DOC CAPS OFF HERE MAY 1ST

Class of 1931 Will Lose "Regalia" On Next Tuesday as Is Practice

Freshman rules, such as they are, will come to an end for the session next Tuesday, May 1, according to an announcement made by the Junior-Senior Tribunal for enforcing the rules. It has been the practice at the college for several years to do away with the rules at this date.

Freshmen who entered in February are to continue to obey the rules until the end of the session, it is understood.

Nothing definite has been done on freshman rules for next year as yet. It is expected that this will come before the students shortly. Whether the present sophomore class, as juniors, will have anything to do with the enforcement remains yet to be seen. The class was barred from doing so this year, because of the conflict in regard to rules last spring.

Announcement Is Made to That Effect by Cooke After Confab With Administration

The Students' Activity Fee will be collected as usual next year by the Administration. This is the announcement made by J. Allan Cooke, president of the Men's Student Body after a conference with members of the Administration. Mr. Cooke, together with Miss Page Drinker and James M. Robertson made up a committee from the Men and Women Student bodies for the purpose of conferring with the authorities after it had been planned to do away with this fee.

The collection of this will mean that the Colonial Echo, The William and Mary Literary Magazine, The Flat Hat, The Indian Handbook, the Y. W. C. A., the Y. M. C. A., the three literary societies, the intercollegiate debate teams, and the Women's Student Government Association will be able to function as usual.

A few weeks ago, after members of the student bodies had learned of the intention of the college authorities not to collect this fee, a joint student body meeting was held at the request of a number of students for the purpose of seeing how the situation stood with the students. They voted practically unanimously in favor of retaining this fee, if the Administration would collect it, and a committee was formed to discuss the matter with Dr. J. A. C. Chandler.

The fee, put on themselves by the students, dates back to 1921, when the student body here then decided that the best thing for the organizations on the campus would be to have this "blanket tax," and asked the authorities to collect it.

Spud Bloxson and O'Farrell Candidates For Vice-Presidency

ELECTION TO BE ON MAY 8

Mit Stribling and Joe Hancock Will Run For Secretary-Treasurer Of Student Body

Edward Justis, star javelin tosser and James Robertson, President of the Junior Class and member of the 3-3-3 Athletic Committee, will be the two opposing nominees for President of the Student Body in the spring elections on May 8. Selected from the five suggestions which were made formally by men of the student body by placing the preferences in the ballot box last week, these two men are expected to make the race a hot and interesting one in spite of the fact that there will be no "dirty" politics and fraternity combinations this year.

For Vice-President, Spud Bloxson, star varsity second baseman and Mac O'Farrell, first string catcher, will oppose each other in politics despite the fact that their efforts are concerted on the diamond. Joe Hancock and Mit Stribling are the popular choices for nomination for Secretary-Treasurer.

DEBATERS FACE S. C. TOMORROW

Bolton and Kelsey Will Face Southerners in Maury High School Auditorium

Monday night, April 30, the debaters of William and Mary will meet the University of South Carolina either at William and Mary or at Maury high school auditorium in Norfolk. The last debate at Norfolk proved very successful, William and Mary defeating Wake Forest, before a large audience.

The question to be debated here tomorrow is: "Resolved: that Al Smith should be elected president," with the local team negating it, and the South Carolina team affirming the query. This question is being debated all over the United States and has drawn large crowds wherever debated.

The members of the William and Mary squad who have been selected to uphold the negative side are William Bolton and D. A. Kelsey. The South Carolina men representing their university on the affirmative side are Joseph Keresh, and another yet to be decided upon. Judges for the meet have not been announced.

Baseball Team 'Hob-Nobs' With Lindbergh in Washington F. O. Clark Did Not Defeat Him in Game of Billiards

"I did not beat Charles Lindbergh at billiards while at the Racquet Club in Washington," said F. O. Clark, member of the William and Mary baseball team, when questioned yesterday in regard to the corrupt rumor that he defeated the Trans-Atlantic Flyer by a score of 24-25. "Not only did I not beat him," Mr. Clark continued, "I didn't even play him."

William and Mary's baseball team returned triumphant Monday from what was perhaps the most eventful triumph in a general way that an Indian ball team has ever made. Not only did the team beat Navy; the players ran plump into Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, America's ace of the air, and thereby solved the secret of Lindbergh's disappearance which had baffled the press of the nation for a week.

Last week Colonel Lindbergh suddenly disappeared from the public eye. Friday the press searched in vain, and Saturday the search was still on Meantime the baseball team had discovered him in the calm seclusion of the Racquet Club, one of Washington's most exclusive societies, and an organization known among prominent sportsmen the world over.

The discovery took place at 6 o'clock Saturday night, three hours after the William and Mary team, fresh from their victory over Navy, had arrived at the club. Through the courtesy of members of the club, the team was assigned a score of individual rooms on the third floor. Unknown to the players, Colonel Lindbergh's room was in the midst of those assigned to William and Mary.

About 5 o'clock most of the team, accompanied by Coach Tasker, went to the library, preparatory to going to dinner. The team had been in the room nearly half an hour when someone—no one remembers who—recognized the quiet young man in grey business suit who was seated at a reading table on the other side of the library. The word at once passed around the group, and a few minutes later, when Colonel Lindbergh arose to go into the billiard room, the team drifted in one by one after him.

The aviator hero, members of the team noticed, carried with him a technical aviation journal which he had been reading. He laid the magazine on a table while he watched a game of billiards. A few minutes later, however, he returned to the library and resumed reading.

Shortly thereafter the team was called to dinner, and when they returned Colonel Lindbergh had also gone to the dining room. Colonel Lindbergh according to members of the team, had substantially the same supper as the players, which consisted of fruit cocktail, porterhouse steak, creamed potatoes and vegetables, coffee, and a dessert of ice cream.

The flyer, according to the team, appeared more youthful than his recent photographs have represented him. All remarked his quiet nature and conservative dress, his sandy, wavy hair, and his "Lindbergh" voice.

Colonel Lindbergh recently was made an honorary member of the Racquet club.

Campus Politics

The Flat Hat stands by its former view that open politics would be the best for the college. Having sponsored the system at its introduction last year, it is rather loath to see it depart, and see a return of the old system.

Many students regret that politics exist at all, but they seem to be a necessary evil in college life. Do what you will about ideal systems and the like, but the same underhand methods of bargaining will last. When, and only when, men become unselfish and do not desire gain for themselves or their close friends, politics will disappear and the deserving man will be honored. But until that point in civilization is reached selfish ends will prompt office seekers.

Our contention is this: that if open politics continues the elections will be above board and open, and if men see that certain groups are beginning to clique up with other groups then these students will be enabled to combat the combination and perhaps defeat it. If on the other hand the system of closed politics is tried the students will have no recourse as he dares attack no one openly, since the system of bargaining is supposedly non-existent.

To swear off politics is a good step. But will it work? What redress has the disinterested student if it does not work? Will the mere form of promising not to form combinations work? Human nature is selfish, even at William and Mary.

It is undoubtedly true that hard feelings exist as a result of the open parties last year. But this is natural. If a man sees his ideas or himself go down to defeat in an election, the feeling of resentment is natural, for man has not yet assimilated enough of the social feeling. These same feelings of hate will exist under the proposed system, we contend. What is to be gained?

The Flat Hat is attacking no one and has nothing to gain from any side that it happened to take, but it wishes to put the proposition before the students. Which will it be, open or hidden?

What is Wrong With the Colleges?

Daily one hears the familiar cry, "I hate to go to this class, that prof bores me to death." "I don't like a single class I am taking; I'll be glad when this semester is over."

There must be something wrong with a system of education that seems to fail in this fashion. Is the trouble with the student? Is it the professor who is wrong, or just what is it?

First of all the fault lies with the students. There still seems to remain at the colleges many of the men who fail to realize that the day of the "rah-rah boy" is past. Their idea is not study. They did not come to college for this, it is not part of their conception of college life. They affect disinterestedness and sophistication. But when one hears this cry on the part of seniors and juniors, something must still be amiss.

Of all the branches of education the college seems to be the most in the rear. The college, in its education department, teaches methods and procedures that seem never to filter beyond the walls of those classrooms. Since the colleges require certain courses, the burden of making them interesting rests with the faculty. Unless they can make them so and inspire a real love of learning they have failed. One of the misconceptions of colleges seems to be that professors are picked for their degrees rather than for the real worth of the instructors. Would one purchase a building after an inspection of the outside only? Should the porch or the color of the paint be the only deciding factor in such a purchase? Decidedly not.

We look forward with hope when students will reach that point in education when such a system as has recently been instituted at Swathmore can be started here. When such a system is started the repetition and boredom that older students experience under the present system can be abolished, and the professors may find time under their lighter schedules to make the class work and conferences more interesting and stimulating.

A GLIMPSE INTO the COLLEGE WORLD

Here and There among the Exchanges of the Flat Hat

The Sophomores and Freshmen of Lafayette College engaged in their annual cane rush last Saturday. One freshman and one soph held each end of a cane in the center of the field and each class lined up fifty feet from the cane. At a blast of a whistle each class rushed for the cane and the class having the most hands on the cane was declared the winner of the rush.

Omicron Delta Kappa, Honorary Fraternity, at the University of Alabama, will make its annual selection of new members at the Junior Prom.

The vogue for painted and decorated slickers, now so popular that some students are having the work done by professional artists, appears to have had a lowly origin. The first decorated slicker came to its honor quite accidentally when a collegian, returning from a victorious game, was slapped on the back by another student whose print of a muddy hand stood out clearly on the rain coat. The rest of the mob saw him and adopted the fad. At least, that's the explanation they are giving at Penn college.

To complete the feeling of unity among Experimental College students, a distinctive type of blazer coat is being worn by most of the freshmen. They are blue with grey trimming and make the wearer conspicuous.

The custom is similar to what is done in Oxford and Cambridge where every college has its individual blazer and one is considered well-dressed with one on at almost any time of the day.

Disobedient freshmen at the University of Akron are now punished by the loss of vote in class elections. The plan is expected to be very effective as the interest in campus politics is high.

The Barbary Coast orchestra of Dartmouth, composed of eight men, has accepted a contract from the management of the Reserve de Cibourne at St. Jean de Luy in the south of France. Starting July first, the orchestra will play the entire summer.

All undergraduates at the University of Kansas are given an opportunity to vote on whom they want for the next year's lecture course speakers.

Co-education is just being introduced in the Chinese universities. Women students, however, are not allowed to mix with their brothers, but are allotted seats on the opposite side of the room, heavily chaperoned.

The University of Michigan, in addition to installing 34 new tennis courts and a practice golf course, have started an artificial ice plant to allow skating and hockey the year round.

Peter Vischer, author of "Polo," and the polo critic for the New York World, recently declared to a Daily Princetonian reporter that "polo will some day become an intercollegiate sport of wide proportions, despite the obvious difficulties imposed by the problem of expense."

The Davidsonian of Davison College is sponsoring a contest for the purpose of obtaining some new and original yells. The prize for the best yell will be six free tickets to the Davidson Theatre.

The Chronicle of Duke University had its annual "gripe and grievance" issue last week. Students were allowed absolute freedom to express their opinions.

Band Disbands

Efforts Will Be Made to Get Horn Blowers Going Again

Due to the lack of interest in the William and Mary Band, Director M. T. Mallard has announced that the band has been discontinued. It is not understood why the men failed to take interest in this activity.

The college gave all of the men uniforms, gave them trips and also gave them a college credit, but they would not practice. Dr. Chandler sponsored several dances to buy instruments for the men and has done considerable for the band. The men never appeared at games when the director told them to, and very few ever attended practice. It is understood that the band will be reorganized next semester.

THE OPEN FORUM

Editor, The Flat Hat,
Dear Sir:

It is all very nice to have plenty of stags at the Saturday night dances, but I, for one, prefer an introduction before dancing with any out-of-town stag.

For the last three Saturday night dances there have been visiting teams here to attend them. Someone has always announced that no introductions would be necessary before these visitors might dance with us. Why not take the girls into consideration before this? I heard many complaints at the dance Saturday because the same thing was done again. Now I ask you frankly, who wanted to dance with some of those sturdy high school specimens?

If a boy wants to meet a girl badly enough, he can always find someone to introduce him. There doesn't need to be a wholesale, informal introduction, does there? Please consider that the girls are the ones who have to dance with these visiting team members. I don't consider this practice as a necessary part of southern hospitality. Is it ever done at other places?

Sincerely,
Co-ed

"LORD BOTETOURT SAYS"

By Bill

Be real quiet now while your uncle Phil tells you another little story all about the college of William and Mary after the manner of another whom we highly esteem.

REVOLUTIONARY PERIOD

The college by the time of the Revolution had made quite a great deal of progress, as it were, and shared in the then rapidly growing spirit of democratic enthusiasm which spread over here from France. It was something like a malady and if you were caught with it you were usually ejected. In the case of T. Jefferson, being young and idealistic, quite a bit of disturbance was raised, as he was not the type of man to stand by and let England run America.

He learned better as he grew older, but while he was a student here he very unwisely took part in a lot of radical debating and nearly got shipped.

The Honor System was instituted at the College about this time. It worked splendidly and is in vogue today. One of the few things that has survived the test of ages, and active and alive now as when in that glorious past, the world was to awaken with a shock and startling revelation—putting a man on his honor! May it always live, sacred and immortal to those who first conceived the idea that fellows would come round all right if you trusted them—and so, weeping, we pass on.

In these days, too, a keen appreciation of the classics was universal and all college men spent pleasant and profitable evenings with Horace at the Sabine farm. There being no Greek restaurant in the town then, Greek was only spoken among Ministerial students, and given to freshmen as punishment—however, Thermopylae and Platea were not altogether unheard of and Spartan discipline was encouraged as far as foraging for food among the neighboring farms was concerned. Chickens and small fowl were secured in goodly numbers by these students but no foxes, as far as we have been able to learn, were brought in under tunics.

It suffices to say now in closing no coeds had invaded upon the sacredness of this masculine solitude but "Sporting with Amaryllis in the shade" was not frowned upon and many a fair lady of Williamsburg was wooed and won by the dashing young Romeos of the time. Williamsburg was a gay place then for the capital was here and students often made the Public Assemblies and were hospitably treated by the townfolk. So now remember to add a little mental baggage day by day and learn, young Horatio, "Arma virumque cano Troiae qui primus ab oris" does not mean "a man came to Troy with a dog in his arms" Valle, mei discipuli, labor omnia vincit.

'ON TO EUROPE' IS SOUNDED AS ITINERARY FOR SUMMER SESSION THERE IS ISSUED

"On to Europe" is the cry of a few students who are anticipating an interesting summer to be spent in Paris. "Parlez-vous francais?" must be answered with a "Oui" when these fortunate students leave the United States and boycott

Under the supervision of A. G. Williams, director of the Summer Session in Europe, many interesting trips are planned to acquaint the student with French customs and mannerisms. The tentative itinerary of the summer months as announced by J. D. Carter, follows:

DEBATERS WIN OVER DEACONS

William and Mary Team Defeats Wake Forest in Norfolk Friday Night

Arguing the negative side of the question, "Resolved, That the United States should cease to protect capital invested in foreign lands by means of armed force," D. Arthur Kelsey, Jr., and Edwin L. Lamberth, Norfolk representatives of the William and Mary debating team, won a two-to-one judges' decision from W. W. Cahoon and O. T. Binkley, of Wake Forest College, Friday night in the Maury High School auditorium, Norfolk.

The William and Mary debaters described America's present use of armed force to protect investments in Latin-American countries as being "the only method of upholding the Monroe Doctrine when European nations demanded that their property be protected." Armed intervention, they pointed out, is an anchor to keep the United States out of war and an instrument of expediency recognized by all world powers. While arbitration was being resorted to, they argued, the property in question might be destroyed.

In establishing an affirmative case to the question the Carolina debaters faced a difficult task. They based their arguments mainly on the theory that by interfering in the affairs of small Latin-American countries the United States is denying other lands the sacred rights of liberty and the exercise of self-government. They placed much emphasis on the fact that the lives of American marines—citizens of the United States—are being sacrificed in the task of upholding puppet governments.

The debate was attended by 100 or more alumni and friends of the two institutions. The judges were: Henry C. Nolley, of the Maury faculty; H. A. Brinkley, attorney; and Rev. L. E. Smith, D. D., pastor of Christian Temple. Dr. J. D. Carter, of the William and Mary faculty, presided as chairman.

Indian and Spider Track Teams Clash Today on Richmond Gravel

DOPE SHEETS RATE SQUADS ABOUT EQUAL

Dobsonmen Rated Weak at Beginning of Season Have Flashed Form in Every Meet

FRESHMEN TO PARTICIPATE

Both Teams Will Send Yearlings Into Clash—William and Mary Has Yet to Win

By Barton D. Pattie

The combined Indian varsity and freshman track teams will stack up against the Spiders at Richmond this afternoon in the annual track meet between the two time honored rivals. Interest in the meet has been growing steadily and a number of local track fans will be at Westhampton to witness what is expected to be one of the hottest fights in years for track supremacy between William and Mary and Richmond.

The Spider track outfit, which was rated by sports writers as the weakest in recent years, has developed beyond all expectations and today it looks as if the Indians will have to stage a hard fight to come out on top. In their first engagement this season, the Richmond runners piled up a huge majority over the Hampden-Sidney and Randolph-Macon trackmen in a triangular meet on the Spider field last Saturday Coach Dobson surprised even their most optimistic supporters and put up a remarkable fight against the strong Washington and Lee track team, only to be nosed out in the final event of the meet which determined the victor.

Indians Have Yet To Win

The Indians have participated in four meets to date and have gone down with the small end of the score each time. The calibre of the Indian's opponents and the inability of Coach Chandler to use his star frosh runners are two points in explaining the four defeats suffered by the Braves this season. Last year the Indians downed the Spiders by a count of 66-60, but the previous years the Spiders have defeated William and Mary track teams with clock-like regularity.

On paper the two rival teams line up on even terms, both institutions being weak in some events and strong in others to balance the count. In the 100-yard dash it is a matter of chance whether Kirby Davis, Scott and Bennett of W. & M. can nose out Atkins and Hamilton of Richmond. The latter took first place here last year in 10 seconds flat but he has not shown exceptional speed in meets this year. The 220-yard dash lines up in the same manner as the 100, but if Joe Bennett and Kirby Davis are running true to form, it is highly improbable that the Spiders can capture more than a third in this event.

Locals look good in 440

With Sargent, Mirmelstein, Mann and Chandler entered in the 440-yard dash, the Indians should make a clean sweep of this event. Here the Spiders will miss Thorpe and Hood, stars of last year's team.

The half mile also finds the Spiders weak and Gresham, Spicer and Porter should account for at least a first and second here. In the mile run the two teams will line up just about equal. Indian entries will be Gresham, Babb and Zabel and their Spider opponents will be Spindle, Onesty and Newton. Last year Gresham lowered the college record in this event to 4:35.2 in the Richmond meet.

The two mile event looks like an even bet between Campbell of W. & M. and Spindle of Richmond for first place.

Stiff going in Hurdles

Meb Davis and Stribling running the high hurdles for W. & M. will have stiff competition in Miller of Richmond. In the low hurdles the race between Stribling, star Indian hurdler,

INDIAN LEADER

Meb Davis, Captain of three sports at William and Mary, will lead one of his teams against the University of Richmond today for the last time, when the Indian track team clashes with the Spiders at Westhampton.

This meet will mark the fourth contest of Captain Davis's teams with Richmond in this session. In two of these, the basketball games, the Redmen won, and in the third, the football game on Thanksgiving Day, the two teams tied up.

Freshman Ball Team

Wins From Goobers

The William and Mary freshman baseball team nosed out a win over Roland Day's Petersburg High School charges Thursday on Cary Field by a score of 7-5. Two big innings for the Frosh accounted for their win over the Goobers.

The Petersburg outfit threatened several times but was never able to catch the Frosh.

The Score:

Petersburg	010	201	100	—5
Freshmen	003	400	00x	—7

First Mexican: "Carlos has announced that he will be a candidate in the next election."

Second Mexican: "What's he running for?"

and Miller of the Spiders should prove to be one of the features of the meet. Miller is slated to make a strong bid for first place in both hurdle events.

Cale of Richmond will fight it out with Thomas, holder of the W. & M. high jump record, for first place in the high jump. Meb Davis of W. & M. has been doing some nice work in the jumping pit this season and should finish well up in this event.

Spiders good in Broad Jump

The Spiders seem to have the broad jump well sewed up, with Cale jumping consistently over 21 feet. First place in the pole vault seems to lie between Yel Kent of W. & M. and Yeaman of the Spiders. Last year Yeaman defeated Kent in this event but judging by performances this season, Kent has a slight edge on his Richmond opponent.

In the shot put and discus the Indians are very weak. Richmond made a clean sweep of the shot put in the W. & L. meet last Saturday and will probably cop this event today. In the discus, however, the Indian representatives look slightly better and may even up the count in the weight events.

Justis star Indian spearman, should win the javelin throw in easy style, with Fields and Meb Davis making bids for second and third places.

CADETS DO UP INDIANS WELL

COACH PAT CRAWFORD HAS TEAM THAT IS BETTER THAN IS USUAL

Therefore the Taskerites May Meet More Opposition in Guilford Tomorrow Than Has Been the Case During the Past Several Years—Carolinians Defeated Medical College a Great Deal Worse than the Indians Did. But of Course Comparative Scores Indicate Little Usually

HAMPDEN-SIDNEY TIGERS WILL BE HERE TUESDAY

Guilford College of North Carolina will invade Cary Field tomorrow for its annual baseball tilt with the Indians. In recent years the Indians have taken the measure of the Carolinians in an easy fashion, but this year Pat Crawford, Guilford mentor, seems to have perfected an outfit superior to any that has met the Indians representing that school. The Quakers started the season with a bang, winning easily over the Medical College of Virginia and Lenoir-Rhyne College. Last week they were downed by the strong Elon College team by a count of 8-0. The lineup which Guilford will place against the Indians tomorrow will probably be Griffen, ss; Taylor, cf; Marshall, rf; Gough, 3b; Parrish, lf; Hingshaw, 2b; Cheek, 1b; Melvin, c; Zachary, Rabb or Cochrane, p.

On Tuesday of next week the William and Mary tossers will stack up against their third Virginia Collegiate opponent in Hampden-Sidney College. This game will also be staged on Cary Field. The Tigers are old rivals of the Indians and athletic contests between the two institutions are usually of interesting order. Judging by performances thus far this season, the Hampden-Sidney nine has a long way to climb in order to hit its stride. The Tigers have dropped two contests to a Lynchburg outfit which is not rated as being very strong this year. Last week the Bridgewater College team, which the Indians walloped to a tune of 14-0 went down to Farmville and handed the Tigers a shutout. Comparative scores, however, are of little value in forecasting baseball results and the two contests should be of considerable interest since they will effect the locals' standing in the Virginia Conference.

INDIANS DEFEAT NAVAL ACADEMY

Rain Stops Game in Sixth With Redmen on Top End of 5-2 Score

The William and Mary ball team scored a 5-2 victory over the Navy at Annapolis Saturday in a game which was called in the sixth inning on account of rain. Jimmy Wallace, star Indian hurler, held the Midshipmen to two singles and distinguished himself at the bat, getting a long three-base hit and two singles. Captain Suey Eason was the only other player to hit safely. Bill Scott, playing right field for the Braves, added two more stolen bases to his total.

Track Teams of Tidewater High Schools Here Tomorrow For Meet

SIX TEAMS ARE EXPECTED TO ENTER EVENTS SCHEDULED FOR SNAPPY GET-TOGETHER HERE

Omicron Delta Kappa Cup, on Which Woodrow Wilson High of Portsmouth Now Has Leg Will be Awarded for Year's Keeping Tomorrow

Tomorrow afternoon on Cary Field, William and Mary will be host to the track teams representing the several high schools of Tidewater Virginia. This event will be the Third Annual Invitation Track Meet for Tidewater High Schools. The teams will compete for the cup which is offered by Omicron Delta Kappa. This cup was won by Maury High of Norfolk in 1926 and last year was won by Woodrow Wilson of Portsmouth. It must be won three times in succession for permanent possession.

Teams that are expected to enter are Maury, Wilson, Suffolk, Newport News, Hampton and John Marshall of Richmond.

Maury has been working out for some time but none for an unknown quantity. Little is also known of Hampton and Suffolk. Wilson, John Marshall and Newport News have been seen on Cary Field before this year. They have stacked up against the Freshmen and have made a creditable showing though losing.

Several of the leading High School athletes of Tidewater will be seen in action with the visiting teams.

The William and Mary baseball team will play John Marshall High School on Cary Field today, according to the schedule which was released earlier in the season. On Tuesday, John Todd's aggregation is scheduled to meet Newport News High School here, and on Wednesday, Benedictine College in Richmond.

So far this season, the frosh have played one game which they won from Petersburg High. Petersburg later won over Newport News High who are here Tuesday.

John Marshall and Benedictine are unknown quantities, as neither of these has seen much action this year.

GOLFERS MEET G. W. TOMORROW

INDIAN NETMEN CLASH WITH U. OF RICHMOND HERE TOMORROW

Tomorrow the strong Indian netmen will face the Spider racquetters for the first time of the season. The match will be played on the local courts and will begin at 2 o'clock.

The locals have had a good season so far, having defeated Randolph-Macon here by a count of 4-3 and Roanoke College by a count of 7-0. They have also tied the strong Medical College team on their courts.

Franklin is perhaps the strongest man on the Spider outfit since Scherer is out. Kinchloe has also been playing a bang up game and should be a strong opponent. Novick, who has been playing so well in first place will face Franklin Saturday.

The Indians then go west meeting Hampden-Sidney Wednesday, Lynchburg Thursday and Roanoke College on Friday.

AN ADDITION TO CAMEL SMOKE-LORE

WE SUBMIT the sad case of the freshman in zoology, who, when asked to describe a camel, said, "A camel is what you wish you were smoking while you try to think of the right answers." He flunked zoology—but he knew his cigarettes. For in time of trial or time of joy, there's no friend like Camels.

The subtle influences of choice tobaccos upon the smoke-spots of mankind have been carefully studied, identified, and blended smoothly into Camels—the finest of cigarettes. And we'll bet an alkafitch on this: Camels have just the taste and aroma to pack your smoke-spot with the "fill-fulment" every experienced smoker seeks. Got an alkafitch you want to lose?

PHOENIX CLUB OPENS CONTEST

Johnson and Garrett Win in Preliminary Competitions: Society to Celebrate in June

At the usual meeting of the Phoenix Literary Society Friday night the preliminary contest in essay, reading, and oration was held. This was perhaps the best meeting of the society to be held this year, according to officers of the club. From those contesting material has been discovered which will be used by the society in its future forensic activities.

In the essay contest, Harry Johnson, Robert Moses and Edward H. Hill each submitted essays which will be judged by members of the Faculty. Among the orators A. D. Johnson was picked as the best. In the reading contest there were seven contestants. A. E. Garrett, Jr. won this.

After the contests refreshments and smokes were served. These contests are preliminary to the annual literary society celebration during Commencement Week. Each of the societies will be represented in oration, reading, declamation, essay, and debate. Milton Salasky and Lawrence Morscher were selected to represent the society in declamation and debate at the last meeting.

Milton Stribling is the retiring president.

Ah, pity the college wits, their lot is mean. Suppression haunts the wretched college jokers: The faculty sourly censor their magazine, They hear their efforts panned by college croakers— Full many a joke is born to blush obscene, And ne'er be whispered save at college smokers.

"Lend me your Tux tonight Jack: I know you aren't going to wear it." "How do you know?" "Because I'm taking your girl out myself."

Blindfolded . . . in scientific test of leading Cigarettes, Mrs. Reginald C. Vanderbilt selects OLD GOLD

Mrs. REGINALD C. VANDERBILT

"I wonder if one can really tell the difference, when blindfolded," was my first thought when invited to make this test.

"After smoking the four brands, as they were handed to me one after another, I discovered there was one that was noticeably smoother than the others and richer in taste.

"This proved to be an OLD GOLD. I hope I shall be able to buy them in Paris . . . they are surprisingly free from any trace of throat irritation and have a delightful aroma which to me is very important."

Reginald C. Vanderbilt

How Test Was Made

Mrs. Vanderbilt was blindfolded, and, in the presence of two responsible witnesses, was given one each of the four leading cigarettes to smoke . . . To clear the taste, coffee was served before each cigarette . . . Mrs. Vanderbilt was unaware of the identity of these cigarettes during test . . . After smoking the four cigarettes, Mrs. Vanderbilt was asked to designate by number her choice . . . She immediately replied: "Number 3" . . . which was OLD GOLD.

Why can you pick them in the dark? . . . Because they're made from the heart-leaves of the tobacco plant

AMONG THE ALUMNI

By John B. Green

Announcement has been received by this column of the death of Page Van Rensselaer Stires of the Hotel Devon, New York City, at Walter Reed Hospital of Washington, D. C. ...

He is the brother of Bishop Ernest M. Stires, of Long Island and of Mrs. J. E. R. Carpenter, of Norfolk. Mr. Stires was born in Norfolk 55 years ago. The funeral services were conducted at St. Thomas' Church, Fifth Avenue and Fifty-third Street, New York City, by his brother, Bishop Stires, and his nephew, Rev. Ernest Van R. Stires, on April 11.

Capt. Stires was in the navy during the Spanish-American war and served in the Philippines. During the World War he went abroad as a member of the Quartermaster's Corps and received his commission in this service. After the Armistice he was transferred to the engineers and remained for six months around the city of Marseilles. On his return to this country his health failed and he retired from the service.

The college and alumni feel that they have suffered a great loss at the death of Capt. Stires and extend their sympathies to the relatives of the deceased.

We have received announcement of the marriage of Charles Hubbard, of Whitestone, to Miss Rebekah Beane, of Lancaster. Mr. Hubbard was a student at William and Mary in the years 1922-23 and '23-24. He is a member of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity.

and many swarthy attendants, dancers and entertainers as well as gaily costumed folk from many foreign lands. The scene of the festivity will be enlivened by such characters as balloon girls, flower girls, newsboys and fortune tellers.

The festival which will be held on front campus will begin at 4:30 P. M. and will last until 11:00 P. M. "Home Until Morning," after which the Gypsy Queen will enter with her attendants. The identity of the Queen is as yet unknown and the result of the secret election is the topic of much interest and discussion. It is expected that the Queen Regent will return according to custom and crown the Queen of the May. Mary Fairfax Griffith was Queen of last year's Greek May Day.

Two hundred men and women students dressed in the native costumes of Holland, England, Russia, Wales, Hungary, Italy, and Scotland will interpret the folk dances of those countries.

The dances to be given are "Gypsy," "Flamborough Sword Dance," "Arkansas Traveler," "Dutch Dance," "The World Were Paper," "Newsboy Clog," "Hungarian Folk Dance," "Russian Peasant Dance," "Topsy," "Italian Saltarella," "Welsh Dance," "May Pole Dance," "Magyar," and "Mardi Gras."

All of the committees are planning together and working cooperatively to make the play one which will be a well rounded one from every angle.

"Outward Bound" is a very well known play and caused a great deal of comment when it was produced in New York. Its production is undoubtedly one of the most ambitious attempts the Dramatic Department of the college has yet made. It is also the first play to be given here by a Senior Class.

these men with the exception of one received a nomination for a lesser office later in the meeting, indicating the popularity of the five men selected to run for the presidential nomination.

Also, Warren O'Brien, James Diebert, Randolph Vaiden, and James Kelly, were selected to run for the Student Body. Two out of these four men will be elected to the Committee in the May elections.

At the close of the meeting, President Cooke gave a short talk on the manner in which the two newest dormitories for men were being treated by the occupants. He stated some facts that are quite indicative of the type of some of the men living in these halls and set forth a plea that the men try to be a bit more careful of their living quarters while in college, regardless of the fact that the property might not belong to them and thus merit their interest.

The nominations were completed last Wednesday night by the men of the student body meeting in open forum. The two names for each office were selected from among the five nominated by the previous secret balloting, in accordance with the wishes of the students at a previous meeting.

The five choices at large for President were, besides the two which were finally nominated, Thomas Christie, Mac O'Farrell, and Mit Stribling. It is interesting to note that each of

"LINDY" MEDAL GIVEN LIBRARY

Clifford L. Walker, or Richmond
Makes Gift To Library

Wrought in bronze, and symbolically illustrating the flight of Colonel Charles Lindbergh from this country to France, the Lindbergh medal recently given to the college library by Clifford L. Walker, of Richmond, is one of the gifts that the library has lately received.

The Lindbergh medal is one of the thousand bronze medals cast at the expense of the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce. At the same time the bronze medals were cast, two gold ones were made, as well as a few in silver. The two gold medals were presented to Lindbergh and his mother.

The Medal, which is about four inches in diameter, has on the one side, in bas relief, a picture of La Tour Eiffel, the Statue of Liberty, an airplane, and a virgin. In her hand the virgin holds a shield of the United States, and in the other a fleur de lis. The whole is symbolic of the closer contact the flight of Lindbergh created between the two countries.

On the other side of the Medal, in bas relief, there is a picture of an airplane and a map of the route followed by Lindbergh. There is also an inscription.
