented Professor Castaneda's lecture on "The Aztec Civilization."

Professor Castaneda, in a lecture illustrated with various views of Mexico, touched the earliest history of the country, the Aztec era, and the period of Spanish conquest which followed. Among the views shown were a number of places of historical interest to be visited by the William and Mary Summer School in Mexico, directed by Professor Castaneda, this coming summer. The Mexican summer school will be the first ever held by the college and will be conducted in a similar manner to the William and Mary summer school in Europe, it is stated.

The last of the series of lectures was delivered in the chapel Thursday night on the topic, "Popular Sports of Mexico." Much interest has been aroused at the college in the problems of Mexico, and many students and townspeople have taken advantage of the opportunity offered by the Spanish Club to become better acquainted with Mexico and her history and problems. Professor Castaneda, having lived in Mexico for a number of years, is thoroughly familiar with her history, customs and needs. The three lectures have brought at William and Mary a better understanding of Mexican problems.

European Summer Tour Registration is Good

Thirty-two Students Have Registered for William and Mary 1925 Summer School in Europe; Women's Group Entirely Completed.

Thirty-two students have registered in the 1925 William and Mary Summer School in Europe, according to Dr. C. C. Fichtner, director of the school. The women's group is entirely complete, and further registrations are being accepted only for a waiting list, and for the trips in 1926 and 1927. The men's group, which is much larger, is about half filled, but it is expected that this quota also will be complete within a month or six weeks.

The men's group, while in Europe, will travel in a separate body under the supervision of Professor J. C. Lyons, now of the faculty of the University of North Carolina, and of Professor E. M. Gwathmey, now at the University of Virginia. Professor Lyons was formerly a very popular instructor in French at William and Mary, and has studied in France. Professor Gwathmey on leave of absence from the English department of William and Mary, will give a number of English courses in the University of Toulouse summer session. Professor Gwathmey was in France during the war.

A number of members of the party have been enrolled from other universities including the University of Virginia, the University of North Carolina, the University of Washington, the University of Pittsburgh, the University of Kentucky, Davidson, Columbia, Princeton, Vassar and Cornell.

Freshmen Meet Wilson High Here Tonight

Will Mark First Appearance of Portsmouth Quint Here in Several Years; Seeking to Arrange Game With Maury High School.

William and Mary's freshman quint plays Woodrow Wilson High school of Portsmouth on the local court tonight, the journey to Williamsburg marking the first appearance of a Portsmouth quint against the freshmen in recent years.

Woodrow Wilson High enjoys the distinction of having beaten John Marshall High of Richmond and has every right to claim one of the best scholastic teams in the State.

The freshmen have been going strong lately, and have won six out of the last seven games played, including three victories taken while on a trip. Coach Watkins is seeking to arrange a game between the freshmen and Maury High from Norfolk.

INDIAN SPORTS

THE BASKET

A Review of Indian Winter Sports

The William and Mary relay four has bowed in defeat before the Richmond quartet three times in little more than a week, though the time made by the Dobson foursome was better than that made by Pennsylvania in a race wherein Virginia never had a chance; and the Princeton-Navy mile was way above the Spider time.

For the third successive year, William and Mary has contributed the highest scoring player in Virginia collegiate basketball. It is Kahn who has kept the honor for the Indians for a third time, outclassing his nearest runner-up by more than 60 points and averaging 13 1-2 points per game. It is likely that Kahn's total will reach 250 during this week.

The William and Mary girls' sextette seems undoubtedly headed for a fourth championship. With Sweetbriar, George Washington, South Carolina and Adelphi all the victims of the Indianettes and with such a scoring forward as Love, they appear invincible. The real test of their schedule comes next Saturday when they meet Temple University in Philadelphia.

Tomorrow afternoon, at 2:30 p. m., the Indian varsity will don their uniforms for the last time of the present season to meet St. John's College, from Annapolis, Maryland, in the Blow gymnasium. Thus far the Indians have played 17 games, and they have registered 13 victories, and but four defeats, comparing more than favorably with the slump of last year when the team gained but eight victories in 24 games.

Coach Watkins has perfected his freshman squad into the most successful first-year team ever to wear the William and Mary colors. Returning recently from a trip upon which they won every game played, the Little Indians have a record of eight wins out of thirteen games played against the best high school teams in eastern Virginia, and from amateur quints within their class. The freshmen will probably close their season against Maury High school here next week.

Adelphi No Match For High Scoring Co-eds

Louise Love Becomes Highest Woman Scorer in Virginia With Ninety-six Points in Four Games

Northerners Single-handed.

The William and Mary co-eds won a decided victory of 51 to 32 over Adelphi College in the Jefferson hall gym last Saturday night, in a slow game, the outcome of which was evident after the first few minutes of play.

The Adelphi sextette started the contest with a lead, but lost spirit before the strength of the Indianette guards, Arnold and Gibbons, and by the end of the first half there was no doubt that the contest would prove another victory for the co-eds.

Coach Barksdale called in the second squad at the beginning of the fourth quarter, and they succeeded in holding the visitors to the end.

The sensational shooting of Love marked the game. Love now holds approximately the State record for baskets, having scored ninety-six points in the last few games.

Indianettes Defeat Geo. Washington 45-37

Co-ed Sextette Wins Thrilling Game in Final Moments Through Work of Love, Who Equals Scoring of Whole Visiting Team.

Playing the hardest, fastest game of the season, the Indianettes brought down their third victim, the George Washington sextette, with a final score of 45-37, in Jefferson gym last Friday night.

Seldom has a game proved so exciting and seldom has a score seen sawed back and forth so rapidly. William and Mary, leading by a bare two points in the first half, keeping pace throughout the third quarter, brought the score to a tie in the fourth. With only four minutes left to play, both teams surpassed all work seen on the William and Mary court this season. Spurred on by cheers from the balconies, the Indianettes gave a final spurt and, when the last whistle sounded, they had left the visitors twelve points behind.

Washington put up a formidable defense and kept the outcome of the contest in doubt until the last few minutes. Elizabeth Hastings, guard, who was on the William and Mary team last year, played a good game against her alma mater.

Wilkins and Best, centers, are credited with stellar work, while Arnold, another star of the evening, and Armstrong held off the George Washington forwards time after time.

Louise Love, however, was the shining light of the evening, caging the ball for a total of 17 field goals and three free throws, totaling 37 points or enough to offset the scoring of the whole George Washington team.

Indianettes Face Old Rivals Tomorrow Eve.

Tomorrow night the Indianettes meet Westhampton College on the neutral ground of the Blow gymnasium, in the last home game of the season.

Comparative scores for the season would indicate a hard battle William and Mary, determined to atone for last year's defeat, will bend every effort toward bringing down the Spider sextette.

Since Saturday's victory over Adelphi, the Indianettes have had a week of rest, and should be in good shape for the contest.

DR. KATE WALLER BARRETT

In the passing of Dr. Kate Waller Barrett, Virginia has lost one of the most eminent women of the times, a loyal and useful citizen who was always active in some noble and patriotic work. William and Mary, too, mourns her loss, one that is irreparable not only because of her official connection with the college but because she was respected and loved by every member of the faculty and every student who knew her.

Dr. Barrett's life was one of self-sacrificing endeavor, dedicated to the task of making the home, State and nation count for something in the lives of the people. To say that she was versatile would be stating a fact mildly, for she was connected with countless movements and organizations which stand for the betterment of humanity. First of all she was a mother, the greatest thing in the world to her, philanthropist, social worker, physician, nurse and last of all one of the few great women statesmen Virginia has given to the world.

Those who have heard Dr. Barrett speak know the charm and sweetness of manner she possessed. From the lowest person in the land to the highest she never failed to gain a willing audience. She was an orator of no little note and the tribute paid her in the Democratic convention last year at the conclusion of her seconding speech to the nomination of Carter Glass gave evidence of the high place she held in the regard of the leading men and women of the nation.

Women of Dr. Barrett's calibre do not appear often and it is with a deep sense of grief that we record her passing in the columns of The Flat Hat. William and Mary is poorer for the passing of a true friend, a great and noble woman.

COURAGEOUS CO-EDS

Co-eds, we doff The Flat Hat to you because you had the initiative to try something new. Year after year we have been confronted with the problem of a cheering section composed of a mixture of boys and girls who were often more concerned with their little chats than with the game itself. Men took girls because it was the thing to do; girls went because they did not realize at the time, that in so doing, they were disorganizing the cheering. Perhaps vain men did not care to have his girl see him grow hot and disordered by cheering his team to victory. Perhaps dainty co-ed did not care to step down from her pedestal of dignity when she could appear to a better advantage unruffled.

Realizing that the best results could be obtained by separate cheering sections, the girls have elected their own cheer leaders, provided separate sections for the boys, and started a movement to have their own cheers. Once more we doff the hat to you for having the courage to start something new and the determination to put it across.

O. D. K. HONORS WILLIAM

William and Mary was again honored when Dr. A. G. Williams, professor of modern languages at the college, was elected president of Omicron Delta Kappa, the young honorary fraternity, at their convention here last week-end. Since its founding in 1914, O. D. K. has fostered scholarship, and general campus activities among the undergraduates of the twelve colleges and universities having circles, and has grown to become a vital factor in college life.

At William and Mary Omicron Delta Kappa numbers among its members the students who have grown to be outstanding campus figures. The merits of the fraternity are well known to all who have any knowledge of Greek letter organizations. It has kept alive the objects of its founders who united in one body for the general good of the institution, all leaders in the various forms of college activities.

Now that The Flat Hat office has been locked and the students haven't access to the yellow paper, the professors in the Citizenship building will certainly have to give oral tests and exams.

The Dearborn Independent states that there will be a shortage of laborers in the United States in 1925. The colleges and universities will no doubt be crowded then.

Library Secures Books Suggested by White

Following the suggestion given by Mr. Irving H. White, former assistant professor of English at William and Mary, the college library has recently secured fifty excellent books of contemporary English and American literature. Among the number selected are the "Outline of History," by H. G. Wells, and "Figures of Earth," by James Branch Cabell, a former William and Mary student and a writer of much prominence.

Among new books recently added are:

- Gertrude Atherton—"Black Oxen."
- Robert Frost—"North of Boston."
- Hamlin Garland—"Son of the Middle Border."
- James Branch Cabell—"Figures of the Earth."
- Rudyard Kipling—"Kim."
- Sinclair Lewis—"Main Street."
- Edna St. Vincent—"Renaissance."
- Eugene O'Neill—"Beyond the Horizon."
- George Bernard Shaw—"Man and Superman."
- H. G. Wells—"Outline of History."
- John Macy—"Spirit of American Literature."

History Club Plans Series of Features

The illustrated lecture on The League of Nations, given by Dr. R. L. Morton, under the auspices of the William and Mary History Club, was a decided success. This, the first of a series of features to be presented by the club, will be followed shortly by a lecture on "The Newly Created Countries of Europe, Their Government and Problems Confronting Them."

It will, no doubt, be of interest to those on the campus who are interested in government and political science to know that the history club has recently affiliated with the International Relations Club, thus bringing another organization of national and international repute to William and Mary.

American Folk Song Subject Smith's Talk

At its regular meeting Tuesday evening, the Philomathean Literary Society listened to a most delightful discussion of the "American Folk Song," by Professor Joseph H. Smith, whose work in the field has made him an authority on the subject.

In the course of some very well stated suggestions as to the course to pursue if the society would attain the maximum success in debate, Professor Childs stressed particularly the need for more careful attention to the choice of debate questions.

In the Inter-literary Society contest to be held March 6, the Philomatheans will be represented in debate by Paul Everett and in declamation by George W. Reilly.

"Y" NOTES

Miss Mason Speaks.

Miss Lucy Mason, the general secretary of the Y. W. C. A. in Richmond, spoke on "Industrial Conditions for Women in Virginia" before the Y. W. C. A. in the chapel last Tuesday evening.

Miss Mason, it is said, has probably done more work towards getting better working conditions for women and children in the State than any other woman. She is well qualified to speak on the industrial conditions of the State.

Miss Mason met Dr. Peters' classes in sociology Wednesday morning.

Discussion Groups.

Instead of the regular weekly prayer meeting which has been held by the Y. M. C. A. in the chapel, there will be a weekly discussion group held in room three, main building, every Thursday night at 6:30. The purpose of this discussion group will be to discuss questions of the day and any questions on which the students are doubtful.

Indian Foursome Fails To Place In Relays

Defeated by Richmond Both at Georgetown and Johns Hopkins; Georgetown University Romps Away With Meets Saturday and Monday Nights.

A week-end spent in participating with celebrated teams and famed athletes was enjoyed by the William and Mary relay team and Sprinters Hooff and Charles, last week.

Saturday night, at Georgetown University, a great track carnival was held in which Princeton, Navy, Georgetown, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Maryland, George Washington, William and Mary and Richmond athletes participated. The cream of the track sport of the Middle Atlantic States matched their speed to break many records.

Georgetown romped away with the meet with 59 points; Pennsylvania and Princeton each got 5 points; Maryland won 4; Navy 1, while William and Mary, Richmond and George Washington failed to place among such a talented athleticdom.

The William and Mary foursome lost again to the Richmond University quartet, and Maryland, an added foe, pushed themselves into second place, leaving the Indians third in the race in which the time was 3 minutes and 33 seconds. Captain Hooff failed to place in the 50-yard dash.

Paavo Nurmi, the celebrated Finn, ran with a number of stellar performers from various athletic clubs, and succeeded in breaking his usual number of records.

Monday night, in Baltimore, at Johns Hopkins University, the William and Mary runners again showed their wares against the same teams that met in the big Georgetown meet on Saturday night with the additions of teams from Lafayette, Penn State and Boston College.

Again the William and Mary relay quartet was unsuccessful in the South Atlantic Collegiate relay races, losing for the third time to Richmond University, and allowing Randolph-Macon to slip into second place, with the Indians holding the cellar berth. The Richmond runners clipped off the mile in 3 minutes and 3 3-5 seconds, or two seconds under their great run of Saturday in Washington, in which they beat the time made by Pennsylvania, Princeton and Navy.

Hooff, running for William and Mary in the hundred-yard dash, open handicap, made his way into the third place in the ninth heat in the preliminaries, in which race a time of 10 and 1-5 seconds was recorded, but the fleet Indian runner was unable to stand the pace of the Georgetown, Pennsylvania and Princeton runners, and failed to place in the semi-final heats.

The renowned Nurmi was on hand again to show his brilliant running, as was Booth, an ex-Hopkins star.

Georgetown won the meet by a large margin, Penn State and Pennsylvania following in the order mentioned.

A Glimpse Into The College World

Here And There With Exchanges of the Flat Hat

Professors of a certain Western college have recently innovated a plan of removing seats from the class rooms so that all late-comers are obliged to stand. Tardiness is on the wane.

Forty-nine students at the University of Missouri subscribed to a resolution declaring that they would not take part in any future war. Twenty-three were men and twenty-six were women.

As a result of the recent examinations, the several school papers of Rice Institute face reorganization, as the majority of the board members were asked to leave school.

Students at Ohio State University are in danger of the law. They have been stealing the coffee pots from a campus restaurant in protest of a five cent charge for a cup and the owner threatens them with legal steps if the practice is not discontinued.

The formal evening dress will not be required at Yale mid-winters, the "tux" is perfectly proper, the committee of the Junior Prom announced. It is requested also that no flowers be worn.

The oldest university in the world is in Kianski Province, China. It is the White Deer Grotto and was founded in 960 A. D.

Dates at the University of Oklahoma will be regulated by the power plant whistle. One warning blast at 10:20 nightly and at 11:20 on Fridays will be a signal for preliminary farewells. The final whistle ten minutes later will be two short blasts to mark the actual departure.

Two thousand of the Stanford University alumni, who are veterans of the World War may pool their bonus policies and erect a new memorial hall on the campus of their alma mater.

Riding bicycles to and from classes and around the campus and town is a feature at Dartmouth this year.

Fifty-nine of the sixty sororities at the University of Michigan voted against allowing girls to smoke in the sorority houses.

The University of Iowa has flooded its football field and the students are offered ice-skating. It is believed that many colleges will adopt this plan.

Total robberies from fraternity houses at the University of Chicago last year amounted to $5,313.

The 1925 "Cactus," University of Texas annual, will be unusual because of its Old English style. The cover will have brass hinges and a broken clasp, along with other peculiarities that will give it an antique effect. The edges of the pages will be roughened in such a way that they will appear to have been worn from long use.

After this season, Lacrosse will be substituted for baseball at St. Stephen's College, New York. President Bell announces that baseball was becoming professionalized and that good baseball men expect to be paid a salary to attend college. He states that his college will drop this sport rather than continue under such conditions.

The dean of the school of arts at the University of Texas is of the opinion that the decree forbidding marriage between students at Baylor while they are undergraduates is illegal.

The substitutes of the University of Oregon football squad were organized a club. ~~They are limited to~~ those who warmed the bench the entire season.

Sixty-five per cent of the Syracuse University men have flat feet or defective eyesight.

Brown University students voted against compulsory chapel attendance and afternoon classes.

Co-eds pay on the average of $650 a year for their education, it is estimated by the American Association of University Women. Bryn-Mawr has the highest average and Indiana University the lowest. These statistics do not include milk-shakes and cosmetics, however.

Three minutes for a shave is the record of an Oklahoma University student, who starts dressing for class when the professor starts calling the roll and gets there 14 minutes late.

The student who stays in the upper half of his class in college will average $215 more salary yearly than the one who doesn't," says Dr. Arthur Homes, of Penn's psychology department.

Freshman Quint Makes Clean Sweep On Trip

Defeat St. Christopher's, Farmville High School and Farmville Athletic Club; Last Game Was Most Brilliant of the Season.

The freshman quint made a clean sweep of a three-game series on its trip last week-end, taking the measure of St. Christopher's in Richmond, and Farmville High and Farmville Athletic Club in Farmville.

Tying up with St. Christopher's for the first game, the freshmen had a fight on their hands for the first part of the game, the first quarter ending four-all. By the end of the first half, however, the freshmen, led by Macon, had run up an eight-point lead. From then on to the end of the game this lead was never threatened. Captain Kemper starred for the Saints, while Macon and Crossfield led the freshman attack.

The following night the freshmen moved to Farmville, and easily defeated Farmville High school in the local armory by a 27-5 count. Although the high quint put up a fast, scrappy game, they seemed to have trouble in finding the basket and were unable to accomplish much against their heavier opponents.

In defeating the Farmville Athletic Club the following night in the Farmville Normal gymnasium, the freshmen are credited with the best game of the season. Last year Farmville A. C. defeated the crack Virginia Boat Club, and early this season took the measure of the Hampden-Sidney varsity. During the first half the freshmen completely outclassed their opponents, and led them at the end of that period by an 8-3 count. The local quint made a desperate rally in the second half, and a few minutes before the end of the game succeeded in tying the score. In the last two minutes of play, however, the freshmen broke away and tallied three field goals in rapid succession. The entire team distinguished themselves in this game by good team work and brilliant passing.

The following men, headed by Coach Frank Nat Watkins, made the trip: Macon, Cook, Crossfield, Elliott, Collier, Young, Brooks, Glenney and Booth.

Pi Kappa Alpha Buys New Chapter House

The Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity has recently purchased the home owned by Dr. H. C. Krebs on Richmond avenue and, under the contemplated plans, will have one of the handsomest fraternity houses at the college within the next few months.

The interior of the house will be thoroughly renovated; an addition of four rooms will be made, and the grounds will be beautifully cultivated. The home will be ready for occupancy in the fall.

Gibbons Club

Mass will be said in Philomathean hall Sunday morning at 10 o'clock and there will be a meeting of the club immediately afterward. Father Byrn, of Newport News, will be the main speaker, while Professor Casteneda will give a short talk.

WILLIAMS IS PRESIDENT
OMRICON DELTA KAPPA

The closing session of the convention was held on Saturday morning, at which time the fraternity elected its national officers. Professor A. G. Williams, of the department of modern languages of William and Mary, was elected president; J. H. Hewlett, of Centre College, vice-president, and W. M. Brown, of Washington and Lee, executive secretary. The following men were elected to serve on the national executive council: W. L. Prince, Richmond University; John C. French, Johns Hopkins; and G. L. Schramm, of the University of Pitts-

The convention decided to meet biennially in the future, instead of annually, and to hold its next meeting in 1927 at some place to be determined upon later. It was decided also to undertake a campaign for national expansion.

At the close of the session the visitors were taken on a sight-seeing tour of the places of historic interest in Jamestown, Williamsburg and Yorktown. The delegates expressed the opinion that this convention was one of the most interesting and successful in the history of the fraternity. Visitors and delegates who attended the convention were:

Dr. W. H. Brown, Washington and Lee; Dr. A. G. Williams, William and Mary; Professor J. H. Hewlett, Centre College; H. D. Cotton, Baltimore; Dr. D. B. Easter, Washington and Lee; Dean W. L. Prince, Richmond University; J. Carl Fisher, Baltimore; E. M. Sager, Hampden-Sidney; S. E. Armistead, Birmingham Southern; W. T. Corbett, University of Pittsburgh; A. C. Newlin, Centre College; Charles McLwaine, Davidson; W. Carville Gardner, Johns Hopkins; P. N. Sanderson, Agron University; R. R. Nixon, Emory University; Thomas R. Nelson, Washington and Lee; J. Swanson Smith, William and Mary; Judson Evans, University of Richmond, and H. C. Booker, University of Richmond.

guarding tightened, neither side was able to score for some minutes. Richmond took time out for consultation. Peterson scored a field goal for the Spiders, and Lee Todd one for the Indians. Peterson, Bell and Miller added five more points to the Richmond tallies. William and Mary took time out. Marshall shot two field goals in succession for the Indians. DeMotte and Miller added three points to Richmond's score. Kahn, who had been closely guarded by Miller, shot his first field goal. DeMotte scored again for Richmond. The first half ended 16-14 favor the Indians.

The Spiders again got the ball on the tip-off at the beginning of the second half. Peterson tied the score after a pretty dribble by Miller. Peterson accounted for another goal and William and Mary took time out.

Spouse shot a field goal for the Spiders. Kahn, Todd, and Sexton added five points to the Indians' score, putting them one point in the lead. DeMotte, with four personal fouls against him, was removed from the game. Spouse and Miller put Richmond one point in the lead; and Marshall went in for Brasseur. Kahn tied the score with a field goal, and Sexton added a foul. Miller put Richmond one point in the lead and William and Mary took time out. Marshall tied the score with a field goal, and Sexton shot a foul putting the Indians one point in the lead. With thirty seconds to play Peterson shot a long field goal for the Spiders, and the game ended, Richmond 27 to William and Mary 26.

The contest was one of the fastest ever seen on the local court, with plenty of fight displayed by both quints. Peterson was high score man for the Spiders with nine points to his credit, and was also high score man for the game, leading "Rats" Kahn by one point. Spouse and Miller playing at guard for the visitors showed themselves adept at dribbling and passing. The entire Indian quint carried the fight to their heavier opponents from the first whistle to the last, and their final defeat was largely due to a lack of success in caging throws from the foul line. Kahn, Marshall, and John Todd were the outstanding stars for the Indians.

Little Indians Victors Over Fort Eustis Quint

Freshmen Basketball Team Outclasses Soldiers in Preliminary to Main Richmond-William and Mary Affair; Macon, Cook and Young Star.

Playing a preliminary game to the Indian-Spider clash Wednesday night, the William and Mary Freshmen easily defeated the Camp Eustis quint by the score of 27-13. For several minutes neither side was able to score but the Freshmen finally jumped into a six-point lead. The soldiers, however, quickly tied the score and for several minutes the game was fought on even terms. The Freshmen gradually drew away from their opponents and held a nine-point lead at the end of the half.

Coming back in the second half, the soldiers made a determined effort to turn in a win and up to the last two minutes of play, the laurels of the second half went to the soldier quintet. The Freshmen then registered three field goals in rapid succession, giving them a 14-point margin of victory. Macon, Cook and Young played stellar ball for the Freshmen. The entire Eustis outfit played good ball, none standing out as particular stars.

undefeated team up to the time of making its Virginia trip, but after suffering defeat at the hands of Randolph-Macon and Richmond College, fell an easy victim to Coach Tasker's speedy five. The first half of the game was all William and Mary's, and ended with the score of 21-5, in favor of the Indians.

The Bridgewater quint took the floor at the beginning of the second half, evidently determined to stem the tide of the Indian onslaught, but the result of their endeavors netted them only fifteen points as compared to the Indians' twenty-two. During the last few minutes of play, Coach Tasker sent in his entire second team who proved nearly as effective as the varsity against their opponents. Kahn was easily the high score man of the game with fifteen points to his credit. Marshall and Captain Sexton also contributed heavily to the Indians' score, while both John and Lee Todd played bang-up games at guard. Braun and Payne starred for the visitors in their desperate attempts to stop the Indian five.
