Wood Sets Hop Quota: Three Hundred Tickets

Lunceford Plays W-M December 1; Zanzibar, The Blueroom In Spring

Tickets are being sold by more than 18 representatives of the Student Dance committee for the formal dance December 1, which will feature Jimmy Lunceford's orchestra. Both sections of Blow Gym will be used for William and Mary's first big post-war dance which will be from 8:30 to 12:00 p. m.

Marilyn Wood chairman of the Student Dance Committee, has set a tentative quota of 300 tickets for the dance. This figure should be attainable, she said, if past performance is a true indication. More than 500 tickets were sold last year when Dean Hudson's orchestra played at the spring formal.

Jimmy Lunceford will stay on the road until after the first of the year, despite his switch from the Oxley to the William Morris booking office, because of prior booking commitments. Newest of Lunceford's recordings is a fast tempo version of "The Honeydripper," which can be heard in the Wigwam jukebox.

Potential dates for Lunceford, made for the spring season, are the Zanzibar, where Duke Ellington is now located, and the Blue Room. Both of these nighteries have, according to "Downbeat," musical newspaper, "fine air time." Lunceford's eighteen piece combo is one of the outstanding negro bands of the country, and it is especially known for its fast rhythms and unique arrangements, "Downbeat" stated.

O. D. Becomes New Canteen

A suitable location for the Student Recreation Center was found by the Committee of the Administration, and on Sunday, November 18, the recreation room of Old Dominion was opened to all students.

Furnished with a juke box, playing cards, and a piano, the recreation room also has a canteen which serves cokes and sandwiches, operated as a subsidiary of the Wigwam.

When alterations can be made in the small dining hall it will be used as a student recreation center in conjunction with the Wigwam. When these alterations are completed the Wigwam will be kept open until 11:00 p. m.

At The Last Minute

Proofs must be returned to the Colonial Echo office within one week after they are received, Deeks Phipps, editor, has announced.

The Interclub Council has announced that a treasurer's report will be required of every club at the end of the year.

The News Release Bureau announces that there are a number of Indian Handbooks in Wren 101, and any one who calls between 8:30-12:00 a. m. and 1:00-4:00 p. m. may have a copy.

College To Run Buses To Game

As many student buses as necessary will be run to the Richmond game tomorrow, leaving William and Mary at 10:00 a. m., according to Bubby Vaughan, head cheerleader. All students, both men and women, who want to go to the game in the buses must communicate with Miss Marguerite Wynne-Roberts, assistant dean of women, so that an estimate of the necessary transportation facilities can be made. The cost of the round trip will be $2.00 per student.

Veterans Name H. Hooker Harbour Post Commander At First Meeting

Thirty-four Williamsburg men, largely college students, met at the Williamsburg Inn on Friday, November 18, to form a local post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. They elected W. Hooker Harbor post commander.

There will be a draw prize for the person or couple holding the "Lucky headline". ## Holloway Crowns Bonnie Wolfgram 1945 Queen During Informal Homecoming Event At Cary Field

Former Students Return To Campus

By LAURIE PRITCHARD

Climaxing weeks of effort on the part of the student body to effect an appropriate homecoming celebration, the official homecoming game took on a festive air Saturday with the crowning of the football queen and the first appearance of the recently formed William and Mary band. The alumni who returned to Williamsburg for the informal homecoming gave a slight indication of the throngs who in past years packed the town for the annual homecoming celebration.

Captain Crowns Queen

The coronation of Bonnie Wolfgram, queen of the 1945 football team, highlighted the Saturday contest at Cary Field between the William and Mary Indians and the Kings Point Mariners. Escorted to the fifty yard line by Head Coach R. N. McCray and members of her court, Donnie Lepper, Carol MacNeill, Clara Whitney Moses, and Ann Vineyard, Bonnie received a gilded crown at half-time ceremonies from co-captain of the team Doc Holloway. Doc also gave her a football signed by members of the team, a bouquet of red roses, and a kiss. Local Merchants contributed gifts to the queen. After Bonnie and her court were driven around the field being presented to more than 4,000 spectators, they returned to special reserved seats on the 50-yard line where Bonnie reigned supreme over the remainder of the contest. The guest band played "A Pretty Girl" throughout the ceremonies.

Band Makes First Performance

The William and Mary band, whose 30 members have practiced only one week, played throughout the game under the direction of Alan C. Stewart of the music department.

Student spirit had been raised to previously unattained heights prior to the game by a student rally on Thursday night and a pep rally on Friday night. At the Thursday night exhibition at Cary Field, Tommy Smith acted as master of ceremonies. Top attendance at the rally was achieved by "teaser" announcements reading "Time — 7, Place — Cary Field, Event—?".

Students Sing At Rally

Bob DeForest led the assembled students who gathered around the bon-fire in impromptu group singing. "For Me and My Gal" was dedicated to Mary DeVol and Red Wood, "I've Been Workin' on the Railroad" to Denver Mills. Casey Jones waltzed with Jean Canoles as everyone sang "The Band Played On". Freshman boys attired in satin, striped, or flannel pajamas paraded and did a war

Women's Dorms Open Till 12 Saturday Night

Miss Marguerite Wynne-Roberts, Assistant Dean of Women, has announced that all women's dormitories will be opened for dating until 12:00 midnight on Saturdays.

All women students, including freshmen and sophomores, may use their dormitory living rooms for dating. Freshmen and sophomores who do not wish to attend the dance may spend the time between 11:00 p. m. and midnight in the living rooms with their dates.

Miss Wynne-Roberts stated that these new social hours for Saturday night were made in hopes that students not interested in attending the dance would make use of the dormitory living rooms for recreation.

Editor Joyce Remsberg Displays Musical Talent

Mortar Board Member Confesses Liking For Peanut Butter Sandwiches

"Eating is my favorite pastime," stated Joyce Lee Remsberg, connoisseur of peanut butter and salt sandwiches. Students all know the blonde, blue eyed girl as the editor-in-chief of The FLAT HAT and a member of Mortar Board.

Born in Middletown, Md., Joyce attended Middletown High School, was a member of the Glee Club, captain of the basketball team, Editor of the years book, and Associate Editor of the school paper there. She won a Y.W.C.A. basketball award, and went to the Atlantic City Regional Education Convention with the All-State Chorus.

Just before she was about to enter William and Mary, in 1941, Joyce contracted infantile paralysis, which kept her out of school for a year. This misfortune did not keep her from becoming an active participant in school functions. She became a member of the Women's Glee Club, Choir, Y.W.C.A., and was basketball manager for two years. In her junior year she was elected secretary-treasurer of her class, president of the choir, was appointed Make-up Editor of The FLAT HAT. Joyce is now a member of the Monogram Club, H2E Club, Red Cross, and Lambda Phi Sigma, honorary music fraternity. She is on the Student Assembly, General Cooperative Committee, Publications Committee, and Student Activities Committee. Joyce was recently chosen to appear in Who's Who in American Universities and College.

One of her most enjoyable times was spent in Chicago last year, when she was a Maryland delegate to the 4-H Club National Convention. Mr. Kraft, of the

Pan-Hel Sets New Initiation Average

Standard required initiation average for sororities has been set at .75, it was decided at a meeting of the Pan-Hellenic Council, on Monday evening, November 12, at the Wren Building. Previously, the individual sororities had set their own requirements.

Bidding of new girls by each sorority will be made three times a year, the third day after marks are announced, during years of early rushing only. This innovation has been accepted to eliminate confusion when the bids are given out, but does not concern itself with the students' grades at this time.

Revision of the Pan-Hellenic Constitution has been made to include early rushing regulations. A copy of the Constitution in booklet form will be given to each sorority.

Thorne Shows Works In Richmond Museum

The paintings and drawings of Thomas E. Thorne, head of William and Mary's fine arts department, are being exhibited in three galleries in the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts in Richmond. Beginning November 17, the exhibit will run through December 5. The exhibition includes the results of four years of Thorne's work.

At home Joyce's hobby is raising cows. One of her cows is named Joyce, and one, which won a prize, is called Flame. Her roommate contends that one of Joyce's favorite indoor pastime is reading the serial stories in the Newark Evening News. Last summer she went to Peabody Music Conservatory in Baltimore, and while there she lived in an apartment with her sister and became quite proficient at cooking. Her roommate says, "There is no end to her talents".

Joyce is majoring in history and plans to graduate in June. She is undecided as to what she will do in the future, but she thinks that she might become a school teacher.

Council Takes New Members

Three newly-elected members have been added to the Intercollegiate Debate Council, as announced by Virginia Stephens, president. They include Edith Isele, sophomore; June Lochenour, sophomore; and Herbert Bateman, freshman. Guest speakers for the meeting Thursday, November 8, were Nancy Grube and Helen Staples, discussing the national topic, "Free Trade."

Debate keys were presented to four senior members of the Council. These persons are Nancy Grube, member of the debating teams for four years and president of the Council last year; Virginia Stephens, member of the Council for four years and president this year; Betty Rose Marvin, member for four years; and Ann Batchelder, member for three years.

Dining Hall Opens For Upperclassmen

After a week of operation, the new dining hall has been proclaimed a success by Charles J. Duke, bursar of the College. Mr. Duke stressed that it has not made clear who is allowed to eat in this small cafeteria. Juniors and seniors may eat there, but they are not required to. The housemothers also eat there.

Approximately 900 students and others are served per meal and the new dining hall takes care of 300 so the congestion should be a third less at each of the 3 lines. If there is a long line it is because the students aren't choosing the right time to attend meals, according to Mr. Duke.

For this year no changes will be made in the special dining halls.

Twelve Veteran Actors Begin Play Rehearsal

Director Hunt Declares Ensemble Important In T. S. Eliot Drama

The cast of Murder in the Cathedral by T. S. Eliot, has begun rehearsals for the December production under the direction of Miss Althea Hunt. Seven of the nineteen players are newcomers to the William and Mary Theatre, but twelve have acted on this stage before: Jim Freeman, who will play the role of the Third Priest, had bit parts in Junio and the Paycock, Volpone, and Pygmalion. Joan Le Fevre, First Tempter, played in Volpone, Pygmalion, Thunder Rock, and Man of Destiny. Clint Atkinson, Second Tempter, acted in Private Lives and Pygmalion, and Dick Bicks, Third Tempter, in Candida and The Patriots. Barbara Simmons, Fourth Tempter, played in Junio and the Paycock. Dave Gleason and Gene Black, seen in George and Margaret, pro-First and Second Knights, were duced during the summer session.

Thomas a Becket, portrayed by Ernest Edwards, is approached in the play by four tempters representing four temptations. The first uses youth and pleasure as a lure; the second offers the Chancellorship. The third Tempter uses the power of barons, and the fourth offers spiritual glory. Miss Hunt stated that the success of the play depends much on the ensemble work and the blending of the various parts together to make a unified whole. Although especially demanded of the chorus, this blending is also necessary in the other roles, according to Miss Hunt.

Members of the chorus are Phyllis Palmer, Thelma Myers, Jill Stauf, Marilyn Woodberry, Joan Sayers, Mollie Prince, and Sharon McCloskey. Remaining new players are James Buchanan, Bill Norgren, Wesley Hill, and Joseph Newsome.

Frechette Favors Career In Field Of Service Work

Position Selling For Large Company Appeals To Flat Hat Columnist

"For a young man starting into business, saleswork is very profitable", states Fred Frechette, well known William & Mary columnist. Working on a commission is one of the advantages of being a salesman, and although this vocation is really a gamble from start to finish, if one has the ability and initiative, an excellent livelihood can be earned through sales work."

Fred would like to work on the sales force of some large corporation, selling to industrial users, perhaps paint, machine tools, ink, or some commodity much used by the general public, or some material that a firm uses. Thus, two or three large sales a year would be sufficient to create a substantial income.

An economics major, Fred decided after talking to various men in business, among these Mr. Ledyard H. Towle, that sales work was an open field, and that for post-war possibilities, it paves the way for a responsible position with a steady income, and offers many chances for advancement.

"I haven't thought much about where I would like to work, but I think that in some industrial city, such as Detroit or Pittsburgh, I would stand a pretty good chance to get into the type of work I want," said Fred.

Included in this field of sales work is advertising, consumer's research, and marketing. Fred's idea is to aim for sales work. If he finds that he can get into this field, without too much difficulty, and that the work offered is to his advantage, he will continue to work and aim for his dream job.

Service Fund Begins Drive

Judith Austin, Regional Secretary of the World Students' Service Fund, described the purposes and organization of the Service Fund in an address delivered last night at 7:00 in Wren Chapel. The Chapel service opened a drive in behalf of the Service Fund which the campus Coordinating Committee of the Student Religious Union is sponsoring. The drive will continue through November 30.

Miss Austin, a graduate of the University of New Hampshire, has served formerly as President of the Student Christian Movement in New England and has been active in intercollegiate student conferences.

After her talk, movies were shown and refreshments served in the Apollo Room of Phi Beta Kappa Hall.

The Coordinating Committee is planning to sponsor a booth at the song festival containing various articles made in foreign countries. These will be on sale and the proceeds will be donated to the Service Fund. Marjorie Dykes, member of the Committee, is in charge of the booth. Mary Baker is in charge of publicity.

The Campus Coordinating Committee is making an appeal for the support of William and Mary students in reaching the $600 goal which it has set.

Inquiring Reporter

What did you think of the "get-together" we had out at Cary Field last Thursday night?

Dick Baker—Meetings like that improve the morale of the student body and the general attitude of the team by giving them the idea that the student body is behind them.

Dotsy Thedleck—I certainly am glad to see some school spirit around here finally, and I hope we have more gatherings like that.

Shirley Cornell—Let's congratulate the people who handled the smart publicity that caused such a big turnout, and the quartet.

George Duborg—It was a lot of fun and ought to be done more often. A lot of school spirit was shown.

Bren Macken—It was a little damp on my—uh—, but I REAL-LY think it's here to stay.

Mary Moore—I thought it was wonderful. There was a lot of spirit shown, and we should have lots more of them.

Bob "Radar" Caines—The girls should have shared their blankets.

Sharon McCloskey—I could have been more impressed.

Ann Pennington—If all the rallies are like that, they're worthy of our support.

Woody Kinnamon—I think it's the starting point for bigger and better things.

Jackie Freer—It's just what we need around here for school spirit, more than being forced to cheer at football games.

Jack Hoey—This is the first time since I've been here that I've seen so much school spirit.

Harry White—Bonfires and blankets are just the atmosphere for pep rallies.

Current Royalist Goes To Press

Elise Leidheler, editor of the ROYALIST, has announced that the material for the semi-annual literary magazine went to press November 17, and that publication is expected sometime in January.

"The ROYALIST staff has been gratified by the response from the student body," she stated. "Material from all classes was submitted, with an exceptionally good response from the freshmen."

Patty Lou Young, contest chairman, recently announced that the awards for the best contributions in prose and poetry will be made after publication. First prizes of $10 each, and second prizes of $5 each are awarded for the best student manuscripts in prose and poetry published in each issue.

Material for the spring issue is being sought, and can be put in the box in Marshall-Wythe 116, or given to any members of the staff. No deadline has been set for this material.

Joe Floyd, Snow-Hater, Likes Jazz, Maroon Ties

Professor Credits Alumnus Of W-M With Introduction To Wife, Career

"I shall always be indebted to Clifford Kreps, a 1941 alumnus, because he not only introduced me to William and Mary but he introduced me to my future wife," said Joe S. Floyd, assistant professor of economics and business administration, with an infectious smile.

A Florida native (he doesn't like snow), he attended the University of Gainesville where he earned his B.S. degree. Active in student government and president of Delta Chi, his fraternity, Professor Floyd classifies his college life as "much like any other college student's." Three weeks after graduation, he entered the University of North Carolina, earning his M.A. while teaching in the Navy V-12 program there. It was at North Carolina that he "met a coed and got married."

Although professing a "slightly lowbrow" interest in music (he likes jazz), Mr. Floyd says his tastes are varied.

A spectator sports enthusiast, he never will forget the time Florida beat his bitter rival, Georgia, in football.

He likes green apples and historical novels. Not too definite on the subject of color, Mr. Floyd decided that he must prefer maroon since "lately I've been buying maroon ties."

Bumping shoulders with Margaret Sullivan and Jimmy Stewart in New York he considers his conventional "thrill that comes once in a life time."

Professor Floyd enjoys teaching very much, but he says "one of the most irritating things about it is to have someone go to sleep in my class". And he wonders if second guessers, so called "grand-

Literary Group Takes 14 Girls

Chi Delta Phi, national honorary literary sorority, has selected 14 new members as the result of tryouts in which each candidate submitted examples of her writing. A meeting of the seven active members was held Thursday evening at which time final selections were made from a large number of candidates.

The new members are Dell Horton, Barbara Davis, Marianne Lewis-Jones, Nancy Seal, Virginia Northcott, Elaine Hall, Catherine Mitchell, Laurie Pritchard, Jeanne Lamb, Ann Pennington, Betty Bauman, Ilse Hayes, Marcia Magill, and Patty Lou Young.

Initiation was held in the Great Hall of the Wren Building on Friday, November 16, at 8:00 p. m.

Tryouts for Chi Delta Phi consisted of submitting 3 original pieces, preferably a poem, short story, and an essay.

Professor Floyd likes Williamsburg a great deal, and eventually hopes to find a "restored stable" of some sort where he can settle down.

French Students Collect Clothing

An appeal for used clothing to be sent to France to aid French people suffering from cold weather is being made by Le Cercle Voltaire. Dr. Pierre Macy, faculty advisor to the club, emphasized the urgent need for such assistance at the club meeting held Wednesday, November 7.

In organizing itself as an agency for collecting used clothing, the French Club appointed dormitory representatives to make collections from November 21 to 28. Frances Young and Ginny Whitemore, Jefferson Hall; Betty Rigby and Betty Kelly, Barrett Hall; Ginna Lewis and Vicky Jamgochian, Chandler Hall; Gunes Guran and Gloria Iden, sorority court; Ginny Rassinier and Rux Crowell, Monroe Hall, are representatives in their respective dormitories.

Wool or part wool articles are preferred, but the club will accept any type of clothing. When a bundle is collected, it will be sent to the Franco-American Relief Association, and from there to France.

Pre-Med Students Take Aptitude Test

All premedical students planning to enter Medical School in 1946 should take the Association of American Medical Colleges Aptitude Test on December 14, 1945, according to Kathleen Alsop, registrar. The test has been adopted by the Association as one of the normal requirements for admission.

This test measures one's ability to learn material similar to that which he will have in Medical School. It also measures his general information and scientific background and his ability to draw accurate conclusions from a given set of data.

Students who have not already taken the test should make application immediately to the Registrar. It will be held at 3:00 p. m. on December 14 in Washington 100.

Three Departments Move To M-W Second Floor

Dr. James W. Miller, Dean of Faculty, has announced that the Departments of Business, Economics, and History will be located on the second floor of Marshall-Wythe Hall, the former Chaplains' School. As yet, office rooms and classrooms have not been definitely assigned, but the departments will move sometime next week.

Bot-E-Talk

Let's have all our weekends fabulous weekends like that last one! Our school held its head up once more, raring to go with that old fight! Starting with the pep rally, a dormant William and Mary began hesitatingly to come forth. No one could help but catch the fire. The game made us burst with pride for our team. When they gave that Indian warwhoop, we loved 'em all. The beginnings of a mighty band to be made its debut and gave plus value to our cheering and the game. The Queen was wonderful, (and oh that kiss!) There were M-E-N. (They caused a subdued riot when they appeared in the cafeteria). William and Mary remembered it is a college—we are a college. And ole' Botty got that gleam in his eye again.

Old faces, new couples: Norma Bradshaw and George Rees, Polly Krotts and Walt Weaver, Bud Lacky and Pam Pauly, Betty Evans and Billy May.

Turn-about for the Joneses: Nora Spann and Bud Jones at the dance; Marianne Lewis-Jones with Alan Taylor. P. S. The girl from Randolph-Macon without a man was a friend of Bud's. So is Jane Coleman a friend of Bud's but she was with a Merchant Marine cadet. And then—well, Botty's confused too.

After three years: Donnie Lepper talking on the phone for 40 minutes to her man who has been gone for three years overseas.

A Queen's privilege: Bonnie Wolfgram and Doc Holloway cutting the Queen's cake at the Theta House.

Close as pages in a book: Twenty people crowded in ONE taxi cab. No one remembers who paid the bill. Casualties: one bruised leg, one broken fingernail, two run pairs of hose, one broke engine.

For those who deserve their names in print: Jacy Bormann and Bob Sherry looking at silver patterns; Bob, who can take a hit, offering Jacy her favorite pattern, specially made in wood. Carol MacNeill and Stan Magdziak at the "rec" room. Ann Pennington and Stan Vautrain walking slowly past the Sunken Gardens. Lois Settle and Dave Gleason (well, refer to Frechette's column.) Dot Ferenbaugh sporting a lieutenant colonel from Washington.

Another plug for Fred: Merchant Marines lined up in Monroe Hall as the girls picked out their dates.

My love,
Botty.

Freshmen Appoint Dance Committees

Committee members for the freshman class sponsored dance were named by Herbert Bateman, president, at the freshman class meeting Tuesday, November 13. Monty Woolley and Dick Vaughan were made co-chairmen of the dance, and Mat Gardner, Casey Jones, Ann Pennington, Mary Virginia Cline, Jean Canoles, and Kathy Oliver are members of the committee.

On Monday, November 19, the committee met to make plans for the dance, which will be held sometime in the next semester. Music will be furnished by an outside orchestra.

A meeting of the entire class will be called in the near future, Bateman stated, at which the plans will be submitted to the freshman.

AAUP Considers Bomb Resolution

At the request of Dr. Harlow Shapley and other scientists, the president of the local chapter of the American Association of University Professors called a special meeting for Monday afternoon, November 19, in Washington 200. The entire faculty and administration were invited to consider the desirability of adopting and promulgating a resolution dealing with the question of atomic energy. Mr. Hibbert D. Corey, Dr. William G. Guy, and Dr. George J. Ryan led the discussion.

Some of the points included in the Resolution were as follows: "That the United States as the country that has opened the way for the development of atomic energy, should immediately invite the governments of Great Britain and the Soviet Union to a conference to prevent competitive armaments and consider the problems arising from this overwhelming development.

"That the administration chosen to direct the work of such an authority be a civilian.

"That security regulations be limited to direct military application of atomic power and that free research and right of publication be immediately resumed in the field of atomic physics."

Anthology Includes McVickar's Poem

Madeleine Louise McVickar's poem, "Understanding", has been selected by the Board of Judges of the National Poetry Association to be published in the Second Annual Anthology of College Poetry. Madeleine is a junior at William and Mary.

The Judges of the Association stated, "The anthology is a compilation of the finest poetry written by college men and women in America. Selections were made from thousands of poems submitted."

Crowded conditions in Old Dominion Hall have been eased as a result of the closing of the Chaplains' School here last week. ## Tri-Color Engages Spiders Tomorrow

Braves Topple Mariners In Final Home Encounter

Backfield Sparks Team To 25-7 Win As Tribe Gains Fifth Scalp Of Season

William and Mary's Indians completely overwhelmed the King's Point Mariners 25-7 last Saturday in the final home game of the season.

After receiving the opening kick-off the Tribe started a 70-yard drive which ended with Tommy Korczowski going around left end for a touchdown from the Mariners' 4-yard line. The score was set up by Korczowski's pass to big Denver Mills from the 18-yard line.

The Mariners were stopped cold after receiving the kick-off and Pfohl kicked to Blanc who returned the ball to the Tri-Color 20-yard line. The Indians were stopped at midfield and Stan Magdziak kicked into the end zone. The Tribe's next scoring opportunity was set up by a recovery of a fumble on the Mariners' 20-yard line. On the first play following this Adolph Null gathered in a pass from Stan Magdziak. The try for extra-point was no good.

Another break set up the Brave's third touchdown midway in the second quarter. Harry Wenning recovered a Mariner fumble on their 5 yard line, and two plays later Chet Mackiewicz went through the middle of the line to hit pay dirt. He kicked the extra point also.

The third quarter was very even, with the teams going from one end of the field to the other without scoring. Late in the third period, however, Adolph Null snagged a King's Point pass on their 20 and scampered untouched across the goal.

The Mariners finally got rolling in the final period when their pass attack began to click. Carpenter passed to Hodges after a fake kick and ran to the William and Mary 45-yard line before being brought down. A series of completed aeriels brought the ball down to the 24 yard line, where Carpenter heaved a long pass to Pfohl who was brought down on the 7-yard line. On the next play Pfohl ran wide around left end and scored. The try for extra point was good.

The Big Green narrowly missed a score later in the period when Mackiewicz made a beautiful run from the King's Point 43-yard line to the 15-yard marker. Magdziak went off tackle to the four-yard line, but Mills then missed a pass when clear in the end zone.

The line-ups and scoring were as follows:

Pos.	Mariners	W & M
LE—Hodges	.....	Mills
LT—Wolfe	.....	Ramsey
LG—Davis	.....	Holloway
C—Sturgulewski	.....	Clark
RG—Kleinschmid	.....	Hendrix
RT—F. N. Smith	.....	Wright
RE—Griffis	.....	Vaughan
QB—Pfohl	.....	Forkovitch
LH—Spruance	.....	Blanc
RH—Wise	.....	Null
FB—Rittner	.....	Piefke
Merchant Marine	0 0 0 7—7
William and Mary	6 13 0 6—25

Touchdown—Pfohl.
William and Mary scoring: Touchdowns—Null 2; Korczowski; Mackiewicz. Points after touchdown—Mackiewicz, (placement).

Camp Peary's Pirates will play host to the Camp Lee Travellers at Cary Field on Sunday afternoon. In an early-season encounter the Travellers, led by their Negro ace, Levi Jackson, chalked up a 13-9 decision.

SPORTS SPIEL

By ED GRIFFIN

Those of you who witnessed last Saturday's game with King's Point probably noticed one outstanding feature of the contest—the spirit and fight which was evident on the part of the Indians. Each man played as if he were enjoying it and not merely doing a job. This enthusiasm has not been evident in some of the previous games and one of the reasons was probably lack of student support. Last week, however, with a mammoth pep rally, two bands, and lots of noise to cheer them on, the team put their hearts into their work and did a fine job.

It's difficult to pick out any one star since there were several who contributed much. The running of Henry Blanc was beautiful to watch as was that of Adolph Null. Stan Magdziak and Tommy Korczowski got off some long heaves which were directly responsible for two of the tallies and helped set up the others. The Big Green line, sparked by their great veteran, Doc Holloway, stopped the Mariners cold except for a time late in the last half when Stormy Pfohl and Wilbur Stein got loose for several good gains. About this time also Chet Mackiewicz and Magdziak caught fire and ripped off substantial yardage almost every time they carried the ball.

Tomorrow being Thanksgiving Day, the thoughts of people throughout the country will be of turkey dinners with all the trimmings. To William and Mary students, however, the big event is the annual clash between the Indians and their arch rivals, the University of Richmond Spiders.

These battles have given grid fans some of the most thrilling games ever played in Virginia. In times of peace the series has produced some epic struggles. Each team points for the contest and surprises are the rule rather than the exception.

Game Marks Fiftieth Tilt In Ancient Grid Rivalry

Fresh from a 25-7 victory over the King's Point Mariners, Coach Rube McCray's Indian eleven will close their season tomorrow when they invade Virginia's capital to tackle the University of Richmond.

The game will mark the fiftieth milestone in a series which has come to be the climax of every grid season in the Old Dominion, ranking with such famous feuds as those between Army and Navy or Harvard and Yale.

Richmond has turned out some crack teams in years gone by and holds a substantial lead over the Redmen, having been on the long end of the score in 29 of the 49 encounters which have been played. The Tribe, however, has not only beaten their opponents in the last four contests, but has held them scoreless. Starting in 1940, the Braves have amassed totals of 16, 33, 10, and 40 points, while the Spiders have gotten nothing. There was no game in '43 since William and Mary played only an informal schedule.

Cage Practice Starts Monday

With the closing of the 1945 football season tomorrow, the William and Mary sports department turns to Blow Gym and a new season of basketball.

Though practice will officially start on Monday, those boys who are out for basketball but who are not on the football team have been out on the gym floor warming up. Coach Frosty Holt has been holding informal practice sessions on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday nights.

The hopes of the new season will be built around two returning members of last year's squad, Stan Magdziak and Chet Mackiewicz who can be expected to bolster this winter's five.

Holt's team will consist largely of freshmen. One player he can count on will be towering Don Sudkamp, who comes to William and Mary from Illinois. The 6-foot, 7-inch center played basketball at the Champaign High School, and was on the team that reached the State finals. He also attended the University of Illinois after graduating from high school, but left after he had been there two months.

Besides Sudkamp, the squad will have Tex Mengel, Jerry Bunting, Fred Holloway, Harry Robertson, Woody Kinnamon, Sally Sallyers, and Bill Womack. After football season those boys will be joined by Dave Clark, Dick Vaughan, Henry Blanc, Charles Allen, and Paul Disharoon, as well as Magdziak and Mackiewicz.

The Red and Blue, paralyzed this year by a shortage of material and numerous injuries has been unable to provide much competition for its opponents. In their season opener, they were swamped, 40-6, by V.M.I. and since then things have gotten worse instead of better. Maryland blanked them 21-0, and V.P.I. trimmed them by a 44-6 count. Virginia's Cavaliers gave the Spiders their worst licking of the year week before last when they hammered out a 45-0 decision. Richmond gained some consolation by defeating the Oceana Naval Base, 28-12.

George Hope, new Richmond coach, has been unable to count upon a starting lineup because of the injuries which have dogged him from week to week. Biggest loss was that of Jake Vesprille, the team's passer, who broke his jaw in the fracas with Virginia. Starting tackle Joe Mathias pulled a leg muscle and may not see action. Also out with a leg injury is Harry Bode, fullback.

Probably the best of Hope's charges is little Jackie Null, captain and center. Jackie, a cousin of the Tribe's Adolph, is an excellent line-backer, receiving honorable mention for all-State last

Richmonders Play Squaws

On Saturday, November 24, the varsity hockey team will try to add one more victory to its credit here in Williamsburg in a game with the Richmond Hockey Club.

This is not the first time the Squaws have met the Hockey Club this year. In the all-State tryouts on November 3, the two teams met in Richmond in a shortened game. Neither team could solve their opponents' defense and the contest ended in a scoreless deadlock.

Both teams have some excellent players. The Hockey Club consists of women who have graduated from college and who still desire to play hockey. Several college coaches are on the Richmonders' lineup. Besides this, several of the team were picked for the all-State team.

William and Mary, on the other hand, has seven members on the all-State team. This fact, alone, can serve to show their potential strength. The girls work together well and have the force to drive down the field to score.

Last year, two engagements were played with the Club, each team taking one of the matches.

Cyrano de Magdziak Has A Proboscis Which Is Remarkable For Its Enormity

By H. REID

—With apologies to the original play, Cyrano de Bergerac, and to the football player used as the central character.

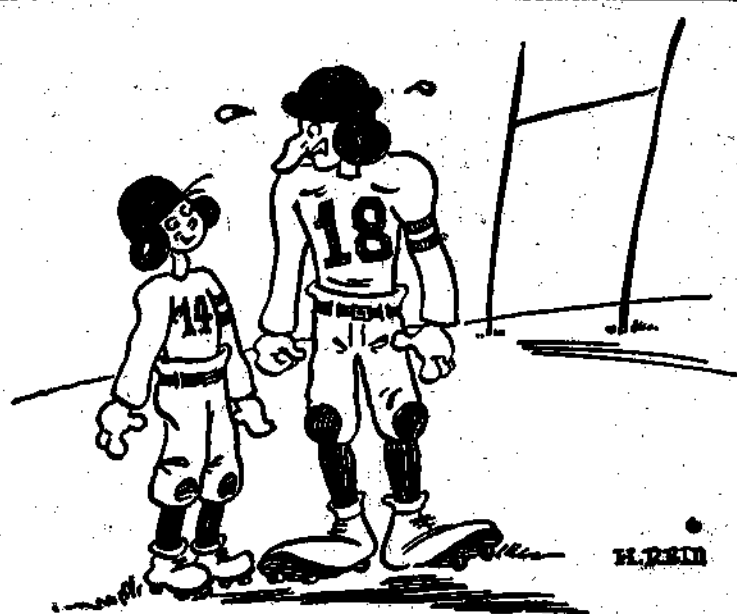

Everyone knew Cyrano de Magdziak. He was a football player—a left halfback to be exact.

Cyrano de Magdziak had a big nose. Everyone knew that, too. And they also knew that he was touchy about it.

Take, for instance, the day Cyrano's team played Carbon Tech. Cyrano was telling his team mates, Forkovitch, Mackiewicz and Korczowski, about a past night game, while they all waited for the Tech game to commence.

Cyrano began, "Well, I was running all alone, to meet the opponents, and the floodlights shone atop the stadium like great watches, when suddenly some watchmaker, with care, started to draw a piece of cloudy cotton across each silver case of those round watches, and the night became the blackest ever seen. Good Lord! You could not see beyond—"

"Your nose?" interrupted Korczowski.

"Your nose?" asked Korczowski

"Shhh," said Forkovitch.
"Shhh," said Mackiewicz.

Cyrano turned pale, then red, and in another movement almost flung himself upon Korczowski, but regained his composure, and started anew in a quiet voice. "As I was saying . . . you could not see. And so I went—down to their fifty, their forty, their thirty, and the opponents, being unable to visualize properly in the darkness thought me to be a rogue of an umpire, against whom they bore a bitter grudge. I was about to thrust—"

"Your nose?" interrupted Korczowski.

"Shhhh," said Forkovitch.

"Shhhh," said Mackiewicz.

"—my fists between two of them," continued Cyrano de Magdziak, trying to pay no attention to Korczowski. "Since they were well strong enough to deal a blow upon—"

"Your nose?" asked Korczowski.

Shhhhhh," said Forkovitch.

Shhhhhh," said Mackiewicz.

Cyrano wiped the sweat from his face, and went on with his story. "Suddenly I found myself—"

"Nose against nose," offered Korczowski.

"Ohhhh," wailed Forkovitch.

"Ohhhh," moaned Mackiewicz.

It was then that the starting whistle blew—just about the same time Cyrano de Magdziak blew his top—and Cyrano and his team mates, Forkovitch, Mackiewicz, and Jones went to meet Carbon Tech.

SKIRTS IN SPORTS

By BETTY BORENSTEIN

Everyone who was at the football game last Saturday knows how much nicer it was made by the presence of the band. Now that we have a band to play at our games, how about starting a drum majorette corps? The activity of a band makes this possible, and surely it would be a fine addition to any of our football games. There must be some girls among the 820 who can twirl a baton, and there must be others who would like to learn and would like to be a part of such a corps. Obviously, there will be many hurdles to overcome, many walls against which to knock our heads, and much red tape to cut with our all too dull scissors. But, such a project is well worth trying! Perhaps, with an enormous amount of energy and a couple extra shots of adrenalin, we could do it. Anyhow, it's food for thought. . . . have a bite!

Last week a group of last year's varsity basketball squad met in Jefferson gymnasium to discuss the prospects for the coming season. And the prospects look very good. Although there are no games that are definitely slated, the intercollegiate schedule appears to be shaping up quite well. Jackie Armor, the basketball manager, has been working very hard getting these games for the team; there will be some home games and also a few games played away.

With last year's entire squad returning, except one forward, Coach Martha Barksdale can look to a basketball future that is shining brightly. Despite the fact that the girls did not do too well last year in their varsity efforts, they were good. It was a question of lack of practice and particularly of good practicing facilities. The team could not last out a game because it had never had the chance of practicing on a large basketball court. If they were allowed to use Blow Gym one afternoon or night a week or at least occasionally they would not be so unused to the larger courts of their opponents.

Although weighing just 161 pounds, Henry Blanc is one of the Tribe's ace backs. His play last Saturday was a major factor in the defeat of the Merchant Mariners.

Taliaferro B Gains Finals

As a result of a 24-12 victory over Taliaferro A & C sections on Monday of last week, Taliaferro B enters the final playoffs of the intramural touch football league. Taliaferro offered effective resistance early in the game but was overpowered by their opponents' passing attack with Tom Campbell tossing and P. D. Reynolds receiving.

On the following day O. D. and Tyler A fought three quarters of their game to a 12-12 deadlock when darkness compelled them to finish their battle at a future date. This game was to have been completed yesterday afternoon.

The Old Infirmary Annex whitewashed Taliaferro A & C last Friday by a 26-0 count. James Dunn intercepted an aerial for the first tally. Later Dunn took a pass from Roy Sutton to score again. Ennis Rees fired two aerials which Sutton caught and carried for the final touchdowns.

Dr. E. M. Foltin Speaks To Thanksgiving Chapel

A Thanksgiving day chapel service will be sponsored this year by the YWCA. Dr. Edgar M. Foltin will speak, and special music will be presented by the choir, with Marilyn Woodberry as soloist. Chapel will be held at 9:00 a. m., so that students may attend before leaving for the game.

year. Harvey Woods, a holdover from last season when he played end, has been shifted to the backfield to take the place of Vesprille. The target for his passes will be Tony DiServio who performs at left end.

Dub Jeffers and Jim Cather, a new addition who recently entered school, alternate at the tailback slot. Other backs are Carlyle Williams, Tony Scafedi and John Stoneburner.

Flanking Null are John Zizak and Howard Katz, who hold down the guard positions on the Spiders' not-too-strong line.

Probable starting lineups:

Richmond	William & Mayr
Deservio	LE Mills
Hunt	LT Ramsey
Katz	LG Holloway
Null	C Clark
Zizak	RG Hendrix
Lineberry	RT Wright
Johnson	RE Vaughan
Cather	QB Forkovitch
Scafedi	LH Blanc

H2E Announces Initiation Plans

Initiation of four new members to the H2E Club was decided upon at the meeting of the club held on November 15 at the home of Dr. Caroline B. Sinclair, head of the physical education department. The initiation will be held in Barrett Hall on Sunday, November 26, and will have a Thanksgiving theme. New members admitted to the club are Jackie Armor, Ruth Paul, Libbie McLaughlin, and Marty Adams.

Suggestions were made as to the future plans of the club. The clubroom, which was to be in the corrective room of Jefferson gymnasium, has been abandoned until after the Christmas holidays. An auction sale of goods unclaimed at the gymnasium was also discussed and tentative plans were made. The auction would be held in Phi Beta Kappa Hall and refreshments would be served.

Dr. Burgess Johnson, Noted Author, Gives Lecture Here November 28

Writer Of Several Books Talks On Literary Shop

Dr. Burgess Johnson, author of the freshman English textbook Reading for Our Times, will lecture in Phi Beta Kappa Hall on Wednesday, November 28. He has chosen for his topic, "Literary Shop", which will be a reminiscence of noted authors such as Mark Twain, O'Henry and others.

Thursday afternoon Dr. Johnson will visit the English 209R classes and talk to the students on "Manners and Morals of the Press".

Dr. Johnson is a graduate of Amherst College in Amherst, Mass., and since then has had wide and varied experiences in literary fields. He has had newspaper training under the direction of Lincoln Steffens, and has held many positions on literary staffs. He was editor of Outing and Judge, and of the Bulletin of the Author's League in America. He was co-editor of Everybody's magazine and worked on the editorial staff of Harper's magazine.

Dr. Johnson has written many books, some of which are As I Was Saying, Rhymes of Little Boys, Bashful Ballads, Necessary Nonsense, Sonnets from Pekinese, Professor at Bay, and As Much As I Dare. As Much As I Dare is an autobiography and has just come out in the last year.

Students Hear Talk On Korea

Gerry Speidel, director of the Methodist Student Movement in Virginia, described his experiences as a missionary to Korea in an address delivered last Sunday night at the Union Supper sponsored by the Inter-Religious Council.

A worship service and group singing were included in the program. This co-religious supper, one of six which have been planned for the coming year, was prepared by the Wesley Foundation.

Students Attend Blacksburg Meet

Representatives of all Virginia College Westminster Fellowship Groups met in Blacksburg, Va., during the week end of November 11 and 12. The object of the convention was to discuss activities and exchange constructive ideas.

Five students represented the Presbyterian Supper Club of William and Mary. Jean Goodwin, moderator, and Lucille Burbank, Sally Obitz, Paul Burbank, and Ed Lewis attended. The program of the Supper Club on Sunday, November 24, will consist of a report of this conference together with further plans for social work to be done at Groves Center.

A hay-ride is scheduled by the Supper Club for Friday, November 30, and all the students who wish to go will sign up at the Supper Club meeting this Sunday evening. Late permissions will be granted by Miss Marguerite Wynne-Roberts, assistant dean of women.

Executive Officers Decommission Unit

After almost three years at William and Mary, the Chaplains' Naval Training School took its final departure last Wednesday, November 15.

Decommissioning took place in front of Old Dominion Hall at 10:00 a. m. The brief ceremony consisted in the lowering of colors, and securing the watch. It was witnessed by the 14 remaining members of the faculty and staff of the School.

The officers and enlisted men who had already received orders left immediately for their designated bases, while the others went to the Naval Operating Base in Norfolk to await discharges.

Carl Voyles' mighty 1942 outfit which humbled Dartmouth, Navy and Oklahoma, featuring such headliners as Glenn Knox, Marvin Bass, Stud Johnson, and all-American Buster Ramsey. The general opinion was that this powerhouse would blast the Spiders right out of the stadium. The Big Green, however, was fought almost to a standstill by an aroused Richmond eleven and only a terrific effort enabled them to eke out a 10-0 decision.

dance around the fire. The cheerleaders introduced a new fight song, "The Green, Gold, and Gray", written by Trinka Robinson Moore; and Bubby Vaughan urged everyone to attend the pep rally on Friday night. The Quartet, Bob DeForest, Chuck Riley, Buddy Canoles and Jack Hoey, concluded the rally by singing "Way Down South in Williamsburg", "Sentimental Journey", "Gal from Mobile", and "Brown Eyes".

McCray Promises Home Games
The Friday night pep rally began at the west side of the Wren Building, where an unprecedented crowd packed the space between the two wings of the building to the picket fence as students were drawn to the event by music from the guest band which echoed throughout the entire campus. Cheers rang out and the crowd parted to allow the football team and coaches to reach the main portico of the building where Bubbie introduced them to the assembled students. Coach McCray stated that the team was just as anxious to play a game at home as the students were to see one. He got a rousing cheer when he said that the Athletic Association is working on a schedule for next year which will include several more home games than have been played in the past few years.

Co-op Allows State Cheers

At the meeting of the General Cooperative Committee last Thursday in the Dodge Room, the recommendation of the Assembly concerning cheerleaders was approved. It was suggested by the Assembly that women cheerleaders be permitted to attend all games in the state of Virginia to lead cheers. The measure was also approved by President John E. Pomfret and will go into effect immediately. Regulations regarding the distribution of monograms, sweaters, megaphones, and the number of cheerleaders will be determined by the faculty committee on athletics.

Led by the band, the rally then moved to Cary Field where students cheered, and snaked-danced around a 30-foot bonfire. Spontaneous snake dances ran down the Richmond road at the close of the rally, blocking traffic and filling the air with roaring cheers.

Both Friday night's rally and Saturday's coronation were conducted by the cheerleaders and Bubbie Vaughan and Libbie Baynard organized the Saturday event.

Juniors Hold Open House
As part of the homecoming celebration, the Class of 1947 entertained members and their dates and both football teams at an open house in Phi Beta Kappa hall, following the game. Guests danced in the Apollo room, were served refreshments in the foyer and lounged in the Dodge room from 5:00 to 7:00 p. m. Bert Rance, president of the class, was chairman of the affair.

Films On Latin America Shown At AAUW Meet

Members of the American Association of University Women met Tuesday night, November 13. The education committee was in charge of the program which dealt with another phase of the year's topic, Latin America. "San Paulo", a travelogue, and "Schools to the South", two films on South America, were shown. The motion pictures were presented through the courtesy of the library science department.

Mrs. Charles F. Marsh is chairman of the education committee and other members include Mrs. Marvin Bass, Mrs. Donald W. Davis, Mrs. W. W. Snyder, Mrs. Margaret Stewart, and Mrs. A. P. Wagener.

After the business session was concluded, the group adjourned to Barrett Hall for a social hour. Mrs. C. C. Casey was chairman of the hostesses. She was assisted by Mrs. W. W. Merryman, Mrs. R. C. Young, Mrs. Wayne Gibbs, and Miss Virginia Garrett.

Council Holds Get-Together

"Marriage Relations" was the topic of the student-faculty get-together held last Friday evening in Barrett living room. The Honor Council, headed by Jan Freer, sponsored this month's get-together.

Mr. R. Wayne Kernodle, of the Sociology department, was the discussion leader of the evening. In his preliminary talk he stressed the scientific approach to marriage and placed particular emphasis on the necessity of having young couples planning to be married consult a marriage counseling service. This service assists the young people in finding out if they are suited to each other and helps in solving problems that will arise. At present Mr. Kernodle is working on the establishment of such a service in Richmond; however he stated that there are many obstacles to be overcome and it will be at least a year before a counseling service can be established. At the University of North Carolina, Mr. Kernodle was a member of the Marriage Counseling Bureau.

A question and answer session followed and refreshments were served by a committee of the Honor Council headed by Jo-Ann Prince. Betty Borenstein and Fran Moore had charge of invitations for the reception.

A Warning Follows . . . Thanksgiving . . . Students Join Hands . . . . . . Pat On The Back Now That War Has Ended Around The World

Taking stock of the activities of the past week end, the student body as a whole, has a right to be proud. Perhaps it did require complaints from every side to get things underway, but they served the purpose.

The spirit exhibited Thursday and Friday nights at the pep rallies and the mass enthusiasm at the game, proved that it can be done. Hospitality and friendliness marked the reception the alumni received.

No one is unmindful of the thanks due our student leaders, Alan C. Stewart and the students in the band, the men in the guest band, the cheerleaders and the football team. These people thought ahead and planned, but most important, all the students cooperated. It was the whole-hearted support of every person on campus and many of the people of Williamsburg that made the school look and sound like a real, live college.

However, it never pays to "pat ourselves on the back" without sounding a warning. This was one occasion; there will be others. With a good example fresh in our minds, we can hope for the future. Can everyone put as much cooperative effort into long-time planning as they put into last week's finished product? Can enthusiasm for campus activities of all types be sustained?

If yes is the answer, then William and Mary and spirit are again one and the same.

J. A. S.

Every Thanksgiving the same articles are written stressing the importance of being thankful. And yet it would not be ethical to let this first Thanksgiving since the end of formal war pass by without pausing for just a thoughtful moment.

Instead of worrying about ration points, we're adding up discharge points and wondering how soon "he" will be back on campus. Instead of worrying about the crowded trains and the miserable trip home at Christmas time, we're worrying about which mode of transportation we shall take.

Instead of worrying over jobs being frozen, we are worrying about how we will find one when we graduate. Instead of worrying about all the "collegiate" activities the war has deprived us of, we are worrying about how we can get them all in on the calendar.

Instead of that yearning phrase "when the war is over", we are saying "now that the war is over—when will we have peace?" For this cannot be called a world of peace so long as men work for less than a living wage; so long as men are judged by their fellows by color of their skins and not by the texture of their minds; so long as men rule with purchased power.

But actually, we as college students have much to be thankful for. We continued to live and learn and have fun, while many of our classmates fought and died that we might have those privileges. And now that the war is ended, they aren't here with us to give thanks. "Aren't here" is the wrong way to say it. They'll be here, every one of them, hovering over the campus like a quiet breeze which no one can hear or see. And the thing those boys will be saying in their tongueless speech of the silent dead will be: Will the living who survive us make good and carry out the hopes and dreams we had to abandon? This is the challenge we have to meet for these boys who had to leave campus before they were ready. In doing this, we can best show our sincere thanks to them.

Taps is not enough for those who are counting on us. We have accepted the challenge and we'll see it through.

N. J. G.

Yesterday the campus drive for the World Student Service Fund began. This year the college committee has set the goal for $600 to be reached by November 30.

We want to help create an international spirit of cooperation among all peoples and the best way to do this is to build student understanding around the world. If we are to succeed we will have to help these people overcome some of the difficulties caused by the war. One of the greatest of these concerns education. We should make it our responsibility to see that students will have an opportunity for education, for they are the ones who form the nucleus and become leaders of a nation.

The World Student Service Fund has been aiding students in foreign countries since 1937. This year they are sending relief to people in 18 different countries.

The money you give will be used in various ways. Shipments of food and medical supplies will be sent to university centers. Student rehabilitation centers will be established throughout the European continent for the purpose of restoring run-down students to health. Books and other supplies will be sent to Europe, the Philippines, and China. Aid will also go to student prisoners of war, refugee students and dislocated Japanese-American students.

Contributing to this fund today provides all students and professors an opportunity to help with the rehabilitation and reconstruction of university life in foreign countries.

Frontiersmen In Old Dominion Hall Sadly Abandon Fourth Floor Abode

By BUDDY CANOLES and HARRY STINSON

Today is moving day for your columnists. We are so flustered and excited about leaving the stratosphere and moving to our charming apartment on the second floor that we can think of nothing to gripe about. Consequently we will talk about that which interests us most. We were the first of the frontiersmen to penetrate into these unexplored regions of darkest (and coldest) Old Dominion. Now having explored and having lived in this territory in a few hours we will have left.

Our hearts are leadened with sorrow and so are our feet. We have made this climb, so many times that we have developed the most powerful legs on campus, and are going to enter the walking marathon next year. We have found it necessary to take our meals in Toano and have at times thought of attending classes at the University of Richmond, there being little difference in the distance between a walk to the cafeteria and Broad Street.

From our position in the only room on the fourth floor we have seen freshman almost flunk out of school because of the difficulties of mass studying. When the freshman left we were left alone. Only the echo is heard of the hot blast heater and if it were not for the fact that there is a shower up here we would be cut off from the trite and mundane dealings of the world that is far below us.

We are not in a position to say what the well dressed man on campus is wearing today since the only ones we see are unclad except for a towel. The very fact that we have managed to sleep up here every night speaks for our sobriety since no one would climb so high in any other condition.

All this is ended now; we must descend from this exalted and Olympian like abode and move down to the second floor and there take our place in the workings of this world.

No more can we be lulled to sleep by the hot blast heater; no more can we hear the somber songs that issued from the recesses in the shower room. Now with shirt in one hand and shoe in the other we say a sad farewell and the only word there whispered is the hollow echo "farewell".

As we leave we take one last look at the bare spaces and the flooded lavatory, for we fear that never again shall we attain such heights. Crying softly we cast our oxygen masks out the window, hold our breath and plunge down to second floor. The new environment of the second floor overwhelms us at first and there comes over us the feeling that we shall not be able to take our proper place in this strange new world. Having lived in isolation so long we shall find it difficult to become accustomed to seeing people, especially with clothes on.

However we are not dismayed with what the future holds for us and we are hopeful that our habits of living acquired, on the fourth floor will not be displeasing to our suite mates. Our cheeks are ruddy from this more normal way of life already and we hope that one of your columnist's hair growth will be stimulated by this new environment. The fourth floor proved very detrimental to the hair follicles of said sad columnist.

We sit silently and alone by the fireside in our new domain as Bubby Vaughan, our manservant, busies himself preparing tea. Smoking our pipes we gaze across the expanse of green that extends between Marshall-Wythe and Old Dominion, and meditate while our valet Bob DeForest lays out our dinner jackets. What an eventful day!

Our next two weeks must be spent in orientating ourselves to our new life and we try to push out all thoughts of our vivid past. A new era is ushered forth into our college lives. We can now brush our teeth in our own room. We have planned a house warming and have invited the entire student body.

We try to forget all those weird days that we spent up there as we busy ourselves about our new room, but many moons will pass before we forget or cease to dream about those days spent in solitude.

William and Mary Go-Round

By FRED FRECHETTE

After an eminently successful week-end which included a football victory, the opening of a recreation room, and a rebirth of campus spirit, things seem to have stopped happening. Everyone is marking time, getting a second wind. All of which gives headaches to those who have to write about things. It means a session of pure bull, as differentiated from 99% bull.

In spite of the fact that most things have stopped happening, one thing remains. It always goes on. Dating is like death and taxes . . . constant factors in this changing world. We see dates and dates. Why? (That's a stupid question, Frechette!) Dating is caused by a human quality which everyone has . . . more or less. It is a three letter word beginning with "s" and ending in "x". Freud was not talking through his hat!

Anyhow, the fact remains that we see couples everywhere, even at the movies. It is always going on . . . except possibly on the Ides of Monday. We know why people date; we aren't so dumb. But there is a fertile field for academic research in looking into the reasons why particular guys date certain girls. Why, of all the people on campus, did each get to date the other?

To determine the reasons why people date it is first necessary to decide which sex does the dating. The obvious answer is that the boy does the dating since he is the one who puts the request into words. The true answer, and one which will dispell a great fallacy in the minds of a great many fellows, is that guys only think that they are asking for dates.

For example: A group of girls were eating in the Dining Hall one evening when one of them decided that she would like to have some ice-cream. She got up, walked over to the counter, and while waiting to be served, hooked a date. When she came back to her table and informed her friends of her conquest, every last one of them blandly rose and went to get ice-cream. As it turned out, none of the rest were as fortunate, although they consumed several gallons of the stuff.

A standard question between women is, "How's your project coming along?" To the uninitiated male, this sounds like a perfectly innocuous question; in reality, it is dripping with meaning. Girls have the ghastly habit of picking some man that they want to date, then "working" on him until he gets the idea and asks for a date. The softening-up process is the "project" to which they refer so innocently.

(Perhaps this column is making me candidate for a first-class tar & feather job, but I'm in so deep now that a few more spilled secrets more or less won't hurt.)

Really though, how can one help but notice the situation? I know that it might be due to the lack of men here, but I kind of think that such manipulations go on no matter what the ratio.

It seems as if they are never satisfied. Just as soon as they get one project accomplished, they begin planning others . . . just to fall back on, understand!!! It is a funny thing the way girls twist us poor, helpless men around their fingers. As someone once said, "Weaker sex, HELL!"

But, as a girl just told me (after reading this), I'm making something sordid out of something beautiful. Besides, I'm trying like mad to hang my pin!
