Senior Luncheon Starts Finals Week-End Program

The Finals program will get under way Friday, June 7, with the Senior Class Luncheon at 1 p. m. The June Ball will be revived on Friday night in Blow Gymnasium.

Alumni will begin registering at 9:00 a. m. Saturday in the Alumni Office, Brafferton Kitchen, and at 10:30 a. m. the annual business meeting of the Alumni Society will be called in Phi Beta Kappa Hall. President Wayne Carr Metcalf, '13, will preside. Three members of the board of directors of the Society will be elected to succeed Robert Morton Hughes, Jr., '99, Robert Edward Henley, '06, and Vernon Meredith Geddy, '17.

Honorary life membership scrolls will be presented to three members of the faculty who have retired because of age. They are Daniel James Blocker, professor of sociology and John Rochelle Lee Johnson, '94, professor of English, both of whom retired in June, 1945, and Robert Gilchrist Robb, '95x, professor of chemistry who will retire in June, 1946.

Following the business meeting, alumni, faculty, and students will make the annual pilgrimage to the grave of President Benjamin S. Ewell for the memorial service for faculty and alumni who have died during the preceding year. The services will be conducted by the Reverend James Hubbard Lloyd, '05 rector of historic Westover Episcopal Church and former missionary to Japan, and Dr. Caroline Baytop Sinclair, '34, associate professor of physical education at the College. At the service, the choir will sing, under the direction of Carl A. Fehr.

A special service to dedicate and present to the College a bronze plaque, gift of the Navy Chaplains' School which was on campus for over three years, will be held following the memorial service at Ewell's grave. This plaque has been erected at the north door of the Marshall-Wythe Building where the brief dedicatory service will be held. Mrs. W. L. Ainsworth, wife of Rear Admiral Ainsworth, commandant of the fifth naval district, will unveil the plaque which will be received for the College by President Pomfret.

The Alumni luncheon will be in the large cafeteria at one o'clock, the first to be given since the 100th anniversary luncheon in 1942. President Metcalf will preside and introduce Mr. Pomfret who will

Point System To Go Into Effect Next Year; Seventeen Points Set As Upperclass Limit

Unanimously passed by the Interclub Council, the point system was accepted by the Student Assembly on Tuesday night, May 14, and the General Cooperative Committee on Thursday afternoon, May 16. The system will go into effect next September and will apply to every sophomore, junior and senior student of the College.

Tom Mikula was named chairman of the Interclub Council, which will administer the system, at the Assembly meeting.

According to the point system, activities on campus will be divided into eight groups and each group will be assigned a certain number of points. A person will be limited to the number of offices he may hold in each group and the number of points he may have. The maximum number for each

Marjorie Oak Will Edit Echo

Margie Oak was named editor of the Colonial Echo by the Publications Committee when Marilyn Woodberry declined the editorship of the '46-'47 annual. The Committee made the choice at a meeting held on Thursday afternoon, May 16.

Margie was art editor of the Colonial Echo this year. She is a member of the women's varsity tennis team and also manager of the team. Recently elected senior woman representative to the Student Assembly, Margie also belongs to the cheering squad. She worked on the art staff of the Royalist this year.

C. I. Simmons Goes To Exeter

Carroll Jackson Simmons, sophomore, will represent William and Mary in the first exchange of students with Exeter College, Exeter, England.

Under the exchange plan, Jack will attend Exeter College for a period of one year with all college fees covered. He will return to William and Mary to complete his senior year.

Jack, either a government or combined law major, plans to take government and law courses at Exeter, but will not make any final decision until he sees how the course system is set up.

All students wishing to try out for either the College Choir, Girls' Chorus, or Men's Glee Club have been requested to contact Mr. Fehr before the end of the current semester. He can be reached in the Music Building during the week of exams.

A native of White Stone, Virginia, Jack first came to William and Mary in 1941. Entering the service in February, 1943, he served 19 months overseas as a member of the eighth Air Force, returning to William and Mary last February.

Jack, who traveled throughout England while stationed there, anticipates "acquiring new techniques of study and exchange of opinions with people of a different culture." During the month vacation allotted at Christmas and at Easter, he plans to travel on the continent, especially to Paris.

Reading about the exchange plan in a copy of the William and Mary Alumni Gazette while overseas, Jack decided to apply if the opportunity ever came his way.

In High School, Jack was president of Student Government, editor of the year book, and on the debating team. He is a member of Sigma Pi social fraternity at William and Mary.

Although indefinite about his plans this summer, Jack hopes to take economic and French courses at summer school, in preparation for his trip abroad.

also voted to reopen the recreation room in Old Dominion for dating. There will be no chaperones, but there must be two or more couples in the recreation room for dating purposes.

A copy of the complete point system will be printed in the first issue of next year's FLAT HAT.

In case the Vaughn Monroe deal does not materialize George Auld, Billy Butterfield, Herb Miller, Eddie Lane, and Chuck Gordon are being considered by Rux Birnie, chairman of the dance committee.

Council Hears Housing Report

Mr. John E. Hocutt, dean of men, reported on an investigation of fraternity housing systems at North Carolina colleges at a meeting of the Interfraternity Association Tuesday, May 14.

At Davidson College the lodge system is used; the University of North Carolina has fraternity houses; and Duke University uses the dormitory section system. To all members of the committee, Mr. Hocutt said, the most flexible of these was the system at Duke. "Here fraternities are least likely to sustain financial losses because changes in the number of members can be met by moving to a larger or smaller dormitory section."

Mr. Hocutt suggested that the Scott's band featuring Dorothy Collins as vocalist, will give the Saturday afternoon concert scheduled as part of graduation activities, and he will complete his contract between 9:00 and 12:00 p. m. that evening.

Playing on the Hit Parade, in the movies, in top-flight New York theaters, and making records, Raymond Scott has been billed as America's number one composer with a band. He has recently completed a nation-wide tour with his new dance band which actually contains two small groups within the regular size dance band. The famed "Quintet" and a new "Secret Seven" are the featured parts.

As a composer, Raymond Scott is known for "Mr. Basie Goes to Washington," "Toy Trumpet," "Twilight in Turkey," and "Enchanted Forest."

Plans for the dances are going ahead with the construction of props for the decorations and plans for refreshments which will be served outdoors.

Rux has issued a call for help on decorations. Work is being done every afternoon and evening.

Legion, VFW Honor Dead

Peninsula Post 39 of the American Legion, Black-nall-Chess Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and William and Mary Post 294 of the American Legion will conduct Memorial Day ceremonies on Thursday, May 30, at 5:00 p. m. on the front campus. The exercises will be held in honor of those men who died in the service during the first and second World Wars.

The program will include an address by the Honorable J. Vaughn Gary, representative in Congress from the third district. The roll of honored dead of World War I from Williamsburg and James City County will be read by C. C. Jackson, commander of the Peninsula Post, from the College by Dr. J. D. Carter. The roll of World War II will be read by Henry Davis of the Veterans of Foreign Wars for Williamsburg and James City County, and by Charles McCurdy, secretary of the Society of the Alumni, for the College.

The prayer will be offered by the Rev. William P. Anderson of the Presbyterian Church, and an excerpt from the Funeral Oration of Pericles will be read. The anthems of France, Great Britain, Russia, and the United States will be sung, and the call to attention and taps will be sounded by William Council.

fraternities draw up a long term and short term housing plan to present to the Board of Visitors in June. Tom Athey was selected to represent the Fraternity Association at the next meeting of the Board of Visitors.

WSG Plans Orientation

Tentative plans have been set for the Women Students' Government part of freshman orientation as announced by Shirley Sprague vice-president of the WSCGA and chairman of Orientation. Complete plans for the five-day period have not been released by J. Wilfred Lambert, dean of students, who is in charge of orientation.

On Thursday, September 19, the first meeting of women students will be held at which time a welcome will be extended by Pat Jones, president of Women Students' Government. Also at this time the junior sponsors will be introduced and a short meeting of the sponsor groups will follow.

The following day sponsor groups will meet again for the purpose of acquainting new students with social rules and customs of the College, and how the student government operates.

Saturday, September 21, the annual YWCA Big-Little Sister party will be held. A movie at the theater will be shown with a party in Phi Beta Kappa following.

As is the custom, sororities will hold open house for freshmen women and transfers on Sunday from 2:00 to 4:00 p. m.

The orientation program will be closed with a regular Women Students' Government meeting on Monday, September 23.

On Tuesday, September 24, the social rules examination will be given to both old and new women students.

Co-ed Net Squad Tops Westhampton Team 3-0

The William and Mary co-ed tennis team traveled to Westhampton, last Wednesday, and won its third victory of the season. This was the first time that the Squaws have come up against Westhampton in tennis for several years.

The Squaws lost only one set during the tournament when Pat Macken and Hunt Cromwell dropped their first in the doubles match against Betty Gustafson and Helen Conant. Macken and Cromwell won the following two sets, however, to win the match.

In the singles matches, Elaine Passow easily defeated Peggy Stone, 6-1, 6-1, and Betty Coumbe in the number two position, downed Diana Brown 6-1, 6-1.

Hunt Cromwell and Pat Macken played and won the only doubles match of the afternoon. They stopped their opponents 2-6, 6-4, 6-2.

"Mrs. Dee" Plans Food, Cleans Cups

"I do everything from planning menus to washing cups," Ruby W. Dickinson laughed. She is a cafeteria dietitian, and there's a shortage of help among the steaming kettles behind the swinging doors. Mrs. Dickinson is from Keysville, Va. A graduate of Farmville State Teachers' College, before coming to William and Mary 14 years ago she taught the seventh grade for eight years. Later she decided to come to Williamsburg where she took a job in the College cafeteria and learned the work from the ground up. "The first day, the dietitian and I shelled peas almost all day," said Mrs. Dickinson with a smile.

"Mrs. Dee" and Betsy Douglas share the job of dietitian, alternating each week. One makes out the menus, does the ordering, and supervises the small, "West," cafeteria. They buy the food through the State purchasing agent. "It used to be we made out the menus and the ordering was done from them. Now they make out a list according to what they can buy, and we plan our menus from that." A dish is never served over one day; and there is little waste.

During the war there have been few banquets. First the A.S.T.U. came, and then the Navy Chaplains arrived. "We had the Army on one side and the Navy on the other." This summer the Brotherhood of St. Andrews will be here. Between summer and winter school the triannual national Phi Beta Kappa convention will be here.

Alumnae Entertain Mortar Boarders

New and old presidents and vice-presidents of William and Mary Mortar Board and Westhampton representatives from the same organization recently attended a banquet in Richmond sponsored by the Mortar Board Alumnae Club of the city.

The seven newly-elected members of the organization were initiated Tuesday, May 14, in Great Hall with Pam Pauly, retiring president, presiding.

Norma Fehse, new Mortar Board president, has been named official delegate of the William and Mary chapter of Mortar Board to the National Convention on July 26 in Colorado.

Braves Stop NC State; Country Club Bows Undeclared Season Looms For Tri-Color Tennis Stars

William and Mary's tennis squad, marching toward an undefeated season, added two more triumphs to their victory string last week end as they blanked N. C. State, 9-0, in Williamsburg and disposed of the Country Club of Virginia, 8-1, in Richmond. The matches were played on Saturday and Sunday, respectively.

The Indians turned back an altogether impotent N. C. State team with no trouble whatsoever, despite the fact that neither Gardner Larned nor Tut Bartzzen took part in the singles competition. The visitors could gain only one set and were virtually helpless before the Tribe stars.

Bren Macken, playing number one, defeated Bill Weathers, 6-1, 4-6, 6-2 to start the parade and Bob Galloway rapidly trimmed Elliot Winston by 6-0, 6-2. The remaining quartet, Bob Doll, Jim Macken, Bert Rance, and George Miller, likewise gave good performances with nobody losing more than five games.

Larned and Bartzzen walloped Winston and Warren Lawson, 6-0, 6-0, in the number one doubles. Coach Umbeck's aces racked up six love games and lost but 13 points in all. The Doll-Galloway and Rance-Miller combines also won in straight sets.

Managing to take the number three doubles encounter, the Country Club netters bowed by 8-1, giving the Braves slightly more competition than the Carolinians.

Larned won five love games as he trampled Bobby Leitch 6-1, 6-1, to lead the Redmen to their 26th consecutive victory over a two-year period. Bartzzen, playing his usual fine game, shellacked Cliff Williams in love sets. Galloway, Doll, and Rance took care of their opponents in quick fashion but Miller had a little more difficulty. After an hour's struggle he won a marathon first set, 14-12, and then went on to take the next, 6-1.

Tribe Net Aces Will Participate In National Intercollegiate Play

SPORTS SPIEL

By BUD JONES

Coach Frosty Holt's baseball squad has an excellent chance of capturing the Bix Six title. The Tribe's closest competitor is Virginia, with three wins and two losses in state competition. The Indians, on the other hand, have an even .500 percentage with four victories against two defeats. The probable deciding game will be played off in the near future, when the Cavaliers tangle with Washington and Lee University.

— W-M —

The Macken brothers leave Williamsburg for Canada, Friday, where they will try out for positions on the Canadian Davis Cup squad. Since they will arrive rather late for the try-outs, Bren and Jim will be judged mostly on their net record here. From the records it will be noted that as a doubles team they are a tough combination to beat. Canada plays Mexico on June 13, 14, 15, at Montreal. The winner of this play the winner of the United States-Philippine match.

Tennis fans will have their last chance to see this year's net squad in action tomorrow. Coach Umbeck's team takes on the University of Richmond at Richmond today, and engages the University of Virginia here tomorrow. If they win both matches, the team will have a 17 won and none lost percentage for this season. Thus far Coach Umbeck's charges have not lost more than two matches in a meeting. Duke and the University of North Carolina each took two matches from the Indians. The Tri-Color has won the rest of their tilts by 8-1 and 9-0 scores.

— W-M —

Harry Wenning captured William and Mary's sole first place in the Southern Conference track meet last Friday and Saturday. Ray Lizana also received five points by capturing a second in the shot put event and a third in the discus throw. John Wilson, the Tribe's miler, came in fourth in a fast 4:28 mile.

Larned, Bartzzen To Lead Unbeaten Indian Squad

Next month William and Mary will send the top men from its fine tennis team to Evanston, Ill., where they will compete in the National Intercollegiate Championships which begin on June 24 at Northwestern University.

Gardner Larned and Tut Bartzzen are the only two men who have been definitely named to play. Rules of the tournament specify that each school may enter a squad of not more than four singles players and two doubles teams. This fact will cause some difficulty in choosing the rest of the netters who will enter the tourney.

Tri-Color Downs Appomattox, 7-2

With Stan Magdziak scattering eight hits over the same number of frames, the William and Mary Redmen knocked the Appomattox semi-pros around Cary Field last Monday to the tune of 7-2.

The game saw Dixie Moore, Indian star in the days of Art Metheny, playing left field for the visitors. The losing pitcher, Vas-sar, was a VPI hurler in 1941 who had hurled a 5-0 two-hitter against the Braves that season. He gave up six runs and ten hits to the winners.

The locals got off on the right foot in the first inning. They scored one run on a single by Fox, a stolen base, a wild pitch by Vas-sar, and Les Hooker's line-drive safety.

They ran up three more runs in the second with four hits and a stolen base, and coasted the rest of the way for their fourth straight win.

In the fifth frame the visitors opened with a triple by Torrence, who came in to score on an infield out. Their only other run came in the seventh when Cyrus, relief hurler, got a hit, went to second on a single by Unrue, and scored on Dixie Moore's slam into right field.

Meanwhile the Big Green had scored two in the sixth on a pair of safeties and a walk, and they added one more in the seventh on two safe blows and a two-base error.

Girls Receive WAA Awards

The Woman's Athletic Association held its annual picnic in Matoaka Park on Saturday. Girls who rated intramural awards and varsity letters were invited and received the prizes at that time. After an afternoon of games and eating, next year's officers were presented and awards were given out.

In intramurals, Chandler and Chi O win the cups for this season.

Two gold keys were given to Peggy Burdick and Harriet Hochstrasser who have accumulated 500 points in intramurals, varsity sports and managerships.

Hockey Awards

Stars were presented to girls who were on the hockey team for their second year. These included Alice Wood, Mary Harrington, Peggy Burdick, Betty Littlefield, Glo Rankin, Jane Anne Hogg, Marcia Levering, Tommy Smith, Harriet Hochstrasser, Jane Beatty, Betty Lawson, and Carolyn Henry.

Basketball awards were received by Barbara Grant, Carol Beinbrink, Bonnie Wolfram, Nonnie Fehse, Ann Vineyard, Jane Beatty, Betty Borenstein, and Jackie Armor, manager.

Swimming Stars

For the first time in several years swimming monograms were presented. These were won by Patricia Arnold, Jean Bevens, Jane Oblender, Jackie Freer, Marge Williams, Jo Hubbell, Mar-

Ignatius Miscop, Indian Letter Man, Breaks All Records For Bull Throwing

Ignatius Miscop, the Tribe's great all around star, has an astounding sports record. The great record had its beginning when Ignatius won the bull throwing contest in Bokoklay, Peru at the age of ten. The huge crowd at Bokoklay witnessed the most stirring exhibition of bull throwing in Peruvian history the day Ignatius broke all existing world records. Using an unorthodox throw, by the tail instead of the head, Ignatius heaved the quarter ton bull 77 feet and 4 inches.

Turning from bull throwing to the more publicized sports, Miscop broke record after record. At Subsidy Prep in Delaware, Ignatius was national scoring champ in football, basketball, track, baseball, swimming, ping pong, chess, and quoits.

Ignatius was offered a scholarship by every college in the United States and Canada, and four universities in Bengal to become the most widely sought prep school athlete in American history. In addition to the scholarships, he received offers from every professional club in the country. One of his most attractive offers was from Chugeluk Brewing Company but his intense dislike of beer prevented any possibility of his acceptance. After much debate between his kid brother and his six year old sister, who were his guardians, it was decided to send Ignatius to Millions of Marys. According to Ignatius they were influenced by the delicious food served in the cafeteria at such low cost.

Ignatius' commanding figure has become a familiar sight about the campus. His 7' 6" frame padded with an even 300 pounds makes him easily visible in any crowd. For a time he was sensitive about his head, which is the exact reproduction of a football, but after he was booted through the up-rights for three field goals in the Navy game he thinks no more about it. There is still a little confusion during late practices and night games but Ignatius expects a proposed change in the design of footballs to lessen this confusion.

His extremely long arms permit him to play two positions on the baseball squad. He has a perfect fielding average at second and short this season, and his powerful bat has been responsible for the loss of five dozen baseballs which were last seen heading for Mars.

His basketball play has been the subject of rave notices by sports writers all over the nation. Probably his most notable feat was in the game against Virginia when he played the last half by himself. It was in this game, it will be remembered, that Ignatius burned up three nets with his swishing long shots and was almost kicked out of school for smoking in the gym.

The two remaining singles positions will be filled from the other members of the Indians' starting lineup, Bren Macken, Bob Galloway, Bob Doll, and Jim Macken. Tut and Gardie will form one doubles combine and the second will be composed of the Mackens or Doll and Galloway.

Tut, Bren, Doll, and Bert Rance played in last year's tourney for the Tribe and turned in some good performances. Bartzzen gained the semi-finals in singles before bowing to Pancho Segura of Miami, and he and Macken went to the semi-finals in doubles where they were stopped by Segura and Tom Burke. Bartzzen is the only one of last year's top four who will return to play.

Starting this year in the 62nd annual tournament, a Bowl will be awarded for the team championship, in addition to the gold and silver N.C.A.A. medals and other prizes which go to the individual winners and runners-up. Starting with the round of 16 in singles and doubles, each match won will count one point. The college or university winning the most points will receive the Bowl.

The highest award of the tourney is the Garland Bowl which was put into competition in 1942. (Continued on Page 6)

Redmen Scalp Duke By 9-0

Duke went down before the William and Mary tennis squad again last Friday, this time by a score of 9-0.

Larned made quick work of the best the Blue Devils had to offer by 6-1, 6-0. Bartzzen showed up in true form, defeating Taylor in love sets. Bren Macken, playing number three for the Tribe, took two sets easily from Jakob, 6-1, 6-1. Bob Doll avenged a previous defeat by Taylor, taking him 6-1, 4-6, 10-8. Doll and Galloway won their doubles match against Taylor and Freelin by 6-4, 6-3. These last two matches were lost in the previous engagement with Duke.

Skirts In Sports

By BETTY COUMBE

Instead of criticizing someone or something as has been the practice all too often we are dedicating this last column to the Women's Physical Education Department and the wonderful job they have done during '45-'46.

Small Reward

Most teachers undergo criticism and are ridiculed by some of their students, and physical education instructors are no exception. However, while very few teachers can be found in the classrooms at 10:00 at night the women sport mentors are very often obligated to referee games or fill out schedules sometimes later than 10:00 in Jefferson gym. All this is taken for granted or else completely overlooked by the majority of co-eds.

Besides conducting regular gym classes the athletic teachers spend many hours coaching varsity sports. They also take extended trips with the teams and look out for the welfare of their charges—Not by any means an easy task.

Outside Talent

Recognizing they are not infallible, the sports department brought in specialized instructors in order to give the students the advantage of expert teaching.

Miss Appleby, hockey coach; Miss Judd, lacrosse coach; Mr. De-Labar, Water Safety coach; and Mrs. Wightman, tennis coach all lent their talents so that the William and Mary co-eds could have a well rounded athletic background.

Hats Off

We owe a successful intramural and intercollegiate season of fun and activity to the Women's Physical Education Department.

Hats off to Dr. Sinclair, Miss Barksdale, Miss Reeder, Miss Black, and Miss Milliken for a job well done under not the most advantageous conditions possible. Bon Voyage to Miss Black who will not return here next fall.

Women Willed Swimming Gift

A gracious "friend" of the College of Millions of Marys has included the women's physical education department in her will, Dr. Formit announced today.

Realizing the scarce space which the co-eds have for swimming purposes, the "friend" has left the girls six hundred thousand dollars for the purchase of as many thimbles as possible. These, in an emergency, are to be filled with water and used for swimming practices. The source of the water to be used in filling has not yet been disclosed.

Conditions

Several conditions have been stipulated. These extra swimming pools will be used by advanced swimmers and members of the life-saving class only. Also, each thimble must be supplied with various life-saving articles, of which a surfboard and life buoy are specifically mentioned.

The "friend," a dowager whose late husband was a friend of a friend of another friend, prefers to remain anonymous. However, for those who are curious, she lives in Zwieback, California, is 63 years old, has blond hair (black at the roots). Her initials are F. O. O.

Sports In Shorts

By BUPPY BURPSTONE

Good news comes to us by way of Dr. of Foolosophy Kegofwine D. Eggclair concerning the new sports activity to be open to girls next year. Dr. Eggclair has succeeded in securing the services of the internationally known U. Toss-me and her cousin I. Toss-you to begin a course in ju-jitsu for the coeds.

The two instructors have spent many years in Japan where they learned the noble art of protection. In Tokyo they attended the famous Pax University. Here they found an outlet for practicing the sport at the Fallen-Through Gardens steps on nightly visits. Miss Toss-me is very enthusiastic about the cooperation she received. "The Japanese lettermen were always more than willing to help us learn how to break holds. Never did they let up or make things too easy for us," she said.

Chose W-M

The ju-jitsu teachers chose Millions of Marys over all other American schools for their lessons. After visiting such colleges as Smith, Swarthmore and Vassar, they picked Millions of Marys "because the Sunken Garden brings back such memories."

The course is designed to help girls adapt themselves to various situations for which ju-jitsu might come in handy. Miss Toss-you stated, "Girls are so helpless, but they need not be. They can be the leaders, instead of merely followers."

Needless to say, we are very fortunate to have procured the services of the two experts. It is a rare privilege. Thanks to Dr. Eggclair for getting the coeds this beneficial course.

To gain possession of this trophy it is necessary for a college to gain 20 points according to the following system: Singles winner receives 3 points; runner-up, 2 points; player defeated in semi-finals, 1 point. The same holds true for doubles.

By virtue of the 1945 performances of Bartz and Macken, William and Mary now has 2 points toward possession of the bowl. Scores of the other colleges follow: Miami, 12; Stanford, 11; Texas, 7; Notre Dame, 4; California, 4; Army, 4; Southern California, 3; Georgia Tech, 2; Pepperdine, 2; Tulane, 2; California Tech, 1; Utah, 1; Gonzaga, 1.

Blood, Sweat, Torn Hair Finally Result In First Solo

By FLETCHER COX

Last week, courtesy of the blood, sweat, and torn hair of the Messrs. Diggs and Perney, my alternate instructors, and the backing of the FLAT HAT, I soloed, with no broken bones or ruined planes to mark my feat.

It all happened with no build-up whatsoever. I journeyed out to the field last Wednesday, and Mr. Diggs said that we would try some more take-offs and landings. The ceiling was down to 400 feet, so that caused some revision in my judgment of landings. However, the first two take-offs and landings went off very well. On my third landing, I overshot the field twice and had to go around again both times. On the third approach, since all was going well, I landed the plane and taxi-ed back to the line in front of the hanger. When I was getting ready to park the plane, Mr. Diggs jumped out and told me to take it around one time by myself.

I was mighty nervous when I taxied down to the end of the strip; for, if anything should go wrong on a solo, there would be no one there to straighten me out. Just as soon as I was headed down the runway, though, and had opened the throttle, all of my nervousness left and I was right at home. The Cub was much more maneuverable, and left the ground after a very short run. As soon as I had cleared the trees at the end of the runway, I felt fine. There I was, all by myself, with no one in the plane to tell me to turn this way or that, or to glance reprovingly at me should a turn be just a little sloppy. I pulled up to 400 feet, flew the pattern, and cut the engine for my landing. It was judged pretty well (Ahem!!) in so far as distance was concerned; but, when actually landing the plane, I stalled it two feet off of the ground and consequently bounced a little.

It was quite an experience. I'll be working for a private license during the summer; and, when I get it, I'll be glad to oblige anyone foolish to risk his neck with me a ride.

Co-eds Plague Miss Botetourt With Campus Love Problems

DEAR MISS BOTETOURT: I am a student here on the campus, and find myself madly in love with six different women at the same time. I'm sure it's the real thing with all six, too. They all seem to be devoted to me, too. It might seem to you that I have no problem, but I have, Miss Botetourt, I have. My problem is just this: these girls are beginning to find out about each other, and I am nearing a nervous breakdown trying to keep them from tearing each-other's hair out by the roots. Please write and advise what I should do.

CASANOVA JACQUES.

DEAR CASANOVA JACQUES: You, indeed, have a problem. My advice to you, dearie, is to chuck the whole works and come up here to the FAT HEAD office and start dating me. What you need is a nice, mature woman—not these flighty coeds who don't know how to cook or sew. I suggest you drop up here to the office and talk things over with me.

DEAR MISS BOTETOURT: Several years ago I wrote to you asking for a solution to my problem. Probably if I write my problem for you again, you may remember the circumstances. At that time, I was in love with A, who was in love with B, who in turn doted on C. C was dating me steady. You advised me to forget

A, and take a good thing in C, who obviously loved me. B would then go with A, tying things up nicely for all of us. Well, here is what happened. I fell in love purposely with C, who, when he found that I loved him, immediately fell in love with D, who was married to E at the time. E was pretty mad about this, so he started dating me. But I didn't like him too much, so shoved him off on B, which left A right where I had wanted him in the first place. So, A finally recognized how foolish he had been, and fell in love with me. I then learned that I didn't love A, so fell in love with F. F had a hard time deciding between B, D, and me; but B and D got married to Y and Z, throwing over their main loves. So, I married F by default. We are now very happy in our apartment under the Wren Building steps. Thank you.

HAPPY.

DEAR HAPPY: I am very happy to learn that your life turned out to be such a success. It always brings a ray of happiness into the FAT HEAD office when I learn of the success of one of my correspondents. I sincerely hope that my other followers will follow in your footsteps.

Fireproof Dorm Features Bar, Spanish Patio, Bar

"Plans are being completed for the erection of a new fireproof co-ed dormitory, which will be built as soon as necessary equipment and labor can be obtained," stated Charles A. Fluke, purser of the college, yesterday.

Completely modern in every respect, the building will be constructed of yellow brick along Spanish lines. It will enclose a large patio especially landscaped, for the convenience of occupants not caring to use the Sunken Garden.

The first floor will be comprised of a small dance floor, a dim-out room, several living rooms, and a completely outfitted bar and cocktail lounge furnished in knotty pine and red leather.

During quiet hours housemothers will act as bartenders, with certain professors serving behind the bar in the evenings. Dr. Henwood Spark and Dr. Archibald Scotland were among the first to offer their services, and will alternate their jobs with others every other week. Miss Bartha Marksdale, assisted by her two dogs, Scotch and Soda, will serve as general hostess and bouncers, respectively.

Because of the somewhat peculiar nature of the dormitory, the following conservative social rules will be strictly enforced:

All students upon leaving the bar will be required to walk a straight line.

Doors to each individual room must be locked and padlocked by 12 p. m. each evening.

Girls must be clad in at least a two piece bathing suit at all times. All men must shave a least once a week.

Only milkshakes may be served at the bar on Sunday evenings for the benefit of members of the W.C.T.U.

New Dormitories Solve Shortage

"Accommodations for the ten freshman women entering 'Millions of Marys' in September are being made," Charles A. Fluke, purser, announced last night at a faculty meeting held on the College Library steps. "New dormitories are being shipped to the College every day from all parts of the country," Mr. Fluke stated.

Suzie Slump, sophomore, emerges from one of the dormitories recently shipped to the College to relieve the housing shortage.

These dormitories are portable and come in light shades of chartreuse and melba. They will be placed in convenient locations on the campus. Places already chosen are the basement of the Wren building, the right side of Lord Botetourt's statue, and the garden of the president's home.

"It is hoped that these smaller dormitories will relieve, somewhat, the critical housing shortage faced by 'Millions of Marys' this fall," concluded Mr. Fluke.

Library Windows To Be Shampooed

Robert Bland, director of Millions of Marys library has announced that the Whistle-While-You-Work Window Washing Agency has been contracted to wash the library windows. This is the first time the windows have been washed since 1892.

The agency will send 50 workers from the home office in Eager, Virginia, to complete the work before the final exams take place. Because of the housing shortage tents will be set up in the Sunken Garden to accommodate the workers. By special request the contingent will not eat in the cafeteria because the work must be completed within a certain length of time.

Chicken a la King Professor Rejoins Staff After Journey

Dr. Athens C. Hunter, unattached professor of mathematics a la carte and chicken a la king, has rejoined the Millions of Marys staff of instructors after a one-day absence in Richmond.

Dr. Hunter, who had been away to study the technique of "Sugar Chile" Robinson, has returned to continue both as an instructor and director of the College's burlesque and side-shows. He had been at the College two years previous to his visit to Richmond.

Coming originally from Rappahannock on the Door, Va., Professor Hunter has made his home in Williamsburg with his wife and two sons.

Having graduated from Rappahannock High early in youth, he matriculated at the University of San Quentin, from where he received his B.C. degree. He then went on to Alcatraz for a special course in Reformatory Rhythm, and remained there long enough to obtain his M. F.

At one time Dr. Hunter was an associate of T. T. Finagle, ace financier of the world famous Barley and Rye Side Show. He came to the College two years ago, and immediately became entangled in dramatic representations of the College. He directed "100 Years of Horse-Opera," and the Orchids recital this year, as well as producing "Hubba Hubba Herbert, the totem-Pole Boy." Every Saturday afternoon he can be found at his home at Easttern State serving crumpets a la frim fram sauce to the inmates. At night he likes to play poker and bridge, with marked cards, in the back room of the Indian Grill.

Yelvington Announces New Midnight Snacks

Midnight snacks will be served in Trickle Hall every night except Monday, Yelvington Ogelthorpe Cant, manager, announced at the annual conossieur's meeting, held last night in the Cafeteria kitchen. It was decided that breakfast lines will continue from 8:00 to 10:30 a. m. and until 12:00 noon on Sunday.

Cafeteria profits for the past year amounted to over $4,000,000, Mr. Cant stated.

"The cafeteria's major aim, quality, as well as quantity, cuisine has been fully realized this past year. The student's only complaint is that the cafeteria menu spoils ma's homecooking for them," Mr. Cant concluded.
